NEW YORK STATE COLLEGE FOR TEACHERS
ESTABLISHED BY THE CLASS OF 1918

VOL. IX NO. 13

ALBANY, N. Y. JANUARY 16, 1925

$3.00 per year

BILL TO BE PRESENTED

Appropriation Of $900,000 Sought

State's needs will again occupy the Legislature when Dr. Brubacher presents the bill, entailing an appropriation of $900,000 for the erection of additional buildings on the lot between the college and Albany High, which is now being prepared. This bill is substantially the same as that presented last year and which was reported favorably out of the Finance Committee on the last legislative day, and failed of passage in the final jam.

Plans and specifications have been compiled by the State Architect and are now in the hands of the college's attorney preparatory to the letting of the contracts.

At the meeting of the Academic Principals' Association, held at Syracuse, December 29, 30, and 31, a proposition was presented by Dr. Burdge, of the Freedom Normal School, favoring a radical change in Regents examinations. This proposes that instead of having a fixed passing grade for pupils, there shall be a fixed percentage of those that shall fail, thus the passing grade will differ depending on the year's average work. The matter has been referred to a committee for a year's investigation. Professor Savles is a member of this committee.

Dr. Brubacher is planning to invite all high school principals and teachers of the counties of Fulton, Montgomery, Schoharie, Otsego, Ulster, Dutchess, Hamilton, Essex, Clinton, Franklin, and Delaware, to a round table conference at State College about the middle of March.

Dr. Brubacher addressed the teachers of Scotia, Monday, January 12. He will speak to the Schoolmasters' Club of the Highlands, meeting at Newburgh, February 6.

Phenomenon Of A Lifetime Jan. 24

Those who are desirous of witnessing the total eclipse of the sun, Saturday, January 24, will be interested to know that the department of science has communicated with Professor Benjamin Boss of the Dudley Observatory, signifying a willingness to cooperate with him in hiring a special train to run to Saugerties, which is in the path of totality. An assurance of a place on the train may be made by depositing $3.00 with either Professor C. A. Woodward, or Professor B. S. Bronson. The cost of the trip is dependent on the number of people who go. A refund will be made in case any considerable number of people go. The train will leave regardless of weather conditions, and will return to Albany before noon on Saturday.

Dramatics Class Will Play To Packed House Tomorrow Night At Vincentian

(Courtesy Albany Evening News)

The annual January presentation of three one-act plays by the elementary dramatics class under the direction of Miss Agnes E. Futterer will be tomorrow evening at 8:15 o'clock in the Vincentian Institute on the corner of Madison avenue and Ontario street.

The advance seat sale for the plays is the largest on record and a crowded house is expected tomorrow evening. Tax tickets will admit all students to the plays. Other persons will be charged seventy-five cents or one dollar. Holders of tax tickets may exchange them for reserved seats on payment of twenty-five cents.

The three plays to be given are "Aria da Capo," written by Edna St. Vincent Millay; "The Boy Comes Home," by A. A. Milne, the distinguished young English dramatist; and "Overtones," by Alice Gerstenberg.

Preceding and between the plays the college orchestra under the direction of T. Frederick H. Candlyn of the music department will play.

A number of alumni are included among those who have reserved seats for the performance. Students from several nearby college dramatic clubs including those of Union College and Russell Sage College are also numbered among the audience. Reservations include also a majority of the college faculty and the usual number of Albany residents.

Yesterday afternoon the casts concluded practice with a dress rehearsal under Miss Futterer's instruction on the Vincentian stage. Miss Futterer then said that everything was ready for the production.

Mr. Candlyn today announced that these students have been selected as members of the orchestra which will play tomorrow night: Violins, Percy C. Briggs, Mary F. Weuctawowicz, Nettie Gilbert, M. W. Martin, Felix V. Festa, Joyce Persons, Esther Packard, Elizabeth A. Trowbridge, Ethel Persk; mandolins, Armine Foster, Vera C. Rochefort, Mary Pierpont, Edna Layton, Dorothy Hoyt, Esther Janssen, Martha Lomax; violincello, Ruth Johnson; trombone, Harold F. May, Erwin J. Allen; alto horn, Seward F. Dodge; piano, Thyra Be Vier.

