"A report of the State Civil ice Employees Association, urged only about 55 per cent of the civil service employees of the State are recruited on the basis of competitive tests. Out of some 59,000 civil service employees, a little more than 32,000 have qualified in competitive tests. There is a constant tendency to exempt jobs from competition and to increase the number of provisional appointments. Everyone knows that indiscriminate exemptions and provisional appointments are forbidden by law and that they constitute political patronage with all of its evils and lowering of standards of service to the people.

Equality of Salary Sought By Women Guard

employed by the State to guard women prisoners of the State at Albion and at Westfield, will renew their plea to the State Salary Board that they be paid the same salaries as those paid to the men who guard men prisoners of the State.

The case of obvious discrimina-tion against the women guards is well stated by Mrs. Alice Wagner, President of the Albion Chapter of the Civil Service Employees As-of the Civil Service Employees Association. Mrs. Wagner states:

"A brief prepared by women Guards and presented by a committee of women Guards at a earing of the Salary Board in June 1946, gave a complete and concise statement of conditions and the reasons we consider our work on a part with that done by men caring for male prisoners in the prisons for men in New York State.

"The women Guards at Albion and Westfield total about 85. The cost of salary reallocation would therefore not be prohibitive.

"It is claimed by some that women caring for female criminals do not do work equal to men caring for male prisoners. I do not see how any person who knows anything concerning female criminals can believe that. A crime committed is just as serious whether perpetrated by a man or whether perpetrated by a man or a woman. A person is no less dead when murdered by a woman than by a man. # Tolman Asks Exam for Prison Guards

ALBANY, Dec. 22-Dr. Frank L. Tolman, President of The Civil Service Employees Association, has asked the State Civil Service Department to schedule an examination for Prison Guard and to establish an eligible list. Dr. Tolman's letter to Commission President J. Edward Conway follows:

"We understand that the eligible list for Prison Guard expired some time ago. We understand also that upon such expiration a request was made by the Depart-

"Long lapses between time of need for personnel to maintain essential services and the establishment of lists of eligible candidates necessitates employment of workers on a temporary basis. This is undesirable from the standpoint of quality service in all positions and particularly undesirable in positions such as Prison Guard. It also results in infiltration of the civil service by political and other pressures injurious to

Fletcher Hails Motor Vehicle Christmas Party

Special to The LEADER

ALBANY, Dec. 22.—The Motor Vehicle Bureau Chapter of The Civil Service Employees Association held its first annual Christ-mas dinner at Herbert's Restaurant. John Collins, Chapter President, acted as master of cere-monies. Commissioner Clifford J. Fletcher welcomed the employees and their guests and said the party was the largest and most enjoyable one his employees ever

In addressing the gathering, Laurence J. Hollister, Field Repre-sentative of the Association, said: "I wish I knew the answer to the $64 question that all State employees are asking the Associa-tion: How much is Santa Claus Dewey going to give State employees in the way of a cost of living increase? I would like to report that Dr. Tolman is having conferences with Governor Dewey's committee and that the Association is putting forth every effort to obtain the largest percentage of increase that is possible. I am very happy to represent the Association to a large and aggressive Chapter such as yours. From Dr. Tolman and the Association staff I bring best holiday wishes."

Matthew W. Fitzgerald, Vice-president of the Chapter, acted as chairman of the Entertainment Committee. Other members of the committee were Rose An-nechino, Mary Wilson, Anne Erickson, Maurice Frommer, Harriet Cady, Dorothy Ikler, Grace Man-ning, Rose Holland, Christinia Podmijersky, Grace Mack, Camille Rinaldi, Mary Conkey, Frank Crystal, Jennie Stone, Mildred Rodriguez, Ralph Dillon, Mabel Osgood, James Corrigan, Ethel Daniels, Bertha Warshaw and Mary Keefe.

Howard Lout acted as Santa Claus and distributed the gifts. Entertainment was furnished by Victor F. Vaness and Mina Dolgoff, pianists; Harold Callagan and Matty Fitzgerald, duet; Harold Hart, banjo; Joe Orsamski, Mary Keefe and Dorothy Wheeler, singers.

Franklin County Enters State Retirement Fund

ALBANY, Dec. 22 - The employees of Franklin County will become members of the State Retirement System. The County Board of Supervisors last week voted to include employees under the system by a vote of 17 to 2 The action came after Charles Culyer, representing The Civil Service Employees Association, had addressed the Board and requested favorable action on behalf of the 110 county employees who are members of the Association. The Franklin County group is under the leadership of Alvin J. McKee, Probation Officer.

