Gains In Nurse Career Ladder Are Finalized

ALBANY - The Civil Service Department announced late last week to members of the Civil Service Employees Assn,'s nursing career ladder negotiating team, the Department's final decision concerning the status of a promotion series for all nurses in State service. State Office of Employee Relations officials had earlier rejected CSEA's final proposals and submitted their revised version of a nurses' career ladder to the Civil Service Department.

Civil Service Department officials, in a June 27 letter to CS-EA, indicated that their decision met "some of the objections that the Civil Service Employees Assn. had to the joint State-CSEA plan as set forth in their letter of April 18."

The Department did note in their letter to CSEA that the new career ladder will provide for permanent civil service status for all State nurses currently permanent but classified as noncompetitive.

"In addition," Ryan said, "all previous experience in State service will count in any of the experience qualification requirements for the new titles in the promotional series."

The new career ladder calls for nineteen new titles in the nursing series and advances the practical nurse, on the basis of reclassification, to the title of licensed practical nurse, grade 9.

CSEA Retirement Pitches Defend Pension Contracts; Champion Retirees' Cause

The last in a series of public hearings conducted by the Select Committee to study public employee pensions was held in Albany this past week and featured two CSEA speakers who told the newly appointed legislative committee that, "CSEA's negotiated pension settlement for state workers was a good compromise that should be carefully considered by the Legislature in the special session and that the plight of the retired employees must be met with some form of cost-ofliving increase lest the legislature show a calloused disregard for its pensioned employees.

John C. Rise, CSEA's counsel, spoke before the committee and indicated that CSEA stands behind their negotiated agreement for state workers. He cited that, "Actual benefits received by retirees in the New York State Employees Retirement System were far from excessive" indicating that the settlement received were "modest or actually substandard in many cases."

Lawrence Kerwin, the second of CSEA's speakers, addressing the committee on behalf of the Retirees of the Civil Service Employees Association, delved further into the pension question looking at it from the standpoint of those who are watching as their pension dollar is eroded by the rapidly rising costs-ofliving.

Kerwin's statement follows in

An incredible paradox has emerged in the debate over public employee pension benefits. The general public believes that the public employee, through unbridled demands of greedy unions, has gouged from government such excessively liberal and costly benefits that major tax increases are imminent in order to provide continued support for those benefits. This belief, carefully cultivated and encouraged by virtually every editorial writer of every major newspaper in this State, exists at the very time national attention is being given to the sorry condition of private sector pension plans. While the United States Congress is considering several measures designed to improve private sector pension benefits and only a few short months after the widely (Continued on Page 3)

New Deadline Is Announced For Statewide Nominations

ALBANY - James Welch, chairman of the Civil Service Employees Assn.'s nominating committee for statewide elections, announced late last week that an extension of the deadlines for submission of nominations must be made, which will move back all preannounced dates approximately two weeks.

Welch cited a change in the dates of the Association's annual meeting from the week of September 16 to the week of September 30 as the reason for his committee's announced change in the election timetable.

He said, "All election dates, according to CSEA's constitution and by-laws, are predicted on the established dates for the annual meeting. For example, our committee must submit our nominations to the secretary of CS-EA 85 days before the first business session of the annual meeting. CSEA's board of directors changed the dates of the annual meeting, so we must change the election schedule."

CSEA Argues For Pension Nursing Career Ladder Pacts; Retiree Benefits

(Continued from Page 1) acclaimed documentary "Pensions: A National Disgrace" was aired on nationwide television. the Kinzel Commission proposed cutbacks in public pension plan benefits in order to more closely parallel them with those of private industry, as if they were models to be emulated.

Now we have the awesome paradox of seeking "reforms" in public pension benefits because those benefits exceed those of private sector plans - the very same plans that have been indicted nationally for scandalous inadequacies.

