Commencement exercises for the class of 1934 will be conducted Monday morning, June 18. The academic procession will enter Page hall auditorium at 10:00 o'clock. Graduation of the class of '34 symbolizes the completion by State college of ninety years' service to the state of New York in the preparation of teachers.

Candidates for graduation degrees number four hundred sixty-three. Dr. A. R. Brubacher, president, stated this morning. The exact number of actual graduates will be determined by examinations to be conducted during the next two weeks.

John Erskine, noted author, will deliver the address to the graduates.

Mr. Erskine has studied and taught both in this country and abroad. He received his bachelor of arts, master of arts, and doctor of philosophy degrees at Columbia university. Mr. Erskine has also received the following degrees: L.L.D. at Norwich, Litt.D. at Amherst, L.H.D. at Hobart, Litt.D. at the University of Bordeaux, Bordeaux, France.

Mr. Erskine has been president of the Juillard School of Music since 1928. He has played with some of the largest orchestras of the world as piano soloist.

Among the literary works that Mr. Erskine has written are "The Private Life of Helen of Troy," "Teacher of Arts," "Galahad," "Adam and Eve," and "Penelope's Man."

Members of Sigma Lambda, senior scholastic society, will assist in presenting college diplomas to the graduates. Members of the 1935 Myskania, senior honorary society, will serve as ushers at the exercises.

REGENTS' EDICT LIMITS LICENSES OF A. B. GRADUATES

New restrictions on college graduates for teaching in the field of elementary education were recently passed by the Board of Regents, according to Dr. Hermann Cooper, head of the Teacher Training division of the New York State Education department.

The announcement issued by the Board is: "On and after September 1, 1934, a graduate of an approved curriculum leading to either a degree or diploma shall be granted a certificate restricted to secondary or elementary level or levels determined by the professional program of study completed by the candidate."

The above will result in no college graduates receiving license to teach in the elementary grades unless they have completed an approved program of study which includes thirty-six semester hours credit in education courses, twelve of which are in observation and practice teaching. This is the last year the college graduate will be permitted to compete with the normal school graduate in the field of elementary education unless the college graduate has completed an approved curriculum for elementary school teaching, Dr. Cooper added.

SENIORS TO MEET

There will be an important senior class meeting this noon immediately after the assembly. The disposal of the class money, the class gift to the College and the purchase of programs, torches and candles for Class Day will be discussed. There will also be a rehearsal of activities for Class Day, Baccalaureate service, and Commencement, according to Robert Robinson, president.

"Baseball" or $600" Splits Views of Student Body

"Is baseball to die on the altar of finance or will it be revived from its temporary death this morning in assembly?" is the question that has raised a spirit of controversy in the halls of State during this last week of regular classes. The "abolitionists" of the national pastime disturbed the peaceful routine of student life in assembly Friday with a motion to eliminate baseball from next year's finance budget.

Robert Robinson, '34, president of senior class and Myskania member, stated the lack of interest shown by the student body and the lamentations of the coach justified erasing the sport from the budget. Mr. Clarence Hidley, treasurer of the board of finance, maintained baseball should be retained as a necessary means for the men to obtain experience to act as baseball coaches. George Bancroft, '36, advanced the argument that four of the nine members of the squad were junior college men, to which Gerald Amyot, '36, answered that no such complaint was heard during the basketball season.

The motion to eliminate the sport was passed largely by the female element of the assembly. A motion to reconsider was presented immediately by Frank Hardmeyer, '36, a member of the prevailing side. Discussion continued until the meeting was adjourned.

What will be the final outcome will be staged this morning in assembly. Both sides have been grooming their spokesmen for the final battle, which will mean the resurrection or condemnation of baseball at State.

1938 FRESHMAN HANDBOOK TO BE READY AUGUST 1

The 1938 Freshman Handbook is expected to be in the hands of the printer by Friday, June 15. Emma Rogers and Glenn Ungerer, sophomores, co-editors-in-chief, announced today. The handbooks will be mailed to the incoming freshmen as soon as they are accepted after August 1.

The main changes in the make-up of the handbook this year include a blue suede cover in place of the red leather cover on the 1937 handbook, and a reduction from 112 to about 100 pages. These changes are necessitated because of the cut of over $100 for the handbook on the student association budget.

