

WAC Major Speaks Today

Major Margaret E. Dougherty of the Women's Army Corps will be available this morning in Room 08 to discuss opportunities in the WACs.

Executive positions await selected women college graduates. Newly commissioned officers receive a four month officer training course at the Women's Army Corps Center, Fort McClellan, Alabama, prior to assignment in executive positions.

Fields of specialization include: Personnel, Administration, Intelligence, Training, Finance, Public Relations, Legal and Legislative, Information and Education Logistics, Comptroller, and Special Services.

WAC officers receive the same pay and benefits as male officers of comparable rank, as well as free medical and dental care, 30 days paid vacation annually, and steady promotions. A second lieutenant receives approximately $4,000 a year.

Details pertaining to the WAC's direct commission program may be obtained by contacting the WAC Officer Procurement Division, First U. S. Army Recruiting District, 29 Whitehall Street, New York 4, New York.

Dippikill Extension Plans Highlight Senate Meeting

By FRAN HARRIS

The highlight of Wednesday's Senate meeting was a discussion with Dr. Long, Chairman of Camp Board, who, upon invitation from the President Brooker, visited Senate with Dr. Hauser, Co-chairman of Camp Board. After showing colored slides of Senate's and Myskonia's Dippikill excursion of last spring, Dr. Long presented a map of the layout of the whole Dippikill area, plus building programs of the proposed camp site lodge.

NEWS Notice

Channing Club

On Sunday at 7:30 p.m. the Channing Club will meet at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Richard F. Smith, 4 Alvin Blvd., Westmere. Rev. James M. Barr will lead a discussion on "The Modern Day Concerns of a Classical Liberal." All interested students are invited. Transportation will be provided from Brubacher at 7:15 p.m.

Outing Club

On Tuesday evening, November 14, all people interested in a camping expedition should meet in Brubacher Hall or contact Colleen Carson.

Biology Club

Noted biologist E. M. Reilly, Curator of zoology at the New York Museum, will address the biology club meeting on November 16, at 7:30 p.m. in Brubacher Hall. His speech, entitled "General Ecology of the Albany Area", will follow the regular biology club meeting. Everyone is invited to attend. Publicity director is Bob Sweeney '62.

Several Senators prefer to rough it a little more when they go camping. Senate would welcome any opinions from the student body on this issue.

Committees Keep Busy

Most of the Standing Committees had been busy during the week. Constitution Committee proposed a bill that $77.28 be removed from Contingency Surplus for purchase of a filing cabinet for SA government files; this was referred to Finance Committee. Anbody who has a request that something relevant be included in the file should contact Senator Sherman. It was suggested that a committee be appointed to handle the filing cabinet in the future.

Services Committee has been examining the pros and cons of obtaining a new banner for the Student Union. The Committee is also working on having some sort of study lounge opened on Sundays, since the library can not be open at that time.

Senator Murphy is serving as temporary Chairman of Finance Committee since Senator Klein, the original chairman, is student teaching.

Senate received with regrets a letter of resignation from Senator James Wheeler '61, for academic reasons. A replacement election will take place in the near future.

Senators Klein and Allen volunteered to run a short order postal service from the Student Personnel Office to the Commons. Our "mailmen" will pick up student mail received by the SPO and deliver it to the student mail boxes.

We were happy to have several visitors at this week's meeting. The regular attendance of a few freshmen has also been noted by many of the Senators. Most of the Senate meetings are open, and we welcome any member of student body to attend and even participate in the discussions.

Signum Laudis Names Head

The annual fall meeting of Signum Laudis was held on Tuesday, October 24. At that time, Dr. Truscott introduced the new president, Mrs. Carol Sherman.

Signum Laudis is a national honorary which attempts to gain recognition for outstanding scholastic achievement. The president is the member with the highest average. All candidates must have an average of at least 3.0.

