Dr. Ralph Clausen, Professor of Biology, has announced that he will resign from his position on the faculty to accept the post of head guide at Graceland Cemetery. His promotion came as a result of his thorough knowledge and extensive trips through this area.

Dr. Theodore Standing, Professor of Sociology, and Mrs. Standing announce the birth of triplets at Albany City Hospital. The children will be named Under, Up, and Tired Standing.

Dr. Helen M. Phillips, Assistant Professor of English, requests students to search for the tail of her furpiece. Anyone finding the fur tail will please return it immediately, since Dr. Phillips will not be able to wear the furpiece until it is complete.

Dr. Joseph Leese, Professor of Education, has edited a book entitled, "The 500 Best Jokes For Amusing Bored Students in Education Classes." The book has been on the news stands for only one day, and is already a best-seller.

Crispy Cornflakes announced that Miss Nura Turner, Instructor in Mathematics, has won their national contest. Miss Turner was the closest contestant guessing the number of spots on a Dalmatian running at full speed. Miss Turner said she simply used the formula, minus the tail, plus or minus the hind legs squared, minus four times the front legs, times the ears, all over two times the nose.

Mr. William Meyer, Instructor in German, was recently awarded two gold medals for outstanding performances. The first medal was awarded because of his expert mastery of Plz Latin, and the second because of his staunch support of the Society for the Promotion of Cruelty to Students.

Mr. Marvin Pryor, Instructor in Physics, has perfected a rocket ship in his spare time, and is preparing for a trip to the moon. He invites all students who are interested to accompany him. Dr. C. Curtis Smith, Professor of Education, has pledged his heartiest support to the Teachers' Union No. 13. Dr. Smith will fly immediately to Indiana to address the National Convention of Teachers' Unions on "The Necessity of Strikes in the Teaching Profession."

Disclose Death Of Nelson; Propose Memorial Edifice
The State College Faculty disclosed this week that Milton G. Nelson, Dean of the College, passed out and passed on.

A lemonade stand will be erected in the lower hall of Draper, as a memorial to Dr. Nelson. The Sophomore class will sponsor a party at the VFW to raise the funds.

Large Enrollment Causes Changes In State Colleges

According to Dr. Clarence V. Scolding, Commissioner of Education, an increase in enrollment for the year 1949-50, will necessitate some drastic changes in life at State Colleges throughout the State.

One of the most outstanding changes recommended by the Board of Regents, is that of moving Crane School of Music to Albany and incorporating it in part of the Assembly chambers. Reasons for the move include the need for the Governor to take piano lessons before aspiring to a higher position.

Living facilities for the estimated additional 1,000 students are under consideration, with the State Army being considered for men students and a new construction for women. Lowest bids for this edifice have come from the T. P. and Tom E. Hawk Co. of Troy's Technical Training Tenements, Inc.

In a letter to Student Association offering the organ, Miss Fidgett requested that upon the termination of the use of the organ, it be destroyed, board by board, and buried in a large hole in Page Field. She also stated the desire that the organ be treated with utmost "care" and that the lumber in it never be used for the construction of an ink fountain or as a cabinet of a television set.

Increased amounts of electricity, was made to provide for all-night classes in the departments of mathematics, education and commerce. Whenever weather permits, classes in modern languages, English, and Social Studies will be held on Page Field.

All students are asked to cooperate with these measures and to keep on producing "Future Teachers of America" with fortitude, integrity and a minimum of subject matter.

Borys, Federico, Davis To Head Production Cast

Tomorrow night the student body will witness "Lucky Number", the freshman Big-4 production, in Page Hall auditorium at 8:30 p. m. This musical comedy was written by Richard Buck and Donald Brooks and is directed by Edward Kyle.

