Broome County Fights Civil Service Status For Defense Aides

(From Leader Correspondent)

BINGHAMTON, June 26—Despite the lure of federal-state aid, Broome County legislators do not want to give their Civil Defense leaders permanent Civil Service status.

Henry M. Baldwin, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, explained that he believes the county's Civil Defense director has too many policy-making powers to be given a permanent Civil Service job.

Mr. Baldwin said he believes control over the county's Civil Defense organization should remain with the Board of Supervisors. Mr. Baldwin, as chairman, has the power to hire or fire the Civil Defense director.

The county's Civil Defense director is Claude A. Wheeler, a former county supervisor.

F. W. Farrell, state Civil Defense commissioner, notified the Broome legislators last week that they might receive federal-state reimbursement amounting to one-half of the salaries paid to Civil Defense personnel.

But, the commissioner said, in order to qualify for such aid, the county would have to place the paid CD personnel in a competitive classification.

Seek Other Counties' Support

The Broome County Civil Service Commission said it would not take action on the matter until it learned the sentiment of the Board of Supervisors.

Mr. Baldwin and the board's Civil Defense Committee voted not only to oppose the commissioner's move but also to seek the opposition of other counties.

Total salaries paid to Mr. Wheeler and five other CD staff members will amount to $25,260 this year. The state-federal reimbursement would amount to up to $12,630.

May Withdraw Aid

Mr. Wheeler said state and federal officials might look upon the legislators' decision with such disfavor that eventually they might withdraw some of the $40,000 to $50,000 a year which the county receives in aid for purchase of Civil Defense equipment.

The Civil Defense director and others on his staff now serve under emergency defense appointments.

Position Growing To Ogdensburg Plan For Safety Officers

Implementation Is Seen 'Several Years' Away

(From Leader Correspondent)

OGDENSBURG, June 26—Dire warning of fire department operation inefficiency in the years ahead, coupled with possible fire insurance rate boosts in Ogdensburg, have apparently failed to move Mayor Francis B. Burns in his determination to convert members of that city's fire department into "safety officers" under a new civil service designation.

A similar plan casually advocated for Watertown a few years back appears to have been dropped because of civil service objections, despite the fact it was proposed by the executive secretary of the Jefferson county civil service commission — Mayor William G. Lachenauer.

Under the Ogdensburg mayor's plan, soon to be started with a civil service test for "safety officers" to fill fire department vacancies, only firemen would be affected.

"I've had quite a few repercussions to my plan," admitted the Ogdensburg mayor. "Most of them have come from civil service people, notably the firemen."

CSEA Opposes Plan

Joseph F. Felly, president of the Civil Service Employees Assn., said the Employees Association would vigorously oppose any such consolidation.

Mr. Felly said "the idea of consolidating police and fire forces within a community is not a novel one, and, at first glance, it might appear to result in some economies. After careful investigation, I have learned that in those places in the United States where this experiment has been undertaken, there has resulted duplication in higher cost of police and fire protection, almost without exception.

"Patently," said Mr. Felly, "the police and firemen of the State, have competitive civil service, have competed for the positions which they presently hold, and there is no guarantee that they are legally eligible for interchange — one with the other."

Possible Safety Threat

Also to be considered in a proposed consolidation of this kind is the possible threat to the morale of a community's fire and police forces, as well as the very real threat to the community's overall safety, he declared.

The president of the 95,000-member organization concluded: "We urge those considering experimenting in this area to carefully review the facts. This Association has never opposed any progressive change in state or municipal government, but it does oppose retrogression under the guise of economy."

The opponents to the Burns program argue, the Ogdensburg mayor said, that it poses a threat to the efficiency of the fire department.

The mayor thinks his plan's basic implementation is "still several years away."

"Hard-Fisted" Boss

Under his plan to make firemen adopt a part-time policeman role, eventually Ogdensburg would have a commissioner of safety probably a hardfisted hard-headed civilian able to carry out his own orders, Mayor Burns said.

Would his plan end the present status of chief of the fire department?

No, says the mayor. There would still be a chief of fire and one for police, coordinating their work under the civilian commissioner.

Would policemen be required in future examinations to know fire practices?

No, says the mayor. The firemen, or safety officers as they will be known henceforth when the first eligible list is established, would have to know how to do minor police chores and be on call for their dual responsibilities.

Objectors question the line of command under such a plan as Mayor Burns seeks.

Cost Not Known

They say that with a fire chief in nominal command of a group of "safety officers", would the fire chief be able to direct his men in their dual capacities? Would the police chief be able to assign "safety officers" under the nominal command of the fire chief to police chores?

Mayor Burns says he thinks this could all be coordinated through

Complete Courses

Voluntary evening courses given during the 1960-61 school year, were completed by more than 1,200 New York City Housing Authority employees, Gerald J. Carey, general of the Authority announced. Commencement exercises for these people were held last Wednesday.

The course inaugurated in 1953, has helped hundreds of Authority employees to qualify for promotions, Mr. Carey said. This year, he said, many housing caretakers took a 36-week course to qualify for the housing fireman job, and others completed 12-week courses in preparation for civil service tests for various maintenance and office positions.

Host Children

The New York Police Anchor Club was host last week to more than 5,000 children from 23 non-sectarian orphanages in New York, and the Metropolitan area, for a day of fun at Steeplechase Park. Each child received a picnic lunch and was admitted to all amusements without charge.

