Correction Officer Appeal Reaches A Showdown Stage

ALBANY, Dec. 4—A four-year fight to gain adequate salaries for Correction Officers entered its final stages last week.

Concluding arguments on an appeal for a reallocation from Grade 11 to Grade 13 for Correction Officer, Correction Hospital Attendants and Women's Correction Officers were presented by the Civil Service Employees Association at a hearing here before J. Earl Kelly, Director of Classification and Compensation.

Five-Point Appeal

Association spokesmen based their appeal on five main points:

1. Modern penological methods have increased the duties and responsibilities of the Correction line personnel.
2. Comparison of salaries paid in other public jurisdictions demonstrates the need of a higher allocation.
3. In-service training program has broadened the scope of the positions.
4. The amount of dual job holding shows the need to supplement income.
5. Ancillary duties of Correction line personnel are not appropriately reflected in the grade allocation.

Leading the Arguments

The Association representatives were led by CSEA President Joseph F. Feily, who introduced the Association appeal by outlining what he called the invaluable ser-

Still 'Nonsense,' Says Kaplan To CSEA Charges of Compromise

ALBANY, Dec. 4—"Nonsense!" remains the reply of H. Eliot Kaplan to charges that the State Civil Service Commission is compromising the true spirit of the Merit System.

Mr. Kaplan reiterated this viewpoint on charges by the Civil Service Employees Association that the Commission, under his presidency, was giving way to a frontal attack on the Merit System by placing an unwarranted number of positions in the exempt or non-competitive class.

His stand, which was contained in a statement issued to The Leader, also took issue with CSEA statements that interested parties were given insufficient notice of Commission calendar hearings. Mr. Kaplan said Joseph F. Feily, CSEA president, was invited to two meetings — including an "emergency" one—but declined on the grounds of prior commitments.

Mr. Kaplan did not explain the urgency of the October 31 meeting, to which Mr. Feily objected.

Full Statement

The complete text of Mr. Kaplan's statement to the Leader reads:

I fail to understand the intention of the President of the Civil Service Employees Association when he charges that the State Civil Service Commission is compromising the true spirit of the Merit System by placing an unwarranted number of positions in the exempt or non-competitive classes. When the charge was made known in Albany last week, I termed it "nonsense" and that is what I call it now: Nonsense. Mr. Feily's attack is completely unwarranted. Furthermore, his contention that the CSEA was not given an opportunity to be heard at the Commission's October 31 special meeting is simply not based on fact.

Cites Reductions

The Merit System in the State of New York is healthier today than in many and many a year. This Commission has been far more circumspect with respect to exemptions than ever was the case heretofore. We have succeeded during the past two years in reducing the number of exempt positions to less than one per cent of the State's total work force, from 1,110 positions in 1959 to about 795 at present. The non-competitive class, during this same period of an expanding work force, increased by some 375 positions. But 300 of

Oneida Aides Win Health Coverage

UTICA, Dec. 4 — The medical health plan endorsed by the Civil Service Employees Association will be available to county government employees in Oneida County beginning Jan. 1.

A $75,000 appropriation to finance the program has been placed in the county's 1962 budget. Approval of the $20 million which includes the financing for the health plan is expected shortly.

A special contingent fund of $125,000 for possible salary increases for county employees after Jan. has also been placed in the budget.

The two appropriations were approved by the ways and means committee of the Board of Supervisors, which drafted the budget. The board is expected to approve the budget after a public hearing Wednesday.

Commenting on the approval of the health plan financing, Mrs. Ruth Mann, president of the County Chapter, CSEA, said she planned to inform members on how to take advantage of the program after receiving details from the board.

The chapter recently circulated a petition urging the supervisors to institute the plan. Hundreds of county employees signed the petition.

'Indecent' Sanitary Facilities Plague Barge Canal Aides, Says CSEA: Wants 40-Hour Work-Week

ALBANY, Dec. 4—Immediate action to eliminate basically "indecent" sanitary conditions suffered by Barge Canal System employees was demanded by the Civil Service Employees Assn. last week.

The Employees Association also called for administrative action to end the discrimination in work hours for Barge Canal aides. The CSEA proposal is for a 40-hour work-week with no loss in take-home pay.

Both matters, which the Employees Association contends are a basis for a grievance action, were placed before J. Burch McMorran, Superintendent of Public Works, in a letter to Mr. McMorran from Joseph F. Feily, CSEA president.

Referring to the existing sanitary facilities, Mr. Feily wrote, "Crude privies and basically indecent conditions are the usual case for many of these men isolated for unusually long hours at their posts on the canals." He asked that immediate steps be taken to correct this condition and suggested, that if the superintendent would personally "see the conditions of which we are complaining, you would take the

The Serviceman's Counselor

By FRANK VOTTO

Dir., N.Y.S. Div. Vet's Affairs

Questions on veterans' and servicemen's rights will be answered in this column or by mail by the State Division of Veterans' Affairs. Address questions to Military Editor, The Leader, 97 Duane Street, New York 7, N. Y.

