

Are We Prepared?

Realizing that State College will one day be changed to a liberal arts institution and that the education department will naturally undergo some change, it nevertheless seems important to mention the apparent need for clarity concerning preparation for teaching in junior high schools.

In education courses little emphasis is placed on these grades. Then Senior year comes. Many of the student teachers, perhaps almost half during some quarters, teach junior high. They cannot do their best because they have inadequate preparation.

Then when the former practice teacher becomes a full-fledged member of the profession, he may be teaching senior high. Isn't it probable that he would be better prepared to teach senior high if he had done his student teaching in that field?

If Albany State prepares teachers for only grades nine through twelve, there should be no student teaching in grades seven and eight, and graduates should not be qualified to teach these grades.

If the college prepares teachers for grades seven through twelve, more emphasis should be put on junior high, and students should be allowed to do their practice teaching in the grades they prefer.

Fascist Ghost?

It seems almost incredible that it should happen here, but it is happening. The John Birch Society—a group of almost fanatical "conservatives," extreme right-wingers who have vaulted themselves into prominence by means of a concentrated campaign of mudslinging and blatant name-calling—under the guidance of Robert H. W. Welch, an ex-candyman, has suddenly blossomed, as an organization devoted to ultra-nationalism. Such was the start of one Adolph Hitler, in a Munich brauhaus, over a quarter of century ago.

John Birch knows nothing of this society, he died ten days after World War II—shot, bayoneted fifteen times at the hands of a Chinese Communist lieutenant, and then left on a garbage heap. But John Birch has posthumously lent his name to this Society in typical of his nature because John Birch was an arrogant man who believed that his college professors should be reported to the authorities if they leaned anywhere to the left of his brand of ultra-nationalism—even at the risk of ruining a life.

The John Birch Society functions: calling Eisenhower a willing tool of the Communist Party; Truman, Lippman, Murrow and others "pinkos." The Society cannot and should not be repressed by any governmental agency. Any organization, however, which advocates unproven name-calling, Fascist-like spying, and suppression of a free press, can and ought to be censured by the hammer of public opinion. The narrow Nationalism of the John Birch Society is frighteningly akin to Hitler's doctrines, because of which so much American blood spilled—and yet the Society continues to gain support.

Focus On Faculty

By LINDA P. WHITE

It is a fact that the faculty is the backbone of the college. Without the faculty, the college would be a shell. The faculty is responsible for the quality of the education provided. It is the faculty who sets the standards and who are the primary role models for the students. The faculty should be given the respect and support that they deserve.

The faculty is also responsible for the intellectual growth of the students. They should encourage their students to think critically and to question authority. They should provide a challenging and stimulating learning environment. The faculty should be seen as mentors and guides, not just as lecturers.

The faculty should also be involved in the college's public relations. They should represent the college in the community and should be seen as the face of the institution. They should be active in local and national organizations and should work to improve the quality of education in general.

The faculty should be given the opportunity to participate in the college's decision-making process. They should be consulted on matters that affect their work and the college's future. They should be given the authority to make decisions about their own work and the work of their departments.

The faculty should be given the resources that they need to do their job effectively. They should have access to the latest books, journals, and equipment. They should have the time and space to do their work and to engage in scholarly activities. They should be given the support and encouragement that they need to succeed.