On Thursday, November 9, seventeen new members were inducted from the Class of 1962. They are: Eugene Andriette, Stephen Burkard, Mary Ann Calderone, Linda DePasquale, Gary Dibble, Calvin Fenton, Judith Fish, Marie Hoppmann, Betty Hubbard, Grace Laporta, Charles Lassell, Robert Neno, John Shankey, Robert Sherburne, Jeffrey Sohn, Leonore Waldman and Virginia White.

Pouring Over The Exchanges

Rhode Island College: It has been reported that at least three men invaded a women's dormitory recently and "stole away" with 1,000 empty cigarette packages. The packages were to be used in a current contest taking place at surrounding colleges and universities.

Fordham University: Fordham's amateur Radio Club has announced the inauguration of a radiogram service which will be available to all students. Messages may be left at the radio station and any student may contact any party via radio service. This function is performed free of charge.

Fredonia State: At Fredonia's annual Sadie Hawkins Dance, a court headed by "Lil Abner" and "Daisy Mae" is voted upon by the student body. Other Dogpatch roles such as "Stupifying Jones" and "Marrying Sam" will round out the court.

Central Michigan University: The Brothers Four gave a two-hour concert November 4 at the University. 2,500 seats were sold at $1.25 per person for the event.

Boston University: Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, brother of the President of the United States, has been elected to the Boston University Board of trustees.

Oneonta State: Seven girls are vying for the honor of Queen of Oneonta's White House Ball. The dance is sponsored by one of the campus fraternities, and each of the seven sororities selects a candidate for queen.

Current Comment: Birch Society Tactics

By JOE GALU

The John Birch Society as reported last week is a reactionary, right wing organization. Its members are of a generally exceptional nature.

The organization has two outstanding tactics. The first of these is the use of the terms Pinko, Soft on Communism, Communist, Dupe of Communists and ultra-liberal. Everyone who criticizes the organization is denounced by the group as being at least as "bad" as an ultra liberal and often the deserter from Society line is called a Communist.

Examples of the above tactic include when the president, who has never been elected, Robert H. W. Welch called the Los Angeles Times an ultra liberal paper. The L. A. Times is one of the most conservative papers in America. Senator Milton R. Young, Republican of North Dakota, who has supported the right wing by opposing the censure of Senator Joseph McCarthy, and by opposing the Civil Rights Commission, was called soft on communism. Ex-vice president Nixon and Republican National Chairman William Miller from Lockport were called dupes. According to the John Birch Society the nation's pinko press group contains the Daily Mirror, a national Catholic magazine called Aye Maria, and the Catholic Archdiocese magazines from Boston (Cardinal Cushing's The Pilot) and Chicago (The New World).

An entire church has been labeled pinko. This church is the United Presbyterian Church. It does matter to the society whether you are conservative (right wing), middle of the road, or liberal (left wing). In the eyes of the society all who oppose are far to the left.

The other distasteful practice of the Birchites is their use of Communist tactics such as keeping lists of their opponents and urging members to spread rumors about people they don't like.

According to an editorial printed in an issue of this summer's New York Daily Mirror, "the society's members and volunteers are being asked to inform about their neighbors, to make charges and accusations based on hearsay, personal venom, and spite."

They fail to recognize that actions like urging members to write anonymous letters about people they dislike are far more in keeping with the income tax or the maintaining of "strong" armies forces.

The society's tactics of this last spring and summer are the extensive showing of the "Operation Abolition" film and has been condemned as a propaganda and misleading by the New York Times, the United Presbyterian Church and the Governor of Michigan, John Swanson. The society's tactics are not only completely true, but also completely false. The general message of the film is then to be deliberately misleading. A very fine admission!

In short, the society is a self appointed president, keeping secret files of people they like and wishes to do better, urging its members to report on neighbors, and 4) eastern agents at the loyalty and patriotism of its enemies. They are demagogues in their lack of regard for reality as shown in their stand on "Operation Abolition". Lastly, they are in secrecy.