At the recent special session of the NYS Legislature, the Legislature, at the request of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, amended the Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act, Section 309, which deals with evictions, was amended to include tenants who are paying up to $125 per month rental rather than $80 per month.

Legislation was also enacted granting up to $100 a month NYS income tax deduction to NYS residents who are on active military duty on or after Oct. 1, 1961.

The legislature further increased the protection of life insurance policies to those citizens on active military service from $5,000 to $10,000.

Questions and Answers

I recently received a letter from a Credit Corporation regarding my husband's outstanding loan which he made to purchase a hi-fi set. He has been recalled to military service and as you can imagine I am having a tough time meeting the family obligations. The Credit Corporation indicated that they were very sympathetic to my case and that they would do all they could to make arrangements for reduced monthly payments. They also included a mimeographed form which they asked me to send my husband to sign and have witnessed and this form mentions a "waiver of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act. Should I sign this form?"

Since you indicate that your family income has been substantially reduced, you should not sign this "form" that you received since your signing of this form would in effect, deprive you of the protection granted to you under section 311 of the Military Law. This section prohibits the company from rescinding or terminating the loan agreement or of repossessing the chattel during your husband's military service without a court order, but it also provides that the serviceman can waive his protection in writing. If the credit corporation harasses you in any way regarding this please contact our office nearest your home and arrangements will be made by our counselor for the Consumer Frauds Bureau of the State Attorney General's Office to investigate the matter and protect your interests.

School Staffs Sought for Overseas Jobs

The U.S. Air Force is seeking teachers and administrators to staff its overseas dependents' schools for the 1962-63 school year.

The schools are located in Europe, North Africa, Azores, Bermuda, Japan, Newfoundland, Pakistan and the Philippines. Their purpose is to provide public school educational opportunities to children of military and civilian personnel stationed abroad.

The duty tour is one year, beginning Aug., 1962, with salaries ranging from $445 to $750 per month. Round trip transportation and living quarters or housing allowance is provided. In some areas appointees will be eligible for foreign pay differentials.

American citizens not less than 23 years of age with at least two years teaching experience and a valid teaching certificate may obtain further details from the Air Force Overseas Recruitment Section, 11 East 16 Street, New York 3, N.Y. Telephone SP 7-4200, Ext. 523.

Exam. Postponed

The examination for promotion to district superintendent in the Department of Sanitation has been postponed to May 12, 1962. Filing is scheduled for January.

I have been in the army for the past five months. I recently got married and for personal convenience, I purchased an automobile on time credit six weeks ago. My wife is presently employed so between us, we are able to meet the payments, but I am wondering what protection I will have if she stops working since I cannot make these payments on my military pay.

Since you entered into an installment agreement after you entered the military service, you are not protected under the NYS Soldiers' and Sailors' Relief Act. This law only affects agreements entered into prior to the time you entered military service. If, in the future, you are unable to make your full monthly payments, the loan company may agree to reduce the amount of your monthly payment and extend the term of the loan, but any such agreement should be in writing for your protection.

Your Public Relations IQ

By LEO J. MARGOLIN

(Mr. Margolin is Adjunct Professor of Public Relations in the New York University School of Public Administration and is a vice-president of the public relations firm of Martial & Company, Inc.)

Public relations has a close affinity to politics. And politics—contrary to popular belief—has a close relationship to civil service.

We have been asked time and again by our students, many of whom are government careerists: what does one do about political leaders who may be seeking information, but who may also be asking for favored treatment for some constituent.

Our answer has always been the same:

As long as our governmental system is based on political activity, which, of necessity, must be led by political leaders, then we must accept politics as a fact of life. It is unrealistic to kick politics under the rug.

Political activity elects our public officials, and they set the policy for civil service on both the legislative and executive levels.

Thus, it is sound public relations for all in civil service to treat political leaders with courtesy and, wherever possible, with helpfulness. This rule should apply regardless of whether the political leader holds public office or not.

The fact is that a political leader without a public job, is just as much a public official as one who does hold a public job. Not infrequently, political leaders without portfolio can be more influential in legislative and executive matters than those who have a title, a budget line, and a salary.

There is no such thing in our system of government-by-political-activity of a civil service completely divorced from politics. Realistically, civil servants are administratively responsible to elected public officials who were nominated politically and elected in much the same way.

Civil service, which is dependent for its protection on legislation achieves such legislation from politically chosen and politically-elected legislatures.

Thus, it is good public relations to cooperate with political leaders within the framework of the law, ethical conduct, and good common sense.

