Powers Wins Fourth Term As President; Biggest Vote In Assn. History Is Cast; 40-Hour Week, Equitable Pay Is '58 Goal

ALBANY, Oct. 21—Four hundred and fifty delegates to the Annual Meeting of the Civil Service Employees Association here last week knew what they wanted.

In the first two of 85 resolutions approved by the delegates during two days of business meetings, they voted to demand a 40-hour week with no loss in take home pay for institutional aides; an increase in the take home pay of all State employees in an amount sufficient to establish equality with the general wage level and wages in private industry and an appropriation of sufficient funds to permit the correction of inequities that occur or are discovered.

In so doing, the delegates gave their Association officers and counsel free reign to bargain with the State in order to garner the greatest gains for public employees.

Many Items Covered

With Lawrence Kerwin, chairman of the Association's Resolutions Committee presiding, the delegates hammered out a legislative program for next year that covers the fields of wages, retirement, fringe benefits and improved working conditions.

CSEA Moves Closer To Gaining Voice In Health Plan

ALBANY, Oct. 21 — The Civil Service Employees Association last week moved a step closer toward its goal of having a voice on the administration of the State health insurance program.

Governor Averell Harriman, in announcing that a permanent health insurance board would be proposed in a bill to the Legislature next year, declared the bill would ask that employee representatives be put on the board "because of the large contributions by employees."

The Temporary Health Insurance Board will be dissolved on March 31. A new, permanent board, if there is to be one, must be set up to take over by that date.

John F. Powers, president of the CSEA, has insisted since the inception of the health insurance board, that the Association represent the employees on that board. Mr. Powers argued that not only were the employees entitled to such a voice due to the large financial interest they have in the program but also that since the Association originated the idea of such insurance and represented the majority of state employees, the CSEA should have a say in administration of the plan.

ALBANY, Oct. 21—John F. Powers won a fourth term as president of the Civil Service Employees Association by receiving the thumping total of 17,674 votes to 5,679 votes for his opponent, Thomas Conkling, of Willowbrook State School.

Mr Powers garnered the highest vote for his office of any president of the Association in a record-breaking balloting of 23,632 cast votes.

Both Mr. Powers and Mr. Conkling hailed the large vote as evidence of the healthy and vigorous interest of CSEA members in the affairs of their Association.

Other election results, announced at the forty-seventh annual meeting of the CSEA here last week, are:

First vice president: Joseph Feily, 12,364; Charles E. Lamb, 10,380.

Second vice president: Robert Soper, 14,545; John Graveline, 8,018.

Third vice president: Vernon Tapper, 14,145; Chester Nodine, 8,212.

Fourth vice president: Raymond G. Castle, 13,305; Claude Rowell, 9,044.

Fifth vice president: Albert C. Killian, 11,407; Charles Methe, 6,482; Henry S. Shemin, 4,597.

Secretary: Charlotte Clapper, 15,880; Delores Fussell, 6,742.

Treasurer: Harry G. Fox, 15,907; Frank M. Leonard, 6,752.

Lefkowitz A Guest

The new officers were installed by John Cromie, a past president of the Association, at the dinner held the last evening of the meeting.

For the first time, the Association had at one of its guests the Attorney General of the State. He was Louis J. Lefkowitz, who spoke briefly to the guests.

Others at the head table included Civil Service Commissioners Mary Goode Krone and William Morgan; Mr. Feily; William Connelly, retiring third vice president, John Powers and Mrs. Powers; Virginia Leatham, chairman of the CSEA Social Committee; Mrs. Mildred Meskil, chairman of the Board of Canvassers, who gave the election results; Paul Kyer, editor of The Leader, and The Rev. Thomas J. Gillen, pastor of St. Vincent de Paul Parish in Albany, who gave the invocation and benediction for the dinner.

Many Tributes to Falk

Two invited guests were missing. For the first time in 18 years Maxwell Lehman, Deputy City Administrator of New York City and former editor of The Leader, was unable to appear and sent a telegram expressing his regrets.

Also absent was Alexander A. Falk, president of the Civil Service Commission who is recovering from an illness.

Commissioner Morgan led the tributes to Mr. Falk and his sentiments were heartily seconded by Commissioner Krone, Attorney General Lefkowitz spoke of Mr. Falk "as my good personal friend and your friend, too."

