BARGE CANAL HEARING — John C. Rice, associate attorney of the Civil Service Employees Association, is shown addressing a public hearing of a joint legislative committee pondering the future of the State Barge Canal, which was held in the Assembly Chambers of the State Capitol recently. Rice urged that the welfare of the canal's 1,000 employees be safeguarded in every respect in the event of a transfer to the federal government or in any other action taken by the State. Approximately 25 witnesses were heard by the legislative committee during the day-long session. One of them, at right, is unidentified.

'Bright Young Women' In Republican Ranks Listed by Readers

As the result of previous columns on "bright young men" in the Republican and Democratic Parties, we last week reported on one reader's nominations for "bright women" who lend talent and leadership to the Democratic ranks.

We asked for further nominations last week—and we certainly got them, this time telling us of feminine contributions to the Republican Party.

Hearing Set For Ranger Appeal

ALBANY, Aug. 12—The Civil Service Employees Association has been notified that a hearing will be held August 14 at 2 p.m. at the Civil Service Commission office, State Campus, Albany on a reallocation request for Forest Ranger and District Ranger.

The reallocation appeal, which has the backing of the Association; is being made by the Conservation Department. CSEA will be represented at the hearing and will file a supporting statement on behalf of the Conservation Department employees.

CSEA Meets With Budget

Appeals Started To Help Workers Disenfranchised Under New Overtime Rules

ALBANY, Aug. 12 — The Civil Service Employees Assn. last week submitted the first of a series of appeals to regain overtime rights for employees disenfranchised by recently promulgated State overtime rules.

CSEA representatives, led by Joseph F. Felly, Association president, met in an intense 2-hour session with top Division of the Budget officials to discuss seven job titles.

The seven, subject of a detailed brief also presented at the meeting, are:

Land and Claims Technician (Grade 8); Junior Land and Claims Adjustor (Grade 15); Assistant Land and Claims Adjustor (Grade 19); Senior Land and Claims Adjustor (Grade 23); Forest Ranger (Grade 8); District Ranger (Grade 14), and Narcotics Investigator (Grade 17).

The Budget Division reserved decision on the CSEA request.

Still Opposed to Rules

Employees Association representatives emphasized at the outset of the meeting that the appeals "relate only to the seven positions in question because of the availability, at this juncture, of specific information pertaining to the titles" and did not in any way prejudice CSEA's right to bring further appeals for other titles. The CSEA spokesmen also stated their unaltered opposition "to these rules in their entirety."

The State's fiscal agency members were told that it is CSEA's contention that many State positions classified ineligible under the new overtime rules were placed without any proper understanding of the duties and responsibilities involved in many of the excluded positions. It was pointed out that, in some cases, the Budget Division's final determination on whether a title should be in-

Leader Editor, CSEA Attorney Wed in NYC

Mary Ann Banks, an assistant editor for The Leader, and Stanley Mailman, regional attorney for the Civil Service Employees Assn., were married last week in New York City.

Attending the civil ceremony were immediate members of the two families and Paul Kyer, editor of The Leader, who gave the bride away.

The couple will reside in New York City following a honeymoon in Nantucket.

No Reasons Given

Hearing Reporters Lose Reallocation Appeal By Budget Director's Veto

(Special To The Leader)

ALBANY, Aug. 12 — For the second time in recent months, the Budget Division has blocked the reallocation of job titles which already had the stamp of approval by the Civil Service Commission. The latest veto was a reallocation request on behalf of 300 hearing reporters.

In April of this year, the Civil Service Commission approved the reallocation of hearing reporters from Grade 14 to Grade 16, following a denial of the request by J. Earl Kelly, director of the Division of Classification Compensation. The reallocation was then referred to Budget Director Dr. T. Norman Hurd for final determination and the subsequent rejection.

The reallocation bid, which was instituted over a year ago by several state departments, had the strong support of the Civil Service Employees Association on behalf of its members in the Division of Employment and the Department of Law.

Late last year, the Budget Director threw out a request for the reallocation of titles affecting 4,000 Correction Dept. employees, after the action was approved by the Civil Service Commission.

In turning down the hearing reporters bid, as in the case of the correction officers, the Budget Director did not give reasons for his determination.

CSEA contends that the Budget Director should be required to give reasons in writing when he disapproves a salary appeal which has received prior approval by either the Division of Classification and Compensation or the Civil Service Commission. In this regard, the Association has sought legislation to reinforce its stand.

A CSEA spokesman said the situation with respect to the hearing reporters now has evolved "to a point where they find themselves in the same position as the Correction Officers." He said, "We intend to follow up this matter in order to determine the reason why the Director of the Budget denied the reallocation which has been approved by the Civil Service Commission."

They Do A Lot

A Westchester County reader informs us that "our GOP gals hold high official posts, serve as important party functionaries and contribute greatly to the Republican Party. Many of them are housewives and mothers at the same time; some hold important posts in private industry. As a starter for your column I would like to nominate Mrs. Wilma Rogalin, who is vice president of the New York State Republican Club at present and was the first woman vice president of the State Young Republican Clubs. She's tops in private industry, too, serving as personnel manager for Pan American Airways."

