INTERSORORITY TEA

Sorority Presidents Compose Receiving Line

On Saturday afternoon, November 6, the annual Intersorority Tea was held in the college rotunda from 3 to 5 o'clock. All the girls in college, but especially the freshmen, were invited.

The decorations used were white and yellow chrysanthemums and palms. Each table had a bouquet of the chrysanthemums. The banners of the various sororities were also used as decorations. The Milne High School orchestra furnished music throughout the afternoon.

The receiving line was made up of the presidents of the seven sororities at college. They are: Miss Beatrice Buchanan, Delta Omega; Miss Kathryn Ball, Psi Gamma; Miss Margaret Crane, Kappa Delta; Miss Esther Cramer, Eta Phi; Miss Florence Fitch, Gamma Kappa Phi; Miss Helen O'Brien, Chi Sigma Theta, and Miss Helen Goldsmith, Alpha Epsilon Phi.

The ladies of the faculty and the wives of some of the professors, who are honorary members of the sororities, poured.

Y. W. C. A. BAZAAR

The Y. W. C. A. will hold a bazaar during the afternoon and the evening of December 4. Special attractions will be the booths of all kinds where fancy articles, ice cream, candy, and art collections will be on sale. Separating the afternoon from the evening events will be the basketball game in Albany High School. There will be dancing in the evening.

An admission fee of 10 cents will be charged. Get your ticket now. It is requested that all articles to be given be handed in by December 1.

STOP! LOOK! LISTEN!

Come on everybody, get out your memo book, jot down December third. Save the date for "All College Night." There will be something new in the line of college activities that will interest all departments. Those who know about it promise us a big surprise and a jolly time. Watch the "News," watch the bulletin boards, and you'll learn more about it. Don't forget the date.

SOPHOMORES LOSE

The senior quintet defeated the sophomores Monday, November 1, in the Albany High gymnasium by a score of 35 to 16. The game was fast throughout, but the upperclassmen were never in great danger.

FOOTBALL REVIVED AT STATE COLLEGE

Friday afternoon, November 12, football will again come into its own at State College when the upperclassmen meet the underclassmen on the Ridgfield gridiron in what will undoubtedly be a spirited and hard-fought contest. The last football game at State College was played November 2, 1917, when the underclassmen defeated the upperclassmen by a score of 2-0.

Coach Snavely, who was one of the mainstays on the Lebanon Valley College eleven, playing half-back and full-back, and who is well known in football circles, has had a chance to look over State's prospective football material. He is so well pleased with the work of the men in this line that a tentative Varsity game with St. Stephens has been arranged for November 20.

Football is one of the oldest college sports, and it is expected that its return to State College will be greeted with great enthusiasm. Special arrangements are being made to handle the large crowd, which is expected to attend the game at Ridgfield, Friday, in order to cheer the respective teams.

WORLD FELLOWSHIP WEEK OF PRAYER

The Y. W. C. A. will hold a series of meetings during the World Fellowship Week of Prayer from November 14 to 19. There will be a vesper service in the rotunda Sunday, November 14, at 4 o'clock. The leader is Frances Stinson and the subject, "World's Y. W. C. A." Meetings will be held each day during the week in Room 111 at 11:45. The subjects and leaders are: Monday, "Africa," Helen Walker; Tuesday, "The Americas," Nellie Parkhurst; Wednesday, "Asia," Ethel Huyck; Thursday, "Australasia," Augusta Knapp; Friday, "Europe," Eleanor Buell.

NOTICE

An adequate prize will be given to the person who can render the most lucid and comprehensive translation of the following:

"... mephitis mephetica?"

Get your copy of the "Quarterly" to-morrow noon and solve the problem.

NEWMAN CLUB TO GIVE TEA

Thanksgiving Dance to be Given in College Gym

This Saturday afternoon a silver tea will be given at the Executive Mansion from 4 to 6 o'clock. The members of the faculty and all students are invited.

In the receiving line will be Mrs. Alfred Smith, Mrs. Abram Brubacher, Madame Marie D. E. Pierpont, a member of the faculty of the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute and honorary member of the Newman Club at that college; Miss Helen Delehanty, president of the Catholic Girls' Club; Miss Katherine McManaway, president of the Newman Alumni, and Miss Katherine Wansboro.

