DON'T REPEAT THIS

The Politicians And the Civil Service Vote

POLITICIANS pay a lot of attention to the group vote. Although you'll hear very little said about it publicly, the kingmakers think in terms of the "Italian" vote, the "Jewish" vote, the "Irish" vote, the "Catholic" vote, the "labor" vote, the "Negro" vote. Now, in New York City, there's increasing talk about the "Puerto Rican" vote. In State elections, care is taken that the major religious groupings should be represented on the ticket, even though other candidates would be superior in ability or vote-getting.

Membership In CSEA Is 60,236

ALBANY, Sept. 20—The "most active" membership committee in the history of the Civil Service Employees Association has recruited a total of 60,236 members in the State and County Divisions.

Charles D. Methe, co-chairman for the State Division, credited the active membership of the statewide committee and the "unparalleled" cooperation of Joseph D. Lochner, the Association's executive secretary, for the rise in paid-up membership.

CSEA members, compared with last year at this same date, are: State Division—from 47,508 to 49,173.

County Division—from 10,568 to 10,896.

Vernon A. Tapper, co-chairman for the County Division, and Mr. Methe presided as the committee met September 10 in the DeWitt Clinton Hotel, Albany. Mr. Lochner and Francis M. Casey, field representative, joined in the committee's discussion of "how to sell" membership.

A letter of resignation was read from Jack Solod. The committee expressed appreciation of his efforts on behalf of the membership drive.

The next meeting of the statewide membership group will be Tuesday, October 12 at 5:30 P.M.

Capital Conference Meets Sept. '8 to Set Plans for Variety of Activities

ALBANY, Sept. 20—Newly-elected Conference President Lawrence W. Kerwin will officiate at the fall dinner-meeting of the Capital District Conference, CSEA, on September 28 in the auditorium at Association Headquarters, 8 Elk Street, Albany. A large attendance is expected from among the presidents and delegates of 30 member chapters.

Prior to the meeting, a half-hour social gathering will be held, followed by dinner, which is to be served at 6 P.M.

Appointments of committee chairmen and members will be announced at the meeting and there will be a review of proposed resolutions and legislation. The resolutions deal with salary, retirement, and improvements in working conditions.

On the agenda, too, is a discussion of arrangements for a social hour and participation in the October meeting of the Association. The Capital District Conference has for years acted as host to legislators and other prominent guests in an interval between the annual meeting and dinner.

Other conference officers are: Alfonso Bivona Jr., Law Department, vice president; Mrs. Esther Wenger, Social Welfare, secretary; and Michael Petruska, Audit and Control, treasurer. This is the first of six meetings planned for their term of office.

State Employees Granted Time Off On High Holy Days

ALBANY, Sept. 20—The State Civil Service Department has authorized leaves for temporary and permanent State employees of the Jewish faith to observe the holy days from sundown Monday, September 27 to sundown Wednesday, September 29, and from sundown Wednesday, October 6 to sundown Thursday, October 7. The leaves may be granted at the discretion of the appointing officers of each department.

There will be no loss of pay, vacation, accumulated overtime, or any other rights or privileges.

The leave for religious observance will be granted "when temporary absence will not result in serious impairment of essential public service," Oscar M. Taylor, Commission President, said.

Nassau Employees Submit Program for 40-Hr. Week, More Pay, Social Security

HEMPSTEAD, Sept. 20—A seven-point program for employees of Nassau County, prepared by Nassau chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, is now in the hands of County Executive A. Holly Patterson. The program includes higher salaries, satisfactory job classifications, a real five-day 40-hour week with no loss of pay, inclusion under Social Security and unemployment insurance coverage.

Sixty members of Nassau chapter met with Deputy County Executive George A. Prior to discuss the Nassau employees' situation. A letter to Mr. Patterson was then drafted, outlining the program for higher pay and other benefits.

C. Wesley Williams, the chapter's 1st vice president, presided at the meeting, at which time the results of a poll of employees was made known. Overwhelming support for the five-day 40-hour week and Social Security coverage was reported.

Accomplishments of the chapter's active membership committee were also detailed.

At the town level, discussions were held regarding local regulations as they apply to sick leave and salary increases.

Charles R. Culyer, CSEA field representative in the metropolitan area, assisted at the meetings.

7 Civil Service Planks Urged on Political Parties

ALBANY, Sept. 20—The Civil Service Employees Association has asked inclusion of planks for a better civil service in the platforms of both political parties, meeting this week. Letters have been addressed to Thomas K. Finletter, chairman of the platform committee, Democratic State Committee, and to Mary Dolan, holding the equivalent position with the Republican State Committee. The letter by CSEA President John F. Powers follows:

"The Civil Service Employees Association urges the leaders of the two great political parties of our State to recognize the importance to the maintenance and efficiency of economic government, of the merit system and appointment and promotion in the State and its subdivisions.

"The Association submits, that to assure to the people of the State the carrying out of this mandate, the prestige and efficiency of the Civil Service Commission and the Civil Service Department must be maintained on a high plane and provided with adequate funds to function fully in the field of public personnel administration.

