Poses Question

performed smoothly, the problem for these groups will be finding how the transition from Regulations, Instruction, and the Perlmutter's report on special task forces seeking to undergraduate education.

Ginsburg, who is this year's first male speaker sponsored by the Forum of Politics, was clad in a dark green shirt, jeans and short boots. He opened his program with a chanting of "Hare Krishna."

The first poem read by Ginsburg was thirty minutes in length. "I didn't read that long poem before an audience before," said Ginsburg. The poem, which stated, "America will be refused eternally by her own real son, the bomb," touched on such popular Ginsburg themes as race, social injustice, corruption and "the secret police."

Two shorter selections, "I'm a Telegraph," and "This Form of Life Needs Rest" followed. The latter drew mixed reactions from the attentive spectators, many found Ginsburg's professor of obscenities offensive.

After reading a line of "King of May," and a poem which he said was written in the fifth hour of an LSD trip, Ginsburg announced that there would be a short intermission, during which he would speak informally with students. Ginsburg finds college audiences particularly receptive: "I guess everybody must be stoned because they're paying close attention," he said.

Ginsburg does insist that his audience understand his points that they may ask."

Thorne cited residence halls at the University of Rochester that have either 24 hour open house, no open house, or occasional open house. "Here the student has a choice of residence."

"Those presenting this proposal have forgotten one important part of staff work. What are the students likely to decide?" Thorne commented as his second point. He suggested that a pilot study should have been run.

Thorne's final point was one of accountability. "The passage of this bill would require a completely new method of administration. The method was not presented with the bill."

Vic Looper, chairman of LAAC, was present to defend the proposal. Looper contended that many of Thorne's questions have been studied before the bill was introduced. He added that although much of LAAC's considerations were not attached to the bill in the rational, a verbal explanation would be made when the bill is introduced to the University Council.

Despite the questions that Thorne raised, he assured students that the administration supported the bill.

Undergrad Report Implemented To Improve Academic Growth

by Barry Kirschen

To "make the learning experience of more value for students" at the University was the way Assistant Vice-P., ed for Academic Affairs Paul M. was described the purpose of four special task forces seeking to improve the draft system. D. O. Wilson Purnmutter's report on undergraduate education.

The task forces deal with an Experimental College, Academic Regulations, Instruction, and Academic Calendar. A major problem for these groups will be finding how the transition from small to large university can be performed smoothly.

The task forces each consist of ten members of which there are seven faculty and three students. The faculty members were chosen by President Collins while the students were appointed by Central Council.

The committees have been meeting regularly for several weeks, but are still in the organizational stage. It is hoped that their implementations will be published before the spring semester begins. It will take considerable time before the recommendations are put into effect.

Through the recommendations of Dean Perlmutter and the implementations of the task forces, the mechanism for change will be developed which will guide the University to twice its present size by 1975.

The Task Force on the "Academic Calendar" is headed by Professor Frank Kolmin. It will work towards finding what the best possible academic calendar will be for the expanded University.

The Task Force on the Anti-Draft group that his resistance is not of the "we won't go" type. He and an estimated 3000 others are resisting on the grounds that the draft system is wrong.

Professor Donald Van Cleve heads the committee on 'Institutions' which will deal with ways of making the instructional process more meaningful.

The faculty members were chosen by President Collins while the students were appointed by Central Council.

The Task Force on the "Experimental College" is led by Professor William Reese. It will probe the possibilities of a change in the academic structure. One possibility of this is a "General College" which will seek an interdisciplinary approval to a liberal education.

Professor Arthur Collins heads the group working on Academic Regulations, which is concerned with whether independent study and honor courses, among other things, should be expanded. The deanship is also under this group's jurisdiction.

Campus Chest Begins Fundraising Events

by Fran Dreherer

Campus Chest, an annual event at the University is happening this week. It takes the form of various activities on all parts of the campus.

Campus Chest, a fund-raising event, is sponsored by Special Events Board. Debbie Byron and Linda Bearden, the co-chairmen, have decided to donate the money to charities which are closely related to the students.

A large sum will be contributed to "The Project," which was started by the mental health newsletter two years ago, and New York State will match — contribution. Since many university students are employed in this program we are helping ourselves also.

