OSWEGO NORMAL TO PLAY HERE TONIGHT

Varsity Loses To University Of Vermont, And Trims
St. Michaels

C. C. N. Y. DEFEATED, 23-13

Oswego Normal will oppose the Purple and Gold tonight. The teams will clash on the local court and State is favored to run away with the junior teachers. State had little trouble in conquering the Oswego boys last season and should do it just as handily this year. The regular team will be on hand in full force to add another victory.

The University of Vermont trimmed State at Burlington before the recess, 39-13. Price, elongated guard of the Vermonters, ran wild, scoring ten field goals in spite of the efforts of three State players to stop him. The Burlington paper announced, "The Green and Gold won their first test of the season against the New York State College. The game was not as lopsided as the score shows and the visitors were within striking distance until the last minutes of play."

The Burlington Times stated, "Kuczyński was the star of the visitors and met with great favor with the fans who called him 'Tony.' That's easier to say."

State avenged the defeat at the hands of the University of Vermont by trouncing St. Michael's the following night at Winooski Park, 42-29. The local team was outplayed in every point of the game and only threatened State once in the second half, when St. Michael's rallied only to have State run away completely to an undisputed victory.

The varsity basketball team achieved victory again Saturday night for the fourth time this season, when it defeated the Brooklyn branch of College of the City of New York, 23 to 13, in the gymnasium.

It was the visitors' first defeat this season, C. C. of N. Y. having taken the measure of Jamaica Teachers, who vanquished State in its opening game, and of Brooklyn Polytechnic, which is booked as a Purple and Gold opponent next month.

State won the game by straight basketball with nothing but a few exceptional shots to enliven the contest. Like every other outfit the varsity have met on their home court this season, the New Yorkers were outplayed on the floor. Only their inability to take advantage of many safe shots kept the Albany players from rolling up a high score.

State used two freshmen and three sophomores in the game.

Sell Many Seats For Three One Act Plays To Be Given At Historical And Art Society Tonight And Tomorrow

S. NILES HAIGHT

For the first time in the history of the State College Dramatics and Art association, the annual production of the three one-act plays by the elementary Dramatics class, will be given two successive nights. Heretofore, the plays have been presented one night only, but this year, it was decided to attempt the double performance. There is still another feature of this year's presentation, and that is the digression from the traditional selection of a play-house. The class has always chosen the Vincentian Institute on Madison avenue in which to act. This year, however, the new hall of the Historical and Art Society offered delightful possibilities to the enterprising class, and was selected after due consideration. The hall has only half the seating capacity of the Vincentian Institute, and this fact originated the idea of giving the plays a two-night run.

Everyone has been most kind in lending assistance to boost the plays, and special acknowledgment is made to Mr. Theodore Hampel, who has been right hand man to the props committee, in obtaining the "unobtainable necessities" for the plays. Thanks are extended to T. Frederick H. Candler, in whose charge the music program is. Mr. Candler has arranged for violin solos between the first two plays, and student singing between the last two. Due to the abnormal seat sale, it was decided to dispense with the services of the college orchestra, which usually functions at such affairs, to make room for the dramatic enthusiasts of Albany and for College students.

Committees and assistants include: house, Louise Gunn; advertising, Bertha Zajan; stage set and lighting, Helen Zimmerman; props, Sara Barkley; costumes, Mildred Graves. Stage manager is Constance Baumann; prompter, Sara Barkley; secretary-treasurer, Ruth McNutt.

WILL PUBLISH JUNIOR EDITION JANUARY 29

The junior issue of the State College News will be published January 29, two weeks from today. The issue, which appears annually in Junior Week, will be printed on the Friday before Prom this year, instead of on the day of Prom, as formerly. This will make it available to the larger number of students who have finished their examinations by the end of the second week and have gone home.

As it is customary, the issue will feature the news of the junior class, particularly Prom and the junior luncheon. The regular editorial staff of the News will turn over its work for the week to the juniors.

The juniors who will edit the paper are: Julia Fay, Sara Barkley, Katharine Blenis, Louise Gunn, Edwin Van Kleeck, Helma Brezee, Bertha Zajan, and Ruth McNutt.