Your Public Relations IQ

By LEO J. MARGOLIN

(Mr. Margolin is an adjunct professor of public relations in the New York University School of Public Administration.)

THE NEED FOR public relations to appear as witnesses has hindered law enforcement."

HOW IS THIS public cooperation won?

To have effect, any public relations program must continue year after year. If necessary, a police public relations program must last five, 10, or 20 years before public cooperation is won. And the PR efforts must go on indefinitely to hold this cooperation.

SOONER OR later the New York City police public relations program will be successful, providing it continues along sound PR principles — with everything the police do being solely in the public interest.

ALL PUBLIC relations is cumulative.

Thus, it is urgent that good public relations be on continuing basis year after year.

POLICE DEPARTMENTS, from top executives down to the men on patrol, must work at generating good public relations by superior performance, identified always with the public interest.

If continued long enough, total public cooperation for law enforcement should result almost automatically.

Opposition Grows To Ogdensburg Safety Officer Plan

the civilian safety commissioner. The Ogdensburg chief executive is uncertain what a new safety commissioner, with his staff, would cost the taxpayers. Objectors say the cost would be likely to more than offset any saving to taxpayers by giving firemen their dual roles.

The move, Mayor Burns frankly admits, is designed as one of economy. It would save tax dollars, he believes, and he says that "most of the taxpayers favor this course of action."

However, objectors are confident that the Ogdensburg city council may give heed to their arguments. They insist, and with some reasonableness, that the Burns plan is likely to result in less fire-fighting efficiency, higher insurance rates eventually, plus added costs of establishing a necessary coordinating agency under the direction of a new safety commissioner.

But Mayor Burns counters the cost factor with the argument that if and when his plan is finally implemented, Ogdensburg will have a single, central fire station for more efficient operation.

Watertown Killed Plan

However, the objection to creating dual-purpose "safety officers" in Ogdensburg is crystallizing with the final impact still years away.

Objectors say, however, it will be interesting to watch the struggle for command during what Mayor Burns describes as the interim years, between appointment of the first "safety officer" and the creation of the new office of safety commissioner.

Watertown's combination police-fire plan was knocked down before a proposed program was developed. It was originally blasted by Councilman Charles W. Hayes, county fire coordinator and staunch backer of the fire department as it is today. In Watertown's case the suggestion drew fire from both police and firemen, all of whom would have been equally affected.

John Elower Installed As Tioga Unit Head

Some 80 people attended the installation dinner. Assemblyman Richard Lounsberry was master of ceremonies. Guest speakers were: Raymond G. Costle, second vice president, CSEA, and Vernon A. Tapper, third vice-president, CSEA.

Aides Urged To Greater Personal Activity In Local Political Scene

Western Conference Hears Leader Editor On Voting

NIAGARA FALLS, June 26 — Delegates and guests attending the recent meeting here of the Western Conference, Civil Service Employees Assn., were urged to take a more active role as members of the electorate body of their community.

Paul Kyer, editor of The Leader, decried "modesty in citizenship" and urged civil servants to "stand up and be counted and heard, not as a civil servant but as a franchised voter of your community."

Decide on the party of your choice, become active in it and carry the wishes and ambitions of your fellow workers to party headquarters as well as the voting booth, The Leader editor advised.

"Legislators, supervisors and local officials are elected at home," Mr. Kyer said. "The fact that you work for government should not blind you to the fact that government works for you. Too many civil servants exercise their citizenship modestly and some even believe they are second class citizens."

"There is only one class citizenship in the polls," Mr. Kyer said, and "and it is available to everyone."

Local Strength Grows

Pointing to the growing membership strength of the Employees Association in political subdivisions, Mr. Kyer said "we know of the growing strength of the CSEA locally. It is up to us to pass that knowledge on to the legislators, who sometimes need to be reminded that civil servants are voters, too."

Speaking in another vein, Mr. Kyer advised his listeners to "follow the leader" in promoting public employee welfare. "Don't diffuse your efforts by acting out of step with the CSEA leaders you have chosen. Unity of decision is as important as unity of action and you must trust the leaders you have chosen to set policy," he declared.

During the afternoon business session, delegates heard an address on legal matters by Charles Sandler, CSEA regional attorney.

DeMarco Steps Down

A county workshop was presided over by William De Marco, who was making a farewell official appearance. Mr. DeMarco, after years of devoted service to the Conference, has relinquished the post of county workshop chairman to Mrs. Margieanne Kinney, of Catteragus County chapter. She will be assisted by Ruth Heacox, vice president, and Irene Lavery, secretary.

New officers of the Western Conference were installed by Joseph F. Feily, CSEA president, at the evening dinner, for which Albert C. Killian, outgoing Conference president and first vice president of the CSEA, was toastmaster.

Installed were William J. Rossiter, president; George DeLong, vice president; John Hennessey, second vice president; Thomas Pritchard, treasurer, and Irene Lavery, secretary.

Mrs. McFee Honored

An extensive guest list included Mrs. Joseph Feily, Raymond G. Costle, CSEA second vice president, and Mrs. Costle; Vernon A. Tapper, CSEA third vice president; Claude E. Rowell, CSEA fifth vice president and Mrs. Rowell; Charlotte Clapper, CSEA secretary; Ted Wenzl, CSEA treasurer; James O. Anderson, Southern Conference president; Hazel Abrams, Central Conference president; Solomon Bendet, Metropolitan Conference president, and S. Samuel Borelly, chairman of the Central Conference county workshop.

