OUR STUDENT COUNCIL

Where has the pride of Milne gone? Are we such children that we can't take care of a few responsibilities placed on our shoulders? Lately, in Student Council, the answer seems to be "Yes, we can't". Only a few days ago when one representative came into homeroom "X", he started to talk about the Field Day, and when he came to the part concerning the amount of money in the Council treasury, he stated they were not sure of the sum because the former treasurer did not keep track and had resigned. The inefficiency of the Council seems to increase more and more.

Also, why are the Student Council representatives electing themselves traffic officers? Is it to protect themselves from getting tickets and at the same time receive five extra service points besides the ten he gets for being on Council?

ARE WE DISHONEST?

Our roving reporter has noticed many unbelievable things about school, such as taking food out of the annex, but, worse of all, stealing it from the annex stands. We hope that we are not foolish enough to be tempted to steal as it is a habit which brings no good. We hope the guilty parties will read this and resist any temptation in the future.

CLASS TO ISSUE BOOKLET

The 7-D social study class is planning a booklet named "Guide to Recreation in Albany". On the committee are John Dyer, David Fuld, Doris Wogatske, and Helen Culp.

** CHARACTER SKETCH **

This week we pick a seventh grader. He or she has red hair, freckles, is a very good student in math, eats in the Annex, and has been absent recently.

Persons handling in the name of this individual are requested to put on the day and hour when the name is placed in the "Crimson and White" drawer.

Betty Miller, Ann Loucks, and Phyllis Reed guessed the last character correctly.

8TH GRADE BOYS TO HAVE
BOAT RACES IN NEAR FUTURE

The races with the boats which the 8th grade boys have made in the shop are expected to be conducted soon. The exact date will be announced in each homeroom. The events will be on the Washington Park lake, past the west side of the bridge. Boats will be given to the boys at 2 P. M. on the day of the race so that each boy will have an equal opportunity to try out his vessel.

There will be four contestants in each of the four races, and the winner of each will enter the final race for the cup which has been purchased by the boys of the 8th grade.

The judges are Evelyn Wilbur, 227, Doris Holmes, 127, and Sally Devereaux, 121. Their decisions will be final.

The committee in charge of the races is Harmon Patten, John Van Acker, Robert Bingham, and John Schamberger.

FIELD DAY AND THE BOY SCOUTS

"Do you think that the Field Day should be set for another day as nearly fifty boys of Milne are Boy Scouts and plan to attend their Pow-wow on June 6 and will not be able to attend the Field Day?" is the question the Roving Reporter has asked a number of Milne students this week. The answers were as follows:

Leroy Smith, 227, no; Edna Corwin, 135, yes; Edward Meghreblian, 126, no; Martin Edwards, 135, yes; Carroll Boyce, 135, yes; Stanley Swift, 124, yes; Virginia Tripp, 226, yes; Charles Barnes, 121, yes; Arthur Bates, 121, yes; Sally Devereaux, 121, yes; and Suzanne Roberts 121, yes.

The majority of the people who said "yes" stated that those fifty boys pay their student tax but can never go because of the Pow-wow. The date should be set ahead or back to enable this group to attend both events.

The persons who said "no" mentioned that those fifty boys are really only one-eighth of Milne's total students and those comparatively few should not keep the rest from going on the date they had planned.