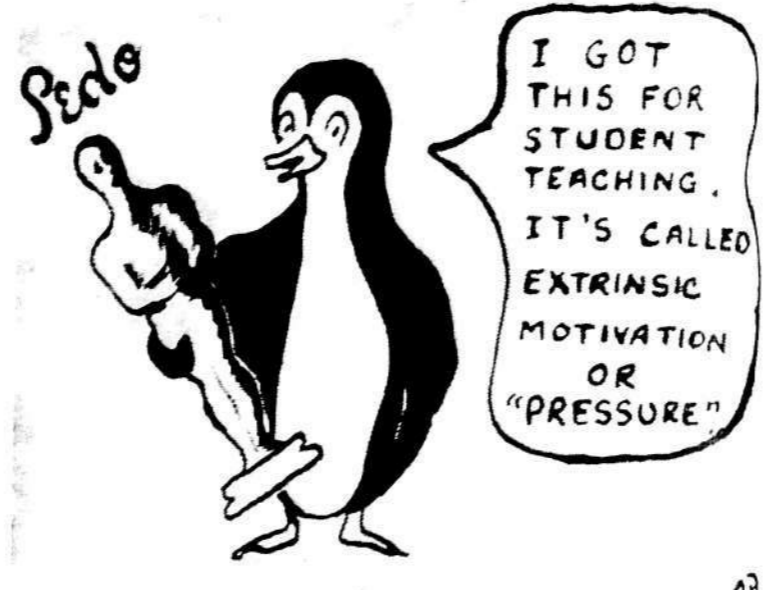

The faculty should be given the recognition that they deserve. They should be praised for their achievements and their contributions to the college and to the field. They should be given the respect and honor that they deserve. They should be seen as the leaders and the role models of the college.

The faculty should be given the opportunity to continue their education and to engage in research. They should be encouraged to pursue advanced degrees and to conduct research in their fields. They should be given the support and resources that they need to do this. They should be seen as the scholars and the leaders of their fields.

The faculty should be given the opportunity to engage in service. They should be encouraged to participate in community service and to work for the betterment of society. They should be given the support and resources that they need to do this. They should be seen as the leaders and the role models of their communities.

The faculty should be given the opportunity to engage in leadership. They should be encouraged to take on leadership roles in the college and in the community. They should be given the support and resources that they need to do this. They should be seen as the leaders and the role models of their institutions and their communities.

The faculty should be given the opportunity to engage in lifelong learning. They should be encouraged to continue to learn and to grow throughout their lives. They should be given the support and resources that they need to do this. They should be seen as the learners and the role models of their institutions and their communities.

Communications

To the Editor:
I'd like to comment on an attitude which pervades a portion of the student body—an attitude of 'trying to get by' with as little effort and creativity as possible."

This is the comment that I gave to your reporter—not the one that was printed in the April 14, 1961 edition, page 2. I now have an additional comment—and believe me, a "serp" as you say it, is very often more effective than a glowing praise and a sparkling statement of educational objectives. My newest comment refers to your newspaper's editorial policy. Need I mention it?

Burton S. Kaliski '20
To the Student Body:
How we have harangued about the lack of faculty-student relations. May I cite a very recent example to contradict all those who expound about professors who supposedly don't care about us.

Last week's issue contained a number of pictures in the feature section. Dr. Benton of the Biology Department volunteered his time, advice, and photographic equipment to help the News present the Biology Graduate Feature. We sincerely thank Dr. Benton.

If the students themselves would start making student faculty contact, they would undoubtedly find (as I did) many professors who want to help us but are never given the opportunity.

The Managing Editor:
To the Editor:
I would like to take this opportunity to thank all those individuals who helped to make the Thirtieth Annual Science Congress a success. Many students and faculty participated on Saturday. Their services were appreciated by all who attended. I am especially grateful to all those who helped behind the scenes prior to the event itself.

It is, indeed, rewarding to me to have had the opportunity to work with such an enthusiastic group. I am certain that my views are shared by the many high school students who displayed their talents. Sincerely yours,
Edward Berg,
Chairman, College Arrangements.

Dear Mr. Frankonis:
Just a note to thank all who contributed to the success of our recent Science Colloquium Program. We were able to put on this top notch series because of time cooperation at all levels of the college. Especially important was the student attendance at the lecture, and the work of the student committees which assisted with arrangements, hospitality and publicity. This is just a word of appreciation for all of the effort which went into this project, including the support of the State College News.

Office Grad Studies
Students interested in summer graduate study, beginning in July, should apply for admission prior to June 1. Those applying for study beginning in September, should file before August 1.

Notice
Housing preference forms for all buildings covering the 1961-62 school year are being distributed today. Friday students living in the college Residence Halls or Group Houses should obtain their Preference Form from their respective hall or house. This applies also to students residing in sorority and fraternity houses.

