HAPPY NEW YEAR

Nassau, Suffolk CSEA Chapters Break Talks, Walk Out On Bargaining

Suffolk

SMITHTOWN—Contract talks between the Civil Service Employees Assn. and Suffolk County were broken off by the mediator last Wednesday after the County submitted its first concrete financial offer.

Suffolk chapter president Frank Imholz reported that mediator Louis Yagoda ruled that the parties were too far apart for further mediation efforts, and urged the County mini-PERB to appoint a fact-finder.

Imholz said the CSEA demands were within the range that would be approved under Federal inflation-control guidelines, but that the County's offer was "ridiculous."

It was learned that the County had proposed a flat cost-of-living adjustment without normal increments, a proposal that Imholz said had already been overruled by the national Pay Board. CSEA demanded a cost-of-living adjustment above the present graded salary schedule plus increased fringe benefits and parity with increases negotiated for any other County employees.

Imholz said that the CSEA had no objection to the appointment of Yagoda, who is on the staff of the Cornell School of Industrial and Labor Relations, as fact-finder. The choice is up to the mini-PERB.

Nassau

MINEOLA—The board of directors of the Nassau chapter of the Civil Service Employees Assn. last week unanimously voted chapter president Irving Flaumenbaum the power to "adopt whatever means necessary" to achieve good faith in negotiations.

The action came after the negotiating team had broken off talks with the County for the third time.

At Leader presstime, talks were tentatively renewed to receive a County proposal on economic items, but the outcome was in doubt.

The course of negotiations was the rockiest in County history, and Flaumenbaum had advised the Board of Supervisors that the tradition of amicable labor-management relations was at stake.

The CSEA negotiating team had advised the County that its demands would fall within Federal inflation-control guidelines.

However, the County at first proposed to terminate graded salary plans—a suggestion that was withdrawn—and then submitted a proposal with no cost-of-living adjustment.

Levitt OKs Payroll Deduction For New CSEA Auto Insurance

(Special to The Leader)

ALBANY—The last major hurdle toward providing State employee-members of the Civil Service Employees Assn. with low-cost automobile and home owners insurance was cleared last week with the announcement that State Comptroller Arthur Levitt has granted CSEA separate payroll deductions for the convenient payment of premiums under these plans.

The new coverage also will be offered to thousands of CSEA members in local governments where separate payroll deduction for this new program can be made available. A CSEA spokesman said that payroll deductions for the automobile and homeowners insurances will be separate from deductions taken out for CSEA's other insurance plans, "thus eliminating a major administrative headache."

CSEA president Theodore C. Wenzl extended his sincere thanks to Levitt "for his cooperation in helping to make these new CSEA benefits a reality."

This new insurance program, called MASTERPLAN, will be underwritten by The Travelers Insurance Company and administered by CSEA's insurance agency, Ter Bush and Powell, Inc.

Separate payroll deductions for the insurances will be put into effect as soon as mechanics (Continued on Page 16)

Letter to Rockefeller

Met Conf Calls For Pension Rep

In a strong resolution passed unanimously by the executive board members of the New York City Metropolitan Conference of the Civil Service Employees Assn., Conference president Randolph V. Jacobs was requested to urge Governor Rockefeller to appoint immediately a State employee to a permanent seat on the permanent commission on public employee pension systems.

Dismay and resentment were expressed by the delegates to the meeting over the fact that they had no direct say in matters affecting the retirement system. Jacobs said that to him it was "totally incomprehensible that the Retirement System, which now has over $4 billion dollars contributed by public employees, should not have a public employee representative." Jacobs further said that he would immediately convey to the Governor his sentiments on the delegates' resolution and that copies of his communication would be sent to Theodore C. Wenzl, president of CSEA; Arthur Levitt, Comptroller of the State of New York;

Senator Earl Brydges, Majority Leader of the Senate; Perry Duryea, Speaker of the Assembly; Joseph Zaretski, Minority Leader of the Senate; Stanley Steingut, Minority Leader of the Assembly, and to Senator John E. Flynn, chairman of the Sen-

Fire Officers Cite Leader & Columnist

Editor, The Leader:

The Uniformed Fire Officers Assn. deeply appreciates the comments by reporter-photographer Paul Thayer in his Dec. 7 column "Fireflies."