In 1966, the Legislature enacted a cost-of-living adjustment for retired members of the New York State Employees' Retirement System. Only three years later, the Legislature ended this benefit by failing to extend it to any member of the NYSERS who retired after 1968 and by failing to update its base formula year. All the newspaper. radio and television commentators who have watched the public pension scene so closely of late, never printed or spoke a word about the unilateral withdrawal by the Legislature of that desperately needed benefit. To date, there has never been a public explanation offered by the Governor, the Legislature or any member of the Kinzel Commission for the termination of the cost-of-living adjustment for re-

Perhaps we are to assume that a cost-of-living adjustment for retired public employees is unnecessary. Yet since 1968, the Legislature has given statutory authorization for very substantially negotiated pay raises for active employees, not to mention tremendous raises for themselves. Increases in the cost of living surely had a great deal to do with authorizing these pay raises for active employees. Are we not affected by the same increases in the rising costs of consumer goods? And are we not affected by the same increased taxes, the same increased rents, the same increased costs for medical care? Apparently, if the actions of the Governor, the Legislature or the Kinzel Commission, with respect to the retiree, are to provide answers to these questions, we are not affected by increased living costs and spiraling inflation. However, since that proposition borders on the absurd, we are left with the distasteful feeling of being the victims of a great hypocrisy on the part of this government.

There is recognition of the public employee's moral and legal right to collectively bargain for salaries, pensions and other fringe benefits. That recognition, extended by the Governor and the Legislature in 1967 under the Public Employees Fair Employment Act, was never granted to the vast majority of us during our working careers. Instead, we worked a lifetime for low wages and often waited for many years before small pay increases were provided. Our pension benefits, pitifully meager as they are for countless thousands within our ranks, were paid for dearly out of our own wages.

No Rich Men

The retired public employee, forced to subsist on small, if not in thousands of cases, poverty-level incomes unprotected stands as testimony to the disgrace of government within this State. We are not the recipients of the exorbitant and rich pension benefits which the Kinzel Commission and representatives of the media allege. Instead, the average retiree subsists on allowances which are painfully small. If the average retirement allowance of the 8,200 members of non-conributory plans who retired last year from the NYSERS was only $4,100 with an average length of service of 22 years, it need not take much imagination

Supreme Court Upholds Ban Against Political Action By Gov't Aides

The United States Supreme Court, in a 6 to 3 decision, has ruled that the Federal Hatch Act banning political activity by U.S. employees is constitutional. The ruling applies to similar laws governing New York City and State employees.

The laws forbid civil servants to run for political office, solicit campaign funds, manage a campaign, and solicit votes.

The laws do not forbid public employee unions to endorse political candidates.

Justice Byron R. White, writing for the majority, said, "it is in the best interest of the country, indeed essential, that Federal service should depend meritorious performance on rather than political service, and that the political influence of Federal employees on others and on the electoral process should be limited."

Dissent by Douglas

Dissenting on the court's rejection of a challenge to the Hatch Act by the National Association of Letter Carriers were Justice William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr. and Thurgood Marshall. They argued that the "vague and generalized prohibitions" in the law had a "chilling effect on the freedom of expression of civil servants.

Justice Douglas wrote for the minority, "it is no concern of government what an employee does in his or her spare time, whether religion, recreation, social work or politics is his hobby. unless what he or she does impairs efficiency or other facets of the merits of the job."

In a second case, involving Oklahoma's equivalent of the Hatch Act, the vote was 5 to 4 to uphold its validity, with Justice Potter Stewart joining the three dissenters in the Federal law decision.

The coalition of American Public Employees, which includes some four million civil service employees, teachers and firemen, said in a statement: "We are shocked that the Court refused to take action that is so long overdue."

Denying Government workers the right to participate in political parties and campaigns "is to deny them a basic civil liberty," Ralph Flynn, director of the coalition declared. "We believe it is possible - and necessary - to allow this participation without endangering the impartiality of government or risking reinstatement of the spoils system."

The Supreme Court's decision reversed a three-judged Federal District Court in the District of Columbia, which had found the Hatch Act unconstitutional because it incorporated a host of vague and confusing civil service regulations, many of them more than 30 years old.

In the Oklahoma case, the Justices affirmed a finding by Federal District Court that the state statute was constitutional In a brief order without opinion, the Court also upheld a comparable law in Utah, 8 to 1

Bronx Community College, in conjunction with the American Red Cross, is offering a standard first aid course to assist the business community in meeting the requirements of the recently enacted Occupational Safety and Health Act.

That law, enforced by the Dept. of Labor, stipulates that any organization employing 15 or more persons, must provide facilities to treat injured employees by having at least one employee carry certification in first aid.

BCC is offering two four-hour sessions or one eight-hour session, in English and/or Spanish, at the college's facilities or at the business' locations.