Mr. Powers then said that al-

Lefkowitz Assures Both Police And Firemen Social Security In No Way Impairs Pensions

ALBANY, Oct. 21 — Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz rendered an opinion to Assemblyman Malcolm Wilson, chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee to Study the Employees' Retirement System, ruling that the extension of Social Security coverage to paid policemen and firemen in New York State would have no adverse effect on their pension or retirement rights.

Assemblyman Wilson had written Mr. Lefkowitz, stating that firemen and policemen had generally opposed Social Security coverage until recently in fear of an adverse effect on their retirement rights, and that despite their recent reversed position on this score, there were still some misgivings. He requested an opinion.

The Attorney General referred to the Constitution, Article V, Section 7, which provides that memberships in public pension or retirement systems in the State "shall be a contractual relationship, the benefits of which shall not be diminished or impaired." He then referred to Chapter 776 of the Laws of 1957, which was sponsored by Assemblyman Wilson and Senator Frank E. Van Lare, and which amended the Retirement Law and the Social Security Law to provide for Social Security coverage of the great majority of public employees of the State and its political subdivisions, including paid policemen and firemen. Coverage of policemen and firemen depended on getting the Federal law amended. Congress enacted the amendment and President Eisenhower approved it on August 30.

The Attorney General referred to several provisions of Chapter 776 which, he stated, were carefully written clearly to indicate that Social Security coverage was being extended to paid policemen and firemen in addition to the benefits to which they, their beneficiaries or dependents are entitled on account of their memberships in public pension or retirement systems maintained or supported by their public employers.

Mr. Lefkowitz concluded that "it was not legally possible under the constitutional provision to diminish or impair retirement benefits to which such public employees, including paid policemen and firemen, are entitled, and the Legislature did not, in the enactment of Chapter 776 of the Laws of 1957, in any way attempt to do so."

LEFKOWITZ GETS PERMISSION TO JOIN IN PROTEST IN COURT AGAINST REDUCED ANNUITIES

ALBANY, Oct. 21 — The Court of Appeals has authorized State Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz to intervene, as counsel to the State Employees' Retirement System, in a case protesting decreased annuity benefits.

The State Teachers' Retirement System ruled that the reduced annuity, based on increased life expectancy, is legal. The Attorney General sharply disagrees, backing up the protest of the Civil Service Employees Association.

The protest is made on the ground that the pension provision of the State Constitution would be violated. Whatever principle prevails would be applicable to all State and local government retirement and pension systems in the State.

THREE APPOINTED TO ACCOUNTING UNIT

ALBANY, Oct. 21 — Reappointed to the Certified Public Accountant Committee on Grievances were Samuel J. Board, New York City; Otto Shults, Rochester; James L. Strong, Buffalo. The terms are for five years.

The Constitutional section provides that membership in any pension or retirement system of the State or a civil division thereof shall be a contractual relationship, the benefits of which shall not be impaired or diminished.

R. C. ABBOTT APPOINTED

ALBANY, Oct. 21 — Richard C. Abbott of Niagara Falls has been appointed to the Small Business Advisory Council of the Joint Legislative Committee on the State's Economy. The appointment was announced by Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney. Mr. Abbott succeeds the late James Erskine of Madison.

Case Workers Sought for Jobs In Suffolk

The Suffolk County Civil Service Commission will hold an examination for senior case worker (public assistance) jobs in the Suffolk County Welfare Department. The job pays $4,250-$5,250. There are seven vacancies. There is a $4 filing fee.

The examination will be held on December 14 and will be open to all qualified persons who have resided in New York State for a period of one year.

Candidates must meet the following requirements: graduation from a standard senior high school equivalency diploma, and one year of satisfactory full-time paid experience in social case work, in the child welfare field, with a public or private social agency adhering to acceptable standards and any one of the following: graduation from a recognized college, university or normal school from a four-year course for which a bachelor's degree is granted and one year of satisfactory full-time paid experience in social case work with a public or private agency or a satisfactory equivalent combination of the foregoing experience and education.

Graduate training at an approved school of social work may be substituted for the required social case work experience on the following basis: 1 year graduate training for 1 year social case work; 2 years graduate training for 3 years social case work.

