CHANGES IN CIVIL SERVICE LAW PROPOSED:

Dismissal for Refusal to Answer Official Queries; Curb on Budget Director's Veto; Hearing With Counsel in Disciplinary Cases

DON'T REPEAT THIS

DEWEY, WAGNER, DiFALCO, JAVITS SEEN STRONGEST BY CIVIL SERVANTS

CIVIL SERVICE employees from all parts of the State, including New York City, see Thomas E. Dewey as the most powerful candidate the GOP could run. Even after his electrifying announcement pulling out of the race, returns in a LEADER poll showed that Dewey has strong hold on the imaginations of civil servants as a dynamic candidate. Returns in the poll coming in prior to his announcement, overwhelmingly named the Governor. After his announcement, the name of Irving Ives has been dominant. But the poll shows Dewey as undiminished in the eyes of civil servants as the strongest political figure in New York State.

Democratic Picture

Head of Western Conference Lashes 'Inequities' Under New State Salary Plan

Claude E. Rowell, president of the Western Conference, expressed dissatisfaction with some of the allocations under the new salary plan. He said that these were only part of the inequities that still existed now that the allocations have been announced.

His analysis points out that the allocation of the position of account clerk in Grade 3, with the specialized work and training required, violates the principle of equal pay for equal work. He pinpoints his argument by noting that janitors, stenographers, attendants, and power plant operators, among others, have been allocated to Grade 4, therefore account clerks seek at least an R-5 grade. It is also pointed out that the barbers and beauticians allocated in Grade 5 have not received adequate consideration in allocating them to this grade, especially when motor vehicle operators, who were in the same grade as barbers and beauticians, have been allocated to a grade higher.

Mr. Rowell noted that account clerks are expected to answer more technical questions to prove their ability for more detailed responsible work when they qualify competitively for their jobs in State service than other kinds of clerical work. In institutions the volume and type of work plus the responsibility involved demands a wide knowledge of work process. Clothing clerks and stores clerks because of their specialized activities should also be allocated to a higher level than Grade 3. He suggests that clothing clerks and stores clerks should be in Grade 5. Launderers who are allocated to Grade 3 should be on a par with attendants in Grade 4, since they are constantly responsible for the care and guidance of patients who work in the laundry. Mr. Rowell expressed a hope that during the appeal period many more of the existing inequities will be corrected.

A recommendation to provide that public employees claiming a constitutional privilege against self-incrimination or who refuse to waive immunity or to answer questions concerning their official conduct or duties upon any duly authorized inquiry shall thereby vacate their office, has been adopted by the Temporary State Commission on Revision of the Civil Service Law. Assemblyman Fred W. Preller, of Queens is Commission chairman.

Such a provision now exists for NYC employees. The proposed law would apply to all employees of State and local governments.

The Commission also recommended amendments designed to keep disloyal persons out of the public service by authorizing inquiries and investigations into the loyalty of public employees and applicants for public employment, by requiring public employees and applicants for public employment to give full information upon official inquiries into their loyalty, and by authorizing the suspension of employees without pay pending determination of court proceedings to review administrative determinations in loyalty cases.

The Commission also made the following recommendations which are of general public interest.

Extended to all permanent employees in the competitive class the right to a hearing on stated charges, which is now enjoyed by

Pay Day Is October 1

ALBANY, Sept. 13—Sources close to Comptroller J. Raymond McGovern report "pay day" for State employees drawing raises under the State's new salary plan will be October 1. The Department of Audit and Control even now, as this issue goes to press, is running off the checks, which contain the retroactive pay boosts back to April 1.

Metro Conference Sets Up Large Education Program For Employees in Area

Civil service employees are interested in improving their educational backgrounds, and the Metropolitan Conference, CSEA, is doing something specific about it. The Conference Education Committee is attempting to reach all employees in the area to get an idea of what the educational needs are.

Two Categories

A circular issued over the names of Al Sanko and A. J. Coccaro, of the Education Committee, lists possible courses for State employees. These have been broken down in two categories:

1. Those desiring high school equivalency diploma. This diploma is acceptable for the following purposes:

- For civil service qualifications
- By business firms and the armed forces.
- Colleges have individual rules regarding the diploma.
- The second group for adult education includes special subjects that interest many employees. Among these subjects are:

- Drawing
- Driver training
- Sewing
- Father and son hobby classes
- Typing and shorthand
- Photography
- Interior decorating
- Citizenship and English
- Lawns and landscaping
- Stationary engineering
- Handicrafts
- Fundamentals of supervision.

Other courses desired by individuals will also be considered, and the committee urges all employees to write in suggesting what they would like to learn.

Never Too Old

The committee statement reads: "You can never be too old to advance yourself, whether it is for personal satisfaction, to better yourself at your job, or just a subject in which you are interested, but have been putting off because of some obstacle."

The courses will be set up with the assistance of the Civil Service Employees Association and the State Training Division.

Where to Apply

Employees who would like to participate in this educational are asked to write to A. J. Coccaro, c/o Kings Park State Hospital, Kings Park, L. I., or to their local chapter president, who will convey the information to the Education Committee.

- Give the following information:
- Are you interested in a high school equivalency diploma?
 - What adult education subject would you like to study?
 - What comment have you to make on the plan, or what other courses would you suggest?
 - Don't forget to include your name and address.

Thomas Indian School

NEW OFFICERS of Thomas Indian School chapter, CSEA, are: Dolores Rupp, president; Florence Roberts, vice president; Inez Vail, secretary; Harlan Gage, delegate; and Frank Mons, alternate delegate. Mr. Mons also heads the membership committee.

The chapter meets at 8 P.M. on the first Monday of each month in its rooms at the school.

Steve and Ethel La Grenade are attending the Canadian National Exposition at Toronto this week.

Edna Pullen has returned to work after recovering from an injury to her foot.

Ray Samelson is attending the Cattaraugus County Fair at Little Valley. He said he likes the ball games and races, but he's been observing the oscillations and girations of Patima.

Burnell Marble and Mrs. Marble are touring in Maine and points east.

Bob and Mrs. Strang have returned from a vacation trip; congratulations are in order for Bob, who passed the exam for farm manager.

Lester Bell has returned to duty after an appendectomy.