Applications are being accepted for the September course. Upon receipt of application, BCC will respond with exact dates of the course.

There is still room for four more applicants in the July class, which will be held on July 10 and 11 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Evening courses will also be conducted from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

The fee is $30 per person.
Interested persons should contact Multimedia Course, Bronx Community College, 120 East 184 St., Bronx, N.Y. 10468, or telephone 960-8342.

Successful candidates will receive certificates in first aid.

By failing to meet the requirements of the Occupational and Safety and Health Act, businesses are subject to fines up to $10,000 or up to six months, imprisonment.

Hatch Act Ruling Doesn't Make Sense

THE United States Supreme Court last week ruled that the Federal Government's Hatch Act, which forbids political activity on the part of U.S. employees, was constitutional. The ruling applies to similar laws in this and other states.

We take extreme exception to the majority opinion, written by Justice Byron R. White, which says that "it is in the best interest of the country, indeed essential, that Federal service should depend on meritorious performance rather than political service and that the influence on other and on the electoral process shall be limited."

Can Justice White be unaware of the existence of Merit System appointments which cover most public employees in the U.S. Government and most states and which, therefore, guarantee that civil servants' jobs cannot be tampered with by politicians?

Also, what is wrong with public employees enjoying the right of every American to engage in the political processes? Why shouldn't they be allowed to influence opinion? Everyone else can! The intimation that there is something insidious in civil servants engaging in political activities is an insult to all public employees.

There is a remedy to this ruling, however, and that is for public employee unions to band together and urge Congress and local legislatures to repeal the Hatch and similar laws. Let's get going!

Q. I've been getting social security disability payments for almost 5 years. Because I need constant medication, my drug bills amount to nearly $50 every month. Will Medicare help pay these bills?

A. Drugs are only covered by Medicare in specific situations. The hospital insurance program will pay for drugs you receive while a patient in a hospital or skilled nursing facility. The medical insurance program covers only drugs which cannot be selfadministered and are received either in a physician's office or as a hospital outpatient.

Q. Over the years I've accumulated 51 quarters of coverage under social security. However, for the last 2 years and until I retire in 6 more years, I'll be working at a civil service job and won't be getting social security coverage. My brother recently told me that he thinks I have to be working under social security at the time I retire in order to get monthly benefits.

Is my brother right?

A. No. The amount of work (quarters of coverage) you need under social security to be eligible for monthly payments is determined by your date of birth, but no worker needs more than 40 quarters of coverage to be insured for life. Since you have 51 quarters of coverage, you are already insured and will be eligible for monthly benefits when you reach retirement age.

The amount of your monthly check, however, is not based on quarters, but on your average yearly earnings covered by social security over a period of

Dean To Parole

ALBANY - Schuyler County Sheriff Maurice F. Dean has been appointed to the State Parole Board for a term ending June 18, 1976, effective August 1. He will succeed John F. Schoonmaker, resigned, in the $32,075 post.

Of course, this view is not shared by his opponents - Senator John Marchi, Republican, Congressman Mario Biaggi, Conservative, and Assembly Deputy Minority Leader Albert H. Blumenthal. New Yorkers are independent voters and tend to pay not too much attention to party labels. Just four years ago, Mayor John V. Lindsay was elected on the Liberal ticket, and his vote exceeded by far the number of enrolled Liberal Party members.

As the front runner, Beame will become the target of all his opponents. Marchi will, of course, seek to hold in line the Republican voters while chipping away at Beame's strength among the more conservative Democrats. Biaggi, too, who ran a remarkably strong third in the initial primary, will seek to invade the conservative Democrats. As part of his strategy. Biaggi plans to run also on an independent line, a move which is likely to offend some Conservative Party leaders. From the other end of the political spectrum, Blumenthal will attempt to chip away at Beame's strength among liberal Democrats.

In addition to the numerical strength of the Democrats over other parties. Beame for the first time in many years for Democratic candidates, will have the support of a unified Democratic Party. Four years ago, the New Democratic Coalition deserted former City Comptroller Mario Procaccino to support Lindsay. This time, however, the New Democratic Coalition will stick with Beame.

In part this stems from the fact that his running mates Paul O'Dwyer, for Council President, and Senator Harrison J. Goldin, for Comptroller, are both active members of the Coalition. In part it results from the fact that while Beame has firm roots in the regular Democratic organization he has deftly side stepped the idealogical differences between the two generally warring party factions.