"The Association urges that pledges be given that the State will encourage and apply employment principles and practices to insure:

Adequate Funds for Pay

"1. Appropriation of funds to assure adequate and equitable pay for public employees and thus stimulate the recruitment and retention of capable workers and the establishment of a true career service;

Grievance Machinery

"2. Creation of an appropriate agency and power to establish a sound management-employee relations program and adequate grievance machinery, with employee participation;

Retirement

"3. Strengthening and liberalization of public employee retirement systems, to the end that adequate and fair provisions shall be made for disabled and aged civil servants, together with the integration of Social Security benefits where public employment systems do not adequately meet the need;

Classification

"4. Proper classification of more positions in the competitive class, and a consequential reduction of the exempt and non-competitive classes, and adoption of time-and-one-half pay for overtime work of public employees, in accordance with the prevailing practice of private industry and in the Federal government;

Unemployment Insurance

"5. Unemployment insurance coverage of civil service employees of all governmental jurisdictions within the State;

Workmen's Compensation

"6. Comprehensive Workmen's Compensation insurance for all civil service employees in all governmental jurisdictions within the State;

Training

"7. Expansion and extension of in-service training and other educational opportunities for public employees, in the interest of increased efficiency and initiative in civil service."

How State, Local Aides May Obtain Social Security

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20—The Social Security Administration has decided the basis on which State and local government employees may obtain social security coverage under an existing public employee retirement system. The new law permits such double coverage for the same public position for the first time.

The positions included are in three categories, and the rules are different for each category.

If a position and its occupants are covered by a public employee retirement system, a referendum by secret ballot among the employee members of the retirement system will decide by majority vote whether social security coverage also is desired.

The State may treat the state-wide retirement system as a unit or may treat any particular community or group as a separate system, for referendum purposes.

The referendum must be conducted under the supervision of the Governor or an agency or individual designated by him, and at least 90 days' notice is necessary.

Ineligible for dual coverage are those employees in positions covered by social security under an agreement between the State and the U. S. in existence at the time of the referendum; policemen and firemen, and those in positions that the State excluded from the State Retirement System or local systems when the agreement was signed. New York State and its communities now have about 200,000 employees in this excluded category.

'Retirement Coverage' Group

A retirement system coverage group consists of: (a) all the employees in positions covered by the State system when an agreement was made applicable; (b) all employees brought into the State system when an agreement was made applicable to them; and (c) all employees in positions covered by the system at any time before the agreement was made applicable to State and local retirement systems, and thus excluded from social security because under the State or local retirement system rules the employees were ineligible for membership.

Usual exclusions, such as part-time employees and elected officials, may be made by the State, and each group will be treated as if under a separate retirement system for purposes of referendum, to bring them under dual coverage in the future.

For the social security coverage of State and local employees to apply, the State must be willing, and must bear half the cost. The employee pays the other half.

Benefits include up to $1,302 additional pension for an individual,

Devotion To Duty

Things they don't write news stories about:

Alex Falk, State Civil Service Commissioner, got up at 4 A.M. one day recently, so that he could travel from his home in Margaretville, N. Y., to NYC and attend a meeting of a sub-commission "revising the civil service law."

Falk doesn't get paid for this. No one would have scolded him if he hadn't attended. But he's a member and he says he's got to attend meetings when and where they're called. Personal convenience is secondary.

plus family benefits that State and local systems do not provide. Also included are better insurance benefits generally. Employee contributions would be 2 per cent of salary up to $4,200, or $84 at maximum.

Cops Ask Both Parties for 40-Hr. Week

KINGSTON, Sept. 20—The Police Conference has asked the Republican and Democratic state committee chairmen to include a pay raise, a state-wide 40-hour work week and optional 25-year retirement for policemen in their party platforms.

A resolution stated that during the past year more "of our best and most experienced" policemen were compelled to give up police work to earn a living and secure normal working conditions.

In an accompanying letter to the chairmen, secretary Peter Kerensman said facts are abundant for the need of stronger police departments and more policemen, and asserted that law enforcement is a State constitutional responsibility, as is health and education. He urged the political leaders to recognize the "critical police and law-enforcement situation," and said Conference officials would be glad to discuss this with them.

Changes and Additions in NY State Salaries and Grades

ALBANY, Sept. 20—The Division of Classification and Compensation has issued a supplement to the Salary and Title Determinations (which The LEADER published in the August 10 issue). The supplement contains new salaries for positions in the Tuberculosis Service and for a variety of titles which were not allocated in the original announcement.

Increased minimum salaries in certain titles are also indicated, to aid recruitment on a statewide or local basis.

The Division of Classification also lists eight titles, which it believes to be the only ones not yet allocated to the new plan. New pay scales in these titles will be announced by October 1.

Titles which the Division of Classification will not allocate, because it lacks jurisdiction over them, are also listed.

Typographical errors in the original announcement are corrected in the supplemental report.

Parts I and II of the Salary and Title Determinations appeared in The LEADER of August 10. Parts III, IV, V, VI and VII follow.

