Strevell has stated, however, that State College could positively plan on having a men's house in the near future. Full charge of organization has been transferred to Mr. Howe, secretary of the Albany Y. M. C. A. Plans are being made to rent a large building in the vicinity of the College which will accommodate a large number of the men students.

Kathleen Doughty, '28, chairman of the committee on activities, announced.

"In former years some week-ends have been crowded with important social events while others have been free," Miss Doughty said. "This year we are going to try to remedy this."

The programs are to be sent to Kathleen Doughty, '28, Francis Griffin, '28 and Beatrice Wright, '28.

NEWS TO COMPLETE ITS ELEVENTH YEAR

Staff Will Celebrate With Luncheon In Cafeteria Friday

Next Tuesday the News will observe its eleventh birthday. The paper is a product of the class of 1918 which issued the first edition at the beginning of its junior year. Although it was not quite so journalistic in style as the News of today, it was remarkably well edited and well written.

The class of 1918 had presented its views concerning the need of a newspaper in State College in its class stunt which was an allegorical play demonstrating that need. This act aroused the attention of the student body. The permission from President A. K. Brubacher that same year to publish a college newspaper was met with approval by every student.

On October 4, 1918, the first issue of the State College News made its appearance. It consisted of six heavily typed pages. Shortly after, the question of financing the paper became a troublesome one. Subscriptions proved inadequate and more than once that year, the staff was forced to omit an issue because of lack of sufficient finances. The student budget plan came to its rescue in the spring of 1917 and the publication was placed under the protection of this tax. From then on, the question of finances has been one of little trouble.

For the first nine years the sheet maintained a uniform size but two years ago a unanimous vote of the student body made it possible to increase the sheet to its present size. The extra expense was partly covered by the fund voted by the association, and the deficit was covered by increased advertising receipts. This same fund furnished several special issues such as the birthday and Christmas numbers.

The News staff will celebrate the birthday of the paper next Friday with a luncheon in the cafeteria. Although plans are not yet completed, the club expects to put on an enjoyable affair as was held last year, according to Elizabeth Photoplace, '28, president of the News club.

COMMITTEE MEETS TO PLAN A CONSTITUTION

The first meeting of the student constitution committee appointed by President A. K. Brubacher was held this week. President Brubacher appointed the committee in compliance with the motion carried by a majority of the student body at assembly this spring so that the question of revising the constitution of the student association so as to define the powers and authority of Myskania, and to prescribe the manner of electing its members, be referred to a committee to be appointed by Dr. Brubacher.

This committee consists of Ruth Lane, '28, chairman, Kathleen Doughty, '28; Richard Jensen, '28; Anne Holbrook, '28; Violet Price, '28; Dorothy Rabie, '28; Evelyn Graves, '29; Wallace Strevell, '29; Thomas Fallon, '29; and Grace Brady, '30.

Will Edit Lion

Courtesy Times Union

BETTINA AZZARITO, '29

FIRST EDITION WILL HAVE FORTY PAGES

Lion To Appear In October With Green And White Cover Design

Freshmen will be given expert advice by upperclassmen in the Freshman Number of the Lion, Bettina Azzarito, '29, editor-in-chief, has announced. The issue will appear early in October. The cover will be in the freshman colors, green and white. There will be cartoons on almost every page beside poems, jokes, stories and epigrams. The art staff includes Ruth Moore, '28, art editor; Dorothy Watts, '28; Ruth Watts, '29; and Betty Harris, '30. Any student in college may try out for the art staff, according to Ruth Moore.

The Lion will not come under the school budget this year. Although it will be the same size, it will have 42 more pages than last year, or 40 pages in each book. There will be four issues instead of 2, one in October, December, March and May.

Freshmen may try out for the advertising and business staffs of the magazine. There are no "try-outs" for the editorial staff. Those who contribute to the books are the only ones eligible for election to the staff next year. In order to get on the business staff this year, "try-outs" will be taught advertising and business methods by the present staff.

