STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK AT ALBANY

October 2, 1972

PAVING OF COLONIAL and Indian quad parking lots was one of the recommendations made to the University Council by vote of the Student Association Central Council. The accompanying rationale states that "both lots turn into veritable quagmires after any heavy rain and especially in the spring," and recommends that paving be done before the snow falls this year.

Lack of Leadership Hampers Representation of Graduates

No new business is listed on the agenda for the second Senate meeting of the semester at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Assembly Room of the Campus Center.

The status of the Graduate Student Association (GSA) and the general issue of graduate student representation on the Senate and its councils was discussed at its last meeting by the Executive Committee. In its report to the Senate, the committee notes that at present GSA has "no visible leadership."

If sufficient interest in the association is not forthcoming, the committee notes that it may be necessary to explore in more detail the future of GSA and seek alternate methods of providing Senate and council representation. One such method, previously suggested by Dean of Graduate Studies Louis R. Salkever, would be to delegate the Senatorial selection process to the various schools and colleges and draw names for council appointments from a list of interested graduate students.

A general meeting for all graduate students was scheduled last Thursday, the outcome of, and response to which, will be reported to the Senate today. Future, alternate methods in graduate representation may be determined by that report.

The Executive Committee also discussed the problem of grievances against alleged violations involving by-laws of individual SUNY units. PERB has ruled that such violations are not grievable under terms of the current SPA contract because of recent rulings by the Board of Trustees. It was felt that other means may need to be developed to deal with such problems locally and the Executive Committee resolved to "remain alert to such situations as they may arise and take whatever actions are necessary."

NTP's Sought For Committees

The Committee on Nominations and Elections of the Faculty is conducting nominations and elections for the Campus Promotion Review Panel and Committee on Professional Evaluation providing a procedure by which non-teaching professional employees may elect representatives to the committees as required by the agreement between State University of New York and the Senate Professional Association.

Proposed for the review panel are Donald Bunis, Robert Conway, Robert Fairbanks, Thomas Flemming, Marjorie Frame, William King, Hugh MacGregor, Mary Ruhl, Joel True, Grant Van Patten, Frederick Volkwein, Gary Westervelt, Keith Whittinham, and Howard Woodruff.

Proposed for the evaluation committee are Alice Corbin, Alfred Dascher, John Elliott, Martin Herlands, Carolyn Holmes, Henry Kirchner, Harry Kolker, Judy Miller, and Sue Shafarzek.

Others may be nominated by non-teaching professionals via petitions with 10 signatures and assurances of willingness to serve. The closing date for getting them to Katherine Heinig is Oct. 9.

Fifty Respond to Council On New Parking Regulations

More than 50 letters concerning the proposed new parking regulations were to be reviewed Friday by the University Council. The letters of suggestion and comment had been received by Vice President for Management and Planning John W. Hartley over the past few weeks, following a request by the council for university reaction.

At its Sept. 8 meeting, the council had delayed implementation of the new rules until it had an opportunity to review the responses. Ultimately, the Board of Trustees must approve the regulations, but it is expected to ratify the council's recommendations.

Mr. Hartley expressed satisfaction with the "fairly active response" by students, faculty, and staff. "The response was greater than I had anticipated," he said last week prior to the council meeting. "Most of the letters were from individuals, although some were signed by more than one person. Many were supportive of the proposed new rules, with the admonition that they be strictly enforced, which is our intention."

Letters from students, Mr. Hartley said, pretty much agreed with the official Student Association position as expressed in a bill unanimously passed by Central Council. That bill made five suggested changes in the proposed regulations: Reduce fines from $5 to $3; don't discriminate between commuting students and faculty in assigning space in Dutch and State quad lots; pave Colonial and Indian quad lots; assign spaces in lots 3 and 4 (the administration and medical lots) on a lottery basis (currently, the vice presidents determine who shall park in the administration lot and medical permits are issued by the SUNYA Police upon application and doctor's statement); and consult all segments of the university before making future changes in the regulations.