MICHAEL L. PORTA

Mike Porta's Death Mourned By Many

The New York City chapter and the CSEA lost one of their oldest and most active members last week with the passing of Michael L. Porta, 57, at his home, 968 New York Avenue, Brooklyn. A review examiner in the office of the Chairman, Workmen's Compensation Board, Mr. Porta was financial secretary of the NYC chapter at the time of his death. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Grace D'Avanzo Porta, a daughter, Dorothy A.; four sisters and a brother. Mr. Porta had been president of the chapter several terms during the past decade.

In addition to his Association activities, Mr. Porta had been active in Brooklyn social and civic affairs. He was a past grand knight and present trustee of Our Lady of Doretta Council, Knights of Columbus; past faithful navigator and present purser of the Long Island General Assembly, 4th Degree; member of the board of directors of the K of C Institute, and a member of the Holy Name Society of Holy Name Church.

Many fellow State employees were among the large group which attended funeral services for Mr. Porta last Thursday.

Beauticians Protest Pay Allocations

SYRACUSE, Sept. 20—A meeting of barbers and beauticians in State service was held at Syracuse State School, to formulate an appeal for salary re-allocation. About 20 representatives were present from various upstate institutions of the Department of Mental Hygiene.

It was the opinion of the group that barbers and beauticians should be rated with the other skilled trades in grade R-8.

Jack Fraser of Binghamton State Hospital was elected to represent the barbers and beauticians in the upstate institutions.

Fred Krumman, president of the Mental Hygiene Employees Association, attended the meeting and made helpful suggestions in regard to appeal for salary re-allocation.

Material furnished by Henry Galpin, salary research analyst for the Civil Service Employees Association, was presented at the meeting.

ACTIVITIES OF EMPLOYEES IN STATE

Brooklyn State Hospital

OFFICERS and members of the board of directors of the Brooklyn State Hospital chapter met September 8. Discussion centered on the different groups forming appeals for re-allocation. Emil Impresa, chapter president, pledged the chapter's help to any group making an appeal.

On September 10 Joseph Munn, president of the Brooklyn State Hospital Nurses Alumni, called a mass meeting of all nurses to organize an appeal for the upward re-allocation of nursing titles. Mr. Munn and Mr. Impresa will work the Nurses Alumni and the CSEA closely, pooling the knowledge of towards this goal.

The following committee was set up for the nurses' appeal: Thomas Shirts, Joseph Faretta, Joseph Munn and Daniel Cmelko.

The chapter's contention, concurring with the group, is that the staff nurse level should be R-11. The NYC staff nurse salary level is equivalent to this. In addition to the three-year requirement to become a registered professional nurse, it is desirable for promotional opportunities for the individual to further his education on a university level.

The work conference for Faculties of Schools of Nursing in the metropolitan area will be held at Pilgrim State Hospital. Attending from October 17 to 23, H. Girouard, M. Termini, A. Contento, M. Laughlin, J. Munn, J. Faretta, B. McDonough, A. Cmelko, J. Reif and D. Cmelko. Attending from October 24 to 29: L. Kampe, D. Bruno, T. Shirts, B. Sweet, C. Murphy, A. Kavanagh, S. Murphy, J. Smith, W. Peterman and S. Berlin.

The Psychiatric Forum of Brooklyn State Hospital invites all to attend a series of talks by experts in the field of psychiatry and mental health. Meetings are held on the first Thursday evening of each month from October through May at 8:30 P.M. The lectures are informal, and followed by a discussion period. First speaker: October 7, Dr. Robert Dickes, associate professor of psychiatry, State University College of Medicine, NYC and director of the special therapy unit, Kings County Hospital. The place: Auditorium of Brooklyn State Hospital, 681 Clarkson Avenue, at East 44th Street, Brooklyn 3. Your friends are welcome. Next meeting: November 4.

Congratulations to: Thomas McNelis on his new position in Detroit; James Holley on his recent marriage; Mary Boddey Laterra on a maternity leave; Audrey Chiuffo on an educational leave to attend Columbia University School of Occupational Therapy; Stanley Murphy, Anthony Contento, Thomas Shirts, Calvin Murphy, all going to St. John's University; Lawrence Levin resigned recently to teach school.

Welcomed back from abroad Agnes Searson and Mrs. Josephine Cronin.

Geneva

GENEVA chapter, CSEA, heard a session on salaries September 10 in Norton Hall. Chapter president Weir presided. Featured speaker John D. O'Brien, who took as his theme the contrast between University salary schedules and the pay scheme of other State employees. He stated his conviction that University employees are not faring as well as they ought to, and told the meeting that he would support action to give them a better deal.

Mr. O'Brien also stated his feeling that increases under the new State pay plan are inadequate. He added, however, that "they are the beginning of a new era." He stressed increased membership, building Association strength, as the way to work for a better salary arrangement. He also lauded the Geneva chapter on its excellent membership showing this year.

Paul Hammond, CSEA field representative, conducted a question-and-answer session on salaries.

Salary Raises Proposed For Westchester County

WHITE PLAINS, Sept. 20—Salary increases for all Westchester employees have been recommended by Denton Pearsall Jr., County Personnel Officer. But whether these suggested increases are adequate will be considered by County employees at a meeting of their CSEA chapter September 27, Surrogate Court, White Plains. All members have been urged to attend by chapter representative Richard A. Flinn, who calls the meeting one of outstanding importance.