The Lindsay Administration continues to insist that municipal workers be defamed before, during and after contract negotiations. Paul Thayer told the whole story and put the blame squarely where it belongs—in City Hall.

Thank you for your courage in printing Mr. Thayer's story, and thank you for granting us permission to reprint that column in the Daily News.

Training School Success To Suffer

Editor, The Leader:

It has come to light in recent weeks that the budget for the Division For Youth is being cut and may necessitate the closing of three (3) training schools.

There has been a counter proposal by the director of the Division For Youth, Milton Luger, to cut school budgets by as much as 30 percent. Local administrators in reviewing the proposal have found the only way they can live with these proposed cuts is to lay off staff. Being that 84 percent of the school budget is made up of payroll, there is little room to make savings in the 16 percent remaining.

If training schools are to provide a successful rehabilitative program, then it is imperative that these cuts do not come about.

It is ironic that we should find ourselves in this position after coming into the Division For Youth from the Department of Social Welfare. Under the direction of the Department of Social Welfare, we were often lost in the shuffle, being that we were a very small part of a very large operation. Many of our needs were not fulfilled to provide a better rehabilitative program.

We have come under fire in recent years from civil liberties unions, legal aid societies, courts, citizens committees and the public because they claim we are nothing more than children's prisons. This is not true and we invite the people to come and see the real facts, before making such criticisms. Many of us felt when we became part of the Division for Youth that we would be able to institute programs that would enable us to be more helpful in treating youthful offenders.

With proper direction from the Division, all that is needed is the money because the concern and dedication is there in the people who staff training schools. This is why it is imperative that Budget does not cut the original budget submitted by the Division. The task that now lies ahead is for us to convince Budget that this essential service cannot be provided with any less staff than we have already. A job well done in rehabilitating a

Field Investigation Exposure Required To Be State Prober

The minimum requirement specified for Law Dept. investigator with the State is four years in conducting field investigations as a prelude to civil litigation or criminal prosecution. The preparation of written reports must fall within these duties.

Additional requirements are noted: graduation from an accredited four-year college or law school, or two more years of the aforementioned experience. An equivalent combination is of course acceptable.

Vacancies have been observed in Buffalo, New York City, Poughkeepsie, Rochester and Syracuse. In most locations, starting pay will be $10,844. However, area pay provides an additional $200 for those serving both in New York City and Rochester (Monroe County).

Job duties will find the appointee securing evidence for the defense of negligence cases; investigating and verifying the qualifications of witnesses; securing evidence in the form of statements and documents for presentation in court. Reissued Announcement No. 23-443 spells out subject matter scheduled for the Feb. 26 exam.

To be tested, applicants must file by Jan. 24. Contact the State Civil Service Dept. at any of the addresses given on page 15 of this edition.

TV Production Asst. Posts Await

Applications are now being accepted for the post of program production assistant. The salary is from $7,200 per year. There are four openings, these located at the Board of Education and Municipal Services Administration. The TV director post is the next in the promotional series.

Qualifications for selection include baccalaureate including pertinent courses or two years of television broadcast experience plus completion of high school education. The examination will be April 5, using an oral exam format. For complete details, see examination announcement No. 1228, available at the City Personnel Dept. until the Jan. 25 deadline.

For information concerning how to apply for this position, see page 15 of this issue.

youthful offender will visibly take much of the pressure off correction in a few short years. Much of the criticism of training schools has been unjust and unfair. We know that we can provide the kind of results expected from us if Budget will give us a chance.

We feel that Mr. Luger should join us in fighting these cuts and not trying to find ways in which to implement them.

CSEA Member Fights Back; Says He Was Dismissed For Good Work On Grievances

(From Leader Correspondent)

SYRACUSE—A discharged employee of the Upstate Medical Center here is seeking reinstatement on two grounds.

Salvatore (Sam) R. Misita charges in a proceeding before the State Public Employment Relations Board that he was discharged because of his union activities as the grievance representative of the Civil Service Employees Assn.'s State University at Syracuse chapter.

He also has asked the State Supreme Court to order his reinstatement as a chauffeur at the medical center, alleging that the position has not been abolished, as he was told, and that he could not be discharged without a hearing, as he is an honorably discharged U.S. Marine Corps veteran.