Roommates and all other students should obtain their Preference Forms from the Housing Office, 111 Draper Hall. These forms should be returned to the Housing Office by Monday, May 1st. Students living in college halls and in fraternities or sorority houses should return their forms to their respective hall or house by the same date.

Applications still may be made for male and female Residence Assistantships for the 1961-62 school year. Residence Assistants live in one of the college halls, working with the hall directors. In return they receive full or partial credit or remuneration towards room and board charges.

Applications may be obtained from Housing Office, and should be returned to Dean Stokes (female positions) and to the Housing Office (male positions). Applications for male assistantships will be closed effective Friday, April 28, not closing date for female positions has been announced.

Moving - Up Day Marks Fifth Seasonal Weekend

By Mary Lou Eisenman

"Those things longest considered are judged to be best," or something like that! . . . by Samuel Johnson. (Or was it Ben Jonson?) Well, anyway, whoever did say it had a point! Can you imagine anything more exhilarating than for SUCEA to have five spring weekends instead of the usual four? There can be, if you count Moving-Up Day. And why not? Not only does this year promise to be interesting, different and well-organized, but its position in the calendar is just what the doctor ordered.

Moving-Up Day will be held May 6 from 9 a.m. until 12 noon and will resume at 7 p.m. for the skit. The occasion includes something old (the program), something new (Sophomore class programs), something borrowed (skit—partly), something blue (the Senior class farewell song).

Moving-Up Day is one of the most long-remembered ceremonies conducted at State. Many students receive recognition; Sigma Lambda members and Who's Who choices. Awards will be given: UBEA award of merit, and Fraternity and Sorority scholarship awards. Fresh Camp counselors will also be announced.

The moving up of the classes is very impressive. At the end of the line can be seen the Grand Freshmen, guys in dark slacks and white shirts, gals in completely white garb, but all donning their trusty beanie. The Gay Young Sophomores, fellows in dark slacks, white shirts and green ties, girls in white skirts and blouses and green sweaters, will sport the new Soph Buttons. The Jolly Juniors will precede the Sophs wearing their festive hats and canes. Leading this lively line will be the Grand 'Ole Seniors in their graduation caps and gowns.

The name of the person who will deliver the Ivy speech is not known. It is believed that he has been hidden in a secret cavern to escape a possible Cuban invasion. But we do know that this year's Campus Queen, Gail Gasperian, will plant the Ivy.

Plan ahead! Save the date, May 6, and come to Moving-Up Day!

Two Speakers Treat Africa

The current crisis in the Congo and the Operation Crossroads Africa Program will be the topics of two addresses to be given in Page Hall on Monday, April 24, between 3 p.m. and 5 p.m.

Guest Speakers
Mr. David Holden, now of the Manchester Guardian, has spent the recent months in Africa, covering the Congo crisis for the London Times. A graduate of Cambridge University, Mr. Holden has been on the scene at such important events as the race riots in Angola, the Suez crisis, and the Lebanese Rebellion of 1958. He now comes fresh from a three month tour of Africa to discuss "The Congo De-bacle."

Speaking for Operation Crossroads Africa will be its founder, Dr. James H. Robinson of New York City. Operation Crossroads is a program endorsed by many colleges throughout the United States. It enables college students to spend the summer working on projects in Africa. Dr. Robinson will also answer questions on the new Peace Corps, which he has helped to organize. This program is sponsored by Forum of Politics, the English Speaking Union and S.C.A.

Israeli Economics
Also visiting the College on Monday will be Mr. Nathan Bar-Yaakov, Counselor of the Israeli Embassy in Washington. He will discuss current Israeli economic and political affairs in the 10 a.m. economics 3 class, Draper 301, and in the 3 p.m. political science 12 class, Draper 201. Guests are invited.

Arena Theater Cites Audition

The State College Arena Summer Theatre will present its tenth season of plays this summer. Participation in Arena is open to all qualified and interested students, particularly for those enrolled in the credit college credit courses in Arena Theatre. The productions, to be announced in May, will be presented to the public during July and August.

