Swift Action Is Pledged on State Exam Appeals

ALBANY, May 12—The State Civil Service Commission acted last week to speed up its machinery of examination appeals. In response to a complaint from the Civil Service Employees Association, the Commission announced a new procedure designed to slash the present long-period—from six months to a year—taken in coming to a decision on the appeals.

The new procedures, announced by Acting Administrative Director William J. Murray, comprise this series of steps:

1. A deadline date will be set for returning appeals as soon as they are received. This job will be done by Eugenia McLaughlin, head of the technical services section of the Examination Division.

2. Examiners will review the appeals. Then they will forward the papers to other Civil Service Department bureaus. Non-technical appeals will go to the Committee on Appeals (a unit of the Civil Service Commission). Appeals involving legal considerations will go to the Legal Bureau. Technical appeals will go to Frank Densler, a $30-a-day Commission consultant.

Mr. Murray estimated that with the new procedures, two months should be sufficient to clear most appeals.

Announcement Applauded

The announcement was greeted with satisfaction by employee leaders.

The original complaint, made by Jesse B. McFarland, president of the Civil Service Employees Association, recognized that such appeals cannot be dealt with in a matter of days. "I appreciate the fact," Mr. McFarland said, "that a superficial consideration of appeals would be a waste of time and a violation of the rights of appellants and I certainly am not urging any such procedure."

"However, it does seem to me that there is ample room for thorough consideration of examination appeals in a considerably shorter time than the six months to a year (it now) takes. . . ."

DON'T REPEAT THIS

Presidential Candidates Questioned on Civil Service

IN THE WELTER of political news, claims, views and pontifications by and about the personalities who hope to become President of the United States, little is being heard about problems of civil service and the merit system. Is it because these aspects of government are unimportant? That could hardly be. The American people are more sensitive to public service than ever before, even if the sensitivity is in many ways a negative one. President Truman built one of his most important addresses around the problems of civil service. An answer that is being given in many quarters to charges of corruption is: "Let's have more civil service." There is a deep-rooted feeling that civil service is essentially freer of political machinations than the system compounded of "spoils" appointments.

With 2,500,000 persons in the Federal service and double that

Credit Union To Resume 3-Year Loans

The New York State Employees Federal Credit Union announced today that it would accept applications for any type loan repayable in up to 36 months, the maximum permitted under its charter. Heretofore, loans for most purposes have been restricted by special regulation which was lifted by the Federal Reserve Board yesterday.

The new credit terms are expected to be of most interest to prospective automobile buyers who are able to save considerably on finance charges through the use of the credit union's loan plan. The credit union maintains offices at Room 900, 80 Centre Street and at Room 1118, 270 Broadway. J. J. Moynahan is treasurer.

EXAM STUDY BOOKS

Excellent study books by Arco, in preparation for current and coming exams for public jobs, are on sale at the LEADER Bookstore, 97 Duane Street, two blocks north of City Hall, just west of Broadway, opposite the application bureau of the NYC Civil Service Commission.

Where's the horse, Dave? There's no telling about that man Dave Schneider, with that string of Ph.D.'s and other titles after his name. Look where we caught him this time! And with pretty Melba Binn, too. Dr. Schneider, as you know, is not only a horse-and-buggy fancier; he is also an eminent economic authority on statistics and research, has written many books, and used to be 5th vice president of the Civil Service Employees Association. (Incidentally, genius runs in his family; his son, with an average of better than 99, has just been awarded a Columbia scholarship). Melba Binn, who looks as if she doesn't feel quite safe in the surrey with David, is president of the Rochester chapter, CSEA, and an officer of the Western Regional Conference. The event recorded for history in the photograph above was taken at Brockport College during a meeting there of the Western Conference. David insists the college sophomores dragged him into the predicament above. Yeah, yeah!

Only 2 Weeks Left to Enter Civil Service Art Show

The Art Show of the Metropolitan Conference rolled swiftly into high gear last week, and it appears from the early interest shown that a topflight exhibition is in view.

The committee in charge of the show is now in communication with several topflight artists and art critics, who will comprise the board of judges. Prizes will be awarded the best works.

Five Art Groups

Eligible to enter their art works in the show are all State, county, municipal and local employees

(and husbands or wives) in the following counties: New York, Bronx, Brooklyn, Queens, Richmond, Rockland, Putnam, Westchester, Nassau, Suffolk (except employees of the City of New York).

There are five groups of art exhibits: oils; water color, tempera, caein and pastels; ceramics; sculpture; pen and ink, charcoal, pencil etchings and wood cuts. Each artist is permitted a maximum of three exhibits.

Exhibits should be delivered from now until May 26 at the Civil Service Employees Association office, State Office Building, 80 Centre Street, between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. On May 27, the last day for submitting exhibits, the place of delivery is the Riverside Museum, between noon and 8 p.m.

Additional information concerning the exhibit may be obtained by communicating (by mail only) with the Art Show Committee, Civil Service Employees Association, State Office Building, 80 Centre Street, NYC. Henry Shemin is committee chairman.

U.S. Employees to Have a Say on Policy

WASHINGTON, May 12 — A uniform method of employee participation in management is being sought by the Federal Personnel Council. A subcommittee will report to the Council, which will then recommend a detailed plan for submission to the U. S. Civil Service Commission. If the Commission approves, Congress will be asked to pass a participation law.

At present employee participation is on a voluntary basis in the 14 civil service regions of the U. S., and in some it is practiced on a liberal basis. In the Second Region, comprising New York and New Jersey, Director James E. Rossell has both a staff management plan and a union participation plan in operation and recommended to the Council that simultaneous plans be made nationwide for Federal employees. The proposals before the subcommittee have been submitted to the officers of employee organizations and to union leaders.

Some participation efforts in the past have proved unsuccessful because instituted through the enthusiasm of some staff member, but if he were transferred, the whole scheme would stop functioning.

"What we want," said one Federal official, "is not some occasional commotion but perpetual motion."

The staff management plan consists of having employee-selected members participate with management in the solution of employee problems, with employees of all levels represented. Some past examples have centered the participation in the higher echelons and brought about dissatisfaction in union ranks.

The union participation plan consists of notification of unions in advance of any action, and consulting them.

The Second Region in doing both reports that the composite plan works excellently. Also, employees under the liberalized participation plan in the Second Region are free to go right to the top in the first instance with any grievance, and by law also have the right of appeal.

Tough Problem

One tough case recently was based on the complaint of some employees that they hadn't received time off themselves, while some others were allowed to attend a party in the office, a party in which they didn't want to join.

Health Dept. Communion Breakfast

ALBANY, May 12—Employees of the State Dept. of Health will conduct a Communion Breakfast on Sunday, 9:15 a.m., May 18, at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Lodge and Pine Streets, Albany. Following Mass, breakfast will be served at the Ten Eyck Hotel, with the Rev. William M. Slavin, Chaplain, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, as the principal speaker.

Dr. Robert Plunkett, Assistant Commissioner, Division of Tuberculosis, Health Dept., will act as toastmaster.

An invitation has been extended to employees of other faiths to attend the services and the breakfast.

Arrangements for the event were made by the following employees: Helen McGraw, Helen Chico, Jack Coffey, Loretta Mattimore, William Hoffman, Kathleen Delaney, Frances Murphy, Ella McManus, Mary Ryan, Marie Weisheimer, Mary Sullivan, Katherine Campion, Anna May Lilly, Mary Salm.

Dongan Guild Dinner

Chemung Aides Chart Model Employer Relations

ALBANY, May 12 — For some time now, the Civil Service Employees Association has been urging county chapters to utilize the conference method in discussing employee-employer problems with the local administrations. This had been stressed by the staff of the Association because it was felt that greater progress could be made on both sides.

The Chemung chapter has been exploring the possibilities of this method of accomplishing their aims. Last February, Kenneth West, president of the Chemung chapter, communicated with the County Board of Supervisors and proposed that the Board set up an Employees' Relations Committee, and that the Association would do likewise. After some discussion, the Board of Supervisors decided to try out this arrangement with the thought in mind of improving relations between the administration and its workers.