Bi-partisan Assurance Given Nassau Workers On Salary Increase

(From Leader Correspondent)

MINEOLA, Dec. 4—Nassau County officials, preparing to block a proposed 25 per cent county tax boost, this week gave Nassau's 8,000 civil service workers a bipartisan promise that recent pay raises for rank-and-file county workers would not be disturbed.

The tax-cutting activities of the Nassau Board of Supervisors had given rise to some concern among Nassau civil servants because a long-overdue pay boost, the first general pay raises in eight years, will cost some $7,000,000, for the full year of 1962, including new increments and fringe benefits. This will account for about 28 cents of the 48.5 cents per $100 of assessed valuation tax increase, which was proposed by retiring County Executive A. Holly Patterson.

At recent conferences, however, both County Executive-elect Eugene Nickerson and the Republican majority members of the Nassau Board of Supervisors pledged to keep the general pay boosts.

Oyster Bay Supervisor John Burns, vice chairman of the board, announced an economy program but said, "well deserved across-the-board increases granted county employees last July, and the normal annual increments provided in the county's regular employee salary schedule, will not be effected by our economy program."

Used McKinsey Survey

Nickerson said he did not suggest any change in the new salary schedules which went into effect July 1. However, he attacked the pay raise program of roughly 15 percent for civil servants as having been instituted by GOP County Chairman Joseph Carlino, the State Assembly Speaker, "without any intensive job analysis." Carlino had said the pay raise plan followed the general lines of the state's McKinsey report. Nickerson claimed that the pay raise was "defeated by election year politics" but that "this should not obscure the fact that many positions were long overdue for a raise."

While both sides agreed to avoid tampering with general pay scales both sides agreed that they wanted to chop away at $472,000 in "executive" pay raises for department heads. Nickerson asked for the abolition of all such proposed raises, including the turn-down of a $25,000 to $35,000 pay boost for himself, when he takes office Jan. 1. The Republicans however said they would cut out some of the "executive" pay raises, they would not cut them all.

vice provided by the Correction personnel and the need for adequate compensation.

The other Association speakers were Harry W. Albright, Associate Counsel; Edward Leary, Correction Officer, Elmira, Jack Solod, Correction Officer, Woodbourne, James Adams, Correction Officer, Sing Sing, and Charles Lamb, Sergeant, Sing Sing.

All members of the Special CSEA Correction Officers' Salary Committee; Dan Damon, Assistant Superintendent, Green Haven, and F. Henry Galpin, CSEA Assistant Executive Director, who presented the Association's final arguments.

The original application for the reallocation of the three titles was disapproved by the Director in 1958. Among his stated reasons were that: "Little or no attempt was made to support this request by comparing the Correction Officers' salary with established grades for other related classes within the New York State Plan."

Galpin Rebutts

In answering this at last week's hearing, Mr. Galpin pointed out that a review of the transcript would show that the Association took the position that internal comparison could be made only a highly tenuous basis. He said that "we have again reviewed the salary plan in an effort to find occupations with sufficient common permit comparison and we still find these positions stand relatively apart and alone."

It is the appellants' belief, Galpin said, that "the internal relationship factor should in this instance be minimized and that the other factors set forth in the appeal should receive correspondingly greater weight."

Decision In 30 Days

The Commissioner of the Department of Correction, Paul D. McGinnis in speaking favorably for the reallocation, told the hearing that he, more and more, "has been highly impressed with the character of the employees in the Correction institutions and is proud of the job correction employees are doing, have done and will do."

Mr. Kelly indicated at the conclusion of the hearing that he will hand down a decision within 30 days. In the event it is successful, it will then go to the Budget where it could be accepted or denied.

these positions such as resident psychiatrist and resident dentist, all of which are formerly in the exempt class.

These facts, I am sure, make it abundantly clear to anyone interested in the state of the Merit System that it is the studied policy of Governor Rockefeller's administration that the number and percentage of positions open to competition shall continue to grow.

Lists Invitations

As to the charge that the CSEA was not given the opportunity to express its views on certain positions before this Commission took action at its October 31 special meeting, nothing could be further from the truth.

Actually, Mr. Feily was invited to make his opinions known to the Commission at its regularly scheduled meeting on October 18. He declined the invitation because of another commitment, but was immediately offered the opportunity to make his presentation at our special meeting of October 31. This special meeting was scheduled so that the Commission could act on another matter which it considered to be of urgent importance. Once again, however, Mr. Feily rejected our offer to permit him or his representative to present the CSEA case. The Commission then acted on the nine items in question because it assumed that the CSEA was not sufficiently interested in them to appear before us. Further inaction, it was felt, would cause considerable hardship to the agencies who had been awaiting for some time our decisions on these positions.

