J. Earl Kelly Seeks Higher Pay for 121

ALBANY, Dec. 8 — J. Earl Kelly, director of classification and compensation in the State Department of Civil Service, has made public the following recommendations he has made to the State Budget Director:

The classification of 20 senior truck weigher jobs requested by the Department of Public Works for its 20 truck weighing stations now in operation.

Higher salary allocations for the 59 industrial foremen positions at various levels in prisons and other institutions of the Correction Department.

Higher salary allocations and new job titles for 53 clerical positions in the fingerprint section of the Correction Department's main office in Albany.

New titles and higher salary allocation for nine senior mechanical stores clerks in district highway shops of the Department of Public Works.

The recommendations will become effective if approved by the Budget Director.

The Truck Weigher Jobs

The recommended senior truck weigher jobs would provide a supervisory position at each of the stations now operated by the Public Works Department in connection with the State's truck mileage tax law. They would be at salary grade 7, which goes from $2,931 to $3,731 in five annual increases. The stations, which operate around the clock, seven days a week, now have two truck weighers on duty at all times. There is at present no senior truck weigher title.

Industrial Foreman Jobs

The industrial foremen jobs involve supervision of some 3,000 inmates in such prison industries as the manufacture of license plates, shoes, cotton and woolen textiles. Mr. Kelly recommended that the six assistant industrial foreman jobs be raised from salary grade 8 ($3,091-$3,891) to grade 9 ($3,251-$4,052); that the 44 industrial foreman positions be upped from grade 11 ($3,571-$4,372) to grade 14 ($4,053-$4,889), and that the nine general industrial foremen be boosted from grade 16 ($4,359-$5,189) to grade 19 ($4,814-$5,938).

Fingerprint Clerks

The recommendations concerning the fingerprint clerks include: changing 36 clerks (fingerprinting) at grade 2 ($2,180-$2,984) to fingerprint clerks at grade 4 ($2,451-$3,251); 13 senior clerks (fingerprinting) at grade 6 ($2,771-$3,571) to senior fingerprint clerks at grade 7, and four principal clerks (fingerprinting) at grade 10 ($3,411-$4,212) to principal fingerprinting clerks at grade 11.

Stores Clerks

The nine senior mechanical stores clerks affected by the recommendations work, one at each of the district highway maintenance shops of the Public Works Department, except Babylon. Under the move, they would become public works district store keeper at grade 8. Their present title is at grade 7.

Salt Lake City Aides Vote for Social Security

By an overwhelming majority, city employees of Salt Lake City, Utah, voted recently to drop the city retirement system in order to become eligible for federal social security welfare benefits. The vote was 89 percent for social security and 11 percent for retaining the city pension program.

As a result of this vote, all city employees will receive a refund of monies paid into the city's pension program, after deductions are made to obtain retroactive coverage under social security to January 1, 1951.

Members of the State Health Department staff participate in a courthouse scene, in connection with "Laboratory Techniques and Their Significance in the Field of Medico-Legal Investigation." Reading from left to right, in Albany Supreme Court chambers, as they played out the scene for photographers, are: Earl W. Murray, Director of Legal Affairs, (seated) counsel for the defense; Joseph Sherber, Medical Services, who acted the defendant; William Van Auken, court officer, Supreme Court; Supreme Court Justice Isadore Bookstein, who participated as himself; Hollis S. Ingraham, M.D., Assistant Commissioner, on the witness stand; Clifford Hodge, Public Health Education, as court stenographer; Assistant Attorney General Emanuel Bund, as prosecuting attorney; Roy L. Cramer, Robert French and Mrs. Kathleen Boland, jurors (first row) and Robert Crist, juror (second row). The fine photograph is by James Jordan, Health Department Photographic Unit, assisted by John J. Tiley. Story on p. 13.

State Gives Public Another Chance to Say Which Titles Should Be Competitive

ALBANY, Dec. 8 — The final hearing by the State Civil Service Commission on titles it felt should be considered for possible inclusion in the competitive class, although now in the exempt or non-competitive class, will be held in one of the Commission's hearing rooms in the State Office Building here at 2 P. M. on Tuesday, December 16. President J. Edward Conway will preside and Commissioners Alexander A. Falk and Louise C. Gerry will be present.

In January or February the Commission will hold probably two hearings on titles to be proposed for jurisdictional reclassification by employee groups and others. When these are finished, the Commission will hold no more hearings but will study the testimony and make an affirmative or negative recommendation regarding each title.

Plan for Outside Ideas

While plans have not been perfected for the method of public initiation of titles for consideration, it is expected the Commission will issue an invitation to employee groups and to the public at large to submit recommendations regarding titles not already considered. Then a program will be arranged for the hearings and an opportunity given to the proponents to argue their case.

The investigation of titles for possible inclusion in the competitive class was begun by the Commission more than a year ago. The Commission has held four hearings. Thus by the time it begins to evaluate the evidence it will have held seven hearings.

A spokesman pointed out that the mere fact that the Commission itself brings up a title for consideration is no assurance that the title will be recommended for inclusion in the competitive class, but only that it deserved consideration as to whether or not it should be included.

DON'T REPEAT THIS

NYC Mayoralty Drive Gets Hot; Groups Grope At Coalition

THE CAMPAIGN for the NYC Mayoralty, with its State-wide repercussions, has begun early this year. Moreover, the conditions for a unique, unpredictable denouement are present. The number of prospective candidates is large; their general quality is high; and there is evidence that the electorate, which has shown its independence in three elections, is willing to take a man without regard to his political affiliations if he can build confidence in his ability to solve the awful municipal problems which New York City faces. These problems disturb the people more than ever before. They don't slough them off with a shrug. The strength of the old political machinery is ebbing. Nor have the tycoons of this machinery shown any great resiliency in adjusting to the more acute political mentality that pervades the City's voters.

A Vacuum Fills

A partial political vacuum exists. Into this vacuum a number of new groups are rushing. Their activities cannot be pooh-poohed. They may conceivably show the strength to name a Mayor. Negatively, they will be even in a better position to count out certain of the prospects.

Typical of what is happening are certain specific moves, all of them ahead of the usual Mayoreity time-table. They're arriving early.