The order in which the plays will be presented has been decided upon as follows: "The Boy Comes Home," "Overtones," "Aria da Capo."

TEAM LOSES ON N. Y. TRIP

'28 Plays Waterford Varsity vs. Jamaica

The Purple and Gold basketball team returned from a disastrous New York trip Sunday. Defeats by Seton Hall, Pratt Institute, and Cooper Union were met by the team which was forced to make the trip without the services of Johnson, former captain and guard, who has been ill three weeks in the Albany hospital.

The Pratt game was the best of the three tilts. State losing by only two points, 23 to 21, and trailing the opponents closely throughout the game. At half time the score was 13 to 11 in the Brooklyn team's favor. It was Pratt's fourth straight victory, but its closest win yet this season.

The Seton Hall game, played the day after college reopened, showed the need of Johnson's services to round out the team. The score was 32 to 25. Saturday night the Purple and Gold played Cooper Union, the game ending in a 32 to 27 score in the opponents' favor.

The freshmen men's basketball team, victors in two of its three games this season, will play Waterford High School five Thursday night at Waterford in a return game. The freshmen expect to take a large delegation of yearling students along in the rooting section and are discussing arrangements for chartering a trolley car.

A whirlwind game is looked for in the up-river gym. The Waterford outfit is thirsting for a chance to atone for the 23 to 16 defeat administered here last month and the freshmen are determined to make it another win. A preliminary will probably be arranged to the game between two Waterford teams.

The freshmen will probably use the same men they played here. Captain Nephew will be at the pivot position, with Griffin and Kuczynski as forwards and Goff and Dobris as guards. Waterford's line-up, it is expected, will be similar to that used here. Coach Lowther of that school will not announce his players until just before the game.

State College's basketball team will play the first of a series of seven home games tomorrow evening in the college gym with Jamaica Teachers from Long Island. The varsity, returned from its New York trip, will be in top form for a home game and another victory is looked forward to by the fans.

State's probable line-up tomorrow night will be this, Coach Baker announced yesterday: Kuczynski and Hornung, forwards; Gainer, center; Inckett and Nephew, guards. In reserve the coach will keep Gilchrist and Griffin. These men made the New York trip.

No game has been hooked for next week because of mid-year examinations. Saturday evening of Junior Week, January 31, the team will play the Alumni here.

The new year lies before State College. Just recently we celebrated our eightieth anniversary and reviewed the progress which our college has made. Perhaps in the year to come we shall see a progress even greater than the progress which has been made in the past eighty years.

If this seems impossible, remember that in 1923 it was believed that in science the highest progress had been made, but in the year 1924 a greater advance in science was attained than had been made in the past ten years. So, in the year 1925 we can expect great things from State College. Dormitories, inter-collegiate games, and the honor system; these and many more projects may be realized—who can tell?

Myskania represents the honor and high scholarship of State College—to them we must look for leadership. The various clubs represent the spirit and friendliness of State College—to them we must look for inspiration. Our team represents the courage of our college—even in the face of defeat. With all these to aid us who will doubt the future?

But the future success does not rest entirely in the hands of our leaders; it lies mainly in the hands of the pupils. Work and cooperation on the part of the students counts in the end. No college ever reached its goal, unless its students entered into its desire and ambition with all their hearts and might.

All our hopes lie unfulfilled for 1925—let's make them come true!

EVENTS AT STATE

Four big events of the season face us within the next two weeks; the elementary dramatics class plays, examinations, the Junior Prom, and the Junior Luncheon. The January plays scheduled for tomorrow evening at the Vincentian Institute, will be the product of two months of strenuous labor, both on the part of the director and the cast. They are one of the two big dramatic portrayals of the college year and Saturday's production will be on a par with, or perhaps surpass, former productions. Miss Futterer's ability in directing and an excellently chosen cast merits a full house, which even approaching mid-years should not cause to be empty. They are an examination in themselves in that they are a test of our ability to appreciate good drama. Moreover, State College students are to be admitted on the presentation of their tax tickets, so the expense is no bar. If you are a bargain hunter, come and see these plays for which the public is willing to pay seventy-five cents and one dollar. If you are in search of culture come and see them. If you want to be amused come and see them.