An elaborate musical program has been arranged by Sister Alphonsus, of the Academy of the Holy Names, which is as follows:

"Schon Rosmarin," Kreisler, (b) "Les Bueherons," Duhois, by Miss Berte Denis; (a) "Life," Lucy Speaks (b) "Little Damozel," Novello, by Miss Irene Nagle, with James Mangan at the piano; (a) "Prelude 1 to 10," Chopin, (b) "Maiden's Wish," Chopin-List, by Miss Frances Cantwell; (a) "Swing Song," Barnes, (b) "Adoration," Borowski, by Miss Elizabeth Kelly, with Miss Catherine Kelly at the piano; (a) "In an Old Fashioned Town," W. H. Squire, (b) "Valley of Laughter," Wilfred Sanderson, (b) "By the Waters of Minneponka," Thurlow Lieurance, by Miss Lorena A. Kehoe, with Miss Alice H. McEneny at the piano; (a) "The Two Larks," Leschetizky and (b) "Country Gardens," Perry Grainger, by Miss Alice H. McEneny. Mrs. Hugh J. Reilly, a graduate of the music department of the academy is in charge of the order of the program.

This tea is the first of a series of events for the benefit of a building fund.

On Thanksgiving Eve an informal dance will be held in the college gymnasium to which all members of the faculty and the students are invited. An invitation has been tendered to the Newman members of Russell Sage College and the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

Plans are being made by the entertainment committee to give all college students a good time. A splendid orchestra has been engaged and the dancing will start at nine o'clock. Get your tickets now from the members of the committee.

SENIORS SCORE ANOTHER WIN

The seniors clinched first place in the Interclass Basketball League by defeating the freshmen Friday, November 5, by a score of 29-18. Their nearest rival are the sophomores, who now have no possible chance of gaining first place even though they win their remaining games.

The first half was close, the score being 14 to 13 in favor of the seniors. A fresh line-up, however, proved too much for the underclassmen in the second period, and the seniors ran up a safe lead.

THE "NEWS" FILE

While there is much being said about college spirit and college traditions, we would like to say a few words which we consider closely applicable to both. There is, as probably most State College students know, a file in the "News" office containing the papers for the years 1916-1917, 1917-1918, and 1919-1920, and this file is supposed to be a complete record of college activity for those years. We say, "is supposed to be." It would be except for the fact that some unscrupulous person took it upon himself to remove Volume II from the office without permission, and returned the same in a badly dilapidated condition and without the copy for October 17, 1917.

Now those bound copies of the "News" are the only written history of State College. They should be guarded as jealously by the student body as the old Domesday Book is guarded by Britain. Anyone should consider it a disgrace to in anyway tamper with or despoil these records. Hitherto we have left these books open to students, as many occasions have arisen when they were the only authorities to which one could refer to settle certain difficulties. We trust that the students will cooperate with us in this matter, so that we will not have to put the file under lock and key.

Remember this, State College people. Respect the "News" file. Guard it carefully for it is one of your most treasured possessions. And, if you have a copy of the "News" for October 17, 1917, bring it to the Publication's office so that we can complete Volume II and have it rebound.

The Editors.

WELL, HOW ABOUT IT?

When you hear a State College orchestra mentioned, or see a notice of orchestra practice, do you ever think of a group of girls, each with a stringed instrument, sitting by a lake playing and singing songs, old and new, under a wonderful "harvest" moon? Probably you do not. You would be apt to think of it, tho', if you had joined the orchestra a few weeks ago. You can have a part in such larks and better ones if you join the orchestra now.

Think of it—a college the size of State with six members! Where is our college spirit? Every one who plays any instrument shows his lack of that spirit every time he does not come to orchestra practice Wednesday nights. Will there be an orchestra we can justly be proud of this year? It depends on us; on you—yes—on you, with that mandolin, violin or guitar at home. Your alma mater calls you. Aren't you coming?

WANTED!