Social Security For Public Aides Opens Problems

ALBANY, Dec. 8 — Possibility of extending Federal Social Security coverage to public workers in New York State continues to tax the minds of the Comptroller's special committee studying the problem. The LEADER learned last week.

As the committee probes further into the problem it apparently encounters more situations which place roadblocks across its path.

Obstacles

One of the chief obstacles facing the committee, which has been asked to come up with some recommendations prior to the end of the 1953 Legislative session, is the State's constitutional guarantee to provide retirement benefits.

A spokesman for the Department of Audit and Control explained that even if this constitutional provision were repealed—as was the case in Virginia, for example — the State would not be relieved of the requirement to continue benefits to those already retired.

Examining Everything

The Committee has had four meetings and probably will have two more this month. It is examining into all phases of coverage, including the matter of temporary employees, municipal employees in upstate jurisdictions and public workers in New York City.

Each of these facets presents its own problems.

Another problem is the rigidity of Federal conditions which must of course be considered in any combining of Social Security with retirement benefits or in extending Social Security to areas not now covered by either Federal or State plans.

Final Action Is Near On Attendance Rules

ALBANY, Dec. 8 — The final draft of revised institutional attendance rules, approved by the State Civil Service Commission and tentatively approved by Budget Director T. Norman Hurd, has been submitted by the Commission to State officials and employee organizations.

The draft includes changes recommended by the Civil Service Employees Association and others proposed by officials of the Departments of Mental Hygiene, Social Welfare, Health and Correction.

The Commission is pressing its effort to obtain general agreement. The Commission felt that the final draft represents a result as close to total agreement as could be accomplished, pointing out that to achieve agreement on all points would always be impossible.

The Association's special committee on attendance rules, of which Dr. Wayne W. Soper is chairman, has been actively working with the Commission in an endeavor to bring about improvement of the attendance rules, which both the employers and the employees agree need revision. CSEA President Jesse B. McFarland, William F. McDonough, his administrative assistant, John J. Kelly, Jr., assistant counsel to the CSEA, and others from the Association have attended conferences and otherwise aided in preliminary drafts.

The Association is weighing the Commission's "final draft." It is expected that further conferences will be held with Commission officials. The Commission has stated that the whole problem was discussed in round-table fashion.

One of the factors that delayed the final draft somewhat was the cost of some of the proposals included, especially if they deal with holidays or hours of work. In institutions overtime is paid for at regular rates. However, as soon as the Budget Director's tentative approval was obtained, the copies of the final draft were run off and sent out.

Departmental Rules Next

The Commission feels that the attendance rules for the departmental service are equally in need of revision and plans to tackle that job soon after the new rules for the institutions are adopted.

It is several years since the departmental attendance rules have been completely overhauled, and the Commission says that piecemeal amendments, in addition to the normal process of such rules becoming outdated, combine to make their revision necessary.

County and Local Workers Doing Big Job in Membership Campaign of Association

Conway Asks Kelly to Up Artist's Pay

ALBANY, Dec. 8 — The boss made a plea to one of his aides for a raise. But it wasn't a raise for himself and the aide was as inquisitive about the merits of the case as he would be if some stranger were before him.

The man in the chair was J. Earl Kelly, director of Classification and Compensation, State Civil Service Department, and the supplicant was President J. Edward Conway of the State Civil Service Commission. The President heads both the department and the Commission.

The plea was for the upward reallocation of the department's artist-designer, from G-20 to G-25. Mr. Kelly reserved decision.

Later Mr. Kelly heard a plea for upgrading examiners of State payrolls from G-8 to G-10. They are employed by the Civil Service Department, which backed the appeal. President Conway was not present during the argument on that case.

An idea for improving State service and saving taxpayers' money earned $150 for Joseph M. Kutey, mail clerk with the State Department of Commerce. Presenting the award on behalf of the State is Alfred J. Worsdell, Jr., first deputy commissioner of the State Department of Commerce. Ronald B. Peterson, left, is chairman of the department's merit award committee. Mr. Kutey's suggestion will reduce mailing costs on certain State publications. He has been an employee of the department for seven years.

State Mental Health Group Reports on New Projects

ALBANY, Dec. 10 — Twenty-seven new local mental health facilities have been established in New York State communities through the help of the New York State Mental Health Commission.

A report to Governor Dewey summarizes the work of the Mental Health Commission during the three years it has been in existence.

Created within the Department of Mental Hygiene by legislative action in 1949, the Commission was charged with the task of devising a master plan for community mental health programs which might serve as a model throughout the state. Consisting of the commissioners of five State departments, the Mental Health Commission has attempted to coordinate on both state and local levels the activities of various public, private, and voluntary agencies operating in the field of mental health.

Dr. Newton Bigelow, Commissioner of Mental Hygiene and chairman of the Commission, released the report.

Active Locally

The Commission has been very active in the development of local mental health services, according to Dr. Ernest M. Greunberg, Executive Director, assisting

'Janie' Doll Makes Hit

"Janie," the big little-girl doll, is being not only ordered but re-ordered by civil service employees everywhere. Orders for six and more dolls are not uncommon. In fact, Miss Lillian Rosse, Governor Dewey's secretary, ordered a half-dozen. And Kathleen Grace Lockwood, wife of the Public Service Commissioner, ordered two. "Janie" has really been the hit of the season in civil service. You'll see "Janie" on page 7.

local organizations in the establishment of clinics, both financially and through its advisory service. Other programs now being developed on an experimental basis, with financial support, are psychiatric services in general hospitals and residential treatment centers for children with personality disturbances.

This year the Commission has embarked on a significant program dealing with the problem of alcoholism.

In its program of education the Commission has concentrated on the training of psychiatric personnel and the mental hygiene orientation of professional workers in related fields.

Financial assistance has been provided for advanced professional education of qualified personnel, the Commission reports. One-year scholarships of $1,800 to $2,400 have been awarded to 83 psychiatric social workers, 33 psychiatric nurses, 27 occupational therapists, and 7 consultant public health nurses. In addition 247 professional staff members of the Department of Mental Hygiene and its institutions have taken one or more courses, with tuition paid by the Commission.