The main source of money is the Telephone, a 24 hour variety show in the Campus Center Ballroom beginning at 7 pm Friday night. It features student, faculty and administration talent, and will be broadcast on WRGR-TV (channel 6), for 1/2 hour at 2:30 pm on Saturday afternoon. Admission to the Telephone is $1, covering the entire show.

Boosters will be on sale at 25 cents each in the lobby of Campus Center from ten to three daily. People wearing boosters will receive free coffee all week. On Wednesday between 11 and 12:30 there will be a Chinese Auction in the Snack Bar. In this type of auction runners will collect money for an unannounced period of time, and the last person to have bought the ticket will receive the merchandise.

Films are being shown all week in the flag rooms of the quadrangles. Last night "Phantom Planet" continued on page 2

Smith Resists Draft, Explains Reasoning

by Barbara Heyne

"It's been a long time since I've spoken to a favorable audience," said draft resister Brooks Smith, addressing a meeting of the SDS Anti-Draft Committee, November 17.

He made it clear to the Anti-Draft group that his resistance is not of the "we won't go" type. He and an estimated 3000 others are resisting on the grounds that the draft system is wrong.

Tuesday morning, Smith, a Latham student at the University of Chicago Divinity School, refused induction into the U.S. army at the Albany Federal Building. Students from the University and other area colleges have been demonstrating in front of the Federal Building since 8:30 a.m. in support of Smith.

The divinity student took his position against the draft after realizing that "the ideals of American democracy were a lie." Citing incidents such as Mississippi in 1964, he stated, "I believe in these ideals, but you run up against incidents in which these ideals are trampled upon."

In his travels Smith encountered people "who didn't want to talk or hear about the war. They didn't want to hear that those fine American ideals, which Ho Chi Minh saw fit to include in his constitution, were lies."

continued on page 3
was the largest turnout in the Although less than half the (UFT) membership voted, it United Federation of Teachers closed. open Tuesday. most of the city's 900 schools week-long dispute which kept public school teachers voted overwhelmingly Monday to accept an agreement ending a 10-day old strike. The turning point in Smith's attitude toward the draft resulted on rational grounds. “My quarrel is not with the U.S. military or with the policy of the U.S. The draft is critical if the U.S. is to play world peace role in the world we learn about in high school.” Smith faces a prison sentence of two to five years, and a possible fine of $10,000. He admitted to the audience that the prospect of going to jail “was most frightening; it scared the hell out of me.” But when I put my actions in context of students around the world, at Viet Nam or South Africa, any sacrifice I could make seemed trivial compared to those made in other countries.”
Major Cause Of Protest By Students Is Vietnam

A recent survey of more than 3,000 deans at the nation's colleges shows that Vietnam was the major cause of organized protest by college students during the 1967-68 academic year.

Dormitory rules, Civil Rights, and student participation in college government were, in that order, the next most frequently protested issues on the nation's campuses, according to the survey by the Educational Testing Service.

The BTS report also notes that organized groups demonstrating against most issues rarely made up more than ten percent of a college student body. Protesters against U.S. Government policy in Vietnam, for example, averaged about five percent of respective student bodies, according to the deans' estimates. Protests not organized in advance were not included in the findings.

By Students Is Vietnam

Deans reported student activism on campuses last year in 860 accredited four-year colleges and universities. Each dean was asked to note the extent of organized activity in the following categories: educational, social, and political involving the 1967-68 academic year.

38 percent of the deans reported Vietnam demonstrations on their campuses last year, 34 percent reported student protest over dormitory regulations, and 29 percent over local, off-campus campus issues.

Protests over greater student participation in the policy-making process was reported by 27 percent of the colleges. In one out of four colleges there were protests about the draft and about the presence of military recruiters. One out of four colleges noted demonstrations over governmental agency and industrial recruiters on campus.

In a survey in 1965, a similar group of deans was asked to provide the same information about many of the same issues. At the time, they reported that Civil Rights was the most frequent cause for student activism. Campus food ranked second, and Vietnam third. Vietnam, then, was cited by one out of five colleges as a cause of organized protest, compared to almost two out of five today.