The "Lion" will have its "den" in the hall leading to Dr. Crossdale's office. A new desk will be placed beneath the stairs there, within a few weeks.

TWO OFFICERS RESIGN UNDER POINT SYSTEM

Political Science club accepted the resignations of two officers, the president, Mary Judith Langdon, '28, and the first vice president, William M. French, '29, at a business meeting Monday. Both officers were forced to resign because of excess honor points. Nominations for these offices were partly made. A list of members was submitted to a nominating committee. Four new members were proposed and accepted. Plans were made for sponsoring a trip to the Bronx Heights sesquicentennial celebration next Saturday from 2 to 5 o'clock. This will be the culmination of the series of Revolutionary War sesquicentennial celebrations which have been held in New York State this year. All students are invited to join with the club in this expedition. Two buses will be chartered, it is thought.

There will be another short business meeting Monday at 4 o'clock in room 101. Votes will be cast for officers in the rotunda next week.

Brubacher Announces Names Of Five State College Buildings

Here are the new names for the College buildings as announced yesterday by President A. K. Brubacher. Name plate of bronze, bearing the names of the buildings, will be erected on them later. The names are:

Draper hall—the administrative building.

Gideon Hawley library—the present auditorium.

Husted hall—the present science building.

Milne hall—the new Milne High school building.

David Page hall—central of the three new buildings. It will house the theatre, auditorium and art museum.

24 MEN WILL PLAY IN NET TOURNAMENT

Only Single Matches Will Be Played," J. Herney Announces

Twenty-four men have enrolled for the tennis tournament being played on the Washington park courts to determine the best man tennis player in College.

Joseph E. Herney, '28, captain of the men's tennis team, has arranged the following schedule for the first round in the tournament: upper bracket, Richard Whiston, '30 vs. Ralph Stanley, '28; Anthony Kuczyński, '29 vs. George Taylor, '30; Hamilton Adelson, '30 vs. Bernard Auerbach, '28; Joseph Herney, '29 vs. Kenneth Carpenter, '29; Thomas P. Fallon, '29 vs. Robert J. Shillingway, '29; Wallace Strevell, '29 vs. Louis Kline, '29.

Lower bracket: K. Lee DeLahoy, '28 vs. Randolph Sprague, '29; Reginald Stanhope, '29 vs. Robert Ludlum, '31; G. LaVerne Carr, '29 vs. Thomas J. Herney, '30; Bernard Sullivan, '30 vs. Rudolph Wirth, '30; Samuel Cooper, '28 vs. Howard Goff, '28; Ivan G. Campbell, '29 vs. Adolph Scholl, '30.

Only single matches will be scheduled, Herney said. The main object of the tournament is to get the tennis club date-picked to avoid lengthy elimination tests in the spring when the varsity tennis team will train for its schedule.

Included in the list are four varsity basketball men. They are Herney, Kuczyński, Carr and Goff. Kuczyński is captain of the varsity basketball team and was one of the winners in the tennis tournament held at the summer session.

A petition has been presented by Dr. Nathan E. Power, chairman of the Athletic Council, to appropriate fund for a silver cup to be presented to the winner of the fall tennis tournament. Dr. Power will present a motion to this effect at the meeting of the Athletic Council which will be held next week, he has announced.

Coach Rutherford Baker, instructor in physical education, has announced that he is very much in favor of this plan.

DIRECTORIES WILL BE HERE WITHIN 2 WEEKS

"The Student Directory will be out in about two weeks," Margaret Wilson, '28, said today. The editors for the year are: Edith Leek, Margaret Wilson, '28; Dorothy Lasher, '28; Alice Hills, '29; Marian Skyles, '29; Maria Bates, '30; and Russell Ludlum, '31. The directory will be the same size, but the cover design will be a surprise. The information necessary for the directory will be taken in assemblies today. The directory will include both home and city addresses of the faculty, the office force and the student body.

GRADUATE DIES AT TROY

M. Evelyn Curley, '27, died at her home in Troy, Friday after a long illness. Miss Curley received her bachelor's degree with honor in June.