Space Going On Central Conference Hawaii Tour

Bookings on the 1962 Hawaii-California tour being sponsored by the Central Conference, CSEA, are already eating up available space, Arthur Darrow, chairman of the travel program, informed The Leader last week.

The California - Hawaii tour, which will be provided by Civil Service Travel Club, Inc., has proved one of the most popular travel items ever offered in the Association and was oversold in two Conferences this year.

Departs May 18

The Central Conference tour will depart from Syracuse on Friday, May 18, and return there on a Friday two weeks later.

The itinerary will include a flight to Los Angeles, where a visit to Disneyland and a tour of Hollywood has been arranged. From there the group will fly directly to Honolulu, where tour members will be greeted in traditional Hawaiian fashion by a lei reception.

The hotel to be used this time will be the fabulous Hawaiian Village which is right on Waikiki Beach. Tour members will be able to walk right onto the beach from their hotel room. During the stay in Hawaii, there will be a native feast and a tour of Pearl Harbor and the island of Oahu. Side trips to the other islands will be available.

Early Bookings Urged

Leaving Hawaii after a nine-day stay, the group will fly to San Francisco for a visit to that famous city, a tour of the beautiful Redwood forest and a gala dinner in the internationally known Chinatown.

All the above, plus round trip air transportation, will be offered for only $495.

Reservations may be made by writing to Mr. Darrow at 102 Guilford Rd., Syracuse 3, or calling him at GR 4-2751, extension 67, Syracuse.

Conference members are advised to make bookings as early as possible, because the popularity of this Hawaiian tour has caused it to sell quickly in all areas. Many people were unable to go this

City and Transit Cashier Exams Filing Extended

The November filing period for City cashier jobs has been extended to Dec. 15, apparently because there are more jobs available than there are people to fill them.

There are two tests: cashier, and cashier (Transit Authority).

Mayor Proposes Co-op School-Work Study

Mayor Robert F. Wagner presented to the Board of Estimate last week a proposal for evaluating the Municipal Cooperative Education and Work Program.

Under the projected program, pupils in the third and fourth year of high school may, if they so desire, be employed on a half-time basis, thus affording them an opportunity to complete their high school education while obtaining work experience and receiving some remuneration at the same time.

The study would be made possible by a grant to the City of $24,000 by the Ford Foundation, to which would be added a like appropriation of $24,000 by the City.

City Offers Prom. To Supervising Personnel Examiner

A New York City examination for promotion to supervising personnel examiner (classification) will be open for the filing of applications until Nov. 29, the City has announced.

The job pays from $8,600 to $10,700 a year, and is open to employees of the Department of Personnel who have worked for at least six months in the titles supervising personnel examiner (all specialties) and senior personnel examiner (all specialties).

To apply, contact the Applications section of the Department of Personnel, 96 Duane St., New York 7, N. Y.

Transit cashier, a $4,250 to $5,330-a-year title, is open to men only. Otherwise, the two tests are nearly identical.

Cashier, open to both men and women, is a title in which there are nearly a hundred vacancies at the present time, and which pays from $4,000 to $5,080 a year.

For both, high school graduation and one year of experience in the handling of large sums of money are required. A satisfactory equivalent combination of education and experience will also be accepted.

Duties

Candidates who have at least six months of the required experience may file for the test, but must meet the full requirements by the time of appointment.

Cashiers, when eligible, can take an examination for promotion to supervising clerk; cashiers (Transit Authority), for promotion to supervising cashier. Both titles pay from $4,850 to $6,290 a year.

Transit cashiers operate coin machines in counting and verifying money collected from the transit lines. They also weigh and carry bags of coins and keep records and reports of money counted.

Cashiers in other departments do such tasks as keeping accounts of cash and checks received in taxes, assessments, rents or charges. They accept and issue receipts and record payments, and operate coin machines, cash registers or bookkeeping machines.

The Tests

The written tests will probably be held Feb. 17. Both will count for 100 per cent of the grade and both will require 70 per cent to pass. A qualifying medical and physical test will also be given before appointment.

To apply for these jobs, contact the Application Section of the New York City Department of Personnel, 96 Duane St., New York 7 N. Y.

City Recruits Recreation Leaders at $4,550-$5,990

New York City is recruiting both men and women for recreation leader jobs on a continuous basis. The starting salary for these jobs is $4,550 a year with $5,990 a year the top pay.

Appointments will be made to the Department of Parks and to the Department of Hospitals. Appointments to the Department of Hospitals are exempt from the New York City residence requirements.

Requirements

Candidates for this test must be college graduates. The candidate's college studies should have included 18 credits in recreation, physical education, or group work. Six months of paid leadership experience in organized recreational programs may be substituted for the specific credit requirements.

The written test will be of the multiple choice type and may include questions covering such areas as general intelligence, reading comprehension and arithmetic reasoning. Questions on dealing with people and general background information may also be included.