Only one county now remains outside the retirement system— St. Lawrence, The political setup there is changing, and it is an-ticipated that St. Lawrence will also in the near future agree to extend retirement privileges for its employees.

SCROOGE AND THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

R. SCROOGE represents the hard-headed and hardhearted business man. He was of course, an Englishman. According to immigration records, we do not have any of his ancient and honorable family in America, but let us just suppose that Mr. Scrooge emigrated to the land of the free and looked around for a career in one of our states. Suppose he was psychoanalyzed and offered guidance as to his chances in our business world.

He would no doubt be told he would be a "good" fiscal expert either in business or in government. He would rule the employees with an iron hand and would stand for no nonsense. His budget would balance at the beginning of each fiscal year and realize a fat unexpended surplus at the end of each year.

As to the taxpapers or customers, the Scrooge attitude is mixed. He would no doubt enjoy soaking the tax-Perhaps he would indulge his yen by doing so, and put the proceeds into expensive monuments of himself in great buildings, and roads or in the bank as re-

What the Ghost Would See

Perhaps he would, with reluctance, consider citizens merely as dupes to be charged for public services which he refused or neglected to extend to them.

If the ghost of a former fiscal expert who repented of his sins visited Fiscal Expert Scrooge, what would he show

A school in the country where children were deprived of equal opportunity because of insufficient support? Great cities crippled and in financial distress for the same reason.

Inadequate reward or respect for civil employees? Retired career employees existing often on less than a pension of $1,000 a year? Disregard and often contempt of the law?

Unorganized laborers working long hours at substandard wages?

Lines in front of credit unions trying to borrow to buy small trinkets for the kids?

Would the famous transformation work for Fiscal Expert Scrooge? Would he realize that what he deals with is not dollars and cents but tens of thousands of employees and millions of citizens served by these thousands? Would he seek first the kingdom of heaven and do justly by all men? Would he remember the words of Jesus—"The poor ye have with you always and whensoever ye will ye can do them good?"

In the foregoing there is no reference to any actual fiscal expert either in Europe or America. The meaning is that this would be a fine world indeed if the Yule-tide Spirit ruled the State and the world.

Conserving Photo Paper Wins Award

ALBANY, Dec. 22 — During World War II one military leader stated that the high degree of mechanical ability possessed by American boys was of inestimable importance in the war effort. The G.I. could be depended upon to keep the planes, tanks, jeeps, radar and myriad other technical devices Stephen Seaman, Jack McDowell, Joseph Urbanik, Michael Narr, provise and repair, Using whatever Joseph Maher, Nicholas D'Onofrio materials were at hand, he wired materials were at hand, he wired up, patched and tinkered, but somehow made the contraption

An outstanding example of such native ingenuity was recently demonstrated by John D. Healey, an employee of the N. Y. State Department of State, Albany. Working evenings and on his own institution has republiked as phetested. machine with parts from other equipment, entailing no expense whatever for materials. The work involved adapting and fitting certain mechanical devices as well, as re-focusing the camera. As a result, the automatic feature thus instituted will save considerable operator time and speed up processing of prints by an estimated 30 per cent. In addition, one hun-dred rolls of photostat paper will be conserved per year, having an approximate value of $1,800. The paper economy is of especial importance in view of the extreme shortage of paper.

Mr. Healey was granted a cash award of $50 and a Certificate of Meritorious Service by the State Employees Merit Award Board in recognition of his initiative and accomplishment.

Clifford C. Shoro, Chairman of the Board, is planning to hold daily meetings to pass upon the hundreds of suggestions submitted through the Employees' Suggestion Program.

Senate Action Seen In Jan. on Pensions

It is expected that the proposed amendments to the U.S. Civil Service Retirement Act, as con-tained in the House bill, HR-4127 will come up for the action of the Senate in January, said Ephraim Handman, President of the New York Federation of Post Office Clerks, who has just re-turned from a recent visit to Washington where he called upon legislators and others in connec-tion with the proposed retirement

Mr. Handman points out that the changes outlined in HR-4127 leave much to be desired in satisfactory retirement legislation. However, he claims that it will be the policy of the National Federation of Post Office Clerks to seek immediate passage of HR-4127 by the Senate, if possible, with the following amendments:

(1) Annuities for minor dependents of widows:

(2) retirement dents of widows; (2) retirement for less than 30 years of service.