Assemblyman Fred Preller, chairman of the Temporary State Commission on Revision of the Civil Service Law. His group will recommend a number of substantial changes in the existing law.

war veterans, and exempt volunteer firemen;

broadened and liberalized the provisions relating to transfer of employees;

continued without change the present statutory veteran preference in retention upon abolition of positions;

transferred to the State Department of Civil Service the power to classify and allocate positions in the State service; abolished the "veto" now exercised by the State Budget Director over such actions.

All these actions must of course be acted upon by the State Legislature.

Assemblyman Preller said that the Commission's report and recommendations will be submitted to the Legislature in 1955, together with a comprehensive bill for revision of the Civil Service Law.

ran in this order: First, Robert F. Wagner; with Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., Averell Harriman, and James A. Farley running closely together as second choices. There was a scattering of votes for Judges Charles W. Froessel and Harold Medina.

Other GOP Candidates

The civil servants showed much independence in their construction of the remainder of the tickets.

On the GOP side, the choices for lieutenant governor were nearly evenly distributed between Oswald D. Hecks and Raymond A. McGovern.

Assemblyman Joseph Carlino led the roster of Republican choices for comptroller. Harold Riegelman, who had been the GOP candidate for Mayor of New York, received a scattering of votes both for lieutenant governor and for comptroller.

On the choice for attorney general, the long-time incumbent, Nathaniel Goldstein, ran first, even though he—like Governor Dewey, has said he does not wish to run again. Congressman Jacob K. Javits was a close second. There were scattered votes for Congressman Paul Fino.

Other Democratic Candidates

On the Democratic side, the leading choices for lieutenant governor were: Supreme Court Judge S. Samuel DiFalco, first, followed by Congressman Leo O'Brien. Others named were Donald Kramer, Mayor of Binghamton and former NYC Comptroller Lazarus Joseph. There was also a scattering of votes for James A. Lyons, specifically identifying the Bronx boro president. There had been a slight boomlet for another James Lyons, former Sullivan County assemblyman, but this was not reflected in the votes of the civil servants.

James M. Mead ran first in the poll for the post of comptroller on the Democratic ticket, closely followed by George Bragalini, former NYC postmaster.

For the position of attorney general, Francis W. H. Adams, NYC Police Commissioner, ran far ahead of others. But this was before the run-in on bingo and the busting of a top cop who insisted on enforcing the anti-gambling laws. It is, of course, impossible to say what affect this news might have had on the vote Adams received. Others who ran high as Democratic candidates for comptroller were Judge Nathan R. Sobel and Jules Wickler.

Poll Isn't Scientific

As this column said last week, this poll is not intended to be a scientific analysis, but merely to present an indication of civil service employees' thinking as we went to press.

The poll shows these results: (a) public employees feel that Dewey is the strongest candidate and his bowing out of the race is therefore a weakening factor on the GOP side; (b) the Democrats have a number of strong candidates, and there is little feeling of "the" strongest; (3) on both sides, there is an attitude that many good candidates are available for other positions on the ticket; (4) from comments accompanying the voting, it seems obvious that the coming race will be a close one.

This column also asked its readers to indicate which party in their opinion is likely to win the election. Since results are still coming in at press-time, no tabulation has been made. Readers who have not yet done so are invited to submit their opinions; and at a later time Don't Repeat This may present a summary of civil service thinking on the relative strength of the Republican and Democratic parties.

Fringe Benefits — Public and Private Policies Compared

FRINGE benefits have become an important factor in the recruitment efforts of both government and business personnel administrators. This takes on real significance in light of the fringe benefits enacted by the Federal government (and described in last week's LEADER).

According to a new report of the Civil Service Assembly, fringe benefits are regarded as an important condition of employment by American workers striving to attain economic security as well as a better standard of living. As commonly understood, the term "fringe benefits" applies to a wide variety of rights, privileges and special activities which employees consider along with salary as attractive features of a job.

Over the years, fringe benefits have been developed by employers on their own initiative and by employees through collective bargaining. As a result of agreements granting these benefits, many workers today regard "fringes" as guaranteed employment rights which an employer is obliged to provide.

Furthermore, a number of laws now exist which require employers to grant security and welfare benefits to employees. Previously, these benefits were "fringes" in that they were given at the discretion of the employer. But since these benefits are now required by law, they are no longer fringe benefits in the sense of being voluntary expression of an employer's interest in the welfare of his employees. For example, some states require employers to give employees time off to vote. And overtime payments are compulsory for the mass of industrial workers covered by the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act. Those benefits are no longer considered by employees as "fringes" as guaranteed employment rights which an employee continually being brought forth to attract and hold workers.

The report predicts that the American worker's pressure for increased fringe benefits from employers will continue as long as individual security needs are not completely satisfied. It adds that as soon as nation-wide programs are established which provide adequately for the security needs of employees, present fringe benefits will become obsolete or new benefits will be devised.

Industry Becoming More Liberal

The disparity between fringe benefits offered employees by government and industry is not nearly as great as commonly believed.

The Civil Service Assembly reveals that the gap is narrowing between the practice in government and industry regarding vacations. The vacation policy in most governmental jurisdictions has been regarded as liberal for many years, especially in the Federal government service. But recently the Federal vacation period has been decreased while the vacation allowances of industrial firms are becoming more liberal. In many cases, vacation policies of business firms exceed those of local government agencies.

The report says that formal sick leave programs are offered more in government than in industry. But the sick leave allowed government employees is usually not supplemented with hospitalization and surgical insurance, whereas most industrial firms provide for sickness with non-occupational health and accident insurance and continue all or part of a salaried employee's compensation for about two weeks while he is receiving insurance benefits. Also, many industrial firms give workers hospital and surgical insurance for which they pay all or part of the cost, and on-the-job medical services are given employees of a number of companies.

No fringe benefits are granted exclusively to government employees as a particular advantage of public employment. Industrial workers, however, are offered several fringe benefits that government by its nature cannot grant its employees, according to the report. Examples given are profit sharing, bonus allowances, and discount and purchasing facilities.

New Laws May Be the Answer

The report explains that industrial employers are less restricted than government employers in adopting new personnel practices because they do not need legislative authorization to adopt new policies. For example, rest periods are not formally provided for as frequently in government as in business because of lack of clear legislative authority for their establishment.