Research in Syracuse

The Commission's research program includes an intensive study in the city of Syracuse which seeks the answers to a number of questions, listed as follows:

1. Why older people are entering mental hospitals at much higher rates than they did formerly.
2. Why some parts of any city have much lower mental hospital admission rates than others.
3. How to reduce the number of people in mental institutions (now almost 1% of the total population).
4. How to determine needs for community mental health and plan their development.
5. How to tell whether any community programs are affecting the rates at which mental illness occur.

Chauffeurs Submit Case To T. N. Hurd

ALBANY, Dec. 8 — The request of chauffeurs at Brooklyn State Hospital for retroactive credit for standby duty has been submitted to Budget Director T. Norman Hurd. The seven chauffeurs at the hospital are awaiting a ruling.

The total of the hours worked by the men is, they say, 22 years, five months and 20 days, for standby duty between 5 P.M. and 8 A.M. They did receive credit for any time during which they actually drove cars but assert that standing by is compensable of itself, as the duty made it impossible for them even to leave their homes. They cite a 1937 ruling by the State Attorney General which, they say, holds that the State has legal authority to grant credit for such standby duty.

Laboratory and Research, Dept. of Health

HEARD FROM the Laboratory and Research, Department of Health chapter, CSEA:

F. Wellington Gilcreas, assistant director in charge of the sanitation laboratories, has just returned from a month's stay in Europe where he served as consultant to the World Health Organization of Geneva, Switzerland. One week was spent in England, where he attended a seminar for European sanitary engineers on the WHO program for international standards of water quality and analysis. Highlight of Mr. Gilcreas' trip was the visit to the Institute for Research in Dairying, at Reading, England, where the Kay-Graham phosphatase test of milk was developed. Mr. Gilcreas himself did much of the work in developing the sodification now used in the United States.

The chapter regrets the loss, through retirement, of Dora Ecker. Miss Ecker, lab launderer, with 33 years of State service, will be missed. Good nature and a sunny disposition were her forte. The chapter wishes her many happy days.

Doctor's orders are the reason Michael Leonard is leaving the lab. Best of luck to you, Mickey.

Lenore O'Neil left the lab on November 25. She will reside in Chicago with an uncle, an official of the Salvation Army.

Rose Ann Boevin is leaving to take up nurse's training at Syracuse University.

On December 1, Mr. A. Renjilian left for military service. Best wishes go with him.

Mrs. William Weedmark is recuperating from recent surgery. Everyone wishes her a speedy recovery.

Buffalo

THE LAST regular meeting of the Buffalo chapter, CSEA, was held at the VFW University Post with Albert C. Killian presiding. Emphasis was placed on the chapter's membership drive. Joseph Dunn and Celeste Rosenkrantz, co-chairmen of the membership committee, discussed plans to recruit members in all departments and to encourage active participation. The Buffalo chapter's motto is

"Get to know your own State legislators." It hopes in this way that a personal appeal may be made when CSEA measures, particularly salary increases and retirement benefits, come before the State Legislature during the coming session.

The next chapter meeting will be featured by a Christmas party and dinner meeting to be held at the VFW University Post, Delaware and North Streets, on Wednesday, December 17, at 6:30 P.M. Chairman Joseph Dunn announced the following committees to prepare for this gala occasion:

President Killian, honorable chairman.

Decorations: Mary Leese, chairman; Arlene Holzer, Jeanette Finn, Charles Hamilton, Elizabeth Ernest, Bronislaw Bentkowski.

Music: Elmer Schottin, chairman; Kenneth Rieyinger, Louise Lazelere, Joseph English, Delores Jacobs.

Refreshments: Ray Abel, chairman; Art Wasserman, Lillian Michaelis, Joseph Cullen, Charles Ernest.

Toys: Margaret Donahue, chairman; Celeste Rosenkrantz, Helen Lonergan, John Lock, Bert Wallace, Edith Chapman.

Entertainment: Geraldine Miller, chairman; Charlotte Tropman, Rosemary Fornes, Walter Welch, Dorothy Jordan.

Reservations: Thelma Pottle, chairman; Virginia Sobkowski, Leonard Rockworgor, Chester Balcerak, Israel Goldwater, Ethel Drew, Ruth Muck.

The meeting adjourned in memory of Germaine Hopkins and Lamar K. Curtis, recently deceased active members.

Following the meeting, a large delegation of the chapter met in a body to pay final respects to Miss Hopkins at the Lesswing Funeral Home.

Thomas Indian School

A REGULAR meeting of the Thomas Indian School chapter, CSEA, was held in the chapter's chambers at the School on Monday evening, December 1, with Denton VanderPoel presiding.

Harlan Gage, who with Alfonse Cukierski has been attending classes in Buffalo on parliamentary procedure, gave a talk on the course and methods used in the classroom.

Frances Kinkead is on tour in India and expects to be gone about seven weeks.

Leo Dittman, who had been laid up for a while, had just returned to work when "Old Dame Luck" left him again. He decided to test a circular saw with his thumb. Too bad, Leo, hope you get back soon.

Herman Shonzo was taken seriously ill and sent to the County hospital in Gowanda. He is up and about now, we hope on the road to good health.

State School for the Blind

THE STATE SCHOOL for the Blind chapter, CSEA, announces with regret the death of Mrs. Ada R. Harper, matron in the Kindergarten building at the School for the past 25 years. Mrs. Harper, who died on November 25, was 66 years old.

Survivors are her husband, Awert; two daughters, Mrs. Joseph O. Moore and Mrs. J. Curtis

Fincher; three brothers, three sisters and three grandchildren.

Services were held at St. Paul's Church and burial was in Elmwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Harper was a member of St. Paul's Church, St. Paul's Lutheran Club and Mission Circle and the Dames of Malta.

She will be missed at the School very much. She did excellent work in the kindergarten and made many friends throughout the State.

Rochester

WEDDING BELLS have been ringing around the Parole Office. On October 25 Doris Paeth was married to Bernard Root, and on November 15 Gail Wilson was married to Eugene Huck. Congratulations, girls, maybe the Parole Office is the right place to work.

Congratulations are also being extended at the Social Welfare Office: To Mrs. Eleanor Ribley, whose son Joseph was married to Kathleen O'Brady on November 27 and to Mrs. Delores DeBrine who has a brand new baby son.

John Brown represented the Rochester Parole Office at the New York State Welfare Conference in New York City on November 16-21.

It's nice to see that Ralph Neubauer of the State Fund is back to work after his recent illness.