Fisher Award for '47 Renews Double Honor

FOR the third time, a winner of the annual Harold J. Fisher Memorial Award received his citation. Since its establishment by the Civil Service LEADER three years ago, this award has grown in prestige and importance until today it is one of the really outstanding activities in civil service.

The award was set up by The LEADER to honor the memory of one of the most beloved men in the State service, Harold J. Fisher, who died in 1944 while working heroically for the employees of the State. As President of The Association of State Civil Service Employees, he performed yeoman service for improving their conditions, created a fine rapport between employees and management and showed marked leadership in achieving gains for the merit system. As an employee of the State, in the State Department, he created a magnificent record of intelligent, imaginative work.

The award set up upon his death had for its goal the discovery of those employees who best exemplify the ideals which meant so much to Harold J. Fisher-those who have done most for the improvement of State service, who best exemplify the meaning of merit in public service.

This year's winner of the silver cup, William E. Hannan, and the five runners-up who receive gold medals of merit, stack up high. Harold J. Fisher, were he alive, would have congratulated the winners with enthusiasm and respect. For him, The LEADER extends the honor, and it hopes that his works and character, and those of the present and preceding cup winners, will be widely emulated.

Each year the Fisher award pays renewed reverence to his exalted memory and honors his successors in brilliant service to the State. It is thus twice blessed.

The LEADER adds its congratulations to the many that have poured in on Mr. Hannan and also commends the five runners-up who were awarded gold Medals of Merit—Francis X. Disney, Charles J. Finnick, Martin P. Lanahan, Jr., Harry C. Smith and George-J. Syrett.

Who Cuts Salaries? Board Report Gives Reply

The Board, which per of Civil Service removes supposedly consists of technical experts who know all the stuff about salaries and cost of living, acts as though it in State office Bldg., Albany. knows little except how to make a schedule look pretty on paper. How far the Board went is evidenced by the fact that the Budget Director felt it necessary to veto 15 out of their 21 cuts.

Let's put it bluntly. To this paper, the action of cutting wages in an inflationary time like the present looks like sheer irresponsibility.

The citizens of New York State don't have to take this. Something will have to be done about the Salary Standardization Board.

The salary increase for State employees will "satisfy them," said a State official close to Governor Dewey. The infor-mation was given evidently to discount newspaper reports of a pittance raise. What the raise will be, and how applied, haven't been decided yet. Soon after the plan is decided on, the Governor probably will release the news at a press con-ference. He's been holding ference. # HISTORY OF CHAPTERS

IV-Agriculture and Markets, Albany

The formation of the Depart- movers in the formation of the ment of Agriculture and Markets Albany Chapter of The Civil Service Employees Association was prompted by the reports in The Civil Service LEADER of the various chapters being established by other departments and branches of the service. The employees of the Department decided that they, too, should have a chapter and thus keep in closer touch with their State organization. Thus the chapter was organized and held its first meeting on July 1 of this year, at which much enthusiasm and interest were manifest. The spirit was "Why naven't we done this before?" and with this as a start, the chapter should be a success.

Since our chapter is still in its infancy, it has no special accomplishments to its credit but has many plans for the future. It held a Halloween party at the Veteras of Foreign Wars Post rooms in Albany.

Ours is a large department and there is no better way in which to bring together the employees than in social contacts.

Interest Spread Out

In appointing the Executive Committee, President Foster Potter selected a representative of each bureau of the Department, so as to spread interest in the chapter throughout the offices; also in appointing the other committees he endeavored to have as broad a coverage of the Depart-ment as possible. Thus the in-terest and activity in the chapter is general, not confined to a small group, making for a stronger and better organization.

The delegates appointed at the first meeting attended the State meeting on October 6 and 7, and prought back to the bers a report on the principal issues acted upon at the meeting.

Mr. Potter is in charge of public relations in the Department, and the members feel that no better choice of a leader could have been made. He is energetic, enthusiastic and inspiring and has infused in his committees his enthusiasm and energy, with the department chapter. SUFFOLK—The steering Committee for the Suffolk County Chapter completed the Constitupeared before the Salary Standardization Board recently to argue that their present pay schedules are too low and should be revised sharply upward. With them appeared John E. Holtmann and William F. McDonough, Executive Representative of the Association.

The Civil Service Employees' Association, and William F. McDonough, Executive Representative of the Association.

