CSEA Wins Bill On Non-Teaching Aide Salary Protection

ALBANY—A salary protection bill for non-teaching school district employees, considered by the Civil Service Employees Assn. to be one of the most important measures ever gained for local government workers, has passed the Legislature and is before Governor Rockefeller for approval.

The bill, sponsored by the Employees Association, was introduced by Sen. Bernard C. Smith (R-Northport) and John G. McCarthy (R-Huntington Station). In essence, the bill permits local school boards to levy a tax to raise non-teaching aides' salaries when voters fail to approve a levy for the necessary funds. School teachers now have that protection.

The CSEA also reported victory on gaining passage of the half-pay, 25-year retirement plan for employees of the Thruway Authority and success in supporting passage of a 20-year retirement plan for Regional State Park Police.

Another CSEA victory was passage of a measure that increases the salary limitation of public employees working at harness racing tracks from 10,000 to $12,000 per year.

Boon To Both Sides

Dr. Theodore C. Wenzl, CSEA president, has urged strongly that Governor Rockefeller approve the non-teaching aides' salary protection legislation. He said that the measure was actually a boon to both sides.

"Responsible school boards," he said, "know they must pay adequate salaries to keep good non-teaching personnel. This legislation will insure that valuable (Continued on Page 3)

CSEA Goes To Bat For 3 Correction Aides On Overtime

ALBANY — Officials of the Civil Service Employees Assn. went to bat for three correction officers at Great Meadow Prison last week when they were told they had to work an extra eight hour shift and take the following day off.

John M. Carey, security advisor at CSEA headquarters, was informed of the violation to the recent change in overtime rules, recently negotiated by CSEA, by the president of the CSEA chapter at that institution. The matter was brought to the attention of CSEA President Theodore C. Wenzl who fired off a letter to Correction Commissioner Paul D. McGinnis, protesting the violation and demanding that the three officers be paid the overtime they worked.

One of the three was William Russ, Statewide president of Council 50. Only one of the three was a CSEA member. In coming to the defense of Russ, Wenzl explained: "Although Russ does head a competing organization he is still a correction officer. We are not interested in what organization the officer belongs to. Our main concern is to protect the rights of ALL correction officers."

The change in the overtime rules provides for payment of overtime if the State employee is called upon to work beyond his normal work day or work week.

New State Pay And Other Benefits In June 18 Paychecks

ALBANY—State workers in administrative agencies will start getting the pay raise and other money benefits recently negotiated by the Civil Service Employees Assn. in their pay checks on June 18, and institutional employees on June 25, CSEA learned last week.

On those dates, CSEA said, employees will get their first pay at the new rates and will also find a lump sum in the same pay check for retroactive pay due them since the April 1 effective date of the benefit package.

The new money to be paid will reflect the pay hike itself, the new upstate and downstate minimums, location pay for employees in the nine-county New York area, and the balance of the 1968 $600 minimum for those workers hired after March 31, 1968, and before April 1, 1969, who had received less than $600 under the ten percent raise negotiated in 1968.

Pay checks of June 18 and 25 will not include compensation for the new inconvenience pay for employees who work at least four hours between 6:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m. According to official sources, CSEA said, final arrangements for payment of this benefit have not yet been worked out.

CSEA To Appeal PERB's Suspension Of Check-Off For Employees At M.H. Hospitals

(Special To The Leader)

ALBANY—The Civil Service Employees Assn. announced last week that it will appeal to the courts a decision by the Public Employment Relations Board which held CSEA responsible for alleged walkouts by clerical employees at three New York City State Mental Hygiene Institutions in March of 1968.

PERB, in handing down its decision last Wednesday, revoked CSEA's dues check-off privilege at Manhattan, Brooklyn, and Bronx State Hospitals for six months.

CSEA President Theodore C. Wenzl rejected the PERB decision, stating: "There is absolutely no

Brydges, Duryea Led Legislature Fight For Civil Service

lature in order to accomplish any major goals. We wrote at that time that Senators and Assemblymen were not about to relinquish their prerogatives as handlers of the public purse and creators of important legislation—and a good thing for civil service that they did feel that way.

