State GOP Will Court Labor

LOOK for the State's leading Republican figures to make an unprecedented number of speaking engagements before labor organizations in a determined effort to break labor's traditional all-out support for the Democratic ticket.

As an example, a testimonial dinner to Gerald F. Ryan, president of the New York Uniformed Firemen's Assn., named "Labor Man of the Year" by the Central Trades Labor Council, last week brought out Assembly Speaker Joseph Carlino, Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz and Vincent Albano, chairman of the Executive Committee of the New York County Republican Club. Abe Beam, City Comptroller, was the ranking Democrat on hand, although Mayor Wag-

PR DIRECTOR — Gary J. Perkinson, above, has been named director of public relations for the Civil Service Employees Assn., succeeding Philip Kerker, who retired recently. The appointment was announced by CSEA President Joseph F. Feily. Perkinson was formerly a reporter for the Troy Record and, later, the Associated Press.

New Death Benefit Asked For College, Authority Workers

ALBANY, May 28—The Civil Service Employees Association has moved to include employees of all State authorities in the new death benefit program adopted for state employees during the recent legislative session.

In a parallel action, the Association has requested an interpretation of the new law concerning inclusion of employees of the State's contract colleges at Cornell and Alfred Universities.

CSEA President Joseph F. Feily, in an initiating step, has requested a meeting with R. Burdell Bixby, Chairman of the New York State Thruway Authority, to discuss immediate extension of the death benefit to Thruway employees. Similar action with other state authorities will follow.

New Gains

The new death benefit gives state employees with 90 days of service a minimum death benefit equal to one half of their annual salary. The measure calls for a minimum benefit of $2,000 and a maximum of $10,000.

In his letter to Bixby, Feily pointed out that all state employees are now covered under the program, including members

CSEA Hits Grievance Bd. Refusal to Hear Case For Clerks' 37½-Hr. Week

ALBANY, May 28—The Civil Service Employees Assn. has called on the State Grievance Board to "fulfill its mandated obligations" by scheduling a new hearing on the 37½-hour work-week grievance of clerical employees in State institutions.

The Employees Association acted after notification from Edward Meacham, chairman of the Grievance Board, that a request for re-hearing had been denied because, in the Board's view, "there appears to be no difference in the situation complained of and the facts and circumstances relating thereto, (therefore) no useful purpose would be served by a further hearing by the Grievance Board."

The denial was the result of the Employees Association's request for another hearing on the long-standing grievance, which the Board had turned down in 1959. The grievance was brought in the name of Emil Impressa, president of CSEA's Brooklyn State Hospital chapter.

Problem Even Greater Now

In its strongly worded request to Meacham, CSEA said that contrary to the Board's findings, there is a substantial difference in the situation today. "First and foremost," the Employees Association stated, "three years have elapsed and the problem still exists, only on a much greater scale. If anything, significant changes have occurred which make the refusal to establish a general 37½-hour week more arbitrary than was the case in 1959."

CSEA pointed out that "following the grievance Board's negative decision in 1959 we stated that it had made no findings as to whether there was any discrimination present in the obviously partial, unfair and discriminatory work week of clerical employees of state institutions—and we see no reason to change that opinion at this time."

Told "Go Elsewhere"

Quoting from the Grievance Board's 1959 decision that employees may "seek through conferences with representatives of management to work out adjustments in working conditions from time to time," CSEA said that actually what the Board was saying was "go elsewhere with your problems." The Employees Association said it had taken the advice and had attempted to accomplish a solution through administrative action of the Department of Mental Hygiene and the Division of Budget and through a one-grade salary increase proposal to the Division of Classification and Compensation.

"As all of these steps were to no avail," the Association said, "we are appealing to the State Grievance Board to fulfill its mandated obligations by allowing us to present new material concerning the grievance at the Board's earliest possible convenience."

Sing Sing Grievance Confirmed

ALBANY, May 28 — The State Grievance Board last week gave an expected affirmative decision in a grievance brought by the Civil Service Employees Association for correction of sanitary services at Sing Sing Prison.

The board noted that at the grievance hearing in February, it was announced that $175,000 had been included in Governor Rockefeller's budget for construction of new sanitary facilities at Sing Sing guard posts and for re-routing sewer pipes. Deputy Correction Commissioner William E. Leonard also announced at that time that surveys of the needed work were completed and formal bids for the job would be advertised in June.