The initial meeting between the Employees' Relations Committee of the Board, and the Chemung chapter, was held on March 14. Following is a summary:

Present: Board of Supervisors Committee: Mr. Handy, chairman; Mr. Holloran and Mr. Saunders, chairman of the Board, Civil Service Employees Association: Kenneth West, Bus Howard, Sarah Bisbee, Marion McCarthy and Miss O'Connor.

The purpose of meeting was to have the newly appointed committee get acquainted.

Mr. West explained the aims and purposes of the Association both on the State level and on the local level. The committee of the Board expressed interest in the constitution of the Association.

The problem of public relations and an integrated planned program was discussed. It was felt desirable to better inform the public of the services offered by the County, how the various departments operated, and the function of the Board of Supervisors to the public.

The Supervisors' Committee expressed an interest in such a program.

Saturday Closing

The problem of Saturday closing was brought up as a result of recent newspaper publicity concerning bills in the State Legislature permitting county offices to close.

Both committees agreed that there were problems to be worked out in making such a program possible; it was also the feeling of the Supervisors' Committee that they didn't see how it could be done and still give the public adequate service.

Re-Grading

As a result of a specific problem, the question of re-grading versus reclassification was raised. The difference between re-grading and reclassification was not clearly understood by either committee, and it was decided that the Supervisors' Committee would obtain information to obtain the jurisdiction and authority.

The Association committee felt that certain grades should be moved upward. It was decided that, at the present time, a complete resurvey of all grades would not be attempted, but only certain individual titles be considered.

Parking Lot

The Association has been receiving many complaints from employees concerning the time wasted and trouble with the present parking lot because of the public's indiscreet use of the lot. Supervisors' committee stated that this matter was already being worked out by the Board, and when the new County Building is completed, satisfactory and efficient parking facilities may be expected.

Training

It was suggested by the Association's committee that some form of in-service training program might be initiated whereby employees might be able to improve themselves in the work they are doing, and, at the same time, render more efficient service to the county. Board was receptive to such a plan, and it was decided that the Civil Service Committee would obtain more information concerning such programs as are in effect in State Service and other counties.

Longevity Increments

The CSEA committee suggested that increments be added at the end of 10-15-20-25 years of service, thereby giving recognition to employees and incentive to employees who remain in the county employ. It was pointed out that opportunities for promotion within the county are limited, and those desirous of getting ahead are forced to leave county service. It was also suggested by the Civil Service Committee that such a plan should not be automatic, but that the employees should have to meet certain qualifications in order to be entitled to this increment. Such a plan would thereby eliminate a common complaint that once an employee has received his civil service status, he is content to "coast."

Neither committee was certain of the legality of the proposal, or whether present civil service would permit a means of determining such increments. It was decided to further investigate this matter.

The Employees' committee explained some of the services that are available not only to the Association, but to the Board of Supervisors by staff specialists of the Civil Service Employees Association.

A new meeting was scheduled for April 18.

By the time that meeting had taken place, the Employees' Committee of the Board of Supervisors had obtained an official ruling concerning the relationship between grading and classification from counsel. Henry Galpin, Salary Research Analyst for the Association, was invited to attend the meeting. He was able to contribute toward several of the problems.

While it could not be stated that most of the problems had been settled, it is clear that a much better understanding between the administration and the employees is being created through the use of these joint committees. These meetings are to be continued, and another one has been scheduled for the month of May.

Mr. West has expressed himself as being pleased with the arrangements that have been made with the Board of Supervisors, and with the progress that both sides have been able to make in the relatively short time that these committees have been in existence. The Committee of the Board of Supervisors has expressed itself likewise.

Armory Employees in 2-Day Probe of Their Problems

NEWBURGH, May 12—Corruption in government is now the subject of uppermost importance to civil service employees, William F. McDonough told the statewide Armory Employees Conference at its annual dinner at the Newburgh Hotel. Mr. McDonough, executive assistant to President Jesse B. McFarland of the Civil Service Employees Association, said that exposures of the misdeeds of politically appointed officials heightened the argument for the appointment and promotion of public employees through the merit system.

"Selection of employees on the basis of merit and fitness," Mr.

McDonough said, "is the only practical guarantee that we will have good government. Any time you Armory employees want to come under civil service, as you are entitled to do under the State Constitution, it can be accomplished, but it is up to you to take the initial step."

City Manager Agrees

The Armory employees, as a branch of the military service, are in the unclassified service, as distinguished from the competitive, non-competitive and exempt classes.

Robert P. Aex, City Manager of Newburgh, agreed that right now corruption in government was the one topic that must concern civil service employees most.

"We must lick the shysters, the crooks and the rats who burrow in," he warned.

He spoke as a former competitive employee himself. Now in the exempt class, he appealed to his listeners to support exempt officials when they take a determined stand in rooting out crooks and grafters, and praised Newburgh's Mayor, Herbert Warden.

Mayor Warden greeted the diners and expressed deep satisfaction that they had selected Newburgh as the site of their annual meeting and dinner.

Clifford G. Asmuth, president of the Conference, was toastmaster.

MacDonald Installs Officers

Francis A. MacDonald, president of the Southern Conference of the CSEA, installed the officers of the Hudson Valley Armory Employees chapter of the Association, elected earlier in the day at a meeting in the armory. The officers are Robert B. Minerley, president; Irving F. Ginklin, vice president; Arthur W. MacDonald, treasurer; Lewis N. Greene, executive secretary; Michael S. Galvin, recording secretary, and Charles H. Outhouse, delegate.

Arthur J. Allen received a 25-year pin and certificate.

Lieutenant Colonel James J. Cooke, Assistant Adjutant General, discussed salaries, which Armory employees have long contended are far too low. Colonel Cooke was confident of a fair-minded approach by the Budget Director's office to the solution of the Armory pay problem. He said that while no promise had been made, the groundwork for a thorough discussion had been laid by Major General Karl F. Hausauer, Chief of Staff to Governor Thomas E. Dewey, at a conference with Budget Director J. Norman Hurd.

Survey Being Studied

Any inequities in pay may be corrected without waiting for next budget.

"Somebody besides ourselves must know the plight of the Armory employees," said Colonel Cooke.

The Colonel has been invited to sit in at further conferences with the Budget Director.

"If we can get it," he remarked, concerning higher pay, "we'll be there to do it."

The Budget Director, he reported, is studying the survey made by the Armory employees last fall, of their pay situation.

Major Joseph Middlebrook, who, said President Asmuth, "has always been in our corner," received a fishing rod as an expression of thanks.

"If any State employees are entitled to a break," the Major declared, "they are the Armory employees." "It's a long pull, but we mustn't be discouraged. Look how long it took the Mental Hygiene Department employees to make any progress."

He said he couldn't understand why every Armory employee was not a member of the Association.

Deuchar Enjoys Retirement

James A. Deuchar, now retired, told how much he was enjoying retirement and urged his hearers not to postpone their retirement until it's too late to get much enjoyment out of it. He added that Armory employees had made progress, through their Association and Conference, and that the need of a strong organization was never greater than now.

H. J. Bernard, executive editor of The LEADER, was the other speaker.

Mr. McDonough, during his speech, said there were many other topics he could discuss but, turning to Mr. Bernard, remarked that "they were very ably taken care of in The LEADER."

At the dais also were Frank Wallace, Ben Alius and Randall Vaughan. Mr. Vaughan and Mr. McDonough were in the same cavalry troop in France in World War I. They were machine-gunners.

The conference meeting lasted two days.

Robert R. Hopkins has been promoted to manager of the Niagara office, DPUI Insurance Office. He had been a Senior Claims Examiner in the Buffalo office. Mr. Hopkins was formerly chairman of the Western Regional Conference.

Public Employees Need Strong Organizations, Stearns Tells Town Group

Stating that "in this day of operation by pressure, public employees must have their own strong organizations to withstand the pressures generated by other groups," J. Allyn Stearns, 3rd vice president of the Civil Service Employees Association, called upon local public officials to recognize this fact and not impede "this entirely natural manifestation of our time."