Special honor was paid Mrs. Ruth McFee, president of Monro County chapter. She was presented with a citation from the Conference for her outstanding work on the county level.

Hertzstein Installs Officers of Kings Park C.S.E.A. Unit

Officers of the Kings Park State Hospital chapter, Civil Service Employees Association were installed by Harold Hertzstein, civil service attorney, at a recent dinner meeting held at Frevolas' restaurant in Smithtown. Louis George was installed as president.

Mr. Hertzstein stressed the importance of the CSEA and of the Kings Park chapter, one of its largest. He told the officers that there was hard work ahead and no time for vanity; and that they should consider the honor of their positions only after their terms were finished.

A resounding tribute was given to William Kelly the out-going president. He was praised by Francis Gormley, master of ceremonies, for his effective administration. Mr. Gormley presented him with a watch.

The following is the new slate of officers:

President, Louis George; first vice-president, John Nathan; second vice-president, William McDonald; third vice-president, Nellie Mosely; Recording secretary, Ola W. McDonald; corresponding secretary, Dorothy Cuneo; treasurer, Ann Gaynor; sergeant-at-arms, Jerry Hart; and delegates, William Kelly and Francis Gormley.

3 Conference Delegates Hurt On Way To Meet

30 Year Retirement Bill Goes To Senate

The Civil Service Commission has recommended to the Senate a bill providing for full retirement after 30 years of service at age 55. The Kennedy Administration was initially opposed to the bill, which had first provided for full retirement after 30 years, without specifying any age.

At present Federal Workers may retire after 30 years of service at age 55, but in doing so the benefits are reduced at the rate of one percent for each year under age 60.

Capt. Royle Retires From Brooklyn Post

Shown above is Captain Herbert B. Royle of Morganville, New Jersey who recently retired after completing 23 years of Federal service. Capt. Royle was employed as a master and first class harbor craft pilot for 16 years at the Brooklyn Army Terminal.

In 1916 Mr. Royle enlisted in the Army Coast Artillery Corps and during World War I he served in France. After the start of the second world war, he joined the Coast Guard and served aboard the Campbell, which sank the first enemy submarine while on patrol duty in the Atlantic. He came to the Brooklyn Army Terminal in 1945.

John Macy Pushes Bill For More Top Jobs

Civil Service Commission chairman John Macy appeared before the House Committee on post office and civil service last week to urge support of a bill "to increase the limitation on the number of positions that may be placed in the top grades of the Classification Act of 1949 . . . and on the number of research and development positions of scientists and engineers for which special rates of pay are authorized; to fix the compensation of hearing examiners . . ."

The bill, Mr. Macy said, "is concerned with this matter of leadership positions . . . leadership in science, in technical work, and in supervision and management." Rapid technological change and the growth of the government "all combine to make yesterday's controls on top level positions very seriously out of date," Mr. Macy said.

The bill would provide for more than 500 additional top jobs in grades 16, 17 and 18. Some 400 hearing examiners would get grade hikes and more pay. Those in grades 14 and 15 would be moved up to grade 16; grade 12 and 13 hearing examiners would go up to grade 14.

The bill would also create more than 300 extra scientific and professional jobs. Salaries would range from $12,500 to $19,000. Small salary raises for 28 officials with frozen pay would also be included in the bill. Many of these officials are career civil servants whose subordinates have equal or higher salaries.

Macy Outlines 5 Steps To Career Growth

John Macy, Civil Service Commission chairman, outlined five principal elements that contribute to the continuing career growth in the Federal service, to a group of interns who have completed a year's special training and work assignment under the sponsorship of the New York-New Jersey Federal College Internship Program. The program is financed by a Ford Foundation grant for a five year period.

These five elements are: on the job experience, self development efforts, performance as a supervisor, mobility, and advanced training and education.

C.S.C. Joins Goldberg's "Hire Now" Campaign

The Civil Service Commission has announced its whole-hearted cooperation with Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg's "Hire Now" campaign to locate jobs for the unemployed. The Commission also announced that its staff has been giving top priority for placement of employees adversely affected by the closing of Defense installations.

Commission chairman John Macy announced that all departments and agencies have been urged to place job orders with the State Employment services to fill vacancies that cannot be filled through normal civil service procedures. This procedure will be particularly applicable to technical and professional personnel.

Information Exchange For ADP Established

The Civil Service Commission has established an automatic data processing information exchange to assist agencies in evaluating the feasibility of applying these techniques to personnel programs and in comparing their own systems with those of other agencies.

The information exchange will try to discourage duplication in studies and to facilitate standardization of techniques in reporting agency actions to the Commission.

Other objectives of the exchange will be to stimulate interest in developing improved administrative techniques and to promote compatibility of ADP systems with civil service regulations and authorities.

Unions Should Explain Promotion, Macy Says

Employee organizations have a continuing responsibility to serve their members through a "constructive review" of merit promotion plans in Federal agencies, Civil Service Commission chairman John W. Macy told the fifth district council of the American Federation of Government Employees Lodges last week.

"One clear and undisputed finding of our inspection of agency promotion programs is the need for more employee knowledge and understanding of the promotion program as it applies in his particular agency and work situation," Mr. Macy said. There are many ways, Mr. Macy continued, that "unions can supplement the educational job that agency management is trying to do."