In March, the Civil Service Employees Assn., which represents the vast majority of State employees, found itself at a crossroads. Earlier, they had been negotiating for these workers with the Rockefeller Administration but the Administration called off all talks because of a strike by a competing organization. This happened last November and in March the leadership of the Employees Association not only saw the Legislature nearing the end for action on a budget but also were faced with strong demands from large sectors of their membership for militant action to force resumption of negotiations.

It was at this point that CSEA went to Senate Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges and Assembly Speaker Perry Duryea for a resolution to the plight of State workers. Senator Brydges' reaction was strong and firm. He assured the CSEA that there would be some form of pay raise for employees in 1969 and gave liberally of his time to go over this and many other important issues, such as half-pay retirement, with CSEA representatives. There is no doubt that this important support did much to help the Employees Association negotiate such a strong contract with the State when talks with the Rockefeller Administration eventually were resumed.

Perry Duryea, although plagued by a slim, conservative majority, piloted all these CSEA bills through the Assembly, despite some hot reaction to pay raises being included for appointed officials, especially during an austerity-budget year. Out of his crowded schedule, Duryea, from the beginning of the session, was very liberal with his time to public employee organizations.

Other Good Friends

Among the other good friends the Employees Association had in the Senate was Sen. John Flynn (R-Yonkers) who sponsored CSEA bills on salary, retirement and, with Assemblyman Andrew Stein (D-Manhattan), a measure that would have provided a welfare fund for State workers.

A very important ally to the ambitions of the Employees Association was Sen. Warren Anderson, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. During budget hearings public employees got strong support, too, from Sen. Samuel L. Greenburg (D-Manhattan), a fellow member of the Finance Committee; Willis H. Stevens, chairman of the Assembly Ways and Means Committee, and Alexander Chananau, ranking minority member of that committee.

A big bill for the CSEA—the creation of independent hearing officers on disciplinary hearings—was skillfully guided through the Assembly by Clark Wemple (R-Schnectady) and passed in the Senate through the efforts of Theodore Day (R-Interlaken).

Sen. Edward Lentol, (D-Brooklyn) was the architect of a bill to allow State worker pensions to be based on best three years final average salary.

Steingut's Role

It is important to note that on these and several other measures Assembly Minority Leader Stanley Steingut produced Democratic votes all down the line when they were needed. This was particularly valuable during the Assembly debate on the salary bill. There was continuous support from the Senate Democrats through the work of Minority Leader Joseph Zaretski.

One curious note on that measure was provided by V. Sumner Carroll, Assemblyman from Niagara Falls. Carroll voted against the salary bill as a protest against also giving raises to appointed officials. He announced that he would have voted for an amended bill giving only employees a raise.

Another helpful friend was S. William Rosenberg (R-Rochester) who is chairman of the important Assembly Committee on Government Employees.