Misita says he was employed as a chauffeur at the center since 1967, driving both ambulances and the institution's president, Dr. Lewis W. Bleumle and his predecessor.

He also maintains that the position of chauffeur and that of motor vehicle operator are similar. Therefore, if the position of chauffeur has been abolished, he should be employed as a motor vehicle operator, since at least one person now holding that position at the center does not have the seniority he has, and is not a veteran.

In his suit, Misita cites that he presented numerous grievances for employees to supervisors and department heads. He alleges that as a result of his "persistence in representing the employees in his department, certain personal friction developed between your petitioner and some of his department heads."

He also charges that in February 1971, after he had successfully resolved a grievance, his immediate supervisor "made a statement to two other fellow employees that he would 'have to get even with Sam.'"

He notes that under Section 75 (1)(b) of the Civil Service Law, he could not be removed from his position except for incompetence or misconduct shown after a hearing upon stated charges.

He also alleges that he was the only one of 300 employees discharged in the Department of Maintenance and House-keeping during the recent budget cuts.

His court action, he states, is different from the unfair employer practice proceedings he filed against the medical center and its president, and so the proceeding on that charge (that he was fired because of his union activity) should not affect the court proceeding, since the issues to be determined are different.

However, the court has reserved a decision on the case until a ruling comes from PERB.

Michaelian for their completion of 25 years of service. The ceremony took place at the District Health and Social Services building in White Plains on Nov. 30.

Michaelian told the honorees that "by your example of efficiency, courtesy and professional help over the years, it is your work by which the public judges the quality of government in Westchester."

Dr. Leonard Berman, executive officer, and James W. Dolen, personnel officer, were also present for the ceremony, in which the respective department head introduced each employee and cited highlights in his or her career. The group was one of the largest of 25-year veterans to be honored in recent years in the annual County event.

Reorganization Move Fought By Suffolk Chapter

SMITHTOWN — The Suffolk chapter of the Civil Service Employees Assn. has urged the State to block a proposed reorganization of the County's Social Services Department because it would curtail promotional opportunities.

In a letter to State Social Services Commissioner George K. Wyman, Suffolk chapter president Frank Imholz said the plan was "untimely and unfair."

He noted that the reorganization had been offered by lame-duck County Executive H. Lee Dennison. "To propose such a sweeping reorganization and then conveniently exit, avoiding both the administration and the responsibility of such a change, raises the question of credibility," Imholz said.

In addition, Imholz protested that the plan adopts a proposal to fund 51 grade 20 and 22 positions under the Federal Emergency Employment Act. This would transfer normal promotional opportunities to the EEA program, under which employees would not be eligible. CSEA had earlier objected to the plan and revisions have been indicated, but Imholz said that no disposition had been reached.

The chapter represents 1,300 employees in the Social Services Dept.

Spend your health care dollar as carefully as you spend your car dollar.

It's MORE important

Some car buyers make buying a new car a career, hobby, exercise in haggling, "let's beat-the-dealer-at-his-own-game" game and spend weeks doing it.

Yet, the same person will sign up for health insurance without giving the options and choices a second thought.

Doesn't make sense does it?

When you choose THE STATEWIDE PLAN, you don't have to spend time comparing and reading — but we'd certainly be glad to have you do so, so that you know you've made the wise choice. At Blue Cross and Blue Shield, we've been improving the STATEWIDE PLAN for many many years. It's tailored to the needs of public employees. Its cost is reasonable, but its benefits are realistic benefits—there when you need them most.

So watch out for the frills, and little options that don't really do much for you. Sign up for the STATEWIDE PLAN — the plan based on experience. You might even call us the Henry Ford of the health insurance business. After all, we practically invented group coverage.

The Special Session

GOVERNOR ROCKEFELLER has called a special session of the State Legislature this week to deal with the State's most serious fiscal crisis since the disaster days of the 1930s. Whatever happens is bound to have a profound effect on civil servants at every level of public employment in New York.

The only thing certain right now is that every unit of government—the State, New York City, towns, counties and villages—desperately need money.

It would be foolhardy for us to comment on whether or not the Governor's tax proposals are the answer to all these problems. We can, however, make one or two observations relevant to the issue.

Public services come from public demand. No one can do without adequate police and fire protection; the mentally ill must be cared for; there are innumerable social programs that a modern conscience must support; solid educational and health institutions are a must in terms of America's future.