Safety Is Goal Of State Plan For Training

Safety techniques will be stressed in two four hour training sessions for New York City window cleaners.

The State Labor Department, through its Division of Industrial Safety Service, is sponsoring the course covering use of rigging, scaffold and boatswain chairs.

Some 1600 union window cleaners employed by contractors and building corporations in the city will benefit from the course.

Carl J. Mattel, director of the Division, outlined the objectives of the course at a recent conference between State Labor Department officials, union representatives and State Insurance Fund.

Present were Nicholas Luchty, secretary-manager of Window Cleaners Union Local 2, Building Service Employees International Union, AFL-CIO; Walter E. Ilichuk, business agent of that union, Raymond Gnesin, safety director of the Accident Prevention and Safety League, Inc., Group 45 of the State Insurance Fund; Frank Rodden, senior service representative of the State Insurance Fund; and Harry Parker Quinn, assistant deputy commissioner for the State Labor Department.

PERSONNEL COUNCIL HUDDLE—William P. McGlone, executive director, Council of Community Services for Albany Area, Richard H. Mattox, New York State Personnel Council retiring chairman, James M. Flavin, Council of Community Services, Albany area, president, and the new Personnel Council chairman, John Daniels (left to right), are talking things over at a recent meeting. 832 Says Police Forcing Clerks Off IBM Work

A protest by Terminal Employee Local 832 was forwarded to Police Commissioner Michael Murphy on behalf of the civilians employed in the I.B.M. Division of the New York City Police Dept.

It was learned by the local that the Police Dept. will install a 1401 Data Processing System in its annex at 400 Broome St., and as a result will need trained personnel as programmers and assistant programmers. The Police Dept. has assigned nine members of the uniformed force and one civilian to take such training from the IBM Corporation, while employees with titles such as senior tabulating operators, are denied the training.

The president of the local, Herbert S. Bauch, urged Commissioner Murphy to select the two top ranking civilian employees in the IBM Division of his agency, both senior tabulating operators, to participate in the next class, scheduled to commence on July 10.

HOW TO SUCCEED IN CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS

Some individuals, learning that an examination is about to be held for a position for which they feel that they are qualified, make further inquiries, file an application, enroll at a Civil Service School of established reputation and diligently apply themselves to this specialized preparation. In their case there is an excellent prospect for success.

Unfortunately, others content themselves with filing an application, visiting libraries, and obtaining books which are usually out-dated and of doubtful value. They often study intensively but their haphazard approach to preparation brings them to their exam with little or no hope of success.

ADVANTAGES OF CIVIL SERVICE

Appointments are strictly on a merit basis. Duties are interesting and offer good chances of promotion plus job security, liberal vacations, sick leave and social security benefits in addition to pensions.

The Sat. Evening Post And Police 'Unions'

A recent Saturday Evening Post editorial (June 3, 1961) on police "unions" concluded by stating: "A good force, well paid, honest, courteous, proud of itself, under a strong, fair-minded head who is really in charge—this is what every city needs."

Prior to this noble conclusion, however, the SEP made it clear that it felt city or state could be on the road to such a police force by taking the first step of breaking up police organizations.

Such organizations, the SEP proclaimed, break down discipline, encourage slothfulness and corruption, weaken the ability of a chief of police or superintendent to direct his men and, eventually, become nothing more than strong-arm political units.

What is so distressing about this editorial is not that it attacked police organizations but that it made no attempt to assay the reasons for the creation of them. There was no discussion at all of understaffing and little discussion of public apathy toward police unless some scandal was involved. It spoke of poor pay but did not at all take to task those who are responsible for low police wages. Furthermore, the editorial failed to cite instances where police corruption was worse when it was entirely under the control of one individual—usually a powerful politician.

But perhaps the most shocking aspect of the SEP viewpoint was the suggestion that police chiefs were hampered in discipline because police officers were entitled to a trial on charges against them. The SEP would have it that a police chief can bypass all the ordinary means of judging innocence or guilt by having the authority to discipline men without any due process of law at all.

And here we think the Saturday Evening Post overlooked the primary cause of most police disturbances—the lack of chance for a fair hearing and the almost complete absence of any grievance procedures.

Police of any kind—troopers, patrolmen, sheriff deputies—are on the firing line every bit as much as the infantryman in time of war. In addition, they are faced with strains, temptations and hostilities not only from criminals but from ordinary citizens. To expect these men to perform as robots with no redress to the grievances they absolutely have; to expect total silence and chastisement without raising any voice at all—singularly or collectively—is to expect something of them that no other class of American citizen would tolerate.

The Saturday Evening Post reported how one police organization reacted when the police chief refused to deal with it. The SEP did not report one instance, however, of what could be accomplished when a police chief or superintendent recognized the normal rights of his men and actively sought the cooperation of their organization.

The time to attack an employee organization is when it has been given its chance and failed its responsibility. A police head who refuses to deal with a police organization (which the men have voluntarily joined) on the grounds that it will interfere with the operation of the department is only defending his private opinion.

There can never be good police discipline without good morale. And there can never be good morale without a redress to grievances and a chance to speak out.

We suggest that the Saturday Evening Post advise a more harmonious relationship between chief and private before leaping to the defense of civilian generals who are as likely to err on complex matters as the rest of we mortals.

The SEP points out that "Either by law or by regulation he (the police chief) is hampered from taking decisive disciplinary action." Let us conclude, therefore, by pointing out that laws and regulations in a democratic society are designed to protect a human being, not to rule him. It is the desire to rule that causes dictators to bypass the law. We still believe in the law as protection.