It is not necessary to be enrolled in the Arena courses to take an active part in Arena Theatre. Public auditions and interviews for acting and technical positions are to be held in May and June. Private auditions and interviews may be arranged. The bulk of the Theatre rehearsals are scheduled at night, leaving days free for classes or employment.

Part Of Summer Session
The courses, "Pre-Session Workshop in Arena Theatre" and "Arena Theatre" are part of State College's regular Summer session, and carry a maximum of five hours for Senior and Graduate students. The "Pre-Session" course places emphasis on the technical elements of arena production. The regular session "Arena Theatre" offers students an opportunity for intensive study of the theory and practice of arena and open-space production techniques of arena theatre. The classes are closely correlated with the actual productions of the Arena Summer Theatre.

The interests of Arena are Dr. Bruce Perry and Mr. James M. Leonard. Professors in State College's English department.

Senate Cures Union Smog Starts Campus Improvement

Action is the word to describe the activities of the Senate Services Committee during the current semester. Last Friday the committee headed by Dick Kelly and Geri Schleifer, Sophomores, met with Dean Clifton Thorne in a discussion of several problems of interest to the student body.

One of the primary concerns of the group is the situation in the Student Union. Thorne related that it had been purchased and that it would be greatly improved after its installation.

The committee also discussed student concerns regarding parking space. It was noted that additional tables will soon be installed in lower Husted Hall. Improvements under both Services and Administration are on both Waterbury Hall, plans to beautify the parking area and Waterbury Hall, and Student for the Hawley Lane.

The committee is successful in having the student parking garage parking area work of campus parking problem. The final project will be the attention of the committee and the committee's report will be presented to the part of the college and measures must be taken to speed up the parking problem.

Tryouts were held at which director Bill Schmidt, and his assistant Libby Stroud, selected Art Putnam to play the role of "Charlie," Howie Woodruff as "Joe," Jean Tully as "Helen," Anne Smith as "Marge," Sharon House as "Jenny," John Harwick as "Bertram Walhaven," and Carol Rider with Frank Ryerson to portray the elder Joe and Marge. Sharon Smith was selected as technical director, and choreography will be directed by Karen Jurewicz and Betty Chipak.

Faculty Reports Recent Activities

Announcement has been made of the recent publication of The Teacher in Curriculum Making, a book written by Dr. Joseph Leese and Dr. Kenneth Frasure, of the education department at State, and Dr. Mauritz Johnson, who is now teaching at Cornell School of Education.

First Of Its Kind
Published by Harper and Brothers, the 388 page book is the first of its kind for the classroom teacher. It was a two year project.

New Doctoral Program
Another activity involving the education department is a review of our new doctoral program on May 19, fifteen leading superintendents, all doctors of education in administration, will meet here with a departmental committee for discussion. The advising periods are designed to enable the doctorate program to function as a better service to the college.

Increased Enrollment Expected
There are 42 students enrolled for the doctorate at present, and the number is expected to increase next term.

Moving Up Day Skit To Schedule Comeback At Page Next Saturday

After one year of absence, the Moving-Up Day skit is returning with a bang! There's going to be quite a stir created, "brothers" and "sisters," and you won't want to miss it. The script, written by Bill Schmidt and Ross Dunn, is completely new to this campus. It's no re-run of Rivalry. Walt Peters, composer of the original numbers in the show has done an admirable job, while Paul Batsha has very effectively "eliminated the murders" with his catchy lyrics.

Tryouts were held at which director Bill Schmidt, and his assistant Libby Stroud, selected Art Putnam to play the role of "Charlie," Howie Woodruff as "Joe," Jean Tully as "Helen," Anne Smith as "Marge," Sharon House as "Jenny," John Harwick as "Bertram Walhaven," and Carol Rider with Frank Ryerson to portray the elder Joe and Marge. Sharon Smith was selected as technical director, and choreography will be directed by Karen Jurewicz and Betty Chipak.

