Hoch Promises Quick Action On White Uniforms

Dr. Paul Hoch, State Commissioner of Mental Hygiene, has advised the Civil Service Employees Association that action on the issue of white uniforms for female ward personnel in institutions will be taken sooner than previously planned.

In a letter to the Association, Dr. Hoch said the Department of Mental Hygiene would not wait until 1969 for resolution of the program.

He also said the Department now is considering a suggestion to change the caps of nurses who have graduated from State hospital nursing schools to assure their identification from other female ward personnel after those personnel begin wearing white uniforms.

Dr. Hoch said he expects to have the entire matter resolved within a month or two.

Council Named For Improper Practices Act

Governor Rockefeller has announced the appointments of the Advisory Council on the Labor and Management Improper Practices Act.

The Labor and Management Improper Practices Act was passed by the Legislature at its recent session upon the recommendation of the Governor. The Act is designed to safeguard union funds to eliminate financial abuses in labor-management relations.

In general, it prohibits labor union officials from acquiring financial interests which tend to conflict with their fiduciary obligations, bars management from participating in violations by labor officials, and requires the filing of reports by labor unions and management of financial and other information.

The Labor and Management Improper Practices Act establishes the advisory council to keep informed as to the trends relating to ethical practices of labor and management, to report to the Governor and the Legislature concerning the operation, administration and enforcement of the act, and to make recommendations for revision of the act.

Named to the Advisory Council were: Orrin G. Judd, of New York City, designated by the Governor as chairman, for a three-year term; Paul M. Herzog, of New York City, for a two-year term, and Robert P. Koretz, of Syracuse, for a one-year term.

Civil Service Spotlights In State Fair

ALBANY, Aug. 31 — Young people about to embark on a lifetime career will find real meaning in the New York State Fair's "Opportunity" theme when they follow a gaily-dressed page to "Opportunity Center" in the State Exhibits Building.

There specially trained employment counselors of the State Department of Civil Service will be on hand throughout the Fair to discuss State employment with anyone interested.

Visitors to the exhibit of the State's central personnel agency will be shown how they can apply their training, skills and interests to a well-paying State government position. Qualified people will also be able to apply for current job openings.

Among the many fields of work for which the Civil Service counselors will be anxious to find applicants are accounting, parole and social work, engineering and architecture. They will also be on the lookout for dental hygienists, laboratory workers, tabulating machine operators and steam firemen.

The New York State Fair will be held at the State Fairgrounds, Syracuse, from September 4 to 12. The Fairgrounds are two miles from Thruway Interchange No. 39.

Retires After 42 Years in State B.M.V.

Helen H. McEneny has retired from the Bureau of Motor Vehicles after 42 consecutive years of State service. She began with the BMV as a file clerk in 1921 after transferring from the Comptroller's office. She had also worked for the Education Department, Health Department and Income Tax Bureau.

She retired as chief file clerk with the Bureau's safety office.

Teamster Drive in State Termed Grab by Hoffa For Expanding Personal Power

ALBANY, Aug. 31—The spectre of Jimmy Hoffa's racket and crime-ridden union now looms over New York State with the announcement that a New York City Teamster local is out to organize State employees, declared John P. Powers, president of the 87,000-member Civil Service Employees Association.

Henry Feinstein, president of Local 237 in New York City, in a radical change of organizing policy, recently announced a campaign to gather state workers into his union.

"This is the same Teamster local Chief that brought the wrath of the entire Metropolitan press around his head — as well as most New York City residents — with his crude efforts to organize that city's police," said Mr. Powers.

"During that organizing campaign," said Mr. Powers, "Local 237 employed the same tactics of threats, intimidation, strike calls and bravado that are a hallmark of Hoffa's method of doing business by brute force of word and deed. We can certainly expect more of the same in Mr. Feinstein's new campaign."

The Association president charged that "The Teamsters Union is Hoffa's personal organization and any union local, including Local 237, is nothing more than a tool used by Hoffa to further his ambition to dominate the labor scene in America."

Pointing to the Senate Investigation's Hoffa's activities by the McClellan Committee, Mr. Powers said that the evidence before the committee reflected a "record of extortion, arson, thuggery and brute force, plus evidence of selling out employees on sweetheart contracts, as a lure for membership.