Gubernatorial Race

From a long range point of view, the question arises whether Beame will be able to sustain unity for the 1974 gubernatorial election. Howard Samuels, a likely contender for the Democratic nomination for Governor next year, was an early boarder of the Beame bandwagon. Presumably other Democratic hopefuls will support Beame.

A contest is also looming for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant Governor among Assemblyman Anthony DiFalco. Anthony Olivieri, and Yonker's Mayor Alfred B. DelBello, Four years ago, former Senator Basil A. Paterson won the Democratic primary for that office.

In addition, the Democrats have not yet heard from the Democratic Caucus of Black Officials nor from the Puerto Rican community. The latter community has been galvanized into political action as a result of the fine showing of Congressman Herman Badillo.

Whether Beame at City Hall can ease the strains that typically divide the Democrats is really a big question mark. Only if he does succeed will the Democrats be able to launch a meaningful campaign next year against Governor Rockefeller and the Republican ticket.

Civil Service Law & You

By RICHARD GABA THE THE PARTY OF T

Mr. Gaba is a member of the firm of White, Walsh and Gaba, P.C., and chairman of the Nassau County Bar Association Labor Law Committee.

One Must Negotiate In Good Faith

In a recent decision by Supreme Court, Albany County, it was decided that the court had jurisdiction to enforce an order of state PERB directing the City of White Plains to comply with PERB's decision ordering the city to negotiate in good faith with the Professional Fire Fighters Association of White Plains, Inc.

In 1971, the Fire Fighters filed a charge with State PERB, in which it was alleged that the City of White Plains was committing improper practices under section 209(a) of the Taylor Law by refusing to negotiate in good faith. The charges were levied with regard to six separate demands of the union allegedly made during the course of negotiations between the union and the City of White Plains. PERB decided on February 18, 1972 to dismiss four of the charges while they sustained two of the charges. In its decision, PERB directed the City of White Plains to negotiate with the union in good faith with respect to those two demands which had to do with tours of duty and the number and makeup of the firemen assigned to each tour.

Section 213(a) of the Taylor Law provides a means whereby the city could obtain judicial review of the PERB determination within thirty days. The city failed to commence such a proceeding, and in fact, in the case before the court commenced by PERB to enforce its own order, the city contended that it was presently negotiating in good faith, and therefore, no enforcement was necessary. The city also argued that the court should not entertain jurisdiction of this proceeding until all of the administrative procedures under the Taylor Law which govern improper practices had been exhausted; that is, the city contended there should be another administrative hearing to determine whether or not the city was now, in fact, negotiating in good faith in response to the PERB order. The court, in granting PERB's petition, stated that to follow the suggestion of the City of White Plains, that another administrative hearing be conducted, would deprive PERB orders of finality and make possible endless openings of the case. The city's allegation that it is now negotiating in good faith does not make the issue moot.

PERB argues that the issue of non-compliance is not necessarily before the court. The only issue was whether or not the court had the authority and jurisdiction to direct the City of White Plains to comply with the PERB decision. The court was careful to point out that it was making no determination as to the substantive issue of bargaining in good faith. Its decision was limited to a finding that the PERB order may be enforced by a judicial declaration of the court. In the Matter of New York State PERB v. City of White Plains, 343 NYS 2d 415.

It is most interesting to speculate as to what the remedy would be in the event that the City of White Plains refused to abide by the court's order and was found to be in contempt.

Council members receive $1,500 annually.

Cleary To Creedmoor

ALBANY - The Governor has appointed Mrs. Gertrude A. Cleary, of Flushing, to the Board of Visitors of Creedmoor State Hospital for a term ending Dec. 31, 1975. There is no salary.

For the past two weeks, I have been replying in print to a letter received from federal firefighter Charles R. Bowman Jr. In his concluding paragraph of that letter, he wrote: "I wish you success in your endeavor but it won't be easy, even though it is the right thing for the City of New York both operationally and financially."

The reason I have thus taken causes unto myself, even though odious to the Administration, is precisely for the reasons which Bowman stated.

We have reviewed this column's stand on the loss of the three fireboats. Last week I reviewed the situation about 911 and the fact that it is not working. There is another facet of 911 which I have also gone after. As a result of its having been mentioned here, an investigation was ordered by Commissioner Lowery. The report went in quite some time ago, but to date, nothing has come from it, and I am led to believe that the report now languishes on the desk of somebody somewhere with no action scheduled or contemplated.