Now that the hunting season is open (and whom are you taking to the dorm formal?), many girls are concentrating on tactics which will make them alluring and irresistible to members of the opposite sex. In my fervent desire to help the human race, here is a hunter's handy guide on how to shoot 'em down.

HER: "Would you like to go to the dorm formal next Saturday, Filbert?"

HIM: "Why, yes, I'd love to!"

HER: "Well, I hope you find a date."

HIM: "Gwendolyn, you're the first girl I've met who is as intelligent as I am."

HER: "I didn't accept a date with you to be insulted!"

HIM: "No one seems to understand me except my dog."

HER: "You are attractive to dumb animals, aren't you?"

HIM: "Imogene, you're the nicest girl I've ever known."

HER: "Oh, Conrad! Am I really nicer than your mother?"

Dr. Adams Addresses Primer Staff

By GARY BELCAN

Last Tuesday evening, Dr. Theodore S. Adams, Associate Professor of English, spoke at the Primer meeting on the short story. The purpose of the lecture was to aid those who have attempted to write short stories.

The meeting was held in Bob Baker's apartment at 371 Hamilton Street. A much larger crowd than expected turned out to hear Dr. Adams speak.

Dr. Adams began his speech by referring to the audience several books which would find helpful in understanding and writing the short story. He also commented on several short story writers, whom he recommended to us.

He emphasized the fact that a short story must have a beginning, a middle and an end, and made a distinction between the short story and the vignette.

He gave numerous examples of devices to avoid in a short story. He explained the danger of "Cliché plot" and "cliche phraseology".

After the lecture the audience had an opportunity to ask questions of Dr. Adams. This led into a discussion of Lawrence Durrell's Alexandria Quartet as compared to Frost's works.

After the lecture the entire audience...

Gerstenberger Hits 15th As State Tops Montclair

This year Karl Heinz Gerstenberger has proven to be one of the most valuable players on the State College Varsity Soccer team. He is one of the team's Tri-Captains this year and has been a rallying point in the team's booming seven to two won-lost record drive this year.

Karl's big coup this year came with his setting a new scoring record for one player in one season. Karl was in the background during the first part of the season, not being given much of a chance to break Frank Fallace's scoring record of 14 goals in one season. But Gerstenberger exploded during the Plattsburg and the New Paltz games, scoring four goals in the first and three in the second. He accomplished one-half of a season record in only two games.

Karl's big tally in the scoring column is very spectacular because Karl Gerstenberger was once a name used mostly when a reference was made to the defensive unit of the Ped teams. Last year, Karl was seen in the half back slot rather frequently. As Frank Fallace Gerstenberger dominated the offensive position, Karl did exceptionally well wherever he played, and was awarded the trophy for the Most Improved Player on last year's soccer team.

Powhida Wins 1st Weightlifting Match

One of State's often unsung sports heroes is weight-lifter, Joe Powhida. Like most athletes at State, Joe is anything but a red sweater man. A business major and history minor, Joe has a full schedule of classes besides working in the Student Union Snack Bar.

In the winter of 1957 Joe won his first competitive match when he took the Alaskan Heavyweight Title. The competition was held at Fairbanks, Alaska, and was limited to members of the Army and Air Force.

Continuing in his winning ways, Joe copped the District Heavyweight Championship in 1958, 1959 and 1960. According to Joe his chances look pretty good for another championship this year.

In the last Eastern States' Championship, Joe finished third. This is exceedingly good, since the first and second place winners were the two top ranked weightlifters in the country. Joe has been the Albany City Champion for the past two years. He also tied for the State YMCA Championship, but was placed second because he was one pound heavier than his opponent.

Looking to the future, Joe is check the AMIA Bulletin Board, States Intercollegiate Championship with commissioner Bill Murray.

