SENIOR NEWS

SENIOR HIGH PARTY TO BE INFORMAL DANCE

A heated discussion in Tuesday's regular Student Council meeting resulted in a "change of face" on the projected "Bums' Party" for the Senior High School. The last party scheduled under this year's budget will now be an informal dance on Saturday, April 13, in Recreation Center. The orchestra of Russ Newkirk will officiate and George Cole will sing.

Plans for a floor show during the intermission are progressing under the direction of Edwin Blocksidge, master-of-ceremonies. Punch, made by the State College Cafeteria, will be served as refreshment. The party will last from 8:30 to 11:00, and only those who present a Student Tax ticket will be admitted.

COUNCIL DISCUSSES UNIFORMS

The matter immediately before the Student Council Tuesday was that of girls' uniforms. The reports of the home room representatives were given and it was found that several rooms had not yet voted. Therefore action was deferred.

It was announced in the meeting that the members of the Senior High Student Council have been asked officially to act as ushers on Parents Night, tonight.

Raymond Hotaling requested aid from the Council in his search for a cover for the new radio. A donation of material, he stated, will be received gratefully, and, under the supervision of Mrs. Barsam of the Home Economics department, will be transformed into a suitable covering.

ADVANCED DRAMATICS GIVES PLAY

In an assembly given for the Senior High students last Wednesday at 11:00, the Advanced Dramatics Class presented "The Florist Shop," by Winifred Hawkrige. Those who took part in it were: Helen Gibson, Miss Wells; Virginia Hall, Maud; Roger Orton, Slowsky; Willis Green, Henry; and William Crawford, Mr. Jackson. Miss Betty Griffin of State College directed the play. Dorothy Hoornbeek was in charge of sets.

MILNE PARENTS TO HEAR DR. BRUBACHER TONIGHT

The annual Parents' Night will be held tonight at Milne. A selection by the Glee Club at 8:00 o'clock will start the program in the Page hall auditorium. At 8:15 Dr. Abram Brubacher, president of New York State College for Teachers, will speak on "Education - Latest Modes." Following this, an exhibition of the students' work for the year will be shown. Light refreshments, made by the Home Economics students, will be served in the Home Economics room. As usual, the members of the Student Council will act as ushers.

Special projects have been made in various subjects. A French I class will show the work they have been doing on the puppet show "Au Claire de la Lune." This includes the costumes, scenery, and puppets. An unusual project to be seen in the Art department is a group of three pictures made by a student in the Rep VI class, of three prominent girls in the senior class. This year the science department will run a few reels of moving pictures on various interesting scientific topics. The English IV classes will show the work that has been done on the Works of Chaucer.

COACH BAKER AWARDS LETTERS

Coach Rutherford Baker has rewarded the members of the Milne High basketball team and the cheerleaders with letters. This year the Athletic Council decided to purchase schineel monograms instead of the usual felt. The Tide has just finished a successful season.

Those who received letters are: Edwin Blocksidge, captain, Jay O'Brien, manager, Douglas MacHarg, Walter Simmons, Howard Rosenstein, Ralph Norvell, and Ronald Kneller. Those who received cheer leading letters are: Olive Vroman, captain, Betty Boyd, Virginia Kelsey, and Christine Ades.

NEW RADIO READY TO USE

The radio that the Student Council purchased is now ready to be used by the students. Permission to use it must be secured from Miss Conklin or Dunton Tynan. During lunch period and after school are the hours when the radio may be used.

OUR ANNUAL EXHIBIT

"Count your blessings," says an old maxim and that is what parents of Milne students will do tonight when this term's crowning achievements will be on view. Every year the Milne classes arrange for a Parents' Night when individual projects will form an annual exhibit.

Science, literature, mathematics, languages, home economics--all have a part in proving to our elders how well such valuable and interesting material can be converted into clever and artistic presentations. There is nothing so satisfactory to both instructor and student as the conversion into a tangible result of weeks of precept. It makes the classwork, which may have seemed a little tedious once or twice, more interesting. Classwork then becomes more profitable by increasing the student's self-assurance.

The benefit of Parents' Night, however, is not derived solely from the project nor is it directed solely toward the student.

Annually our parents are privileged to hear a discourse on the subject of education by an eminent authority. This brings the parents closer to the underlying theories of education as we have it today and completes an understanding relationship among the parent, the teacher, and the child.

JUNIOR HIGH DILIGENCE

The campaign for girls' uniforms, conducted by the Junior High School, recently deserves more than mere editorial comment. With commendable unity of purpose our younger students have focused their campaign on maroon and white uniforms. They are not toying with the idea. They want them and so far have completely carried the Junior High School students into their drive.

The Senior High girls, from a casual canvass, appear to dismiss the idea as too impractical to consider. They say impractical because it is possible for them to recall when the faculty opinion as to girls' uniforms was in the negative. Others feel that uniforms are highly desirable in a girls' school but not in a co-educational institution.