D&AGuest, Myra Kinch, Performs Here Tonight

Myra Kinch and her company will appear in a program of dance satire called "The Light Fantastic" tonight at 8:30 in Page Hall. Dramatics and Arts Council is sponsoring the presentation.

Miss Kinch is accompanied by her husband, Mr. Manuel Galea, who has composed the music for most of her dances.

Receiving her entire training in Los Angeles, Miss Kinch won an enviable position there as one of the leading satiric and dramatic dancers of that part of the country.

The wide range of her activities has included the performance of featured roles in major motion picture productions as well as appearing in plays at the Pasadena Community Playhouse. She performed in two of her major dance works accompanied by a symphony orchestra at the San Francisco Memorial Opera House and choreographed the ballet for the opera "Aida."

Jacob's Pillow University

In the East, Miss Kinch has headed the modern dance department at the Jacob's Pillow University of the Dance in Lee, Mass., for the last ten years.

She has premiered her most ambitious works there. Her "Giselle's Revenge," done in the manner of the New York cartoonist, Charles Adams, has been acclaimed by the critics as a classic in dance satire.

Station WPTZ Tuned Off Air By Rockefeller
Governor Rockefeller vetoed a bill on Tuesday that would have allowed the erection of a television tower for TV Station WPTZ of Plattsburgh on public lands at the summit of Whiteface.

Response From State
The response the Governor received from President Hamilton, Dr. Paul Lemon, Chairman of the Biology Department, Dr. Vincent Schaeffer, head of the Weather Control Project, and the letters from the members of the Biology Club stating their objections against the tower placement influenced the Governor's decision.

Dr. Paul Lemon urged the Governor to veto the Senate Bill as "an installation of a TV transmitter would prevent the State University from carrying out fundamental research on the nature and possible control of weather."

Whiteface Mountain is the last major mountain in the East that is readily available for such research by a University. It is anticipated that millions will be channeled through State University by national and other governmental agencies concerned with atmospheric science research. The tower will contaminate the entire atmosphere of the mountain electrically and chemically, thus preventing the use of the site.

The Governor's Assembly measures of objection to the bill contained many of the points expressed by Dr. Lemon.

Television
Miss Kinch has also done work in television. She has appeared three times as soloist for "Camera Three," CBS, and as soloist and group choreographer for NBC's "Frontiers of Faith."

Tickets can be obtained in Lower Draper under student tax or for $2.25. They can also be obtained at the box office tonight before 8:30.

Roy To Talk On Geology
Dr. Chalmers J. Roy, Chairman of the American Geological Institute Educational Committee, will speak to the students of Albany State on Monday, May 1, at 1 p.m. in Draper 319. Dr. Roy, speaking under the auspices of the American Geological Institute Visiting Scientist Program, will speak on Geology in General Education.

Dr. Roy was born in Oranogo, Missouri on April 2, 1907, and did his undergraduate work at the University of Missouri. In 1933, Dr. Roy received his Ph.D. from Harvard. During this time he served as an instructor of geology. In 1936 Dr. Roy was an instructor of geology at Louisiana State University, and in 1938, he was appointed to the position of assistant professor. An appointment to the position of associate professor followed in 1941. Since 1948, Dr. Roy has been serving as professor of geology and department head at the Iowa State College.

Dr. Roy has also taken part in many geological surveys. In 1929, he was part of a team which searched for petroleum in Alberta, Alberta, from 1937 to 1940. Dr. Roy served in the capacity of research consultant for the Louisiana Geological Survey. He is presently the consulting geologist for a number of oil concerns in Louisiana.

Dr. Roy, a member of Phi Beta Kappa, is the author of a laboratory manual entitled Physical and Historical Geology, which was printed in 1950.

SUB Presents

The Student Union Board will present its second jazz concert of the spring semester Sunday 8:30 p.m. in the Brubacher Lower Lounge. The concert will be given by the Roosevelt Six, conducted by Richard Parsons. The Roosevelt Six are not unknown to State College jazz enthusiasts. They have played several jazz engagements at State College functions and play regularly at nearby Dale's. Ron Kitchley '63 will be chairman for the concert.