COMMENCE CAMPAIGN AGAINST UNTIDINESS

Gertrude Swettman Has Charge
Of First Attack In War
With Dirt Today

CHIEF CHAIRMAN NAMED

State College has declared war on dirt and its ally, waste paper. Hostilities begin today with a chapel program of which Gertrude Swettman is in charge. The first intensive drive against the enemy will last one week, until Friday, January 22. If this does not result in the utter defeat of untidiness, a year's campaign will be begun, with other drives at intervals.

At the head of the forces for cleanliness are Lorena Shaffer, '26, and her assistant, Elizabeth Milmine, '26, who bear the proud titles of Chief Chairwomen. The other leaders (members of the clean-up committee) are: 1926—Mildred Lomar, chairman; Alice Gooding, Mildred Melrose, Rachel Westfall, Herbert Campbell; 1927—Georgianna Maar, chairman; Katherine Blenis, Hilda Saar, Edwin Van Kleeck, Helen Tompkins; 1928—Margaret Stoutenburg, chairman; Leah Cohen, Dorothy Lasher, Dorothy Watts, Richard Jensen; 1929—Mary Hart, chairman; Ruth Watts, Mildred Linsley, Caroline Schleich, and Robert Shillinglaw.

The duty of the committee is not, as the leaders' title might imply, to scrub floors or wash windows. They are to influence student opinion that waste papers will not be scattered over the floors, that people standing in the corridors will not leave behind them the print of the sole of one shoe when bracing themselves against the wall, etc. A movement for the cleaning out of lockers will also be started.

On January 22, the last day of Clean-up Week, a tour of inspection will be made by Dr. Abram R. Brubacher, Dean William H. Metzler, and Miss Anna F. Pierce, to judge the results of the drive. President Brubacher has suggested that the committee hold office for the rest of the year, and institute another Clean-up Week if it proves necessary.

G. A. A. HOLDS FROLIC

Friday evening, G. A. A. entertained the faculty at a post-Christmas frolic. The Christmas spirits emerged from about the fireplace and danced away their real feeling, beautifully interpreted by Ruth McNutt and Bertha Zajan. The children came in, too, Ruth Empie, a little girl, and Georgianna Maar, a little boy, and recited Christmas poems. Christmas carols were sung by a crowd of choristers, Anne Holroyd, Dorothy Rowland, Ruth Empie, Ethel Chippendale, Florence Gillet, Hilda Saar, Kathleen Doughty, and Mildred Lomar. The guests were further entertained by group games directed by Mildred Wilson and Leah Cohen. Music for dancing was furnished by Dorothy Rabie on the piano and Carolyn Josslyn on the violin.

YOUR DUTY - DO IT!

Our College has declared war on dirt! The intensive campaign begins today and continues for a week when, on January 22, the student committee will make a tour of inspection. Whether they find the halls and classrooms tidy or untidy depends upon you. If each student makes himself a part of the campaign and remembers that he must be careful not to throw paper on the floors but in the baskets intended for the purpose, if each student refrains from writing on the walls and from scratching the paint off them, there is no doubt but that the end of the campaign will find our halls as clean as they should be. And what will happen then? It depends upon you! Will you go back to the old habits of tearing paper and letting it fall on the floors? Will you continue to make futurist pictures on the walls because you have a pencil handy and nothing to write on? This untidiness is due, not to a lack of pride in our College, but rather to thoughtlessness. Permanent cleanliness depends upon you. What are you going to do about it?

JOSEPH HENRY INITIATES

Nine new members were initiated into Joseph Henry Society Tuesday evening, December 15. The initiates entertained with three skits, utilizing Harold Lloyd's antics in "The Freshman," the profession of teaching, and radio humor. Original jokes were featured. Members added were A. Hollister, M. Baker, R. Holmes, M. Youngs, H. Elliot, C. Benson, D. Smith, E. Travis, A. Arning, Constance Baumann headed the committee in charge, aided by E. Krieg, H. Campbell and P. Mattice. Sandwiches, coffee, and cake were refreshments. A program over the laboratory radio ended the evening.

COLLEGIATE AMERICA BACKS WORLD COURT

Collegiate America is behind the entrance of the United States into the permanent court of international justice, S. Niles Haight, president of the senior class, declared Friday, addressing the junior-freshman assembly. Haight reported as the college's delegate to the recent national collegiate world court conference conducted at Princeton university. A similar report was made by William J. Delehaanty, the other delegate, to the sophomore-senior assembly.