Unbelievable, perhaps, but true. Two State Fund employees, Eddie Sambiasi of the Rochester Office, who plays the accordion, and Bob Moore of the New York Office, who plays the piano, rented the practice room at Levis Music Store for three evenings in a row. There they were, just the two of them, no audience, in a tremendous room with three pianos and two organs, playing and singing 'boogie woogie' and 'operettas' for hours. They're real 'music lovers.'

Onondaga

CONGRATULATIONS to J. William Murray, who was recently appointed Director of Detention Home by Judge Leo J. Yehle of Onondaga County Children's Court. A graduate of Fordham's School of Social Service in 1948, Mr. Murray has worked for Onondaga County Division of Veterans' Assistance since September, 1949.

A dinner was given by the Veterans' Assistant staff at the Belle-Mor Restaurant.

A new home for delinquent children, with the latest features of a modern small institution, is under construction and will be ready for occupancy in the Spring of 1953.

Congratulations also to Mr. and Mrs. James Wurn, newly-weds. Want you all to know that John O'Reilly has recently set up house-keeping. Interested persons (females) may obtain the new address by contacting the proper chapter member.

A cheery word to some sick folks, hope to see them back at work very soon: Mary Alice Egan, James Walsh and William Hart.

Binghamton

MR. AND MRS. Freeman Drew left by plane on Thanksgiving Day for a ten-day vacation in Miami, Florida, and Mrs. Drew reported that it was just lovely there. She is, of course, Florence Drew, secretary of the Binghamton chapter, CSEA.

Manhattan State Hospital

TWELVE NEW members have joined the Manhattan State Hospital chapter, CSEA, since last week: Josephine Donlon, Elizabeth O'Doherty, Isaac Bradley, Michael Clerkin, Leroy Crosby, Viola Harrigan, Thomas Healy, Alice Gaillard, Helena Lyne, Edwin O'Connor, Dennis O'Leary, and John Horne. The chapter officers and members cordially acknowledge their support and welcome them into the ranks of the Association. The membership committee is continuing to do a fine job, and will be glad to explain the benefits to be derived from membership to any employee interested in joining. Only through united effort can State employees receive better working conditions, a proper pension system, and various other benefits, including the 5-day, 40-hour week, without loss of pay.

The relatives of the late Josephine Durr wish to extend their sincere thanks to those employees whose mass cards and floral pieces and words of sympathy were of solace and comfort to them in their loss.

Word has reached the chapter of another death, that of John Darby, brother of Ignatius Darby, staff nurse in the Main Building. The deceased was employed by the N. Y. Herald Tribune as a copy reader for the past 15 years, and assisted Eamon DeValera in Ireland to organize the Irish press. Mr. Darby was a veteran of World War I, served in a medical unit and held the rank of master sergeant. Burial was at Arlington Cemetery, Washington, D. C. The chapter officers and members extend their deepest sympathy to the family and relatives.

Chapter members who are car owners are advised that they may secure automobile emblems from John Wallace. Call Ext. 169. Price, $1.25 each.

Van Huben Gets State Merit Award

At the Annual Conference of New York State Institutional Chief Engineers, held in the Socony-Vacuum Company Training Center, a Certificate for Meritorious Service was presented to Mr. Louis Van Huben, chief engineer of Rockland State Hospital.

Dr. Charles T. Klein, Director of Public Employee Training for the State, made the presentation for the Merit Award Board. The Certificate was awarded for Mr. Van Huben's work in developing instructional material for the three-year stationary engineering training program. This program was made available to men in power plant work throughout the State by the Training Division to improve work performance and to prepare them for added responsibilities.

In 1949, Mr. Van Huben saw a need for this training. He assumed the responsibility for producing the first organized course of study. After this training program had been operated for two years, a committee of selected chief engineers was formed, representing various State departments, to revise and improve the training materials. The result is a series of three manuals covering the entire field, including powerhouse supervision. At all times Mr. Van Huben worked as a leader in this committee.

Mr. Aaron Moses, senior engineer of the Department of Public Works, recommended to the Merit Award Board that Mr. Van Huben's work beyond his regular duties be given suitable commendation in the form of this award.

The State stationary engineering training program has been operated in over 40 training centers for institutional power plant personnel throughout the State.

Disabled Shouldn't Have Future Mortgaged

Disability cases often turn out to be hardship cases, and everything reasonably possible should be done to lighten the burden of public employees who, besides being excluded from the payroll because of disability, are also excluded from retirement credit for that period.

For instance, an employee who receives Workmen's Compensation does not receive salary, and not receiving salary, can not make any contributions toward the retirement system. Nor does the employer provide any benefit toward his pension for that period. Also, in other instances, employees may use up all their sick leave, and spend a payless period of disability. When the retirement system's medical board finds that he is able to return to work, the employee is glad to return, but worries because his retirement allowance will be less than he would otherwise get, thus imposing an additional penalty.

The Civil Service Employees Association, at its annual meeting, adopted a resolution in favor of permitting employees excluded from payrolls during disability periods to contribute to their annuity account, upon resuming work, as if their pay had gone on. They'd also pay the contribution toward pension that the employer would have made had the employee remained on the payroll. This reasonable proposal is to be embodied in a bill to be introduced at the next session of the Legislature. When it is considered that Workmen's Compensation payments, in general, amount to much less than pay would have been, and that periods without any income whatever result in other cases, with medical expenses often staggering, the justice of the Association's proposal is immediately obvious.

The disabled employee should not have the future mortgaged, as well as the present. The bill should be enacted, especially as the change could cost the employer nothing, and benefit employer and employee.

Question, Please

AS A RETIRED NYC employee, may I accept a Federal job? I have been certified from an eligible list. Also, a cousin of mine, likewise retired, has been promised a patronage job in the new Federal Administration. What about him? K.L.

Answer — Retired NYC employees may accept jobs with the Federal Government, and still continue to receive their full retirement allowance. No notice need be given to the retirement system. If the retired NYC employee wanted to take a New York State job, or return to NYC service, the situation would be different. Then, if the combined pay of the job and the pension does not exceed $1,800 a year, the job may be accepted, and the full allowance will continue, but the retirement system in NYC should be notified. If the job and the pension would amount to more than $1,800 a year, the retirement system also must be notified, and the pension part of the retirement allowance will be suspended during the period that the State or NYC job is held. The pension part is the City's contribution, as distinguished from the annuity, which the employee has provided for himself through contributions from salary and otherwise. In no case would the annuity part be affected. The same rules hold true for the uniformed forces.