"Whether Feinstein is personally responsible or not for the Teamster record, the national reputation of Hoffa is automatically shared by his lieutenants when they continue to operate in the pattern of their master," Mr. Powers continued.

"We have not heard any hue and cry for Mr. Feinstein's services. It is Teamster ambition, not consideration for the State's workers, that has launched this drive of Local 237," he continued.

Recalling some of the tactics Mr. Feinstein used in attempting to organize the New York City police, Mr. Powers cited the local union chief's threat to stop fuel trucks (driven by Teamster members) from crossing picket lines and delivering oil to police stations.

"At that time," said Mr. Powers, "newspapers quoted Mr. Feinstein as saying he would freeze the police commissioner out of office if necessary."

The Association chief said that "Since this is standard procedure with the Teamsters no matter where they are operating we feel compelled to warn people of the State and the occupants of the State capitol that a Teamster siege looms in the future.

"We are a nation that lives by the law and respects the law. Forces such as Hoffa's Teamsters are a threat to the democratic free choice of leadership that is the foundation and strength of the labor movement in America."

"Any success by Mr. Feinstein would in reality be a success for Hoffa and his ambition to gain a stranglehold on the American public through domination of the country's working forces.

"The nation's newspapers have so thoroughly documented the Senate investigations of the Teamsters Union activities that we can only add this admonition — and that is that every new member for Hoffa is an addition to this man's lust for power," Mr. Powers said.

Two Named To State Fire Advisory Board

Onondaga Sanatorium Goes To County; Most Employees Placed in Other Positions

ALBANY, Aug. 31 — The New York State Health Department has conducted an intensive job placement program for employees of the Onondaga Sanatorium, Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, State Health Commissioner, announced.

The Sanatorium was officially transferred to Onondaga County at ceremonies, Aug. 27 at the Sanatorium. The official certificate of transfer was presented to Gerald W. Ladd, Chairman of the Onondaga County Board of Supervisors, by Dr. Hilleboe.

The State Health Commissioner said that out of 296 total employees, 150 of the 166 employees seeking jobs have already been placed. An additional 40 employees have left the labor market for retirement or other reasons. Dr. Hilleboe said that efforts to obtain jobs for the remaining 16 employees were continuing and that this number was remarkably small.

"The State Health Department has no responsibility to place any of these employees, but we did this because of our interest in them, and our appreciation of their faithful service," he said.

"All employees were interviewed concerning their individual interests in types of work, and where they would like to work," Dr. Hilleboe said. "Other State Department hospitals, and the Department's Division of Laboratories and Research were contacted to make certain the Onondaga Sanatorium employees had the first opportunity to take advantage of job openings at these facilities."

County Officials Praised

He said that Onondaga County officials and various State agencies cooperated with the State Health Department in the job placement program. "Onondaga County officials did an outstanding job in finding positions for 65 employees in county government," Dr. Hilleboe said.

Twenty-eight of the employees have been placed with the State Health Department; 34 with other State agencies; 65 with Onondaga County agencies, and 23 have obtained private employment.

Dr. Hilleboe said he was "deeply grateful for the assistance given by the many individuals and agencies who have helped to solve the placement problem at Onondaga Sanatorium." He also said that the cooperation of Onondaga Sanatorium employees in continuing on the job as long as they were needed "was of inestimable value in bringing about the orderly closing of the Sanatorium."

The Variable Annuity Plan—What Is It? How Can Aides Benefit Or Lose on Pensions?

By PHILIP KERKER

CSEA Public Relations Director

(This week The Leader begins a series of columns by Philip Kerker, director of public relations for the Civil Service Employees Association, on various aspects of the variable annuity plan as a possible adjunct to the State Retirement System plan. Mr. Kerker has drawn his information from many sources, including the State Retirement System.—The Editor.)

The concept of the variable annuity and its use as an adjunct to the New York State Retirement System was first introduced to the New York State public employees in 1958. In the spring of that year, Comptroller Arthur Levitt in a speech before a Civil Service Employees Association gathering expressed his interest in the concept and his intention to study its application to the Retirement System. Two years earlier in a Leader column, the Association had suggested that the idea of the variable annuity be studied for its possible use to increase the dollar values of public pensions and help meet the eroding effects of inflation upon the purchasing power of the dollar.

