1. Approval of Minutes

The minutes of May 2, 1988, 2:30 p.m. meeting were approved as distributed. The minutes of the Organizational Meeting of the 1988 Senate April 16 and May 2 were corrected to include the name of Senator Tornatore and were approved as corrected.

2. President's Report

President O'Leary welcomed the 1988-89 Senate and noted the importance of the Senate. The President said the University Senate is the principal advisory body to him. He also noted that another characteristic is the important role of the Councils of the University Senate adding that a tremendous amount of work is done by the Councils. The President said that many important items are already before the various Councils of the University Senate.

President O'Leary distributed a flow chart of the planning process at the University at Albany and supplied copies of Programs and Priorities 1988 for students. He explained that Programs and Priorities informs the budget process. Each unit of the University reports on progress toward meeting its goals and sets new goals which are ultimately reviewed by the Long Range Planning Committee of the Council on Educational Policy. At the same time the budgeting process goes on through the budget panel, which has on it all members of the Resource Advisory Council of EPC. The President noted that the interaction of these governance bodies with the administrative units of the University goes on year round.

The President then turned to the current budget situation. He covered the history of budgeting at the University, revealing a loss of 150 positions since 1980 or an overall cut of 7 percent. Instruction and instructional support positions took only 5 percent cuts, the President noted, while other areas were reduced by 12-15 percent. He also explained that OTPS funding did not keep pace with inflation. Against that background, the President reviewed what happened this year. Normally the State does not allocate enough money to cover all salaries all year. They assume "salary savings," the President explained. But in addition to Albany's budgeted salary savings target, the State's revenue was $900 million less than expected, requiring additional and very late savings totaling $2 million from this University. Those cuts were distributed across the University while still protecting instruction and instructional support and the Library, the President said. But that late cut is what drove some of the problems with course reductions that occurred at registration this year. The President also noted that the State has indicated that these reductions are permanent.

For next year SUNY has already been told that the budget will be very tough. The President explained that simply to cover the cost of negotiated pay raises will require a $4.5 million increase for the Albany campus. A month ago the Chancellor was asked to consider absorbing these negotiated salary increases, but that requirement seems to have abated, President O'Leary said. In addition to salary increases, funds for library acquisition and inflation bring the total amount for a "stand-still" budget for Albany to $5.4 million. The President also explained that the Graduate Research Initiative Request will be scaled down this year and a modest program augmentation for undergraduates will be requested. Thus, the total campus request for 1989-90 will be $6.3 million more than this year. In addition Albany has a number of capital requests, and the number one priority is an academic building, followed by student services, day care center and a research facility. The original budget request was to be much greater but this year the decision has been made to request only the slight increases indicated. The President then explained that negotiations will now go on, but that the State's position has to be taken very seriously. Reductions are real and SUNY must be as aggressive as possible in many different forums to make its case. When asked about tuition, the President noted that no one wants to increase tuition because part of what attracted many of us, both faculty and students, to SUNY was the access it afforded. In the end, he said, difficult choices may have to be made. The President was asked whether the list of capital requests were in ranked order; and he said they were in approximate order. He was also asked how far in the future those buildings might go up and he responded that, with luck, two to three years.

3. SUNY-wide Senate Report

R. Collier reported on a recent retreat on governance held by the SUNY-wide Senate. The Chancellor addressed the forum and expressed his feeling that though the situation is very tight, it is not disastrous. The Chancellor clearly specified that he did not want campuses to begin planning retrenchments because that was a self defeating process. Senator Collier also noted that all campuses will be requesting, as Albany is doing, modest increases in their budget with the hope that those will be seen as realistic requests. On the theme of governance, Senator Collier noted that the Chancellor supports shared decision-making and he said that many campuses do not have meaningful input from all constituencies.

SUNY-wide Senate Committee activities: The Operations Committee will look at affirmative action review boards and affirmative action awards. The Committee has a budget handbook available. The Student Life Committee is planning a state-wide conference on AIDS and will be reviewing quality of life issues, especially bias-related violence. The Undergraduate Committee is studying orientation and its effects on retention and will examine the theme "Society and the New Liberal Arts." The Graduate Committee will address the ethics issue and quality of life for graduate students. The Governance Committee plans to issue a handbook with a model set of by-laws for faculty. Senator Collier noted that an October 28-29 meeting at Cortland will offer presidential perspectives on governance. He also announced the Conversations in the Disciplines Grant program and the Faculty Grants for Improvement of Undergraduate Education Program, and had copies available.

Student Association President James Lamb asked if the SUNY-wide Senate took any stand on the new athletic fee. Senator Collier responded that several people had qualms about it, but that the SUNY-wide Senate had endorsed it with the proviso that care be taken to make sure students' voices are heard and that waivers are available. The Faculty Senate strongly recommended that consultation with students take place, but the manner is left up to the campuses.

4. Chair's Report

Chairman Hammond noted several changes to the Faculty By-laws had been approved by the faculty at their meeting on September 14th that would affect the Senate. Effective July 1, 1989, the Student Association President will also be an ex-officio member of the Senate as well as an ex-officio member of the Executive Committee. Consequently, the number of elected undergraduate Senators will be reduced by one. He also explained that Senate elections must now be completed four full weeks in advance of the end of the semester and that the sitting Senate will elect the officers of the new Senate. Chairman Hammond noted that there were several Council vacancies and provided the Senate with the Executive Committee's recommendations for filling those vacancies:

CAFE - Jeff Flynn was nominated to replace Allen Weinberg as an undergraduate on that committee.