New Books:

Red Goal In Focus

"CONQUEST WITHOUT WAR," compiled and edited by N. H. Mager and Jacques Katel (Simon & Schuster, 560 pp., $7.50)

He heads the biggest civil service organization in the world—87 million people who work for the government whether they like it or not.

In a mosaic of the words of Nikita Khrushchev culled from his speeches, off-the-cuff remarks, and writings, together with pertinent facts and figures N. H. Mager, business manager of the Civil Service Leader and Jacques Katel, an expert on international politics have compiled a Meln Kampf of the Soviet leader. It portrays the objectives and the techniques of the Mr. Khrushchev all of which boils down simply to his wanting to run the whole world.

His system is rather direct. Every government should be part of the world commonwealth of socialist republics run by duly elected people, he says. However, the candidates for every office are to be handpicked by a Communist Party with direct wires from Moscow.

Fantastic as it all seems, the Mager-Katel text of "Conquest Without War" finds all the words right out of the mouth of Nikita Khrushchev as well as a great many other facets of his methodology.

Particularly interesting are the disclosures on working conditions in the Soviet Union. From promises made to the Soviet workers about pay raises, the editors readily compute that the average Soviet worker earns the equivalent of $70 a month in American money, and has a standard of living equal to $10 per person per week.

The minimum wage runs as low as 13½ cents an hour and the average wage is about 40 cents an hour. Most women work even if they have small children. The State provides nurseries which often cost the "housewife" almost her entire earnings. Women do construction work, sanitation work and, not strangely, make up most of the force of doctors and nurses.

Starting salary for a doctor is 80 new rubles a month and the scale goes to 150 rubles for veterans. With the ruble purchasing power equal to 7½ to 10 cents, the doctor is at about the same level as a semi-skilled factory worker.

Labor shortage in the cities is a "problem" in this country where 40 per cent of the people work on the farms. The drafting of women is described by Soviet authorities as a great emancipation, although net earnings often do not exceed sums paid for nursery school care.

Civil Service LAW & YOU

By HAROLD L. HERZSTEIN

Mr. Herzstein is a member of the New York bar

Classification-Compensation

"THE STATE law says that I am to get the same salary which my job pays in private industry, and I'm going to get it if I have to fight in the courts!"

THAT IS ONE we have heard time and time again. I appreciate both the ambition and the zeal. I hope that the employees who talk that way get what they are after. As a matter of fact the only thing that I do not like about that oft-repeated statement is the erroneous statement of the law. There is no State law which sets such a standard.

THE STATE LAW on this subject is contained in Section 115 of the Civil Service Law. It provides entirely different standards for pay. One of them is "equal pay for equal work." The late Judge Livingston, who was one of the strongest advocates of the civil service during his many terms in the State Senate, pointed out that the "equal pay for equal work" phrase was "a statement of general policy applicable to all civil service employees." (Beer v. Board of Education, 83 N.Y.S. 2d. 485, aff'd. 274 App. Div. 931)

THE OTHER standards in Section 115 are "regular increases in pay in proper proportion to increase of ability, increase of output and increase of quality of work demonstrated in service."

I AM delighted that it is the policy of the present State administration and the present administration of the Civil Service Employees Association to operate on the basis that what is good for private industry is good for the State. I also think it is a good idea in employee applications and appeals to cite persuasive scales of private industry. Those standards can be used and, for good administration should be used. Although they are not prescribed by law, they make excellent policy.

"HE'S BEEN reclassified and is O.K. He's civil service now."

THAT IS heard very often too. By saying that the person is civil service now, the speaker means that he is civil service in the sense in which that phrase is frequently used; that is that he is in the competitive class of the civil service just as if he had taken an examination and been picked from an eligible list.

I ALWAYS regret hearing such nonsense. The competitive class would mean very little if the classifying agency could effect such magic. The law specifically prevents that sort of result.

SECTION 123 of the Civil Service Law provides that no reclassification or reallocation "shall be construed to effect a transfer to the competitive class of the civil service of any employee not heretofore included in such service." That is plain.

"IF WE lose before the Director, we are going to the Board."

NEARLY EVERY employee or group of employees who files an application talks or thinks that way. There is no longer any Classification and Compensation Appeals Board. The 1960 legislature, by Chapter 323, transferred all the functions, powers and duties of the old Board to the Civil Service Commission. It seemed to me that the old Board was too negative in its approach to appeals. I need more time before I can evaluate the work of the Commission in this field.

"THE HEARING before the Director went well, and we'll get the upgrading."

THERE IS more to it than that. There is another officer involved, and that is the Director of the Budget. Under Section 121 of the Civil Service Law, no classification or allocation can go through without his approval. He may go along or refuse to go along because of civil service principles or budgetary principles or anything else. No one can successfully challenge his disapproval. It was tried a few times, but always failed. The fact that the Budget Director is not bound by the determinations of the civil service authorities and may act as he pleases was decided, in substance, in Wolf v. Appleby, which went to the Court of Appeals, 170 N.Y.S. 2d. 942, 5 App. Div. 2d 904, aff'd. 6 N.Y. 2d. 794.

Social Security Questions

How can I get a brief printed explanation of the latest changes to the Social Security Act?

Write or telephone your nearest social security office and ask for pamphlet No. 1 covering the Social Security Amendments of 1960.