Speaking to 175 town employees and officials at the annual dinner of the Town of Greenburgh Employees Association in Elmsford on May 2, Mr. Stearns said that all public employees undoubtedly would be organized sooner than later. He suggested that the efforts of public officials and political leaders should be directed toward encouraging their employees' representation by high type employee-officers and directed organizations as the 55,000 member, statewide Civil Service Employees Association.

More than Life Service Needed

Addressing himself directly to the officials present, Mr. Stearns stressed that no "company union" type organization could hold any employee very long and that public authorities should recognize the right of their employees to adequate, honest representation in matters concerning their welfare, pay and conditions of work.

Referring to competition by outside groups, Mr. Stearns said, "you can't beat something with nothing." More than mere lip-service to the cause of employee-representation must be paid in local areas, he warned. He called for a searching re-appraisal by public officials of their own attitudes towards employee groups. This must be done if strong, independent groups devoted solely to the needs and problems of the public service, are to continue to offer their experience and forthrightness in the realm of local employee bargaining matters, he argued. The alternative, he implied, would be mounting pressure by powerful outside groups from private industry which have long been flirting with public employees as the one large, unorganized group in the United States and are now embarking on determined campaigns to annex them if possible.

Many Local Officials Present

Louis Russo, president of the Town Employees group, a unit of Westchester chapter of the CSEA, presided. Supervisor William C. Duell was toastmaster and introduced town officials and leaders. A fishing outfit was presented to Town Highway Superintendent Ralph Lawrence, retired, by Ernest Warneke. Joseph R. Iadarola was dinner chairman.

Among those present were Assistant District Attorney Fred Weeks, Town Chairman Fred Sutherland, Councilmen Charles Bermann, Wilbur McDowell and Patsy Massaro; Judges Louis J. Galgano, Robert Roy, and Rocco Leone, Town Engineer Daniel C. Nolan, Police Chief John Sheridan, Captain Eugene Brett and Detective Sergeant William Halstead.

Public Works Cuts Hours; No Pay Loss

ALBANY, May 12. — The State Department of Public Works this week reduced from 44 to 40 hours per week with no loss of pay the working time for some 3,000 painters, crane operators, laborers and drill rig operators by placing them on a weekly, rather than a per diem, basis.

The move follows similar action taken earlier this year with respect to 600 highway and general maintenance foremen and 500 truck drivers who were placed on an annual salary.

The entire changeover was made on the recommendation of J. Earl Kelly, State Director of Reclassification and Compensation, and approved by the Division of the Budget.

The State Division of the Budget has approved higher salaries for 39 social worker titles in four State departments.

Favorable action was taken on a recommendation by J. Earl Kelly, Director of Classification and Compensation, who suggested upward salary boosts from Grade 9 to Grade 10 for 25 jobs in the title Social Worker group of classes. There are 18 such jobs in Workmen's Compensation, 4 in Social Welfare, 2 in Health and 1 in Correction.

Lehman, in Series of Radio Talks, Defends Public Aides

Maxwell Lehman, LEADER editor, will be interviewed by Barry Gray on radio station WMCA Saturday, May 17, at midnight. This will be another in the radio series in which Mr. Lehman has been defending the integrity of public service and pushing for extension of the merit system.

On Wednesday, May 7, Mr. Lehman appeared on two programs—over WNBC on the Tex and Jinx Show; and on a panel discussion with George Hamilton Combs over WJZ.

Interviewed by Jinx McCrary, Mr. Lehman made the statement: "The solution for defects in public service is more civil service." He held up as "twin necessities" better labor relations to improve the conditions of public employees and more extensive civil service to free public aides from obligation to political bosses."

Invasion of Civil Rights

Mr. Lehman told his interviewer that he was in opposition to such instruments as the questionnaire which had been proposed by Newbold Morris. The LEADER editor saw such questionnaires as an invasion of civil rights and a shotgun approach which would not be tolerated in private industry.

The panel discussion, with George Hamilton Combs moderating, included with Mr. Lehman, James E. Rossell, Director of the Second Region, United States Civil Service Commission; H. Elliot Kaplan, Deputy State Comptroller, and Jerome Wurf, international representative, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL. The subject was: "Is It a Hazard to Work for Government?"

Mr. Lehman pointed out the liabilities imposed on public employees, but argued that nevertheless every effort ought to be made to bring competent persons into government, and continuously fight the liabilities. Mr. Rossell, speaking of the Federal service, defended it as worthwhile in all respects as compared with private industry. Mr. Kaplan stated that government work compared fairly favorably with private employment, but that a competent man ought to get out of it after a few years and "before he becomes ossified." Mr. Wurf pointed to low salaries, poor working conditions, loyalty oaths, political restrictions, and argued that it is a hazard for an individual to go into public service today. His union is fighting these hazards, he said.

The panel was one of the longest on radio record—an hour and a half, with all four participants talking extemporaneously. Although it was a late night discussion going to 39 states, interest was so intense that phones kept ringing constantly with questions for the four debaters.

Communion breakfast of the State Department of Audit and Control was held in Albany on Sunday, May 4, with some 300 persons in attendance. Principal speaker was Rev. Father Charles C. Smith, assistant pastor, St. Peter's R. C. Church, in Troy. Seen on the dais, left to right, are: James F. Fitzgerald, general chairman of the breakfast committee; the Rev. Mr. Smith; J. Lawrence Murray, executive secretary to the Lieutenant Governor; State Comptroller J. Raymond McGovern; Rev. Robert Kulwies, assistant pastor at St. Mary's in Albany, where Mass was said.

State School Staff Honors Chas. Wilson

WARWICK, May 12.—Thursday evening, May 1, marked one of the mile stones of State School history when over two hundred friends and staff members gathered in the parlors of the Lower Staff to honor Charles W. Wilson.

Seventy years have left comparatively little trace on the physical appearance of Charles. His repertoire of stories and songs were still vivid and exacting. The piano resounded with that inimitable touch.

Mrs. Anna Bruin, chairlady of Home Life committee, was directly responsible for the many nice features of the evening's festivities. Her committee consisted of Mrs. Almeria, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Osterhout, Mrs. Miles, Mrs. Sober, Mr. Ray Quackenbush, Mr. Gates, Mr. Wilkins and Mrs. Cummings. To Mrs. Cummings, a former cateress and decorator, is due praise for the beautiful appearance of the Club Rooms. The tables and floral arrangements were outstanding.

Fred Appleton, Assistant Superintendent was master of ceremonies.

Mr. Wilson came to the Training School in September, 1937, as an instructor. His assignment was to the Music Department. Until 1944, while he had a series of titles including that of Instructor, Bandmaster and Institution Teacher, his main function was the teaching of music. He devoted a great deal of his own free time to recreational work. When the title of Head Children's Supervisor was created, Mr. Wilson was selected for this appointment. Since 1945 up to the present time he has held this title and has done an extremely good job in guiding the Home Life Program.

Then a personal touch crept in when "hobbies" conducted by Charles drew interest. First the raising of silk worms and the making of actual cloth from the raw product. The culture of bees and their by-products. Then the establishment of a rabbitry. Last was the satisfying returns of personally building a home, not far from State School, a place where the employees hope to find Charles for consultation when dire need necessitates.

Superintendent A. Alfred Cohen presented Mr. Wilson with a substantial purse.

Mr. Logan accompanied staff members on the piano.

The evening closed with dancing and the general wish for a long and happy retirement for "Charlie."

C. R. Rudolf Jr. Dies; Rochester Chapter Officer

CHARLES R. RUDOLF JR.

ROCHESTER, May 12—Charles R. Rudolf Jr., treasurer of the Rochester chapter of the Civil Service Employees Association and long one of the most active Association members, died in Strong Memorial Hospital as the chapter was about to hold its election meeting.

Everybody called him Charlie, for, besides being a devoted protagonist of employee rights, he was also immensely sociable. He had been a chapter delegate to the annual meeting of the Association, was active on many of the chapter's committee's, and was so well informed on civil service matters that he was outstanding.

He was a rehabilitation counselor in the State Division of Vocational Rehabilitation. He worked there since 1943, aiding the physically handicapped. Previously he worked for the U. S. Employment Service, War Man-Power Commission, on functions since taken over by the State Division of Placement and Unemployment Insurance.