Firemen List Friends

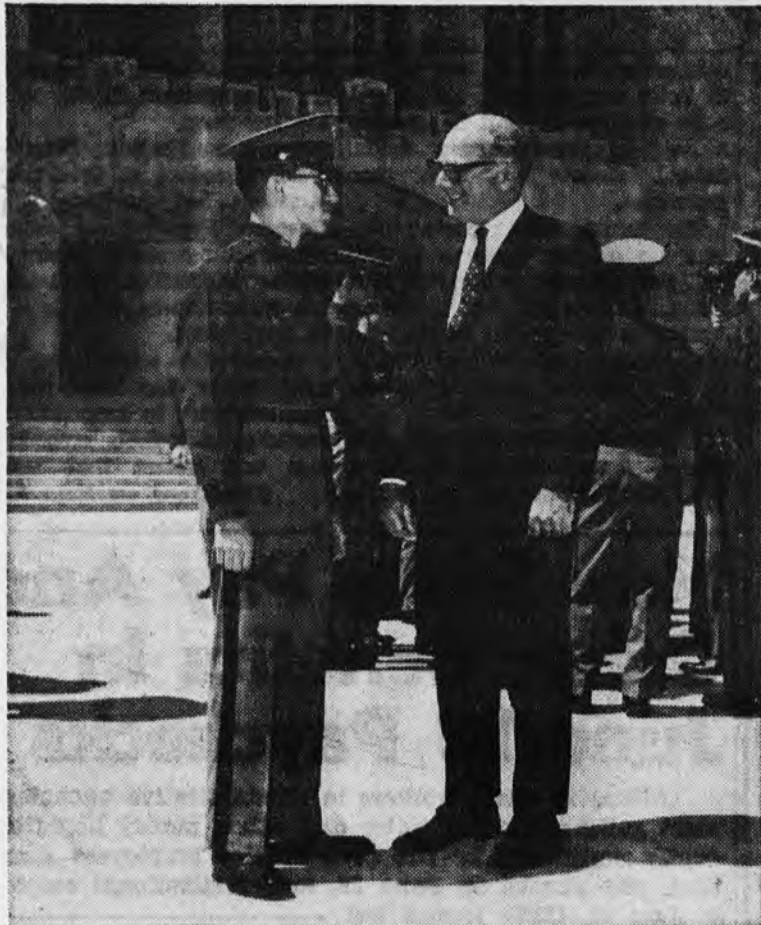

The New York City Uniformed Firefighter's Assn. and the Uniformed Fire Officers Assn. both cited the efforts in their behalf of the following members of the Legislature.

In the Assembly they were Albert Lewis (D-Brooklyn); Edward Amann, Jr., (R-Richmond); Alexander Chananau (D-Bronx); Anthony Mercorella (D-Bronx); Louis DiSalvio (D-Manhattan); John Gallagher (R-Queens); Bertram Hecht (D-Bronx); Joseph Dowd (D-Brooklyn), and Joseph Kunzeman (R-Queens).

'Theft Of A Nation'

"THEFT OF A NATION" by Donald R. Cressey (Harper & Row: $6.95) is an infuriating book because it candidly reports how a comparatively tiny handful of criminals, organized into a national cartel, is slowly stealing the United States of America from under the very noses of its 200 million citizens.

EVERY DECENT American should be so mad after he reads this book that he should be ready to personally join in tearing apart each and every one of the 5,000 mafiosi, or cosa nostra, or syndicate, or "family" members, or whatever nefarious designation you care to give these depredators.

CIVIL SERVANTS will find Prof. Cressey's book particularly infuriating. As a member of the civil service corps—11 million strong on Federal, State and local level—you've worked around the clock to keep America's democratic fabric from being ripped to shreds.

YET, BUSILY gnawing away on the other side of the fabric are 5,000 human rats, banded together as organized crime and fattening on narcotics, extortion, usury, illegal gambling, corruption, violence and murder.

WHAT MAKES this picture all the more frightening, writes Prof. Cressey, is the infiltration of these disease-bearing rats into legitimate business—banks, trucking firms, food supply houses, real estate, vending machines, private garbage collection, and liquor distribution.

"IT IS WHEN the criminal syndicates start to undermine basic economic and political traditions and institutions that the real trouble begins," Prof. Cressey declares. "And the real trouble has begun in the United States.

THERE IS alarming authenticity in Prof. Cressey's book, which should be on every civil servant's "must read" list. The author was on the staff of the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice. His book is both an expansion and revision of the Report.

PROF. CRESSEY'S recital of organized crime's growth and its corruption of too many official sources is low key and factual. This makes the book's contents all the more scary and makes the reader madder and madder and madder.

PRESIDENT NIXON had focused on organized crime as a political campaigner. Now, as the nation's Chief Executive, he, too, has become madder and madder and madder. He is asking Congress for an additional $61 million to fight an all-out war on the mafia. He pointed to New York City as requiring special attention because so many of the organized depredators have their headquarters here.

WE THINK the President's strategy to fight organized crime—use of anti-trust laws to deprive the criminals of their legitimate property acquired with illegitimate money—is a far better attack technique than Prof. Cressey's suggestion.

HE THINKS that legitimate government should come to "an understanding" with organized crime: if the depredators "agree to give up political involvement and its illegal operation of legitimate business," they should be allowed to keep the profits from gambling, after payment of taxes.

THE WORLD learned a long time ago—and the hard way—that you can't do business with criminals whether their names are Hitler, Stalin, Dillinger, or Bonnie and Clyde.

CSEA County Div. Gained 77 Units Since October, '68

ALBANY—The County Division of the Civil Service Employees Assn. has picked up 77 new units—more than 4,000 members—since October, 1968, CSEA director of local government affairs Joseph J. Dolan Jr. announced last week.