IF AN ELIGIBLE who receives a call letter from a department about a job declines for a reason acceptable to the NYC Civil Service Commission, does he have to wait until all the other eligibles have been called, or would his name be recertified sooner? If I should resign from one City department, could I be paid for accumulated leave from that department, while working for the other? Would the answer be the same if the first employer were one of the authorities? L.B.

Answer — The name stays on the list, if the declination was for one of the approved reasons, and is subject to recertification. However, if declination was because of insufficient salary, there would be no recertification unless higher salary could be offered, or, if you stated a minimum salary, until the certification was for hiring at that salary or more. The Commission is considering amending the rules, so that those who decline would go to the foot of the list, as you fear, but that is not yet in effect. You could not receive accumulated leave from the first department for a period during which you were working for the second, and such authorities in which the City shares any expense, or guarantees the bonds, abide by the same rules that govern City departments.

NYC HOLDS FOUR TESTS
 NYC written tests held on Saturday, December 6, and the number called to the test, were: stock assistant (men), 600; laboratory assistant (bacteriology), 217; laboratory assistant (chemistry), 188, and engineering assistant, 72.

DON'T REPEAT THIS

perhaps as a residue of the presidential campaign; perhaps as a result of the spectacular revelations now coming to light; perhaps because people are now fully aware of the financial straitjacket in which the city is encased.

1. The City Fusion Party, which in 1932 spearheaded the campaign resulting in the election of Fiorello LaGuardia, has taken two important steps. (a) It has invited the heads of 400 civic organizations to attend a special meeting early in January to present their views on the coming Mayorality election. (b) Those wheels of the Republican, Democratic and Liberal parties, who have shown signs of independent thinking, together with leaders of labor, will be asked to help select the strongest possible coalition candidate. The list includes:

Robert W. Dowling, realtor and president of the Citizens Budget Commission; Edward Ennis, attorney who managed Kefauver's presidential candidacy in New York; Jerry Finkelstein, publisher of the Civil Service LEADER and former chairman of the City Planning Commission; George McLoughlin, banker and former Police Commissioner; Paul Windels, attorney and head of the Regional Plan Association; Harvey L. Schwamm, banker and presidential elector; Orrin Judd, former solicitor general of New York State; David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union; James C. Quinn, executive secretary of the Central Trades and Labor Council; Morris Iushewitz, executive secretary of the New York City CIO Council; A. Phillips Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Porters; Milton Bergerman, president, and George Hallett, executive secretary, of the Citizens Union; Alex Rose of the Liberal Party; Mrs. Nathaniel Singer; businessman Walter Hoving; attorney Harold Riegelman; Tex McCrary; James McGurran, of the Irish-American Historical Society; Mrs. Fiorello H. LaGuardia, widow of the former Mayor; Charles H. Tuttle, former U. S. Attorney and GOP candidate for Governor; George J. Mintzer, chairman, State Advisory Council on Unemployment Insurance; Richard S. Childs, chairman, National Municipal League; Walter M. Weis, president, City Club; A. Maldwin Fertig, former counsel to Franklin D. Roosevelt and Herbert H. Lehman; Walter A. Mack, head of National Phoenix Industries; Michael Potter, chairman of the City Fusion Party, appointed Joel Schenker to head the Mayorality Selection Committee.

City Affairs Committee

2. The City Affairs Committee has been reactivated under strong auspices. Serving on the committee are a group of well-known individuals, among them Bishop Charles K. Gilbert, attorney Paul Windels, Mrs. Fiorello LaGuardia, Dr. Noel T. Dowling, dean of the Columbia Law School, and Norman Thomas. While the orientation of this committee appears to be predominantly conservative, there is no question that it would operate in a coalition with a candidate of liberal leanings, if he showed promise of being able to bring increased efficiency into municipal government.

Citizens Union

3. The Citizens Union, long a "needle" in the side of government officials, has enlarged resources, and will take an even more active role than it has heretofore. The group has plans to extend CU operations widely. The organization exerts influence far beyond its numbers, and activates many other organizations with its point of view. Old-time machine-candidates will hardly be pleasing to this group.

University Group

4. A new organization is in the making, consisting among others, of college faculty members in institutions of higher learning in New York City. These men including professors and instructors in the fields of public administration and political science, feel that their knowledge of government should be brought out of the ivory tower and made felt in the market-place of everyday politics. Present plans of the Merit Mayorality Committee comprise a three-prong approach: (a) a set of standards and qualifications for the Mayorality of New York City will be set up; the group will seek the names of all prospective candidates, from political parties, civic groups, and others, and (b) these names will be screened against the standards and qualifications; (c) the results will be made public. The faculty men are thus planning what is in effect a kind of merit system approach to the Mayorality. The screening process would include not only personal background, achievements, and points of view on a variety of issues. It would take in also the man's availability, his standing with the dominant political groupings in the City, etc. For example, if a candidate were acceptable to business groups but not to labor, this would become part of the pertinent information. Spearheading the Merit Committee are three members of the Graduate Division of Public Service in New York University: Dr. Martin Dworkin, secretary of the Division; Maxwell Lehman, who in addition to being a faculty member is editor of the Civil Service LEADER; and Leo J. Magolin, who lectures in public administration, is an attorney, and possesses a long background in Federal and municipal affairs.

Ike's Amateurs

5. "Ike's amateurs," described in a previous Don't Repeat This column, are already active in the coming municipal campaign. The group represents a concentration of wealthy talent, men who got to like politics during the presidential campaign and are sticking with it. The group is activated by Tex McCrary, and includes Nelson Rockefeller, Jock Whitney, Walter Thayer, Sidney Weinberg, William Zeckendorf, Carl Fischel and Arthur Gray. The amateurs are in the main conservatives, and they'll throw plenty of money, propaganda and weight around. The probability is that they would work actively for a coalition candidate, ADA

6. Americans for Democratic Action. This group, which actively works in all campaigns, will not necessarily be a tail to the Democratic Party kite. ADA may well favor a coalition. But it will offset the more conservative approach of Ike's amateurs.