Candidates will be required to pass a qualifying medical and physical test before appointment.

Applications will be issued at the Applications Section of the Department of Personnel, 96 Duane St., New York 7, New York. Applications should be filed on any Tuesday between 8:30 and 9:30 a.m., 241 Church St., second floor.

Health Dept. Aides Donate $12,240 To 26 Charities

Lester J. Rosner, assistant commissioner of the New York City Health Department, has announced that donations of $12,240 had been made to 26 charitable organizations from the Combined Charities Fund of the department. This represents the largest amount distributed by the Combined Fund since it was organized five years ago, Rosner, fund chairman, said. The amount collected and distributed in 1961 was $1,380 or 12.7% higher than the total raised in 1960.

Give Welfare Patrolmen Better Status and Salary

THE Welfare Patrolmen's Benevolent Association is now seeking independent status, having submitted check-off cards to Labor Commissioner Harold Felix. Thus, they are severing all ties with the Welfare Department local organization. Their reasoning is that they have not received any benefits from the affiliation with the group.

These patrolmen have been fighting for years to have salary and status improved on the basis that their work is dangerous. There have been replies from the Department of Welfare that their claims of being attacked and beaten are overstated. However, nothing alters the fact that the Board of Estimate, month after month, awards these men damages for medical care.

They are seeking equal pay with police of the Housing Authority. They are seeking full-time peace officer status. They also want to be armed at all times.

Since their work does demand contact with people who have been known to resort to violence at times and since they have been certified by both the Welfare Department and the Police Department to be worthy of part-time peace officer status, it would be right to expect that they are worthy of being peace officers all the time.

Since they are peace officers, they should be paid as such.

Finally, since they are peace officers, they should be armed. Although their ranks are small, only 60 men, they will add 60 men to the ranks of peace officers on the streets of New York City, 24 hours a day. Before the Mayor decides that he will arm qualified Auxiliary Policemen to augment the police department, he should look into the facts involved here.

Correction Proves Case

CORRECTION Officers in state institutions have reached the final stages of a four-year struggle to have their title reallocated to a grade more fitting to the duties involved.

Through the efforts of the Civil Service Employees Association and the State Correction Conference, concrete evidence has been gathered to illustrate how this state job has grown in complexity and responsibilities over the past years.

The men feel these additional responsibilities keenly. They have the support of the Commissioner, Paul McGinnis. The job has become a professional one.

Now, J. Earl Kelly, State Director of Classification and Compensation, will decide in the next 30 days whether or not an upgrading is deserved.

Should he decide in the affirmative, let us hope this will not be a case of winning the battle and losing the war. These men can still be defeated by a budget veto, a weapon that has brought many a defeat after earlier victories.

They have proved their case. Let's not have it ignored through false economy.

Canadians Debate 'Civil Servant' As Name For Aides

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 4 — Members of the Ottawa-Hull Local Council of the Civil Service Association of Canada want the term "civil servant" dropped and would prefer being known as "employees of the government of Canada."

The decision has provoked county-wide interest among civil service members. It has elicited criticism from those who believe the "civil servant" title is an old and honorable one and want to retain the name.

Commerce Dept. Promotes Pyle

ALBANY, Dec. 4 — Thompson Pyle, a state business consultant for the State Commerce Department, has been promoted to the post of regional manager in Western New York. He succeeds James A. Pray, who is retiring after 17 years of state service.

My Pyle's office will be in Buffalo, where he will supervise department programs for Erie, Niagara, Chautauque and Cattaraugus counties. His salary will be $10,550 a year.

Retired Employee Asks Inclusion

Editor, The Leader:

As a retired New York City employee, having served with the Board of Education for over 35 years, I would like to go on record as being in favor of the proposed health insurance plan choice. I have read and studied your article comparing the four proposed plans and have come to my choice if I were to be allowed to participate.

All of us "pensioners" are in need of such a plan. We are on fixed pensions and as we get older our need for medical care increases. My wife and I depend a lot on the goodness of our children, with whom we are living.

I am enjoying my retirement, having taken on a side job of caring for my grandchildren when the occasion allows. Recently, my wife was hospitalized and the cost was quite high. However, we had some health insurance, but if the city would remember our faithful service and pay half on these proposed plans, we would be quite happy.

The cost of living increases daily, but our pensions do not. With such aid, at least one mounting expense would be taken from the monthly bills. Thank you for your support of our cause and for your excellent comparison.

Takes Side of Correction Officers

Editor, The Leader:

I think it is disgusting that the City Correction Department should take disciplinary action against its officers on the basis of inmate complaints. One hears so many complaints about rank and file civil servants, but hardly a word about irresponsible administrators.

I can believe, as Mr. Bauch said, that correction officer morale has been lowered by the "accusations and cross-accusations."