A comparison of the results of both studies indicates that since 1965 three particular issues have triggered protests with increasing frequency. Organized discontent with dormitory rules was registered at 34 percent of the colleges, as compared to 28 percent in 1965. Student demands for a larger role in campus government increased from 19 to 27 percent. This past year racial matters, especially demands for studies of black culture, accounted for demonstrations in 18 percent of the schools. Three years ago, five percent of the deans reported student activism on this topic.

WHAT AM I BID? Campus Chest's Chinese Auction attempts to raise money for charity by auctioning off items.

Volunteers Needed for VITA Program

by Gale McAllister

The Volunteers for International Technical Assistance, VITA, will hold their fall conference Saturday, November 23 at Union College in Schenectady.

University students and faculty members are urged to attend this conference which will discuss how they can participate in VITA.

VITA is an organization made up of teachers, engineers, businessmen, students, and people from virtually all occupational fields who "offer their spare time for consultation on problems from the developing nations of the world.

Most of VITA's work is done through the mail. Members are Peace Corps members, and the people of the underdeveloped countries write to VITA for answers to their questions.

Questions range from problems with running water (the best and most economical way to build a bridge or irrigation system). Unlike the Peace Corps, VITA PROVIDES THE OPPORTUNITY FOR THE UNDERDEVELOPED WORLD, NOW, TO ASK ITS NEEDS.

All students and faculty members who are at all interested in VITA are invited to attend the conference, and find out more about the work VITA has done in helping the people in the developing nations of the world.

The conference will be held 10:00 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Saturday, November 23, at Union College. There will be no expenses except the cost of lunch.

Diana Ross

Tearfully Pleas For Equality

LONDON, UPI-Britain's royal family abandoned its traditional public review Monday, and wildly appluased and Negro singer Nina Simone took the stage to interrupt a royal variety performance to plea fearfully for racial harmony.

The slim dusky singer from Detroit had just finished singing a portion of the song "There's A Place For Us" from A WINTER'S STORY with her group The Supremes.

As the music faded, Miss Ross walked toward the center of the stage and began waving her hands in the air. She then sat down, grabbed a microphone and with her voice cracking with emotion, she said:

"There's a place for us. A place for all of us. Black and white, Jew and Gentile. It is a place for the American Protestant. So was the world of civil rights leader Martin Luther King and his ideal. If we keep this in mind, maybe we can make a difference."

There was stunned silence as Diana Ross, with tears running down her cheek, broke into the opening lines again of "There's A Place For Us."

A storm of applause erupted from the royal box and the rest of the audience and lasted two minutes.

Lord Snowdon, Princess Margaret's husband, leaned over the side of the flower-decked box, clapping. Princess Anne, Princess Elizabeth and her husband Prince Philip were on a South American tour, but the queen mother was in the box as was Prince Charles, Princess Anne, Margaret and other members of the royal family.

Education Conference Examines History

By Kevin McGarr

"Education and integration of Minority Groups" was the subject viewed by three educators participating in the Education Conference. Each discussed different periods in history.

Dr. Human Kuritz of the Education Foundations Dept., here at the University, spoke about "Education and the Poor in the Eighteenth Century."

Education of the poor was to perpetuate the poor, Kuritz said, as common laborers and29 percent reported protest over governmental issues, such as Civil Rights, was found.

Mr. David Seeley, of Metropolitan Applied Research Center, offered a pessimistic view of the effectiveness of the efforts to promote desegregation.

He cited low reading scores of many urban youth as being caused by increased segregation due to busing.

A third part of the program was brought by Brooks Smith, draft resister from the Divinity School of the University of Chicago who will refuse induction today for the second time. Smith received a standing ovation.

SUNYA's FIRST Science Fiction/Fantasy Magazine

What's NEW In TRAVEL?