The variable annuity is a means to overcome the fixed dollar pension payments that prevail in formal retirement plans. The variable annuity will permit the investment of portions of the retirement fund in common stocks and other equities instead of restricting the investment to bonds and other debt obligations which pay a fixed number of dollars. By investing a part of the retirement fund in common stocks, the monies in the fund will fluctuate in accordance with the increase and also the decrease of the market values of the common stocks. In periods of inflation when the tendency of the stock value is to increase, the monies in the fund will also increase. Obviously the reverse would be true in periods of deflation and also the monies may change only slightly during periods of economic stability.

Some economists have held to the theory that the economy of the United States has been subject to inflationary influence since the end of the Civil War. Sometimes this inflationary trend has been slow or "creeping" and other times it has been violent. The decade between 1940 and 1950 is an example of the latter as was the decade between 1910 and 1920. Periods of deflation occurred between the years 1930 and 1940 as well as 1880 and 1900. The more recent figures are more pertinent to the problem of the retiring and retired employee in New York State. A glance at any economic chart showing the trend of the cost of living will show a definite upward surge from 1880 to the present. It is true there was a slight drop between 1880 and 1890 and a big dip between 1920 and 1940 but the slope will show the trend to be definitely upward. Also, a similar chart showing common stock prices during the same period will show the same trend although the charts will not be parallel in detail. It was the existence of this phenomenon that was one of the factors on prompting students of retirement systems to relate the investment of retirement funds to common stocks.

Conventional Plans

The conventional retirement plan, with its funds invested in bonds and obligations and paying its pensioners in fixed dollars, has during the past 20 years shown some weaknesses. Those who retired during this period found their pensions becoming more and more inadequate to maintain their existence. The purchasing power of the dollar fell rapidly during this period. In fact, some economists have figured the reduction of the buying power of the dollar to be as much as 50 percent between 1940 and today. This has posed a real problem for many people on retirement as can be easily seen.

For example, a person retiring from the public service in the state during this period at a pension of $1,500 a year will find his $1,500 today buying only about $750 worth of groceries, light, heat, rent, clothing, etc. His pension would never increase because it would be tied to a fixed dollar investment. He would continue to receive $1,500 every year of his life — but unfortunately if the buying power of the dollar fell, he would of necessity have to restrict his living to keep his expenses within his income. Obviously it is true that a fixed dollar pension would work to the advantage of a pensioner during periods of increased dollar purchasing power or deflation. However, periods of deflation in the American economy have been rare and none has occurred since 1940.

Variables Attract Many

Several industrial concerns have introduced the principle of the variable annuity into their retirement plans. Also the Trustees of the Pension Fund of the State of Wisconsin in 1957 got legislative approval to allow pension funds which are inequities to be placed in variable annuity accounts. Before that date, since 1951, the Wisconsin law had permitted the pension system to invest in common stocks, but the pensions from the fund were paid in fixed, not fluctuating dollars.

The real impetus towards the variable annuity in New York State came when the Teachers Insurance and Annuity Association in 1952 succeeded in getting a law passed by the New York State Legislature to permit the application of the variable annuity principle to their retirement plan. The Teachers Insurance Association, which, in the main, had as its policyholders those in the teaching profession in the colleges, operated before 1952 as a conventional life insurance company — returning to its members on retirement fixed dollar pensions. The result of the 1952 legislation was the creation of the College Retirement Equities Fund, or as it is commonly abbreviated, CREF, is the only variable annuity company domiciled in New York State today. The experience which it is having working with this concept will be of invaluable aid to the members and managers of the New York State Retirement System.

What Stalls P.O. Title for Christenberry

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 — Is somebody sitting on the postmastership of Robert K. Christenberry?

Mr. Christenberry, hotelman and former candidate for mayor of New York City, has been holding down the job of acting postmaster since July, 1958. His name was sent to Congress by President Eisenhower for confirmation as postmaster.

That was more than a month and a half ago. And the 1959 session of Congress is nearly over.