The six associate editors who are assisting Miss Rogers and Ungerer include: Hildah Classen, Karl Ebers, Frank Hardmeyer, Elisabeth Hobbie, Mary Hudson and Evan Pritchard, sophomores. James Beale, '37, is serving as representative of the incoming sophomore class.

DRAMATICS GROUP NAMES MEMBERS FOR NEXT YEAR

Margaret Domes and Mary Hershew, freshmen, were elected members of the 1934-35 dramatics and art council. Thelma Smith, '34, president, announced. Dorothea Gahagan, '35, will be president of the council for next year as a result of recent elections. Elizabeth Griffin, '36, and Miss Hershew will be secretary and treasurer, respectively. Other members of the council include: Marion Heinemann, '35, and Marjorie Wheaton, '36.

The two freshman members were selected from ten try-outs who were entertained at the home of Miss Griffin last week by the council. The selections were based upon the work done by the try-outs since September. They will serve as council members for the next three years.

BASEBALL vs. $600

The following opinions were voiced by students when asked by a representative of the State College News, "Should baseball be continued as a varsity sport, receiving support from the student activities budget?"

William McGraw, '37: "Considering the support, the team has been doing marvelously well. Continue baseball; State is not a flower bed."

Edward Kramer, '36: "We could use the $600 much better some place else, such as intramural sports. The fact that the past few years have seen absolute lack of interest in the players and in the students bears out my contention."

Gus Askin, '34: "I think it best if baseball would be discontinued. If cross-country and track were introduced it would give more men a chance to participate in different sports."

Ralph VanHorn, '37: "I think it should be rejuvenated; it needs more advertising and more spirit behind it. Baseball should be kept on; if it is known outside of College it brings credit to the College."

John Deno, '37: "The expenditure of $600 is not fully justified, as we do not get a proportional return for our money. If intramural includes baseball, more football."

"KEEP BASEBALL"—SAY HIDLEY, BAKER; ASSEMBLY TO PROBE SPORT'S FATE

Elimination of Baseball Presages Collapse of Athletics, Warns Baker; Hidley Stresses Coach-Training Value to Undergrads; Student Sentiment Splits over Appropriation

BUDGET DISCUSSION CONTINUES AT 11:00 TODAY

Grenfell Rand, '34, To Induct 1934-35 Student Association Officers; Professor Hidley, George Bancroft, '36, To Give Reports

Shall baseball be retained as a varsity sport supported by the student activities budget? Or should the fiscal appropriation for the baseball program be diverted to the establishment of a vigorous intra-mural baseball scholastic program? These questions will face the members of the student association this morning as the 1934-35 activities budget discussion is continued ad seriatim. The baseball appropriation has already been attacked by a motion to strike this item from the budget, with addenda in the form of a suggestion that the appropriation be utilized in establishing the intra-mural schedule aforementioned. The News has endeavored to present both aspects of this question in its editorial columns. Judicious balloting is needed in order that an equitable and suitable agreement be reached.

FAVOR RETENTION

Both Mr. Clarence A. Hidley, assistant professor of history and student board of finance treasurer, and Coach Rutherford R. Baker, have favored the retention of varsity sport. Mr. Hidley pointed out the benefits derived in training future teacher-coaches from the baseball program such as it is. Coach Baker, when interviewed, also stressed this point of view, adding that he feared the elimination of baseball as a varsity sport would presage the collapse of the entire varsity athletic program. In another column on this page the News presents a cross-section of student opinion, as voiced by activity leaders when questioned by a representative of the News.

VOTING TO CONTINUE

Voting on the student budget for next year, which was considered in the assembly last week, will be continued in the 11:10 student assembly this morning. The part of the budget already passed was considered ad seriatim. Dramatics and Art association, Music association, College News, Echo, Myskania and basketball appropriations were approved as they were submitted. If the rest of the budget is approved, the student tax will be $10, payable in September with the registration fee.

After the budget is considered, Mr. Hidley, assistant professor of history, who is faculty adviser on the student board of finance, will give his financial report. George Bancroft, '36, retiring secretary of the student association, will also give his secretary's report. The recently elected officers of next year's student association will be installed at this time.