Another Westchester reader ranks Mary Goode Krone (a fellow resident) as "one of the most popular Republican women in the State. Mary's service as a member of the State Civil Service Commission has brought distinction to both the GOP and the Commission. She's a real asset to womanhood and the Republican Party."

Share of Phi Beta Kappa

A reader identified only as A. C. writes in to say "the Democrats aren't the only ones that can rattle Phi Beta Kappa keys. Mrs. Phyllis Kelly, vice chairman of the Erie County Republican Committee, has the key, four children and a lot on the ball."

From upstate New York, Don Barnett writes and says "any list of top GOP women has to include Mrs. Constance Cook of Ithaca. After all, when she won her race for Assemblywoman last year she became the only Republican woman in either house of the Legislature. Her second child was born in the middle of the campaign. Although still in her 30's, her previous experience as a lawyer included a term as an associate counsel to former Governor Thomas E. Dewey. She really is tops."

Manhattan Women

Nominated also to the list was Jean McKee of Manhattan, who is the first woman to serve as president of the State Association of Young Republican Clubs. Not only does this Vassar graduate have time for that job, she also serves as a captain in the Ninth Manhattan Assembly District and is a partner in a research firm that specializes in sampling public opinion.

Another Manhattan-ite nominated was Ann Stevens, now serving her second term as president of the Young Women's Republican Club of New York.

"A vote for Ruth Washington is a must for your column," writes one reader. "She is one of the best referees on the Workmen's Compensation Board; and she does a swell job as co-leader of the 13th Assembly District South in Manhattan and is certainly headed for the Legislature."

Vice Chairmen

Several women serving as vice chairmen of County Republican Clubs were proposed for our list. They included Mrs. Joseph Swift of Potsdam (St. Lawrence); Mrs. Ruthe Klernan of Elmira (Chemung); Mrs. Jane Stevens, of Tittsford (Monroe); Mrs. Anne Sneed Dean of Rock Cavern (Orange); Mrs. Ruth Berge of Staten Island (Richmond); Mrs. Higenia Brown, Ballston Spa (Saratoga), and Mrs. Rose LeFever of Bloomington (Ulster).

Two for Mrs. Lawrence

Two nominations came in for Mrs. Dorothy Bell Lawrence, Assemblywoman who recently resigned her post to accept a Rockefeller appointment to the State Unemployment Insurance Appeals

Board. "Did you know," said one writer "that Mrs. Lawrence was the first woman to seek the office of borough president (in Manhattan in 1961) on any ticket in any borough?"

Added to the list also was Mrs. Florence Zimmerman, who last year served as president of the Women's Bar Association. She is an assistant counsel in the State Rent Commission and is an active co-leader with Vincent Albano, Jr., in the Manhattan Sixth Assembly District.

Nominations

Like our previous columns, this one has not included all the important women contributing to the Republican Party—or to the Democratic Party either. For that reason, we will continue to accept nominations for bright young men and women from both parties from our readers. Names, and description of qualities, may be sent to "Don't Repeat This," 97 Duane St., New York 7, N.Y. We'll have another column on this in the near future. We thank the many readers who, to date, have shown such interest in the political personalities of the "younger set."

HA Telephone Operator, Jane Bradley Retiring, Looks To Future Plans

Jane Bradley, chief telephone operator for the New York City Housing Authority, 299 Broadway, has announced her retirement effective as of August 15.

Miss Bradley has been with the Authority since 1946, when she was employed as switchboard operator of a two-position board in offices then located in the Chanin Building. In successive moves of Authority offices and expansions of the size of the telephone equipment, she was advanced to the post of chief operator.

She now supervises the work of seven women operators who service a four-position "701 dial message" board which in 1962 handled nearly 852,000 incoming and 1,025,000 outgoing calls. Compared to a half-dozen incoming lines in the first board Miss Bradley manned, the present switchboard has 41 incoming lines to reach more than 500 extension telephones in the Authority offices located at 299 Broadway, 167 Broadway and 93 Worth St.

Plans To Travel

Miss Bradley plans, on her retirement, to "see matinees whenever I want to, and to travel." Prior to employment with the Authority, Miss Bradley worked for the New York Telephone Company and in private business offices.

Hult New Director

The City school system has a new Director of Architecture. Eugene E. Hult, Superintendent of Design, Construction and Physical Plant announced the provisional promotion to the $16,000-a-year post of Arthur G. Paletta, former chief architect in city system.

Paletta is a 26-year veteran of City school service, having started his career as an assistant architect in 1937. He had previously served in the Park Department, the Triborough Bridge Authority and in the preparation of the 1939 World's Fair after joining private architectural firms in diversified field in 1927.

