Scope and Contents

The Hunger Action Network of New York State records documents nearly twenty years worth of grassroots activism providing New Yorkers who struggle with poverty and hunger a platform to stand on. Birthed out of a conference on the state of poverty and hunger in New York, the Hunger Action Network of New York state has hit the ground running and has yet to stop fighting and assisting New Yorkers and its member organizations. The materials cover many topics pertaining to welfare and poverty at the local, state, and federal level.

The collection contains materials relating to the social activism projects, its arrangement of administrative files, legislative and lobbying, news clippings, welfare reform campaigns, publication and reports, and research and subject files. The collection contains materials from 1979 to 2003. However the bulk of the materials are from the mid- 1980s to the early 2000s.

Legislative & Lobbying, 1973-2000, Undated

Physical Description: 1 cubic ft.

Scope and Contents

The Legislative and lobbying series is arranged chronologically.

The legislative and lobbying series follows the Hunger Action Network of New York States history with the state government of New York. The Hunger Action of New York State was active in legislative advocacy. There are two folders in this series that touch on hunger in other states. The lobbying and advocacy are at the heart of this series.

Much of the materials focus on promoting the state of hunger and poverty in the state, HANNYS achieved this by advocating and lobbying for those who could not do it themselves.

Scope and Contents

The Publications and Reports series is arranged chronologically.

The publications and reports series refers to any and all publications that were collected by the Hunger Action Network of New York State and also materials that were disseminated by the organization. Many of the Hunger Action Network of New York State publications were the product of different grants that the organization had received funding through, such as the Robert Sterling Clark Foundation. The collection has many publications that have been used as reference and research points for the organization. The Hunger Action Network of New York State and its member organizations are reflected in the publications. The Hunger Action Network of New York States newsletter is part of the publication series, however there is not a complete run of this newsletter.