I recently lost my social security card. Is it all right to obtain one with a different number than my first card had?

No. When you apply for another social security card, it is important that you retain the old number. This is so because all your earnings for the work you performed under social security is credited to that number. This experience shows why it is so important to keep a record of what your number is in the event of loss of the original card.

Make Pay Competitive

NEW York City is to be congratulated for the sweeping changes authorized last week in the Career and Salary Plan. All City employees were upgraded to some degree.

In general, we feel the increases were fairly judicious. However, in the more than 2,000 telephone calls made to The Leader by employees wishing to determine their new status, an undercurrent of dissatisfaction was noted among some, mainly the professional workers.

With the breathing space provided by increasing all city salaries, we feel New York City should now set out and do an independent, outside study of the entire salary structure, as did New York State this year. In the end, salary raises that are not competitive to similar posts in private employment do not serve either the public worker or the public. This should be the City's next goal.

Diploma Now Required For Police Appointment

August 31 is the next filing deadline for New York City's patrolman examination. "Does this mean another test is scheduled for September?", The Leader asked the City Department of Personnel. "Tentatively, yes," a department spokesman replied, and went on to say that no specific date has been set.

The last test given for the Police Dept. was given to some 2,000 applicants. At present there are close to 900 vacancies in the department.

A change was recently announced on the requirements of applicants for filing for these jobs. High school diploma is now necessary by the time of appointment. Previously, it had been required at the time of filing.

Who's Eligible

All U. S. citizens residing in any one of the 50 United States are eligible to file for the Police Dept. However, at the time of appointment, the new policeman must be located either in New York or the counties of Nassau or Westchester.

Candidates who fail one test, will be permitted to file again in six months instead of having to wait a year.

The current starting salary for patrolmen is $5,200 a year reaching a maximum of $8,581 a year. A $200 increase will be granted on July 1, followed by another $200 on Jan. 1, 1961.

At the time of filing candidates must be at least 20 and not more than 29 years of age. Candidates must be 21 at the time of appointment. Veteran's preference is granted in determining eligibility as to age. Candidates should check Section 243 of the Military Law to see if they can deduct from their actual age.

Candidates must be at least five feet eight inches tall, and have approximately normal weight for height. Vision must be 20/30 in each eye without glasses.

A driver's license must be presented at the time of investigation.

Proof of good character is a prerequisite to appointment. Persons convicted of a felony, petty larceny or who have been dishonorably discharged from the armed forces are not eligible for a position as a patrolman.

All candidates who pass the written test will be required to pass a qualifying medical test and physical test. Candidates shall be rejected for any deficiency, abnormality or disease that tends to impair health or fitness. Applications can be obtained at the Application Section of the Department of Personnel, 98 Duane St., New York 7, N. Y.

THIS IS NIAGARAMOHAWKLAND

And here are some facts about our service to over 650 cities, villages and towns in Upstate, N. Y.

DOING A BIG JOB?

You bet. We do it around-the-clock to serve almost 1,100,000 electric and 361,000 gas customers in Upstate, N. Y. Some of the 9,300 men and women who work for Niagara Mohawk are probably neighbors of yours. And they know their jobs... one out of every three has twenty-five years or more of service with the Niagara Mohawk System.

90 GENERATING PLANTS

To meet the requirements of our customers, Niagara Mohawk has ninety electric generating plants, over 100,000 conductor miles of electric transmission and distribution lines, and over 4,400 miles of gas distribution mains. At all times, we must be equipped to produce and deliver the electric or gas service our customers demand. And we must have the experienced people and the vast amounts of equipment required to overcome any emergency.

TAXES—$150,000 A DAY

It takes a lot of money. Niagara Mohawk paid nearly fifty-five million dollars in taxes last year; more than half of this in local taxes. Our operating and construction payroll and employee benefit program required about seventy-five million. And coal for our steam-electric generating stations cost twenty-seven million dollars.

ARE WE LOOKING AHEAD?

We certainly are, because our customers are going to require ever-increasing amounts of electricity and natural gas in the years to come. We are planning and building to make sure they have all they need, for industries, farms and homes. Niagara Mohawk is adding millions of dollars in new plant facilities each year. It now has over one and one-quarter billion dollars in utility plant, all required to make sure there is abundance of power and natural gas to help Upstate, N. Y. grow and prosper.

"A Happy Family...?"

... You bet we are. And with good reason. I have just returned to my job with the New York State Department of Public Works after an emergency operation. Thanks to the Statewide Plan, my hospital and medical expenses were paid in full. My family was protected; I did not have to spend our savings; and I received the finest care. Good reason for the entire family to be happy.

I recommend the Statewide Plan to everyone who is eligible: State employees, local government employees, and members of school districts. I know what it means to have the protection of a plan for hospital and medical care benefits as provided by the combination of Blue Cross, Blue Shield and Major Medical. I know that it is the only such Plan that offers uniform coverage for all State employees, active and when they retire. From personal experience, I recognize that it offers the most liberal benefits at the lowest possible cost.

Take my advice. Be safe. Be secure. Get the protection of the Statewide Plan. See your Payroll or Personnel Officer. Do it now!"

CORRECTION CORNER

By JACK SOLOD

(The views expressed in this column are those of the writer and do not necessarily constitute the views of this newspaper or of any organization).