Complete Travel Reservations

Foreign & Domestic

Land Sea Air

For Information 459-9010

American Travel

Thruway Motor Inn, Washington Ave.
Communications

Confusions
To the Editor:
I should like to clear up a few confusions left by the article covering the meeting to support Mexican and Latin American Independence, published in the ASP for Oct. 31 (ASP, Fri., Nov. 1).
First, the meeting was sponsored by the Young Socialist Alliance; it was not a meeting of the YSA. We meet Sundays at 7:30 p.m. and not all of those who come then are YSAers or intend to join. Second, the article implied that the SUNYA students who spoke were both YSAers. Miss Judy Bank not only is not a YSAer, but to my knowledge she has no intention of joining. She is a serious political independent who supports the Mexican student movement, and it was solely on that basis that she agreed to speak. We respect Miss Bank's independence.
Third, the feature speaker, St. Fiorenco Merced, received very little attention in the article. He is a leader of FUPY, Federation of Puerto Rican University Students for Independence, the student wing of MPI (Movement for Puerto Rican Independence), and will stand trial Nov. 12, along with 84 other Puerto Rican students, for refusing induction into the U.S. Army. Best wishes for greater accuracy in reporting.
Sincerely,
Carol Anne French
TSA Organizer

GDI's Respond
To the Editor:
This is an Independent Shout in response to the Greek Echo of Nov. 8. Who are Mr. Soja and Miss Betaglino kidding? Their column tops any propaganda put out by the Communists in the last 20 years.
What are the Greeks really doing? What is it they mean? Homecoming and the Scholarship Cup do indeed reflect Greek spirit.
For example, consider float "pig". Is it true that Greeks plowed under if they don't march, with spirit, behind their float(s)? Is it true that Greeks are compelled to work a minimum number of hours on Greek week, or suffer these consequences?
It was good of Mr. Soja and Miss Betaglino to acknowledge the presence of independent float(s) in the parade. These were constructed willingly, without fines or punishment, by many Independents who can't be readily distinguished as they don't all dress, think, and act in the same way to impress each other.
Congratulations to the Greeks for winning the Scholarship Cup every year; after all, who else is eligible?
Greek spirit is truly an awe-full thing. However, we guess this has slipped a very sizable number of Junior and Senior Greek minds as many "Spiritual" Greeks have gone inactive.
The words spirit and Greek-s are not synonyms. Independents also have spirit. (Who won Holiday Sing last year?)
Are all campus organizations made up of only Greeks?
Greek organizations have many good points, but we Independents are not a misable, sneering minority. The backbone of this campus is made up of unique Independents who think for themselves and enjoy each other.
Respectfully from some God-Dammed Independents,
Kathleen Bartnick
Elizabeth Henry
Suan Allen
Linda Miller
Patricia D'Agostino

Stony Tax
To the Editor:
Since I have had occasion to read a letter in the ASP concerning "Tax Questions," and I was particularly interested in the comparison of entertainment with SUNY and the Brook. As a student at Stony Brook, please allow me to shed a bit of light on the shrouded myth of our wonderful position.
First, there are at Stony Brook, the 457-2190 or 457-2194. The ASP was established by the Class of 1918.
All communications must be addressed to the editor and must be signed. Communications should be limited to 500 words and are subject to editing. The Albany Student Press assumes no responsibility for opinions expressed in its columns and communications as such expressions do not necessarily reflect its views. Funded by SA tax.
Mexico to secure peace. While Mexico City in his bombproof driving through downtown praise), imprisoned him and Nixon was sent to incite demanded that the US admit that cabled 'Don't worry Dick stop if you've seen one jail you've seen alike stop signed President remedy the pressing problem of Building: and President (Duncan called an emergency session to getting back Nixon. The session his proposal to use the bomb on Mexico if they didn't give Nixon Doughnut) Nixon called the country is goin' to push us LAAC. Walt Dougherty pointed these and other questons as Mr. considered members of Central Council immediately called an emergency session to the pressuring problem of getting back Nixon. The session concerns on the stage in the Theatre Building and President (Duncan proposed the meeting to order. Bob Yafman opened the session by presenting his proposal to use the bomb on Mexico if they didn't give Nixon back.

He stated "No forty-third rate country is going to push us around. "Wait," screamed Jim Cahn's. "We are not just a two hour debate on what a Mr. Do. dim, that. since this is a central question, Q. Can you explain Nixon's proposal to take direct action against the Mexicans (not to mention President Nixon) won't the University go through Religious Affairs Commission." The interjecting voice interjected that since Nixon was living in a jail, the matter of the University's presence for LAAC. Walt Dougherty pointed out that since Mexico did not have the power to impeach for im prestoning Presidents, we could simply freeze its budget for violating finance policy.