Well, what's wanted now? List and you shall hear. We want more, and lots more at that, "ginger and snap" in upholding our college traditions. Every real college has traditions. State is certainly a real college, and we have traditions, and we want to make these same traditions "really real" by upholding them with all our might and main. Now, freshmen, the clarion call is to you who are not as yet fully acquainted with the customs of the alma mater. Even with all the excitement of mid-semester tests, remember this one thing: On Friday morning you must remain seated in assembly until all the other classes have passed out of the auditorium. It may seem irksome and exasperating at first, but just remember that it is a duty which you owe to our college. Just remember that every freshman who does this is both "class-otic" and "college-otic." Just remember that lasting traditions must be upheld by each entering class.

SPANISH CLUB

At the last meeting of the Spanish Club, Prof. York gave a very interesting discussion of geographical conditions in South America. There was quite a large attendance at this meeting, but—"there's always room for one more!"

There are hints of fine times to be had in the future, so come — and pay your dues!

FRESHMEN WIN

The freshmen broke their losing streak Wednesday, November 3, when they defeated the junior quintet by the score of 19 to 14. The game was hard played, and victory was uncertain until the final whistle blew.

CLUB IS ORGANIZED AT R. P. I., TROY, FOR NEUTRAL STUDENTS

Nonfraternity Men Form Association at School for Engineers

Great interest is being shown at the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy in the activities of the newly organized Commons Club. The club was started last spring and has progressed rapidly. The members are all nonfraternity men not connected with the college society represented in the interfraternity council.

The situation at Rensselaer has been a peculiar one. There are only twelve recognized fraternities in the school and the percentage of students who are members is about thirty. The neutrals, as the nonfraternity men are called, have not shared in the social life and student activities as fraternity men have and one of the principal reasons for the organization of the Commons Club was to remedy this and give the nonfraternity man a chance. From time to time, during the history of the institute, the neutrals organized on purely political basis and, although successful for a time, such organizations lacked the ideals and qualities necessary for permanence and on losing prominent members through graduation or loss of interest dissolved.

STUDENT ASSEMBLY

According to schedule, last week's student assembly was given over to a college sing. But before proceeding with the program a little business was transacted. Alida Ballagh gave a little persuasive argument for Ped buying. She told of the novel plan the board has made for recording what each class is doing along this line. There is going to be a thermometer like affair on the bulletin board, with class colors for mercury, which will indicate the progress of each class in Peds bought. Then, the election of baseball manager and assistant basketball manager was taken up. The first office was won by Mr. Hill, '21, and the second by Mr. Linck, '22.

Then the sing began. After a little senior-soph versus junior-frosh competitive singing of the alma mater, Miss Underwood taught us "Swanee" and "Bye-Bye." The sing was closed by "Hail, Professors."

HOME ECONOMICS

Miss Tresa Kauffman, Assistant State Supervisor of Home Economics, visited the department and was a guest at luncheon on Monday.

Miss Rose Hughes, Supervisor of Household Arts in the elementary schools of this city, was a guest at luncheon on Thursday.

The Home Economic Department has offered an Extension Course in Methods of Dressmaking and Millinery. This course is given in Troy by Miss Anna R. Keim. Thirty young women, teachers and home makers have enrolled for this course.

THE FRESHMEN SWIMMING PARTY

Friday afternoon they met, twenty-seven of them, to go with Miss Fay to the swimming tank where everyone, whether she could sink or swim, enjoyed herself by playing that she was in the "ole swimmin' hole" back home, and that it was a hot July afternoon with sun boiling down at 90 in the shade. But that was only the first trip and there are going to be lots more of them during the winter, and of course next time there will be more who will want to go. Watch the bulletin board, and don't let it worry you if by mistake you've left your bathing suit home packed away for the winter, they supply you with them at the pool.

ANNIE WHITE STRATHEN

Teacher and Social Worker for 55 Years—Former Normal School Graduate

Miss Annie White Strathem, 73 years old, died on Thursday evening, October 21, 1920, after a lingering illness. Miss Strathem was born in France and she received her education at the Albany State Normal School, from which she graduated in 1870.