The Trend to Coalition

The trend toward coalition is strong. It may happen among the orthodox political parties, Democrats and Liberals or Republicans and Liberals. Some even speak of the possibility of a GOP-Democrat coalition, although this is remote because of its State-wide implications.

And of course there is always labor, the most potent single force in New York City. How will labor go? Will AFL and CIO work together, or go for separate candidates? The labor groups will act in terms of what they deem their own most vital interests in the City. Both CIO and AFL are entirely free to enter a coalition, if it seems best to them.

The great upsurge represents dissatisfaction of the people with the functioning of the older political parties and the old-type of political candidates. This does not mean that the parties have lost their strength. It does mean that their appeal has been reduced to the point where various "publics" in the City feel they can do something about the messy municipal situation.

POSTAL EMPLOYEE groups are rooting for the selection of Senator Frank Carlson (R. Kan.) as chairman of the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee. He has long favored better personnel and administrative methods in the Post Office. The employees want a merit promotion system enacted, to replace the present promotions by personal or political pull. . . . Some NYC employees lost an opportunity to win a money award from the Suggestion Program Board because of the sloppy manner in which they presented their ideas. The Board has a regular form, intended to facilitate neatness in the written presentation of ideas.

ASSURANCES have been given that an exam for filling permanently the New York, N. Y. postmastership will be held, provided the new Postmaster General doesn't want to pick some one who has a competitive job of some rank in that postoffice. He has a legal right to do that, and thus fill the post non-competitively, but is unlikely to exercise it, because it's been two decades since Republicans benefitted much by promotions in the post office, which are on a political or personal basis. The incumbent, George M. Bragalini, is the Acting Postmaster, appointed under the present Democratic national administration. Permanent appointment requires Senate approval. The Republicans will have just enough votes to turn the trick. Even in case of a tie, resulting, say, from non-cooperation of Senator Wayne Morse, the Vice President could cast the deciding vote. Some high-class talent would compete for the job, mostly Republicans, since others would figure they'd be wasting time.

ABOUT A BOOK: ARE WORKERS HUMAN?

Editor, The LEADER:

Recently, I ran across a book review of "Are Workers Human?" which echoes some thoughts that John E. Holt-Harris has sometimes uttered: Workers must have respect for their dignity as humans; they must not feel driven, and should be allowed to manage their own lives; they need to have a share in planning. How can a man move as a robot and be a thinking creature in society? The suggestion is to turn the spotlight of publicity on techniques of management and selection of managers.

LIKES IDEA ON JOB TRANSFERS

Editor, The LEADER:

As a civil service employee, I want to congratulate you on your editorial stand in favor of common-sense transfer between State positions and municipal and other subdivisions, and vice versa.

Where the respective jobs, qualifications and duties are the same, there can be no earthly objection to transfer. As it is now, a simple change from State service to City or the other way around is so hidebound that otherwise justifiable transfer — and desirable — is impossible. Even where transfer is authorized, interpretation of the complicated provisions of the Civil Service Law almost requires the use of a slide rule. The entire State of New York is our civil service community, and recognition of such fact by the Preller Commission should result in better recruitment and a considerable saving in taxpayer dollars.

Administrative Exam Rating Asked by Union

Welfare Local 371, Government and Civic Employees Organizing Committee, CIO, wants the papers in the Administrative Series of exams rerated by NYC. The union claims that the Municipal Civil Service Commission was too strict, and offered as proof the percentage of failures. In the promotion tests, in which the local is most interested, the failures were nearly 90 percent, and in the open-competitive tests, 88.

Of the 295 who took the exam for promotion to administrative assistant, 33 passed, while in the senior promotion title, 14 out of 99 passed, an average of 86 percent failures.

The union holds that the type of exam given "did not provide an adequate measurement of the candidates' intelligence," as many rated as having failed had passed high on previous NYC exams.

The failure notices in all seven exams, open-competitive and promotion, that constituted the series, have been mailed.

The Commission prepared to go ahead with the establishment of the list.

All told — in all exams — only 75 persons passed.

Assistant Gardener Jobs Being Filled

The NYC assistant gardener eligible list was certified, 347 names, down to V1500, to the NYC Department of Parks, to replace provisionals, who total 512. Another certification is expected next month.

For homes and properties, be sure to see the best buys on page 11.

Other Jobs Open To Fire Eligibles

With the fireman (F.D.) eligible list threatening to die in September with 4,500 names on the list, the NYC Civil Service Commission is trying to find other jobs for which the list is suitable.

It has opened the $3,400 housing officer (Housing Authority) jobs and the $2,960 investigator jobs. It certified 624 names from the fireman list for 139 housing jobs. The last eligible certified was 1500. The investigator list is inactive. The fireman list will be used exclusively. Meanwhile the Commission is looking for more alternative opportunities for fireman eligibles.

NYC Awards for Ideas Deferred as Agencies Test Economic Value

No Christmas money from the NYC Employees Suggestion Program! Although the Suggestion Board tentatively approved some ideas submitted, it did not authorize any payment of money, or other awards, pending further study.

Some ideas that seemed most promising, and that were referred to the departments that they concern, are actually being tried out by the departments, before the Board will be asked to approve any money prizes for those suggestions. Saving of time and money, of certain amounts, is claimed by the originators of the ideas. The tests are to determine how nearly accurate the employees are in appraising the savings that their brain children may produce.

The Board of Higher Education, the Triborough Bridge Authority, and the Housing Authority have been advised by counsel that they have no authority to participate actively in the program, and therefore are merely "cooperating" with it.

More ideas have been received since the Board met last month. William H. Rocker, administrative director of the program, is screening them. The Board will meet again on Friday, December 19, and while some awards may be announced, no prizes will be presented until after New Year's Day.

Employees Get Off On Fridays After Three Holidays

An executive order was issued by Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri whereby employees in City departments were allowed off the Friday after Thanksgiving, and will get the same concession on the Fridays following Christmas and New Year's Day.

Jerry Wurf, general representative, American Federation of State County and Municipal Employees, AFL, said that 10,000 NYC laborers, assistant gardeners and other similar employees were excluded by Comptroller Lazarus Joseph.

As a result of his union's protest, said Mr. Wurf, the 10,000 finally were included.