Mr. Pearsall describes the manner in which his conclusions were reached: Queries were sent to 32 private and public employers, to find what they pay for similar jobs. Differentials were discovered showing that pay was lower in some County positions up to 6.9 per cent. Mr. Pearsall urged, therefore, that County salaries be raised. He also recommended that individual employees be paid at the increment step of the new salary corresponding to the step at which they are now being paid.

Below is a comparison of the present scales and new salary scales proposed by the Personnel Officer. Employees can determine where they fit in the new scales by finding their present "Salary Group" and then reading straight across. (The present emergency compensation is included in the scales below.)

Inspecting The Inspectors

WE NOTE that the "inspection of hydrants" an ancient NYC function, is being taken out of the unrestricted "exempt" status and is to be placed under civil service. Mayor Wagner so ordered after a report issued jointly by City Administrator Luther Gulick and Arthur C. Ford, Commissioner of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity.

The art of hydrant inspection, it appears, has been little understood by higher-echelon City officials. Thirteen individuals earned some $35,000 a year for the intermittent practice of this esoteric activity. While these men have been appointees of the commissioner, they are not entered on the City's payroll nor listed as employees. They were paid by private contractors. The amount of work they did in squinting at their assigned hydrants can best be described as miniscule. The Gulick-Ford report found that six civil service employees would amply cover all hydrant inspection needs.

Very good.

Now, let's have a look at those inspectors who are supposed to inspect "holes in the ground." Maybe, if they're needed at all, they should be under civil service, too.

Badge of Shame

THE badge of shame lies heavily upon the firemen of Washington, D. C.

At a time when the nation is struggling to end school segregation in accord with the recent Supreme Court decision; at a time when the President of the United States has asked that the City of Washington, as the nation's capital, be a showcase of successful integration in the schools; at a time when the armed services are able to report harmonious integration of Negroes and whites; at a time when an ancient American blot seems closer to obliteration than ever—

This is the time the Washington firemen have chosen to fight the ending of bias against Negroes in their department. And they have chosen to fight it with arguments as crude and cheap as any advanced by the most rabid opponents of racial brotherhood in the south. They took a full-page in a Washington newspaper to spew out their ire.

The firemen have forgotten:

That they are urging defiance of the law;

That they are in opposition to the principles of the merit system, which rests upon the proposition that civil service shall be manned on the basis of merit alone, without regard to race or origin.

That they have given a potent propaganda item to the enemies of America, who will use this case as they have others in the endeavor to create hatred against us abroad;

That their action is both un-American and un-Christian.

Joseph Schechter To Joseph Schechter

Some day soon, Joseph Schechter will probably get a letter from Joseph Schechter asking him (Joseph Schechter) to see that Joseph Schechter and other clerk, grade 5 eligibles in the Department of Welfare are promoted from the list.

Happens that two Joseph Schechters are involved in this situation. One Joseph Schechter has just been elected chairman of the eligibles' association in Welfare. Joseph Schechter (the other) happens to be head of the NYC Department of Personnel and the man to whom the Welfare Schechter must appeal for civil service action.

appeal. Reflections of this attitude filter down to the departmental level. In New York City, certain offices have traditionally gone to members of one or another religious, or racial group. For more than a generation, to cite an example, one member of the NYC Civil Service Commission has been a Negro.

A Story About Dewey

The story is told that when Thomas E. Dewey was building his staff as special prosecutor in New York City, he was discussing an applicant with one of his subordinates.

"This man seems qualified," Dewey said. "Let's hire him."

"But," said his subordinate, "he's Jewish, and more than a third of our lawyers are Jews already."

Dewey looked at him wonderingly. "What difference does it make if he's Jewish or Zulu," the young prosecutor asked, "so long as he's the best man we can find for the job?"

"But, Mr. Dewey," it's just not done that way. We have to have all the religious groups equally represented on the staff."

"Why?" asked the future Governor.

It had just never occurred to him that a man's religious background or origin makes any difference.

How Voters Think

Now it is probable that Dewey's attitude is much more widely held among voters than the routine-mind politicians believe. It is probable that few voters look over the ticket and say, "Well, here's a Catholic, a Protestant, and a Jew, so I think I'll vote Democrat" . . . or, "I don't see an Italian on this ticket, so I'll vote Republican."

The fact is that, when they vote, voters obey impulses much different; and are unlikely, except in sparse cases, to pay as much heed to the racial composition of a ticket as the politician's pretend. Economics, the state of the nation, the political philosophy of the candidates, the traditional way in which the voter has cast his ballot, the condition of international affairs, various local issues—these matters are more likely to influence the direction of the vote. Moreover, the interests of individuals within the various groups are rarely homogeneous.

Homogeneous Group

However, there is one group of voters whose interests are homogeneous, who are politically articulate, and in New York State make up, altogether, a substantial segment of the electorate. It is a group to whom the politicians pay less attention than they ought to, if they were really aware of the "publics" to whom they are appealing.

This group is the civil service employees.