MORE MEN TO WORK ON THREE BUILDINGS

Progress Awaits Arrival Of Cut Stone, Announces Brubacher

COST EXCEEDS $515,000

David Page Hall Gets Name From Nomal School's First Principal

Additional workmen will be employed upon construction of the three new buildings as soon as cut stone to be used above the ground line arrives, President A. K. Brubacher has announced. Cement has been poured to raise the foundation walls to the ground line, and the cut stone will be placed on this.

Pauzieri Hogan company, Inc., has been awarded the contract for general construction at a price of approximately $515,000. A. J. Eckert and company, of Albany, has been awarded the contract for sanitation and plumbing. A Buffalo company will have the heating work and a New York city company will install the electric equipment.

According to plans announced by Dr. Brubacher, the central of the three new buildings will be known as David Page hall, and will contain the theatre and girls' gymnasium. College men will use the gymnasium for exhibition games, but otherwise it will be confined to use by girls for gymnastics. Men will use the present gymnasium in the basement of Gideon Hawley hall.

The new science building will contain a fine arts studio on the top floor, a general lecture room and the home economics department. The general lecture room will have a seating capacity of 350, and will be available for freshman lectures and meetings of classes and organizations.

Milne hall, third of the three buildings now under construction, will be the new home of Milne High school. It will be closely related to the education and psychology departments, Dr. Brubacher said.

The commercial department will be on the third floor of the present administration building when the new buildings are completed. The present library will house the college library school. The library will be moved to the present auditorium to be known as the Gideon Hawley library. Class rooms and administrative offices will be continued in the present Draper hall.

The science building will continue to house the chemistry, physics and biology departments. It has been named Husted hall in honor of Captain Albert M. Husted, who was captain of a company of student volunteers raised here during the Civil war. After several minor engagements, he returned as professor of mathematics and sciences, remaining here until his retirement in 1912.

Gideon Hawley hall will be known as the Gideon Hawley library when the library is moved into it. Gideon Hawley was secretary of the board of regents, and first state superintendent of common schools. He held the latter office when the college was founded as a normal school, and was first secretary of the board of trustees.

David Perkins Page, after whom the new Page hall will be named, was first principal of the normal school, being appointed December 13, 1844 and staying here through 1848. William J. Milne was a former president of the College.

GIRLS WILL HAVE TWO CLASSES IN SWIMMING

Girls' swimming classes will begin in a few weeks, it was announced today. Louise Trask, '30, and Irene Hicks, '31, were appointed sport captains of swimming. Their assistants are Esther Waters, '30, and Margaret Skidmore, '30.

There will be two classes, one for beginners and one for advanced swimmers, meeting once a week. Any girl student in college may attend. Each one furnishes her own bathing suit, Miss Trask has announced.

DRAMA IS IN HANDS OF O'NEILL, SAYS MISS A. FUTTERER

The future of present day creative drama rests with Eugene O'Neill, author of "The Great God Brown" according to Miss A. F. Futterer, director of dramatics.

"While 'The Great God Brown' is not a great play in itself, it shows signs of something greater from O'Neill. He has not yet reached the point of his fullest expression," Miss Futterer thinks.

She spent last year in advanced study at Columbia university, New York city. While in New York, Miss Futterer attended the presentations of several revived plays. "The success of the revivals would seem to depend on the work of the younger playwrights. Either they are not living up to their promise, or the directors are not as time capable actors," she said.

Miss Futterer has several plays in her repertoire. She likes them because of their "intelligible under-stand- ing of what is going on and she read three plays better for the success of student at the college. The first was "Rosaland" by Terrell, "The First and the Last" by Terrell, and "Monsieur Evrard" by Gaston Farkington.

135 GIRLS VISIT CAMP COGSWELL SATURDAY

Saturday afternoon 135 girls of the college in two large buses visited Camp Cogswell.

The afternoon was spent playing volleyball, basketball and other sports.

Following a camp fire, a number of the girls gathered around a bonfire to sing and dance.