Capital Conference Announces Fall Meeting

ROME, N. Y., Sept. 13—What's State salaries? This will be the big right and what's wrong about feature of an all-day meeting of the Central Conference, scheduled for Saturday, September 25, in Rome. The Fort Stanwix chapter, Rome State School, will act as host to the Conference, which is a unit of the State-wide Civil Service Employees Association. Davis L. Shultes, who headed the CSEA salary committee in its negotiations with the Governor's representatives, will be moderator at the salary discussion. It is anticipated that many knotty questions will come from the audience.

The meeting will begin at 1:30 P.M., at the Beeches in Rome. Raymond G. Castle, the Conference's 2nd vice president, has been appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of 1st vice president Gerald Reilly. The Conference will elect a new 2nd vice president, Charles D. Methe is conference president.

Cocktails will be served at 5:30 P.M., and dinner at 6:30. Dr. James P. Kelleher, director of Rome State School, and Mrs. Kelleher will be guests of Fort Stanwix chapter. Officers of the Civil Service Employees Association will be guests of the Conference.

Patchen to Preside

Robert Patchen of Rome State School will be master of ceremonies. John F. Powers, CSEA president, will be principal speaker.

Mrs. Irma German, president of the host chapter, is chairman of the committee on arrangements, assisted by Mrs. Lennea Swanson and John Cole.

Dinner reservations should be made with Mrs. Swanson, care of Rome State School, Rome, N. Y., not later than Saturday, September 18.

Margaret M. Fenk is chairman of the Conference's publicity committee.

Be Patient on Refunds, NYC Aides Urged

NYC employees who have applied for a refund of accumulated deductions are asked not to communicate with the NYC Retirement System about date of payment.

Says Isabel M. Keleher, secretary of the Retirement System:

"This request is made because this office receives numerous phone calls and inquiries by mail from members who have applied for refunds prior to their actual separation from service, because of accrued vacation or sick leave time which will not expire for a month or six weeks. They do not seem to understand that although their agency accepts the resignation and refund blank, that the refund is not forwarded until after the actual resignation date. These cases cannot be processed until separation from service is verified."

Hold Up Resignations, She Asks

Miss Keleher added that her office would "appreciate if payroll clerks would delay accepting resignations or applications for refund. Usual processing takes four to six weeks.

Applications for amounts in excess of $5000 must be presented to the Board of Estimate for approval. This also delays things.

Asked what members can do to help speed up action on their applications, Miss Keleher replied:

1. Proper completion and execution of the application, including signature as it appears on the records of the Retirement System.
2. Filing the applications directly with the department in which the employee last served.
3. Avoiding unnecessary calls in attempting to expedite payment.

Brisk Business On Pay Appeals

Henry Galpin, salary research analyst of the Civil Service Employees Association, and Charles R. Culyer, field representative, have been doing a thriving "business" at the office of the NYC chapter, at 80 Centre Street.

Mr. Galpin has been meeting with employee groups who want to appeal their grades or salaries under the new State pay plan.

Last Thursday, Mr. Galpin met with representatives of these groups:

Building guard, elevator operator, hearing reporter, payroll auditor, baker, junior accountant, railroad inspector, medical photographer, telephone operator.

Mr. Galpin advised these categories on procedure for making appeals.

He will be available to other groups of State employees in the metropolitan area on Thursday, September 30.

Southern Conference Plans Meeting for September 18

A large meeting of the Southern Conference is scheduled to be held at Westfield State Farm on Saturday, September 18.

Among items on the agenda are these:

Discussion of 47 resolutions which have been submitted to the Resolution Committee of the Conference.

The new State pay schedules.

Consideration and endorsement of candidates for the Civil Service Employees Association.

It is expected that the Conference meeting also be a social event of rare excellence.

Charles Lamb, of Sing Sing, will preside.

State TB, Park Aides Get New Pay

ALBANY, Sept. 13 — New salary scales for State employees in the Tuberculosis Service and on Long Island parks have been announced by J. Earl Kelly, director of Classification and Compensation, State Civil Service Department.

Entrance salaries in 24 titles have also been upgraded, Mr. Kelly announced, to aid recruitment efforts.

Differential pay for employees in the TB Service is continued for all but eight job titles. In general, one and two-grade differentials have been provided.

Attendants 2 Grades Higher

Attendants in the TB Service are rated R-6, $2,720 to $3,520, a two-grade jump over other attendants. Staff nurses are graded R-10, $3,360 to $4,280, and supervising nurses, R-14 $4,130 to $5,200. Institutional teachers (TB Service) will receive $3730 to $4,720, or R-12.

Positions eliminated from special TB Service designation, and pay differentials, are bacteriologist, laboratory helper, medical technician, senior medical technician, senior X-ray technician, X-ray technician, X-ray aide, and social worker.

Certain State park employees on Long Island will be given a new title designation, traffic and park officer, at R-12, $3,730 to $4,720, a higher salary than similar workers in upstate parks. Traffic and park corporal will receive $3,920 to $4,950; sergeant, $4,350 to $5,460; lieutenant, $4,830 to $6,020; captain $5,640 to $6,970.

Among the 24 positions which will have increased entrance salaries, to aid recruitment throughout the State or in certain localities, are:

Dental hygienist, statewide, $3,358.

Stenographer, NYC and vicinity, $4,986.

Regents printer, Albany County, $4,986.

Senior draftsman, statewide, $3,730.

Senior engineering aide, statewide, $3,730.

Live Bloodhounds, Cute Teachers, Disney Cartoons—Public Employees Show Their Many Jobs at State Fair

SYRACUSE, Sept. 13 — More than 220,000 visitors to the State Fair in Syracuse were made more aware of the service rendered to the public by State and local employees after viewing an exhibit of the Civil Service Employees Association. Volunteer workers at the CSEA booth answered the questions of thousands of fairgoers, and the space was a gathering place for the numerous CSEA members at the big event.

Exhibit Is Popular
The CSEA exhibit, part of the Association's public-relations program, was one of the most popular attractions at the fair.

A large part of the fairgrounds was devoted to booths and exhibits of the various State departments and agencies, staffed by employees who served as pitchmen and actors for the occasion.

The State troopers' exhibit showed police equipment—cycles, police cars, radio, guns and even two live blood hounds who spent their days making friends with the young fry who stopped to admire them.