In terms of salary, working conditions, job outlook, public employees within the State, whether they work for Federal, State, or local government, have a unity of interest. They know that what affects one affects all. If State employees get a pay raise, it is inevitable that other units of government must follow. If NYC employees get a retirement benefit, sooner or later that will reflect itself in the benefits that employees of other jurisdiction get. An improvement in job-classification at the Federal level will have a tendency to bring about similar improvements at the local level. In this sense, civil service is indivisible. And public employees have a conscious sense of that fact.

Two clear recent examples make the point: President Eisenhower signed a bill providing a variety of fringe benefits to U.S. aides. Now talk is under way of increasing the fringe benefits of State and local employees. On the other hand, the President failed to sign a pay increase bill for Federal employees. The resentment over this action is trickling down to employees of other jurisdictions.

Organized Strength

The organized strength of public employees is growing, too. In New York City, that strength has frequently been pitched right into political campaigns, on behalf of candidates.

The organizations of State and Federal employees have not used their strength in active campaigning for or against candidates. On specific issues, however, this strength has shown itself to be potent; as when the State-wide organization of civil service employees won through on its version of a veterans preference bill; and on another occasion, when it beat Governor Dewey's program bill in the State Legislature on the nature and structure of the state civil service commission.

The strength exists. And even when it is not vocal, it is evident. This would be inevitable. Public employees as a group may not do active campaigning in the coming State campaign, but they vote—and their voting is likely to be deeply influenced by the economic considerations which affect them as a group.

Some Realize It

Some public figures have demonstrated a realization of the "civil service vote," and have gained thereby. One of the major campaign addresses made by Robert F. Wagner during the NYC Mayoralty campaign dealt with improvements for civil service employees. The effect is obvious even now, and beyond the confines of New York City. In THE LEADER'S poll of civil service opinion, Wagner ran ahead of all other Democratic prospects for the gubernatorial nomination. In that same poll, too, Governor Dewey ran first, even though Eisenhower had already, at that time, vetoed the Federal pay increase. Governor Dewey has been careful over the years to go along with various civil service advances, even though they are not as extensive as the employees would have liked. Still another reflection of the "civil service vote," was the strong running of former U.S. Senator James M. Mead in this poll, years after he has been out of the picture. Mead was known as a friend of civil servants, particularly the post office employees; and that aura still remains and would help Mead if he were a candidate.

At the local level, State Senator Seymour Halpern of Queens, now running for Congress, can undoubtedly command strong civil service support. He has for years been assiduous in cultivating the good will of public employees, even to the extent of going to bat for them when it appeared he might jeopardize his own interests with the party leaders.

Also following the same tack is another Queens legislator, Fred W. Preller, who heads the Commission to Revise the Civil Service Law. Last year, Preller circulated a questionnaire among his constituents, asking if they would favor a pay raise for State employees. The electorate answered affirmatively and the result, widely circulated, was used by the employees to help their cause.

Supreme Court judge S. Samuel di Falco can count on NYC civil service respect because the employees remember his activities in their behalf during the years he spent as a City Councilman.

How Strong?

How strong is the civil service vote in New York State.

Total it up, approximately. 180,000 New York City employees; 70,000 State employees; 190,000 Federal employees; 100,000 employees of local governments, county, town, village, and district; 60,000 teachers and other school employees. This adds up to about 600,000 persons on various public payrolls. If one appends to each of these only a single additional family member, there is a total voting strength here of 1,200,000 persons—a substantial portion of the total vote.

It's something for candidates of both parties to assess seriously, as they perform their campaign chores, make their commitments, and delineate their promises.

COMMENT

SOCIAL SECURITY FOR PUBLIC EMPLOYEES

Editor, THE LEADER:

In a recent issue of the Civil Service LEADER, H. J. Bernard commented editorially on the liberalized Social Security bill signed by President Eisenhower and concluded that "dual benefits will become possible for public employees for the first time, but with no reduction of present benefits to present members of State and local systems."

As you know, early in 1954 Governor Dewey appointed the members of the State Commission on coordination of State and local pension systems with Social Security and to report their recommendations to the Legislature on or before February 1, 1955. While there is no indication as to the preliminary thinking of the Commission, it does not call for any gazing into a crystal ball to conclude that Social Security benefits are not going to be merely pyramided on top of the New York State Employees Retirement System at possibly some slightly additional cost to the employee. It is much more likely that the general pattern adopted by the three states (Virginia, Wisconsin and New Jersey), which have coordinated their pension systems with Social Security, will be followed.

In Other States

In explanation, the State of Virginia in 1952 repealed its retirement system and set up trust funds to safeguard those employees already retired and to protect contributions of active employees. A new retirement system was then enacted to supplement Social Security. On a combined basis, the employee receives about the same retirement benefits as heretofore. In fact, the law guarantees that the retirement benefits for any employee shall not be lessened. The employees' contributions for the retirement system and Social Security are somewhat reduced for those in higher brackets. However, where the employee definitely gains is in having made available to him all of the many dependent benefits under Social Security. For example, benefits are provided for minor children up to the age of 18 and when the wife arrives at age 65 she receives a retirement allowance as provided under the Social Security Act and if her husband is dead, a widow's benefit commencing at age 65.