Issue Resolved

The board in its decision, concluded that "The solution proposed by the department in this case satisfactorily and properly resolves the issue."

The complaint was part of a group grievance involving Sing Sing, Clinton Prison and Eastern Correctional Institution. The conditions at Clinton and Eastern were corrected following a successful hearing before Leonard in November 1960. The Sing Sing action was carried to the State Grievance Board because of a long delay in taking the necessary corrective steps at the downstate prison.

Both Sides Commended

In its decision, the Board said it was "impressed with the fact

Troy Non-Teaching Aides Decry City's 'Meager' Pay Plan

TROY, May 28—The City of Troy non-teaching school unit of the Civil Service Employees Association last week expressed "keen disappointment" of what they termed the "meager provisions" in the 1962-63 Troy school budget for salary increases for their group.

John F. Horton, unit president, had met with the Board of Education to request an increase in custodian's salaries from the present maximum of $3,700 to $4,100. The proposed school district budget, however, calls for a $200 increase or a new maximum of $3,900.

Lifesaving Public Relations

IN ITS own quiet, efficient manner, the Medical Division of the New York City Fire Department has earned a world-wide reputation.

THIS HAS enhanced the good public relations of the department and of the City of New York far beyond the city's borders and into every corner of the globe.

FROM EVERY urban concentration in the world have come requests to the Medical Division of the latest information on the most modern medical techniques in treating burns, smoke inhalation and exhaustion.

THERE is no way of estimating how many lives in the United States and in the remote corners of the world have been saved by the know-how of the small staff of 14 physicians comprising New York's Fire Dept. Medical Division.

JUDGING by the number of medical inquiries, the total number of lives preserved must be considerable.

PHYSICIANS ARE not supposed to be public relations specialists. The good public relations of the Fire Medical Division is based as much on their outstanding achievements, as on their humane instinct in answering calls for their highly specialized knowledge from whatever compass point on earth.

DON'T REPEAT THIS

While most of the remarks were confined to praise of Ryan and his work for the UFA, Carlino stepped right out on the political line. The theme: It takes Republicans to get bills passed in the Legislature and labor leaders would serve their cause better if they would remember this publicly once in a while. The Speaker also took a direct swipe at President Kennedy's handling of the steel issue and warned "free bargaining lost as much as private enterprise by this type of government interference with the prerogatives of bargaining that belong solely to management and labor."

Telegrams saluting labor as well as Ryan came from Senate Majority Leader Walter Mahoney and Lieut Gov. Malcolm Wilson.

Harry Van Arsdale, powerful and popular president of the Central Trades Labor Council, stayed neutral during the evening. He would like, if possible, to remain in that position during the Rockefeller-Javits state campaign in November.

The GOP campaign can be summed up by the remarks of one Republican leader to this writer: "We may not win labor this year but we're going all out. If we're not invited to the important labor gatherings, then we'll ask to be invited. You're going to see a lot of us from now on."

Farley Still In The Spotlight

One interesting facet of President Kennedy's recent whirlwind tour of New York City was the fact that Jim Farley remains a top political figure after more than 30 years of top-level activity. Farley was a guest at the luncheon tendered the President by fund raiser Arthur Krim. Of tall stature, Farley found himself standing next to another but smaller, six-footer, John Bailey, National Democratic chairman, who jokingly asked Farley how he managed to stay in the limelight without attending a lot of meetings.

"Simple," said Farley. "I live in the Waldorf-Astoria and I do attend a lot of meetings—right there." The former Postmaster General, who was Bailey's counterpart 30 years ago, figured he got to more than 150 important meetings without ever leaving home. He ranks as a leading contender today for a top spot on the Democratic State ticket this fall.

An Uneasy 'Cease-Fire'

The cease-fire between New York City Fire Commissioner Edward Thompson and his deputy, Ralph G. Ortiz, is about as stable as the one in Laos. The deep-rooted personality differences between the two men flared up publicly last week and was smothered by the Mayor. But the flames still burn brightly and the word is that Wagner is now deciding which one will have to go, now that he realizes the Department can't contain both men. One or two other heads—suspected of fanning the flames—may roll, too. The way out will be to "retire" the side considered least important—or decide who will get what "promotion."