The great majority of the representatives of 250 American college were in favor of the court, but nevertheless they were won by the personality of Clarence Darrow, the noted criminal lawyer who was one of the principal speakers against the tribunal, Haight said. "While the other speakers appeared dressed in 'soup and fish' and with sparkling bosoms, Darrow mounted the platform with a suit of old tweed, his tie hanging loose and his hair all over his face.

Later, students are to vote on the question of the college's entrance into the national student federation which has been formed at the conference by college and university men and women.

DEAN PIERCE VISITS N. Y.

Dean Anna E. Pierce spent Christmas vacation in New York. Most of her time was spent at the headquarters of the Women's Foundation for Health, of which she is a member of the board of directors, and of the executive committee, also chairman of the endowment committee. Tamblin and Brown, who helped the alumni organization in their Residence Hall campaign, are cooperating with the Foundation to secure an endowment. The Women's Foundation for Health stands for maintained or positive health for women. It is a national organization, the aim of which is a health examination for every woman and girl in America. This includes not only a physical examination, but also the study of the individual's occupation, her nervous reaction to it, and other relationships affecting her health. The organization is connected with many educational institutions. At present it is carrying on a cooperative movement with the National Association of Deans of Women, for a survey of health service in about 1200 schools, all over the United States. Another phase of Dean Pierce's work is in connection with the health committee of the association, of which she is chairman.

CHRISTMAS IN CUBA

THE NEWS' SIGNED ARTICLE BY A FACULTY MEMBER IS CONTRIBUTED THIS WEEK

BY

MISS ALICE TAYLOR HILL

Christmas in Albany probably consisted of Christmas trees and holly, zero temperature, sleigh-rides and Santa Claus. The holidays in Cuba were characterized by warm summer skies, August temperature, plenty of roast pig and guinea hen, and the Nativity scene in every toy shop window.

It was difficult to believe that our friends at home were shivering while we were walking along the Malecon in the warm sunshine, clad in our thinnest summer garb.

Those who celebrate Christmas in true Cuban fashion, attended the Christmas Eve performance at the Teatro Marti, where a very colorful Spanish Zarzuela was playing all holiday week. Leaving the theatre at twelve or a little after, we took a taxi to the Cathedral, to attend the Midnight Mass, where special music and the altar decorated with natural flowers were the principal features. The rest of the night, or rather, early morning, was spent by the Orthodox in consuming all the dainties that accompanied the roast pig banquet. The rest of Christmas day was spent away in order to enable us to be in trim for the festivities of the evening, when the cafes were filled with the holiday revelers.

The Christmas flower or poinsettia blossomed luxuriantly in everybody's garden, and Christmas roses were in abundance. Children posted letters to the Wise Men in little booths on the sidewalk, erected for the purpose. Toy balloons floated in the sultry air of the gaily illuminated streets. Instead of drinking hot chocolate, we enjoyed the cooling tropical drinks such as piña fria and tamarindo. If it was one's first visit to Havana, there were the trips to Morro Castle and Cabaña Fortress, the Hershey sugar mill, the Jai-Alai games, the Corona cigar factory, and, if one's vacation was long enough, the long train ride to Matanzas and the descent into the Bellamar Caves, warranted to supply any number of thrills, especially when the lights go out at a depth of 280 feet.

On those who love the sea, the view of the beautiful blue Gulf of Mexico, with the surf breaking over the sea wall of Havana harbor, made a lasting impression, and the voyage, three days in each direction, afforded all the delights of much needed rest and recreation, even though Cape Hatteras had an unpleasant tendency to rob one of his appetite.

All those interested, should sign up early for the Ward Line 1926 Christmas cruise to Cuba. The writer offers to chaperon the party.

1926 WINS MOST G. A. A. AWARDS IN GYM MEET

The G. A. A. gym meet was held Wednesday evening, December 16. Highest class awards went to the seniors with thirty-one points. The juniors were second with thirty and one-third points, the sophomores next with twenty-eight and two-fifths points, and the freshmen last with twenty-five and three-fifths points. Only sophomores and freshmen were eligible for the individual awards. First prize, the silver loving cup, went to Evelyn Graves, '29, who had a total of thirty-five and three-quarter points. Second and third awards, class numerals, were given to Dorothy Lasher, '28, and Cetrude Hall, '29, who had thirty-five and a quarter and thirty-two and three quarter points, respectively. Sylvia Ferber, '29, received honorable mention with thirty and three-quarter points.