Several faculty members also suggested a lottery system for allocating the approximately 65 spaces in the gated lot in front of the Administration Building. In addition to the $5 registration fee, persons granted space in a gated lot are charged $15 a semester.

Recommendations were received for allowing parking on gravel areas nights and weekends. Parking now is prohibited on those areas at all times.

Concerts Slated

Two concerts are among the upcoming programs at the Performing Arts Center.

Frederic Rzewski, pianist, is listed for Free Music Store's Friday evening concert beginning at 8:30 in the Recital Hall.

"A Medieval Pastiche, or, The Dark Ages Illuminated" will be presented by The Group for Early Music Sunday at 3:30 p.m. in the PAC's main lobby. A Gregorian chant and vocal and instrumental works by Landini, Machant, and Jacopo Da Bologna will be featured.

Students and Alumni Schedule Special Homecoming Events

While the general public is taking in the events of Community-University Day Oct. 21, students and alumni will have the extra bonus of activities planned for Homecoming '72.

A wine and cheese reception will be sponsored by the alumni on Friday, Oct. 20, from 7-9:30 p.m. in the Art Gallery. Everyone is welcome. At 9 p.m. doors will open at the Gym for a concert featuring Rita Coolidge and Kris Kristofferson.

Sponsored by the University Concert Board, the concert will have tickets priced at $2.50 with student tax, $3.50 for dues-paying alumni, and $5 for all others. The evening will conclude with a Pizza Party in the CC Cafeteria from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m.

An Alumni Reception Center will open on Saturday in the Patroon Lounge at 10 a.m. and remain open until 4 p.m. Coffee will be available, and visitors will see displays of services provided by the Alumni Association. An Alumni Tent with food, beverages, and music will get underway at 11 a.m. and continue until after the football game.

The game itself, against SUC at Brockport, is slated for 2 p.m. It will be preceded at 1 p.m. by the annual Homecoming Parade.

On Saturday night the Going Concerns Trio will provide music for a Cabaret in the CC Ballroom from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. No special Homecoming events have been planned for Sunday.

Florence Hochstadter and Ann Agresta are co-chairmen of the Homecoming Committee of Student Association's Special Events Board. Martin Camarata and Victor Looper chair the Homecoming Committee for the Alumni Association.

Film Lecture To Open Series

Cinemaphile Arthur Lennig, associate professor of art, will be the first lecturer in the 1972-73 University Series which begins Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the PAC Recital Hall. His subject will be "The Eloquence of Silence in Film Art."

Program notes state that silent films were not just slapstick comedy; many were serious, dramatic masterpieces. Professor Lennig will look at the development of the cinema, with emphasis upon the silent film and mores of early 20th Century America. Film clips will be shown.

Professor Lennig, who joined the faculty here in 1966, has a doctorate in English from the University of Wisconsin. He has written volumes and texts on silent films in particular.

Film Notes, published in 1960, was Professor Lennig's first book. In 1965 his second work, Classics of Film, was published. Then, in 1967, The Silent Voice was published by the Faculty-Student Association.

A theater critic described the latter work as "a probing and perceptive analysis of selected foreign and domestic films and filmmakers of the 1920's and earlier." It has been Professor Lennig's lifelong fascination with motion pictures which has led to a teaching and writing career in the cinema arts.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

"N.Y. WOMEN ARTISTS" AN EXHIBITION OF WORK BY 13 women, may be seen October 2 through November 5 at the University Art Gallery, M-F 9-5; Sat. and Sun., 1-5.

Campus Clipboard is prepared by the Student Activities Office. Items to be included should be submitted in writing to CC 137 by the Tuesday preceding publication date.

For further information about items listed in the Clipboard, call 7-6923.

William Seymour

W. Seymour To Assist VP

William E. Seymour, director of the Center for Economic Education for two years and special assistant to the vice president for academic affairs during that period, has been reassigned. He now is special assistant to Vice President for University Affairs Lewis P. Welch.