Clara Levine Named

Terminal Employees Local 832 this week promoted Clara Levine, former meter maid representative in the Department of Traffic to the position of Departmental Representative. Mrs. Levine takes the place of James Oakes, who was transferred out of Traffic to the Personnel Bureau of the Police Department.

Mrs. Levine has been the "meter maid" representative of the local since the organization of the Traffic Department's Enforcement Bureau and was one of the first meter maids on the city's streets.

In her new capacity she will be charge of the local's activities throughout the Department of Traffic, in which the local has over 100 members.

Mrs. Levine is married, and has two children, Collette, employed by Redbook Magazine, and Gregory, an entrance student at St. John's University.

Women's Rights Battle Won By Felicia Shpritzer

Felicia Shpritzer has struck a blow for the equality of women in her contest with the New York City Department of Personnel. This week, a special promotional examination for the title of sergeant in the Police Department has been ordered in accordance with a recent Court of Appeals ruling.

Miss Shpritzer had previously been ruled ineligible for the promotion examination and had contested the ruling in the courts. At the time of the original examination the title was open only to men. The court order also directed the Department of Personnel to merge the resulting eligible list with the one now established.

Fred Castiglione Recovering From Heart Attack

The many friends of Freddy Castiglione, popular field representative of Terminal Employees Local 832, are happy to hear that he is recovering from a heart attack which felled him, last week.

While hospitalized only a short time, and now well on the road to recovery, his doctor has recommended a complete rest, away from hectic union activities.

Castiglione, 37, suffered his attack while on the last day of his vacation, and was rushed to Staten Island Hospital. Released this week, he is recovering at home. He is not expected back until Labor day.

A lifelong resident of Staten Island, Fred resides with his wife, Gilda, his mother-in-law and son and daughter at 491 McClean Avenue, Staten Island 5.

CSEA In Final Phase On Sponsorship For Albany Co-Op Apts.

ALBANY, Aug. 12—Joseph F. Feily, president of the Civil Service Employees Association, last week announced that the Association would seek final approval to sponsor, as a co-operative housing project, the 158-apartment building now under construction at the site of the former Dobler Brewing Company overlooking Lincoln Park in Albany.

The building will be financed under the Limited Profit Housing Company Law of the State and will be for occupancy by middle income families as provided under State law.

Poll Did It

Feily said the decision to undertake sponsorship of the project, which is being constructed by the Robert Chuckrow Construction Company, Inc., of New York City, was based mainly on the overwhelmingly favorable results of a poll recently conducted among Association members in the Albany area. The poll tested interest in the purchase or rental of apartments in the building. As a result of it, more than 1,200 expressions of interest were received, with approximately 1,000 for the cooperative form of occupancy.

As a prerequisite for final approval from the State, it is necessary for the Association to furnish evidence that the project will be successfully sold as a cooperative to middle income families eligible under the Limited Profit Housing Company Law. In order to meet this requirement, the Association is now contacting all those who expressed an interest in the project and inviting them to file an information form and to pay a good faith deposit of $200. The deposit will be held in escrow and will be returned upon request or if a formal application is not subsequently filed or approved.

Occupancy of the apartment building will not be limited to the families of Association members only and other interested persons are invited to write the Association at Capital Station, Box 125, Albany 1, New York, for detailed information and the preliminary information form.

What It Costs

Based upon schedules being submitted to the State, down payments and carrying charges by type of apartment are now expected to average approximately as follows:

Type Apartment	Down Payment	Monthly Carrying Charge*
Studio (Efficiency)	$ 500	$ 62
One Bedroom	700	82
One Bedroom with Balcony	800	92
One Bedroom with Large Bal.	850	96
Two Bedroom without Balcony..	900	103
Two Bedroom with Large Bal. . .	1,000	113

*Exclusive of Cooperator's gas and electricity, which will be mass purchased and will amount to approximately $4.50 to $5.50 a month, depending on the type of apartment.

Among the features of the project are good housing on a non-profit cooperative basis, at low carrying charges; automatic controlled elevators; private storage areas; fully equipped laundry rooms; central T.V. antenna system; community room; air conditioning enclosures; on-site parking space available to each cooperator; a walk to work location.

Included in each of the 158 apartments will be abundant electrical outlets; bi-fold ceiling height closet doors; shades for all windows; four-burner gas range with full-size oven; refrigerator with freezer compartment; and colorful ceramic tile baths and showers.

Chapter Is Jubilant

Suffolk County's Survey On Need For Wage Hikes Backs CSEA Pay Demands

(From Leader Correspondent)

RIVERHEAD, Aug. 12 — Suffolk County chapter of the Civil Service Employees Association this week won a major victory when the Suffolk County Civil Service Commission endorsed the CSEA chapter's demand for higher wages for county workers.

The commission, acting on a request from the Suffolk Board of Supervisors, produced a wage study which called for pay increases ranging from 5 to 10 per cent for 2,500 county workers. When normal increments are included, the proposals came extremely close to the 15 per cent pay boost asked by the CSEA recently.