The facet I mention now is a repeat of past complaints about the subject. It has to do with police radio cars arriving at the scene of fires before the arrival of the Fire Department, with resultant blocking of hydrants and/or access to fire buildings. I do know from trustworthy sources that the telephone operators at police headquarters have specific instruction to give a fire call first to the police radio room before putting the call through to the Fire Department.

through to the Fire Department. I will detail several incidents First, a record was kept by three battalions in the Harlem area for the month of March. During the month, the police had arrived before the fire apparatus and were going through the building with their cars locked in the street and unmovable 33 times. In one case when the apparatus arrived, four cars were parked side by side making it impossible for apparatus to get to the fire building or for lines to be stretched from either end of the block. An irate firefighter, in desperation, had to actually demand that the cars be removed and was told by the police that there would be plenty of summonses written in firehouse blocks pronto. When the companies, Ladder 23 and Engine 80, got back to quarters, they found that two cops had kept their word with a vengence. As the cops departed, their last words were . and when you're getting bombed with bricks and bottles this summer, don't call us,

On a recent night in May, I responded in Harlem between midnight and 6 a.m. and covered seven alarms. In one case, the fire was in a 15-story building. Upon arrival, a locked police car blocked a driveway which would have had to be used for placement of the ladder in case of a high rescue. Smoke was seen coming from the 14th floor windows. When Engine 69 and Ladder 28 got to the elevator with tools and rolled up lengths, the elevator door opened and two police officers came out telling the troops that there was no fire upstairs and that everything was OK. When the troops got to the top floor, the place was full of smoke. After forcing the door to the fire apartment, a man was found in a half-conscious state from smoke due to a fire in the kitchen.

The thing that was significant was that the police car received the alarm so far in advance of the Fire Department that they were able to get there, go up 13 stories (they stopped there for some reason), look around and come all the way down again to report no fire. Of the seven alarms that night, the police were there ahead of the Fire Department in six instances. In the seventh, when they were needed for security, they were not, and had to be special called through the dispatcher. To date, action on this subject remains one big zero. Finally, I elected to express my rinally, I elected to express my unhappiness about the elimination and/or relocation of various companies for reasons which I somehow fail to perceive. I was especially appalled by the removal of Squad #1 from the Harlem area where everyone there knew of its importance. Since November 22nd, when the company was sent to the Bronx, there have been 118 "all hands," or Signal 10-75's, to which that company would have responded and at which its service were needed. In eight of those 118, "75's" there were eight 10-45's, or death by fire. In seven cases, there were one each, and in one case two. Squad #1 still remains in the Bronx. The men in Harlem (blueshirts and white hats both, continue to say, "if we only had had the squad, it may have been different").

So Charley, we go on, pointing out the truth, and for the most part, getting nowhere. Somebody called me after the last column and said, "We're going to take up a collection to buy you a suit of armor." Another caller pokingly said "you better watch out . . . Chief O'Hagen will put another boat out of service just to get even with you." I had a good laugh. Thank God I haven't lost my sense of humor. In spite of all these things,

In spite of all these things, firefighters still give of themselves totally, the hearts of their loved ones still skip a beat or two as their men leave for their tours; the widows still weep as they receive their posthumous medals (it takes me days to recover from the sight) and the F.D.N.Y. stil remains great.

With best regards,

Paul Thayer.

N.Y.C. List Progress

The listing below shows the status of eligible lists from which certifications have recently been made. Certification is basically an administrative process. The City Personnel Department "certifies" eligibles, which means supplying their names to appointing agencies. The agencies then may call the certified eligible for job interviews.

Eligibles may either fill existing vacancies or replace provisionals. After certification, however, a background investigation is conducted to confirm items such as citizenship, license or diploma as required. A medical exam will also be given prior to appointment.

Those who fail to appear when notified of an interview or decline appointment at the interview will be removed from the list. To have their names restored to the list, they must ask the Personnel Department. When restored, their names are placed at the bostom of the list, providing it is still in existence.

Those certified but not interviewed remain in this list order and are recertified a hiring is next conducted.