His Many Kindnesses Recalled
He was graduated from Syracuse University in 1929 with a degree of B.S. and 11 years later obtained a Master's degree at New York University.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Kathleen D. Rudolf, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rudolf Sr., all of Rochester.

The chapter adopted a resolution deploring the death of its treasurer and praising him for the notable contribution that he made to the success both of the chapter and the Association. Later many of his kind acts toward members were recalled, in mournful conversations in the meeting-room, and it was agreed that the welfare of his fellow-workers was something that Charlie held close to his heart.

sented pins on behalf of the Department of Mental Hygiene in recognition of the twenty-five or more years of service of the following employees, all members of the Association: Mary W. Bidwell, Josephine Flynn, Louise V. Sherbyn, Howard G. Siedenburg, Leona M. Smith, Kathleen M. Ward, and Helen E. Whalen.

Among other guests were Doctor Murray Bergman, Assistant Director, and Mrs. Bergman, Mrs. Hyman W. Abrahamer, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Rockwood, Mrs. Melba Binn, president of the Rochester chapter, CSEA, and Claude Rowell, president of Rochester State Hospital chapter.

The general committee, who did a grand job, were Merton R. Wilson, Anna L. Verdow, William P. Verbridge and Leverette Lancaster. Decorations were done by Hazel Martin, Bernice McCaffrey, and James O'Connor.

Chapter officers present were Ralph Hinchman, president; William P. Verbridge, vice president; Mrs. Edna VanDusen, secretary, and Mrs. Alice Walsh, secretary.

Activities of Civil Service Employees in N. Y. State

Syracuse State School

THE SYRACUSE State School men's and women's bowling leagues entertained four teams from Willard State Hospital recently. Dinner was served in the dining room of the School. After the bowling, dancing was enjoyed at Moose Club Hall.

The chapter extends sympathy to Albert Bregard on the death of his father.

The report of the delegates who attended the Albany meeting in regard to the attendants' appeal for upgrading was encouraging.

Employees of Syracuse State School were saddened by the death of the Assistant Director, Dr. Charles Hutchings. He had only recently returned to his home after a year's service in Japan. Employees feel they have lost not only a doctor, but also an understanding friend.

Buffalo

THE BUFFALO Chapter, CSEA, held its second informal party at the 106th Armory, Masten and Best Sts., Buffalo, on May 1st, for the entertainment of its new members of 1951-52. Music by Jack Sullivan's orchestra, Al Killian, general chairman, was busy dispensing refreshments, and was ably assisted by his committee. Joseph Felly, CSEA 5th vice president, was guest of the chapter and enjoyed the party with us. Everyone welcomed the opportunity to really get acquainted with Joe; and Joe brought to the membership the real and vital interest of State officers in the chapter and its members.

The party was well attended, and members of the Erie County and Municipal Chapter, and also of Buffalo State Hospital Chapter with its President Tom Diina, enjoyed the fun with Buffalo Chapter people.

Next meeting of the Buffalo Chapter is scheduled for May 21st, 8:00 P. M. in the State Office Building.

Robert R. Hopkins, Sr. Claims Examiner in Buffalo Office, received promotion to Manager of Niagara Falls Office effective May 1st. Members of the Buffalo Insurance Staff held a congratulatory party for him on April 29th at Eddie Nowak's Hotel. (Eddie was a former U. I. Claims Examiner before he went into business for himself.) Both Mr. Al Musso, Sr. Ins. Mgr., and Mr. Wm. Zulyvits, Employment Security Mgr., spoke on Mr. Hopkins' achievements and congratulated him on his promotion. Mr. Joe Sullivan was chairman of the party and toastmaster. The Staff presented Mr. Hopkins with a traveling bag. Buffalo Chapter joins the Staff of the Buffalo Office in congratulating Mr. Hopkins and wishing him success in his new appointment.

Rochester State Hospital

THE ANNUAL ELECTION of the Rochester State Hospital chapter will be held on May 20th. Members will receive a ballot enclosed in an envelope. Please follow instructions printed on the outside of the envelope. Cast your vote when you receive your ballot and drop it in the hospital mail before you mislay the ballot. More participation in the vote is wanted this year. . . .

The 4th annual picnic of the hospital employees will be held on July 17th, at the Genesee Park in Pavilion No. 1. Persons willing to help with the arrangements are asked to contact the president. Committees will be appointed at the annual meeting which is being held in the club rooms at 8:00 P. M. on May 20th. Each year the picnic has grown in attendance. Let's beat that record this year.

The following attended the Western Conference meeting held at Brockport on April 26th. John McDonald, Dr. D. J. McIntosh, Harold and Eva Westling, Claude and Lurleen Rowell. Congratulations to Brockport on a nice meeting.

Best wishes go to those who have recently retired, it includes the following: Mary O. Blessing, John DeBruyn, Joseph McNulty, and Frank Muhlbeyer.

The Mental Hygiene softball league which consists of teams from Binghamton, Sonyea, Gowanda, Newark, Rochester and Willard will hold a meeting at the Rochester State Hospital on Wednesday, May 21, 1952.

It is hoped to have representatives from Utica State Hospital and Buffalo State Hospital so that the league can expand into an eight team league.

Westchester

THE ANNUAL DINNER and Dance of the Westchester County Civil Service Association will be held on Thursday, June 12, at the Larchmont Shore Club, in Larchmont, according to an announcement by Anne H. McCabe, Association president.

The Dinner Committee states that a new departure in dinners of the Westchester Association is being tried this year with the limiting of attendance to 250, the capacity of the Shore Club, which is located right on Long Island Sound. Past dinners of the Association have run between 400 and 500 persons yearly, and tickets this year will be distributed entirely on the basis of "first come, first served." When the 250 minimum is reached, no more reservations will be available, according to Margaret W. Trout, Recreation Chairman of the Dinner Committee.

Other members of the Committee are: Tickets—Leonard Mecca, Finance—Walter M. Bogle, Stewards—Loretta D. Smythe, Grasslands; Publicity—Marian L. Wood, Health; Service Certificates—Margaret M. Hughes, Child Welfare; Finances—Alex J. Ligy, Child Welfare; Reservations—Eileen Kelleher, Accounting, PW; Decorations—Julia F. Dugan, Planning; Reception—John J. Breen, Park. Other members of the Committee are to be appointed later.

Crude and Cruel Tampering With Leave

THE efforts by an economy bloc in Congress to restrict annual leave for Federal employees is meeting strong and deserved opposition.

It is most unusual for the President of the United States to take sides on such a subject, but President Truman has asked the Senate sub-committee to reject the proposed amendment. He points out that not only will employees be deprived of leave to which they're otherwise entitled, but that cash payments for accumulated leave, when one's services with the Federal government is terminated, would cease. The U. S. Civil Service Commission is in opposition to the Thomas bill that would tamper with the present leave system. Senators Paul Douglas, William Langer, Olin D. Johnson and John Pastore have openly opposed the Thomas rider. So have other leading Senators in both political parties.

It would not seem that, facing such opposition, a proposal should stand much chance, yet a determined effort is being made to keep the curtailment project alive, on the ground, mainly, that it would save the U. S. $125,000,000 a year. Just how this saving would be achieved is not explained; some legislators have stated that there would be no saving.

The present sliding scale leave plan itself represents a compromise. Under that plan employees with three years or less service get 13 days' annual leave, and these would be the chief sufferers under the amendment. For longer service, leave increases, to 26 days.

The proposed amendment represents a crude and cruel method of attempting to tamper with a fairly satisfactory system and substitute for it a system of injustice. The amendment under no circumstances should get any support from any quarter.

Reducing the Time On Exam Appeals

THE State Civil Service Commission has taken a useful forward step in announcing that the time for processing examination appeals will be reduced to two months. Any candidate who has ever had occasion to question the exam grade he earned, and who has had to wait six, nine, or twelve months while his papers were going through the mill, will welcome the new process cutting the time down.

Small items of efficiency add up. Items like this mean better service to the people. The State Civil Service Commission, so often banded about the ears, deserves a word of praise when it improves a procedure. It is with pleasure that we herewith record this word of praise.