Outline Plot

According to Kyle, the plot is as follows: Evan Bloomerfield, a pompous Shakespearean ham has decided to produce a musical comedy based on the works of the Bard. Terry Galen, sister of Bloomerfield's fiancée, Paula, has been engaged to write the comedy. Complications set in when Terry falls in love with Tom, also a playwright, and decides to push his play. There is a scramble of events, when Paula falls in love, and Mrs. Galen further confuses matters by trying to straighten out the whole affair. "Lucky Number" ends happily, with a man for every woman.

Committee Chairman are as follows:

Seis, Robert Donnelly; Music, Julie Isaksen; Costumes, Victoria Baldwin; Choreography, Mary Borys; Publicity, Robert Work; Props, Theodore Peete; Lights, Alan Stephenson; Tickets and Programs, Kenneth Wade; Make-up, Roslyn Lacks; House D. convocations, Donald Putnam; Business Manager, Joan Carson; and Secretary of the affair, Florence Kloser.

Comment - - -

Anybody seems to have a chance in the elections for the college year '49-'50. Comment has been heard that the slates of candidates are poor, that the "right" people are not running, that the results will be unsatisfactory for the benefit of Student Association.

The number of people running for the major offices in Student Association is at an absolute minimum. Two people are running for the Presidency and two for the Vice-Presidency of the Association. Sufficient numbers from the respective classes are not on the list for the Student Board of Finance. The freshman class came through with six candidates for the secretary of the Association.

With the '50 class nominations, we find minimum numbers running for six offices, one person running for songleader and one for Publicity Director and no candidate listed for class treasurer. Perhaps it would be a little trite to say that this displays a lack of interest. If this is so, then what is it?

Though the freshman class has the largest number of candidates listed for their offices, their list is much shorter than that of a usual freshman class. At the class meeting in which the nominations were made, there were many declinations from the floor. Others followed by mail within a few hours. Many members of the freshman class have been dropping out of activities because of their scholastic difficulties. Perhaps this is the same reason for some of the disinterest of the upperclassmen.

Then, too, there is the disgust, the "distaste" referred to in this week's "Letter to the Editor." This "distaste" has become so strong that certain members of the Association, even prospective leaders from the present Junior class, have decided to let the reins go and get out of Student Association affairs. This is certainly not a healthy situation.

No concrete solution may be offered. However, it was the intention of this editorial to point out some of the recent election trends and to make Student Association more completely aware of the situation.

No further nominations may be made nor can any more declinations be accepted for class or Student Association elections. Again to use an expression, "the die has been cast." Acceptance of the present situation is absolutely necessary. The first Friday after we return from the much-needed vacation, elections will be held in assembly. From those people who are being considered for election, it is your responsibility and duty to try to select those who you think will try to get government functions on the plane that they should be.

Remember, that everyone had the chance to nominate any individual that he felt was capable. Selection must be made from those people on the ballot. Be sure that you vote for people who you think have the welfare of the Association at heart. Try to keep out the influence of "personalities."

Student Association has a real problem. Next year's governing officers will also have a real problem. It's up to each individual to do all he can to vote for the most capable people and then to support them after their election on Moving-Up Day.

Common-Stater

By BILL LYONS. The Common-Stater is given the widest latitude as author of this column, although his viewpoints do not necessarily reflect those of the STATE COLLEGE NEWS.

BEST NEWS. The sororities, which are supposed to be bogged down in more tradition than the frats, have taken the lead and have moved their bidding period into the second semester.

HOT ROCK IDEA. How about opening the door leading outside from the underpass between lower Draper and the Commons. Putting this entrance into use would be especially helpful to those students who live on the downtown side of the campus.

HAW!. Bob Frasca, one of our delegates at the Eastern States Association Conference two weeks ago, thought that there was a little too much hot air floating around the discussion panels... too many ideas and too few practical suggestions.

ANOTHER BIG QUESTION. With the budget being discussed there are two questions, other than financial, that have been brought up.