Addenda

THE APPOINTMENT OF an English professor to the New York State Advisory Committee of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights is not a news item that ordinarily would rate much attention. When such an appointment from Washington goes to Prof. William Murphy of Union College, however, it causes a few questioning eyebrows to be raised. Murphy also happens to be one of the top political advisors to Schenectady's Sam Stratton, a very active candidate for Governor on the Democratic ticket. Expect Stratton boosters to interpret the gesture as the beginning of more interest from Washington in Stratton.

MAYOR WAGNER AND Comptroller Arthur Levitt aren't to the point of reconciliation where they plan having dinner together weekly, but the Mayor and his deputy, Edward Cavanaugh, have adopted a more kindly attitude to last year's opposition—at least in public. In the past two weeks, both Wagner and Cavanaugh have commented to the press on Levitt's "fine performance in office." The remarks were slipped in during general press conferences. Still, anything could happen in this nomination.

GOVERNOR ROCKEFELLER and several of his commissioners have been spending the past several days in "saturation" tours of upstate areas. The Governor and his men spend a typical day by having breakfast with either a business, labor or industrial group; then go late into the night spending an hour or two with local public officials and school groups and visiting college campuses, industrial plants, etc. Stated purpose of these tours is to bring a knowledge of the function and performance of state government to the people. The Governor's aides are reported extremely happy over the results of these "non-political" visits.

By CHARLES LAMB

OBSERVATIONS AT appeal hearing: Joseph Felly, president of CSEA, in his usual friendly manner opened the hearing which set the pace for congeniality for both sides.

COMMISSIONER PAUL D. McGinnis and Deputy Commissioner John R. Cain were in there pitching in support of the reallocation appeal of their men. Commissioner McGinnis' memo to the Civil Service Commission was a masterpiece in refuting all four points of the denial by the Division of Classification. Who would know the job better?

PRESIDENT ELLIOT Kaplan, and Alex Falk and Mary Goode Krone of the Civil Service Commission, asked many questions concerning the functions and duties of the Correction Officers, stating they were grateful to have the opportunity of receiving the expert knowledge of those attendance at the hearing.

OUR SINCERE thanks to the Commissioners for their patience and sincere interest.

HENRY T. Murphy, Deputy Superintendent of Coxsackie, was so enthusiastic in extolling the unselfish and dedicated work of the Correction Officers that the clock ran out on him.

COUNSEL HARRY Albright Jr., Asst. Director Henry Galpin and William Blum, Research Director, CSEA staff members, supplied all the technical statistics and legal information necessary to show the necessity of granting this appeal.

A CLINICAL psychologist working on a project at Coxsackie stated "The uniform employee is in the first line of any project of rehabilitation and without them such programs are doomed to failure".

THIS WRITER, Jim Adams, Ed O'Leary and Al Foster with a hundred years of Correctional experience, directed their remarks in rebuttal toward the flimsy arguments in the denial by the Division of Classification.

THE CIVIL Service Commission reserved decision on the appeal. It is believed that a decision will be rendered shortly.

IT WAS gratifying to see so many uniformed employees at the hearing. The interest in this reallocation has drawn the Correction Officers closer together than any problem they have had in many years.

OUR KITCHEN Keepers, excuse me, I mean Food Service Managers, are attending skull sessions at the Hudson River State Hospital. We should expect Waldorf Astoria type menus upon completion of their courses.

CHARLIE RAYMOND of Clinton was observed, after the appeal hearing, powwowing with Assemblyman Hyman Mintz in connection with the Correction Officer's 25-year bill.

DEPUTY COMMISSIONER Cain has sent a memo out to all institution heads, dated May 11, 1962, approving a regulation short sleeved shirt for supervisors. Read the notice, boys.

MEMO TO all Correction Organization—Resolutions for proposed legislation at the 1963 session should be drafted and submitted now.

AS PREDICTED many C.O.'s, have taken the State Police exam. Troopers receive $500 more at entrance, 25 year retirement, free uniforms and a top salary of over $7,000. Can't blame you fellows. Good luck.

1962 Director's Award

The development of a plastic sound damping material for use on U. S. Navy anti-submarine warfare vessels has won for Thomas Ramos of the New York Naval Shipyard, Brooklyn, the Director's Award for Scientific Achievement for the Year 1962.