Commission Secretary Donald R. Hunt said that his plan was based on a survey of salaries in New York City, Nassau, Westchester and area state jobs. The highest proposed boost, of 10.8

per cent, was requested for clerical, administrative and fiscal positions, which are the most difficult to fill.

Other Proposed Increases

Other proposed boosts included, engineering 6.8 percent; medical and nursing 6.5 percent; welfare and institutional 8.7 percent; recreation and cultural 8.3 percent; public safety and protection 8.7 percent; legal and court service 7.4 percent; labor trades and labor supervision 5.9 percent; custodial, laundry and food service 10 percent.

The CSEA plan had called for a two grade increase for all workers plus the normal increment, which would have amounted to about 15 percent. The commission's plan would come close to a 15 percent boost, when the increments were added.

No Separation

Thomas Dobbs, president of the Suffolk chapter, greeted the commission's report with jubilation. "We are indeed happy," he said, "that the commission has proved that we are correct in our call for higher salaries." He said he thought that "further consideration should be given to those titles which fall below the two grade increase recommended by the CSEA."

Dobbs said that the legislative committee of the Suffolk chapter, after considering the new plan, had agreed, however, that the pay raises could not be separated from an equally important chapter goal, which is to win adoption of a $300,000 state health insurance plan. The Suffolk chapter, fighting for the program for many years, feels it is close to achieving success for the 1964 budget. The commission salary program would cost an estimated $1,167,000.

No Half-Loaf

Suffolk County Executive H. Lee Dennison had commented that he was primarily interested in passage of the health program for employees. "If I can also get them raises afterwards," he said, "all well and good."

Dobbs said that he and other CSEA officers were agreed, however, to resist a "half-a-loaf" approach to employee benefits "but rather we insist," he added "on full consideration being given to our whole program."

Less Lunch Time, Shorter Day For Albany A&M Aides

ALBANY, Aug. 12 — The State Department of Agriculture and Markets has reduced the lunchtime of its Albany employees to give everyone an earlier quitting time.

As reported by the department, the former hour allowed for lunch has been cut to 45 minutes and a new quitting time of 4:40 p.m. established.

"The primary object in changing Albany working hours is to do away with the growing number of persons on the 'special privilege' list," the department said. This list permitted some employees to work irregular hours to accommodate ride pools.

Conferred With CSEA

Some directors in the department had complained that work was being disrupted because of early arrivals or those leaving work earlier than others. Some employees on regular schedule appeared to resent the irregular hours of others.

In arriving at the new schedule, a committee headed by Assistant Commissioner Daniel M. Dairymple conferred with the department's Civil Service Employees Association chapter.

The shorter lunch time was adopted at a staff meeting and went into effect the middle of July.

Smith To Council

ALBANY, Aug. 12—Mason Rositter Smith, editor of the Gouverneur Tribune Press and a former member of the Legislative Correspondents Association in Albany, has been appointed a member of the Council of the State Agricultural and Technical Institute at Canton for a term ending July 1, 1972. He succeeds Francis B. Burns of Ogdensburg.

Bronx State CSEA Elects

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 — Officers of the recently formed Bronx State Hospital chapter of the Civil Service Employees Association were installed last week at ceremonies at the downstate hospital.

President of the new chapter is James McGee. Other new officers are John O'Shea, first vice president; Donald Pace, second vice president; Aubrey Adams, third vice president; Morris Frankel, treasurer, and John Turner, recording secretary.

Thomas J. Luposello, CSEA field representative, was installing officer.

Jeannette M. Finn Feted At Big Retirement Party

BUFFALO, Aug. 12—A retirement party was held recently in honor of Jeannette M. Finn, Income Tax examiner, who retired after sixteen years of State service. Michael F. Seereiter, District Tax supervisor, served as toastmaster and presented Miss Finn with a portable transistor radio as a gift from her fellow employees. Senior Income Tax examiners George Peters and Clifford Sprague served as co-chairmen.

Those in attendance at the dinner held at the Park Lane included at least fifty employees of the Internal Revenue Service who Miss Finn had befriended during the course of her special assignment at the Internal Revenue Service of obtaining information relative to tax returns. The information was subsequently used on field investigation under the New York State Income Tax Law.

Career

A native of Utica, Miss Finn was graduated from the Catholic Academy there and was formerly head of the First Bank and Trust Co.'s interest department in that city. She attended Syracuse University where she studied accounting procedures, and in 1941 served as chief accountant for the Syracuse Municipal Housing Authority. Miss Finn received a provisional appointment in the Syracuse District Office in 1945. She came to the Buffalo District Office on September 1, 1947. Miss Finn has served as past president of the Buffalo chapter of the Civil Service Employees' Association and also has been a past president of the Catholic Businesswoman's Club of Buffalo, New York.

Dayton To Retire

ALBANY, Aug. 12—Edward W. Dayton, former deputy chief engineer for the State Public Works Department, plans to retire to West Islip, L.I. He and his wife lived near Albany during his State service.

Dayton retired last month after serving almost continuously with the department since 1919.