Applications may be obtained by writing or telephoning, Suffolk County Civil Service Commission, Riverhead, New York. Phone No. Park 7-3328. Application must be filed on or before November 29, 1957. Candidates will be notified by mail of exact time and place of examination.

The New York City Employees Retirement System, Mrs. Isabel M. Keleher, secretary, sent out notices to the 699 City employees who are age 70 or over, offering to estimate their retirement allowance. A little later similar notices will be sent to those employees who are age 65 or over (62 for women), up to age 70. The aim is to aid both groups of employees should they desire Social Security coverage, as the benefits to them come promptly, because they are at or over minimum retirement age under Social Security, and would have to pay in little, compared to the Social Security pension benefit.

Many Pensioners Rehired

Among the oldsters are numerous employees who retired from City service, some of them as far back as early 1956, and were rehired at the instance of their former departments that needed them and had vacancies. The fact that such rehiring has been taking place on a considerable scale has not been previously publicized, and shows that the City Administration is doing all it can to gain Social Security benefits not only for its employees in general, but even for as many of its pensioners whom it finds possible to rehire, and who seek return to City service for the considerable Social Security benefits to be gained.

The Board of Estimate already has approved 165 requests for extensions of service, made by such oldsters, men and women who otherwise might have been forced into retirement because of age and without benefit of Social Security. In fact, would have been so forced unless they had received extensions from the Board, except for a new law suspending age limits temporarily.

Ruling by Brown

Since the Board took that action, Corporation Counsel Peter Campbell Brown has rendered an opinion holding that the State law is self-executing, and that Board approval is unnecessary. Thus the way is open to rehired oldsters to go right ahead and inquire about what they'll probably get, in the way of a retirement allowance, and find out just how much extra Social Security will bring them, and at what comparatively trifling cost, with assurance of sufficient extension to enable them to qualify for Social Security pension.

Continuous employees in the 65-and-over group stand to benefit most for least payment by themselves because they would require only six quarters of coverage to be fully insured. To retire on a Social Security pension one must be fully insured, requiring at least six quarters of coverage.

To be covered for any period, everybody must have been on the payroll for that period, or part of it, with at least $50 salary for a given quarter, or $4,200 for the year. There is no retroactive coverage for a period of retirement.

By JOHN F. POWERS
President

Civil Service Employees Association

An Expression of Gratitude

It is with a deep feeling of gratitude that I thank the members of the Civil Service Employees Association for their vote of confidence in selecting me as President. My election is tempered by a feeling of humility as I realize the magnitude of the responsibility you have conferred upon me as your leader. I will offer every resource at my command to justify your faith in my leadership to achieve the goals you have set for your organization.

The year ahead will not be any easy one. We not only have a difficult legislative program, but we have the problem of maintaining the integrity of our beliefs as an independent organization against the attacks of other employee organizations. As I have said before many times, we cannot fail if we can submerge our individual differences and work for the common good of the betterment of the public service. An organization such as ours depends not on one man, but upon many.

The Presidency is only a symbol—the strength of the Presidency lies in the unity of the organization.

JEWISH STATE EMPLOYEES WILL MEET ON OCT. 24

Civil Service Dept. Employees Get First Polio Shots

ALBANY, Oct. 21 — Employees of the New York State Department of Civil Service received the first of a series of three polio immunization inoculations through teamwork between the CSEA chapter and the department itself.

The total cost to the employee for the series of three shots is $2.-25, the price of the vaccine alone. Personnel in the three cities where the Department has offices — Albany, New York, Buffalo — were eligible; and 237 of the 500 members of the staff signed up.

The second inoculation is scheduled for next month. There is a six or seven month interval between the second and third inoculations.

The original idea of immunizing employees came from the chapter. A special Polio Committee was set up within the chapter to get the vaccine, and collect individual payments. The Albany County Department of Health provided a nurse and medical equipment.

Member of the Polio Committee are Charles Rappazzo, chapter president; Theresa Cosco, treasurer; Bob Weatherby, Helen Kruse, Leonard Leonard, Virginia Anselment, Bernie Hines, Claire Fisher, Marianne Adams, and Don Hoyt.