In New Jersey, the present pension act was repealed in 1954 and a new retirement plan was enacted to effect an integration Social Security. The combined benefits under the new retirement plan and Social Security are substantially the same, as far as retirement is concerned, and this is likewise true of the total contributions by the employee. Where an employee gains is in receiving the dependent benefits provided by Social Security as described above.

In Wisconsin, an agreement was reached in 1953 by the state and Federal government for an integration of the state retirement system with O.A.S.I. The integration is mandatory. The regular employee contribution is reduced by the 2 per cent Social Security contribution. The retirement system which operates on a money-purchase basis remains undisturbed. The money-purchase basis means that the benefits are only those purchased by employee contributions and by the state contributions which match the employee contributions.

In Industry

In industry the general pattern followed in the pension plans of private employers has been to reduce the retirement credit on the first $3,600 of salary (possibly to ½ of the normal retirement credit) and likewise the employee contribution for the reason that the Social Security benefits will make up the difference. Of course, in addition, there are benefits for the wife and minor children. Incidentally, under the liberalized bill signed by President Eisenhower effective January 1, 1955, the maximum salary used for determining Social Security is increased to $4,200 rather than $3,600.

The New York State Employees Retirement System is guaranteed by the State Constitution so that presumably each present employee will have to be given a choice of continuing under the present retirement system or accepting any revised retirement plan plus Social Security benefits.

U. S. Civil Service Commission planning stronger enforcement of the Hatch Act, which bans political activities by employees paid out of Federal funds.

Three employee objectives are being formulated by U. S. Civil Service Commission for U. S. employees: (1) pay raise; (2) coverage under some medical-hospitalization plan; (3) enactment of law which would coordinate features of social security with Federal retirement.

A STATE Thruway employee has taken a 60-day leave of absence to help Republicans in their effort to win another four-year term in office. He is John M. Fague, one-time Utica and Syracuse newspaperman, who until a few days ago was working as a promotion representative on the Thruway's publicity staff. Now, he is the executive assistant to L. Judson Morhouse, State Republican chairman. They became acquainted while both were working on formal opening ceremonies for the super-highway.

THERE'S long-range thinking in the office of City Administrator Luther Gulick about the "city-state" aspects of NYC. . . . The feeling is that certain problems—like transit, traffic, smoke control, ports, can never be solved piecemeal by the City alone. Some kind of regional setup, including NYC, Long Island, northern Jersey, Westchester and a portion of Connecticut, might have to be brought together some way.

VISITORS to the Bronx (N.Y.) zoo are urged to be tidy by posters that use puns instead of threats to get across the idea that the place for trash is in one of the zoo's 249 waste baskets.

For instance, an ox suggests: "I'd like to ox you to keep this zoo clean."

A deer asks: "Hey, Buck, doe me a favor and put that trash in the basket."

In one cartoon, a duck frowns, points to a litter basket, and says, "It's your responsibility, don't try to Duck it!"

And a raven protests: "I'm tired of raven about litter! Let's stop scattering it!"

GORDON CLAPP, Deputy NYC Administrator and former head of TVA, so popular that other agencies are trying to get his services. Not a chance. He's staying where he is, for now.

BIGGEST BLOOPER in many a day was letter that went out on White House stationery to U. S. department heads calling for clearance of jobs above a certain level with Republican National Committee. Resulting ruckus was so great that it came up for Cabinet discussion. Out went second missive, saying it wasn't meant that way. Only for exempt jobs.

MEMO from Editor to LEADER Reporter: "The hydrant inspectors have been put under civil service. Find out what is happening about the Corporation Inspectors."

Memo from reporter to Editor: "There are a number of men in the city called 'corporation inspectors.' Their jobs seem to be to walk around the city and look into holes that Con Edison and other companies dig into the roads and sidewalks, and then to make sure that the holes are filled up again."

"Nobody around the city knows much about them. They are paid by the utilities for their hole-looking-into, but nobody seems to know how much, or even how many there are."

"The city Budget Bureau which keeps a lot of big books in which every city employee's salary is listed doesn't know much about these men. They suggested a call

Have You Heard . . .

At Windsor Fur Shop, 108 W. 14 St., (near 6th Ave.) you can trade in your old furs or make something new at such a low, low price!

Bring in your old furs or call CH 3-9361. You will be amazed at what you can get there!

Also ready - to - wear fur coats, jackets, stoles, etc.

Commissioner send bills to the utility service for the inspectors' work and the utilities pay them directly."

Rumors are, however, that some of the inspectors get their jobs because they are, or know, a politician, and that some of them don't work very hard at their hole inspection.

New Pension Plan for 200 Prison Aides

ALBANY, Sept. 20—Acting Commissioner William E. Leonard has cleared the way for some 200 State Correction Department employees to draw new pension benefits, which were set up under a 1954 law.

The employees are members of a separate retirement system, which was closed to new members in 1924. Other department workers belong to the regular State Retirement System.

Mr. Leonard has approved use of the actuarial tables set up by the regular State system in determining benefits to Correction employees in the old system. The action permits this group of State workers to make immediate use of the new law.

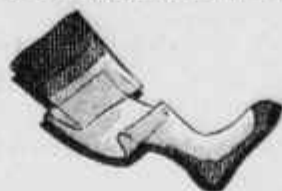

Until recently, the old Correction pension plan did not provide the optional retirement choices available to members of the State System.