Department Exhibits
Other attention-drawing attractions were the exhibits of the Correction Department, showing that crime doesn't pay, and the Insurance Department, which showed Disney cartoons, Agriculture and Markets featured a model electric train. The State University set up a model classroom with an attractive teacher and a classroom of cute pupils. Actual classes were conducted.

The Thruway had a toll booth set up.

Color-Vision Tests
Motor Vehicles inspectors gave color-vision tests. Commerce Department provided an underground vista showing the mineral wealth of the State. Division of Veteran Affairs sent free 25-word messages to persons in the service anywhere in the world from relatives.

A group of workers with impaired vision sat through the day working on delicate instruments to illustrate the work of Social Welfare. The "Haunted House" of Mental Hygiene gave visitors an insight into the workings of a troubled mind.

Vocational training programs in action, with students working in metals and wood showed one activity of the Education Department.

Testing, Testing
Civil Service Department set up testing equipment and allowed visitors to take tests which were rated quickly by electric scoring machines on their knowledge of literature, history, science or agriculture. Those rating highest were awarded "expert" buttons.

Among other attractive displays were those of the Health Department, Youth Commission, Public Works, Anti-Discrimination, Legislative Committee on problems of the Aged, Workmen's Compensation, and the Commerce Department's Women's Division.

Topics of Interest

Leading the questions asked by State employees, according to Philip Kerker, who spent much time as "answer man", were queries about social security for State workers; salaries; and organization of State troopers.

Western Conference Will Feature Tour of School

ROCHESTER, Sept. 13—A special feature of the Western Conference meeting scheduled to be held in Newark, N. Y., September 18, will be a tour of the Newark State School. Although classrooms and shops will be closed, operations of other sections of the school will be shown to all those interested. The tour will start promptly at 1:30 p.m. from the school building, thus enabling the business meeting to begin at 2:30. Dr. Wolfson, director of the school, has urged that as many as possible avail themselves of the opportunity to see the establishment.

The afternoon meeting of the Conference will be sparked by addresses from Kenneth Stahl of the State Retirement System and John Conway, regional attorney of the Civil Service Employees Association. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. at Caruso's Restaurant. Dinner reservations are being made through Mrs. Edna VanDeVelde, 529 Church Street, Newark, N. Y. The cost of a reservation is $3.00.

Claude E. Rowell, president of the Western Conference, states that he expects this to be one of the best meetings yet held by the group. Other Conference officers are: Celeste Rosenkranz, 1st vice-president; Vito J. Ferro, 2nd vice-president; Kenyon Tice, treasurer; Mrs. John Lavery, secretary.

Pay Scales For Armory Employees

ALBANY, Sept. 13—Here are the new grades and rates of pay for State Armory employees:

Armory Superintendent grade 1. Old rate: $3200-$4200. New grade and rate: R-13, $3920-$4950.
Armory Superintendent, grade 2. Old rate, $3000-$4000. New rate and grade: R-12, $3730-$4720.
Armory Superintendent, grade 3. Old rate, $2800-$3400. New rate and grade: R-10, $3360-$4280.
Assistant Armory Superintendent, set at R-11, $3540-$4490.
Armory Engineer, grade 1. Old rate, $3000-$3400. New Grade and rate: R-11, $3540-$4490.
Armory Engineer, grade 2 becomes R-8, $3020-$3880.

Security Guard goes from the old rate of $2515-$3095 to the new grade and rate of $2850-$3350.

The pay increase is retroactive to April 1. On October 1, employees will receive a lump sum check covering the difference between their old and new pay for the six months between April 1, 1954 and October 1, 1954.

What Happened to the Pay Raise? Court, Legislative Employees Are Wondering

ALBANY, Sept. 13—Employees of the Legislature and the Judiciary are disturbed because they have as yet received no information concerning increases they are to receive under the new salary bill on October 1. Announcement of new salary rates for most Executive employees was issued some weeks ago.

The Civil Service Employees Association has been pressing for action on this matter, and has learned that some of the courts have not filed their recommendations for increases.

The law provides an appropriation of $75,000 for employees of the Judiciary and $75,000 for employees of the Legislature, with the proviso that all increases must be approved by the chairmen of the Senate Finance Committee and the Assembly Ways and Means Committee.

Willowbrook Players To Give Original Musical

STATEN ISLAND, Sept. 13—The Willowbrook Players, a group of employees of Willowbrook State School, will present an original musical play, "Once Upon An Island," in the school auditorium at 8 P.M. September 16, 17 and 18.

The show was written and directed by Vincent Lombardi, instructor of music at the school.

Mr. Lombardi, it was reported, devoted his entire vacation to the production, and the Willowbrook Players have spent several nights each week in rehearsals.

Proceeds will be used to purchase uniforms for the school band of which Willowbrook is duly proud.

The cast is headed by Frank DeJulio and Leo LeDuc, with William Cooke, Loretta Ratalles, Myra Larson, Edna Mulligan, Jean Fogerty, Marie Horvath, Donald Bailey, Chris Pena, Julia Pitou, Alice Cosgrove, Ida Finkelson, James Vicari and Margaret Desiderato.

Arnold Cortazzo is chairman of the band uniform committee; Florence Goodfield, vice chairman; Tracy Plain, secretary; Albert Langenstein, treasurer; Alyce Teichmann, in charge of tickets; Mrs. Kathleen L. Hennessy, publicity chairman, and Methel Stevens and Marie Salvatore, publicity.

Engineer Jobs Pay $80 to Start

Electrical and mechanical engineers, qualified in design work and for supervision of construction work, have jobs waiting for them at the NYC Department of Public Works. The positions are on a provisional basis, which means that appointments can be made immediately upon application, with a good possibility of future qualification for permanent tenure through passing a civil service examination.

The DPW points out that while the beginning salaries are somewhat lower than the engineers may be able to demand in private industry, they will acquire a wide and valuable experience on the job.

The starting salary for junior engineer is $4,080, and those with some experience may qualify for assistant engineer at $5,006. Applicants will be interviewed at Rooms 1821, Municipal Building, Park Row and Chambers Streets, Manhattan.

An Experiment In Education

The LEADER feels that an experiment being conducted by the Metropolitan Conference of the Civil Service Employees Association deserves commendation. More, it offers a guidepost to other employee groups. The experiment is one of education.