Ramos, 43, is a materials engineer with the Shipyard's Material Laboratory.

Designated as ML-D2, the sound damping material is described as having made "a significant contribution to the anti-submarine warfare capability of the Navy by proving an effective and economical means for sound damping the hulls of ASW vessels, thus improving sonar operation at higher search speeds."

ML-D2, it was added, is one of the first successful plastic sound damping materials developed for such application. It is markedly superior in sound reducing properties than earlier, more cumbersome felt-septum systems.

Other advantages of ML-D2 are the low cost of its constituents, its ease of application, and its ready availability in large quantities. Large scale installations of the Ramos plastic in naval vessels has already saved $6,000,000, a figure which will be even greater as more installations are made in the future.

Postal Supervisors

To Meet Upstate

On June 1, 2 & 3

The annual convention of the New York State branch of the National Association of Postal Supervisors will be held on June 1, 2 and 3 at the Sagamore Hotel, Bolton Landing.

Representing New York in this legislative conclave for resolutions to seek increases in salary, added fringe benefits and better working conditions and work areas, will be Harry Adamson, New York City Branch 100 president, and members of his executive committee and board of officers.

Throughout the convention prominent Washington postal officials will make appearances, as will Dan Jaspán, national legislative representative of the National Association of Postal Supervisors. Jaspán will inform the delegates of the current moves in Congressional circles which effect postal legislation.

It is the objective of this convention to introduce resolutions which bring to postal supervisors an equitable salary increase. At present many proposed measures tend to discriminate against postal supervisors by offering smaller increases to higher levels and greater increases to lower levels, according to NAPS officials.

YOU AND THE ARMED SERVICES

Air Force & Navy To Release 20,000 Men by July 1

The Navy and Air Force announced recently that nearly 20,000 officers and enlisted men whose terms of service were extended involuntarily beginning last fall will be released from active duty before July 1, 1962.

Included in the order are approximately 1,400 officers and 5,500 enlisted men of the Navy and Naval Reserve. Approximately 12,300 airmen and 700 officers of the Air Force and Air Force Reserve are involved.

Their individual terms of service normally would have expired between September 1961 and Jun 1962. They were ordered retained on active duty for periods up to twelve months.

In both services, the men whose terms of service were extended were selected for involuntary retention on the basis of critical skills.

Provided there is no significant change in the world situation, release of all involuntary extendees will be completed by June 30.

Oldest Marine Dies at 96

Retired Marine Master Sergeant Samuel W. Smith died recently at the Naval Hospital in Annapolis, Maryland. At age 96, he was believed to be the oldest Marine carried on the rolls of the Corps at the time of his death.

Born December 21, 1866, in Baltimore, he resided at 200 Severn Avenue, Annapolis, prior to his death. He enlisted in the Marine Corps in 1887. He retired after 31 years service at the close of World War I.

He was a veteran of the Chinese Boxer Rebellion (1900) and the Spanish American War (1898). He also saw extensive service in the Philippines at the turn of the century.

Army Submits Plan To Revise ROTC

Plans calling for revision of the Army Reserve Officer's Training Corps college program have been submitted to the Department of Defense.

Recommended by the Army is a two-year program, with a four-week basic training camp session between the sophomore and junior years college and an eight-week advanced training camp between the junior and senior years.

When approved by Department of Defense and Congress, the date of implementation of the new program will be announced.

The present senior division ROTC program is a four-year stint consisting of a two-year basic course with three hours of instruction each week, and a two-year advanced course with five hours of instruction weekly. There is a six-week summer camp held after the junior year.

State Grievance Bd. Evading Its Duty

FOR some years a discrimination in work hours has existed between regular State clerical employees and those who work in state institutions, the former enjoying a 37½-hour week and the latter stuck with a 40-hour week.

In 1959, the Civil Service Employees Association appealed to the State Grievance Board to rectify this inequity, but was told by the Board that consultation with management should produce a solution.

CSEA followed the Board's advice. It discussed the matter with the Department of Mental Hygiene and the Division of the Budget—and go nowhere. The Employees Association then proposed that these employees be upgraded one step to make up for the extra hours work. This was rejected by the State Division of Classification and Compensation.