Question, Please

Pension Tax Exemption
WHAT IS the status of efforts in Congress to obtain income tax exemption for public employee pensions?

Here's the answer: There are bills in Congress now, to that effect, as in many former years, but no indication that any of them will move soon. Some of the bills would put such pensioners on the same basis as Social Security pensions, whose allowance is wholly exempt from income taxation, the present maximum being $1,800. Another bill would grant complete exemption. This was introduced by Representative Dean R. Taylor and provides: "Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all amounts received as a retirement annuity or pension provided by the United States, any State, any Territory, or any political subdivision thereof, or any agency or instrumentality of any of the foregoing, or by any non-governmental employer shall be excluded from gross income for the purpose of the Internal Revenue Code, and any annuity payable to any person to the extent that the payment represents moneys paid or contributed by the annuitant shall be excluded from gross income for the purpose of the Internal Revenue Code." It is H. R. 5971.

20 Lectures Explain Work Of Boro Pres.

The Queens Borough Employees Association sponsored a 20-lecture course of instruction on the functions and activities of the Borough President's department. This program was made available to civil service employees, under the jurisdiction of Queens Borough President James A. Lundy, who expect to compete in promotion examinations in the near future.

Type of Course

The course consisted of a series of lectures given by Bureau and Division Chiefs, or their representatives, on the operations and procedures followed in their respective sections. A mimeographed digest of each lecture was given to the students.

The President of the Association, Frank J. Clancy, served as moderator of the program and arranged the schedule.

DON'T REPEAT THIS

number in public positions Federal and local, it is clearly a matter of utmost significance to know that candidates for public office think about civil service matters.

This column has therefore addressed a group of eight questions to the entire crop of candidates, both Democratic and Republican, to elicit their views and "slants" on essential civil service questions. The questions:

1. What is your view with respect to the proposal that all Federal positions, with the exception of top-policy making posts, should be brought under civil service?

2. Do you feel that the present loyalty and security procedures have helped, hindered, or been of no effect on public service? Would you suggest abandonment, alteration or implementation of these procedures?

3. What is your view with respect to the proposal that all advancement in government service should be through competitive promotion examination?

4. The Hatch Act curbing the political activities of employees paid through federal funds has long been a matter of controversy. Do you feel that the political rights of federal employees should in all respects be similar to the political rights of those in private industry? Or that the political activities of federal employees ought to be curbed?

5. Would you care to comment on your views concerning the question of unemployment insurance for federal employees?

6. What suggestions would you propose for dealing with the present widespread tendency to degrade and smear public employees?

7. What is your view concerning such questionnaires as that proposed by Newbold Morris?

8. Do you have any suggestions for improving the quality of the American civil service?

Who Got The Questions

The questionnaire was sent to these Democrats: W. Averell Harriman, Senator Estes Kefauver, Governor Adlai Stevenson, James A. Farley, Senator Hubert Humphrey, Vice President Alben W. Barkley, Senator Richard Russell, Congressman Sam Rayburn, Senator Brien McMahon, Senator Robert S. Kerr, and to these Republicans: Senator Robert A. Taft, Harold A. Stassen, Governor Earl Warren, General Dwight D. Eisenhower, General Douglas MacArthur.

Don't Repeat This will print their responses as received. The answers will do more than shed light on these specific questions; they will give an index to the views of the candidates on more general objectives and perhaps even provide clues to their true philosophy of government.

State Pension Plan Explained

By H. ELIOT KAPLAN
Deputy State Comptroller

The basic plan of the State Employees Retirement system as approved originally by the legislature permitted any employee to retire voluntarily upon reaching the age of 60, regardless of length of service. For service rendered prior to adoption of the system credit was given by the State without charge. This credit included both the share to be provided by the employer and the contributions from employee. For service rendered subsequent to adoption of the new plan both the employer and the employee were required to contribute on an actuarial basis provided by the new law.

The 60-Year Plan

This 60-year retirement plan envisioned as the ideal situation: An employee entering the state service at 25 years of age, serving 35 years and electing to retire at 60 would look forward to an annual retirement allowance of approximately half of his final average salary. This final average salary was the average salary for the last five years of employment. During the 35 years of his service, the employer would contribute annually a sum sufficient to build up by the end of the 35 years a reserve fund adequate to pay a pension of one-fourth of the worker's final average salary at the time of retirement.

During the period of service also the employee, through payroll deductions, would accumulate savings enough to purchase an annuity which, at the time of retirement, would pay him approximately the equivalent of one-fourth of his final average salary. Thus the pension provided by the employer's contributions and the annuity purchased from the worker's own savings would together be equal to one-half of the employee's final average salary at the time of retirement.

Pension and Annuity

The pension portion has always been met because its source, the employer's contributions, is created by a fixed predetermined fraction of the worker's salary, multiplied by his years of service. The annuity portion stems from a fund created by the employee's contributions. This annuity savings fund determines the amount of the annuity which can be purchased for the employee at the time of his retirement. Under normal conditions, this annuity was designed to equal one-fourth of the average salary of the employee for the last five years of employment.

In recent years, however, the acceleration of salary increases has been greater than had been anticipated, with the result that the salary average reflected by the annuity fund has turned out to be lower than the "final average salary." Consequently, some State employees, retiring with the expectation of an allowance of one-half of their final average salary, have been disappointed.

The pension portion of the allowance, stemming from employer contributions, is equal to the promised one-fourth, but the annuity portion, for the reasons stated above, may fall below its hoped for total. To remedy this situation, provisions were made, for a time, to allow employees to contribute to their annuity savings funds sufficient additional cash to purchase the desired annuity. This practice was discontinued, however, because the financial burden was prohibitive in most cases.

The 55-Year Plan

Ten years after inception of the system, at the behest of organized employees, the State made available to members of the system the privilege of retiring at 55 years of age. To do so, however, it was necessary to increase the employee's contribution so that the difference in cost between retirement at 55 and at 60 might be absorbed. The arrangement allowed the employee to pay this additional cash either in a lump sum or by contributing on a percentage basis. In either case, the payment had to be completed by the time the employee reached retirement age of 55. Those who had passed 55 could not benefit, moreover. This plan proved so costly to employees that less than six per cent of the members of the system throughout the State elected to come under the plan.

A new 55-year retirement plan, recommended last year by the Governor and adopted by the Legislature, not only permitted voluntary retirement at age 55 but granted an increase in the pension portion of the retirement allowance amounting to 16 2-3 per cent for the period of service up to age 55. Although under this plan the employee was required to increase his rate of contribution by 50 per cent above the normal 60-year rate and, in the case of those under 55, to pay a nominal or token contribution toward deficiency arrears, the total cost to the employee was no greater than for the 60-year plan. This new plan, moreover, was open to those over 55 as well as those under, and only the latter were required to make any contribution toward deficiency arrears. All members of the system had the privilege of paying the full deficiency arrears to bring their ultimate retirement allowances up to match the pension portion.

Upon reaching the age of 60—or 55 if the 55-year plan has been chosen—any member of the system may retire from service voluntarily. If the employee so desires he may continue in the service until age 70 when, with a few exceptions such as elective officials, retirement is compulsory. An application must be on file for at least 30 days before retirement becomes officially effective.

Benefits of the System

Under the 60-year plan the benefits (retirement allowance) payable to a member consist of a pension equal to 1/140 of the member's final average salary for each year of credited service plus an annuity purchasable with his accumulated contributions. If the member is entitled to credit for "prior service" (allowable service before 1921 or before his employer elected to become a participating employer in the system) he is entitled to an additional pension equal to 1/70 of his final average salary for each year of such prior service. If such a member has paid the maximum contributions to enable his to match the pension portion of the retirement allowance he would receive annually a total retirement allowance equal to 1/70 of his final average salary multiplied by the number of years of credited service.

Under the 55-year plan the retirement allowance would comprise a pension equal to 1/120 of his final average salary for each year of credited service up to age 55 and 1/140 of his final average salary for each year of credited service after reaching age 55 plus the annuity purchasable by his accumulated contributions. If this employee had "prior service" credit he would be entitled to 1/60 of his final average salary for each year of such prior service. If the maximum permissible contributions have been paid into his annuity savings account such a member, retiring under the 55-year plan after 30 years of service could expect a retirement allowance of approximately one-half of his final average salary.