"OC" indicates an open competitive eligible list, "prom" a promotonal list, and "SM" a special military list. The exam number and date the eligible list was established are given in parenthesis.

For more information about the certification process, contact the Department of Personnel at 566-8804 or 8809.

Vizzini Blasts 'Phoney' Alarm Box Demonstration

Last week, following a demonstration of the new Emergency Reporting System, Richard J. Vizzini, president-elect of the Uniformed Firefighters Association, charged Mayor Lindsay and Fire Commissioner Robert Lowery with fraud.

In response to Vizzini's charges, Commissioner Lowery as yet has no comment.

The statement Vizzini made is

"Escalating a calculated program of sham and deception to fool New Yorkers on the shameful lack of adequate fire protection, the Fire Department has now gone to the extreme of even 'setting up' Mayor Lindsay, TV and other newsmen and the public at a recent 'test' of voice alarm boxes.

"With the press and public summoned, Mayor Lindsay, with Commissioner Lowery looking on, was 'set' to test Box #2136 at 2:30 p.m., Thursday, June 14, at Willis Avenue and 136th Street, the Bronx.

"When Mayor Lindsay activated the police side of the alarm box, the alarm did not go to Police Headquarters but to the Bronx Fire Dispatchers Office on 180th Street, where a Fire Dispatcher was ordered to fraudulently identify himself as Police Operator #826," Vizzini charged.

"During the 'test' of the Fire Department side of the box, Spanish-speaking newsman was hoodwinked into placing the alarm. This was in keeping with the information given by the Department - and later relayed on TV newcasts that Spanishspeaking dispatchers were available to accept voice alarms from Spanish-speaking individuals.

"The truth is that there is only one Spanish-speaking dispatcher in the Department and he is regularly stationed in Manhattan. His regular day off happened to be June 14. Nevertheless, he was ordered, for purposes of the phony 'test' to report on his day off to the Bronx Dispatchers office so that he could receive the test call. Our information is that neither the Mayor nor the press nor public was aware of this deception," Vizzini alledged.

"The UFA has warned repeatedly as the Fire Department has continued to cut corners, institute false economies and otherwise jeopardize the lives and safety of New Yorkers that this system will not work - particularly in ghetto areas - for many self-evident reasons.

"Individuals who do not speak English well - and there are literally dozens of tongues other than Spanish spoken in this city - would have difficulty in transmitting an alarm. Add to this the normal fright and excitement of a person calling for help and the danger is compounded. And how about deaf-mutes or other physically handicapped persons?

"Neither has the press or public been apprised of the fact that, when one voice alarm box is in use in a neighborhood, another one in the neighborhood cannot be used until the first box frees the line. Additionally, if a person turning in a voice alarm does not respond - from fear panic or rushing to the scene of the emergency to help - the Department sends merely one engine company to 'investigate.'

"The Fire Department is clearly gambling - with the lives and property of New Yorkers.

"Another serious shortcoming of ERS boxes has been concealed from the public. Rain and

School Lunch Managers To Get Back Pay: Bauch

Herbert S. Bauch, president of Terminal Employees Local 832, this week hailed the decision of the Board of Education to pay the entire salary increase of $800.00 per year that Local 832 negotiated for the school lunch managers occupational group. The agreement is a joint determination between Local 832 and the Board of Education that the increases for the years January 1, 1972 to December 31, 1972, and January 1, 1973 to December 31, 1973, are justified under the criteria established in the Phase III regulations.

Sidney Sokol, chief negotiator and general counsel of Local 832, said he was informed that the administrator of financial operations of the Board of Education had been instructed to begin preparations for the processing of the increases for 1972 and 1973 and to bring these increases up-to-date with retroactive payments to all school lunch managers as soon as possible.

Sokol was able to arrive at the agreement with the board by showing that the increases in question were justified "under the criteria for approval of exceptions to the general wage and salary standard set forth in the policies, rules, and regulations of the Council and the Pay Board in effect prior to

January 11, 1973

The local president said that the payment of this retroactive pay to all school lunch managers would conclude a difficult period for the selfool lunch managers who had patiently waited for their salary increases. He seld much of the credit for the negotiations went to the negotiating committee which included co-chairmen Florence Greene, Sylvia Gottlieb, Reginald Richards and Valerie Johnson, all led by Sokol.