The Salary Board asked whether a patrolman in a State institution and By-laws for the Chapter and nominated a slate of officers. The general membership meeting for election of officers was held at Riverhead on December 17. Nominees and officers included Frank J. Bianca, Department of Public Welfare, President; William J. Burns, Health Department, 1st Vice-president; A. F. Becan, Public Welfare, 3d Vice-president; A. F. Becan, Public Welfare, 3d Vice-president; L. F. Becan, Public Welfare, 3d Vice-president L. F. Becan, Public Welfare, 3d Vice-president L. F. Becan, Public Welfare Times Square police officer, and both salaries are much higher than that of the state patrolman and policeman. Another interesting fact brought out by the hearing was that while the specificatins for patrolmen and policemen are the same, the patrolmen rank one grade higher at the present time.

iam J. Burns, Hearing list Vice-president; Beth O'Donnell, Probation Department, 2nd Vice-president; A. F. Becan, Public Welfare, 3d Vice-president; L. A. Walker, School Custodian, 4th Vice-president; Robert Rubino, Public Welfare, Secretary; Henry Ruland, Treasurer's office, Treasurer; Russell Griffin, County Highway Department, Sergeant-atway Department, Sergeant-at-arms. Nominations for the Chap-ter representative on the County Executive Committee of the State Association and delegates repre-senting the Chapter at meetings of the Association will be accepted on the floor, together with any independent nominations for of-

The five County employee members of the steering group accept-ed appointment to a Salary Committee for recommending adjustments in county civil service salaries, which members said have become grossly inadequate because of tremendous increase in living costs since the pre-war period.

WANTAGH—At a regular meet-ing of the Long Island State Park commission Chapter of the Civil Service Employees' Association, George Seims presiding, a resolution was passed requesting all members to write their Assemblymen, requesting them to support any legislation bringing all State employees' salaries up to the presemployees' salaries up to the pres-ent high cost of living levels, or as near as possible to the 1939 purchasing power.

Post Office Jobs To Be Steady

Eleven hundred substitute Letter Carriers, Clerks and Mail Handlers in the New York Post Office will be given permanent appoint-ments effective January 1, Postmaster Albert Goldman announced. An equal number of substitutes will be appointed to replace these

The total includes 100 Carrier appointments, 600 Clerks, and 400 Mail Handlers. Postmaster Goldman made the announcement in the presence of Abraham C. Shapiro, President of Empire Branch 26 National Association of Letter 36, National Association of Letter Carriers; Andrew T. Walker, President of Branch 1, United Na-tional Association of Post Office Clerks; Ephraim Handman, President of the New York Chapter, National Federation of Post Office Clerks, and William J. # Vets' Queries on Jobs Are Answered by U.S.

Following is another in the series of questions and answers for veterans interested in a Federal Civil Service career, All material is prepared by the U.S. Civil Service Commission. Q. To whom should a returning veteran apply for re-employment?

A. To the personnel officer of his former agency. The application should be in writing, but need not be in any particular form.

Q. To what position is a veteran entitled to be restored if his for-mer position has been reallocated to another grade?

A. If his position was reallocated to a higher grade without sub-stantial change in duties and responsibilities, he is entitled to all the benefits of the reallocation.

All his position was reallocated o a lower grade without substantial change in duties and responsibilities, his mandatory right is to that position alone. However, that position alone. However, the Commission has urged agencies, in such cases, to assign the veteran to an appropriate position comparable in seniority, status and pay with the position he left, if such a position is available.

Q. May a veteran be restored to a position of higher grade than the one he left to enter the armed

A. Yes. The veteran's manda-tory restoration right is limited to his former position, or to one of like seniority, status and pay, but if a higher-grade position is available for which the veteran is qualified, the agency, if it is desires, may restore him to such position. In such cases, the veteran retains his right to hold the position for 1 year, unless he is discharged for cause. If others who were employed in the establishment with the veteran have been promoted during his absence, that fact does not cause the vet-eran to be legally entitled to restoration to a position of higher grade than the one he left.

Q. May a veteran be restored to duty in a civilian Government civilian or military service—let's position while he is on paid terminal leave from active military or naval service?

A. Yes, at the option of his em-ploying agency, if he presents a statement from his military or naval organization showing that upon the expiration of his term-inal leave, he will be entitled to a certificate of honorable dis-charge, or a certificate of satis-factory service. In order to retain the position to which he was re-stored, he must submit the cer-tificate as soon as his terminal leave has expired.