Western Conference Has Day of Business, Pleasure At Brockport State College

BROCKPORT, May 12 — In what was described as one of its "liveliest" meetings, the Western Regional Conference, meeting at Brockport State Teachers College, ran the gamut from serious civil service business to hilarious fun on Saturday, April 26. With Conference president Noel F. McDonald supervising the proceedings, delegates representing some 15,000 State employees in the Western part of the State gathered to take stock of recent civil service advances, hear about plans for the future, and to have a day of pleasure at the same time.

Service Ratings, Merit Awards
During the afternoon session, the Conference heard Dr. David M. Schneider, chairman of the CSEA service rating committee; Raye Conrad, coordinator of field services at Brockport College; and James S. Quigley, acting secretary of the State Employees Merit Award Board.

Dr. Schneider described the new service rating system, worked out experimentally between his committee and the State Civil Service Department, which is being tried experimentally in several State agencies. He pointed out that the system, which aims to be as fair as is humanly possible, also is designed to be of help to the employee himself. The system (which has been described in The LEADER) calls for checking a large number of work characteristics. It abandons the concept that it is possible to "mark" an employee's work in the same way as an examination paper is marked. It provides for appeals from the findings.

Mr. Quigley described the workings of the State Merit Award Board, gave examples of prize-winning suggestions, and urged State employees to advance their suggestions, ideas, and inventions that might make government operations more efficient. Prizes running into hundreds of dollars have been awarded to State aides.

The evening meeting followed an excellent dinner in College Union. Main speaker was State Senator Earl Brydges, of Niagara Falls, who lauded the work of the Civil Service Employees Association and told of legislative activities. Dr. Donald M. Tower, president of Brockport State Teachers College, gave the welcoming addresses at afternoon and evening sessions.

A nominating committee was appointed with Denton Vander-Poel, of Thomas Indian School, as chairman. This committee's first report will be presented at an interim meeting in Batavia on May 17. The final report will be given on the day of election, June 21.

All arrangements for the event were handled by Francis J. Clafey, president of the Brockport Chapter, CSEA. The arrangements were called "perfect."

Next Conference meeting will be at the Festival of Roses, in Newark, N. Y., on June 21.

ABE WASSERMAN OFFERS PANAMA HATS

WEATHER POSES PROBLEM

ALBANY, May 13—Up for decision last week was the question: what to do about time off when it gets really hot?

The gravest miens of the State Civil Service Commissions are being worn in the attempt to solve this knotty problem.

You see, it's like this: When it gets too hot, employees say they can't work. They've been getting off early, often to the teeth-gnashing of private-industry employees working next door who couldn't get time off. Some of these private-industry people have on occasion become so irate as to phone the Governor's office about it. Tsk, tsk!

The Personnel Council, an august, serious-minded body of personnel officers, has been ruminating over the problem for many months. Finally, a resolution was proposed suggesting that hot weather leaves be granted on an individual basis and charged against sick leave or vacation. As it is now, when you get time off for hot weather, there's no penalty charged.

If It Gets Too Hot
So it looks, according to this plan, that if it gets too hot for you, you'll ask for time off and get it. But the fellow working next to you, a man of sturdier fibre, can take the heat, so he'll stay on. But in order not to make it too inviting to take time off, you'll be charged with it if you do.

Now the Civil Service Commission has to decide whether to adopt the new plan or stick with the old one. It couldn't come to a decision, so the matter was laid over till May.

THEY SAY

PRESIDENT TRUMAN: "I have never known a better group of people than the civil service employees of the United States. The way to provide most efficient service is to have government employees under the merit system."

Turbine Jockey. One of the tricky jobs Con Edison men do when they overhaul a turbo-generator is hoisting the rotating part of the turbine. Here Dennis Cullen signals to the crane man as preparations are made to lift the 152,000-pound giant. Regular overhauls keep all our equipment in top condition so that you get all the electricity you want—when you want it.

Con Edison is on the job!

If applying for State jobs, enclose 6-cent stamped, self-addressed 9" or larger envelope. The State accepts postmarks as of the closing date. The U. S. does not, but requires that the mail be in its office by 5 p.m. of the closing date. Because of curtailed collections, NYC residents should actually do their mailing no later than 6:30 p.m. to obtain a postmark of that date.

Courses Help Understand People

ALBANY, May 12. — A seven-week course on "Developing Group Participation" is now proceeding in Albany. The course, which began on Tuesday, April 29, is for chapter presidents of the Capital District Conference, Civil Service Employees Association. Classes will be held each Tuesday through June 10.

A second course, "Gaining an Insight Into Government's Role in the Community," is open to members of the Capital District Conference. This course, which began May 1, is held Thursday evenings.

Both courses are given under the School of Industrial and Labor Relations, Cornell University.

The first course has among its instructors Prof. Ralph N. Campbell of Cornell on "Understanding Your Community"; Prof. Wayne L. Hodges of Cornell on "Interpreting Your Organization to the Community"; Miss Catherine Boylan of Rensselaer on "Conducting Meetings"; and Hyman M. Forstner, of the State Mental Health Commission, on "Purposes and Uses of Conferences and Discussions."

The course on the government's role is divided into two main categories:

1. Our industrial community—changing patterns that have resulted from an agricultural to an industrial society. The role of government in industrial and labor relations.

2. The psychological aspects of industrial and labor relations (understanding human behavior in the work environment, goals of labor and of management). Lecturers are Joseph Rotundo, Assoc. Prof. of Economics, Union College; and Robert G. Lanzit, Personnel and Sales Mgr., Trojan Maid Co.

Information about these courses may be obtained from the Capital District Office, School of Industrial and Labor Relations, Cornell University, 142 Washington Ave., Albany 10, N.Y.

State Insurance Fund

THE MANY friends of Dr. Al Cohen of the Medical Department will miss him at the State Fund. They wish him well in his new job at the Workmen's Compensation Board. . . .

Sincere sympathy is extended to Fannie Schnapp, of Claims, upon the loss of her father. . . .

Much interest has been expressed in the course in Painting and Drawing for Beginners and more Advanced artists being given by Irwin Schlossberg at the Brooklyn Tech Community Center just over the bridge from Manhattan. Since this is a Community Center project there is no tuition. All those interested should contact Mr. Schlossberg. . . .

Bowling News Items! At the League's last meeting on April 29th, the Orphans clinched first place. They accomplished this with mathematical certainty by taking the Claims Sophs by a score of 3 to 1. They added insult to injury by clobbering them with a high game of 958. Thus they not only took the game but also deprived them of the season's honors in this department, since the Sophs had been tops till then with a 950 game.

Now the fight is on for the other places in the first division. There's a really close race for these honors as can be seen from the standings which are as follows:

| Team          | W.     | L.     | Pts.   |
|---------------|--------|--------|--------|
| Orphans       | 50 1/2 | 33 1/2 | 71 1/2 |
| Claims Srs.   | 47     | 37     | 61     |
| Medical       | 43 1/2 | 40 1/2 | 60 1/2 |
| Accounts      | 43     | 41     | 57     |
| Claims Sophs. | 42     | 42     | 56     |
| Payroll       | 42 1/2 | 41 1/2 | 55 1/2 |
| Safety        | 41 1/2 | 41 1/2 | 52 1/2 |
| Underwriters  | 39     | 45     | 50     |
| Personnel     | 37 1/2 | 46 1/2 | 49 1/2 |
| Policyholders | 33 1/2 | 50 1/2 | 47 1/2 |

Individual high score honors at this meeting go to Mallia with 219. Mallia is with the Orphans and he contributed his share with this game to the big game of 958 mentioned above.

Team high games went to Medical with 872, Orphans with 958 and in the third game, the Safety and Payroll teams not only played each other but tied each other with identical scores of 881.