1. How much influence should a faculty advisor have in determining the budget and in determining the overall policy of the organization? 2. Should the Student Fee be used to support activities (especially in the case of Music Council and the Dramatics and Arts Council) that are connected with credit courses? It must be remembered that even though we may feel that the state should support such expenses, it does not necessarily mean that they will support them.

TRADITION?. Because in the crowded conditions, the Senate don't want to have their graduation in Pace Hall. The faculty would just as soon have graduation somewhere that would be more accommodating, but the administration feels that tradition should be upheld.

THE BALL TEAM... known as the Suspenders isn't so called because of the way its members hold up their pants. It seems that these members were delinquent in their frat dues and therefore were suspended.

LAST WEEKS... birth notice concerning Dr. and Mrs. Standing brought increased interest in Dr. Standing's course So 209. Even faculty members were thinking of registering for next year.

Call off the F.B.I. The Physics Department isn't building a cyclotron after all. The first floor of Husted may look as if it might sprout high tension poles before Easter, but it's only surplus electronic equipment overflowing from a new amateur radio transmitter.

Last week, four State students received their Class B amateur radio operator's license. Helen Habermann '49, Harold Story '49, Arthur Pedley '50, and Dick Thorne '51, will now be entitled to operate their radio transmitter over allocated amateur frequencies.

With the help of Mr. Arthur Jones, Instructor in Physics, and Dr. Charles Andrews, Professor of Physics, State may soon have its own amateur radio transmitter unit set up in a permanent location in Husted. The problem at present seems to be the difficulty in finding space and a suitable location for the commercial relay rack that houses all the control circuits and the transmitter.

Amateur operators using a crystal selector on their sets can only communicate with other operators on their own frequency when the circuit is open. But the variable frequency control of the commercial relay rack in the Physics Department will make it possible to communicate with other operators on their own frequencies.

Dr. Robert Kenow, Professor of Political Science, will appear on the radio edition of "Capital Campus" on Wed. April 13. At present, he is on his Sabbathical leave and has recently returned from a tour of England and Western Europe.

What now remains for the students of State College to do about their student government? Should they accept the present form with all its apparent short comings, or should they come to the realization that the failings of their Constitution and Assembly should be rectified, that the extensive and sincere work of the Constitutional Committee should be duly reconsidered, that next year should not envisage a student government personified by inefficiency and contradiction? The latter alternative appears to be the more desirable, and it can be attained. It can be attained at this very time by choosing such students for political office who will commit themselves to just such a program next year.

Wren Hall To Hold Party, Spring Theme Will Prevail

By CHRIS LIEVESTRO

June Whitteman '50, President of Wren Hall, has announced that there will be a vic-date party Friday night from 8:30 to 12 p.m. Doris Baker '51, is chairman of the affair. Spring has been chosen as the theme by the decorating committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds, owners of Wren Hall, will chaperone.

Communications

To the Editor:

The decision of the students last week in Assembly to reject the proposed revision to the Constitution by no means places a touch of finality on the subject. On the contrary, the problems of improving our student government remains of prime importance to the students and impending elections.

First of all, a clear analysis should be made of what the voting results last week indicate. It is safe to assume that the rejection of the new constitution was not an indication of the fact that the students of SCT are satisfied with the existing form of government, that the students were opposed to any form of change, that the revised form of the Constitution was simply "no good." What the voting of the student body did display was disgust with the inconsequential, tiresome, and insipid proceedings of the last few assemblies; distaste for the method used whereby the new constitution was imposed upon them with no other alternative but to accept or reject the document with a minimum of time for consideration; discontent with the present system, but a discontent that did not justify so rash and drastic a revision without the necessary advantages of time for ample consideration.

What now remains for the students of State College to do about their student government? Should they accept the present form with all its apparent short comings, or should they come to the realization that the failings of their Constitution and Assembly should be rectified, that the extensive and sincere work of the Constitutional Committee should be duly reconsidered, that next year should not envisage a student government personified by inefficiency and contradiction? The latter alternative appears to be the more desirable, and it can be attained. It can be attained at this very time by choosing such students for political office who will commit themselves to just such a program next year.