For those who aspire to doing a good job as tax examiners, Miss Finn had this word of advice: "The art of taxation consists of plucking the goose so as to obtain the largest amount of feathers with the least possible amount of hissing."

Faith In Appeals Being Endangered

ONCE again a group of State employees have good reason to wonder whether the appeals procedure for title reclassification and/or reallocation is a reality or if the whole process is merely a charade.

Look at the record. State correction officers filed an appeal to be upgraded and, after study, were denied the appeal by the State Division of Classification and Compensation. They took the next step and appealed to the Division's decision to the State Civil Service Commission, where an upgrading was approved. Then came a long period of anxiety. Would the State Division of the Budget approve funds for the upgrading or not? It did not. Period. No explanation.

This week, State hearing reporters have gone the same route. Rejection, approval and rejection. And again they don't even know why.

There is no law to require the Budget Director to state his reasons for disapproving such actions. The Civil Service Employees Assn. has gone to the Legislature every session in the past few years to make it mandatory that reasons should be given, but the Legislature remains reluctant to act on such a measure.

There is no need to detail here the depth to which employee morale has sunk among these thousands of State employees. The very emotional process to which they have submitted is spokesman enough.

To deny these workers the knowledge of why they were refused a property approved title or salary appeal is to deny them basic justice. If faith in the appeals procedure is to continue among State employees, the State must justify its negative actions where such important decisions are made.

In dealing with this topic in prior columns, we have suggested that perhaps the burden of such decisions—including that of silence—are perhaps unfairly placed on the wrong shoulders. This suggestion deserves as much serious thought by the Legislature and the Administration as does the stricture of silence itself.

Post Office Launches Program To Improve Its Merit Promotion Policy

The Post Office Department started a program to improve its Merit Promotion Policy throughout the postal service with a three day conference in New York City. It was attended by officials of the 15 Postal Regions, and the Bureau of Personnel.

The objective, as stated by Deputy Assistant Postmaster General James J. LaPenta, is to continue the implementation of the Post Office Department's Merit Promotion Program and to keep abreast of the letter and the spirit of President Kennedy's Executive Order 10925 so that all Americans are afforded equal promotion opportunities.

Sean P. Keating, Director, New York Region opened the conference which was held at the Hotel New Yorker on August 4, 5, 6, 1963 in preparation for presentation of the program for 96 of the largest post offices in 14 regions. It was conducted by Dr. Timothy

W. Costello, Industrial Psychologist, Graduate School of Business Administration, New York University; Dr. Garda Bowman, Consultant, National Conference of Christians and Jews; and Oscar Liberman, Special Assistant for Employee Relations, New York Region. Simeon Bright, Bureau of Personnel, Washington, D.C. is the coordinator for the program.

Emphasis

Emphasis was placed on the attainment of maximum objectivity in the selection of employees eligible for promotion without regard to race, creed, color, sex, or national origin by exposure of

Your Public Relations IQ

By LEO J. MARGOLIN

Mr. Margolin is Adjunct Professor of Public Relations in the New York University School of Public Administration and is Vice President, Public Relations, of A. J. Armstrong Co., Inc.

The views expressed in this column are those of the writer and do not necessarily constitute the views of this newspaper.

Recommended Reading

PUBLIC RELATIONS as we know it and use it, is a force for the good. It calls for specialized techniques to achieve laudable objectives—good performance in the public interest, effectively communicated.

BUT SOME aspects of public relations, more commonly termed propoganda, can be forces for evil as well as for good.

THIS IS abundantly and expertly documented by a new book, "The Idea Invaders" (Hastings House, New York: $4.95) which we recommend as stimulating and revealing reading to all persons in government.

THE BOOK'S triumvirate of authors—George N. Gordon, Irving Falk and William Hodapp—have written a book about propoganda, which, in effect, is really a story of public relations as employed to achieve objectives on a national as well as an international basis.

ALMOST everything they talk about is directly or indirectly about public relations. For example, they say some devastating things about the behavior of some Americans who travel abroad. This is PR on a personal level, which, cumulatively, adds up to bad public relations for all Americans and the U.S.A.

IN MAKING this accusation—and, incidentally, a justifiable one from our own knowledge—they are really saying that America can't be such a great country to some foreigners who see Americans abroad behave like boors.

"MODERN propoganda—both national and international," the authors write, "rose to dimensions of significance with three vital changes in the Western (and now Eastern) world, all of which heightened to meaningful dimensions the power of persuasion for good or for evil."

THE LIST these changes as (1) the invention of the means of mass communication; (2) from the 19th century on, more and more people learned to read; and (3) "people en masse became increasingly important as instruments of political activity, both national and international, and public opinion became more and more a vital factor in political and diplomatic maneuvers."

ONE OF THE book's most effective chapters is the final one, appropriately called, "Ear of America." The authors are actually describing one of the most important elements in public relations—research.

IN DISCUSSING America's ear, they are stressing the importance of knowing what other people are thinking and saying about our country. In the public relations orbit, this is no different from knowing what our publics are saying about our government agency or about our company.