Having exhausted the methods suggested by the Grievance Board itself, the CSEA went back to the Board and asked the Board itself to take action. It is shocking to report that the Board refused, stating nothing had changed since the original appeal.

For the Board to conduct itself in such a manner is a refusal to perform its very function—the hearing of a grievance after all other means of settling it have been exhausted. The essence of the Board's action is that it is dodging an issue and in so doing, dodging its duty.

The institution clerical employees are entitled to a hearing on their grievance. The Grievance Board, in all justice, must hear their complaint.

Most Hazardous Job

WE wish to contribute some more statistics to help settle the question of which job in New York City employment is the most hazardous.

Last year, eight City firemen were killed in the line of duty. Two policemen were killed in gun battles, another lost his life in a motorcycle accident while on duty.

The Sanitation Department told this newspaper this week that one death occurred on the job in the past year.

Therefore, we again would like to know what statistics Mayor Wagner used in determining that sanitationmen have the most hazardous job in this city.

Man of the Year

THE working man over the years has learned the value of having his cause advocated by professional personnel in the field. At the same time, he has not forgotten those who serve out of dedication alone, without any compensation except the esteem of their fellow men.

One such man is Gerald F. Ryan, president of the New York City Firemen's Assn., who last week was selected "Labor Man of the Year." He has served his men well and, in so doing, has lent prestige and accomplishment to the cause of all public employees.

Reappointed

ALBANY, May 28 — Governor Rockefeller has reappointed Martin J. Travers of Lewiston, N.Y., as a member of the Niagara Frontier State Park Commission for a term ending Apr. 25, 1969.

New Trustees

ALBANY, May 28 — Two Newburgh residents, Mrs. Alice Merritt Lochhead and Miss Cordelia Orlande, have been appointed members of the Board of Trustees of Washington's Headquarters, a state historical site at Newburgh. Their terms will end Apr. 1, 1967.

Roswell Pk. Visitor

ALBANY, May 28 — Dr. Charles E. Eckert of Loudonville has been reappointed as a member of the Board of Visitors of Roswell Park Memorial Institute in Buffalo for a term ending Dec. 31, 1966.

Says Vacations Mean More Work

Editor, the Leader:

As a Civil Service employee in the lower echelon, I was greatly interested in the speech made recently by an official of the Civil Service Dept. at the Metropolitan-Southern Conference of the Civil Service Employees' Association, as reported in The Leader.

Some of the remarks were of particular interest to me because they are typical of statements emanating from those in high places concerning our Civil Service setup—"Equal pay is granted for equal work", "Promotions are given to those who prove that they deserve them", etc., etc.—which sound good but have little basis in fact.

It was stated in the speech, "A vacation is given for a good reason. It is a period of rest, and both the employee and the employer benefit. After a vacation, an employee is rested and ready for another year of work. By not taking such leave, the employee cheats both the State and himself by not working at full efficiency."

Now let's look at the other side of the picture. In the office where I work in Syracuse (Field Audit Section, Division of Employment), our staff of examiners has more than tripled over the past ten years, yet the same two clerical employees who have been handling all of the work for the last twenty years are expected to assume the burgeoning duties of the job.

We receive no increase in pay, since we have long since reached the maximum of our salary range and, except for reclassification which is usually denied for reasons that don't make sense, there is no provision in our incredible Civil Service setup for promoting such employees who have acquired invaluable experience through many years of service in their department. I might add that private industry knows the value of experience, but a Civil Service employee usually finds it necessary to change jobs and start all over in another department, where knowledge it has taken many years to accumulate is worthless, in order to get a much-deserved raise in pay.

The thing that really gripes me is that when one of us is on vacation or ill, the other one is expected to handle both jobs, an undertaking entailing far more work than any one person can reasonably be expected to handle. Supervisors are sympathetic but seem to feel that nothing can be done about the situation. For that reason, I certainly do not look forward to the approach of the vacation season and personally feel guilty when I take as much as two weeks off—and yet, as indicated in the speech, we are entitled to our full vacation and we need it.

It is obvious from the speaker's remarks that taking a vacation is no problem in his case, but before belittling those who do not take one, he ought to understand that some forgotten employees, after considering the amount of work that will accumulate in their absence, decide that not taking a vacation is the lesser of two evils.