Sophs Sweep Rivalry Basketball, Men Easily Triumph In Two Games

Basketball made its last gasp for headlines last week as the two classes played their rivalry basketball games. The Sophs won both the men's and the women's divisions as the hard fought contests drew large and loudly-cheering crowds from both the freshman and Sophomore classes.

Soph Men Take Two
The men won two games in a row to quickly garner the rivalry points for the green. They had very little trouble in either game, as they jumped to an early lead in both games.

Bill Dunn sparked the '51ers with his deadly shooting in the first game. He had 17 points, and was followed by Paul Bullock and George Dicks with 8 and 6. Ken Rutley had 15 points for the freshmen, as the game ended at 37-30.

The second game followed the pattern of the first, the Sophs win-

BZ Cops WAA Basketball Title; Gamma Kap Takes Pin Crown

The final phase of WAA Bowling came to a close last week as Gamma Kap became 1948-49 champs. Taking second and third place honors were Pierce and Sayles respectively. Mary Jane Feris with a 138 average had the highest individual average for the entire season.

After four months of bowling approximately 68 girls have earned a minimum of 10 hours. The final standings and individual averages according to the number of games each team has played are: Gamma Kap—624. Pierce—371. Sayles—564. Chi Sig—541. Newman—526.2. Frosh—521. Kappa Delta—529. Psi Gamma—491. Phi Delta—514. Beta Zeta—450. Wren—459. Alphi Epsilon Phi—withdraw.

By defeating the Pierce A team 17-11, Beta Zeta became the 1948-49 basketball champs. Undeclared in the play-offs, BZ finished strong

Potter Hoopsters Defend Trophy

Potter Club did it again this year. On March 31st, in Page Hall, before a good-sized crowd left over from the last of the Rivalry games, they defended their championship by defeating the "B" League Bulls in one of their typical free-scoring contests.

The Bulls held their own during the opening minutes of the game and held Potter to a 16-11 count as the first quarter horn blew. The EEP men (including a few suspenders) gradually pulled ahead and led 25-16 by the end of the third period. The deciding games saw Sayles defeat Phi Delta 22-11 and Pierce bow to BZ, thereby deciding the championship.

Beta Zeta ..... 3 0
Pierce A ..... 2 1
Sayles ..... 1 2
Phi Delta ..... 0 3

In a typical Potter specialty six men united to sink 20 out of 25 free shots, while the Bulls, better than the average of Potter's competition, could put in only 5 of 18, and Kirby led Potter with 15 and in the matter of scoring Schick 12 points respectively. For the losers Berglas had 11 and Hoyt 8.

In winning the championship this year Potter again went undefeated and showed their rivals underdog status. Except for KB's 2-0 forfeit, Potter took all their games by at least 20 points. Starting in December with the Angels, it was 46-22; next came the Carpetbaggers, 51-29; then Potter took the measure of the Getts, the Finks and SLS by counts of 60-25, 60-23 and 50-15; after the KB forfeit they went on to down KDR, 52-28; for a grand total of 321 points to their opponents 142. Plus 62 to raise it to 383 for the season; against the Bulls 27, which raised their defensive record to 169 points in eight games; 21 per. The offensive record (for those of you not majoring) was 48 per.

Article IX of the MAA Constitution states: Supreme veto over any action of the Association lies with the Administration of New York State College for Teachers. Few other organizations have this right in their constitution yet they function smoothly. Since MAA is supported by Student Association, it should be student controlled. Yet, a program such as MAA, faculty supervision is desirable and necessary for a good program. The absolute veto power seems the rub.

Eight new spring sports are being carried on informally with no faculty supervision. The schedules have been set and only the contracting have to be signed to be completed. The money has already been appropriated and there are plenty of men out for each team. A committee has been appointed to investigate the constitution. During this time, we'd like to ask Coach Hathaway to continue until a compromise can be reached.