As the end of the competition in the Bowling League draws near, the social minded Fundites begin to look forward to the Annual Bowling Dinner. This year it will be held on May 29th at the Boat House in Astoria. It will be a Beefsteak and all who attend are guaranteed a grand time. Bill Price will present the Chapter trophy and there will be time for lots of eats and fun. All those who want a good time should see the Team representative in their department.

City Court Justice Owen McIlvren was the principal speaker at the thirteenth annual Communion breakfast of the Catholic Guild, President Borough of Manhattan, held recently at the Hotel Tatler.

Mass was celebrated at St. Andrew's Church.

Borough President Robert F. Wagner, Jr., was honorary chairman of the breakfast and presented sacred vessels to the Franciscan Missionary Union, in memory of Charles S. Hand, Commissioner of Borough Works, on behalf of the employees.

On the dais were George W. Thompson, Assistant Commissioner of Borough Works, and Mrs. Florence M. Ferguson, secretary of the borough. Joseph A. McCarthy, general chairman, was toastmaster. George Kent Weldon was guest vocalist. Rosemarie Iorio, concert pianist, entertained.

The publicity committee consisted of Thomas P. Golden, chairman; George A. Sawyer; Edward T. Casey; and Bertha C. Lauer.

The Rev. Joseph A. Nelson is moderator of the guild.

More Laborers Sign Pay Pacts

Signing of the laborers' settlement is being handled by each NYC department as it receives the papers from the Comptrollers' Office. In some instances, the papers have been signed and returned, and in other departments they were signed last week.

Jerry Wurf, general representative, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, urged laborers to sign as quickly as possible to get their back pay, a wage increase and an agreement, to be re-negotiated each year, for better pay and working conditions.

"A lot of confusion about the papers seems to exist," Mr. Wurf said. "The basic conditions include starting salary of $2,700, with increments up to $3,180, and the right to file a prevailing rate claim any time after July 1, 1952. The union will provide free legal service after that time, to do away with the 15 percent retainer fee."

Laborers have signed and returned the papers in the Departments of Purchase, Marine and Aviation, and Police, and in the Board of Education. Papers were distributed in the Departments of Parks, Public Works, Water Supply, Gas and Electricity, and Hospitals.

"Signing the papers means getting back pay, a raise and a contract," Mr. Wurf added. "It does not mean giving up rights for a prevailing rate under Section 220 nor does it mean a cut in pay when the laborers go on the five-day week."

"Men in Water Supply and any other groups now receiving a differential will continue to get this differential above the $3,180 scale."

Report Urges Changes In NYC Pension System

NYC Comptroller Lazaraus Joseph, Chairman of the Mayor's Committee on Management Survey, delivered to Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri last week two reports on the City's 16 independent pension systems.

Both reports were prepared for the committee by Joseph Schechter, counsel to the State Department of Civil Service. Mr. Schechter, on leave from his State position, served the committee on personnel matters.

The first report by Mr. Schechter compares the major provisions of the various pension systems now maintained by the City.

The second report contains his recommendations for action.

Makes 10 Recommendations
Mr. Schechter's 10 recommendations:

1. Merge the Board of Education Retirement System (non-professional) with the NYC Employees' Retirement System.
2. Abolish Article 1-A of the Fire Department Pension Fund.
3. Consolidate within limits the administration of the retirement and pension systems.
4. Repeat the provisions of the Administrative Code which authorize the granting of annual pensions of one-half salary to policemen and firemen disabled while in military service.
5. Reduce from five years to one year the period following the resignation of a member of an actuarial retirement system, during which his accumulated contributions may remain on deposit and draw interest at the regular rate (4% for those who became members before July 1, 1947 and 3% for those who joined thereafter). Allow such members to leave their contributions on deposit for any period up to five years, but such contributions should earn interest only at savings bank rate (2% or 2 1/2%) for any period in excess of one year.

Eye on Social Security
6. Amend the Administrative Code relating to Police Pension Fund Article 2 and Fire Department Pension Fund Article 1-B, which requires the City to contribute 75% and members 25%, by providing that new entrants (after the change takes effect) shall contribute 35% and the City 65% and also by establishing a minimum retirement age of 45 years for those members of the two systems who elect to retire after 20 years' service.

7. Extend to employees of museums, institutes, botanical gardens, zoos, etc., whose salaries are paid out of City funds, coverage under a retirement plan comparable to that afforded to employees of the City's public libraries whose salaries are paid out of City funds.

8. Explore federal Social Security coverage to City employees who are presently covered by re-irement and pension plans, so that small allowances may be supplemented by federal old-age insurance and survivor benefits.

9. Study the financial status of retired City employees with a view towards legislation to implement the new State Constitutional amendment which authorizes pension increases.

10. Explore the possibility of uniformity among the retirement plans the benefits offered by the City's pension systems, and the contributions required.

Gulick Backs Uniformity
Mr. Schechter points out that any recommendations which will diminish or impair any retirement or pension benefits cannot, under the State Constitution, affect present members, but can be made applicable only to new entrants. In a foreward Luther Gulick, executive director of the Mayor's committee, stresses the importance of putting the various pensions on a more uniform basis.

Plans Completed for NYC Fireman Applications

The fireman jobs to be filled from the exam about to open will pay $71.63 a week to start, according to present plans of City officials. This is $325 a year more than the present starting pay. The new rates are scheduled to go into effect on July 1. After three years, the maximum pay of the fireman grade is attained, and under the new rates would be $91.92 a week. The annual salaries would be $3,725 and $4,780, respectively, instead of the present $3,400 and $4,400. Of the present pay, $250 is in the form of bonus, as the raises will be.

Would Be An Exception

The Budget Director's office is ready to recommend that the raises be allowed to new fireman appointees, and the Board of Estimate is expected to go along. However, new appointees in nearly all other jobs, exclusive of the uniformed police and fire forces, would not receive the raise at the beginning, though they might obtain equivalent increases later.

Exam Open June 10 to 25

Applications will be received at the Municipal Civil Service Commission's bureau, 96 Duane Street, two blocks north of City Hall, just west of Broadway, opposite The LEADER office. The dates are Tuesday, June 10 to Wednesday, June 25. The hours are 9 to 4, excepting Saturdays, 9 to noon. Do not attempt to apply before June 10.

The fireman applications will be the only ones issued during the first two weeks. After that the Commission will open a list of about 25 new exams for which applications will be issued and received, along with those for fireman, until June 25, after which the applications for other than fireman jobs will continue until probably June 30.

Written Test October 25

The fireman written test will be held on Saturday, October 25.

The present eligible list, containing about 4,200 names, expires on September 12, 1953. The Commission will not bring out the new list until after the other one has expired, especially as only about 350 appointments, on the basis of past hirings, would be made between now and the expiration date. That would leave about 3,850 disappointed eligibles, unless the list is declared appropriate for filling vacancies in other jobs, as is sometimes done. These other jobs, however, are not numerous, and pay less.

The pass mark in the competitive written test and the competitive physical test will be 70 per cent and must be attained in each of those two parts separately. The scores of those who pass these two and the medical test will be averaged. The resultant figure will determine one's standing on the list, unless veteran preference is claimed. For disabled veterans preference, 10 points are added to the earned scores of those who pass the exam as a whole, and 5 points for non-disabled veterans.

Information for Veterans

A war veteran may claim preference and withdraw a claim to use it in another exam. He might want to withhold such use until he takes an exam for promotion to lieutenant, if his score is high enough without the extra points to make his early appointment probable. Any veteran not in a hurry to be appointed, and who wants to save his points for future use, could consider the probability that the first thousand on the list likely will be appointed during the four-year legal life of the list. One reason to get appointed soon, however, is to get one's seniority started, and expedite the $1,000-a-year additional pay.

War Dates

The war period covered, for World War II, is December 7, 1941 to September 2, 1945. Also men who served in the armed forces any time between June 25, 1950 and discharge, or to the end of Korean hostilities, are entitled to veteran preference. This aspect affects an increasingly large number of veterans.

There will be no educational or experience requirements. Candidates must be between ages 20 and 29. Veterans over 29 may subtract from their actual age the length of time they spent in the armed forces.

It is expected that between 20,000 and 25,000 men will apply.