Whereupon Jim Cahn's pointed out that Policy does not state that we can freeze budget for any specific reasons outlined in the policy; but Linda Bird counteracted that there was no provision in this action since Drama Council has its own fund as spending money on socket testers in violation of its budget which did not include funds for socket testers.

"Point of Information" cried Jim Lossigh, "what is a socket tester?" The Dougherty opened the question to the floor and after a two hour debate on what a for themselves huge salaries from peripheral consultantships, and merchandising companies,' etc. It is the University which is the society. not to forget that we can look in the University product (like Mr. Ridgeway) which has given us the shorthand revolutionary slogans like the "Establishment." It is the University which is the creator of the arts; creator of civil rights, international law, this is our society from social welfare to the living theatre. It is the University which is the protector of the arts, creator of civil rights, sociologic, and political, in the highest sense. Nixon relinquished his hold on New York, Michigan, Pennsylvania, and Maryland.

I do not disagree that workers are hungry participants in the Great Revolution; Rochester manages a living theatre. for themselves huge salaries from peripheral consultantships, and merchandising companies,' etc. It is the University which is the society. not to forget that we can look in the University product (like Mr. Ridgeway) which has given us the shorthand revolutionary slogans like the "Establishment." It is the University which is the creator of the arts; creator of civil rights, international law, this is our society from social welfare to the living theatre. It is the University which is the protector of the arts, creator of civil rights, sociologic, and political, in the highest sense. Nixon relinquished his hold on New York, Michigan, Pennsylvania, and Maryland.

I do not disagree that workers are hungry participants in the Great Revolution; Rochester manages a living theatre. for themselves huge salaries from peripheral consultantships, and merchandising companies,' etc. It is the University which is the society. not to forget that we can look in the University product (like Mr. Ridgeway) which has given us the shorthand revolutionary slogans like the "Establishment." It is the University which is the creator of the arts; creator of civil rights, international law, this is our society from social welfare to the living theatre. It is the University which is the protector of the arts, creator of civil rights, sociologic, and political, in the highest sense. Nixon relinquished his hold on New York, Michigan, Pennsylvania, and Maryland.

I do not disagree that workers are hungry participants in the Great Revolution; Rochester manages a living theatre. for themselves huge salaries from peripheral consultantships, and merchandising companies,' etc. It is the University which is the society. not to forget that we can look in the University product (like Mr. Ridgeway) which has given us the shorthand revolutionary slogans like the "Establishment." It is the University which is the creator of the arts; creator of civil rights, international law, this is our society from social welfare to the living theatre. It is the University which is the protector of the arts, creator of civil rights, sociologic, and political, in the highest sense. Nixon relinquished his hold on New York, Michigan, Pennsylvania, and Maryland.
THE UNION GAP gave a disappointing performance on Friday night

University Band Concert

Page Hall will be the scene of the University Concert Band's Annual Concert on November 22. At 8:00 p.m., William Hudson, associate professor of Music, will begin the program by conducting "Chorale" by Vaclav Neblehy. This piece is based on a medieval Bohemian chant expressing St. Wenceslas, the first King of Bohemia, to save his people from the plague. For centuries it has been sung by the Bohemians in times of war and danger. The beginning of the "Chorale" creates a foreboding atmosphere which develops into a human drama of war and peace. Neblehy combined modern sound with Middle Age and early Renaissance techniques to produce an ancient theme which would appeal to modern audiences.

Mr. Burmeister’s work, "Il maciste e Danza", is divided into two sections. The first section, Ilmaciste, is a quiet mysterious suggestion of a primitive dance. The second section symbolizes the dance of the spirits.

Next on the program is "Espana Rhapsoody," based on one of Spain’s best-known major works, "Espana." Its exotic sounds are produced by wind instruments and dance rhythms.

Second Suite for Military Band in F by Gustav Holtz consists of four parts: March, Song without Words, Song of the Blacksmith, and Fantasia on the "Dreams." The four completely different atmospheres produced by these sections provide a very interesting contrast.

The featured soloist of the evening will be Irving G. Gillman, flutist, a graduate of Oberlin Conservatory of Music. He was a faculty member of the Manhattan School of Music, the University of Michigan, and Wayne State University, and performed with the Detroit Symphony Band for 12 years before joining the staff of Albany’s Music Department. He is a well-known writer and author of "Smashing Sollopity" by Kent Kennam, accompanied by the band.