Touching All Bases

By DAVE JINKS

This past week, while we were calmly putting away what we thought was the last word from AMIA football into the files, we were hit with the news that the men from Potter were going to continue displaying their grid talents. Sometime during the week a challenge had been heard from Troy—the men of R.P.I. wished to take on our intramural champs in a little football type tussle. Naturally knowing that the Pottermen would never turn away a chance to display their athletic prowess, we started to write an article that would let our fans here at State know of this great duel. Couldn't you just picture it "Potter Short-circuits Computers." Would this be a tremendous ending for their thirtieth anniversary weekend, or would this be a tremendous ending for their thirtieth anniversary weekend?

But alas, things were not with us. Partridge Street will not be packed with new Thunderbirds and Corvettes this Sunday, there will be no cheers, shouts, oohs, or aahs from Vet's field, and State's football fans will have to confine themselves to their favorite armchair in front of the television for the Sunday afternoon Pro-football game of the week.

What happened? Who goofed? At first the game appeared to be a natural, and all that had to be done was to pick a time and a place. That is until some nit-witted pointed out that there were only about ump-teen million differences between the rules of our AMIA and the R.P.I.'s intramural league.

First of all, where was the game to be played? R.P.I. agreed to play here and thus use our 90 yard football field of their 80 yarder. They also agreed to having to pass 15 yards in 3 plays for a first down instead of employing the rule of 20 yards in 4 plays for a first down. Another problem, they play 7 man football, and we play 9 man. The answer—the game would be played with 8 men. That came the big problem. In AMIA football only the halfback backs are eligible to receive passes while in the R.P.I. league all the linemen are allowed to be pass receivers. Whichever of the teams conceded this point would have to revamp all of their plays. This seemed to be too much to ask of either team at this late date, so plans for this great event were forgotten. With more and earlier planning, next year, we believe that such a game could become a reality.

Varsity Booters End Season Wed. Night at Bleecker

This coming Tuesday, November 8th, our varsity soccer team plays its last game of the season against Adelphi College. This game will be our second game under the lights at Bleecker Stadium and will be at 7:45 instead of 8:00 as was scheduled. The first game was successful in two respects: (1) it was a 3-0 win and (2) a great number of State rooters cheered our team on to this victory.

Adelphi has had a mediocre season so far. They have a young squad with very few seniors. Their coach, Hal Schaeffer, is also new to the college. They play in a rough league which includes teams like City College in New York. They have had 9 men score at least once during the season. Their goalie also has a specialty and that is his ability to punch the ball as far as many other goalies kick it. This is their last game of the season also.

State will be going into this game without the services of Franz Zwickbauer who was injured in the last game. State has compiled a 12 record up to this game and against it. We have scored 34 goals against it. This game will be the last game that the 1961 soccer team will play. To show our appreciation of the job they have done, let's get out and cheer.

State Harriers Face Hudson Valley for 2nd Meet of Year

The State cross country team has its second meet of the season Thursday, November 9, against Hudson Valley. The three mile race will take place at 1:00 on the Hudson Valley course. The Peds will be running for their second victory in as many outings.

The team will be entering at least seven men in this meet with Paul Sivak and Dick Hunter running for the first time. Also carrying the banner for the Purple and Gold will be Ken Jewett, Art Burdette, Steve Dolecky, Bill Bronson, and possibly Tom Robinson.

State appears to have an excellent chance in this contest for Hudson Valley was defeated 27-28 by State in the first meet. The Peds 25-30 in a practice meet last week.

The State team may be hindered by the possible absence of Tom Robinson. Tom, who placed first in the contest with Siena, has been ill with the flu this week and may not be able to participate.

State's next meet will be held November 11 between halves of the State Athletic Council game at Plattsburg.

Gerstenberger Wraps Up Career As State Booter

The State Varsity Soccer team returned to its winning ways after two straight defeats by beating a strong team from Montclair, 2-1. This being Parent's Day, many staunch supporters of all ages turned out to cheer our team on. Karl Heinz Gerstenberger broke the former State record of 14 for the most goals in a season with a successful penalty kick. Bob Seaman added another goal which proved to be the game winner. Tony Fericola scored the only Montclair goal late in the game.