MUSICUS NAMED TO EDUCATION POST

a basic course for supervisors above grade 15. It puts emphasis on topics which are of greater value at this higher level of authority and responsibility. Budgeting, for example, and leadership are stressed, and planning is treated more extensively.

Case Studies

"Case Studies in Supervision" is in the nature of a follow-up course, and is open only to those supervisors who have successfully completed either of the aforementioned basic courses. In this class, case problems, some drawn from actual experience, are presented to the class members for analysis and study. The course is not based on the idea that there must be one solution to each case presented. ## ACTIVITIES OF EMPLOYEES THROUGHOUT NEW YORK STATE

State Insurance Fund

AN IMPORTANT meeting of State Insurance Fund chapter's board of directors was held Monday, September 20, at 5:15 P.M. at the Hotel Fourteen. The recent salary plan was discussed thoroughly.

Wishes for a speedy recovery are sent to Moe Brown of Underwriting. Moe is convalescing from an operation.

Welcome to three new Underwriting employees: Rosamond Booker, Anita Albert and Onelia Knight.

All Fundities who wish to participate in bowling for the chapter in the NYC Association league should contact Charles Mallia of Underwriting, extension 318.

The chapter says that the blast by the Union of State Employees (Independent) at the 700 employees of the Fund who are members of CSEA, boomeranged. As a result of this "vicious" attack at the only true representative group for Fundities, who act every day in the year for the benefit of all employees, dozens of phone calls were receiving by the chapter's membership committee for application to join CSEA. The chapter finds the union no threat.

Rochester State Hospital

AN executive committee and membership committee meeting was held September 8 in the club rooms of Van de Mark Hall. The campaign for new members is now started and all members are asked to pay their dues as soon as possible. A list of the non-members was distributed to the membership committee, and letters have been sent to all non-members asking their cooperation in the drive. All present members will receive letters asking for constructive criticisms and if they are desirous to serve on the various committees or offices. By using this procedure the chapter hopes to stimulate greater interest in all chapter affairs and to give all members an equal chance to serve.

A large crowd from Rochester Hospital chapter attended the clambake at Newark State School. Everyone enjoyed the dinner and had a wonderful time.

Salary Appeal Meeting
On Thursday, September 23, at 7:30 P.M. a meeting will be held in Van de Mark Hall on salary appeals. Speakers will be John J. Kelly Jr., CSEA assistant counsel, and F. Henry Galpin, salary research analyst. Employees wishing assistance in appeals are asked to be present. Among dissatisfied employees regarding recent salary allocations are telephone operators, laundresses, clerks, typists, barbers, beauticians, painters and clothing room clerks. Bill Rossiter, chapter president, requests other employees who are grieved with allocations to contact the chapter.

Rockland State Hospital

A LARGE attendance marked the August meeting of the Rockland State Hospital chapter, CSEA at the Association Rooms in Home 29. Henry Marier, president, with the other newly elected officers, presided.

Nucleus of the meeting was a discussion of the new salary allocations and appeals. President Marier demonstrated the formula by which employees can determine exactly what their salary increases and their retroactive pay checks will amount to. He also described the method to be followed in filing the appeals. Those who are planning to organize for presentation of an appeal are the clothing clerks, laundry workers, assistant cooks, housekeepers, practical nurses, maintenance helpers, telephone operators, account clerks, occupational therapists, O.T. instructors, attendants, butchers, and the seamstress, tailor, and mechanical stores clerk. Mr. Marier announced that the Association Rooms may be used by any group wishing to discuss salary appeal, if they will contact him.

Blue Cross-Blue Shield
It was announced that employees who did not belong to the Blue Cross-Blue Shield insurance plan can no longer join the Rockland group until the next reopening, for which no date has yet been set. Neither will employees who have had only hospitalization insurance be able to add surgical benefits. However, new employees may join in all these plans any time within 120 days from the date of their employment, and married members may transfer to joint accounts within 60 days of their marriage. New employees who already have Blue Cross and Blue Shield coverage under some other group may still transfer to the Rockland State Hospital plan.

The members present at the meeting voted to continue making an award to the student in the graduating class of Rockland State Hospital School of Nursing who has shown the greatest progress during the training period.

MHEA Resolutions
Members were urged to join the Mental Hygiene Employees Association if they had not already done so. The president reminded them that joining this organization is vitally important since it is the only organization devoted strictly to the problems of Mental Hygiene workers. Seven resolutions decided upon by the MHEA for presentation before the State Legislature were read and explained by Emil M. R. Bollman. They were: 25-year retirement; vested retirement after 20 years; some kind of survivors' protection under the retirement system; optional retirement at age 55 or 60 years with the optional amount to be determined by the employee; a 40-hour week; one month for each year of service up to 12 years in death benefits, and an increase in death benefits from six to 12 months; accumulated sick-time to be given at the time of retirement.

CSEA Election
The slate of candidates for the election to be held by the State

Civil Service Employees Association on October 13 was read. An official ballot will be sent to every Association member.

It was pointed out that it would be to the interests of Mental Hygiene Department workers to support Mr. Soper and Mr. O'Brien, who are also members of the department.