Half-Pay Retirement

ONE OF THE FINEST BITS of Civil Service legislation enacted at the last session was 25 year half-pay retirement for State Police. The outstanding feature of this law, saw the state making up all back deficiencies. This is in toto the exact law sought for many years by State Correction Officers.

DOWN THROUGH THE YEARS the names of Harry Fritz, Harry Dillon, and Ray Marohn have been the names in Correction associated with this bill. These men gave their time and effort towards effecting this retirement legislation. I am forced to admit that the support given these men at the institution level left much to be desired. Consequently we find that although the correction employees were pioneers in half-pay retirement legislation; they are still out in the cold.

THE CORRECTION Conference working closely with the Civil Service Employees Association has now taken over the task of enacting this law.

PLANS HAVE ALREADY been set up to meet with the Ways and Means Chairman Fred Preller in October to present our bill. Memorandums from interested legislators will be attached to voluminous data being assembled now in order to favorably present this legislation. Chairman Preller's own words were at our last meeting. "This time you will certainly get a run for your money." No more can be asked of any committee chairman. Assemblyman Bob Feinberg, a good friend of prison employees, representing the area of Clinton Prison and Dannemora State Hospital has expressed a desire to introduce this bill. Suitable sponsorship will be entrusted with this important bill in the State Senate.

THE CORRECTION CONFERENCE delegates must once and for all make up their minds in convention June 26-27 that this bill must read, "for uniformed personnel in the Department of Correction." I certainly would like to see all employees in Correction come under this half-pay retirement after 25 years of service, but the undeniable fact is that such a law is an impossibility at this time. At the 1960 legislative session all correction employees were included in the pension bill submitted, but this was lost in the shuffle. The precedent has been established in many uniformed jobs in various states calling for an earlier retirement because of "hazardous occupation." The State of New York by passing the State Police bill has made the first break-through in this direction. We sincerely hope it will not be the last.

DOUBLE P.S: THE rumor is hot in all state prisons that two wardens will shortly make a mutual swap and change locations.

Mr. & Mrs. Robt. Wilber, Dorothy Brady Injured In Automobile Accident

arm and severe laceration to the forehead, face and left arm; Robert C. Wilber, 36 RD 1, multiple abrasions and contusions, possible rib fractures and possible hip and back injuries; Mrs. Joan Wilber, 33, wife of the driver, facial lacerations, a fractured right arm, fractured ribs and fractures of both bones in the right leg; Miss Dorothy A. Brady, 46 of 716 Cherry Street, Rome, New York, a passenger in the Wilber machine, lacerations about the right eye, fractured ribs, a fractured right wrist and a bad compound fracture to both bones in the right leg.

Upon their return from the Conference, first vice-president Al Killian and second vice-president Ray Castle visited their injured co-workers at Mercy Hospital and found the situation not quite as bad as had been feared. Bob Wilber was bright and alert but has fractured left ribs, front and rear. Those who know Bob and his has fractured left ribs, front and rear. Those who know Bob and his sunny disposition will be glad to know that outside of this discomfort, he is his bright cheerful self. He says he feels extreme pain only when he laughs. Since Bob has such a bright disposition, laughing is a normal condition, so it can be realized he is operating under a severe handicap. However, he expects to be out of the hospital within a few days.

A visit to Joan Wilber found her in good condition. Her facial and head injuries were relatively minor, but she has a fractured right arm, fractured ribs and a fracture in the right leg. Mrs. Wilber said she had no recollection of the accident as it happened so fast. Her first awareness of the situation was when she awoke in Mercy Hospital. Her friends will be glad to know that she is considered out of danger, although the nature of her injuries is such that she will be out of circulation for a number of weeks.

Miss Brady Serious

Dorothy Brady was the most seriously injured of the three. She was under heavy sedation at the time of the visit by Mr. Killian and Mr. Castle. However, hospital attendants said it would be several days before the full extent of her injuries could be determined. She would probably have to remain at the hospital much longer than Bob and Joan Wilber.

If there is a fortunate aspect to the situation it is that Bob and Joan had left their five year old daughter, Susan, with her grandmother in Syracuse and so the little girl, who normally accompanies her parents to meetings, was spared a horrible experience.

The other two men involved in the accident are considered to be in fair condition by hospital authorities.

By the time this appears in The Leader, it is expected that Bob and Joan will have returned home. Their address is R.D. 1, Rome, New York. However, it is expected that Miss Brady must remain at Mercy Hospital for several weeks.

Metro Public Service Installs New Officers

The Metropolitan Public Service chapter of the Civil Service Employees Association held its annual installation dinner at the Hotel Taft in New York City earlier this month.

The Chapter was welcomed by Vincent Lopez and his orchestra. Ben Sherman, the New York City Field Representative, installed the recently elected officers, who are as follows:

President, Joseph F. Holt; vice president, Kenneth A. Valentine; secretary, Antoinette Yacovone; and treasurer Nathan L. Elgot.

Elected to the executive council were: executive, public relations, water, hearing, counsel and telephone, John L. Keegan; administration, Biagio Patrenicola; power, Ethel M. Galloway; utility accounting, Lillian Montag; general engineering, Gerard A. Maher; railroad and transportation, Amalia King; and motor carrier, Mildred Egler.

The new President, Joseph Holt did not attend because of illness and was installed in absentia.

Harold L. Herzstein, civil service attorney, spoke briefly on the contribution of the civil service to the concept of a paid retirement for everybody. Joseph Soffer, a motor vehicle examiner, of Albany was the master of ceremonies, and was well received for his witty stories.