HIP to Provide Flu Vaccine Free

The Health Insurance Plan of Greater New York (HIP) will provide Asian flu vaccine without charge to its subscribers, Dr. David P. Barr, president and medical director, announced.

Although the cost of drugs is not ordinarily included as an HIP benefit, the board of directors voted the money specially.

Services of physicians who administer the vaccine will be without charge to subscribers as part of HIP's program of fully prepaid medical, surgical, and specialist care provided through 32 medical groups of family doctors and specialists.

The program of inoculation of groups of New York City firemen and policemen enrolled in the plan has been completed and pharmaceutical houses have now released sufficient vaccine to permit the start of an immunization program for all HIP subscribers who request it.

"Although it now appears that we are in the later stages of the first wave of the epidemic," Dr. Barr stated, "this does not minimize the importance of moving ahead as quickly as possible with the injections. Immunity produced now will help protect the population from the possible effects of a second and more severe wave of the epidemic which may come later this year."

Hearing Aids Camouflaged

Microphones for the new hearing aids have been devised to permit concealment in the manner of Edgar Allen Poe's "Purloined Letter." They are in open view, but their function is not detected by the observer.

They are worn as stickpins, costume jewelry, tie clasps, lapel buttons and earrings to name a few of the many ways in which manufacturers have designed them for "invisibility."

While this phase of design has resulted in smallness of the units, their efficiency has been advanced many times. Sensitivity has been increased as power consumption has been reduced.

On Guard!

THIS is a warning to government as an employer. It should not hire experts from the outside to study and make recommendations on recruitment, administration, management, or anything else, or it will be in danger of being advised to do what it should have done long ago, but stubbornly refused to do.

Take as an example policing the 84 projects of the New York City Housing Authority. This was a security project, basically, so the Authority, in deciding that it could use impartial, expert outside aid, hired Arthur W. Wallander, former New York City Police Commissioner. The housing officers constitute the Authority's police force.

What did Mr. Wallander recommend?

That the number of housing officer jobs be more than doubled, and that pay be raised. From the lowest title to the highest one in the competitive promotion line, pay should equal that of the City's police force.

Unaccustomed Speed

Moreover, Chairman Philip J. Cruise is reported to hold Mr. Wallander's report in high esteem.

Government squirms under the competition of private industry for the best talent, but will not readily perform the very act that in nearly all instances will achieve the desired result—raise pay to what it should be.

The policemen in New York City have been waging a campaign for years, aided by police commissioners one after another, including the present Commissioner, Stephen J. Kennedy, for professional pay for the professional job they do. Firemen have been conducting a similar drive with equal vigor. Clerks have been trying to get their pay raised. Meanwhile the City is having difficulty in recruiting policemen, the housing officer examination proved no recruitment bonanza as evidenced by the fact that the closing date had to be extended, and City officials are worried about obtaining the clerical administrators of the future as they report the general standard of new applicants does not measure up to that of the applicants who stormed the City's hiring office during the depression.

Too Little Is Too Bad

Other instances of low pay are numerous, including those of institution, dietary and housekeeping aides in the Department of Hospitals, who are in the City's lowest-paid category. Motor vehicle operators, laborers and exterminators are other examples. Also, social investigator jobs are hard to fill, and even when filled don't stay filled often enough or long enough. The fiasco of the attempted hiring of engineering and architectural help is history, and even modest increases in starting pay in those titles have produced little or no improvement, proving that the salary should have been raised much more.

Only in rare instances will higher pay fail to cure the hiring ills of which government complains, cases in which the workload is arduous and nervous tension runs high. Even then, higher pay would be remedial, if not a complete cure.

Even if government fringe benefits are considered a bit more liberal, or the pension system as affording a better deal for the employee than private industry offers, the lack is more prohibiting than the existence is

SOCIAL SECURITY

Retroactive Coverage Is Necessary and a Boon

Some persons say that they still don't fully understand the reasons for City and State employees being required to pay Social Security taxes back to March 1956, since they couldn't receive any benefits before 1957.

There are two advantageous reasons why the tax payment must go back so far.

First, under a special rule, civil service employees will become fully protected immediately for payment of all types of benefits if they elect coverage under Social Security. For younger persons with families, survivors' benefits would be payable upon the death of the worker. Older workers could qualify for retirement benefits immediately, or as soon as they reach Social Security retirement age (62 for women; 65 for men).