Notice

The Duel of Sexes, an arrangement of favorite tunes from the works of George Bernard Shaw, will be presented by the University Readers on Saturday, November 20 at 7:30 p.m., and Sunday, November 24 at 5:00 p.m. The production will be staged at Richard 291, the student theater on the downtown campus.

Judy Collins, Union Gap Give Mediocre Performance

by Alan Lanker

The Council for Contemporary Music presented Judy Collins and Gary Puckett and the Union Gap in the Student Union Assembly Hall at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, November 12, 1968.

The long awaited evening began with "Night Camp," a popular song written and arranged by Paul Simon. This song was well received by the audience.

The production will be presented by the University Band and the University Chorus. The program will include works of George Bernard Shaw, American premiere in 1962 was scheduled for the University Theatre.

Performances of this play are directed by Paul Bruce Pettit for the University Theatre. It is scheduled for the University Theatre. It is scheduled for the University Theatre.

Auditions For Fairy Tales In NY

Auditions for the State University Theatre's second major production, FAIRY TALES OF NEW YORK, will be held Wednesday, November 20 and Thursday, November 21 at 8:30 p.m. in Page Hall. Directed by Patsy Bruce Pettit, Chairman of the Department of Speech and Dramatic Art, FAIRY TALES OF NEW YORK, by J.P. Donleavy, is a comic and satirical play which successfully captures the essence of the American ethic. J.P. Donleavy, author of the widely acclaimed novel, THE GRINGO, is Europe's foremost controversial writer in the avant garde.

FAIRY TALES OF NEW YORK, was first performed in 1962 and won for its author the Most Promising Playwright Award of the Evening Standard. The American premiere in 1962 was directed by Paul Bruce Pettit for the University Theatre.

Performances of this play are scheduled for March 12 to 16, 1969. On April 15, 1969 the play will again be performed as part of the Dedication of the University Performing Arts Center.

Auditions are open to all university students November 20 and 21 in Page Hall. Call back auditions will be November 23.

Fourth Annual Thanksgiving Festival

The enclosed invitation was sent to all top performers, would not have been anyone good. Neither Miss Collins nor "The Union Gap", who are top performers, would have been able to perform from this performance at State.

Fourth Annual Thanksgiving Festival

Dr. Robert Morris, Dean Q The University College Will Speak On 'Change And The University- What Do We Have To Be Thankful For?'

Readers Club

Selections For Thanksgiving.

Sun. Nov. 24 3:30PM

C campus Center Assembly Hall

Everyone is Welcome

Sponsored By The Commission For Religious Affairs.
Communications Continued From Page 4

are playing here this year, but that event is sponsored by the Junior Class and tickets (a sure sellout) will go for five dollars apiece. Surely the Junior Class, or any other class, at Albany can work the same deal at a definitive profit.

Beautiful, isn't it? But what about the poor schlemiel who couldn't car less about concerts but winds up paying his fee so that someone else can see them? And what about the eight or nine hundred students who way down deep inside really groove on Don Gardner and the Falcons or Shep Woolly and the Undertakers but who have no say in the throwing around of their money? Or what about the thousands of dollars spent to obtain six of the best groups in the country to keep students on campus during the three day moratorium?

Most surely our position will change next year. But meanwhile, students in Albany should not forget that the school was built for them. If you don't like the way Tax is being handled, open your mouth and tell somebody upstairs. Then somebody upstairs will have to ask the rest of the students, and if he doesn't do it, you do it.

If you can present a list of a few thousand names of people agreeing with you, you can press for a system like ours if you like it, or any other feasible system. So if you want Janis Joplin instead of Don Gardner, and so do three thousand other people, make your plea known to people who count.

Best Wishes,
Lee Gruenfeld
Stony Brook, N.Y.

Equal opportunity employer.

We happen to be involved in one of the fastest growing fields in the world.
Communications.
And because we also happen to be growing right along with it, we need people who can think for themselves when they are handed responsibility, not become confused by it.

Individuals. The kind of people to whom a challenge is a goad, not an excus-

We won't be content to just sit around until they get a gold watch and a pension.
There's a lot to be done. Interesting, provocative work for almost every kind of engineer and scientist.