Dolan, who serves as adviser to the county division for the 172,000-member Statewide Association, reported that the latest figures show an overall gain of 5,000 members in that division. On that basis, he predicted a 10,000 overall membership gain in the County Division by October, 1969.

CSEA has negotiated hundreds of contracts in the 52 counties of New York State in the past year.

Nassau County came up first in membership gains with 666 new members since October.

Health Chapter Installs Officers

(Special To The Leader)

ALBANY—The James E. Christian Memorial chapter of the Civil Service Employees Assn. installed Robert W. Russom as president recently at a dinner dance at the Golden Fox Restaurant. The chapter represents employees of the State Health Department in Albany.

Other new officers include Milton Weinstein, vice president; Jane Wheeler, secretary; Thomas R. Fitch, Treasurer; Alice Erickson and Ernest E. Rossell, delegates; and Katherine Hough, Jack Gieckel, Clifford Hodge, George E. Smith Jr., and John P. O'Neill, executive council members.

Dr. Hollis S. Ingraham, State health commissioner, and Theodore C. Wenzl, CSEA Statewide president, addressed the audience of more than 260 chapter members.

More CSEA Victories

workers are not lost to the vital functioning of the education system because of the failure of voters to realize the significance of refusing to approve necessary tax levies."

A memorandum explaining the bill reads:

"This bill would amend the Education Law in relation to levying a tax for non-teaching salaries where voters neglect or refuse to vote the sum estimated necessary.

"At present, should qualified voters neglect or refuse to vote the sum estimated necessary for teachers' salaries, or should said voters neglect or refuse to vote the sum estimated necessary for ordinary contingent expenses, the sole trustee, Board of Trustees, or Board of Education may levy a tax for these purposes.

"Under the provisions of this bill, the same protection would be granted to non-teaching school employees. Without this protection, the jobs of non-teaching employees under such circumstances are jeopardized, ultimately resulting in unfair and overwhelming financial burdens for these individuals."

Other Victories

Other important measures won by the CSEA and waiting approval by the Governor would:

- Provide increment credit for State employees on Workmen's Compensation leave.
- Provide one-half day's pay for emergency duty outside of regular duty hours.
- Give a cost-of-living adjustment based on the first $8,000 of the retirement allowance instead of the present $7,000.

Tobin To Mediate

Albany attorney John C. Tobin has been selected by the Public Employment Relations Board to serve as a mediator. He will be assigned to the dispute between the Village of Canajoharie, Montgomery Co., and the Civil Service Employees Assn.

INSTALLATION GUESTS — State Senator James Donovan, third from right, was a guest at the recent installation ceremonies of the Clinton Central School Civil Service Employees Assn. With him are, from left, Louis Eddy, installing officer and a member of the Oneida County chapter executive board; Loren A. Youngs, re-elected president of the Clinton chapter and delegate to the Oneida County chapter's executive board; Senator Donovan; Donald MacPherson, a guest from the Oneida County Highway Department, and William Christie, vice president of the Clinton chapter.

Attendants' Comm. Will Meet May 21

(Special To The Leader)

ALBANY—The special attendant's committee of the Civil Service Employees Assn. will meet here, May 21, to map strategy for a forthcoming Civil Service Commission hearing on the Employees Association's appeal for the reallocation of Mental Hygiene Attendants.

Members of the committee and CSEA staff are currently obtaining supporting evidence which will be used at the hearing, tentatively scheduled for June 4 in Albany.

The committee, headed by Felice Amadio of Middletown State Hospital, will meet at noon at the Ambassador Restaurant, here.

The hearing will be opened to interested employees. The exact time and place of the session will be announced shortly.

CSEA's original request for reallocation of attendants was denied by the Director of Classification and Compensation. The Employees Association followed up the denial with an appeal to the Civil Service Commission.

Other committee members include: Rose Cilli, Pilgrim State Hospital; John Graveline, St. Lawrence State Hospital; Lorraine Pisark, Suffolk State School; Richard Snyder, Wassail State School and Albert Traynor, Brooklyn State Hospital.

CSEA To Appeal

foundation to the charges. Along with the appeal, we plan to ask the court to grant a stay which would prevent the implementation of the penalties."

The CSEA leader questioned the validity of the decision in that PERB had rejected the recommendations and findings of an independent hearing officer who was appointed by PERB to conduct hearings into the matter.