Further evidence of the Junior High seriousness in this matter and the Senior High willingness to consider is found in the fact that the Junior School has presented to the Senior High Student Council a petition for an official canvass of the Senior High homerooms in regard to the new feminine apparel. Let this column then award the Junior High School girls first place in this week's Milne March of Progress whether the uniforms are forthcoming or not.

THE JOLLY MILNER

HOW PAULINE!

Late in the afternoon Tuesday last, a gorgeous Studebaker, with horn blowing madly, screeched to a stop in front of Milne. One of the school's petite femmes flew out the door, hat in hand, and the two in the car went zooming on their way. Maybe they were in a hurry to get to seper on time, who knows?

RIDDLE

What Milne lass visits Troy each week-end, and in turn is visited by a big, handsome R.P.I. man? Have your fun while ye can, gal, these engineers are always switching off on some other track.

CONTEST

In my faithful endeavor to get the latest and the worst, I hereby encourage contributions. The reward for all items if accepted, will be complete immunity of the donor from nasty cracks about him (or her) in this column for a period of four weeks. Unless, of course, an emergency arises.

SONG HIT OF THE WEEK

"Why Doncha Go Back to Coney Island?"

NOTE

Don't stuff your keyholes; I gotta make a living, too.

G.A.C. PLANS ANNUAL BANQUET FOR SATURDAY

The annual banquet of the Girls' Athletic Club will be held tomorrow night at the "Princess Pat Tea Room" at the corner of Dove and Spring Streets at 6:00. Miss Elizabeth Hitchcock, supervisor of physical education, and Miss Elizabeth Anderson, supervisor of commerce, have been invited as official guests of honor.

Barbara Birchenough was appointed general chairman of the affair. Sally Ryan and Betty Ruedeman will take care of the decorations which consist of place cards and flowers.

* SOCIETY NOTES *

QUIN:

Quotations this week were taken from any poet who wrote on spring. An interesting biography on William Allen White was given by Jane Weir. Doris Shultes gave the life of Dorothy Canfield-Fisher. Theta Nu was voted to be represented in Society Day.

THETA NU:

The weekly literary report was given this week by Sheldon Bond. It was "The Biography of Thomas Jefferson," by Lisitsky.

Roger Orten was elected Master of Ceremonies for the society.

SIGMA:

Quotations for Sigma were taken from the works of Maxwell Anderson.

Irma Komfort gave a report on pins, and Lois Lantz spoke about the money from the candy sale. Tentative plans for the banquet were also discussed. Volunteers to be in the Society Day program were asked for, and it was voted to ask Theta Nu to join the other societies for this occasion.

ADELPHOI:

The weekly Adelphei report was given by William Hotaling on "The Call of the Wild," by Jack London.

A committee was appointed to meet with the other societies to discuss the program for Society Day. The committee is Edwin Blocksidge, chairman, Dunton Tynan, senior representative, and Raymond Hotaling, junior representative.

The discussion concerning the initiation was continued.

"JOHNNIE" CULLEN UNDERTAKES
TO PILOT MILNE BOYS' "NINE"
THROUGH NEW BASEBALL SEASON

Under a critical eye, which belongs to none other than "Johnnie" Cullen, State College senior, the Milne boys are setting out once again this season to learn the fine points of baseball.

Horn-rimmed glasses and a great personality are "Johnnie's" high spots, and with him at the helm we are going to have a lot of smooth sailing.

Coach Baker has arranged for Milne boys to be able to practice baseball during Easter vacation. I would like to extend an invitation on the behalf of coach and "Johnnie" Cullen to each Milne fellow to come out and "get into the game":

PRIZE SPEAKING WINNERS
BROADCAST SELECTIONS

Once again, the people who won first prizes and honorable mentions at the annual prize speaking contest staged Friday, March 22, achieved renown when they broadcasted to a much vaster audience.

This occurred yesterday, April 4, over WOKO at 2:30. Barbara Allen, Clarence Chatterton, Ralph Norvell, and Cora Randles each gave his winning selection.

DRAMATICS CLUB SEES MAKE-UP KIT IN JOINT MEETING

Last week the Dramatics Club held a joint meeting. Donald Glenn, vice-president, presided in the absence of Mary York.

Lucille Armistead, representing the make-up section, presented the new make-up box and asked for a requisition from the budget to replenish the supplies. Action on the matter was deferred.

POETRY CLUB PLANS
ORIGINAL ANTHOLOGY

The Poetry Club is writing poetry and making an anthology of the poems written by the members. Besides making the anthology, they are studying the different moods of poetry.

NOTICE

The owner of a Junior Life Saving Pin, which has been found recently, may call for it in Miss Wheeling's office.