Second, retroactive coverage to March, 1956 gives workers credit for wages in a year which must be used in figuring benefits if there has been no previous work under Social Security. This tends to keep the average earnings level high. Since benefits are based on average earnings, the higher the average, the higher the benefit.

Retroactive coverage is a special privilege Congress has given to state and local employees. If the privilege had not been granted, most civil service employees could not qualify for benefit payments of any type until at least a year and a half after the coverage agreement is signed.

Letters to the Editor

REHIRING OF PENSIONERS CALLED BLOW TO ELIGIBLES

Editor, The Leader:

A current situation in the New York Fire Department threatens the security of all men on promotion eligible lists. A retired deputy chief is arranging to be put back on active duty. He retired on November 1, 1956. This may start a rush of retired men in all ranks and departments to get back on the rolls, to take advantage of higher pensions, Social Security, and higher salaries. This would be highly disadvantageous to eligibles. The cost to the city in increased pensions would be tremendous.

FIRE ELIGIBLES, ALL RANKS

THE PRO AND CON OF LIST EXTENSION

Editor, The Leader:

There is a civil service requirement that an eligible list continue for at least one year and for not more than four years. As the inevitable end of the four-year period approaches, eligibles become jumpy over the possibility of not being reached in time to be "made"

To prepare anew for the next examination is exhausting and distasteful. The disappointment of not having been reached before the expiration of the list is crushing. An effort should be made to make possible the extension of the expiration date.

An orderly system of governmental regulation calls for a certain amount of inflexibility. This makes extensions impossible in the ordinary course where there is no dearth of qualified applicants to warrant the continuance of a list. But there is occasional good reason for extension.

The thought as being mere unreasonable selfishness is, in itself, brazen. It is interesting to tabulate the thinking that is possible "pro" and "con." An objective evaluation of what is proper becomes more likely thereby.

Proponents of discretion to extend a list's life declare that mere passage of time should not penalize an otherwise qualified person.

Rehired Pensioners

Retired personnel who are permitted to return to their employment for periods sufficient to establish Social Security coverage will delay the normal making of appointments. Thus will it be said that an extension is necessary to compensate for the interruption in the natural course of events.

A present list may contain names of the many who were on prior lists that expired. These persons are entitled to extension.

Also, it will be said that relative standings on a list do not reflect greater or lesser qualification for the job; they merely indicate a greater or lesser facility in coping with a particular examination. Accordingly, anyone who passes is qualified and all who qualify should receive appointment.

It can be argued that extension represents saving the cost of a new examination. Presumably, the fee does not cover costs.

Opponents of extension are the supporters of the arbitrariness of a legal limitation of four years. Further, they assure us that there is no lack of qualified applicants such as would otherwise lend credence to the need for preserving the list indefinitely. Also, they say that with civil service enmeshed in reclassification, there is danger that extending the life of a list would preclude those not on a list from ever getting a chance to qualify.

The opposition to extension can declare that the public is entitled to the best the tax dollar can attract. Arbitrarily to keep a list going for more than four years may deny an opportunity to more qualified persons waiting for an opportunity to take the new examination.

Arguments in Opposition

Should extension cover a set period, and should the list be exhausted before the terminal date, the door would be opened to the appointment of unqualified provisionals during the remaining period, is another point made by opponents.

Another argument is that extension would set a precedent harmful to the principles of civil service.

At one time or another the "pro" or the "con" may be in the majority. Such fluctuation doesn't merit the dignity of a rule requiring that the wishes of a momentary majority be carried out.

The "pro" group will have to submerge its desires to the greater weight of the suggested impartiality inherent in the notion of civil service.

JULIUS CHAIET

tempting. Moreover, the contrast between private industry's and government's fringe benefits has lost the sharpness it once possessed.

Reid Committee Prospect

Government is hard to move, but it can be moved, as the Wallander example should verify.

Maybe the committee that Mayor Robert F. Wagner has appointed to survey the City's manpower problem will benefit employees, and the City as a whole as well. After all, William Reid is chairman. He knows the score on municipal personnel problems.