INTELLIGENT public relations can be planned only if we know what objective we are trying to achieve. We can't possibly know this accurately unless we know what action we must take to correct a situation and what communications we must employ to reach the ears—and minds—of the proper public.

MESSRS. GORDON, Falk and Hodapp insist that America does a lot of "telling," but not much listening. As a result, we're not making an impact for the good on our publics in other countries. These people want to be appreciated and respected.

WE ARE violating, insist the authors, the "two-way street" rule of public relations. This rule says that "the public be understood," not ignored or damned as some of America's earlier business tycoons erroneously believed.

"THE IDEA Invaders" is a timely book for all readers of this column, because all our readers are people who want to better understand our world so that they can do a better job in the public interest.

The Finest in SPEAKER SYSTEMS

with the exclusive

AR ACOUSTIC SUSPENSION PRINCIPLE

The cone of an acoustic suspension speaker is mounted on very free suspensions, so compliant that they are unable to provide the elastic restoring force required in a speaker system.

This missing restoring force is then re-introduced by the cushion of air enclosed in the sealed cabinet. The speaker cone works against the elastic air cushion instead of against its own mechanical suspensions.

The AR-2 is a lower cost version of our basic acoustic suspension design, with a 10-inch woofer and two 5 inch, specially treated cone tweeters to cover the treble range. The AR-2a consists of an AR-2 speaker system to which the AR 13/8-inch super-tweeter (the same one used in the AR-3) has been added to extend the extreme high-frequency response. Mid-range units and super-tweeters are independently adjustable.

SIZE: 13 1/2" x 24" x 11 1/2" depth
SUGGESTED AMPLIFIER POWER (RMS): 20 watts minimum per channel

An acoustic suspension cabinet must be relatively small in order to provide the necessary air-spring. (The enclosed air in a larger cabinet would not form a cushion springy enough to be effective.) Since this air-spring introduces less distortion than mechanical suspensions do, the small enclosure size is accompanied by increased rather than compromised reproducing quality, especially in the bass.

In 1955, speaker systems designed for highest quality bass reproduction ranged in size from 6 to 15 cubic feet, and their prices ranged from $400 to $800. Today, owing mainly to AR's introduction of the acoustic suspension design, the giant enclosure has almost passed from the scene, and speaker prices are a quarter of what they were. Most important of all, it is possible to achieve an undistorted naturalness in musical reproduction that was not previously attainable.

You'll Find A Complete Selection of Quality AR Speaker Systems at

Over 117 Years of Distinguished Service

"Listen, Paluzzi, as long as you're working for Scarpi Costruzioni, I don't want to hear any more of your 'Rome wasn't built in a day' stuff."

Drawing by Stevenson, Copyright 1963, The New Yorker Magazine, Inc.

Building New York started some 300 years ago... and we're still at it.

Just last year, 359 apartment buildings were completed in New York and Westchester, with another 626 under construction. Fourteen office buildings went up, and 33 more were under way.

Because many modern buildings use from 25 to 35 times as much electricity as older ones, Con Edison must dig to get more electricity to booming areas. Even where we've recently done a major job, it is sometimes necessary to go back and connect a new building to our system. But we always keep our work areas as neat and safe as possible.

And more folks than Con Edison are involved. Sewer, water and telephone connections must also be made. (No wonder there's so much digging going on!)

So, as long as New York keeps rebuilding, "Dig we must."

VACATION HOMES ON THE INCREASE

Many Families Plan To Make Them "Retirement" Homes Later

68 home sites were sold the first two weeks of July at Birchwood Lakes-in-the-Poconos, near Dingman's Ferry, Pennsylvania, establishing a sales record for this new vacation-retirement development. The purchasers represented people from all walks of life showing the appeal that the Poconos have for everyone.

It used to be that one family in one hundred owned a separate home for summer vacations and that was usually a log cabin with oil lamps, a kerosene stove, and antiquated plumbing facilities. Now, according to W. Evans Buchanan, President of the National Association of Home Builders, statistics show that vacation homes now constitute about 6 1/2% of the house construction market, with every indication that this figure will reach 10% before the end of this decade.

"The type of summer home which is being built at Birchwood Lakes can be easily converted later on to a year round 'retirement' home," says Richard Norman, President of All American Realty of 215 Union Street, Hackensack, N.J., Telephone 488 6565-10 5-4083.

Lots at Birchwood Lakes, all within easy walking distance of bathing beaches, are priced from $295 each, no less than three to provide "elbow room." People wishing to inspect Birchwood Lakes should drive to the Pennsylvania side of the Delaware at Dingman's Ferry Bridge, and follow the numerous road signs.

Supervisors' Salaries Are Up Five Per Cent, Survey Shows

Announcing publication by the Commerce and Industry Association of New York of its fifth Annual Survey of Supervisory Personnel, Ralph C. Gross, executive vice president said recently that the typical clerical supervisor's salary in the New York City area is up to five percent over what it was a little over a year ago. The survey did not include government agencies.