Most of these programs are operating now at minimal levels and can be reduced no further. Yet, continuation at just these levels requires more money.

These columns suggested recently that the State Administration eschew any scare tactics in trying to put across its program of new taxes and, instead, make elaborate efforts to open the public mind to the fact that the burdens of a modern society are everyone's burdens.

Our only suggestion for the moment is for all civil servants to be alert and willing to do their share in creating acceptance of the price of a modern society. Tell your legislator of the job being done by your department or agency and of the service your work does for human beings. Tell your friends and neighbors who are not in civil service of the basic and vital roles public service plays in their lives. Tell them all how desperately a continuation of all these services is to the quality of life in New York State.

The soldier who fails to use a sword in his own cause can blame no one else when he is struck down for refusing to lift his hand.

Questions and Answers

Q. I am confined to a hospital. Since I can't come to the social security office to apply for monthly disability benefits, what other arrangements can I make?

A. Call or write any social security office. It is quite likely that the necessary forms can be completed over the phone and mailed to you for your signature. Or, a representative from the office will visit you at the hospital and assist you in filling out the necessary forms.

Q. My 71-year-old husband died recently. Social security sent me a check for $234. Isn't the lump-sum death benefit payment always $255?

A. No, the amount of the lump-sum death payment under social security can vary from $211.20 to $255, depending on the worker's average earnings under social security. The amount of the payment is three times the monthly benefit at 65, but never exceeds $255.

ever, the Democrats are seeking solace in the ancient adage that the best-laid plans of mice and men often go awry. According to political pundits and gleeful Republicans, the remapping scheme should assure Republican control of the Legislature for the next decade. Democrats are not prepared to swallow that line beyond conceding that the road ahead may be rougher than ever.

For one thing, the Democrats are hopeful that the 18-year-old vote bill will bring thousands of young voters to the Democratic line above and beyond the number of youngsters who will vote Republican next November. This may turn out to be a critical item in college and university towns. For example, the Republicans theoretically gain by the addition of three Assemblymen, but no one knows how many young students at Southampton College will vote or how they will vote.

Student Residence

An underlying question is where do the students vote, in their university districts or in the districts where their parents reside. Under State law, students are technically required to vote in the district of their parents, but decisions on the issue in the courts are conflicting. Graduate students, with part-time university employment, are typically regarded as manumitted, but not undergraduate students. In one interesting case, a court held that an undergraduate, who was married, was required to vote in his parents' district, but that his wife, not a student, could vote from their residence in the college town. Inevitably the courts will be clogged with a wide variety of cases on this subject.

The courts figure in another aspect of the Democratic Party attack on reapportionment. Both Senate Minority Leader Joseph Zaretzki and Assembly Minority Leader Stanley Steingut intend to proceed in the courts in a continuing attack on the legality of the apportionment. While the remapping plan complies with the United States Supreme Court mandate of one man, one vote, the Democratic legislators violate other constitutional requirements as to contiguity of district areas and requirements as to the maintenance, where possible, of county and normal community boundary lines.

Democrats' Viewpoint

This Democratic strategy involves the necessity for keeping alive and driving home to the voters the concept that they had been regarded by the Republicans as pawns in a game of chess designed to insure Republican victories. Their theory is that, irrespective of judicial decisions, voter resentment over cavalier treatment by Republicans will produce Democratic votes in November.

A number of other factors contribute to the Democratic view that they are not totally licked even before the votes are counted. These include the fact that the Democrats hope to carry the State in the Presidential election; increased State taxes and reduced public services by the Republican State Administration; increased taxes in Republican dominated entities such as Nassau County, which first increased the local sales tax one

by Michael J. Maye

President, Uniformed Firefighters Assn.

MORE AND MORE today the news media carry stories of militancy in labor. I must confess that the first time I was referred to as a militant, I myself was somewhat flattered, believing the connotation to be: "a strong fighter for his people."

I REMEMBER my father, who was of the House of Labor, often being quoted as saying, "Whoever picks up Labor's cross must be ready to go bareheaded in the Summer and barefooted in the Winter for the working man."

THIS WAS and is a militant philosophy.

BUT NOW I find that the news media, perhaps inadvertently, are doing a great disservice to the people and labor leaders by calling every dissident and loudmouth a militant—and this may even be one of the real factors contributing to the disillusion of our youth today.