"Whatever the case, we intend to prove to the court that CSEA was not responsible for the walk-outs and that our organization did everything in its power to prevent them from occurring," Wenzl concluded.

Overtime Rules Changes Being Set By Hurd

(Special To The Leader)

ALBANY—State Budget Director T. Norman Hurd has informed Theodore C. Wenzl, president of the 172,000-member Civil Service Employees Assn., that a provision to amend the State's overtime rules, negotiated by CSEA in talks with the State negotiating committee last month, is being implemented.

The measure "removes the provision in the Overtime Compensation Rules requiring that, whenever possible, hours worked in excess of the normal workday be liquidated by granting compensatory time off on a straight-time basis within the same work week," Hurd said.

Wenzl praised the measure, saying: "Before CSEA got this law changed, State employees often were forced to take time off during the same work week instead of receiving the overtime pay they had earned. Now, at last, they will get the extra money they deserve for overtime work. We can all be proud of CSEA's negotiating team for seeing to it that this amendment went through."

Mrs. Donaruma Feted By Utica Unit Of CSEA

UTICA—Mrs. Rose Donaruma, a charter member of the Civil Service Employees Assn's, Utica unit, was honored recently by the CSEA upon her retirement.

Mrs. Donaruma, who has served as senior stenographer in the City purchasing department for years and City Court clerk for five years, was given a citation for outstanding service by County chapter president Roger F. Solimando.

Guests at the reception included Utica Mayor Dominick Assaro, City Purchasing Director Sandra Wolkonocki, Executive Assistant to the Mayor Joseph Karam, and CSEA officers.

Security Officers Will Hear CSEA Staff On May 22

(Special To The Leader)

CENTRAL ISLIP—Security officers from Long Island mental institutions will hear John M. Carey and Nick Pollicino of the Civil Service Employees Assn. speak on what CSEA is doing for security officers at a May 22 meeting at Central Islip State Hospital.

Security officers from Pilgrim State Hospital, Central Islip, Kings Park State Hospital, Suffolk State School and Creedmoor State Hospital are invited to Thursday's meeting, at 7:30 p.m. at Robbins Hall.

President of CSEA chapters at those hospitals will be there to answer questions from members and non-members about CSEA and their chapters.

CSEA field representative Pollicino, who covers Long Island mental institutions, will talk to the institution security officers about their problems and will be available for individual questions. Carey, CSEA associate program specialist, will discuss CSEA's representation rule.

Refreshments will be served.

Motor Vehicle Operator Jobs Accelerate From $5,800 Level

Grab the wheel and you'll pick up momentum for the post of motor vehicle operator, accelerating from $5,800 per annum, and your date for your written test is June 14. But you have until May 27 to zoom down to the City Department of Personnel, at 49 Thomas St. off the Broadway intersection, to apply and get information.

The path to this test doesn't rely on educational or experience qualifications. A candidate's driving record will be considered as the main criterion. At the time of appointment, you must possess a valid New York State driver's license ready for presentation.

Here is a position where successful applicants will be on the move — literally — doing assorted work under supervision. For example, you'll be operating motor vehicles and equipment such as passenger cars, ambulances, hearses, trucks, and wreckers used by City departments. In a small garage, you may do dispatching of personnel, motor vehicles and equipment.

Typical tasks you'll encounter might be driving a truck carrying employees and equipment to work locations; checking the tires, oil and fuel; assisting in loading and unloading of materials and passengers; transporting of collectors and cases of coin boxes to and from collection areas; and similar undertakings.

Test Description

According to the City Personnel Department, the June 14 exam will be of the multiple choice type. Its content is designed to test for knowledge of sound driving practices, basic automotive maintenance, and traffic rules and regulations. The more general portion will feature questions on verbal and mathematical abilities.

Candidates will also be required to pass a medical exam prior to appointment. Physical standards entail being not less than 5'7" in bare feet, of approximate normal weight for your height, and having normal color vision.

Finally, promotional opportunities do exist for this job. Holders of the motor vehicle operator post are accorded the chance for promotion, when eligible, to the titles of motor vehicle dispatcher, garage foreman, and basic machine operator.