The union president said that indications were that the back pay would be in the hands of all school lunch managers within the next 30 to 60 days.

to arrive at the conclusion that the average allowance of those who retired with similar service five, ten, and fifteen years ago is paltry at best.

The supplementation that was provided in the form of a costof-living adjustment, which first appeared in 1966 only to be terminated a few short years later for all who retired after January 1, 1969, provided some needed relief to the retiree but still fell far short of providing necessary income to maintain an independent and decent standard of living. The United States Bureau of Labor Statistics says that a retired couple residing today in a metropolitan area of New York State needs approximately $5,200 to maintain a moderate standard of living. Today's average retired member of the NYSERS has an income that does not even come close to this figure, even when Social Security is added to his retirement allowance.

We urge this Committee to give recognition to the needs of retired public employees and to recommend to the Governor and the Legislature enactment of legislation which would make permanent a cost-of-living adjustment for all members of the NYSERS who retired prior to April 1, 1970, and which would provide for retirement allowance adjustment which corresponds with annual increases in the National Consumers Price Index. Attached to our statement you will find our specific legislative proposals in this regard.

Failure to restore the costof-living adjustment as a meaningful and permanent benefit will be nothing more than a reaffirmation of the callous disregard this government has shown toward its retirees. Ignoring us and our needs may well be an attractive alternative in your dealings with the issue of public pension benefits. After all, we can do you no harm; we will not strike against you, and we have no way in which to make up at the bargaining table what you have taken from us because you have given us no collective bargaining law.

Continued Shame

Should you choose this easy way out, then your shame will continue. When you walk into the parks and you see us sitting, watching, and waiting, you will continue to feel we have intruded upon your view of lovely lawns and flowers, and you will once again hurry by, avoiding our eyes. In the markets as you pile your baskets high, you will pretend not to see those of us who move toward the specials on dented canned goods, browned and spoiled fruit and day-old bread. And as you get ready to gather your family for vacation at the shore, you will not give a thought to those of us who must agonize over an expenditure of 30 cents for car fare to windowshop downtown. In the final analysis, it will mean that in exchange for a lifetime of work that we have given to you, you choose to look upon us as an aged mass of frail and shaking bodies with minds that babble on backward in time without sense or meaning to be cast aside and forgotten

Gentlemen, we trust that you will not let that happen and that you will extend to us some measure of human dignity by supporting our request.

Political Action Comm. Outlines Plans For The Session On Retirement

ALBANY - The Civil Service Employees Assn.'s political action committee met last week to outline plans for the union's involvement in the July special session of the state legislature and reported on the status of "pocket meetings" throughout the state between local members of the committee and their legislators.

Thomas McDonough, Chairman of the statewide CSEA political action group, said that "in many areas our committee people have already met with members of the legislature and have had outstanding success in communicating our ideas concerning the status of temporary benefits and cost-of-living considerations for retirees."

McDonough was particularly pleased with recent statements by Milton Alpert, chairman of the state's select committee appointed to further study the question of public employee pensions. Alpert, in several media interviews, indicated that his committee would be taking up the question of making temporary benefits permanent for political subdivision employees and was reported by some sources as favorably inclined.

Meeting Again

CSEA's committee is to meet again on July 17 to consider both the select committee's report to the State Legislature. due on July 15, as well as input from continued legislative contact by CSEA political action groups at the local level throughout the State.

Suggestions were brought forth by several members of the committee which indicated, as one spokesman put it, "that it should keep the pressure on right up to the very end." The members felt that chapter presidents should be brought in from statewide during the special session to exert a final "in-person" effort on legislators from their respective areas. Some members recommended that this approach be considered in conjunction with, or as an alternative to, the CSEA county division demonstration presently called for by the Association's board of directors.

The CSEA board, at its meeting, moved that local government chapters throughout the state should consider adding busloads of concerned members to the Capitol at Albany to demonstrate during the special session.

Stand By

McDono gh's committee members suggested that CSEA's chapter presidents carry this plan one step further and come to Albany for the duration of the special session. The committee felt that, in view of the accoptivity they have already enjoyed in local "pocket meetings," chapter presidents should group themselves by locality and see their respective legislators on the scene while the session was actually in progress.

Governor Rockefeller has called the Legislature in on July 23. McDonough's comittee is to meet just prior to CSEA's regularly scheduled board of directors meeting on July 18. His committee expects to announce final recommendations at that meet-