The Metropolitan Conference fights vigorously to improve the economic conditions of employees. But that is not the total reason for its existence. It feels, and rightly, that other aspects of the employee's life require action by his organization; and that of these, education is among the most important. The group is now canvassing State employees in the area, endeavoring to determine what their educational interests may be. Some may require high school equivalency diplomas, and the Conference is ready to help them "bone up" for the necessary examinations. Others may want courses so diverse as drawing or stationary engineering. The course may be, as the Conference points out, "for personal satisfaction, to better yourself on the job, or just a subject in which you are interested."

The step taken by the Conference is a long one. It will help improve the quality of new employees and their own satisfaction in living. Other groups may well watch with interest how the experiment thrives.

Good Cops—or Coldstream Guards?

The NYC Police Department refuses to drop its minimum height requirement.

Mayor Wagner wants more patrolmen. Commissioner Adams wants more patrolmen. The entire city is disturbed over the prevailing aura of crime. Since 1950, test after test has produced an insufficient number of patrolmen eligibles. The men who applied for the most recent exam aren't even showing up for the physical tests. The pay of patrolmen in New York City is still insufficient to maintain a family decently—and it's tough for the City to have to compete with private industry for its men.

There comes a time when a police department, like everyone else, must face reality. If present standards are leaving the City short of an adequate policing force, then those standards ought to be re-examined. Some requirements simply cannot be cut. Others can be. Height appears to be one qualification upon which compromise is possible. There might be others. After all, we aren't looking for a corps of Coldstream Guards.

And, of course, if the ante is raised high enough, you'll always get the men.

Fringe Benefits

Unemployment insurance, long a protection held by employees in private industry, is still not enjoyed by all government employees. Time-and-a-half for overtime work is common practice in industry, but rare in government.

The report notes that because government competes in the same market as industry, government personnel administrators should recognize the current trends regarding fringe benefits and take maximum advantage of those which they can utilize in order to attract and retain high-calibre workers.

In sum, the old argument that public employees get a lot of fringe benefits that private workers don't get, does not stand up. It is likely that the struggle for higher wages in government will be supplemented with drives for many additional fringe benefits.

NEWS

Letter

ALBANY—There's already speculation and maneuvering in top departmental echelons. With a new administration coming in, many of the boys are strengthening fences. You never know when you might be appointed a commissioner, and it's never too early to start making friends.

WASHINGTON—A court test is under way to determine if the sick leave pay of Federal employees is tax exempt. The suit is being instituted by the American Federation of Government Employees. There's a clause in the new law exempting from Federal income taxes sick benefits up to $100 a week paid by employers after the first week of illness.

ALBANY—Employees of State Parole worried over reorganization under Chairman Lee Mailler. They foresee changed assignments, possible uprooting from their home to go elsewhere.

NEW YORK CITY—Postal employees are raging-bitter about their failure to achieve a pay raise. Oddly, their ire is not trained exclusively upon President Eisenhower, who vetoed the raise. They cast blame upon Congress, too; and feel they were deliberately put in the middle of a "bum deal." All this may have political repercussions.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13—The uniform allowance in the "fringe" bill is what caused the President to hold back his signature until almost the last minute. Earlier plans had called for the bill to be signed immediately after the veto of the pay raise, thus taking some of the sting away, but that old bug "legal technicalities" stepped in and delayed the proceedings.

Earlier enactment of the bill would have meant denial of the $100 tax-free allowance to 133,000. Here's what happened. Chairman Rees of the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee, who wrote the bill, noted that the wording limited the allowance to those "presently required by law or regulation" to wear uniforms. A call to the Post Office revealed the interesting fact that postal employees wear uniforms as "a matter of custom," and that postal regulations requiring the wearing of uniforms had been abolished many years ago. The same situation also was found in some and the President agreed to hold other agencies.

Phone wires to Denver got busy back his signature until the department had a chance to draft the necessary regulations. That was done and the bill got the executive O.K. just before the deadline.

NEW YORK CITY—The Teamsters are quietly moving in on Mike Quill. The City Employees Union, a unit of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, has a 40-man organizing committee in the Transit Authority, working on motormen and conductors. . . . The new groups are going to meet at Teamsters headquarters, 170 Nassau Street, on Tuesday evening, September 14 and Thursday evening, September 16. Some of the Teamsters are preparing for the possibility that TWU adherents might attempt to break up the meeting.

NEW YORK CITY—Joe Schechter, new NYC Personnel Director, is having a hard time finding top men for the reorganized department. Good men from private industry won't come over; they earn more than they would get from the City.

NEW YORK CITY — Stanley Orear, who worked out the pay allocations on the original Griffenhagen classification plan, is going to work for the Commerce and Industry Association. His job is research on government operations. He'll probably come up with stuff concerning personnel activities.

PERMANENT OR TEMPORARY? IT'S ALL THE SAME—AT THE TRACKS, THAT IS

There is no distinction between permanent and temporary public employment, in the statute which prohibits certain public employees from holding pari-mutuel racing connected-jobs. Attorney General Nathaniel L. Goldstein has ruled, in an informal opinion.

County Probation Officer Must Avoid Track Job

In an informal opinion regarding the Pari-Mutuel Revenue Law, Mr. Goldstein ruled that a county probation officer is a "public officer," and not a "public employee," so that "he is not within the exception in favor of certain public employees" who may accept racing connected employment.

POLICE CONFERENCE LAUDS 'LEADER'

Editor, The LEADER

In appreciation of your continued interest in presenting the problems of our members to the public, the Police Conference, at its 29th Convention held in Syracuse, August 23-26, unanimously passed a resolution commending the Civil Service LEADER for this effort.

We are confident that the people will support any proposal that will maintain the highest standards of police service, and we fully realize that this can be accomplished only by dissemination of facts. To this end, you have done an excellent job.

I am sure that the policemen of this State, particularly in your city, are grateful for your cooperation, and I am pleased to have this opportunity to extend my personal thanks to you.

Looking Inside

By H. J. BERNARD

Social Security

NOW THAT the law is signed, permitting for the first time Social Security coverage for State and local government jobs also covered by their own systems, and the regulations under which the new law is to be administered have been adopted, it will be interesting to see to what extent employers will extend and employees seize the new opportunity. Certainly it is an opportunity, and the older an employee, the greater the opportunity.