Mr. Christenberry's nomination isn't the only one held up. The Republicans say the Democrats are deliberately stalling, and the Democrats say they can't get a quorum.

The Senate's Post Office and Civil Service Committee, headed by Sen. Olin Johnston (D., S. C.), had more than 1,400 postmaster appointments handed to it. A little more than 600 have been confirmed. None has been rejected.

New York State's Senators, Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating (both Republicans) have both appealed personally to Senator Johnston.

Meanwhile, Congress is beginning to talk about packing its bags and closing up shop for this session.

Federal Workers Forming Own Credit Unions

Nine groups of Federal employees formed their own credit unions during the first six months of 1959 according to the Credit Union National Association (CUNA). There are more than 600 credit unions serving Federal employees, CUNA reports.

Largest of the group is the CHOD Credit Union, serving a potential membership of 722 employees of the Chicago Ordinance District. Others were formed in West County, West Virginia; Morgantown, West Virginia; Hulman Field, Indiana; Kanawha County, West Virginia; Rolla, Missouri; Frankfort, Ky; Sheffield, Ala. and Ft. Detrick, Maryland.

Credit unions are private, non-profit corporations formed by people with a common bond, or mutual interest. They agree to save their money together, and to make loans to each other out of their joint capital. All credit unions operate under law and are chartered by the government. The members elect officers from among their group who serve without pay, with the possible exception of the treasurer who may be paid if the volume of the work requires a large amount of his time. There are more than 25,000 credit unions with 13,000,000 members throughout the world, CUNA reports.

LABOR ECONOMIST JOBS OPEN IN AREA

The Bureau of Labor Statistics has vacancies now for young men who have majored in economics. In New York and other areas, beginning both at $4,040 and $4,980 a year. The jobs are part of a U.S. project now getting under way in fact gathering and research in wage analysis and industrial relations. Both bachelor's and master's degrees can be used in qualifying. Telephone or write Elliott A. Browar, Bureau of Labor Statistics, 341 Ninth Ave., New York City (LA 4-9400, ex. 499).

New U.S. Employee Code Sponsored by Rep. Celler

A bill to gather up all Federal personnel legislation into one orderly, up-to-date bundle for the first time in over 30 years was introduced in Congress last week by Rep. Emanuel Celler (D., N.Y.), chairman of the House Committee on the Judiciary.

The measure provides for recodification of Title 5 of the United States Code, which includes most of the Federal personnel laws. It will mark the first full codification of personnel laws since enactment of the Civil Service Act in 1883.

The new code is a result of three years of study by a U.S. Civil Service Commission staff group headed by James H. Falloon, Jr., of the U.S. CSC's general counsel's office, with help from the Committee on the Judiciary and its law revision counsel, Dr. Charles J. Zinn. Federal departments and agencies were also consulted. Rep. Celler said he will soon refer copies of the bill to the executive departments and agencies for review and comment.

Rep. Celler pointed out recodification has been needed for some years, because of the hundreds of new laws and amendments to existing laws. This is in line with his program of ultimately enacting into law all 50 titles of the United States Code.

By enacting it as Title 5 of the United States Code, the Congress

P.D. Denies Legion Charge

A charge that the Police Department forced 17 members of an American Legion Post to resign their offices was called untrue last week by Deputy Commissioner Walter Arm.

The William E. Sheridan Post of Brooklyn has about 500 members, more than half of them on the New York City police force.

The post's commander, Patrolman Thomas S. Sweeney, said the men had resigned as officers but kept their membership. He said the real reason "was because the post had given the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association aid in their fight for grievance machinery."

Deputy Commissioner Arm stated, "This is a distortion of the truth. The resignations were voluntary."

Dr. Levin Leaves State Health Dept. After 23 Years

ALBANY, Aug. 31 — The retirement of Dr. Morton L. Levin, 55, as Assistant Commissioner for Medical Services was announced today by Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, State Health Commissioner. Dr. Levin has been associated with the State Health Department since 1936.

Dr. Levin is a former president of the Public Health Cancer Association and the New York State Epidemiological Society.

He received his doctor of medicine degree from the University of Maryland in 1930, and master of public health and doctor of public health degrees from Johns Hopkins School of Hygiene and Public Health.