I am a city employee, but not a correction officer. If I were a correction officer, you can believe that I would not sit still while my employers listened to accusations against me made by those I was assigned to guard.

I understand that inmates in the City's institutions might have legitimate complaints against the guards, but these should be thoroughly investigated (if they seem to warrant investigation), and if action is taken, it should be fully explained.

It's about time that someone like Mr. Bauch, with his Terminal Employees group, should stand up to irresponsible administration.

Civil Service LAW & YOU

Mr. Herzstein is a member of the New York bar (The views expressed in this column are those of the writer and not necessarily constitute the views of this newspaper or of any organization.)

Recent Work Period Decisions

PART TWO

Figuring The Work Day

THERE ARE A considerable number of civil service laws which provide for a daily maximum of working hours. One such law is Section 220 (1) of the labor law which prescribes that eight hours is a legal day's work for all classes of employees in the State. That law was slightly modified, in effect, in New York City by Section 884.4.0 of the Administrative Code which permitted overtime work at overtime compensation.

The Public Works Case

IN A CASE decided earlier this year by Judge Edgar J. Nathan, sitting in the Supreme Court, Manhattan (Del Gaudio v. Zurmuhlen, 213 N.Y. S. 2d 157) the facts were concisely, as follows: The Commissioner of Public Works required sewage treatment employees to work overtime in excess of eight hours a day with compensatory time off rather than overtime pay, at the risk of disciplinary action if overtime work on such conditions were refused. The affected employees brought an action to stop the overtime practice, and Judge Nathan ordered it stopped.

Judge Nathan's Opinion

THE COMMISSIONER argued that his practice was justified by the fact that he granted compensatory time off on other days in return for the hours of overtime. Judge Nathan did not buy that one. He decided in favor of the employees and ruled, as stated, that the Commissioner stop the practice.

IN HIS OPINION, the Judge showed sensitivity to laws enacted for the benefit of civil service employees and he used strong language to condemn the practices used by the Commissioner. He wrote:

"It would appear that respondent's current practices with respect to excess maximum hours are nothing more than a circumvention of the public policy of this State as expressed by legislative enactment. The Court is of course aware of the budgetary problems facing the City, but it cannot condone a practice so violative of existing law, enacted for the protection of City and State employees in the lower pay brackets. It is, therefore, incumbent upon respondent to discontinue its present practice in the absence of authorization as required by statute."

A Tidy Package

SUMMARIZING THE 1061 judicial decision referred to above and in last week's installment:

A MAXIMUM hour per day law and hour per week law means a maximum for each day and each week and does not mean (a) a maximum arrived at by averaging or (b) a maximum "diluted" by subsequent, compensatory time off.

BUT WHAT about hours in excess of maximums which are caused by emergencies, the result of the administrator's good faith in acting in the public's interests, budgetary difficulties, and so forth? THIS will be discussed in next week's column.

Recently Issued History Of Syracuse Forestry School Is Widely Praised

"Forestry College," a recently-published 360-page history of the State University College of Forestry at Syracuse University, is being acclaimed by professional and technical publications and the trade press.

The book, published by the Forestry College Alumni Association, commemorates the Forestry College's golden anniversary. The year 1961 marks the 50th anniversary of the college's founding.

American Forest magazine, in a recent review, refers to the book as being "well-written and well-illustrated."

It goes on to say: "This is an exceptional house publication on the 50-year progress of one of the nation's great forestry institutions."

The Northeastern Logger magazine refers to the history not only as a "beautifully done publication" but also cites it as a "very important contribution to our forestry literature."

And the Journal of Forestry magazine praises the book by stating: "This is a book which will involve happy memories on the part of some, but, more important, it is a book which accurately portrays the progress in forestry education these past 50 years."

A limited number of copies of the book are still available. Single copies may be obtained, on a first-come-first-served basis, at a cost of $8.30 each. (Checks should be made payable to: "Jack L. Krall, Treasurer.") Mail requests to:

Social Security Questions Answered

My brother became disabled in 1946 after ten years of fairly steady employment. He never filed for disability benefits and is under the impression that the time limit for filing has expired. Is this correct?

No. The 1961 amendments give workers with longstanding disabilities until June 30, 1962, to apply for benefits under the social security disability provisions. This is one year longer than they had under the old law. Workers who have been disabled for several years and who delay their applications beyond June 30, 1962 may lose all rights to present and future benefits for themselves and their dependents. Your brother should contact his local social security office immediately. They will gladly assist him with his application.

My husband died in 1938. I'm 63 years old and was told that the recent changes in the social security law allow me to get checks. Is this true?