The Mayor stated that his order was intended to include the excluded employees, the union reported, while Comptroller Joseph was quick to see that an error had been made, and rescinded a ruling from his department whereby the men wouldn't get the days off with pay.

Activities of Civil Service Employees in N. Y. State

Shumake, Paul Hayes, Sam Decker, Eleanor Swope and Hazel Gunderson.

Representatives: Ernest Church-ill and Howard Shumake.

To prepare for meetings: Thom-as Veraldi and Anthony Dragone. The chapter extends sympathy to Eleanor Swope and Ray Swope in the loss of their sister.

Corrine Bascombe is vacationing in mid-western New York. Mary Carroll, an East Group member is retiring, and is planning on going to England for a vacation. While there she will attend the Corona-tion.

Miss Kelaher, in charge of Ward 74, East Group, left last week for an extended vacation in Florida.

The boys haven't done badly during deer season. Congratulations to Ray Swope, Ralph Clouse, Vinny Brown and Al Whitaker's son.

Harold Berry, patrolman, is spending part of his vacation hunt-ing. He sends some good news.

New York City

A REGULAR meeting of the New York City, CSEA chapter representatives, was held on De-cember 4 at Willy's Restaurant.

"Pastor" Al Brown surprised everyone by saying grace with ex-celent fervor. All agreed that he had missed his true calling. Al runs an elevator at 80 Centre Street . . . sort of an "itinerant" preacher.

Sol Bendet, chapter president, reported on the progress of nego-tiations in reference to salary raises and also discussed several phases of Blue Cross and similar hospital and medical benefits that may be advanced by the CSEA in the near future.

Mr. Bendet also appointed vari-ous committees that will function this year. The complete listing will appear in the next issue of The LEADER.

The New York City chapter wishes to take this opportunity to welcome the new members who have recently joined its family, especially those from the newer agencies. The Brooklyn Rent Con-trol Board was congratulated upon its choice of representative, Mr. Jacobson. This was his first meeting and he proved an able dele-gate. He joined in all the discus-sions and made many good sug-gestions.

Harold Herzog, of the Depart-ment of Taxation and Finance, was passing out cigars to his friends recently. You guessed it . . . he is a papa again. Leave it to the men in the Tax Depart-ment to figure out a novel angle in order to get another deduction on their income tax return.

All representatives and members of the New York City chapter are hereby invited to join in making this column your meeting ground. Whenever you have news and chit-chat you should like to see in print, please contact the chairman of the publicity committee, Ben Chase, at 55 Franklin Street, New York 13, N. Y., or call WA 5-3000. More in the next issue, includ-ing listing of all delegates and all committee chairmen.

Chautauqua

GEORGE STILES of Cassadaga, construction foreman in the Coun-ty Highway Department, was elected president of the Chautau-qua chapter, CSEA, at a meeting in the Mayville Court House on Monday evening, December 1. Mr. Stiles succeeds Claude Geertson of Mayville, who resigned last July. He will serve out the unexpired term, which extends to next May.

About 75 persons attended the meeting. Moreland Lazier of Jamestown, vice-president, pre-sided. The new president was named at a meeting of the Board of Directors which preceded the general meeting and the selection was approved by the chapter mem-bership.

John O. Bowman gave a report of the salary committee on action of the Board of Supervisors, an increase in salary of $204 a year for salaried workers and 10 cents an hour for per diem employees.

Group of State Employees Show Physician's Role in Posed Photographic Series

ALBANY, Dec. 8 — The im-portance assigned to the physi-cian's role in the solution of medico-legal problems was demon-strated recently when a Supreme Court Justice, officials of the Div-ision of State Police, and the press cooperated with the New York State Department of Health in working up a series of illustrations for the lead article in the October issue of the Department's monthly publication "Health News."

The article, titled "The Practic-ing Physician and Legal Medi-cine," was written by Michael A. Luongo, M.D., Instructor in Legal Medicine at Harvard Medical School. It developed the theme that progress in legal medicine will depend ultimately on under-standing of forensic problems by physicians and their active inter-est in correcting deficiencies in existing laws.

Judge Cooperates
Through arrangements made by Assistant Attorney General Emanuel Bund, assigned regularly to the Office of Legal Affairs, State Health Department, Supreme Court Justice Isadore Bookstein of Albany gave permission to use his chambers as a setting for a courtroom scene, and took time from his duties to appear in the photograph as the presiding judge. Mr. Bund also handled the major details in connection with the picture-taking.

Participants
Members of the State Health Department official staff who par-ticipated in the project were: Hollis S. Ingraham, M.D., Deputy State Health Commissioner, who appeared as the physician on the witness stand; Mr. Bund as prose-cuting attorney; and Earl W. Murray, Director, Office of Legal Affairs as counsel for the defense. Other department staff mem-bers who appeared in the picture were: Clifford Hodge, as court stenographer; and as jurors Robert Crist, Roy Cramer, Robert French, and Mrs. Kathleen Boland. Joseph Sherber posed as defend-ant.

William Van Aukin court officer, Supreme Court, Albany County Court House, was "bailliff."

Photography was by James Jordan, of the Department's Photo-graphic Unit, with the assistance of John J. Tiley, both of the Of-fice of Public Health Education.

Pictorial Sequence
Doctor Luongo's article was illus-trated also by a pictorial se-quence pointing up laboratory techniques and their significance in the field of medico-legal in-vestigation. The photographs were obtained through John A. Gaff-ney, Superintendent of State Pol-ice, with the help of George M. Searle, Deputy Superintendent; Francis S. McGarvey, Chief In-spector, Bureau of Criminal In-vestigation, and William E. Kir-wan, Director of the Scientific Laboratory, also of the Division of State Police. Mr. Kirwan arranged the settings for the pictures and supervised the photography. The following members of his staff ap-peared in the pictures: Fred J. Jetter; Charles W. Rankin; Trooper Andrew B. Hart and Trooper John P. T. McCarthy.

Photography was by Adolph Scherer, Photographic Unit, Of-fice of Public Health Education, State Health Department.

"HEALTH NEWS," addressed primarily to the physicians and other public health workers of up-state New York, is edited by Granville W. Larimore, M.D., Di-rector, Office of Public Health Education, State Health Department, with Mrs. Lillian S. Harrell as Managing Editor.

