Administrative History

The University at Albany, SUNY began as the State Normal School, a small public institution for instructing common school teachers, in 1844. In 1890, under the leadership of William A. Milne, the school became a complete institution of higher education called the State Normal College. At the end of Milne's term as president, the school evolved into the State College for Teachers, with a complete 4-year liberal arts curriculum. With the growth of the SUNY system under Governor Nelson Rockefeller, the school grew into a large public research university under President Evan R. Collins. By 1962 it was the State University of New York at Albany, with a complexly new suburban campus by the end of the decade.

Arrangement of the Collection

---

The collection is organized into 16 file series that reflect the original office files of the offices of different presidents. During the tenure of President Collins, the school evolved from a small liberal arts college to a large research university. It appears that during that period, the president's records split into the personal files and official records series.

Arrangement

Series is arranged in alphabetical order.

Scope and Contents

This series contains materials related to the presidency of Evan Revere Collins, who held the position from 1949-1969. The origin of these materials trace to both Evan Collins himself, as well as the Presidential office from this time. These cover the important changes occurring on the campus at this time, including expansion of the downtown dormitories at Alumni Quadrangle, as well as the construction of the Uptown Campus, and the change of the New York State College for Teachers, into a University Center. Specific materials in the series include reports from individual departments, correspondence with staff and contractors, and annual reports from Collins, as well as those sent to the office of the president such as the Milne School annual report. There are some materials that date to after Collins presidency, and were most likely part of the records keeping of the Office of the President after the move to the uptown campus.

Records of the Office of the President, 1948-1977

Physical Description: 50 cubic ft.

Arrangement

Series is arranged in the original order. The boxes the collection arrived in were maintained, with the exception of Box 1 which has become boxes 1A and 1B.

Scope and Contents

This series is made up solely of materials kept in the Office of the President. While the items date from 1948-1977, the majority of the materials date from after the construction of the uptown campus, with many pieces dating from the presidency of Louis Benezet. The subject of the materials vary greatly, and cover important events in the University history such as the construction and relocation to the uptown campus and campus unrest in 1970. The president covered in this series are Nelson, Collins, Kuusisto, Benezet, and Fields. Many boxes contain papers related to multiple presidents, connected by a common subject at times. Others are dedicated to a single president and subject. Specific materials in the series include blueprints of new construction, annual reports, master plans for the University, and reports from individual departments.

Physical Characteristics and Technical Requirements

Researchers interested in data analysis with web archives may request a WARC file. WARC files are very large and difficult to work with. Your request may take time to process, and we may be unable to deliver your request remotely. Please consult an archivist if you are interested in advanced research with web archives.