Dr. Levin interned at the Sinai Hospital, Baltimore, Md., and was assistant resident at the hospital from 1931 to 1932, when he was appointed assistant dispensary physician at Johns Hopkins. In 1934, he was appointed commissioner of health for Ottawa County, Michigan, and in 1936, he became an instructor of epidemiology at the Johns Hopkins School of Hygiene and Public Health.

He was appointed assistant director of cancer control of the State Health Department in 1936. He was named director of cancer control in 1946, and assistant commissioner the following year.

"Dr. Morton L. Levin's retirement from the State Health Department comes after almost a quarter of a century of service to the people of New York State in the prevention of disease and disability," Dr. Hilleboe said. "Yet he is about to start another career at the age of 55, as a professor, made possible by the American Cancer Society, at Roswell Park Memorial Institute in association with the Buffalo Medical School."

"Dr. Levin has become a national and international authority in the field of cancer control, especially the study of the natural history of the disease among various population groups. His original study on the strong association between cigarette smoking and cancer of the lung, based upon investigation at Roswell Park, was one of the first authoritative contributions on this important subject."

The Teamster Policy Shift Is Uncalled For

IN A RADICAL change of policy, Teamster Local 237 has announced a campaign to bring State employees into its fold.

Within the last few months, James Hoffa, international president of the Teamsters Union, told a Teamsters delegate meeting in Miami, Florida, that the public employees were the next target of the Teamsters organizing campaign.

At the same time, however, Mr. Hoffa pledged not to raid already established organizations. Despite this announcement, the Teamsters are now on the move in New York State.

Henry Feinstein, president of Teamster Local 237, said he has asked for and received the full support of the International Union in the campaign to win State workers as members of his local, despite the fact that most state workers are already members of the Civil Service Employees Association.

The Employees Association has a long and splendid record of accomplishment for its members and we fail to see the need for raiding by Mr. Feinstein in an area where workers have in no way expressed dissatisfaction with the status quo.

We feel that Mr. Feinstein's efforts are unuseful and unnecessary and in all probability will do nothing more than stir up strife without strengthening his own local. We need only to cite the results of his efforts to organize the New York City Police — a campaign whose tactics The Leader opposed.

CIVIL SERVICE NOTES FROM ALL OVER

NEW JERSEY: A psychiatrist exam for police candidates has been recommended by police officers at a recent institute, which asked that the State Civil Service Commission provide for such tests. Seattle, Wash., has had such a program for some time.

"MAIL WOMEN" may be in the works, as U.S. postal operations get more and more mechanized. In the New York area, Westchester and Putnam Counties are making a point of seeking women to apply for clerk jobs in the post offices. A new U.S. "Assistant to the Postmaster General", Mrs. Cecil Hardin, is in charge of recruiting women.

CALIFORNIA's legislature has called on state agencies to arrange for reasonably priced parking space for state employees. The system of fees would try to meet the total statewide cost of setting up and running the parking facilities.

OKLAHOMA saw a fine bit of promotion of civil service for public eyes. Seniors of an Oklahoma City high school worked one day each in the state's Personnel Board's offices to compete in an "ideal secretary" contest. They received the exam for senior stenographer, were interviewed by a private firm, and rated on secretarial work by the Personnel Board.

ST PAUL, MINN., went after junior civil engineers by inviting candidates to come to the city for examination at the City's expense — and then rated, interviewed and did the hiring before the candidate returned home. The city got junior engineer draftsmen through its own one-year training program.

DAYTON, OHIO, settled a confused election with a Civil Service exam of the candidates. A court decision invalidated results of an election for Harrison Township constable. All candidates agreed to the issue being resolved by an impartial test to select the best-qualified candidate. The Dayton Civil Service Board gave the exam free to the seven candidates, and all the losers stated that they felt the result was impartial, and valid.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA employees' unemployment compensation is provided at $8 to $30 a week, and benefits up to a maximum of 26 weeks by the District government.

TA PREFERRED LIST IS LABELED UNFAIR

Editor, The Leader:

On Aug. 1, 1959 a Preferred Appropriate List for 1,600 Transit Authority workers was approved by the City Civil Service Commission.