City Invites Applicants To Look Into Steno Jobs

The search for stenographers has commenced. A substantial number of vacancies exist with various agencies of the City of New York. And to fill these openings, the Department of Personnel has launched an open recruitment campaign with tests given daily, Mondays through Fridays, between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. Candidates will not require prior experience for the stenographer posts.

To be tested, come on down to the department offices at 220 Church St. during the stipulated times. If you specifically seek a steno opening at the Social Services Dept., your test center is at 305 Broadway, off Duane St., on the fourth floor. Students enrolled in the stenographer license program will be examined at their individual schools.

The practical examination consists of taking dictation at the rate of 80 words per minute for three minutes. A score of 75 percent is required to pass. In addition there will be a qualifying typing test, administered at 35 words per minute for five minutes with less than five percent errors required for a passing grade.

There are promotional opportunities to the title of senior stenographer, and benefits of New York City employees include annual leave, leave with pay for vacations, membership in the social security system, the pension system, a health insurance plan and the blood credit program.

Benefit Examiners Being Sought By Social Security

It's time to stake your job claim at the New York Payment Center of the Social Security Administration which has vacancies for college graduates or persons with equivalent experience in career positions as claims authorizers and benefit examiners.

The claims authorizer begins as a trainee at the GS-7 level ($7,639 per year). After completing one year of satisfactory performance, the incumbent becomes eligible for promotion to GS-9 ($9,320 per year). One year later, he becomes eligible for promotion to GS-10 ($10,252 per year). The benefit examiner (trainee) is hired at the GS-5 level ($6,176 per year) and after completing 6 months of satisfactory service becomes eligible for promotion to GS-7 ($7,639 per year). The above salaries are based on the proposed new pay schedules which will become effective July 1969.

Positions for claim authorizer are located in Rego Park. The benefit examiners will work in midtown Manhattan.

Persons interested in either of these positions, who want to begin a career in the Federal civil service, should contact the personnel office of the New York Payment Center by calling the following telephone number: 699-3652.

Monroe College Aides To Get Salary Boosts

(From Leader Correspondent)

ROCHESTER — The 150 Monroe Community College clerks, custodians and non-professional employees who didn't get raises Jan. 1 will become members of the Civil Service Employees Assn. and get the raises after all.

The Monroe County Legislature's employee benefit and finance committees recommended full legislature approval of a plan that would include most of the MCC employees in the general unit of the CSEA's Monroe County chapter. Approval by these legislature approval.

County Legal Adviser William J. Stevens told a joint committees meeting this week that the Legislature action is necessary because of the State's Taylor Act governing public employee unions. In the past, the college board of trustees has automatically adopted the regular county pay plan for non-teaching employees.

The Legislature also must ratify the board's action recognizing the Faculty Association as the bargaining agent for professional staff members, Stevens said.

Auto Accident Follow-Up

Jobs As Damage Evaluator
Pay $7,340 To $8,950 Range

Evaluate the prospect of earning between $7,340 and $8,950 as a New York State damage evaluator, and bear in mind that graduation from high school or an equivalency diploma is all you need to take the examination.

Applications are welcome through May 19.

In addition to a State driver's license, you'll require four years

Treasury Agent Jobs
Opened Statewide;
$5,732 To Start

"Law and Order" is an everyday facet of life to the U.S. Treasury Department's enforcement agents — and more of them are needed. The jobs pay $5,732 to $7,913 a year, with position available statewide. Tests will be administered by the special examiner of the Inter-agency Board, U.S. Civil Service Examiners.

Treasury utilizes its agents throughout its various divisions; in Alcohol and Tobacco & Firearms; in the IRS Intelligence and Inspection Unit; even in the Secret Service and Bureau of Customs.

The GS-5 positions, except special agent (Intelligence) require three years of experience of which two years must have been in criminal investigation work. For GS-5 special agent positions in the Intelligence Division, Internal Revenue Service, three years of accounting and auditing experience is required.

Grade GS-7 positions require an additional year of criminal investigative experience. For all positions college level education may be substituted for all or part of the experience.

Application forms and a copy of announcement No. NY-9-10 may be obtained in any post office in New York State where this announcement is displayed; the Interagency Board of U.S. Civil Service Examiners, 26 Federal Plaza, New York City; and the Internal Revenue Service, Room 1105, 90 Church St., New York City.

of satisfactory experience in the appraisal, adjustment and investigation of claims arising from auto accidents. However, college studies may be substituted for this experience (the ratio is one year of study equals six months' experience, up to a two-year maximum).