The Mental Hygiene nominees for membership on the State executive committee are Emil M. R. Bollman, recent president of the Rockland State Hospital chapter, CSEA, and John E. Graveline, present member of the committee.

Out-of-town guests and relatives were from Buffalo, Albany and Elmira, N. Y., Williamsport, Pa. Newark N. J. and Fort Worth, Tex. Mrs. Cecelia Patten of Saratoga Springs was among the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Merkle will make their home in Santa Monica, Calif.

Sympathy is extended to Elizabeth Dean, whose mother succumbed after a long illness.

Dr. and Mrs. C. E. F. Laatsch are enjoying a vacation during September.

The Craig Colony Men's Bowling League started its keen rivalry September 8 at Mt. Morris Bowling Academy. Emmanuel Passamonte, president, and John Cipolla, secretary, are the newly elected officers who plan to be kept busy with the rapidly increasing bowling enthusiasts among the Colony's employees. The sport has gained momentum indeed and now claims 12 teams again in the men's league, with a waiting list of men bowlers. Here's to another successful and enjoyable year by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gonzales and family have moved from Canaseraga to Mt. Morris.

Diplomas were presented to 14 graduates of the Craig Colony School of Nursing in the 55th annual Commencement Exercises with Mrs. Mabel L. Ray, principal of the School, presiding. The exercises were held September 9 in Shanahan Hall. Dr. Henry Brill, former director of Craig Colony who is now Assistant Commissioner of Mental Hygiene, was guest speaker. Interesting remarks were also made by Mr. Wilkinson of Ithaca, president of the Board of Visitors. Those in the graduating class included: Ruth Blecken, Groveland; Helen Cronk, Fillmore; Wonita Enos, Latrobe, Pa.; Joseph Furfure, Canadadigue; Jean Grant, Olean; Madeline Hazelton, Rochester; Norma Hughner, Middlesex; Frederick Insley, Mt. Percy Caplan, chairman for the affair, was assisted by Dominick Tate, John Condon, Matty Fitzgerald, Thurlow Barnes, Josephine Van Fitzgerald, Grace Towey, Richard Barrell and Al Castellano. About 220 employees and friends attended including Commissioners White, Cain, and Veness, counsel Arnold Wise, Ellis Riker, and Association representative Joe Lochner.

St. Lawrence State Hospital

ONE of the largest groups of patients ever to attend a softball game at the hospital recreation field, saw the Utica State Hospital women's and men's teams defeat the St. Lawrence teams. Two features which relieved some of the strain were the home run by Malcolm MacGregor, a St. Lawrence man, and the pinch hit of Bobby Snow, 11-year old son of Dr. Snow, who made a hit into a complete circuit of the bases as the Utica team committed a series of calculated errors to the delight of the spectators.

Following the games, the players of all the teams enjoyed a dinner prepared by the hospital cooks and served by the dining room employees, at which time Dr. Snow, the director, Mr. Maxwell, business officer at Utica State business officer at St. Lawrence, and the managers of the four teams, spoke briefly. Coffee and dessert were served to the players on the lawn outside the director's home.

Mrs. Harriet Dodge and Paul Briggs, presidents of the women's and men's bowling leagues, tell us the bowling season is already under way. May the best team win, and all have fun.

New Bowling Alleys

Dr. Snow announced that Mental Hygiene Department approval has been given to install four bowling alleys in the former tailor-shop. Hospital patients may use the alleys in the morning and afternoon, and employees at night. The facilities are expected to be ready for use in the fall or early winter.

The tailor shop will be transferred to the second floor of Crafts, of which Leo Durant is supervisor.

The alleys are part of the recreational therapy facilities which Dr. Snow is providing for the hospital.

Creedmoor State Hospital

GRADUATION exercises for the student nurse class of '54 was held at the assembly hall on September 17. Mrs. Margaret S. Groat, of the Board of Visitors, presented the prizes. Graduating pins were presented by Mrs. Lois Christoferson, principal of the School of Nursing. Graduates were Evelyn Anderson, Margaret Anna Below, Edwin Collins Jr., Alice Czacher, Mary E. Jackson, Miriam Jurgens, Hedy Misura, Mary Tanulla, Frank Pindia, June Rupprecht, Florence Staepfer, Donald Staptons, Frank Sweetapple and Ruth Weiss.

A lobster dinner and golf party, sponsored by the Rotary Club of Pawling, was held September 14. The group attending the dinner included Dr. H. A. LaBurt, director; Joseph Anderson, business officer; John Murphy, Jack Duffy, Leo Seales, Ralph Osman, Irving Rothman, Philip Weimer, Nick Cunningham and Leonard Gilmartin.

The bowling alleys at the hospital will be open to all employees on October 1. Teams are now being formed for league competition and, prior to the league games, there will be open bowling each night from 6 to 8 P.M. Employees are advised that the cost of bowling at the hospital is considerably less than what it would cost off the grounds. A good turnout of both men and women is expected.

Patricia Kent has left the accounting office to keep her date with the stork. A dinner was held for her at the Canton House, where she was presented with a high chair.

Pauline McGraw returned from a vacation in the South.