Suspenders, KDR Win In Softball

IM softball got off to a slow start with several cancellations due to rain and the dampness of Dorm Field. Monday the first game of the season was played with the Suspenders taking an early lead over SLS. They held a three to one lead over SLS until the top of the seventh when SLS rallied for three runs to take the lead 4-3. The Suspenders came right back, however, with two more runs to win 5-4. Schick scored the winning run by stealing home.

KDR 6, KB 3
Tuesday brought KDR and KB together for the second game of the season. KDR was victorious with a score of 6-3 with rallies in the 4th and 6th innings. Both teams started off strong with KB leading until the 4th inning by one run. KB scored three runs in the first inning of the game while KDR came right back with two runs.

Baseball Squad Begins Practice

State College's baseball players appeared for practice sessions for the coming year about a week ago and are looking forward to a successful season. Added to last year's capable holdovers are many newcomers who have looked exceptionally good in the first few practice sessions.

Many Holdovers
Among the holdovers from last year's squad will be Harvey Clearwater and Ben Santora on the mound. Returning behind the plate and with a good deal of experience is John Stevenson. The infield will have such veterans as Paul Carter, Ray Munroe, and Ken Lein on second; John Duffus at shortstop and Willie Englehart at third. Al Kaehn and Line Marzello are the only returning veterans in the outfield.

Among the newcomers are pitchers George Lein, Bob Eich and Lenony Anlaw, who show considerable promise in that department. At first base four newcomers, Don McDonald, Tom York, Ken Rutley, and Harry Kane, are working hard to tie down the position. Ray Sanderson is Duffus's understudy at short while Jack Marks, a good pitcher in his own right, is trying his hand at third. Don Sonberg and Joe Collops, two freshmen, are working out in the outfield. Collops shows considerable promise and should develop into a good ball player.

Managers for this season will be Mike Pisk and Don Burt. Assistant Coach Hathaway in the coaching roles will be Bob Dickinson and Hank Farley, two of last year's varsity baseballers.

A tentative schedule has been drawn up and includes 10 games as follows:
April 28—North Adams. Home
April 29—Utica. Away
May 4—ABC. Home
May 17—North Adams. Away
May 11—Union. Home
May 14—Plattsburg. Away
May 17—Utica. Home
May 20—Plattsburg. Home

Bowlers Whitewash Law; RPI Captures First Place

The RPI bowling squad clinched the 1948-49 championship in the Intercollegiate League Wednesday night by winning two games from ABC. Before Wednesday's match, the only hope the Statesmen held to win was a possible tie, and in order to achieve this, RPI had to lose their remaining six games while the teachers won all six. The varsity crew tied hard by winning three games from Law, but the Engineers refused to drop three games; thus eliminating all first place contenders. It was a bad break for the Statesmen, because they led the league most of the season. In recent weeks, an unconquerable slump cost the keglers first place.

In Wednesday's match, the Law School quintet were at their all-time low, thus State had an easy time of taking the three-game set. The Statesmen rolled 866 in the opener and clinched the contest by 194 pins. Don McDonald provided the big game in the first tilt, coming through with a smashing 215. In the final two games, State won without any difficulty.

Joe Carosella was high man for the Statesmen with a total of 548. His games of 168, 188, and 192 were high enough to place him well out in the lead for the evening's individual honors. Fran Mullin and Bob Dickinson were second and third respectively, with Mullin's total being only five pins higher than Dickinson, 615-511.

Dr. Krumb Relates Impressions Of German Professor In U. S.

By BRENNER & FENZEL

Sprechen Sie Deutsch? That was the pertinent question at Pierce Hall during last week. Dr. Heinrich Krumb, Professor at the Pedagogic Institute at Darmstadt, Germany, was occupying the guest room at Pierce while observing classes and teaching methods of the Speech department at State College.