Since 1960, he noted, supervisors' salaries have increased at a slightly higher rate than for the employees supervised, indicative of their added responsibilities resulting from changes effected by improved procedures and modern office equipment.

The Association's supervisory survey, Gross pointed out, is designed to provide answers for management's concern with compensating a supervisor commensurate with his contributions to the success of the enterprise and to reflect the increasing importance of his role by maintaining an appropriate ratio between his salary and the salaries of those he supervises.

Study Covers 11 Jobs

The study covers office supervisory jobs: addressograph supervisor, billing machine supervisor, bookkeeping machine, filing, mailroom, payroll, purchasing, reproduction, stenographic pool, tabulating machine supervisors, as well as office managers.

The current Association survey shows a wide variation in the amounts by which supervisors' salaries exceed the pay of their subordinates. The overall differential is 65 percent, but the range extends from six percent to more than 200 percent. This wide range is attributable to several factors, among them the number of people supervised, the level of their skills, the complexity and volume of work and, significantly, the title and salary of the person to whom the supervisor reports.

While the number of persons supervised ranges from one or two to more than one hundred, the average is ten. In some cases, where only a few people are supervised, they are assistants who, in turn, supervise others. Where the number under supervision is large, there generally is a proportionate number of assistants or section heads.

Differential Relates To Numbers When the supervisor is in

Six Vie For Postmaster Position At Long Eddy

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 — Five persons besides the incumbent would like the $5,365 permanent postmaster position at Long Eddy.

A Civil Service Commission spokesman reported the following applicants to take the examination: Henry Doyle, Ralph P. Gott, James L. McManus, Gerald F. Nearing and Mrs. Jeanette A. Young.

Elizabeth F. Kenny has been acting postmaster of Long Eddy since postmaster, Sylvia S. Kenny retired April 20, 1962.

charge of relatively few employees, his salary differential tends to be comparatively small.

If the number supervised is large and includes supervisors, the differential is greater.

"The survey makes it evident that, from a salary standpoint, the individual to whom the supervisor reports is an important factor," Gross observed. "When a supervisor reports to a major executive of the company his salary tends to be higher and his differential wide, reflecting the greater voice he has in policy determination."

The survey has been distributed to participating members. Copies are available to the members of the Association at $15 each and to non-members at $25 each.

Erie CSEA Wins Raise For Buffalo Sewer Auth. Aides

(From Leader Correspondent)

BUFFALO, Aug. 12—A long campaign by Erie County chapter, Civil Service Employees' Assn., ended successfully when the Buffalo Sewer Authority granted pay raises to 240 employees.

Chapter officers, led by President Alexander T. Burke, urged favorable action on the pay raise plan at several Authority Board meetings. The increases total $88,500 and they range, in 18 job groups, from 6.9 percent to 12.7 percent.

Good, But Not Enough

"A step in the right direction," said Board Member Anthony J. Naples. He added however that the increases didn't go far enough to completely bridge the gap between Authority salaries and those paid by private industry for comparable jobs.

"We'll keep fighting," Burke said, "for adequate salaries for all our chapter members."

No City Raises

Most Buffalo municipal employees have been denied salary increases in the past two years because of political differences between Mayor Chester Kowal, a Republican, and the City Council, overwhelmingly in control of the Democrats.

The Buffalo Sewer Authority is an independent body, free from City Hall control.

Mt. Vernon Adopts Grievance Action

ALBANY, Aug. 12 — The Civil Service Employees Association has been informed that the Mount Vernon Common Council recently adopted an ordinance establishing a grievance procedure for city employees.

The ordinance, which is effective September 1, 1963, is in compliance with the general municipal law, won in the State Legislature by CSEA, which requires the establishment of grievance procedures by October 1, 1963. The Association has been urging the political sub-division to adopt a grievance procedure according to the state mandate.

Emanuel DeRubba, president of the Mount Vernon unit of the Westchester County chapter of CSEA expressed the hope that the recently adopted Mount Vernon plan will serve as a precedent within the county.

New Member

ALBANY, Aug. 12—Mrs. J. Bradford Speir of Rensselaer has succeeded Mrs. Doris Noonan, also of Rensselaer, on the Fort Crallo Memorial Commission. Her term ends in 1969.

56 Are Promoted To New Trooper Zone Sgt. Rank

ALBANY, Aug. 12—State Police Superintendent Arthur Cornelius Jr. has announced the promotion of 56 sergeants throughout the State to a new State Police rank of Zone Sergeant.

Creation of the new rank also has resulted in a change in insignia among the troopers.

A total of 56 sergeants throughout the state will sport the new stripes when their promotions become effective August 8.

Insignia Changes

In the past, technical sergeants and troop clerks wore insignia with three stripes and two "rockers" below the stripes. This insignia will go to the zone sergeants. Technical sergeants will wear three stripes and one rocker, while technical sergeants—clerks will have the three stripes and a rocker, enclosing a quill.