THERE IS NOTHING more disillusioning and disarming than to pick a hero and find out he is a phony. Even to a seasoned veteran this is disheartening. To youth it is disastrous.

IN THAT SENSE, I think we of another generation had it made. Our heroes always ran true to form. White hat, loved horses and dogs, never drank anything stronger than sarsaparilla, a gentleman to the ladies and stood like the Rock of Gibraltar against all that was wrong. A far cry from what we offer the kids of today.

THE FAULT might conceivably lie in the fact that, because of today's instant news coverage, no one has time to stop and take a real hard look. Somewhat like the king who had a suit made so exquisitely that only those fit for their job could see it, until some innocent soul exposed the fact that the king was running around nude.

THE POINT is that many of the truly great words of labor should never be allowed to lose their true meaning or be distorted. Words such as "militant," "comradeship" and "brotherhood" do not walk hand in hand—and never will—with "loudmouth," "dissident" or "anarchist."

THE TRANSIT BEAT

to a husband engaged in police work have come to realize the true meaning of the word sacrifice this past year.

FOR TOO MANY police officers have given the ultimate in the performance of their duty. The heroic acts they engage in have passed from the memory of most, and the family is left to make the best of the empty Christmas and holiday season.

THIS IS the gift they have bestowed upon the Nation for years to come. The gift in return is the acceptance by the Nation that men and women who take up the responsibility of safeguarding others must be sacrificed to their beliefs. . . .

THE PENDULUM of a changing society has not moved to a point of deep concern at this date, where the deprived families can look back in the coming years to say—their loss was not in vain, a shocked people have rallied around the cause of dedicated police officers . . . to ensure their safety while performing on behalf of others—if not for the maximum of reasons, "Because we are our brother's keepers" . . . then for the minimum of reasons, "because without the keepers of the peace . . ." there is only chaos and a strong society ends.

THE POLICE and law enforcement agencies throughout this great country for so long as it exists as a freedom-loving country have renewed their pledge for this coming year—1972—to fulfill the hope of the Christmas of almost 2,000 years ago—"Peace on Earth, Good Will towards Men" . . . to serve others in need of our services, regardless of the sacrifices our duties call upon us to make.

LET IT THEN be resolved by others in this coming year, to assure themselves of maximum safety and protection, that everything humanly possible will be accomplished in the pursuit of law and justice for all our people.

TO ALL THOSE who serve and to all those who are in need of our services may we take this opportunity to wish the Happiest and Safest New Year.

percent; increased real estate taxes in Westchester County; a prospective increase in the sales tax in Suffolk County. In simplest terms, Democrats have not completely given up the idea of a victory in the legislative contests in 1972.

FIRE FLIES

By Paul Taylor

About a week ago, Commissioner Robert O. Lowery was watching Walter Kronkite on CBS News. One of the stories that night concerned a little girl named Rose Marie Raymond. Awaiting a kidney transplant, she is desperately in need of a dialysis machine to keep her alive. None are available at this time and it would seem that, like so many kidney victims, Rose Marie was to be condemned to death for want of the machine.

Commissioner Lowery remembered that the Honor Emergency Fund had purchased a portable machine for the wife of a firefighter who, like Rose Marie, needed the machine until a transplant was available. The firefighter's wife, having received the transplant last year, no longer needed the services of the machine and it was stored at the Medical Office on Spring Street.

After checking with Bob Russell of the Honor Emergency Fund for his feelings in the matter, the Commissioner contacted Kronkite and offered to lend the machine to little Rose Marie on behalf of New York Firefighters. Wheels started to turn quickly and by the time this goes to press, the girl's doctor will have contacted the Commissioner as to whether or not the little gal will be able to use the machine. If the answer is yes, several cargo freight carriers have offered to fly the machine to and from California without charge.

That certainly gives you a warm feeling in the heart, doesn't it? Congratulations to you, Santa Claus O'Lowery, and all the elves on Church St.!

A few months ago, I wrote a heartwarming story about the troops of Engine 220 who had a good worker on Park Slope in Brooklyn. After the fire was knocked down, the little girl in the family was seen crying her eyes out because the money for the cookies she had sold as a girl scout was destroyed. The brothers in 220 together with Fireman Ed Thompson, dug down and came up with 30 bucks worth of cookie dough and a little girl was made happy.