Dr. Krumb is one of twenty professors from Germany visiting American colleges and universities to study methods of improving curriculum in German universities. He will have visited schools of all sizes when he completes his three month tour here. On his itinerary, besides State College, are Geneseo State Teachers' College, Northwestern University, Columbia University and several others.

After returning to Germany, he will try to incorporate the best points that he finds prevailing in these schools, in his program of relating hearing and speech correction in German teachers' colleges.

Comparing German and American teachers' colleges is difficult according to Dr. Krumb. To become a high school teacher in Germany a student is obliged to attend the university for three years and the Pedagogic Institute for one year. To attend the university one has to have had completed studies comparable to those of American junior colleges.

Entertained at dinner by several State College German students, Dr. Krumb left Albany saying: "I am delighted at the behavior of the students and we have spent many nice hours together."

This Festival is being sponsored by the Albany Artists' Group, and is being held from May 14 through May 29.

At the Student Council meeting Wednesday afternoon, Robert Donnelly and Joan Bennett, freshmen, were appointed Co-Chairmen of the Board of Regents, the top governing body of the State public-school system, will be the sole authority for weeding out 'subversive' teachers. The bill requires the Regents to draw up a list of all subversive organizations and makes membership in such organizations sufficient grounds for summary removal. The Regents are also empowered to dismiss school employees for the utterance of any treasonable or seditious word or the doing of any treasonable or seditious act, regardless of their affiliations.

Despite vigorous protests of various teacher's organizations, this law is now part of the State Statutes. No comment has come from the National Education Association, either through verbal addresses or written reports in the weekly review published by that organization, save a brief commentary stating that such a law had been passed.

Senator Feinberg has been on the educational committee, until recently, he has sponsored such other educational measures, as the proposed control of publication and sale of comic books. He considers the present law restricting club

Sororities To Climax Weekend With Alumnae Tea At Sayles

Feinberg Bill Bars Communism; To List All Subversive Groups

One of the most recent controversial bills to come up in the New York State Senate was introduced by majority leader, Benjamin Feinberg of Plattsburg. The substance of the bill, which Governor Dewey passed without comment, is based down to a few simple facts, which have been said to have been brought about by a tendency toward hysteria which seems to be sweeping the country.

Says Time Magazine in its April 11 issue: "Under the Feinberg bill the Board of Regents, the top governing body of the State public-school system, will be the sole authority for weeding out 'subversive' teachers. The bill requires the Regents to draw up a list of all subversive organizations and makes membership in such organizations sufficient grounds for summary removal. The Regents are also empowered to dismiss school employees for the utterance of any treasonable or seditious word or the doing of any treasonable or seditious act, regardless of their affiliations."

Recent hearings conducted by the House of Representative Un-American Activities Committee have also tended toward Congressional approval of the policy embodied in the New York State Bill.

Shaw Releases Fulbright Data
Dr. Edward P. Shaw, Professor of French, has received information from the Fulbright Division of the Institute of International Education that it will receive applications to fill 250 opportunities for graduate study in France. This opportunity came from agreements recently signed with France and Italy. To insure consideration of their applications, students are advised to act immediately, since a preliminary examination of properly qualified applicants will start on May 1.

Award NEWS Superior Rating
Jean Pulver '49, Editor-in-Chief of the State College NEWS, has announced that the Associated College Press of the University of Minnesota has rated the NEWS "All-American Superior."

Originality, organization, style, leads, features, headlines, makeup, Editorial Page and Sports Page were rated as excellent. Of a possible 1100 credits, the total score was 950. To make competition as fair as possible, papers are classified, according to method of publication, type of school enrollment and frequency of issue. The NEWS has been rated All-American since the 1945-46 term. The purpose of the ACP is to provide an agency whereby newspaper staffs may find how they stand as compared to other college newspapers and to offer criticism on how to improve any weaknesses.