All men who have passed an open competitive exam in the following titles or who are already on such lists, will be denied appointment for 4 years. The titles are: stationary engineer, stationary engineer electric, oiler, marine oiler, marine stoker, stationary firemen, maintenance men and railroad clerk.

PROPOSES 'WARDENS' TO RELIEVE POLICE

Editor, The Leader:

There are too few policemen. The Mayor, Commissioner Kennedy, the policemen themselves and the taxpaying public all agree on that.

The present force is hundreds short of its quota — and even with the Police Department at its full strength, there still won't be enough to do a complete policing job in this largest city in the U. S. A.

So here is my suggestion:

Set up a block-warden system, like England had during World War II. Each block in the city would have its own man more or less in charge of keeping things law-abiding, subject to the police themselves. He would be under the orders of whichever policeman had that beat.

This system would have a two-fold use.

The Fire Department is also undermanned. In case of fire or other emergencies, the block warden would report on trouble to the Fire Department, and help keep order while the firemen are going about their work. This would also relieve police who are assigned to such keeping of order.

Let's hear other such suggestions from the Leader's readers.

Leader Personalities

Public Works Dept. Is Country's Master Builder

"I think this is the best department in the City," said New York Public Works Commissioner Frederick H. Zurmuhlen in an interview last week with The Leader. "I had dealings with it before I became Commissioner and know it to be good, otherwise I wouldn't have come."

Commissioner Zurmuhlen, who holds "every honor the architectural and engineering professions and the construction industry can give one man," is a stocky, muscular and energetic man. He is blunt and to the point. He dresses conservatively. He is reputed both as an architect and as an engineer.

"Construction," he said, "that's my job. It's my experience, my whole career."

The Department of Public Works does all the architectural and engineering work for all City departments except the Authorities, the Parks Department, Education and Marine and Aviation.

It handles all work involving capital expenditures for the Hospitals Department, Health, Pollution Control, Borough Presidents' offices, all bridges and municipal buildings. It is considered to be the largest engineering and architectural organization in the world.

"I took a substantial cut in salary when I got this job," he said, "I didn't come here for money. There isn't another job in America with the opportunities for accomplishment for an architect and engineer that there are in this post. But my greatest pride is the high competence of the whole department."

There are about 4,300 men in the Department, ranging from cleaners making $3,000 a year, to the commissioner, whose annual salary is $25 thousand.

"Other cities, other states even, come to us for advice," said Mr. Zurmuhlen. "Our annual report is a matter of record in every public office of any size in the country and in every architectural and engineering college."

"We have, in the twelve years I've been commissioner, successfully completed more than $600 million worth of construction. That's an average of about $50 million a year."

"I can say with assurance that we have the respect of the construction industry, and believe me, that respect must be earned."

"Politics," Mr. Zurmuhlen concluded, "has meant absolutely nothing here. Our department is strictly a working organization. I have been commissioner here under three consecutive Mayors."

Frederick Henry Zurmuhlen was born in New York City on June 23, 1897. He became a licensed engineer in 1925 and received a bachelor's degree in architecture four years later.

He worked for 22 years both in private industry and Federal projects before being appointed City Public Works Commissioner by Mayor William O'Dwyer in 1947.

Among his earlier posts was chief engineer in the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Agency, which he held from 1935 through 1937; consulting engineer to the U.S. World Fair Commission on the construction of the Federal building, federal exhibits and foreign shelter buildings at the World Fair held in New York in 1939.

In 1942 he was awarded an honorary degree of doctor of engineering by Manhattan College in recognition of an $86 million army base he built on completely virgin territory.

Among honors he has received are: "Engineer of the Year" in 1956, from the five New York City chapters of the New York State Society of Professional Engineers; Medal of Honor of the National Sculpture Society, the Citation of Merit of the Municipal Art Society, the 1950 annual award of the New York Association of Consulting Engineers, the Hearst Medal of the Downtown Manhattan Association for outstanding public service, and a commendation of the Fine Arts Federation of New York.

He served three terms as president of the New York State Society of Professional Engineers, after organizing 14 of its 23 chapters.

Mr. Zurmuhlen also served two terms as director of the National Society of Professional Engineers, two terms as vice president, and was then the nominating committee's choice for president. Due to illness, he was forced to decline that nomination.