As to the examinations, our attendance is inevitable. They seem to be our excuse for coming to college. Even a good program at the "Capitol" cannot interfere with them; we might say with the noble six hundred that it is "ours not to reason why, ours but to do or die" for the next two weeks.

The Prom and the Luncheon are the grand finale following examinations. Although they are of greatest interest to the class of '26, all upper classmen should be attending the Prom. Hiring a ballroom and an orchestra involves expenses which must be defrayed by the class. If you upper classmen can not make it a matter of enjoyment to attend this formal, then make it a matter of school spirit to support this junior function. Come and help defray expenses. Come and wash away the worries of examinations.

POST EXAM JUBILEE JAN. 29

Plans are being carried out for a lively post-exam jubilee to be held Thursday evening, January 29, in the College Gym. The committee in charge, headed by Edmund Crane, with Florence Craddock, Louise Austin, Harry Godfrey, Neva Stoddard and Margaret Stoutenberg as assistants, hint that this is to be the jolliest jubilee ever celebrated. Stunts, dancing and refreshments will constitute some of the major attractions.

Professor Painter delivered an interesting and instructive illustrated lecture at the Educational building the past week. His theme centered around his travels in Europe last summer, with Greece and Egypt as his particular subject.

DR. SLOSSON AT UNION

Dr. Slosson, the author of the well-known series of popular and fascinating books on science of which the widely read "Creative Chemistry" is one, will speak at Union University, next Friday, January 23. The occasion is that of an open meeting of the American Chemical Society. In view of the wide appeal of this lecturer, it is expected that many of State's student body will attend. To this end, a special car will be chartered if enough students sign up on the chemistry bulletin board.

In order to be of all possible service the "Co-op" will remain open the following hours during examinations:
8:30-9:30 A. M.
11:30-2:30 P. M.

Watch for the Junior Issue

Prom Followed By Junior Luncheon

Not only will the Prom of 1926 be the accustomed whirl of color and frivolity, of memories of light laughter and exotic favors, but this year's junior class plan to stage a festivity at which all dance numbers planned shall be played—and played by such an orchestra as McGuire's. To take advantage of this unusual feature, participants should plan to attend early. The list for "signing up" is waiting on the main bulletin board for signatures. The date, January 30; the place, the Ten Eyck ballroom; and the requirements, five dollars, and a jazzy step, constitute the necessary information. Come—and then follow the event by attending the Junior Luncheon, members of the class of '26.

College Concert Feb. 6

The London String Quartet, one of the best known touring musical attractions at the present time, will be presented in Albany by the Music Association sometime in April, the definite time and place to be announced later. The annual public concert of the college musical organizations will be February 6, at Chancellor's Hall.

CANTERBURY COMMUNION

The next monthly communion of Canterbury Club will be January 18, at St. Andrew's. The girls in Canterbury who have not yet been confirmed will be confirmed then by Bishop Oldham. As before, there will be a breakfast afterwards.

The regular monthly meeting will be January 29, and Miss Martha Bullit of Princeton, New Jersey, will address the club.

The president desires all those who wish emblems to see her as soon as possible.

Piercing the Great Divide

The General Electric Company includes many specialists—engineers who know about tunnels; engineers who know about street lighting; engineers who know about the electrification of factories. These men are helping to build the better and happier America in which you will live.

If you are interested in learning more about what electricity is doing, write for Reprint No. AR391 containing a complete set of these advertisements.

West of Denver is the Continental Divide; hemmed in behind it is an undeveloped district twice as large as Maryland. That fertile area the new Moffat Tunnel will open up.

General Electric mine locomotives are carrying out the rock, and G-E motors are driving air compressors and pumping water from underground rivers.

The conquests of electricity on land and sea, in the air and underground, are making practical the impossibilities of yesterday. It remains only for men of ability to find new things to do tomorrow. Thus does Opportunity of 1925 beckon college men and women toward greater things as yet undreamed, and to a better world to live in.

FACULTY LOYAL

The Residence Hall Committee has just received a good-sized check which represents the net proceeds of an evening of readings given by Miss Futterer in Poughkeepsie, during December. This was given under the auspices of the Hudson Valley Branch of the Alumni Association, George Schiavone, '20, president, and Mildred Carswell, '19, treasurer.