As to duties, they are rather comprehensive. You'll be estimating money or property or personal injury damages stemming from road accidents in an amount which would reasonably be expected to be recovered by the aggrieved parties in the case of a judgment. The research for your determination would include review of accident reports, police reports, medical reports, legal documents and other related papers.

Also, the damages evaluator would conduct personal interviews and write to motorists, insurance companies, and agents or brokers.

When the written exam comes your way June 1, you'll be tested on the New York State Automotive Negligence Law and legal papers relating to liability claims; the State Vehicle and Traffic Law with particular reference to Articles 6, 7 and 8 and Section 167 of the State Insurance Law; investigative techniques; assembly of damaged parts of motor vehicles; and medical terminology.

Since the test puts stress on this data, it is recommended that all applicants write away for the current edition of the Motor Vehicle and Traffic Law to Department of Motor Vehicles, 504 Central Avenue, Albany 12206. Letters should be accompanied with check or money order in the amount of 65 cents.

Personnel Examiner Boost

Senior personnel examiners (engineering and railroad) will receive $13,225 to $15,750 per year, an increase of $900, according to the New York City Department of Personnel.

one of the offices of the State Department of Civil Service, located in Albany, New York City, Buffalo and Syracuse; or go in person to the local office of the New York State Employment Service, which cannot handle mail requests. Completed applications for this test—No.22-474—should be mailed to the department at the State Office Building Campus in Albany.

May 27 Marks Deadline

Asst. Engineering Tech Title
Can Bring $6,400 To $8,200

Assistant engineering technician is the title to shoot for in the upcoming City exam slated June 14. This is a position in which you can garner $6,400 to $8,200 per year —plus the fringes of 4-week vacation after a year, a liberal pension system, 12 sick leave days and 11 paid holidays annually.

Once on the job, you'll be doing technician work under supervision; for example, copying and interpreting drawings, making calculations, using logarithms, and participating in field studies and inspections.

Prerequisites to be admitted to the test, for which filing deadline is May 27, are graduation from college with specialization in engineering technology, or pos-

Salary Zips Up To $8,010

Cruise Into The Position Of Boat Enforcement Rep!

For a job with zip—where you'll be constantly on the go—consider the Albany vacancy of boat enforcement representative with the Conservation Department's Division of Motor Boats. As you embark, the starting pay is $6,535 and once you pick up speed and tenure, you can reach $8,010.

Requirements for the post include age, experience, vision, hearing, physique, character, and possession of a valid driver's license in New York State. If you're over 21, have at least 20/40 vision, satisfactory hearing unaided, a strong and well-proportioned physique, excellent moral character and habits, and two years background in law-enforcement work dealing with the apprehension on violators, you're up-to-snuff for the examination set for June 21. You've got to file an application before May 19, however.

A boating enforcement rep has duties relating to motor boat law enforcement. He meets with local officials to coordinate the program; pre-audits and reviews local expenses dealing with this area; advises and assists local patrol units in recruitment and training; patrols, checks complaints and investigates accidents; and performs varied public relations duties such as appearances before trade shows.

More information on the subject of the exam and application blanks may be obtained through the Department of Civil Service's office in New York, at 1350 Ave. of the Americas, or other regional offices located in Albany, Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse respectively. The civil service bulletin for this test is No. 22-452.

Non-Teaching Salary Protection Bill Vital

GOVERNOR Rockefeller can benefit both the public and non-teaching school personnel by approving a measure before him which would protect the salaries of these vital workers should voters fail to pass levies which would provide funds for adequate pay raises.

Teachers now enjoy this protection. In essence, the bill would permit school boards or other responsible authorities to levy a tax for needed wage raises should the voter fail to do so.

This legislation makes good sense. Non-teaching personnel are vital to the conduct and maintenance of the educational system everywhere. Voters are not always aware of their importance in the scheme of things and sometimes inadvertently reject levies that deserve passage. Responsible school boards would have lifted the danger of losing good personnel because of inability to pay proper salaries.

It is a measure which benefit all sides and we think it wise for Governor Rockefeller to give it prompt approval.

Justice For Firefighters

ONE of the many bills before Governor Rockefeller for approval would allow the inclusion of lung disease as a line of duty injury for firefighters.