Yes, the City government had better be on its guard.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

SINCE I AM collecting checks for my two children under 18, as well as for myself, based on my late husband's work, does that mean, under the rule permitting $1,200 of earnings a year for each beneficiary, that I may earn $3,600 a year before any checks are stopped? P. L. V. I.

No. The $1,200 rule applies to each person separately. If you earn more than $1,200 a year, some or all of your checks would be withheld, depending on when you worked and your total yearly earnings. But your children would continue to receive their checks, regardless of your earnings unless either or both of them earned more than $1,200 in a year.

I HAVE BEEN TOLD that family employment doesn't count under Social Security. I've been working part-time as a cashier in my brother's restaurant, and he pays me $30 a week. Can't I get (Continued on Page 16)

How to Get Social Security Card Quickly

Employees who never had a Social Security card must have one, before they can be covered by Old Age and Survivors' Insurance.

Application must be made on a special form issued by the Social Security Administration. The filled-out form may be returned to the State or local government Comptroller through one's own personnel office, or mailed, in the case of persons employed in and near New York City, to the Social Security Administration, Room 400 at 42 Broadway, New York City. Blanks may be obtained also at the Broadway address.

In the run of cases a card is received within three days after the filled-in form has been submitted. If an applicant previously had a card, it takes at least a week to get a new one because of the research involved.

Employees who intend to be covered by Social Security should lose no time in getting a card, if they don't have one already.

$143⁷⁵ a month
helps her pay the bills

$143.75 a month means a lot to a state employee in Rochester who is suffering from a blood disease. This is the amount she received in disability benefits every month for 24 months because she had enrolled in the CSEA Plan of Accident and Sickness Benefits.

If you should be stricken with an accident or illness, you too would want money to help meet your regular living expenses while you were out of work. That's why it pays to enroll in the CSEA Plan of Accident and Sickness Benefits. This needed protection is not included in the new State Health Plan.

Opinions By Lefkowitz

The following are digests of informal opinions rendered by State Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz.

Employees of the City of New Rochelle, who are eligible for membership in the New York State Employees' Retirement System but are not members when Social Security coverage is extended to such employee members of the Retirement System who desire it, are required to be covered by Social Security. Retroactive coverage for such employees may not extend to a date earlier than August 1, 1956.

Section 73 and 74 of the Public Officers Law, dealing with conflicts between official duties and private interests, are inapplicable to an Assistant District Attorney.

Miracle Magnets

I see where the Mayor has proclaimed October 20 to 26, "Cleaner Air Week." I'm sure you're all for it. So's Con Edison.

When we heard that news, Tex and I trotted over to Con Edison to find out how their Smoke Control Program is coming along. And we learned an amazing fact: since 1937, Con Edison has invested $56,000,000 on smoke control equipment.

To filter the smoke from Con Edison stacks, they use man-made cyclones that spin heavier particles of dust and ash into spots where they can be trapped. That's not all—the smoke passes through high-voltage electric charges which attract dust the way a magnet attracts iron filings. (In fact, the Company even has television cameras trained on stacks and keeps them under constant observation.)

Con Edison told us that while they've done a lot to keep the air clean they know there's plenty of expensive work ahead. Just to equip one of Con Edison's new stacks is costing $5 million.

Their work on smoke control is just a sample of how—while filling your needs for dependable gas and electricity—Con Edison works in other ways to make our city a better place to live.

Questions Answered On Social Security

Social Security credit for this work? L. C.

The work you do is covered by Social Security, and must be reported. Family employment that doesn't count under Social Security includes work by a parent for a child, working for one's husband or wife, or work by a child under 21 for a parent.

CAN I WAIVE part or all of my Social Security benefits to meet the income limitation to a VA pension? J. J. O'R.

No There is no legal authority to waive Social Security payments once you have begun to receive them. Therefore, the VA rules that a veteran may not waive Social Security payments in favor of receiving VA payments. However, the amount of VA benefits you receive will not reduce the amount of any retirement or survivor's payment you receive under Social Security.

I PLAN TO ADOPT my four-year-old niece who is now in an orphan's home. Would this adoption stop her Social Security checks? P. E.

No. A surviving child adopted by a stepparent, grandparent, aunt or uncle continues to receive Social Security benefits. If the child were adopted by someone else, the payments would end.