For example, in our Applied Research Laboratory, the newest sectors of theoretical and applied research in the areas of mathematics, physics, computer systems, electro-optics, information systems, and operations studies are explored.

Whether you lean toward designing electronic switching systems for our telephone companies or the development of electroluminescent devices for Sylvania, we think we have a place for you.

On one condition.
That there are no strings attached.

General Telephone & Electronics

Puppets we don't need.
The winter sports season is about to begin at Albany State. On the varsity level, it appears as if both the basketball and the wrestling teams will be suffering. The freshman teams, although it is always difficult to predict how well they will do, again look as if they may be hurt by lack of participation.

The Great Danes basketball squad has been beset by a number of misfortunes. Stifled by one of the top substitutes last year, and expected to make a valuable contribution to this year’s squad, is no longer in attendance at this school. Bob Wood, who was sidelined last year with a virus infection, dropped out of school midway through this semester. Wood, although there was a question of whether or not he would be given permission by the doctors to play this year, certainly would have been an important performer if he had participated. A third setback suffered by the team was the development of calcium deposits on Scott Price’s ankle. Without Price in the lineup, the team will be woefully lacking for rebounders.

I would surmise that while the hoopsters will probably still have a winning record, it doesn’t seem feasible that they will be able to secure the NCAA bid which they barely missed last year.

The varsity wrestling squad is extremely short of wrestlers this year. While they have a good set of wrestlers in the lower weight classes, there is only one man on the squad over 152 pounds. As a result of such a large shortage of weight, the team will be able to win only if they capture each of the lower weight classes to stand a chance of winning.

The freshman wrestling squad is suffering from the same lack of participation. At present, they have only a sprinkling of the projected wrestlers taking part in the workouts.

The fresh basketball squad does not appear to have the same trouble as they have more than enough ball players out for the squad. It would seem that the freshman team may well have an outstanding squad as they have a multitude of talent to choose from.

It remains to be seen whether or not the wrestlers will be able to salvage a representative showing and whether or not the basketball squad will be able to maintain their winning ways despite the loss of talent.

AMIA also promises some interesting developments as League I competition promises to be particularly stiff this year. APA, who won the Commissioners Cup last year, has their whole team back and in three-way scrimmage against and are still enrolled

SUNYA Wrestling Squad Opens Informal Season Against Union

Last Friday, the Albany State wrestling squad unofficially opened the season with a three-way scrimmage against and Technical College and Union College.

In Coach Joe Garcia’s words, “I was very impressed with out performance and with just a little more strength of numbers we can win any given match.”

Those who were most impressed in the initial encounter were Seth Ceely, a 123 pound transfer from Fulton-Montgomery Community College, Pete Hannah and Kevin Sheahan at 130 pounds, Bobby Kind, a 137 pound transfer student from Orange County Community College in Middletown, and Craig Springer at 152 pounds.

In addition, two happy and unexpected surprises were the showings of John Howland and John Ferlins. Both are novices and are once more in the process of taking shape with the close of the football season.

AMIA basketball league close as of Tuesday, Nov. 21.

As a result of two possible strong teams playing AMIA basketball are not eligible for volleyball.

SATURDAY, DEC. 28 @ 1 p.m - 10 pm
Jesse Feliciano - Country Joe and the Fish • Buffy Sainte Marie • Chuck Berry • The Infinite McCovey • John Mayall’s Bluesbreakers • Booker T. and the MG’s • DinoValente • Fleetwood Mac

SUNDAY, DEC. 29 @ 1 p.m - 10 pm
Steve Winwood • Jerry Garcia • The All Stars • Butterfield Band • Robert Plant and Scramblers • Marvin Gaye • Jons Mitchell • The Rutones • Richie Havens • James Cotton Blues Band • H. P. Lovestory

MONDAY, DEC. 30 @ 1 p.m - 10 p.m
First Impressions: Making Celtic Rhythms; The Sine Traded States; Hundreds of Arts and Crafts Displayed; The Red Queen: Wonderland Murders; Blue Meanies on Parade; Things to Buy and Eat; 20 Hours of Hidden Surprises in Beautiful Gardens; World’s First Electronic Skydivers; Shintophores; Balloons; Kaleidoscopic Elephants