THE BRICKS AND IVY

1963

THE MILNE SCHOOL

ALBANY, NEW YORK

PRESENTED BY THE SENIOR CLASS

FOREWORD

"To know the universe itself as a road, as many roads, as roads for traveling souls" -- This quote from Walt Whitman's poem "The Song of the Open Road" is an apt description of the goal of this year's graduating class. We have traveled a heretofore narrow road, on which Milne has been one landmark. After Milne we take to the broader, more diverse, more important highway of life.

We have encountered many problems and you have helped us. We have lost sight of our goals and you have guided us. For your guidance, your encouragement, your love, we, the Class of 1963, dedicate our Bricks and Ivy to Miss Lydia K. Murray and to Mr. William Kraus.

*Allons! whoever you are come travel with me!
Traveling with me you find what never tires.*

Walt Whitman