The first influence of the Outing Club on G. A. A.'s activities was shown by the sleigh ride Tuesday night. From five to seven, a jolly State crowd followed jingling bells about the city and, returning to college had supper in the cafe. The entire frolic, including eats, was free of cost, which means, furnished by G. A. A.

MISS PERINE ATTENDS CORNELL CONFERENCE

Delegates of college teachers were present from all over the country. Dr. Ferrand, president of Cornell, made the address of greeting at the opening banquet and Dean Laing of Chicago university gave the principal address.

WOMEN

By Booth Tarkington

"If only someone could understand me!" is a familiar quotation, overmuch parodied and burlesqued these days, when the discussion concerns women. One cannot deny, of course, that the parody has its point. Everyone has heard this unhappy plaint of women in love and out of love, women married and not yet married, women overworked and bored for lack of something useful to do, women, in fact, who have time to think about themselves—and what woman can not find time for so absorbing an occupation? That lonely woman needs someone to understand her is the reason for the rise and progress of psycho-analysis. It is the reason, also, that physicians are so seldom poor; for sympathetic understanding of one's inner self is dear even when expensive.

Booth Tarkington comes gallantly to the rescue of misunderstood femininity, boldly throwing the gauntlet to psycho-analysis, new thought, and the present smug generation of family doctors. I do not know in what school Tarkington studied women, but the proof that he has learned his lesson is in the reading of "Women." I, for one hope he has locked the laboratory door behind him and closed his textbooks. I have a nervous feeling that he understands women far too well. We ought to be allowed to keep a few illusions about ourselves.

It isn't fair! Some clever woman novelist ought to stop thinking about her charming self long enough to write a book entirely about men, just by way of polite retort. For the men in Tarkington's "Women" are quite too absolutely perfect, and long-suffering, and meek, and noble. It isn't fair!

Where motorized power is virtually unknown, men toil yet accomplish little. The United States has over one-quarter electrical horsepower installed per capita. Japan, leading country of the Orient, has but .04 horsepower. Electric shovel and storage battery locomotive are shown at a completely electrified open-pit coal mine, at Colstrip, Montana.

Work without Toil

Ten or twelve hours a day toils the coolie. If he carries all he can, he moves one ton one mile in one day. For that he receives twenty cents.

Cheap labor! Yet compared with our American worker, receiving at least twenty-five times as much for an eight-hour day, the coolie is expensive labor. In America we move one ton one mile for less than one cent. The coolie, working by hand, accomplishes little; while the American, with electricity's aid, accomplishes much.

Plenty of electricity and cheap electricity—these are two great advantages which America enjoys over the rest of the world. While our present generating capacity is 20,600,000 kilowatts, new developments call for 3,000,000 kilowatts more per year.

To college men and women—potential leaders—will fall the duty of finding more and still more work for electricity, with less and still less toil for our workers. For the task is but begun!

G-E Motorized Power—an ideal combination of electric motor and control properly fitted to the individual task—is at work the world-over, relieving workers more and more for better and more profitable pursuits.

A new series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for Booklet GEK-1.

NEWMAN HOLDS THREE DAY RELIGIOUS RITE

The annual three-day Retreat of Newman Club took place the week-end of January 8, at the Academy of the Holy Names. Rev. Joseph A. Dunney gave the conference. He spoke of the Magi who sought the Christ Child with promptness, diligence and perseverance. He urged the members of the club to follow the example of the Wise Men of the East, and to give to Christ the gifts of love, loyalty, and a true heart which are symbolized by the gold, frankincense, and myrrh of the kings.

The Retreat closed with Mass at the Academy, Sunday morning, which was followed by the second Quarterly Breakfast. Marion O'Connor, '26, president, introduced Father Dunney, who spoke on the influence of the club members as a student group and later as teachers. Mrs. Mary E. McMaick represented the alumnae. Mary Rhein, '26, sang two vocal solos accompanied by Agatha Flint, '27. The breakfast committee included: Gertrude Lynch, vice-president; Mary Dardess, Marjorie Seeger, Ruth Lockhard and Helen Tompkins.