She was a pioneer worker of the Children's Aid Society, beginning her career as a teacher in the Society in 1865, and she served faithfully for 45 years. After serving as a teacher in the German school in East Second Street, New York City, she was appointed principal of the Henrietta School in East Twenty-first Street, and when the building was taken over by the Board of Education for a Truant School, she was appointed as Settlement Worker on East Sixteenth Street. Not content with the daily routine of duty, she reached out for further opportunities of service, which she soon found in evening work among the young people of the neighborhood. In her early teens she even gave up her Sunday evenings to work with the boys in the lodging houses. During her summer vacations, she spent her time with "her children" as she liked to call all her pupils at the Fresh Air Branches. Thirty years or more ago Miss Strathem started what was probably the first Working Girls' Vacation Home, through furnishing and equipping a farmhouse at Hadlyme, Connecticut, where her young people and their friends could pass the brief vacation days.

In 1908 she organized the Mothers' Helpers Association, where she trained "little mothers" in the art of housekeeping. In the afternoons she had clubs for the younger boys and girls still attending school, and in the evenings for the working men and women. For many years she felt the need of a work of this character; since then other organizations have followed her example.

Every Shrove Tuesday, a reunion was held of Miss Strathem's former pupils whom she held together through her happy, enthusiastic leadership while many were encouraged and personally aided to fit themselves for real leadership. On this occasion the pupils sang old songs, talked over old times, drank coffee and ate doughnuts, and always ended up the evening with "Auld Lang Syne." Those who were unable to come wrote letters. Not only did boys and girls of years ago come, but they brought their children and grandchildren. Plans were under way to celebrate the Fiftieth Reunion next year.

All those who came in contact with Miss Strathem will suffer an irreparable loss in her death. For 55 years she has radiated her influence to thousands of boys and girls. She was a noble character, possessing a sweet, kind disposition, always sacrificing herself for the benefit of others. She was a power in the neighborhood which will be hard to replace.

The blessings of all her boys and girls follow this noble woman. It is hoped that all her former pupils and friends will continue the work thereby establishing a memorial so that the memory of her love and labor may be perpetuated.

Illustrating a Definition

In proving a match to the brow-beating lawyer the woman witness is probably in the majority. At a recent case in court a woman witness was giving very damaging evidence against the prisoner, and the attorney for the defense, nettled at her manner, decided to embarrass her if he could.

"In giving your testimony, madam, I observe that you are constantly using the word 'irony.' May I ask if you comprehended its true meaning?"

"Well, I think I do. I will illustrate. If I were to call you a gentleman I should unquestionably be indulging in most decided irony."

Big Hats and Old Age

In opening the services one Sunday recently, the pastor of one of the fashionable churches said: "For three Sundays I have asked the women in this church to remove their hats during service. My appeal has been unheeded, and now I see wherein I was wrong. I was inconsiderate of the comforts of the aged and infirm, so I have made a new rule. Hereafter all women of forty years of age or over will be permitted to wear their hats during the service."

Within twenty seconds every woman in the church was bareheaded.

Life in a Flat

"Hello, Tom, old man, got your new flat fitted up yet?"

"Not quite," answered the friend.

"Say, do you know where I can buy a folding toothbrush?"

Tommy's Inspiration

They were at dinner and the dainties were on the table.

"Will you take tart or pudding?" asked Papa of Tommy.

"Tart," said Tommy promptly.

His father sighed as he recalled the many lessons on manners he had given the boy.

"Tart, what?" he queried kindly. But Tommy's eyes were glued on the pastry.

"Tart, what?" asked the father again, sharply this time.

"Tart first," answered Tommy triumphantly.

It Was Hopeless

"Be careful," said the foreman of the construction gang to a green hand who had just been put on the job, "keep your eyes open. When you see a train coming, throw down your tools and jump off the tracks. Run like blazes!"

"Sure!" said Thomas, and began to swing the pick.

In a few minutes the express came whirling along. Thomas threw down his pick and started up the track ahead of the train as fast as he could. The train overtook him and tossed him into a ditch. Badly shaken up, he was taken to the hospital, where the foreman visited him.

"You blithering idiot!" said the foreman. "Didn't I tell you to take care and get out of the way? Why didn't you run up the side of the hill?"

"Up the soide of the hill, is it, sor?" said Thomas through his bandages on his face. "Up the soide of the hill? By the powers, I cannot bate it on the level, let alone running' up-hill!"

Pullman porter (to aged man as train pulls into a depot)—"Brush you off, sir?"

Aged man—"No, I'll get off the usual way."