EPC - Matt McKeon is nominated to fill an undergraduate vacancy.

CPCA - John Monfasani was nominated to fill the vacancy of Joseph Zacek and April Shelford will fill the graduate student vacancy on that committee.

Research Council - Richard Leventhal was nominated to fill the vacancy of Sharon Bonk and there is one other vacancy on that committee.

University Community Council - Lee Miller, an undergraduate, was nominated to replace Jeff Flynn.

A motion was made to accept the recommendations of the Executive Committee; it unanimously passed the Senate.

6. Council Reports

Because of the planned reception following the Senate meeting, Council Reports were deferred with the exception of one that will follow New Business.

7. New Business

Bill 8889-01: Period of Service for Members of the Promotions Council. Chairman Hammond noted that it will be his policy on bills recommended from Senate Councils to consider them as arriving on the floor of the Senate moved and seconded. Therefore, Bill 8889-01 was brought to the floor, moved and seconded, and it passed unanimously.

Bill 8889-02: Position of Chair of Program Review Committee. Chairman Hammond explained that the bill came from the Executive Committee because the Program Review Committee had operated without a Chair for several years. Because of the complicated nature of the committee, which reports to three Councils and the Senate, the Executive Committee recommended that a Senator be named Chair of that Committee by the Senate. That bill passed unanimously.

Chairman Hammond reported that the Executive Committee recommended that Chair-Elect Ronald Bosco be appointed Chair of the Program Review Committee. The motion passed.

8. Council Reports - Deferred from earlier in the meeting

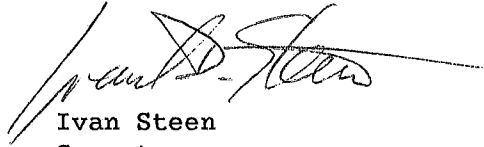

Council on Educational Policy - Chairman Kendall Birr reported that EPC was introduced to a major curriculum revision proposal called "4 x4": if implemented, students would take four courses for four credits each during the semester. The current norm is five courses for three credits each. The principal motivation, Senator Birr explained, is that it would encourage a somewhat more narrow focus. He noted, however, that there are downsides to the proposal and that EPC will give initial consideration to it at the next meeting, October 31. EPC is being asked to consider whether the University should undertake a full scale investigation in design of the "4 x 4" plan. If EPC recommends full consideration, design of a "4 x 4" curriculum will be a major governance task which will ultimately involve the Undergraduate Academic Council, to a lesser extent the Graduate Academic Council and the full Senate, he noted. He also explained that if the University does proceed, the timing suggests some kind of Senate decision in December or early in the spring and that beyond that, the plan would take at least a full year for development and implementation in the departments and schools. J. Lamb asked if such a switch will change general education requirements and K. Birr responded that that issue would have to be examined.

Student Affairs Council - Student Affairs Council Chair David Ettinger asked to make a report to the Senate. He noted that the Council is currently considering one issue, Freshmen Rush. Effective this year no more first semester freshmen were allowed to rush through the Greek system, but the Student Affairs Council has decided to undertake a review of that policy. He explained that Lisa Rizzolo did some research and discovered that freshman Greeks are doing better than freshmen non-Greeks. And, therefore, the Student Affairs Council has decided to reconsider the issue.

The meeting adjourned at 4:35 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

UNIVERSITY SENATE
STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK AT ALBANY

PERIOD OF SERVICE FOR MEMBERS OF THE PROMOTIONS COUNCIL

INTRODUCED BY: Council on Promotions and Continuing Appointments
Executive Committee

DATE: July 13, 1988

IT IS HEREBY PROPOSED THAT THE FOLLOWING BE ADOPTED:

- I. The service year for the Council on Promotions and Continuing Appointments shall begin September 1 and end August 31.
- II. This bill shall become effective as soon as it is signed by the President.
- III. This bill shall be referred to the President for his approval.

RATIONALE: In recent times there has been a tendency for the council's caseload for a given academic year to carry over into July and sometimes into August.

UNIVERSITY SENATE
STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK AT ALBANY

POSITION OF CHAIR OF THE PROGRAM REVIEW COMMITTEE

INTRODUCED BY: Executive Committee

DATE: September 19, 1988

IT IS HEREBY PROPOSED THAT THE FOLLOWING BE ADOPTED:

- I. The Senate upon the recommendation of the Executive Committee will appoint a senator to serve as the chair of the Program Review Committee. The chair of the Program Review Committee shall be responsible for maintaining liaison, as appropriate, with the academic councils and with the Council on Educational Policy.
- II. This bill shall take effect immediately.

RATIONALE: Since the time several years ago that the separate program review committees of the Graduate Academic Council and of the Undergraduate Academic Council were merged into the present Program Review Committee, the committee's lines of communication with the two "parent" councils have not operated well. Indeed, this committee must have a strong connection not only with the two academic councils but also with the Council on Educational Policy in situations where program reviews have implications for future program status.