LOYALTY RULES DUE SOON

New Pension Bill Discussed by Rossell

final instalment of James E. Ros- for the highest 5 consecutive year sell's pension discussion. The first it might be to his advantage to instalment appeared last week, make the deposit, but this could issue of December 16.

By JAMES E. ROSSELL Director, Second U.S. Civil Service Region

Most Federal employees familiar with Plans I, II and III of the present law. Under Plan III the best any annuitant can get today is half of his best average salary for five years, provided he has had 35 years' service. If he has had less than 35 years' service his annuity retirement will be decreased by 1/35th for every year under that. Under the new plan persons receiving $5,000 and plan persons receiving $5,000 and over may take 1½ per cent of their average annual basic salary for any five consecutive years and multiply by the number of years' service. For example, a person making an average salary of $6,000 a year for five years would get $90 as his 1½ per cent and if he had 25 years' service he would retire at $2.250 a year. Under the retire at $2,250 a year. Under the plan for persons with an average salary of less than $5,000 it is figured at one per cent of total salary plus $25 a year. Thus a prospective annuitant making $4,-000 per year would have $40.00 as his one per cent plus $25.00 or $65.00 as his factor. This multi-plied by 25 (number of years' service) would give an annual retirement income of $1,625.

One contentious item that has been eliminated is the tontine deduction. That old dollar a month is out of the new bill. All of the one dollars per month that have been taken away from you all these years will be given back to

Some of you may wish to know about the purchase of past service. Under the present law if you have creditable service for which no deductions have been taken from your past salary, you may make deposits plus accumulated interest on them. This is at the rate of four per cent per annum compounded annually. If you let it go long enough you will have to pay in double. Under these new bills you have the same privilege of deposit for past service, without interest.

There is one subject, that of crediting military service, which is not very well understood and which is not set forth in any of the general informational material we now have for distribution. Recently the Chief of our Retirement Division, Warren B. Irons, furnished a digest which should be most helpful to all of us. In order to get a working knowledge of how to handle credit for military service it should be separated into two types. One type is that performed during the Second World War and the emergency period immediately before it, provided the employee was carried on leave from his civilian position. The other type includes all other military service.

Let's take up the first type. As you know, the majority of our men in the Federal service who served their country during the last war period were carried on leave from their civilian positions. It is important, therefore, that the manner of crediting this leave the manner of crediting this leave follow. It is important, therefore, that the manner of crediting this leave be well understood. This type of service is creditable either either as civilian or military service. If the employee decides to have it credited as civilian service (and this is probably the way it will be credited in the majority of cases) it is counted in full, both for time and annuity, without any contribution to the retirement fund. In other words it is counted exactly the same as though the employee had remained in his civilian position, except that it doesn't cost him a cent. He may, however, have it counted as military service by making the regular service credit deposit to the retirement fund, but obviously it would be foolish to do this unless there were some advantage gained. The only advantage would be in con-

be told only at time of retiremen

Now we come to the secon type, the kind that is entirely in dependent of civil employment other words, he was not b carried on leave from a posi in the Federal service. This credited purely as military serv and may not under any circumstances be counted as civilian employment. The criterion for this All active honorable military set All active honorable military service which is not being used at basis for a veteran's pension or compensation. It doesn't matter when the time was served, either before or after the civilian employment, except, of course, that it may not be counted after civilian employment unless the interpretation. ian employment unless the individual returns to a civil position. To make this specific: If the man served in the military service 1930; in the civil service in 1931 and again in the military service in 1932, the time in 1932 could not be counted unless he returned to a civil position.

To put it in simple language, this is how we count a man's service to determine his right to refund and his length of service for annuity—in fact we count service in available the same want. vice in exactly the same way for all retirement purposes: We add all periods of honorable active military service (except any par which may be the basis for a per sion or compensation) to a periods of civilian service, regard less of whether retirement dedu tions were taken. If this adds u to ten or more years, you know of course, that we may pay refund of only those deductions taken before January 24, 1942.