Well! They've done it again out there in the 48th Battalion with Ed Thompson (aide to Chief Lovett) and Fireman Robert Bayer leading the way.

Seems that they had a job about five weeks ago in which little two year old Bobby Manning, rescued by Fireman George R. Stringer was taken to Methodist Hospital with second degree burns over 80 percent of his body. Bobby's brother, four year old Kenneth, was rescued by Captain Henry G. Keyes and released after treatment.

Wondering how little Bobby was doing, the men from 220 started regular visits to the children's ward at Methodist Hospital, bringing along a little toy each time.

Then they became aware that the 40 other kids sort of felt "left out" and sensing this, the troops from 220 passed the word to the other six units in the Battalion and now the kids ward at the hospital has become the "eighth company" in the Battalion with a couple of off-duty firefighters, both blueshirts and white hats, visiting every day.

Once again, the troops dug down deep and came up with the dough to throw a Christmas party for the 41 kids last Thursday. Miss Lilly Blake, the Hospital Nursing Supervisor of Pediatrics is tickled pink and claims the whole thing is just like a new form of medicine for the sick kids!

Y'know, this sort of thing isn't limited to Christmas. The New York firefighter is the biggest softie in the world with a heart as big as himself. It's too bad that there isn't enough newspaper space to tell all the stories such as the one above which take place throughout the year. They happen so often that it is the rule rather than the exception. That's the kind of increased productivity any firefighter could and does love. So does everybody else, too!

So Rose Marie and Tommy and all the other kids . . . there IS a Santa Claus . . . dressed in blue and silver or white and gold, he's the best ever!

On the fourth of December while searching above the fire at 156 W. 130th St. in Harlem, an apartment which had been clear as a bell suddenly became an inferno and, just before collapsing, Fireman Bob McLoughlin of 28 Truck and Lt. Gary Hack of Squad No. 1 got off "We're trapped" on the handle talkie! Within seconds, Lt. Tony Brachetta and Fireman Harry Beattie had water and kicking in the door, moved so fast with the line to knock down the fire that they both received burns of the hands and ears. As they pushed the fire ahead of them, Lt. Dick Gilroy of Ladder 30 was stepping off an aerial into the front room of the roaring apartment and, starting to search for the two unconscious men, he got the full force of the fire, pressure from the line and steam right in the puss but kept going until he found them.

McLoughlin swallowed fire into his lungs and Hack was badly seared too and spent 18 days at Medical Center. Beattie and Brachetta are still on the sick list. It must have been one hell of a situation but . . . what's the use of trying to tell this to the whiz kids with the slide rules and the mountains of phony statistics! They wouldn't believe it anyway and with stuff such as the foregoing, I guess I can't blame them. There aren't supposed to be any human beings around this earth capable of such deeds. . . ! If they only knew!

Win Improved Conditions For Parks Workers

(From Leader Correspondent)

BABYLON—A series of improvements in working conditions have been agreed upon by the Civil Service Employees Assn. and the Long Island State Parks Commission.

The agreement, a supplement to State and district-wide agreements on behalf of employees, was signed by Louis Colby, president of the Long Island Inter-County State Parks chapter of CSEA and Commission negotiators.

Major points provide that seniority will be a prime factor in transfers and promotions in the non-competitive titles, out-of-title work will be restricted to emergency situations, in-service training will be provided for maintenance personnel, lunch, sanitary and safety facilities will be improved and a technical study will be started on protection of tollbooth employees from automobile exhaust pollution.

The CSEA negotiating team also included William Hurley, grievance chairman; Jack Gehrig, parkway representative, and Roger Cilli, field representative.

Town of Union Installs Slate Of New Officers

The Town of Union chapter, Civil Service Employees Assn., has installed its new slate of officers.

They are Frank Warwick, president; Gary Powers, vice-president; Jennis Possemato, secretary, and Robert Dinsmore, treasurer.

The new officers were administered the oath of office during recent ceremonies at the Nanticoke Avenue VFW Hall in the Town of Union by County CSEA field representative Rick Sroka.