Unchanged will be the three stripes of the line sergeants, the three stripes and three rockers of staff sergeants, as well as the three stripes and three rockers, enclosing a diamond, worn by the troop first sergeant.

The new zone sergeants will be the ranking non-commissioned officer in each of the four zones of each troop and will act as zone commanders in the absence of a lieutenant. The appointments will provide more direct supervisory personnel in the field in conjunction with the State Police 40-hour work week, which was instituted May 1.

CSEA Launches Appeals On Overtime Exclusions

cluded under the rules was in direct contradiction to the recommendations of the employing State agency.

All of the employees in the seven titles appealed last week were eligible for overtime before the new rules were put into effect by the Budget Division May 1.

Aides' Problems Cited

The Employees Association maintains that it is virtually impossible for adjusters to work regularly scheduled hours because many property owners and tenants, whom they must interview, are available only in the evening. It is not unusual, said a CSEA spokesman, for a land and claims technician to make four or five evening calls on the same property owner or tenant in order to complete his job. Simultaneously, CSEA argued, the technician must work on office tasks during the normal working day.

Forest rangers, CSEA contends, are on call 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Their schedules are so uncertain that the Conservation Dept. provides telephone service at the rangers' homes for the transaction of official business. The rangers' days also go into many hours of overtime during forest fires and other emergencies, CSEA pointed out.

Toll Collector Appeal Rejected

WANTAGH, Aug. 12—A spokesman for the Long Island Inter-County State chapter of the Civil Service Employees Association, announced that the toll collectors of the Jones Beach State Parkway Authority have failed in their attempts to win a pay raise.

The collectors, seeking a boost from grade 8 to grade 10 were turned down first by the Classification and Compensation Division of the State Civil Service Commission. A recent appeal directly to the Commission was also turned down on the grounds that there was not sufficient reason for the salary change.

Niagara Park Police Appeal Goes Upward

ALBANY, Aug. 12 — The Civil Service Employees Assn. has taken its case for the re-allocation and reclassification of the Niagara Frontier State Park Police to the State Civil Service Commission.

The CSEA action follows a recent denial of the appeal by J. Earl Kelly, director of the State Division of Classification and Compensation.

Title No Longer Fits

In seeking the upgrading, the Employees Association claims that the present park patrol series is no longer adequate, in view of increased duties and responsibilities, and more properly belongs in the traffic and park officer series.

In vetoing the request, Kelly said that the applications were based essentially on the claim of comparability to the traffic and park officer titles in the Long Island State Park Commission. However, the CSEA contends it is asking for the traffic and park officer series only because of the lack of any suitable title or series which recognize the comparison to both the Long Island officers and the State Police.

Present titles involved are Park Patrolman, Corporal Park Patrol, Sergeant Park Patrol and Lieutenant Park Patrol.

Onondaga CSEA Seeks $500 For Syracuse Aides

(From Leader Correspondent)

SYRACUSE, Aug. 12 — Onondaga chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, is seeking a $500 pay increase and other benefits for all Civil Service Employees of this city.

The chapter has presented the annual pay boost and other requests to Mayor William F. Walsh, but has received no decision yet. However, the mayor said he will "consider" the requests, chapter officers said.

Other Goals

Other requests made to the mayor include:

Adoption of a health insurance plan for Syracuse city employees. This is the Blue Cross-Blue Shield major medical plan, with the city paying one-half the cost of premiums, and continuing with full cost after an employee retires.

Permission for a CSEA representative to solicit city employees for the group's life insurance plan whose full cost is borne by the employee.

Institution of an adequate grievance procedure for city employees.

Membership Is Up

Onondaga chapter is made up of both city and county employees, with membership heavier in city offices. The chapter recently boosted its membership to more than 2,200 members through an intensive campaign among county employees.

Monroe Membership Drive

each non-member in the county has been contacted. In announcing the campaign, Vincent Alessi, Monroe County chapter president, said he expected the goal to be reached because of the substantial benefits his chapter and the Association has gained for Monroe County employees in the recent past.

He cited salary raises, improved retirement provisions, Social Security coverage, five percent reduction in employee retirement contributions, grievance procedures, shared cost of Blue Cross-Blue Shield with extended benefits rider and others.

In another development, chapter officials learned that representatives of a union, the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, had asked county officials for the privilege of payroll deductions of membership dues on County pay-rolls and the opportunity to organize Monroe County employees.

Arguments Against

As a result, Alessi appeared before the County Board of Supervisors late last week with a seven-point argument against the County agreeing to the union request.

Among the arguments were that the majority of permanent Monroe County employees are members of CSEA; the Employees Association has provided excellent representation of County employees both on a State and local basis; the membership dues of AFSCME as compared with the Employees Association are exorbitant; the law is clear that the County need not provide payroll deductions of dues until a group has submitted proof that actually represents a substantial number of employees to warrant such deductions and in the case of AFSCME, it has no members employed by the County.