Benefits to those approaching age 65, compared to the cost to employer or employee, are almost unbelievable. A man or woman who obtains Social Security coverage at 62 could retire at 65, under optimum conditions, and get back in pension checks in two and a half months all the money he or she put in, besides continuing to draw a pension of about $1,300 a year for the remainder of life.

Don't Be Deterred

The exclusion of policemen and firemen from the dual coverage law by their own request, and the lukewarmness of many teachers, should not deter other employees. The arguments in favor of adding Social Security coverage are overwhelming; the arguments against such inclusion are often not only speculative but ill-founded or stubborn.

The fear that once the U.S. gets a foothold into a State or local government retirement system, it won't be long before the U.S. will be running the whole show, is supported, if you can call it that, by examples of a few States that discarded their own retirement systems, and substituted Social Security.

"It can happen here," is the warning to State and local government employees in New York.

No mention is made of the fact that Social Security benefits are incomparably better than those offered under the discarded systems, and the employees got a real break. The States had no relish for their own systems, and the employees less. Pension benefit of say $50 a month after thirty years' service represented about the degree of liberality of those State systems.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare, through its Social Security Administration, has met unfair arguments with facts of its own, stated with poise and diplomacy. When States wanted to bring under Social Security employees of State or local government, the U.S. has gone to great lengths to make it as easy for a State as the law allowed. Such full service was enjoyed by New York State, too, when it made the necessary arrangements whereby 100,000 employees could be brought under Social Security who were not members of any State or local government pension system. Southern States, too, sought and received similar help, although the old States'-rights shibboleth is not thereby well served.

Employees will get an opportunity to vote secretly in a referendum, whether they would like to be included also under Social Security, but the Governor not only would have to sanction the referendum but be responsible for its integrity. Once a referendum is authorized, one might assume the administration in power would be willing to put up its share of contribution cost, if the employees vote to do likewise. This could run up to $84 a year, based on maximum covered salary of $4,200, but since the average salary in State and local governments is about $700 less, the average contribution would be $70 a year or less. Those paid less than $3,500 a year would pay proportionately less, but still 2 percent of pay. In any event, because of additional pension, and the family benefits, as well as excellent insurance benefits, Social Security offers an exceptional "buy".

Older employees, both men and women, would likely favor dual coverage. The danger lies with the younger ones, particularly the girls. For the younger employees, need for adequate pensions seems something too remote to require present consideration, and, besides, one can have so much extra fun on that $70 a year! The girls usually look forward to marriage solving their problems, so the retirement system to them appears to be a form of depositing in a compulsory bank.

The employee organizations have a large task ahead, to show their members just what the advantages are, and, in some instances, to save their members from being misled by ignorant suspicions and even false arguments. Getting the law passed was a hard, uphill fight; it would be a shame if the possible benefits are lost by default.

Warwick State School

POWERFUL Warwick State School softball team whipped Pine Island 8 to 0, to add the Warwick Township Softball League playoff crown to the league flag they had already won with 10 straight victories. The Pine Islanders, last year's playoff and pennant winners, were the fifth straight victims in the playoffs to fall beneath the deadly hurling arm of Frank Piranio. The rotund moundsman pitched his way to 15 straight victories this season with no relief at all. In the playoff final, he was aided by errorless ball played in the field.

Leading hitters for Warwick in the final game were Moe Minor with three hits, including a triple, and Tony Goben, who slammed the game's only homer in the fifth. Jay Burd and Bobby Powell added two hits each in the winning effort.

After the game, both teams enjoyed refreshments supplied by Mr. MacDonald and Mr. Ritchy.

ACTIVITIES OF EMPLOYEES THROUGHOUT NEW YORK STATE

Pilgrim State Hospital

THE REGULAR open meeting of Pilgrim chapter, CSEA, was held the first Thursday of the month. Much was accomplished at the meeting, as it always is. Everybody has a chance to express opinions and vote freely on all questions.

The fact that almost 500 employees have already volunteered blood for the blood bank was loudly acclaimed as an example of what can be done when all employees pull together.

The chapter unanimously voted support of resolutions on 25-year retirement, vacation and sick pay, and progress toward time-and-one-half for overtime. The resolutions, proposed by the Mental Hygiene Association group, will be presented at the CSEA meeting in October.

By unanimous vote, the members agreed to initiate inter-personnel problems machinery, in cases where this is required. Also, at this meeting, methods for implementing the objectives of the civil service were discussed fully.

Chemung

CHEMUNG chapter's third annual outing and clambake was held last month at Big Pond, Pa. The 100 members and guests who attended enjoyed the wonderful food prepared by Phil Rossi of City Maintenance, who was general chairman. Albert DeRenzo was co-chairman for the City, and Madaloni Sanstead, co-chairman for the County. Appetites were tempted with steamed clams, turkey, shrimp, hot sausages, hamburgers, and all the "extras" that made the clambake a real success.

Frank Trocchia of Chemung County Airport and James Hennessey and Donald Marvin of the Water Board have been named as representatives on the chapter's executive council.

The chapter regrets to announce the death of Paul Broxholm, an employee of the Welfare Department for 23 years. He passed away September 2. Paul was chief account clerk in the audit department. Sympathy is extended to his wife and son.

Creedmoor State Hospital

PLANS are under way for Creedmoor chapter to send a delegation to the Metropolitan Conference meeting at Brooklyn State Hospital September 18. Salary appeals will be discussed. The Creedmoor group will include chapter president John MacKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Thompson, Mrs. Peterson, Miss MacDonnell and Mrs. Quast. The chapter suggests that some of the laundresses who didn't get a fair shake on the salary deal, in the chapter's opinion, should contact Mr. MacKenzie and make sure to be at the conference meeting to present their case.

We received a card from Lill Gunderman, who's in Montreal, having the time of her life. Other vacationers include: Mr. and Mrs. Ed King, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Sweeney, Al Richardson of P Building, and Assistant Director Bennett, on vacation in Reno, Nevada.