In his new capacity Mr. Seymour will seek to articulate and reinforce SUNYA's public service function. This will include the development of systems to mobilize, deploy, and share appropriate university resources with groups, organizations, and agencies in the larger community seeking assistance with training and problem-solving needs. Mr. Seymour will be concerned particularly with the stimulation of on-campus and off-campus programming for various publics, as encouraged in the SUNY Master Plan.

The new appointee has been on the faculty since 1958. In 1969-70 he served as special assistant to President Allan A. Kuusisto. Earlier he was associate dean of graduate studies, director of summer sessions, coordinator of sponsored research and programs, and director of special academic programs.

Mr. Seymour currently is president of the Cooperative Extension Association of Albany County and chairman of its board directors. He also has served on the New York State Council on Economic Education.

ROY KLAGES, coordinator and faculty chairman of the United Fund/Joint Appeal campaign on campus, looks over campaign plans with Bette Herzog, executive assistant, and Leon Calhoun, administrative chairman.

Show Features Women Artists

"New York Women Artists," an exhibition of work by 13 women who live and work in New York City, has opened at the Art Gallery.

The show is a spin-off from two earlier exhibitions, "Twenty-Six Contemporary Women Artists" organized by critic Lucy Lippard for the Aldrich Museum in Connecticut, and "Thirteen Women Artists," an exhibit organized by artists and held at 117 Prince Street in New York's Soho District last spring. The latter exhibition came about when a group of women artists decided that it was important as women and as artists to mount a show of high professional quality without the sponsorship of patrons or institutions.

Among the artists represented in the current show are Patsy Norvell, Sarah Draney, Audrey Hemenway, Mary Miss, Alice Adams, Kazuko, Ann Marshall, Joyce Robins, Helene Hui, Arlene Schloss, Elizabeth Murray, Paula Tavins, and Sharon Gilbert. The exhibit will continue until Nov. 5 during the gallery's regular hours: Monday through Friday, 9 to 5; Saturday and Sunday, 1 to 5.

Volunteers Train For Ambulances

One hundred five students, mostly undergraduates, are taking the American Red Cross standard and advanced first aid courses on campus arranged by the University Volunteer Ambulance Service which is exploring ways to accomplish the establishment of such a service on campus.

The students meet for instruction weekly in one of three sections Monday, Tuesday, or Wednesday at 7:30 in the gymnasium. Classes are preliminary to a New York State certified medical emergency technician course to be offered during the spring semester.

Proposals for the service have been reviewed by the Student Affairs Office and the Student Health Service. Now, under the direction of Barry Michael Bashkoff, prime mover in the effort, matters pertaining to incorporation and insurance are being examined before submission of a plan for approval to the university.

Tower Tribune

Published weekly when classes are in session by the Community Relations Office as a service to the university community; carries news of campus-wide interest for and about students, faculty, and staff. Submit items in writing 10 days in advance to AD 235. Name and address must be included. All material is subject to editing. For further information call 7-4901. The "Tower Tribune" is printed on recycled paper stock.

Great Dane Sports

Albany will meet Siena at 7 p.m., Dec. 29, in the first round of the 12th annual Capital District Basketball Tournament. Host Union will play RPI at 9 o'clock with consolation and championship games scheduled the following evening.

For the first time since the four local schools began competing in 1969, a blind draw was used for first round pairings. Previously, it was pre-determined that arch-rivals Albany and Siena would not meet the opening night, nor would ancient rivals Union and RPI.

The annual triangular cross-country meet among Albany, RPI, and Siena will be held on campus at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon. The Great Danes have never lost to Siena in 13 meetings and have lost just once (in 1969) in nine meets with RPI.