TO INSTALL OFFICERS

Clifford Rall, '35, will be formally inducted as president of the association. Rall was vice-president this year. Paul Bulger, '36, will be installed as vice-president, and John Deno, '37, as secretary. Other officers for next year include: song leader, Gertrude Morgan, '35; men's cheer leader, William Shahan, '36; and girls' cheer leader, Evelyn Hamann, '37.

The 1934-35 student executive council will include the following officers and members: president, Rall; vice-president, Bulger; secretary, Deno; David Kroman, '35, Elaine Baird, '36, and John Murphy, '37. The president of the incoming freshman class who will be elected in September will also be a member of the group.

Library to Remain Open Tonight from 7:00 to 9:30

Special hours during which the library will be open were announced recently by Miss Mary E. Cobb, College librarian. These include tonight from 7:00 to 9:30 o'clock and next Friday night during the same hours. It will also be open from 8:00 to 5:30 o'clock and from 7:00 to 9:30 o'clock during next week and also during the week of June 10, Saturdays from 9:00 to 5:30 o'clock only. However, Thursday and Friday nights of the week of June 10, it will not remain open.

YOU ARE THE UMPIRES; YOU MUST DECIDE—IS BASEBALL 'OUT'?

This morning the student association will meet in the last regular session of the year. Officers for 1934-35 will be inducted by the outgoing president.

This, however, will be no solemn occasion, where, in the stereotyped formalities of traditional inductions will be conducted—but an assembly which will face a difficult situation and probably be forced to formulate a momentous decision.

STAFF BEGINS WORK
The new staff of the News has begun its work. "Clubs" have commenced their news hunting as reporters and the News has gone to press as usual.

Before any course of action is definitely decided, we should like to confront the student body with the following questions:

- 1. Will the elimination of the appropriation for baseball have any constructive result?
2. Is this the first tangible evidence that the whole varsity athletic program of State college is falling?
3. Does the elimination of varsity baseball not inflict a major defeat to those of the faculty, the alumni, and the undergraduate body who have had hopes for the day when State college would stand for athletic prowess as well as high intelligence quotients?

On the other hand, the following arguments should permeate the June apathy of the student mind:

- 1. Baseball has not been entirely successful—only three games were played, two of which were victories.
2. The group of State college students which participate in it is outnumbered by men of the Emergency junior college.
3. State college students supported the program, but did not feel interested enough to attend any game in sufficient numbers to indicate that the interest in the sport is at all what it should be.

In the foregoing, we have endeavored to present both aspects of this question. The actual decision rests with the student association this morning. They will answer the questions printed above, when they cast their ballots pro or con.

There is one alternative. Coach Baker has stated that the sport could undergo another cut—and still the program could survive. This is highly possible.

Therefore, we have formulated the following as determining our course of action. Cut the appropriation for baseball, but retain enough semblance of the varsity sport that we can proudly point to the year's achievements and not be forced to admit that the athletics program has been subject to retrogression.

Utilize the rest of the money to take care of a vigorous intra-mural program. The Coach has suggested the following as worthy to be included in an intra-mural program: soccer as a fall sport, basketball and swimming in the winter; baseball and track in the spring.

We believe that the News herewith voices the opinion of a majority of an intelligent student association, when it says: "Keep baseball!"

CONGRATULATIONS, SENIORS
The News extends its best wishes to the seniors in this last issue of the year by dedicating its columns to you. As you step from the position of seniors at State college to your places in the ranks of the alumni as members of the class of '34, we wish you all success in your every undertaking.

We regret the fact that you must leave, and we will miss you next year, but we can see no reason why we should be sentimental about it. We would rather say that we hope each of you will find a position awaiting your call "just around the corner."

"WE '34, SALUTE YOU"—SENIORS PREPARE FAREWELL TO ALMA MATER

Robert T. Robinson, '34, member of Myskania, senior honorary society, and retiring president of senior class.

1844—STATE'S NINETY YEARS SERVICE TO EDUCATION—1934

For nearly a century New York State education has been served, first by the Albany Normal school, then by the State Normal college of 1890, and now by the New York State College for Teachers. In 1844, on the seventh of May, the State legislature passed "an act for the establishment of a normal school which authorized the expenditure of money for the support of a Normal School for the instruction and practice of teachers of common schools in the science of education and in the art of teaching."