The bowling league will meet soon to formulate the schedule and team line-ups for 1954. Trophies have been ordered by Joseph Anderson, senior business officer. Upon their arrival, a definite date will be set for their distribution and for the bowling meeting. Ken Roseboom, senior pharmacist and secretary-treasurer of the league, reports much interest among the new employees, both male and female.

Sincere sympathy to Walter Dilts, head nurse, Rec. Building, on the death of his mother September 6.

Edward O'Keefe and Alfred Trafford, former attendants, are among a new class of nine girls and six boys who will attend nursing school at Creedmoor.

Twenty-five year service pins will be awarded soon. Dancing and refreshments will be enjoyed after the presentations.

Celeste Benedetti, daughter of Gus Benedetti of the garage, left the hospital to take up the duties of a housewife. She now lives in Northport, L. I.

Get well wishes go to Anna Murray, Margaret Brett, Agnes Mulcahy, Mary Bartlett, Adele Poole, Neuman Scherhaven, Annius Johnson and John Coultaus, who are in the sick bay.

The patients' softball team had a most successful season, winning 13 and losing only one game against such competition as Central Islip, Kings Park, Manhattan, Bronx Vets Hospital, Letchworth Village, Brooklyn State Hospital, Hillside Hospital, and U. S. Naval Hospital, St. Albans.

The employees baseball team enjoys a 13 won and 3 lost record against the best semi-pro teams of New York and New Jersey and U. S. Army teams.

A new innovation in field day activities, called an informal "fun day," was held September 9. In addition to the large number of patients in the recreation classes, groups were selected from all working activities and wards to compete in the events. A large turnout of more than 3,600 patients and visitors attended. Among the highlights of the afternoon were the folk dancing group and the large glee club composed of men and women patients. Presents were distributed to all who took part in the events and prizes were awarded to all winners. Refreshments were served to all.

A bouquet to Prof. Irving Fiedler, Creedmoor band master, for his conducting of the C.S.H. band and glee club. Many thanks to the NYC Sanitation Department band, composed of 65 pieces, for helping make this such a gala affair. Congratulations to Jack Duffy, recreation director, and his competent staff, who directs the large undertaking annually for the hospital.

Tompkins

CONGRATULATIONS to Dolores Blaker of Tompkins County Memorial Hospital. It's a boy! Barbara Barrus of the City Clerk's office is a patient in the hospital.

By some strange coincidence, all seven persons in the Capital Dis- trict who passed the claims ex- aminer promotion exam either presently work or did work in O. S. R. O.

Napanoch

SUPERINTENDENT Thomas J. Hanlon and Assistant Superin- tendent Lloyd V. Wilklow of Na- panoch were hosts to institutional employees and guests at a clam- bake on the grounds September 1. The bake was acclaimed the best ever. Colonel Wilklow was bake master and put the king's touch to the food preparation.

Among the distinguished guests were State Senator Arthur H. Wicks, District Attorney Howard St. John, Peg Leg Bates, famous dancer; Robert E. Moore of the State Correction Commission; Doctors Robert F. Moseley, Eugene F. Galvin and Frederic Holcomb; Herbert DeKay and Edward Hub- ben of Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp; Thomas J. Mur- phy, president of the Grand Jurors Association; Charles Mul- lady, inspector for the Department of Correction; Benjamin Slutsky; James Rowe; Henry Schipp, former Mayor of Ellenville; and Deyo W. Johnson, president of the Northeastern Retail Lumbermen's Association.

Employment—NYC and Suburbs

AL REINHARDT, chairman of the State Division of Employment Committee, CSEA, presided at a committee meeting in Albany last week. Principal topic on the agenda was salary allocations.

Paul Menges, formerly of LO 710, resigned to become editor of "Bureau of Business Management" at the University of Illinois.

On August 28 the final training session for the coming senior em- ployment interviewer exam was given by the chapter. Special thanks are extended to Bob Foryth, Marie Doyle and Carl Mueller. The chapter wishes those who are tak- ing the test the best of luck.

Here and There

Discount cards are available for furniture, rugs, and lamps to Association members. Contact Bernard Federgreen at DE 9-5002 and save on these items.

If any chapter member has not yet had Blue Cross payments de- ducted from salary checks, con- tact Bernard Federgreen at DE 9-5002, so that a proper check can be made as to the status of your policy.

Congratulations are extended to Dorothy Kaufman, administrative assistant of the Household Of- fices, who celebrated her seventh wedding anniversary on September 9.

Deepest sympathy to Amelia Schneider on the recent loss of her mother.

The Senior and Employment In- terviewers Association will hold a meeting September 22 at 5:45. The place, L. O. 710, 225 West 34th Street, NYC.

News from L. O. 730, 610 Bob Wells is vacationing through the Southern States. Lou Gibbs and Sal Carbone also on vacation. All are from L. O. 730.

Congratulations to Clarence Leone who is celebrating his 13th wedding anniversary September 14.

Joseph Daquila of L. O. 610 is being transferred to the Staten Island office.

It's good to hear that Dorothy Fleming of L. O. 610 is home from the hospital.

Steamed clams and piping hot coffee were just part of the menu at Chemung chapter's third annual outing, held at Big Pond, Pa. Some of the 100 members and guests who at- tended are, from left, Albert DeRenzo, co-chairman of the clam-bake committee; Vernon A. Tapper, of Onondaga chapter; Phillip Zepp, Mrs. Strong, Mrs. Cook, and Carleton Wilcox.

Charles Cressy of L. O. 610 is still confined to the Lexington Hospital. Friends and chapter members can send get-well cards to him in care of the hospital in NYC.

Public Works District No. 1

MILTON H. BINGHAM, former senior civil engineer of District 1 and one of the CSEA chapter's most popular and active members, will be honored at a testimonial dinner Monday, September 20 at 7 P.M. The roast beef 'n trimmings affair will be held at Kapps in the Hollow, 1006 Sixth Avenue, Rensselaer.

"Bing" has climbed another rung on the ladder of success, to become associate civil engineer. To accept this honor, he had to transfer to the Binghamton Dis- trict office.

Tickets are $4 for the ladies, $5 for the men. Friday, September 17 is the last day to obtain res- ervations from Howard F. Green, 353 Broadway, Albany.