The committee in charge consisted of Jean Danforth, '28, Frances Marzulli, '28 and Ethel Campbell, '28. Other members of the committee were Miss F. de la Harpe, '28, the head of the department of the altar.

4 GROUPS OF GIRLS DEFINED BY PASTOR

One Class Is "Nagged In Vain By Her Ideals," Declares Rev. Vruwink

There are four kinds of girls according to the Rev. Henry A. Vruwink, pastor of the Madison Avenue Reformed church, who spoke at the Y. W. C. A. vesper services in the rotunda Sunday evening.

The Rev. Vruwink defines the first class as the conscienceless girl, entirely lacking in scruples. He believes that there are few or none of these at State College. The second kind has a conscience but does not heed it; she is "nagged in vain by her ideals."

The third class keeps within the conventional standards of proper conduct but not without bitter strife within. The fourth class is happy in doing the few things of life. Most girls are in the third class, he believes, but they can enter the fourth and best class by close spiritual association with the Lord.

Young women should not smoke cigarettes, Mr. Vruwink believes. He says he is not proud of the fact that he himself smokes. Smoking, he contended, is disagreeable to other people, despite breath perfume and incense.

The vesper service was presided over by Ruth Lane, '28, Katharine Hammersley, '28, sang, accompanied by Marion Conklin, '28, and a violin obligato by Margaret Martin, '28.

Following the service, Dean Anna E. Pierce and Miss Elizabeth H. Morris, assistant professor of philosophy, poured tea and about fifty were present.

INSTRUCTORS GREET FRESHMEN FRIDAY

Speakers Sketch The History And Purpose Of Their Organization

Friday evening State College held its first social function of the year, the faculty reception. Because of inadequate room, members of the faculty, and of the freshman and junior classes, and class officers only were present.

Each student wore a tag upon which was written his name, class, and home address. The faculty also wore tags.

The receiving line, which was headed by President A. R. Brubacher and Dean William H. Metzler, extended all around the room. Members of the faculty were grouped according to the department to which they belonged.

President Brubacher, welcomed the entering class. After this, Dean Anna E. Pierce introduced speakers representing the Girls' Athletic association, Men's Athletic association, Y. W. C. A., Newman club, Memorial, Dramatic and Art association, State College News, and Music association. Each greeted the class of '31, and pointed out the advantages and aims of the organization he represented.

The evident success of the affair is due to Ruth Lane, '28, general chairman, and the following committees: Kathleen Doughty, '28, speakers; Clara Hagey, '28, name tags; Richard Jensen, '28, music; Ruth Kelley, '28, grouping of faculty; Charlotte Jones, '28, refreshments; Ruth Moore, '28, advertising.

DATE OF CAMPUS DAY WILL BE ANNOUNCED

The date of Campus Day, the first big day of the college year, will be announced next week, when classes will appoint chairmen to prepare stunts to be staged that day.

Campus Day, which is celebrated here every fall, is the occasion of selecting from the ranks of the women of the senior class, the Campus Queen, who rules over the festivities of that day. Last year, Endora Lampman, president of Intersorority council, was elected to that post of honor and the year prior to that, Muriel Wenzel, president of the student association, ruled as queen.

The queen is selected by a popular vote taken in morning assembly and her identity is held secret until the evening of Campus Day, when she makes her debut, with her court, composed of representatives of each of the four classes.

Do State College Girls Work? Anne Schneider Holds Three Jobs

The champion working woman of State College has been found. It is Anne Schneider, '29, a member of the business staff of the News. Anne remained in Albany this summer, occupying the idle vacation days by holding down three jobs.

This is her daily schedule: from 6:30 to 8 o'clock each morning she worked for her room and board. The greater part of the day from 9 to 5 o'clock, she worked at the Albany Auto club. Then she returned home for two restful hours, working for her room and board.

At 7:30 she went on duty running an elevator at the Wellington Hotel until 11 o'clock. Then seven and a half hours for sleep and recreation!