At Broome County Gathering

Rizzi Praises CSEA, But Warns Against Misuse of Union Power

(From Leader Correspondent)

Some 350 Civil Service Employee Association members, their families and friends, joined together recently at St. John's Memorial Center in Johnson City as the Broome County chapter staged its annual Christmas party.

The festivities were highlighted by a presentation of selected dance by Marie Pompeil of Miss Marie's School of Dance Arts in Binghamton and remarks by guest speaker Broome County Legislator Salvatore Rizzi.

In his brief remarks Rizzi said that if he were asked the question: "Should government employees be unionized?" he would have to answer, "No!"

"But," he added, "if the question were rephrased, 'Do you feel government employees are justified in unionizing?' the answer would most emphatically be 'Yes!'"

"History," he said, "bears this out. 'Use your power,' he said, "to bring about constructive change in the government in which you are employed, for who knows better the internal workings of that government than you, the employee."

"Lastly," he said, "stand firm in your demand to be treated the same as your counterparts in the non-government sector but be forever ready to give the 'stockholder' (the taxpayer) an extra measure of effort for every dollar he adds to your salaries. Remember," he concluded, "the company and hence the job you save by doing so may be your own. Your future depends on it."

Following Rizzi's remarks, door prizes were awarded as the guests prepared to end their evening with music and dancing.

Special guests at the head table included toastmaster Richard Buzzerd; Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Vallone, chapter president; Town of Union Councilman and Mrs. David Durr; Mr. and Mrs. Rizzi; County CSEA field rep and Mrs. Rick Sroka; Mary Battista and Mrs. Marie Pompeil.

Other guests included Clarence Laufer of Syracuse; Carman DeNardo of Elmira; Frank Warwick, president of the Town of Union chapter; Leo Weingartner, Binghamton State Hospital chapter president; Tom Elhage, president of the Fulton chapter, and Jack Herrick of the Broome County unit.

Dick Petrisko and Mrs. Beth Stover served as dinner committee co-chairmen.

ate committee on civil service and pensions.

The meeting, which was held at Gasner's Restaurant in New York City last week, was, in executive session, briefed by Jack Carey of CSEA Headquarters staff as to the status of current negotiations with the State Administration. In a spirited question and answer period which followed, it was made clear by the delegates that they did not intend to "sit back and see the Governor make scapegoats" of Upstate employees because of his present budget difficulties. The delegates emphasized that they intended to press vigorously on behalf of their members for salary increases and other improvements in the area of pensions, health insurance and working conditions.

The meeting heard also a report from Sam Emmett, statewide and Conference chairman of the membership committee, of a proposed membership campaign.

Jacobs informed the delegates that the Spring 1972 Workshop, in conjunction with the Long Island and Southern Conferences, would again be held at Kutschers in Monticello on April 16-18.

Monroe CSEA Ready For Court Action If County Fails To Pay Increments

(From Leader Correspondent)

ROCHESTER—Monroe County chapter of the Civil Service Employees Assn. will wait until its 4,000 members receive their first full two-week paycheck in 1972 before asking the State Supreme Court to order Monroe County to pay scheduled increment pay raises.

"Our attorney has everything prepared and ready to go," says Vincent A. Alessi, chapter president. "We're just waiting for the actual event to happen."

The Monroe County Legislature eliminated the estimated $560,000 that newer County employees were to be paid in four salary increments next year when it adopted the County budget Nov. 29.

The action was in obvious violation of the contract between the County and the CSEA, Alessi said.

"We know that there's no money in the budget for the increments," Alessi said, "and we know that they don't plan to put any money back into the budget for them. We also know that they're saying, 'Let them sue.'"

He said, however, that the Monroe chapter must wait until the increment is not given to a person entitled to it, when that person or several individuals, which will more likely be the case, will be used as aggrieved persons in court.

"The earliest we'll know who that person (or persons) is will be Jan. 14, when the first full two-week checks will be issued," Alessi said.

Another Case Possible

Alessi said another court action involving overtime pay for County sheriff's deputies also may be started at that time.

"There has been no budgeting for any overtime," he said, "and obviously there's going to have to be some overtime paid. You don't expect a sheriff's deputy to walk off in the middle of an accident report, for example."

Alessi also said that he and other chapter officers are watching closely to see that the County conforms with civil service law in the laying-off and rehiring of about 120 County employees.