He is a former president of the Richmond County Transit Conference, a former District Deputy of the Knights of Columbus and is a trustee of the Staten Island Institute of Arts and Sciences.

Included among organizations in which he maintains active membership are the American Society of Military Engineers, of which he is a director; American Society of Civil Engineers, Staten Island Chamber of Commerce, American Institute of Architects, Catholic Historic Society of America, New York Zoological Society, Engineers' Club of New York and the Municipal Art Society of New York.

In 1923 Mr. Zurmuhlen married the former Katherine E. Horal of Staten Island. They have five sons and a daughter, all grown, and of which he says, "I am proud that each has a college degree and that all the boys have served their country. The youngest is doing his hitch right now."

Awards Go to 400 Policemen

Nearly 400 members of the New York City Police Department were awarded citations for meritorious service recently, Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kenedy has announced.

A posthumous Honorable Mention award, the highest award made, was given Patrolman Michael Talkowsky, 23rd Precinct.

He was fatally wounded in a gun battle January 31, 1939.

Another honorable mention award went to Patrolman Richard S. Melita, who was with Patrolman Talkowsky in the fatal battle. One of the bandits in-involved was killed and the other two fled but were picked up later that day.

Patrolman Adam H. Stachurski, 114th Precinct, received an Exceptional Merit award for his part in another lead-spattered arrest.

The other awards conferred were 29 Commendations, 110 Meritorious Police Duty and 234 Excellent Police Duty awards. All count as extra credit on promotion examination.

Yes - and we'll have to keep at it as long as there's a building boom in New York. For today's new homes, businesses and factories have a big appetite for electricity... use far more than the older buildings they replace.

We try to do all street work as painlessly for everyone as possible. In heavy-traffic areas we cart away the dirt until the job is at the fill-in stage... and we put steel plates over openings, between phases of the job, to help keep traffic moving.

Questions Answered On Social Security

Is it too late for my wife to file her claim for back pay from social security? I have been drawing my checks for some time; my wife became 62 years old last September and she heard yesterday that she could have started her checks beginning with September 1958. Has she lost her rights to those payments?

No. If she will file her claim with our office before the close of September, she may still be entitled to retroactive payments beginning with September 1958.

I worked steady under social security up until two years ago when at the age of 52 I became permanently injured on the job. I haven't filed for disability under social security, as I do not want to interfere with my State Workmen's Compensation. However, I am wondering if I am mistaken on this and if I should do something about my social security?

By all means. Because of a recent change in the social security law, you may be eligible for Workmen's Compensation and social security disability payments. Get in touch with your social security office before September, 1959 about filing a claim; payments may be made as far back as August 1958.

For several years my husband was supporting a minor child whom we were planning to adopt. My husband died over a year ago and I followed through with the proceeding and had the child legally adopted. Can I be eligible to receive social security benefits for the adopted child?

Yes. If a minor child is legally adopted within two years after the worker's death, and if certain other requirements are met, monthly benefits may be paid for the child and also to you. I suggest that you contact your social security office immediately.

I understand that women may be eligible for reduced wife's benefits after they become age 62. Is the same true in disability cases? I am drawing disability payments and my wife is over 62 years old?

Effective with September, 1958 the wives of disabled workers were made eligible for benefits at age 62 the same as wives of retired workers. Both you and your wife should contact the social security office immediately about filing her claim for possible back payments.

I hire a cleaning woman to work once a week and pay her $10.00 a day. She says that these wages should be reported for social security but I understand that this is optional with the employer. Am I right or is she?

If the cleaning woman is paid $50 or more cash wages in a calendar quarter then the wages must be reported for social security purposes. If she is paid less than $50 cash in a quarter the wages are not to be reported. It appears that your cleaning lady would be paid at least $50.00 and the law would require that her wages be reported.

My husband died fully insured last year. When I filed for benefits, I was told that no monthly benefits were payable until I was age 62 unless I had a minor child of my husband's in my care. Since my husband's death I have adopted a minor child who was living in our home and fully supported by my husband for the past three years. Is this adopted child eligible for monthly benefits?

Recent changes in the Social Security Law make payment of benefits possible to a child who was a member of a wage earner's household at the time of death if that child is adopted by the surviving spouse. See your nearest social security office for complete information.