Forum Discusses

On Tuesday, April 25th, Dr. H. H. Hall will be the meeting place for the discussion of a controversial topic—un-American activities. At 7:30 p.m. the Forum of Public Opinion, a part of the Student Government Association, will present the film, "Un-American Activities." A recording of the speech of Dr. Hall will also be featured. The film, based on the public debate of the House Un-American Activities Committee, held at San Francisco in May of 1950, has been shown at several religious and fraternal organizations in the area. The recording was produced by the San Francisco State Students' Government, the Committee and the film, produced by the Albany area.

The new officers will be installed following the speaker Joseph Huberty of the State Education Department will give a talk followed by dancing to the music of Paul Jarvis.

Honorary Sets First Banquet

Phi Beta Lambda will hold its first annual spring banquet at Jack's Restaurant, 42 State Street, tomorrow at 6:00 p.m.

The new officers will be installed following the speaker Joseph Huberty of the State Education Department will give a talk followed by dancing to the music of Paul Jarvis.

Creative Writing Deadline Nears

Students who intend to apply for admission to the M.A. in Creative Writing should submit a portfolio of their work to the department by May 20. Dr. M. H. Jones, of the department, has stated as follows:

I hope that students should submit articles, short stories, poems, plays, or portraits, mark of 1000-1500 words. May 20 is the deadline for the mail to the college during the summer. Sophomores who have been writing for the past few months or who have had something accepted by a publisher in The Primer may be admitted on this basis.

Travel Group To Organize

During the summer months, the school's student travel group, the Albany Area Travel Group, will be organized by the American Food Service. After their return, students often get together to discuss the knowledge they have gained from their travel. One of these reference groups is being formed in the Albany area, and an organizational meeting will be held on Sunday, April 23, at 2:30 p.m. at the College of Saint Rose. If any previous AFS students are interested in forming such a group, a postcard including your name, home and college address, college attended, high school country visited, and AFS year should be sent to Barbara Palkovic, College of Saint Rose, Box 111, Albany 3, N. Y.

Art And Lit Unite Sunday

This Sunday in Brubacher's upper lounge, art and literature will unite when their relationship will be shown by Mr. Edward Cowley and Mr. Frank Wilson of the Art Department at the Spring Lunch in Commons.

During the discussion, slides of paintings from the Renaissance Period and the modern school of 19th century will be shown. The subjects covered will be political, social, and economic. Emphasis will be placed on meanings of paintings rather than particular subjects.

Famed Scholar Gives Lecture

Dr. William S. Hoelzel, a noted scholar in the field of English literature, will give a lecture on "The Poetry of Lewis Carroll" at the Spring Lunch in Commons on Sunday, April 23, at 2:30 p.m.

Notice

Cabinet members, Student Association officers and members of the Student Handbook staff are reminded to meet today at 1 p.m. in front of Draper Hall to have their pictures taken for the Student Handbook.

Outing Club At Penn State

Last weekend three members of Albany State College's Outing Club attended the International Outing Club Conference held at the campus of the Penn State Outing Club.

Carl Wilson, Gene Altman, and Bruce Leber participated in the conference with a number of other outing club members from other colleges. The conference was held at the Penn State Outing Club.

Annual Prize To Be Given For Writing

All undergraduates are invited to compete for the Twenty-five dollar Freshman Prize in English. The prize will be awarded to the writer of the best short story or poem.

Each student may submit one piece of writing in each category. There are no restrictions regarding the form or length of the writing. The following requirements should be observed in submitting the paper:

1. The paper should be typed and double spaced.

2. Place your name under the title of the paper.

3. Place "For Freshman Contest" in the upper right hand corner of the paper.

4. To enter the competition by Dr. McLaughlin, place at 287 Rockwell Hall, Albany, 12202, a check for $25.00.

5. The deadline for submission of papers is May 1, 1961.

6. The prize will be given to the author of the best story or poem.

State Reports College Status

The report clearly shows that State is an excellent institution and is constantly improving.