Civil Service LAW & YOU

By HAROLD L. HERZSTEIN

Mr. Herzstein is a member of the New York bar

(The views expressed in this column are those of the writer and not necessarily constitute the views of this newspaper or of any organization.)

Sincerely Yours

I HAVE finished two years of this column, and am starting my third. At the end of the first year, I wrote a rather personal column. It was not about civil service law at all. It was about my friends in the civil service. I warned that I would take the same privilege each year thereafter. This is it.

THE THING which has surprised me most about this column is the reaction to it in the form of letters by readers. Nearly every column brings a slew of them. No, they are not all in praise. Some are critical, and some in-between. Whatever they are, I love them.

I KNOW that the statement I am about to make is a pretty broad statement; but I am going to make it anyhow. Civil service employees are in my opinion the brightest employees in the nation. Who else got their jobs by open, competitive tests?

THE BRIGHTNESS of the class is obvious to me in many respects, but particularly as it pertains to this column. They know their legal rights, and in fact I frequently receive mail from them containing sound suggestions of subjects to write about, which I follow.

I AM pleased at the people who read this column.

Thank You

I SINCERELY appreciate the comments on my columns and the little extra things written about. They are most encouraging. Let me give you a few.

ON APRIL 17, 1962, in the column, "Who Approves? Boss or Governor," I quoted from an opinion by Judge Ellsworth of Kingston. A few days later I received a letter from the Judge in which he wrote, in part:

"You treated me very nicely indeed, and I appreciate your kindness in doing so."

ON APRIL 24, 1962, in the column entitled, "Village and County Police," I received a letter from David Zaron, the new Secretary and Chief Examiner of the Suffolk County Commission, in which he wrote, in part, as follows:

"Since its inception, I have followed your column in the Leader with great interest. You are to be congratulated on the very fine way in which you are able to translate the workings of civil service law so that it ceases to be a mystery to the many thousands of civil servants who undoubtedly read your column as avidly as I do."

ON MARCH 28, 1962, Murray A. Gordon, one of New York City's outstanding civil service lawyers, sent a letter in which he wrote, as follows:

"Most commentary in civil service publications concerning judicial decisions is dry, dull and lacking the spark which usually fires these cases in the first place. Ironically enough, it apparently takes a competent and knowledgeable lawyer to describe cases in human rather than just technical terms."

I THANK all the men and women who have written to me. I assure them of mutual sentiments of kindness and respect.

Questions Answered On Social Security

Under the new law, how much credit is needed for a man who was 65 in 1961 to qualify for retirement benefits? What about another man (my brother) who will be 65 in 1964?

For a man who was 65 in 1961, ten credits (about 2½ years of work) will be enough to qualify for retirement benefits. The man who will be 65 in 1964 will need thirteen credits (about 3¼ years of work).

I had to stop work because of a severe heart condition about a year ago. I'll be 50 years old in three months. How soon should I apply for my benefits?

You should apply immediately. An insured disabled worker may receive monthly benefits at any age.

My employer doesn't keep a very good record of how much he pays me. He pays me by cash and won't give me a W-2 form. Isn't he supposed to keep a record of my earnings?

Employers are required to keep complete and accurate records of your earnings. He should also give you a receipt for social security tax and income tax withheld. He should write to Internal Revenue for Circular E.

Medical Officer, Dr. Gamliel Saland, these calls for help have been answered fully, freely and gratuitously.

THE DIVISION'S "best seller" is the red-covered "Occupational Hazards and Injuries of New York City Firemen." This 20-page booklet is packed with answers to most of the unique problems doctors anywhere may face in giving effective medical treatment to both injured professional firemen and accidental fire victims.

WHAT MAY soon become a supplementary "best seller" is the Division's "External Cardiac Massage." This describes a new method which has been researched, field-tested, and is now officially approved for use by New York City firemen.

DEVELOPED FIRST at the Medical School of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, the massage is an added technique of resuscitation which can be used independently or simultaneously with mouth-to-mouth respiration.

DR. SALAND promptly had a three-page descriptive leaflet printed. Already in the hands of every fireman, it will soon be traveling to fire medical officers wherever mail will penetrate.

AS WITH any government agency delivering with the highest efficiency in the public interest, the Medical Division of New York's Fire Dept. has won good public relations for itself, its department, its city and the nation.