My husband and I will be eligible for social security retirement benefits soon. We have two small children belonging to our daughter that we are raising. Is there any chance of their drawing social security benefits?

As your grandchildren, they have no rights to any benefits on your account; however, they would be eligible for benefits if you legally adopt them.

My husband died in January, 1959. I plan to adopt our grandchild who was living with us at the time. The child's natural father has been contributing $50 a month to his support since 1957. Can this child receive benefits on my husband's social security record if I adopt him?

No. Since the child was receiving regular contributions from a person other than you or your husband the new provisions on adopted children will not permit payment to be made to him.

I have been drawing social security benefits for my minor son who will be 18 years of age this coming November. Since he will still be in high school at that time, will his benefits be continued until he graduates in 1960?

No. There is no provision to pay benefits to children past 18 except disabled children whose disability began before 18. Therefore, benefits will cease when your son attains 18. Actually your son's last payment will be for October because benefits end with the month before the month of attaining 18.

My husband and I have been drawing benefits at the minimum rate. Now he has died. Will my widow's benefit be only three-fourths of his $33,000 monthly rate?

No. You will receive $33.00 a month, although the widow's benefit is usually three-fourths of her husband's monthly rate; however, a widow alone will not be paid less than $33.

My wife and I have been receiving our social security benefits in a combined check. However, now that she is in a nursing home, is it possible for us to get separate checks — one sent to me and one sent to my wife at the nursing home?

Yes. Separate checks can be issued when a couple are separated. Separate checks will be issued upon request in cases where it is burdensome or difficult for the payees to promptly negotiate their checks.

St. George Drive Is Growing

The St. George Association, Hospital Employees Chapter 23, is making great progress in their 1959 Membership Drive, officials have stated.

The Association is basically a United Protestant workers' organization, centered in New York, but spread across the country. The first and most important of its aims is to get Protestants to realize the necessity of making their religion a vital thing, and to do it where they have the finest opportunity outside of the home — on the job. Its slogan is, "An Everyday Religion in a Work-a-day World."

Its second aim is to work towards a united Protestantism.

Its third aim is a greater degree of cooperation and understanding between all spiritually minded people. Here the St. George Association extends the hand of friendship and cooperation to its Catholic brethren and Jewish brethren feeling that as spiritually minded people and American citizens, they have much in common and can unite their strength for the achievement of many common goals.

The Rev. Edmund A. Bosch is executive secretary and national organizer of the St. George Association of the U. S. of A., Inc. For further information, contact Robert L. Green, president, Hospital Employees Chapter No. 23, 35 West 110th St., Apt. 2A, New York, N. Y.

Central Islip

A "Group Leadership Institute" was conducted recently at Central Islip State Hospital by staff members of the training section of the Personnel Service Division, New York State Department of Civil Service.

Virginia M. Leatham, training supervisor of the State Department of Civil Service, co-ordinator of the program, was assisted by John G. Lee, Salvatore Mazzara, William A. Law and George J. Yehmann, training supervisors on the staff of the Department of Civil Service Training Section. Mr. Robert French, assistant director of the division, visited the institute during the course of training.

The fundamental purpose of this institute is to train selected supervisors so they may be prepared to conduct supervisory training sessions for other supervisors and personnel within their own organizations. The week of training was divided into two major parts, discussion session covering techniques of presentation conducted by the staff members, and practice sessions conducted by the trainees.

On completion of this intensive training course, all trainees will be expected within a short period of time to conduct a 30-hour training program in "Fundamentals of Supervision" at the institution where they are employed.

Staff members will assist institutions in organizing training groups, will provide guide sheets for each session, visual aids and other reference materials as needed. Staff members will also make supervisory visits to the programs while they are in progress.

Participating in the course as trainees from Central Islip were Christine Freeman and Robert Green. Other institutions which were represented at the Institute were Middletown, Harlem Valley, Rockland State, Buffalo, Willowbrook, Pilgrim, Kings Park, Brooklyn Binghamton and Newark State School.

The use of the hospital facilities at Central Islip for this program were provided through the courtesy of the director, Dr. Francis J. O'Neill.