Effect on Annuity Rate

Now that we have covered the method of crediting military ser vice for time credit we come to the effect it has on the actua rate of annuity. To determine the rate of annuity it is credited exactly as civilian service for which no deductions were taken (temp orary and excepted service). other words, if it was before August 1, 1920 it is "free" service; if after August 1, 1920 deposit is required to receive the maximum annuity for the service—if it is not made the annuity is reduced by the amount the deposit would purchase

Most U.S. employees are familiar with Public Law 688, the Forand Act, which expired June 30, 1947. Similar provision is in HR-4127, which passed the House I provides for those who have remarked. dered at least 25 years' service and who upon being involuntarily separated, not by removal for cause, or upon voluntary separation, if the employee must accep lower salary in certain instances shall receive an immediate life annuity to be reduced by one quarter of one percentum for each full month such employee or officer is under the age of 60 years Undoubtedly that type of claus is necessary to prevent hardship

The new bill provides for voluntary deposits in multiples of $25, the same as our current law. The limit is 10 per cent of your altime earnings since August 1, 1920. And the interest remains the same at 3 per cent.

Carton Backs O'Dwyer On State Aid Plea

UTICA, Dec. 22 — Patrolman John E. Carton, President of the NYC Potrolmen's Benevolent Association, called for increased State aid to cities as he warned a legislative committee of the State Police Conference of "a distinct possibility of a demoralizing trend within police ranks," unless wage adjustments are granted. Salary increases for law enforcement officers throughout the State depend largely on whether the State grants the increase of the said. Which Mayor William O'Dwyer urged last week, "It is agreed on all sides," he said, "that policemen are entitled to a salary adjustment of at least $600. It is only a question of revenue. Our plight grows worse daily. Greater State aid is vital. Unless it is forthcoming and unless adjustments are made, there is a distinct possibility of a dis the State grants the increased aid trend within police ranks."

Written Test in April

Applications will be accepted in all five borough offices of the City Collector, Mondays through Fri-days from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The NYC Civil Service Commission plans to give a competitive written test in April and have it completely rated by the end of May. The schedule then calls for a qualifying medical test in June at 299 Broadway. Competitive physical tests definitely will be completed between July 1 and September 1.

Fire Commissioner Frank J. Quayle has estimated that a new list would be needed in the latter part of 1948. The Commission's plan would produce a new list no earlier than October 1, but defi-nitely before December. A diminished test load is expected to permit completion of the examination shortly after October.

Liberal Construction

On the age requirements, the maximum of 29 will be figured as of the first day of the filing period, while the minimum of 20 will be figured as of the last day. This gives borderline cases two weeks' leeway, and constitutes the most liberal interpretation. Veterans also will be permitted to deduct their period of service from their age to come within the maximum. If they still are over the limit by a few hours or days they will be permitted to deduct travel time granted them from the discharge center to their homes.

Acting Commission President Joseph A. McNamara warned that applicants should be sure they are eligible, or they will be wasting their time. The Commission will make a careful screening shortly after the written test has been rated. As for those who don't have the preliminary requirements, "we'll catch everyone of them," he said. In addition to age, the applicants must meet citizenship and residence requirements under the Lyons Law. They also must pass a strict character investigation in which conviction of a felony or misdemeanors such as pro-fessional gambling will cause mejection, or a large number of any misdemeanors indicating law defiance. Bookmaking or bookma-ker-runner convictions are absolute barriers.

12 More Tests Are Initiated

Twelve open-competitive and promotion examinations have been ordered by the NYC Civil Service Commission. They include Medical Social Worker, Grade 2, Hospitals, and Claim Examiner (Torts), Grade 3, Transportation, both promotion tests, and the fol-lowing open-competitive tests:

Fireman (F.D.), Auto Mechanic (Diesel), Welder (Electric), As-sistant District Health Officer, Chief of the Division of Physically Handicapped Children, Chief of the Division of Venereal Disease Research, Director of Bureau of Tuberculosis, Supervisor of Cli-nics, Tuberculosis Clinician and Addressograph, Operator, Grade 2.

policy of the previous administration on examination requirements, to broaden the eligibility and avoid any possibility of tight requirements being intended to favor particular individuals.

The previous high regard given to education, involving majoring to education involving majoring in a particular subject no longer prevails. Instead a college degree is required only for jobs where such educational requirements are necessary for the proper perform-ance of the duties. Hence one college degree is as good as another, and "majors" taken for purposes of improving one's jobhunting prospects don't count a ything extra. "A person who has had several years of experience in personnel work in business, even if he has no college degree, is certainly better qualified for personnel work than somebody who has merely majored in personnel administration," said Acting President Joseph A. McNamara. "The as-sumption that majoring in any one subject makes one an expert in it is a fallacy. A former pro-

The NYC Civil Service Commis-sion has completely reversed the to call these major courses bread and butter' objectives, because students would take the courses for the better job prospects they offered from those who too highly respect 'majors' and not for any intrinsic value that such majoring

"A college degree is a college degree with this Commission now, and the majors are relegated to the minors.