Bill to Pay Overtime To Ex-State Aides Vetoed by Governor

(From Leader Correspondent)

ALBANY, May 28—A group of former State Public Works Department employees, now employed by the Port of Oswego Authority, have lost their bid to win cash payment for overtime earned while in state service.

Governor Rockefeller disapproved a bill, passed by the Legislature, which, he said, would have provided an unlimited amount of earned vacation credits to persons formerly employed at the State grain elevator at Oswego.

District 10, PW Election Set For June 8

The District 10 Public Works Chapter of the Civil Service Employees Assn., will hold its annual meeting on June 8, at 8 p.m. in the Babylon office at which time the election of officer and council representatives will be held. Chapter 10 has made a complete revision of its constitution and a vote of final approval will be held at this meeting. Lou Desiderio, president of the chapter, strongly urges that all members be present at this meeting as these revisions are a concern to every member in this chapter.

Ballots for the election of officers and representatives will be mailed at least one week before this meeting.

Desiderio and the executive council wish to thank all of those who attended the dance held on April 23. The council has decided that there shall be one held next year at approximately the same time.

Gowanda Aides Help Patients To Enjoy Life

GOWANDA, May 28—Gowanda State Hospital patients play on a miniature golf course—use electric shavers—and ride in a 25-passenger bus. And the state doesn't supply funds for these facilities.

That's where the Gowanda Chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, enters the picture.

Patient activities are sponsored and encouraged by the CSEA chapter. And funds are largely derived from the chapter's annual talent show, scheduled this year for June 2 in the Assembly Hall.

Vacation Hearing Set For Park Police

BABYLON, May 28 — An appeal for summer vacations for members of the Long Island State Parkway Police will be heard by the State Grievance Board in New York City this week, Edward D. Meacham, chairman, has announced.

The appeal has been rejected by the Park Police Department, Park Commission and Conservation Department. Park Police currently are prohibited from vacationing from May through September. Their personal leave time also is drastically curtailed during this period, they maintain.

In earlier grievances, the Park Police have stated that "summer vacations are granted to all employees engaged in other type of work." Noting statistics prepared by the Civil Service Employees Association, the Park Police have told the Board that the grievance "is simply to adjust the work force to coincide with the work load" so that all the employees of the commission can enjoy summer vacations.

He said the State Civil Service Department had notified him that all the employees had been paid in cash—up to the state's 30-day limit—for vacation and overtime at the time they were transferred to the authority payroll.

The Governor added: "I am informed that there are many state employees in the position of the prospective claimants who have worked overtime hours without any expectation, past or present, of extra monetary compensation. Many of these people have not received full compensatory time off for the extra hours they have worked. It would be unfair to single out one particular employee for special treatment."

The vetoed bill was introduced by the Assembly Rules Committee.

Safety Officer Dispute Flares Briefly Upstate

(From Leader Correspondent)

WATERTOWN, May 28—A member of the Watertown fire department sharply rebuffed a Greater Watertown Chamber of Commerce official here last week when the official suggested the city council study a combined police-fire department consolidation.

William O'Neill, chairman of the city and county affairs committee of the chamber, told the council it could "save money and promote more efficiency" by adopting a police-fire consolidation.

Fireman Frank Adzitt promptly replied that such consolidations "have not been successful." He said they have "proved inefficient and more costly."

The short-lived dispute ended abruptly when O'Neill said he would not debate the subject. The flurry came after the president of the Watertown Firefighters Association, Inc., Joseph Corbett, told the city council at a budget hearing that "firemen are the lowest paid" municipal workers "on an hourly basis."

Mr. Corbett asked the council to raise firemen's annual salaries before approving the 1962-63 city budget prior to June 1.

The council is considering some type of pay increase for all municipal employees.

Executive Unit of CSEA Hears Votto, Installs Officers At Dinner Meet

ALBANY, May 28 — Frank Votto, Director of Veterans Affairs, was the principle speaker at the dinner-dance and installation of officers of the Executive Chapter, CSEA, held at Herberts Restaurant in Albany. Mr. Votto spoke on the contributions made by the Civil Service Employees Association to the achievements of the present State administration.