NYC Residence Required

Candidates must be age 21 before they may be appointed.

All appointees must have been residents of NYC for three consecutive years immediately preceding appointment. Some concessions are made to veterans who were NYC residents but who, on their discharge, couldn't find a place to live in NYC. However, the Commission is strict in construing such requests for a waiver of the residence law.

The minimum height is 5 feet, 6 1/2 inches. Weight must not be out of line with height.

How NYC Will Rate Policewoman Physicals

The candidates in the policewoman written test who get a passing mark and survive the medicals will have to pass a competitive physical. The pass mark is 70 per cent in each.

The four parts of the physical test will be as follows:

TEST I—Agility

Start, supine position, feet together; hands by sides. On signal, "Go," rise and run 10 yards to a maze of obstacles and dodge through; run 2 yards to a tunnel and proceed through; run 10 yards to vault box and scale it and sprint 40 yards back to starting line.

Questions and Answers In Last Fireman Test

The following are the official questions and answers in the last regular fireman (F.D.) exam held by NYC:

1. Suppose that, as a fireman, you are holding the nozzle of an operating hose line in the center of a large, smoke filled basement. The water supply suddenly fails, causing the hose line to go limp. The smoke has become so dense that no exit from the basement is immediately apparent. Of the following, the best action for you to take in order to escape from the basement is to (A) follow the nearest wall to your left until a door is reached (B) follow the nearest wall to your left until a door is reached (C) proceed rapidly to the nearest stairway (D) attempt to locate a large window (E) follow the hose line back to its source.

2. Suppose that, while fighting a fire, you are on the fire escape of a building. You are ordered to break a pane of glass in a window so that you can insert your hand to unfasten the window catch. Of the following, the least appropriate procedure to follow in carrying out this order is to (A) give warning to men working below so that they can get out of the way of falling glass, (B) use an axe or other long-handled tool so that you can break the glass without cutting your hands (C) stand directly in front of the window so that the broken pieces of glass can follow down the handle of the tool used (D) make the hole close to the catch so that you can easily reach the catch through the broken window, (E) make the hole large enough so that you will not cut your arm on jagged edges of glass.

3. "Just as it takes more than red paint and polished brass to make a fire engine, so also does it require more than muscle and a strong back to make a fireman." Of the following, the chief implication of the above quotation is that (A) strong men make good fire fighters (B) fire fighting is a technical job (C) equipment should be kept polished (D) polishing fire apparatus is difficult work (E) few fire engines are painted red.

4. Suppose that, as a fireman, you wish to force a locked window open so that you can enter a burning building. It is the usual double-hung type of window which slides up and down. Of the following, the best action for you to take is to insert the blade of an axe (A) between the upper and lower halves of the window and twist sharply (B) beneath the base of the lower sash and pry upward (C) between the window and the window frame on the right side and pry inward (D) between the upper window pane and sash and twist gently (E) between the window and the window frame on the left side and pry outward.

5. Suppose that you have stretched a line of hose up a fire ladder. You are holding the nozzle and are about to signal the pump operator to start the water. Of the following, the best reason for strapping yourself to the ladder is that (A) water leaving a nozzle exerts a backward force (B) the hose line containing the water may be very short (C) there may be several sharp kinks in the hose line (D) the ladder may be damaged or weakened (E) the nozzle is considerably above the level of the pump.

6. Assume that you are a fireman. During the course of your training, you are instructed not to open the nozzle of a hose line until you have actually located the fire. Of the following, the best justification for these instructions is that starting the flow of water from a hose line in a burning building before the fire is located may (A) force smoke out of the roof and windows (B) produce large quantities of fumes (C) cut off possible retreat (D) cause excessive water damage (E) smother the fire.

7. Assume that it is your function, when your company responds to a fire alarm, to sound the siren which warns other vehicles of the approach of fire apparatus. You are warned by your superior officer to interrupt sounding the siren for a few seconds when the apparatus approaches an intersection. Of the following, the best reason for this warning is that (A) it may be necessary for the driver of fire apparatus to concentrate on his driving when he approaches an especially dangerous intersection (B) most accidents involving fire apparatus and civilian automobiles occur at intersections (C) in an emergency, speed is more important than safety (D) other emergency vehicles may be sounding their own sirens as they approach the intersection from other directions (E) it is at intersections that a fire engine is driven most rapidly.

8. Assume that a fire has occurred in a tenement house. It is necessary to determine whether the fire is spreading inside the wall of a room, some distance away from the origin of the fire. Of the following, the circumstances which indicate least strongly that the fire is spreading inside the wall is that (A) the door leading into the room is warped (B) parts of the wall feel hot (C) smoke is issuing through cracks in the wall (D) the wallpaper is rapidly becoming discolored (E) the paint on the wall is blistering.

9. "After a fire has been extinguished, every effort should be made to determine how the fire started." Of the following, the chief reason for determining the origin of the fire is to (A) reduce the amount of damage caused by the fire (B) determine how the fire should have been fought (C) eliminate causes of fire in the future (D) explain delays in fighting the fire (E) improve salvage operations.

10. "A partially filled gasoline drum is a more dangerous fire hazard than a full one." Of the following, the best justification for this statement is that (A) a partially filled gasoline drum contains relatively little air (B) gasoline is difficult to ignite (C) when a gasoline drum is full the gasoline is more explosive (D) gasoline vapors are more explosive than gasoline itself (E) air is not combustible.

SENSATIONAL CAMERA AND FILM OFFER

$33.95 Value for Only $3.95

VEST-POCKET CAMERA IS LATEST BIG LEADER PREMIUM OFFER

Do you want a vest-pocket camera that was made to sell for $7.95, plus four packages of film, plus coupons that can be redeemed for an additional 48 packages of film—the equivalent value of $33.95—for only $3.95? If so—and we're sure you're interested now that picture-taking time is here—read on!

Two weeks ago the CIVIL SERVICE LEADER started a new policy of offering unusual buys to its readers. The first such offer was a ball point pen, personalized with individual name engraved in 22-carat gold, for only 25 cents. Thousands of readers took advantage of the offer—and thousands more would have done so if our supply had not run out.

We knew that the response would be overwhelming for we made sure that the manufacturer was offering something completely unusual. We checked these pens carefully, and the manufacturer guaranteed them to be scratch-proof, leak-proof and smudge-proof, with service guaranteed.

Last week we followed this offer with the Minna-Lee Ladies Shaver, a ladies shaver created and perfected by Samuel Briskman, inventor of the famous Pinking Shears. This item we were able to offer at 45 cents, far below the $2.50 at which it was last priced in retail drug stores. Made of nickel and chrome plated steel, rust proof and tarnish proof, this shaver is precision tooled to take any double-edged blade. Our checking showed that these shavers could not be manufactured today at less than $1.25.

Again the response was overwhelming until the supply was exhausted. Both with the ball pen and the shaver, we are trying to make arrangements with the manufacturers for additional supplies. If and when we are successful, we will let you know through the columns of The LEADER so that those who missed out will be able to take advantage of these valuable offers. Meanwhile those who were too late have already received their money back. We apologize for not having sent individual letters along, but there were just too many.

Encouraged by this response, we have gone ahead seeking other similar offers.

This week we are pleased to announce that we have made arrangements for an offer that is particularly suited for this spring and summer season. This is the Tynar camera, an American-made camera that fits into your vest pocket or purse, yet takes beautiful pictures of normal size. It was made to sell for $7.95.

The arrangements we have made allow readers of the CIVIL SERVICE LEADER to get one of these fine cameras, together with coupons redeemable for 52 packages of 14 films each. The $7.95 camera plus four packages of film plus coupons for the additional 48 packages—a total value of $33.95 if all are redeemed—are being made available for $3.95 plus a few cents postage.

Complete details of this offer will be found on another page. You will note that reservations have to be made, and the balance of $2.95 is to be sent with coupons from three successive issues of The LEADER. The first coupon appears in this issue on Page 2.

The reservation blank is given because, as with the pens and shavers, we have been able to arrange for only a limited number of these cameras. By reserving your camera immediately you can be sure that you will not be disappointed.

We suggest you look to the offer on Page 9 immediately.
