Administrative History

The University at Albany's Office of International Programs was established in 1964 as the Office of International Studies and World Affairs. In 1971, it became the Office of International Programs. At that time, Former Associate Dean of Arts and Sciences Charles W. Colman became the Director of International Programs. Colman held this position formally until his retirement 1980. He remained in the position as Acting Director until at least 1985. The Office was renamed the Office of International Education before becoming the Center for International Education and Global Strategy in 2015.

Arrangement

The Collection is organized into five different series. The first series is made up of files related to the management of Overseas Academic Programs (OAPs), the official name at the time for study abroad programs that the University administered. The second series is made up of administrative records of the Office itself. The third series is made up of the Office's letter files and informational binders the office kept on their overseas programs. The fourth series is made up of Articulation Agreements with overseas universities. The final series is made up of webcrawls of the Office's website.

Scope and Contents

This series documents the management of the Office of International Programs itself as opposed to the programs it administered. It is primarily made up of correspondence and letter files kept by the Office as well as form letters sent to students interested in International Programs. It contains material related to SUNY-wide International Programs and conferences held with the Directors of other college and university international programs. The series also contains policy statements, program proposals and international program reports.

Office Letter Files and Program Binders, 1970-1979

Physical Description: 1.66 cubic ft.

Arrangement

Series is arranged in its original order.

Processing Information:

Processing Information

Based on labels and notes written upon the original boxes, these materials appear to be part of a different accession than the materials in series 2. Files in this series documenting day-to-day activities out of retention including student payment receipts, purchasing vouchers and printing requests removed. Files containing personally identifying information including social security numbers and student grades were removed in 2018 by Miles Lawlor.

Scope and Contents

This series is primarily made up of letter files from the Director of International Programs from the time period covered, Charles Colman. This series also contains a number of binders documenting the administration of study abroad programs and are organized by year. These binders include information provided to students applying for these programs, orientation materials, travel itineraries, as well as contact information of students, faculty and support staff overseas affiliated with the program.

Physical Characteristics and Technical Requirements

Researchers interested in data analysis with web archives may request a WARC file. WARC files are very large and difficult to work with. Your request may take time to process, and we may be unable to deliver your request remotely. Please consult an archivist if you are interested in advanced research with web archives.