Siena's outstanding sophomore, Joe Rukanshagiza, must be considered the man to beat, but Albany coach Bob Munsey says his team "isn't giving him (Rukanshagiza) an inch. I expect Vinny Reda, and maybe one or two of our other

Linguists Meet

Faculty members interested in linguistics will meet this evening at 7 in HU 290, according to an announcement by Francine Frank, coordinator for linguistics.

Items for discussion include a proposal for an undergraduate major in linguistics; reorganization of linguistics/English/anthropology 206, introduction to linguistics, for the 1973-74 academic year; and organization of a series of regular linguistic colloquia.

The approval of an undergraduate interdisciplinary major provides an opportunity to propose a major in linguistics. Work in that direction was begun last year.

'Round the Campus

The second bloodmobile visit of the semester is scheduled for tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the CC Ballroom. . . Alice Corbin, student activities, reports that 195 pints of blood were donated here on Sept. 6. The amount helped significantly to replenish the low supply of available blood. Sponsors were apologetic about the long wait experienced earlier this year by many donors in the afternoon. There is seldom a waiting line in the mornings and donors are encouraged to make appointments by calling 7-6594. . . The index, two pages of revised regulations, and the "Who's Who" of the Senate, its committees and councils, together with covers will be mailed to faculty members later this week. . . During its Sept. 21 meeting Central Council approved proposals to mandatorily include at least one freshman on the Athletic Advisory Board and to appropriate $1,094.40 for the Amateur Radio Club, an organization started last year and providing short wave radio facilities for any member of the university community. The club's equipment is located in Livingston Tower on Colonial Quad. . .

Eighty students from 28 nations are new students on campus this fall. With 236 continuing students, the total represents the highest number of overseas students enrolled at one time. . . The University Wind Ensemble, conducted by Charles Boito, performed Friday at the Guildersland Middle School. Included on the program were works by Berlioz and de Falla. It was the first of four concerts planned for the fall semester. The next will be on Community-University Day, Oct. 21, and will be outdoors if weather permits. . . A group of students interested in establishing an ambulance service on campus has started refurbishing a '64 Dodge van in the event their hopes for such a service materialize. They are redesigning its interior, cleaning and painting it, and making necessary interior installations. . . The Capital Section of the New York State Art Teachers Association will hold a conference here Oct. 12 on the open school and the art teacher, planned to assist art teachers in finding their place in the open school. . . The lease held by the Atmospheric Sciences Research Center at Schenectady County Airport has been extended a year, doubling the present yearly rent of $15,000. For some time the location of the ASRC facility had been in doubt.

runners, will really press Rukanshagiza," he concluded.

The first night game in Albany's brief football history is scheduled at Niagara University at 7:30 p.m. Saturday. The Purple Eagles have most of the players returning from the team that lost here a year ago, 35-20.

The Albany coaching staff chose the following players-of-the-week in the Stony Brook opener: offensive back Marvin Perry, 82 yards rushing and the first touchdown; offensive lineman Andy Lee; defensive lineman Dom Pagano, 11 tackles and caused a fumble; and defensive back Tim Myers, a key interception and 12 tackles.

The women's tennis team will host Vassar at 3:30 Tuesday afternoon, then compete in the Eastern Collegiate Tournament at New Paltz, Friday and Saturday. The JV team will entertain Cobleskill, 3:30 today, and Hudson Valley, 3:30, Thursday.

****

Other men's teams in action on campus this week: tennis vs. Oneonta, Friday at 3:30; soccer vs. Cortland, Saturday at 2; JV cross-country vs. RPI, Wednesday at 4, and vs. FMCC, Saturday at 1; and JV soccer vs. Adirondack Saturday at 11 a.m.

AMIA Meetings

There will be a meeting of AMIA soccer captains tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 in CC 356. Rosters are due at that time.

A cross-country meeting is scheduled next Tuesday, Oct. 10, at 4 p.m. in CC 315. Team and individual entries will be due then.

Any questions concerning AMIA activities should be directed to Dennis Elkin, CC 356.