JR. MANAGEMENT TEST HELD
The written test in the popular U. S. junior management assist-ant exam was held on Saturday, December 6.

Newark State School

THE NEWARK State School chapter, CSEA, welcomes Dr. Na-than Feldman, who has transferred from Manhattan State Hospital.

From the Ladies Bowling League comes these standings to date: Team 1, Christine Rabarge, cap-tain, is in first place with 28 won, 20 lost, percentage .583. Team No. 2, Mary Bidwell, captain, and Team No. 4, Mary Lane, captain, are tied for second place with 24 won and 24 lost, percentage .500. Team No. 3, Jane Calnon, captain, is in last place with 20 won, 28 lost, percentage .417.

On October 3, Team No. 3 had an unusual coincidence. The score for each of its three games was 537.

At the local alleys each Friday evening the women bowl on four alleys, the men on the other four. On November 28, the men took the night off as so many were hunt-ing. As a result, the alleys were so quiet that the women were un-able to do their best. Evidently, the noise spurs them on.

Those reported on vacation are: Edna Hawk, Viola Means, Mary Clingerman, Gladys Kellar, Rose Burr, Guy and Marion Rumsey.

The chapter extends its sym-phony to Mary Clingerman on the sudden death of her sister.

Among those on the sick list are: Marjorie Teeter, Violet Spade, Margaret Pallotti, Leona Manley, Ruth Roberta, Anna Bartron and Mrs. Herbert Beaver.

Jean Dolan, Mrs. Mary Cooke, Mrs. Hannah McGady, Rudolph Rauch, Frank Cole, Edward Boyle, Mrs. Florida McDermott, Henry Girouard, Ada Kavanaugh and Mrs. Catherine Whalen. The co-operation of everyone is urged, in order to make this sale successful.

Good luck to Charles O'Byrne who recently resigned from the hospital to accept a position in Greenland, and to John Cohan and family who are going to live in Southern California. Mr. Cohan has been employed at the hospital for several years. The chapter wishes him success and happiness in his new venture.

The chapter is very happy to welcome back Harry Blake, super-visor of male reception, who has been on a year's sick leave. The employees are very glad to see him back again and looking so well.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. William Farrell, who celebrated their fifteenth wedding anniversary recently. Best wishes for many more years of happy wedded bliss.

Best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Innez Martinez, who were married on November 29. Mrs. Martinez is the former Hattie Christler, telephone operator. Mr. Martinez is employed in Building 10.

Welcome back to Mrs. Ruby Ringleben, who has been on a sick leave. Glad to see her looking well. The big game hunters who went on a safari to Maine returned with several deer and a bear. Andy Cmelko, the marksman of Flat-bush, shot the bear, while George Arey and Charles O'Byrne each bagged a deer. Fenwick Smith and Joseph Munn also went a-hunting in the Catskills. Mr. Smith re-turned, proudly displaying a deer.

Recent word from Harold Jones, former graduate nurse of the hos-pital now stationed at Camp Kil-mer, tells that he is expecting to go overseas soon. He wishes to be remembered to all his friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mayer are enjoying a vacation in Florida and Ithiel Clemmons is sojourning in Sunny California. The following employees are also enjoying early winter vacations: John Magerl, Mr. and Mrs. David Schraeger, Anthony Moreno, William Jones and Richard Dabney.

Sing Sing

ON TUESDAY, December 2, a meeting of the Sing Sing chapter, CSEA, was held at Moose Hall in Ossining. President Martin Mulcahy presided. He expressed pleasure at the meeting being well-attended despite the snowstorm and dangerous road conditions. Refreshments were served by Joe Pesik.

The membership gave Sandy Seller a rising vote of thanks for the profits resulting from the Thanksgiving turkey distribution, which he handled so well. Charles Lamb, president of the Correction Conference, urged the membership to inform Sing Sing's delegate, James Adams, of problems and constructive suggestions, so that a tentative agenda may be formulated for the Conference meeting in February or March, 1953.

Plans are well under way to hold the chapter's annual New Year's Eve party. Complete details will be published in the next issue of THE LEADER.

MEMORANDUM TO BOB KELLY

Dear Bob:
The death of your wife has been a deep and searing blow. The condolences of your friends and the sympathetic words of those who know you cannot mitigate the irremediable loss you have suffered. We on THE LEADER can only say that we understand, as it is given to others to understand, the depth of emotional strain that is yours. We can hope that time will soften, although it can never heal, the wound that is now yours. . . . And it is with deepest regret and apologies to you that we did not catch the unfortunate error in the news item as it appeared last week. With humility, we ask your forgiveness, Bob, in this time of your trouble.

Two Navy Department Men Perfect Cold Weather Gear Risk Lives To Test Equipment For Armed Forces

Would you go walking in a temperature of 42° below zero with your boots filled with water to prove how good they are? Would you go mountain climbing in New Hampshire in a frigid 25° below zero, with winds trying to blow you off the mountain, with perhaps 3,000 feet of steepness between you and certain death? Would you?

This is the story of two men who had enough faith in their developments in the field of cold weather protective clothing to challenge Nature at its worst. Salvatore Gianola and Dominick Maglio of the Naval Supply Activities, Brooklyn, had developed an entirely new type of cold weather boot. To prove their worth, Gianola filled a pair of them with water and went walking in a temperature of 42° below zero. He stayed out in the cold for almost two hours, without any ill-effects. In fact, the water in the boots actually got warmer. This proved beyond all doubt that the boots which they had conceived and developed was the best ever made.

Production Methods Devised
Manufacturers of footwear said that the boot, which utilizes the "dead air" principle of insulation, was impossible to produce industrially. Maglio, who made the first pair by hand finally persuaded one company to manufacture them. He Atop the snowy wastes of Mt. Washington, Gianola braves the sub-zero temperatures while wearing the cold weather gear he helped to develop.

Cold feet won't drive you indoors if you are a winter sports enthusiast. YOU CAN NOW STAY OUT IN SUB-ZERO WEATHER FOR HOURS, in THERMOBOOT. Originally developed for the U. S. Navy, it is now Government Issue for all four branches of the service and our United Nations allies for winter wear in Korea. THERMOBOOT utilizes the insulating medium of wool and dead air space, as illustrated below.