IT IS absolutely necessary for me to present a birth certificate when I file for Social Security benefits? I don't even know if there is a public record of my birth because the law did not require births to be reported when I was born? C. A. L.

In many states, birth registrations weren't required until after 1900. Age in many retirement cases is established by other evidence. A public marriage record is usually acceptable if age or date of birth is shown. Hospital birth records, baptismal records, school records, or an old insurance policy showing age or date of birth may also be used. Foreign born applicants may also have their arrival records or naturalization records available.

MY HUSBAND earns more than $4,200 a year and he expects to receive the maximum benefit of $108.50 when he retires in a few years. I've been paid a salary of $3,600 a year for several years and I will retire at age 65, which will be a few weeks after my husband is age 65. Will I receive only half of what he receives? A. B. L.

If you maintain your present earnings level, you should receive $98.50 a month if you file at age 65. You would not get a wife's benefit on your husband's record because your own benefit would be higher than half your husband's amount. A wife may receive only the higher of either her benefits on her own coverage or those under her husband's coverage.

IS THERE any possibility that opportunity will be provided to present public employees to get Social Security coverage without retroactive lump-sum payment? I was covered by Social Security about 18 years ago. I voted on Social Security but now have changed my mind and would like to have coverage. Is it too late?

There is no prospect of any coverage without the lump-sum payment. Notify your department's personnel clerk that you desire to withdraw your negative declaration. You will not be able to vote in the referendum but you will get coverage if the referendum vote is affirmative.

I HAVE BEEN employed by the State Department of Correction for several years. I am the sole support of my family. When it comes time to pay the amount of money necessary for the retroactive period I had intended to have the amount taken out of my retirement fund. Now I'm informed that if I use that money I shall be forced to repay it with compound interest. Why am I forced to pay interest on my own money? I signed for Social Security but now I'm wondering if I did the proper thing. I just can't afford to lay out $100 out of my pocket.

If you can not afford to pay the retroactive tax out of your pocket you may either reduce your pension contributions to the State Employees' Retirement System by the amount of the tax, or borrow the money from the System. Any reduction of your increase annuity savings would result in your future rate of contribution to the State System being reduced and your annuity at retirement time would be less. No interest payment is involved, except in the case of a loan. An interest rate is involved, but actually you are being charged only the difference between the interest rate paid to you on your annuity savings and the interest rate on your loan. The loan is an accommodation afforded you by the System and is in no sense a money-making project. You are not being charged interest on your own money, nor compound interest, in any case. Money has no earmark and your annuity savings are not subject to withdrawal, contrary to savings bank conditions. You did well to declare for Social Security and under the circumstances should use the split payment method instead of the loan method.

DO the Social Security taxes I pay include a contribution for unemployment insurance taxes?

No. Social Security taxes are paid into two trust funds: the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund, and the Federal Disability Insurance Trust Fund. Only retirement survivor, and disability insurance benefits are paid from these funds. In New York State, your employer pays the full amount of the unemployment insurance tax.

I AM a State employee and a member of the State Employees Retirement System. If I join Social Security now and pay for the retroactive six quarters would I, as a woman, be able to retire at age 62? How much would I draw? I am now 59 and my salary is about $3,200.

Yes, about $90 a month.

Lefkowitz Explains Law On Time Off for Voting

ALBANY, Oct. 21—A statement explaining the law on time off to vote was issued by Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz. He said: "An employee entitled to vote may absent himself from his employment for two hours while the polls are open. However, in order that no deduction shall be made from his usual earnings and no other penalty imposed the voter must notify his employer before the day of election of such intended absence; if on the date of the notice the employer designates two successive hours for such absence, the voter must use the hours designated, but if the employer fails to make the designation, the voter may then use any two successive hours while the polls are open.

"The statute applies equally to weekly, daily, hourly or piece-work wage earners.

"An employee is entitled to the time off so long as any part of his working day coincides with any time during which the polls are open.

"Employees of the State and all its civil divisions, including cities, towns and villages, are specifically covered by the statute. However, it does not apply to Federal employees."