Yes, if your husband worked a year and a half under social security. To get these checks you must visit the social security office and apply for them. Be sure to take your husband's social security number, if you can find it. You will also need your marriage certificate and proof of your age. A family bible record, old life insurance policy or other old record of your age can be used to prove your date of birth.

I am 35 years old, married and have four small children. Eleven months ago I was in an automobile accident and haven't worked since. Am I eligible for anything from social security? How about my wife and children?

The 1960 amendments permit monthly payments to disabled workers under age 50, their wives regardless of age (so long as they have at least one minor child in their care) and all unmarried minor children. You should inquire at your nearest social security office about these payments.

My husband and I have been drawing benefits at the minimum rate. He has now died. Will my widow's benefit be only three-fourths of his $33 monthly rate?

No. You will receive $33 a month. Although the widow's benefit is usually three-fourths of her husband's monthly rate, a widow alone will not be paid less than $33.

I am 67 years old. My husband gets social security checks each month. We've been married a little over a year. Can I get payments as his wife?

Yes. Because of recent changes in the law, you need to be married only a year. You and your husband should go by the social security office right away. Your payments can start with less delay if you'll take your marriage certificate and some old record of your age.

I have my own business. I am now 71 years old. I understand that employees who work after age 72 can receive benefits no matter how much they earn. Does this also apply to people who own their own business?

Yes. Beginning with age 72 both employees and self-employed persons may receive benefits even if they still continue to work and earn any amount of money.

District Director of Internal Revenue. For information on how to get the report forms, contact your nearest social security office.

When are the reports of wages paid to domestic help due and how are they filed?

Reports for domestic help are due one month after the close of a calendar quarter. The return for October, November, and December 1960, is due by January 31, 1961. The report for January, February, and March 1961, is due by April 30, 1961. They are filed with the

What types of benefits are payable to a worker and his family when he retires?

Monthly benefits are payable on retirement to retired men at age 65 and to women at age 62. Also to these dependents: a wife age 62; a dependent husband age 65; a child under 18, or over 18 and totally disabled; a wife of any age caring for a child entitled to benefits.

23 State Employees Win $685 Through Suggestion Program

ALBANY, Dec. 4 — Twenty-three State employees received cash awards totaling $685 in November for time- and money-saving ideas submitted to the Employee Suggestion Program. H. Elliot Kaplan, President of the State Civil Service Commission, has announced.

The top award of $150 was shared by three employees of the State Conservation Department. Hubert Maguire, of Albany, principal statistics clerk; Shirley Parker, Green Island, senior clerk; and Richard Sauer, Albany, laborer, suggested a method for sampling licenses to obtain data on game taken by hunters. The new method, which replaces the old "game census," provides more accurate, comprehensive, and up-to-date information than was formerly obtainable.

Two employees of the Department of Mental Hygiene's Rome State School shared the second highest award — $100. Robert Cornish of Oneida, a welder, and Karl McCormack, Rome, electrician, designed and built a tower for servicing pole-type street lighting fixtures on the school grounds. The rig, constructed from scrap and surplus iron, would have cost approximately $1,000 if purchased commercially.

Cash awards went to nine others in the Albany area. Virginia Smith, Albany, principal clerk in the Department of Taxation and Finance, received $75, and William Shippey, Rexford, offset printing machine operator in the Labor Department's Division of Employment, $25.

Mr. Shippey also shared a $50 award with three other Division of employment offset printing machine operators. They are John Foster, Albany; Nelson Isdell, Albany; and Edward Preston, Rensselaer.

POLL-PARROT Vita-Poise shoes assure your children every step in comfort. All sizes and width: always correctly fitted.

Mr. Schafer expressed the regrets of Frank J. Fuller, district engineer, and Newton J. Ronan, assistant district engineer, upon not being able to be present for

Court Vetoes Buffalo Job

BUFFALO, Dec. 4 — A civil service appointment of an acting associate chief engineer for the City- Buffalo has been upset in a supreme Court action.

Justice John F. Dwyer ordered Stanley Melski removed from the post in an action brought by Patrick Grady, now senior stationary engineer in City Court. Mr. Grady contended the appointment of Mr. Melski had been made without regard to civil service listings.

Justice Dwyer ordered the Civil Service Commission to canvass the eligible list, which includes Mr. Grady and John J. O'Neil, for another appointment to the post.

Tillou, who represented the city in the action, indicated the court's ruling may be appealed.

Albany Aides Approve Returning Downtown

ALBANY, Dec. 4—State employees, in the main, approve of the new state policy, which calls for keeping state office buildings in the downtown section of the Capital City, rather than on the state's Campus Site on the western outskirts of the city.

The Rockefeller administration recently indicated that it would approve no further buildings for the Campus Site and instead would build in downtown Albany as part of the revitalization of the city.

Eventually, the state office buildings at the Campus Site will be turned over to the State University for its expanded college facilities, including a liberal arts curriculum and graduate school.