"The County is making an attempt to fill vacancies with people who have been laid off," he said. "We hope that most of the people who have been laid off will be back on the job filling vacancies that continue to occur within a few months."

conference area at least four times per year.

Starting in early December, the CSEA unit undertook the experimental three-month schedule, which includes two-week swings through each of the six CSEA conference areas.

A CSEA official said the mobile office, manned by manager Kirby Hannan and assistant manager John Trela, has been welcomed enthusiastically by members and other employees at the numerous work locations in the western area and at Albany.

The mobile unit has visited hospitals, highway garages, State and county office buildings and other employee work locations.

The official said that care will be taken to divide the office's time equitably between county and State employees. "In each conference area, we will plan to visit a proportionate number of county and State employee locations," he said, "in order to serve our members properly. Of course, where there are particular problems in a given area, the schedule might have to be arranged to reflect that."

Four Times Per Year

The CSEA spokesman emphasized that under the two-week schedule, not every work location in a given conference area can be visited every time the mobile office is there. However, he noted, the office expects to hit each conference area approximately four times per year, and during that time most work locations should be visited. The office's schedule is worked out by CSEA public relations with each CSEA regional field supervisor.

The mobile office is a unique innovation which combines the services of trained CSEA staff members with the facilities for private meetings between employees and staff. "We bring a complete mini-CSEA office right to the employee at his work station," Hannan said, "and we are equipped to deal with, or at least assist in, many employee problems. We can tell the employee where to get help with his problem, and we can advise on numerous other matters." Area field representatives may be present and available for consultation with employees when the mobile office stops at the various work locations.

Hannan said the office's main feature is the privacy afforded by its 27-foot length and its confidential meeting space. "An employee need not fear that the boss will know what he's saying to a CSEA representative," he said. "This way, the employee is protected."

The mobile office and its staff are under the supervision of the Public Relations Department at CSEA Headquarters in Albany, and all inquiries concerning the unit should be directed to Joseph B. Roulier, director of public relations.

Wages and Contracts

Dolan Explains Freeze Rulings

SYRACUSE—In determining whether an employee is to receive pay increases, it is "very important to distinguish between contracts effective prior to Aug. 15 and those effective after Aug. 15," says Joseph Dolan, Jr., director of county affairs for the Civil Service Employees Assn.

Dolan discussed the effects of the Wage-Price Freeze on civil employees' contracts at the annual Christmas Party and dinner-dance of CSEA's Onondaga chapter. More than 200 persons attended the affair in the Liverpool Country Club.

The CSEA official also reviewed some of the Wage-Price Board decisions since President Nixon's freeze entered Phase II.

If a contract was effective after Aug. 15, any wage or salary increases could not go into effect until after Nov. 13, he said. If a contract was effective before Aug. 15, such raises could be put into effect after Nov. 15, but may be reviewed by the Pay Board.

He also made these other points under the recent Pay Board rulings in the public sector:

1. Retroactive wage increases would be allowed if taxes had been boosted to raise the money needed to pay for the increases. As an example, teachers' retroactive salary increases would be allowed if voters already had approved a tax increase to pay the higher salaries.

2. Another decision indicates that retroactive pay increases will be allowed if an agreement between employer and employees, reached after Aug. 15, succeeds an agreement which expired before Aug. 15.

3. Any agreement involving an employer of 5,000 or more employees must be submitted to the pay board for a review.

4. If the employees total under 1,000, no review is necessary unless one of the parties to the contract seeks it.

Dolan urges any CSEA unit or member who has a question to write to the Association's Headquarters in Albany. "We now have the ability to answer your problem," he said.

Guests included Dr. Theodore C. Wenzl, CSEA's statewide president, and local governmental officials. Andrew H. Placito, chapter president, introduced the guests.

al details are worked out with the Department of Audit and Control. Before they become effective, however, Ter Bush and Powell will mail out to eligible CSEA members brochures explaining the coverages available under MASTERPLAN, and questionnaires seeking information necessary for implementation. This is expected to be accomplished within the next two months, a CSEA official noted.

Wenzl hailed the new plan "as a major addition to CSEA's insurance program," stating, "these new benefits, coupled with our group life, accident and sickness, and supplemental life insurance, constitute what is probably the finest protection package offered by any union in the country. It vividly illustrates the deep and abiding concern CSEA has for the well-being of our membership."