Central Conference Meets At Massena; Plans Ahead

MASSENA, June 26 — The Central New York Conference had its 1961 Annual Meeting at Schine Inn at Massena last week. CSEA Chapters which acted as hosts were Potsdam State Teachers College, St. Lawrence State Hospital, Ray Brook and St. Lawrence County Chapters.

The delegates were delighted with the arrangements made for their sessions and were loud in their praise of the wonderful accommodations and the excellent meals. A pre-conference highlight was the trip Saturday morning to visit the Eisenhower Locks of the St. Lawrence Seaway, the Power Project and the new State Park.

Delegates to the Central New York Conference held their meeting in the Grasse Room of the Schine Inn with Conference President Florence A. Drew as presiding officer.

Final committee reports were made by committee chairmen. A report of the Balloting Committee gave the following results for officers for the 1961-1962 term. President, Florence A. Drew, Binghamton; First Vice-President, Edward Limner, Willard; Second Vice-President, Tom Ranger, Syracuse; Secretary, Gertrude White, Amery and Treasurer, Irma German, Rome.

The Central New York County Workshop met in the St. Lawrence Suite with S. Samuel Borely in the chair. Featured speaker at this session was Attorney Vincent Kirsch of Massena. His talk was extremely interesting and instructive and held the interest and attention of all the delegates.

A highlight of this session was the election of officers for 1961-1962. All current office holders were re-elected. These include S. Samuel Borely, Utica, President; Kenneth Hulbert, Johnstown, Vice-President and Mary Manning, Ogdensburg, Secretary-Treasurer.

At the joint session of both groups, Mrs. Florence A. Drew presided. The speaker was Mr. Francis M. Casey, Supervisor of field representatives. Mr. Joseph F. Feily, President of the CSEA, gave interesting highlights of recent activities of the Association.

Fine Banquet

The banquet in the evening was a delight and showed evidence of very careful planning by John E. Graveline and Emmett Durr, the Co-Chairmen. Featured speaker of the evening was the Honorable Vernor M. Ingram, Assemblyman from Potsdam. Mr. Ingram urged the Civil Service members to broaden their interests into fields beyond their customary activities. He stressed the importance of having a public image of people who are vitally concerned with the welfare and activities of all citizens.

The Honorable Maxwell Lehman, Administrative Officer of the City of New York spoke briefly. He was warmly greeted by the entire group who welcomed the return of an old friend. Dr. Herman B. Snow, Director, St. Lawrence State Hospital and Joseph F. Feily, President of the CSEA, spoke briefly. Mr. Feily also conducted the installation of officers. The Toastmaster was Theodore Wenzel, State Treasurer, who graciously filled the position of Master of Ceremonies when Mr. Melvin A. Ferns, State Veterans Counselor was unable to attend because of illness. Mr. Wenzel gave an excellent performance. He had a light touch and he kept the meeting going at a fast pace. Invocation and benediction were given by Reverend Mooney, Catholic Chaplain at St. Lawrence State Hospital.

Future Plans

One of the key reports presented and approved was that of the Planning Committee. Meeting dates and places for 1961-1962 were presented and adopted as follows. 1. Quarterly (Fall) Meeting, Saturday, September 16, 1961 in The Beeches, Rome, New York with Fort Stanwix Chapter of Rome State School as host. 2. Second quarterly (Winter) Meeting, Saturday, February 10, 1962 at Hotel Syracuse Country House, Exit 36 at the intersection of New York State Thruway and Interstate 81. Host is Syracuse Chapter which will be celebrating its 25th anniversary. 3. Third Quarterly (Spring) Meeting, Saturday, April 14, 1962 (tentative date), Binghamton, New York. Co-hosts are Binghamton and Elmira Chapters. 4. Annual Meeting, Saturday, June 16, 1962 (tentative date), Ithaca, New York. Co-hosts Willard State Hospital and Tompkins County Chapters.

It is the hope of the Central New York Conference and County Workshop that the publication of these dates one year in advance will prevent conflicts in meetings with other Conferences.

The social activities of the Conference were conducted by Chairman Marion Wakin, assisted by Al Dexheimer, Binghamton; Georgianna Stenglein, Willard; Irma German, Rome; Gertrude White, Marcy and Joseph Mahaney, Oneonta.

Active committee men from the host chapters were Harold Conant, President and Victor Minotti, Potsdam State Teachers College; John E. Graveline, Fred Kotz and Marty Douglas, St. Lawrence State Hospital Chapter; Leo La Beau, President, Marion Murray and Mary Manning, St. Lawrence County Chapter and Emmett J. Durr, President, Eunice Cross and Rose Johnson, Ray Brook Chapter.

In all respects but one this Annual Meeting of the Central Conference and Workshop was highly successful. With deep regret the delegates learned Saturday that three of the loyal members were involved in a severe automobile accident Friday evening while on their way to join the delegates. Robert C. Wilber, President of Fort Stanwix Chapter, Rome State School, his wife, Mrs. John Wilber and Miss Dorothy A. Brady, also of Rome State School, were confined to Mercy Hospital, Watertown, New York, following a collision, near Watertown with another vehicle. Because of communication difficulties, only the bare outline of the accident was available to delegates. (A more complete and later report is contained in another column). Delegates signed cards of condolence and these were sent to Mercy Hospital in Watertown.