In the first quarter, both teams played hard, aggressive ball. Excellent ball control and head play was illustrated by both teams. However, neither team, no matter how excellent their play was, was able to penetrate the defense of the respective goalies. Gary Pnfield, State, and John Torchia, Montclair, made an equal number of saves throughout the game.

The second quarter proved to be a repeat of the physics problem where "the immovable object is met by the irresistible force." Neither side bended to the power of the other. Both teams' offense and defense was at their peak and once again excellent play by the respective goalies prevented any scoring.

The first break of the game fell in our favor early in the third quarter with a penalty against the Montclair team. Karl Heinz was given the opportunity to score the tie-breaking goal as well as setting a new State record. He came through and at the end of the quarter, we led, 1-0. However, not all the breaks were in our favor. Franz Zwickbauer sustained an injury that is definitely going to keep him out of action for the remainder of the season.

The fourth quarter provided the greatest number of goals of any of the quarters. Just after the start, Bob Seaman took a lead pass, slipped past the defenders and poked the ball past the alert Montclair goalie. This goal put us in the lead 2-0 with more than fifteen minutes left in the quarter. Montclair's late in the quarter attempt to reverse the eventual outcome was increasingly more and more difficult as the time was running out. With just one minute left in the game Fericola scored for Montclair. However, try as they may, the team from Montclair could not penetrate the solid defense of our Peds. The game ended with the score, 2-1, in our favor, and with our color bearers in control of the ball.

This game was a real team effort. Dave Schryer, Borys Kozilecki and Gary Penfield played outstanding ball throughout the contest.

Dr. Shaefer To Lecture November 27

The opening lecture in the 1961-62 Science Colloquium series presented by Dr. Vincent Schaefer, professor in Science at State University College at Albany, and chairman to the Advisory Committee of the Atmospheric Sciences Research Center, on November 27, at 4 p.m. in Pace Hall.

The topic of his lecture will be Scientific Adventures in Australia. He has recently returned from the International Conference of Atmospheric Scientists, held "Down Under" and has seen much of scientific work in this seldom reached area of western technology.

Dr. Schaefer has won acclaim in surface chemistry and meteorology during his scientific career. He worked several years with Irving Langmuir, the 1932 Nobel Prize winner in chemistry, as research assistant at the research center of General Electric in Schenectady. Currently, as the director of a summer science institute at Louis School in Windsor, Conn., he has been attempting to interest young people in the atmospheric and related sciences. He hopes to extend this program, so that it can reach many of the scientifically talented high school students of the nation.

Campus Chest to Give Aid to World Students

Shelly Kellerman, Campus Queen

By ROSEMARIE MINCAR and GARY PENFIELD, Co-chairmen As citizens of the world, we should be concerned that people not only in our country, but everywhere, have an opportunity for education. Through Campus Chest, we at State are able to help make it possible for more students to receive a college education.

The proceeds of the Campus Chest Drive are divided among three organizations. The World University Service receives about 40% of the receipts. Your contributions enable the WUS to operate in free countries throughout the world. They help both individuals and educational institutions after the people themselves have made an attempt toward an educational goal.

Another 30% of the profits go to the National Scholarship Service Fund for Negro Students. The NSSNS is an independent agency established to increase higher educational opportunities to qualified Negro students in inter-racial colleges in this country. The Albany Community Chest receives the final 20% of the proceeds. State students, by contributing to Campus Chest, thus help support a great many social institutions, such as YWCA, which they have utilized.

Activities The following activities will be held in connection with the Campus Chest Drive: 1. Auctions will be held Nov. 27-Dec. 1 from 9-11 in the cafeteria and Nov. 28 and Nov. 30 in the Student Union...