This will mean, within the next six to eight years, that all state employees will be housed in office buildings near the State Capitol and Alfred E. Smith Office Building.

A spot survey of state workers, now at the Campus Site, showed general approval of the plan to return state offices to the downtown section of the city.

Questions Parking

One State Conservation Department employee, however, raised one question: "It will be fine being back in the city, but they better plan to provide parking facilities. That's the one thing we have plenty of here at the Campus."

The shift from the outskirts to the city center will mean that state employees will be able to do some shopping during lunch hours and will be near other state agencies for easier inter-office communication.

At present, the State Civil Service Department and the Conservation Department are the two big state agencies housed on the Campus. Eight other buildings are either under construction or are authorized.

Local merchants have hailed the decision as putting new life into the downtown business section.

The decision was reached by Governor Rockefeller after the State Commission on the Capital City reportedly recommended it.

Experts Discuss Data Processing

ALBANY, Dec. 4 — A panel of experts discussed case studies in electronic data processing at a meeting recently of the Capital District Chapter of the American Society for Public Administration.

Taking part in the program were Miss Rosalind G. Baldwin, executive director of Office of Local Government; Edward D. Igoe, director of the Income Tax Division, State Tax Department and Ellis Riker, administrative director of the State Department of Motor Vehicles.

State Couple Honored On Retirement After 18 Years' Service Each

Dr. Vera R. Russell, of the State Commerce Department, and her husband, Dr. James T. Russell, of the State Civil Service Department, both State career employees, were honored last week at a testimonial dinner at the Petit Paris Restaurant, Albany, marking their joint retirement after each had completed 18 years of State service.

More than 60 friends and associates attended the dinner which was sponsored by State Commerce Department workers. Dr. Donald H. Davenport, Deputy Commissioner of Commerce, was toastmaster.

At the dinner, messages praising their outstanding service to the State were read from Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller; State Commerce Commissioner Keith S. MoHugh, who was out of the State; and three former State Commerce Commissioners, Martin P. Catherwood, Harold Keller and Edward T. Dickinson.

The Russells, who met while both were employed in the Commerce Department, and subsequently married, will spend the next year and a half in England, where Mrs. Russell was born. On their return, they will continue their Elmsere residence.

Both held executive positions in the State service and both had previous careers as educators. Their marriage was in 1948.

Dr. Vera Russell, who joined the Commerce Department in 1943, when it was a division in the executive Department, was director of the Department's Bureau of Business Research.

Dr. James Russell was supervisor of research in examinations in the State Civil Service Department. He joined the Civil Service Department 13 years ago, after being five years in the Commerce Department.

Problems Plague Barge Canal Aides

Legislative Discrimination

On the subject of the excess work-week Mr. Feily pointed out that while legislation had been passed during 1956, 1957, 1958 and 1959 reducing the work week for state employees to 40 hours for a five-day week.

"Despite these advances," Mr. Feily said, "for all state employees, an exception has been made for canal employees working for the Department of Public Works. Through the last two years you personally and your Department has supported legislation introduced and sponsored through the efforts of this Association to remedy the problem. We believe, however, that the reduction of the present hours of work of State Barge Canal employees can be reduced administratively without loss in take-home pay. Like so many things in government, inequities are permitted to continue in the work conditions of state employees which would be condemned by State Labor Department in private industry.

Industry Would Have To Pay

"Were the State Labor Department to investigate this situation in private industry," said Mr. Feily, "it would immediately require the payment of cash for overtime hours worked in excess of 40 hours."

At press time, it was learned that Mr. McMorran had replied to Mr. Feily's letter, stating that an investigation would be made of both issues.

Levitt Hits Present Age For Vesting

ALBANY, Dec. 4 — State Comptroller Arthur Levitt feels the present state law providing vesting benefits for state employees "does an injustice" to members of the 55-year retirement plan.

He made this comment after urging the 1962 Legislature to approve a bill to lower the eligibility age for vesting benefits from 60 years to 55.

Mr. Levitt said vesting benefits, as now constituted, do not cover those employees who are members of the 55-year plan and find other employment leaving their contributions to the state.

Unless the Legislative acts, the Comptroller said "These employees will be unable to receive the total benefit to which they are entitled unless vesting payments begin at age 55."

WORK PROGRAM — Attending the first Work Simplification Training Program for chief supervisors and instructors of nursing at Gowanda State Hospital were representatives from Buffalo State Hospital, Craig Colony and Hospital, Gowanda State Hospital, J. N. Adam State School Division, Newark State School, Rochester State Hospital, and Willard State Hospital. The program was held in October under the direction of Mrs. Mildred Currier and Marion Crotty, assistant directors of the Department of Mental Hygiene's Office of Nursing Services, standing, second and third from left.