Attorney General Lefkowitz also referred to Section 759 of the Penal Law, which provides that a person or corporation refusing an employee time off for voting, or subjecting an employee to a penalty or reduction of wages because of the exercise of such privilege, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Later, Mr. Powers received a congratulatory telegram from Commissioner Falk. It read:

Falk's Telegram

"Warmest congratulations upon your reelection. There is ample evidence over the last two and a half years the state has become a better, if not as yet model, employer. There is still much to be accomplished. Continued co-operation and mutual trust between you and your colleagues on the one hand the Civil Service Commission and Department on the other assure future progress in this direction. Please extend my felicitations to all the successful candidates. Only illness stays me from joining you on this happy occasion. Affectionate regards and best wishes to all."

The evening ended with a dance.

Study Material for Patrolman Test

30. A foot patrolman who is several blocks away observes a woman being dragged into a car, which drives off very rapidly. Of the following, his "first" action should be to (A) call headquarters from the nearest call-box or public telephone (B) commandeer a private car and pursue the other car (C) shoot in the direction of the scene as a warning (D) step in to a hallway and await the approach of the car.

31. A citizen requests police assistance in locating his adult son who has not been home for a period of twenty-four hours. Questioning of the citizen reveals no reason for the son's absence. The most appropriate of the following actions that the police should take is to (A) advise the citizen to contact all nearby hospitals and then contact the police again if this is not successful (B) conduct a thorough investigation in an attempt to locate the missing son (C) politely inform the citizen that no police action will be taken since the son is an adult (D) suggest that the citizen wait several days and if his son has not returned home, they will accept the complaint.

32. A patrolman is guarding the entrance of an apartment in which a homicide occurred. While awaiting the arrival of the detectives assigned to the case, he is approached by a newspaper reporter who asks to be admitted. The patrolman refuses to admit him. The patrolman's action was (A) wrong; the police should cooperate with the press (B) right; the reporter might unintentionally destroy evidence if admitted (C) wrong; experienced police reporters can be trusted to act intelligently in this situation (D) right; this reporter should not be given an advantage over other newspaper men.

33. A radio patrolman investigating a reported store hold-up, which occurred shortly before his arrival, enters the store. The sales clerk who witnessed the hold-up starts telling the patrolman, in a confused and excited manner, what had happened. The best for the patrolman to follow initially is to (A) ask the clerk to write out an account of what had happened (B) let the clerk tell her story without interruption (C) try to confine the clerk to answering relevant questions (D) wait until the clerk calms down before taking her statement.

34. A phone call is received at police headquarters indicating that a burglary is now taking place in a large loft building. Several radio motor patrol teams are dispatched to the scene. In order to prevent the escape of the burglars, the two patrolmen arriving first at the building, knowing that there is at least one entrance on each of the four sides of the building, should first (A) station themselves at diagonally opposite corners, outside of the building (B) enter the building and proceed to search for the criminals (C) station themselves at the most likely exit from the building (D) enter the building and remain on the ground floor attempting to keep all stairways under observation.

35. Permanent Personal Registration has recently become a law in New York City. The one of the following which is the most accurate comment on this law is that (A) it is a result of state legislation making such permanent registration compulsory throughout the state (B) the house-to-house check of registered voters will be made by Board of Election personnel (C) the voter must vote at least once every two years for registration to remain in effect (D) voters will be supplied with identification cards which will include their fingerprints.

36. A Sports Center Authority has recently been established for the purpose of erecting a stadium to be used as the home grounds of the (A) Brooklyn Dodgers (B) municipal colleges (C) New York Giants (D) New York Yankees.

37. The major purpose of alternate-side-of-the-street parking, now in effect in certain areas of New York City, is to (A) allow for proper cleaning of the streets by the Department of Sanitation (B) discourage motorists from using these areas for any kind of parking (C) give a greater number of motorists an opportunity to utilize the available parking space (D) insure that fire hydrants will be accessible at all times to the Fire Department.

38. Many Drivers' Sight Is Defective

More than one out of five of the licensed drivers in the United States may be unable, with or without glasses, to meet the minimum standards for safe vehicle operation set by safety authorities, according to a pilot study of 8,000 persons in 25 states conducted by the American Optometric Association.

A broader study is now under way. The results of that inquiry and other related studies are expected to show that the percentages of vision failures contained in the report are close to those that will be found in any cross-section of drivers.