Felly Installs

Joseph Felly, president of the CSEA, installed Executive chapter president May De Seve of the Division of Veterans Affairs; first vice-president, Eldora Sheremeta, Civil Defense Commission; second vice-president, Seymour Miller, who also served as toastmaster for the dinner; secretary, Mary M. Masterson, and treasurer, Lawrence L. Barry, all of the office of Local Government.

Guests included John Powers, field representative, Thomas J. Manning, Deputy Director of the Division of Veterans Affairs; Raymond Barbuti, Director of Administration for the Civil Defense Commission; Eugene Walther, editor of the Tax Chapter News; Frank Carrk, president of the Taxation and Finance Chapter, CSEA; Harry Kolothros, vice-president of the Capitol District Conference; John Marshall, Deputy Director of Administration, Civil Defense Commission; Mrs. Marie Driscoll, supervisor of Civil Defense Local Assistance; and George Hayes, administrative Assistant, Taxation and Finance Chapter, CSEA.

Attending the dinner were Chapter members from the Executive Chamber including Mrs. Dorothy Mac Tavish, Secretary to

of the Judiciary whose salaries are paid directly by the State and employees of the Legislature.

"It has been well established," the CSEA president said, "that the authorities of the State have under their general powers the right to provide similar benefits for their employees."

Agencies Affected

Other agencies which the Association will urge to adopt the death benefit provisions include the State Bridge Authority; the State Power Authority; the East Hudson Park Authority; the Niagara Frontier Port Authority, and the State Dormitory Authority.

Similar steps will be taken with the contract colleges at Cornell and Alfred if a favorable interpretation is given.

Grievance Backed

that rather than assuming opposite sides of the table in the case, both management and employees evidenced their concern with the best interests of the State and of the employees by cooperatively seeking a satisfactory solution to this problem.

"Both parties are commended for the spirit demonstrated in the processing of the grievance and the successful conclusion of their efforts," the board wrote.

The group grievance had been brought by Frank Leonard of Sing Sing, Charles Raymond of Clinton, and Robert Bleiden, of Eastern. CSEA Counsel Harry W. Albright represented the Employees Association in the action.

Lieut. Governor Malcolm Wilson and members from the Civil Defense Commission, Division of the Budget, Commission for the Capital City, Division of Military and Naval Affairs, Division of Veterans Affairs, and Office for Local Government.

Arrangements for the dinner were made by Nancy Burns and Peter Rallis, Division of Veterans Affairs, and publicity was handled by Jean L. Haiss, Civil Defense Commission, and Eileen Tanner, Military and Naval Affairs.

Troy Aides Decry Plan

a meeting in Troy High School that the 105,000-member state association would "do all in its power" to have the Board of Education adopt the five percent retirement take-home pay plan for non-teaching school employees to augment what he termed the "inadequate salary adjustments" which have been proposed. Rogers said the adoption of the "5 per cent plan" would not be a budgetary item this year inasmuch as payments by the school district to the New York State Retirement System would not be due until May 1964, at which time the Troy School District would be required to pay the cost for one year. The employees, however, could reap the much-needed benefits of a 5 per cent increase in their take-home pay immediately. Rogers estimated that the cost of the 5 per cent plan, based on the present payroll figures for non-teaching personnel, would be approximately $12,000 per year starting in May 1964. This amount represents about three tenths of one percent of the current total school budget, he said.

Horton pointed out that many areas currently participate in the 5 percent plan as well as all state employees: City of Troy, Rensselaer County, City of Cohoes and its school districts, City of Rensselaer and its school districts, City and County of Schenectady and its school district, City of Watervliet and its school district, North Colonie school district and Lansingburg school district.

Lloyd Bingham, president of the 500-member Rensselaer Co. Chapter, CSEA, assured the group that the local chapter is "100% behind you" and would do "all we can" to convince the Board of Education of the reasonableness of their requests.

Dudley P. Van Arnem, Supt. of schools, and school board members, Dr. William Seymour, William A. O'Neill and member-elect, Fred Grimm, attended the meeting as invited guests of the unit president.

Governor Extends S.C.I. Until 1965

ALBANY, May 28 — Governor Rockefeller has extended the life of the State Commission of Investigation until April 30, 1965. In signing the legislation, he was critical of a change in the law governing the commission's membership.

The legislation provided that only one of the four members must be an attorney. Previously all but one of the commissioners had to be lawyers.