The Commission studied examinations in which college degrees were required and came to the conclusion that the insistence was absurd in many instances. It vetoed a degree requirement in the Social Investigator test and now deletes it in other tests and will do so in still more tests. Jobs of a scientific or professional nature will carry degree require-

"The preliminary requirements must not be made the substitute for the examination," said Mr. McNamara, "Eligibility must be so broad as to open the exam as the law requires, and never to close it to favored individuals."

Eligible lists are promulgated appointments.

Social Investigator, Grade 1, eligibles are being given qualify-ing medical and oral tests simultaneously by the NYC Civil Service Commission. These tests are being expedited to permit Welfare Commissioner Benjamin Fielding to begin making the first of more than 1,000 appointments as soon as posible.

All disabled veterans on the list already have been examined list already have been examined by the Medical-Physical Bureau which has announced the follow-ing schedule for the remaining eligibles: Dec. 24, 200 eligibles; Jan. 5, 300 eligibles; Jan. 6, 200 eligibles; 300 eligibles on Jan. 10, 13, 14, 16 and 20. Medicals will be completed Jan. 28 when the last 60 eligibles on the list are called. The test is being conducted under the direction of Paul M. Brennan. Brennan.

The qualifying oral tests were started last Tuesday. A complete schedule for this test will be announced shortly.

The list was published recently with 2,250 names. It will be pro-mulgated as soon as the qualifying tests are completed and the claims for veteran preference have been investigated.

Appointment Secrecy Injures Public Affairs

FORMER Welfare Commissioner Rhatigan charged before the State Welfare Board that Communist influences in the NYC Welfare Department have been well known for some years now. He referred specifically to the investigation on this subject made in 1941 by the staff of William B. Herlands, then Commissioner of Investiga. tion. No report of this investigation has yet seen the light of day. The LEADER, when first apprised of the exist. ence of this particular investigation, tried every which way to get the findings made a matter of public record, for the public press and certainly for The LEADER, arguing that an investigation so concerned with the City's wel. fare belongs to the people of the City. We have tried to get at other similar reports, such as one dealing with employee relations in the Sanitation Department for many years. But always we have come head-on to a locked door marked, "Secret-Public Not Admitted!" If the Herlands findings had been made public some years back, it certainly seems conceivable that much of the present welfare mess might have been avoided. The lesson to be learned here is so simple it hardly bears pointing out. The LEADER earnestly hopes that in the future, when investigations of this kind are made, their findings will go to their rightful owners, the people of the City of New York, through their public press, and not just to the most convenient pigeon-hole in City Hall or in a Commissioner's

New Bases in Disability Preferences Cases

SWIFTLY changing events again granted disabled veteran preferhave caused a major revision in veteran preference regulations for NYC Civil Service Commission examinations. The latest change abled veterans and arranged in affects disabled veteran preference

Under a court order, the Com-mission is requiring, at least temporarily, that vet disability claimants have at least 10 per cent rat-ings from the Veterans Adminis-tration. Those who in recent months have been considered dis-abled veterans on the basis of less than 10 per cent disability have had this primary preference revoked and have been granted second-ary, or non-disabled veteran, preference instead.

The entire situation may be up-set again by appeals in three law cases. This latest decision on which the NYC Commission is acting, was handed down by Supreme Court Justice John E. Mc-

The Withholding 'Tax'

In terms of appointments and promotions from current lists, here is what the court order means to eligibles:

Suppose A and B had been the order of their rating among the non-disabled veterans. However, suppose they had appeared among the first 10 disabled vetamong the first 10 disabled veterans, and there are 10 jobs which now are going to be filled from the list. Under regulations issued by the Commission and Budget Director Thomas J. Patterson, only 8 of those 10 positions may now be filled. Two jobs must be left open in the event that the left open in the event that the courts rule A and B are eligible for disabled veteran preference. If these positions were not left open and Justice McGeehan's opinion were reversed, those eligibles con-ceivably could sue the city for back pay they would have received had they been appointed at the same time as eligibles with dis-abled veteran preference, but lower examination ratings, the Budget Director has been informed. Other veteran preference regulations and benefits continue to be the same. These were discussed in a column appearing in The LEADER issue of November 25.