On Monday morning, June 18, the traditional academic procession will leave the portals of Draper hall, solemnly wend its way through the Draper court, and thence to Page hall auditorium. Here, John Erskine, noted author, will deliver the commencement address, and College degrees will be awarded to over four hundred candidates.

The class of 1934 will bid farewell to the Alma Mater which has been theirs for four years. Moving-up Day, May 18, has already symbolized the entry of the 'grand old seniors' into the uncertain future, or as the song goes "the wide, wide world." Again the spirit of succeeding classes at State will become a poignant reality—then a golden memory, achievements for other classes to aim at, personalities and friendships which will last—

So with the gold of our triumphs, Bid we a broad highway, Smooth for the feet that follow, Broad that they may not stray.

SENIORS IN CAPS AND GOWNS—FROM ACADEMIC PROCESSION

Once again, the age old theme of leaving the old familiar scenes will become a reality as the graduates in the class of 1934 march in the traditional academic procession, Monday morning, June 18. Again the evidence of change wrought by time's passing is seen in the pictures above—at top, an academic procession about to enter Hawley hall, formerly used as the College auditorium, and below, a panoramic view of Page auditorium which, since 1930, has been used for the commencement ceremonies.

Class Prophet

Mary Moore, who will serve as class prophet at the annual class day activities of '34. Miss Moore has assumed a place of prominence in class activities during the entire four years that she has been at State.

CAMP DIRECTORS NAME ASSISTANTS

Miss Logan and John Bills Plan Cogswell and Cossayuna Camps This Year

The men's freshman camp will be conducted at Camp Albany, the Albany Y. M. C. A. camp on Lake Cossayuna, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, September 14, 15 and 16, John Bills, '35, director, announced last week. A get-together similar to the one started last fall will be conducted at College House on Thursday night, September 13.

Bills appointed the following men as tent leaders: William Baker and Paul Bulger, sophomores; John Deno, Harry Gunnar, William McGraw, Robert Margison, John Murphy, Edward Sabol, James Vanderpool and Ralph VanHorn, freshmen. There will be a meeting of all camp leaders today at 12:00 o'clock in room 111 of Draper hall.

This saving goes DOUBLE!

THERE are thousands of easy ways to spend money. Here's an easy way to save some... right now, when end-of-the-year activities put such a strain on college pocketbooks. Make the trip home by Greyhound. You'll travel first class—in comfort. Greyhound coaches are finest on the highway, schedules frequent, and on-the-dot. Don't be surprised if you meet friends on the bus—college students all over America are saving dollars this modern way.

Greyhound's service to the Chicago World's Fair is especially attractive. Inquire at the local depot, or ask your Greyhound student representative about convenient expense paid tours, saving time and money, both on the trip and at Chicago.

Y. W. C. A. TO SEND FIVE DELEGATES TO SILVER BAY

"When religion becomes self-centered, civilization has no chance of avoiding disaster. It must gradually perish of old age, or tear itself apart in revolutionary conflict." In order to keep religion from becoming self-centered the National Young Women's Christian association conducts a student conference annually at Silver Bay on Lake George. This year's theme will be "Meeting the Challenge of an Interdependent World," and will be led, from June 20 to June 28, by educators from various prominent colleges. Dr. Harold Basley of the University of Chicago, Dean Frances Burlingame of Elmira college, Professor Howard Howson of Vassar college, Dr. Waldo Stephens of Columbia university, Miss Gertrude Rubsamen, student executive at Barnard college, and Dr. Gregory Vlastos of Queen university of Kingston, Canada, will speak on this theme.

This year State college will have a larger delegation than it has generally had. Instead of having merely the incoming president of the college Y. W. C. A. as representative, four other people will go. In the future the Y. W. C. A. hopes to have an even larger delegation, recapturing the traditional fervor as well as size of past Silver Bay delegations. With Sarah Logan, '35, new president of the Y. W. C. A., the following people will go: Harriet Ten Eyck, '35; Huldah Classen, Jaqueline Evans, and Charlotte Rockow, '36.