Manhattan State Hospital

MANHATTAN State Hospital chapter, CSEA, has sent a resolu- tion to both the Mental Hygiene Employees Association and the CSEA, for free toll privileges for non-resident car owners at the hospital. The chapter charged dis- crimination against the State em- ployees. NYC Police, Parks and Public Works employees enjoy free use of the Triborough Bridge facilities, the chapter pointed out.

Get well wishes are extended to Betty Lavin, Jim McGee, Con Downing and Josephine Donlon.

The facilities available at the institutional sick bay for em- ployees, is something that em- ployees should take advantage of. The nursing care, surgical treat- ment, attention and pleasant rooms would be hard to beat in the best hospital anywhere.

There are a number of groups of employees who plan appeals un- der the new salary plan. The off- cers of the chapter are at their service in assisting in these ap- peals. They are also notified of further service being provided by F. Henry Galpin, salary research analyst of the CSEA. Mr. Galpin will be at Room 905, 80 Centre Street, Manhattan, September 30. His telephone number, COrt- land 7-9800, ext. 319. Charles R. Culyer, field representative, will also assist members on salary ap- peals.

Rochester State Hospital

MRS. BEATRICE CLARK, who retired from the Occupational Therapy Department and who is now pursuing her hobbies of weav- ing and writing in Churchville, N. Y., has had an article published in the Psychiatric Quarterly Sup- plement entitled "Adventures in Salvage."

Helen P. Weems, O.T., has re- turned to duty after a leave of absence to attend Columbia Uni- versity

An art group therapy class has been instituted in the Livingston Building under the supervision of Carl Scacchetti. It consists of eight male patients who meet four times a week. One hour is devoted to instruction and the second hour to self expression.

Dr. Elias Benezera has returned after vacationing in Toronto, Can- ada. He mixed pleasure with busi- ness, attending the National Men- tal Health Conference. Dr. Benezera participated in the group psycho-therapy sessions.

Mary Marshall has returned from a week's vacation in NYC, where she attended the State Convention of the American Leg- ion Auxiliary as a delegate from the Vlahos-Mertz Unit 1353.

Wedding bells have been ring- ing! Congratulations to: Bill Wil- liams of the business office and Beverly Densmore, R.N., of the Genesee Building, married in Rome, N. Y.; to Sidney Cookson, Livingston Building, and Ger- trude Tarbox, Administration Building; and to Elsie Jackson, beautician in the Howard Build- ing, and Harold Mullett.

Sympathy is extended to Stan Copeland, principal engineer, in the loss of his mother in England. Stan flew to England upon receipt of the news. Sympathy to Betty Attridge, Administration Building, in the loss of her mother, Mrs. Mary Dertinger.

Charles Leidy, Livingston Build- ing, is convalescing from a recent foot injury. Pearl Miles is back on duty after being in sick bay. Mike Pembroke, electrical depart- ment, broke his leg while paint- ing his home. He is in General Hospital.

Congratulations are in order to Dr. and Mrs. Anthony Graffeo and James and Mrs. Robb. They are the proud parents of sons

Don Carr, foreman, has trans- ferred to Elmira Reformatory. Good luck, Don, Herbert Bullard and Cleveland Daedeb, Livingston Building, have resigned to return to North Carolina College in Dur- ham.

Leslie Burnham, Livingston Building, has resigned to move to California. Delores Vanderbrook, Livingston Building, has also re- signed.

New Employees, Vacationers Among new employees: Lillian Seitz, O.T. Department, and Mr. and Mrs. William Scramm, from Willard State Hospital. Mrs. Scramm is an attendant and Mr. Scramm an assistant cook in the Howard Building. A belated wel- come to Mrs. Martha Boyer and Mrs. Rachel Schwarz, RN's, who have joined the staff on Ward 36.

Employees who have been va- cationing are: Howard Building, Clarabelle Thompson, supervisor; Elsie Lowenstein, Bess McGarrity, Levera Archibald, Nellie Galney, and Regina Orsini, who has been in California.

Power House: engineering per- sonnel Ed Bardo, Don Morrison and Jack Johnson. Livingston Building: Roger Al- lerton, Urban Aston, Paul Bacs, Vincent Campbell, James Bobb, Robert Sherwood, Howard Farns- worth, James Mannix, Hubrecht LaGasse, Carl Moore, Anthony Pezzulo and Bruce McLaren, su- pervisor.

Mary Myracle, Social Service, has returned from vacation at her home in Tennessee.

Membership dues to the hospital chapter of CSEA will soon be due. Watch for notices and announce- ments concerning the coming drive. Let's make this a 100 per cent membership!

Woodbourne

BOWLING LEAGUE getting started September 29. Wait Miller, president; Casey Latowski, secre- tary; Bill North, treasurer. Sick a long time are Ray LaPolt, Floyd Hill, Joe Mitchell. Get well, fel- lows. Burrill Gatewood back work- ing after major surgery. All the St. Lawrence boys back wonder- ing if it really pays (the brass didn't get much of a raise).

John Glover, softball pitcher, left the department to resume coaching deep in the heart of Texas. A going-away gift was pre- sented. Good luck. Family clam- bake a grand time for the per- sonnel and their families. Sep- tember 8. Good luck to Charles McKendrick on his appointment as P.K. at Clinton Prison.

New slate of chapter officers will be elected next month; all pre- sent officers stepping down. Golf Tournament gets under way next month. Father Wilkins brought a swell show to the institution last week. The Bombusters really rocked the place. Superintendent Brumell on vacation, Assistant Superintendent Cointot head man during the interim.

Plans being set for annual din- ner, dance and show, promises to be the greatest ever. Ed Wichera with blistered hands digging a foundation for his garage. Bob Sullivan handing out cigars on the birth of a daughter. Cigars for a girl? Yep, he has three boys al- ready. Congratulations! Condol- ences to Winnie O'Neil, whose father passed away.

Guard list should be out soon; look for about 225 names. Forty- hour week the big deal for next year. International politics has ruined the 40-hour week for mil- lions of workers in Germany. Dr. D. A. Fitzgerald, Deputy Foreign Aid Administrator, has recom- mended to Congress a 40-hour week at 48-hour pay for all labor in the Allied Zone of Germany. The defeat of E.D.C. by France shelved this 40-hour plan for awhile. The U. S. Government is behind this plan and it looks good for next year. Thousands of em- ployees in N. Y. State are work- ing 48 hours a week. Who won the war?