As we have pointed out editorially in past editions of The Leader, this bill is a necessity to accomplish the ends of justice.

When a firefighter breaks a limb at a fire, this is considered a line of duty injury, under present law.

When a firefighter is injured on the job to the extent that he is no longer fit for firefighting purposes, he is retired at three-quarters salary.

But, under present law, a firefighter who incurs diseases of the lung—such as tuberculosis, cancer, emphysema, acute bronchitis and the like,—is retired at half-pay disability deemed to be non-service connected.

This is absurd! Leasions on firefighters' lungs are, no doubt, caused by the intense heat and smoke they must breathe in the course of their duties. When a firefighter is given a civil service physical examination prior to his appointment, his lungs must be completely clear with no history of lung disorders. Physically, he must be perfect. Many young men, intent on firefighting careers, such as armed forces veterans in apparent good physical condition, are rejected for even the most minute deficiency in health.

When such a man, after a short career as a firefighter, comes down with lung disease, what other conclusion can one draw except that the condition was service connected?

Support for the bill was given by New York City Administration after collective bargaining last year and this. Last year, Governor Rockefeller vetoed it on the grounds that it had always been vetoed. This year, both houses of the Legislature as well as the City Council passed the bill overwhelmingly.

Now, it is up to Governor Rockefeller to sign it into law. It is only just.

Civil Service Law & You

By WILLIAM GOFFEN

(Mr. Goffen, a member of the New York Bar, teaches law at the College of the City of New York, is the author of many books and articles and co-authored "New York Criminal Law.")

Three-Quarters Pension

A FIRE DEPARTMENT Lieutenant seeks retirement for service connected disability. The Fire Department requests that he be retired instead for ordinary disability.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT Medical Board finds that the Lieutenant is unfit for any duty. However, the Medical Board for the Pension Fund rejects the finding of the Department's Medical Board and recommends that both the petitioner's application for service connected disability retirement and the Department's request for non-service connected disability retirement be denied. Accordingly, the Lieutenant has been kept on light duty or limited service entailing inside desk work ever since his injury which was suffered in December, 1962.

THE LIEUTENANT sought judicial relief, contending that he meets the requirements for three-quarters pay for service connected disability (Guglielmo v. Lowery, New York Law Journal, April 28, 1969, page 2). His disability resulted from frostbite of both hands in the performance of his duties on December 31, 1962.

THE PETITIONER first applied for disability retirement in February, 1967, but after examination by the Medical Board of the Fire Department, his application was denied. In January, 1968, he made a second application for accident disability retirement. He asserted that there was a recurrence of pain, numbness and blistering caused by the injury of December 31, 1962.

THE FIRE Department and the Pension Fund did not dispute that the petitioner's injuries were the natural and proximate result of his services and that his alleged disability was not occasioned by his own willful negligence. However, they alleged that he was not really disable for City-service because he performed his light duty work satisfactorily.

ON NUMEROUS occasions the petitioner consulted medical experts concerning the condition of his hands. These experts included Fire Department physicians or specialists recommended by the Fire Department Medical Board. The examinations and reports reflected differences of opinion among the medical examiners as to the petitioner's ability to perform his duties. The Fire Department Medical Board determined, however, that the petitioner "is unfit for any duty due to complaints of pain, both hands, and dermatitis, right hand, non-service connected." The Medical Board of the Fire Department Pension Fund did not accept this determination. It recommended that the petitioner's application for service connected disability retirement be denied. It also recommended that the Fire Department's request for a non-service connected disability retirement be likewise denied. The Trustees of the Fire Department Pension Fund adopted the recommendations.

JUSTICE THOMAS Dickens observed that there is sufficient medical evidence to sustain the determination of the Medical Board of the Pension Fund that the petitioner was fit to continue his duties in limited service. As the Medical Board may reject or accept in whole or in part medical opinions secured, its acceptance of opinions adverse to the petitioner's claims cannot be deemed arbitrary or illegal. Once the Medical Board submitted its findings, the Board of Trustees was legally bound to accept the medical determination as to the extent and nature of the petitioner's disability.

THE QUESTION still remained whether the light duty assignment complies with the definition of City-service as set forth in the Administrative Code of the City of New York. City-service is defined as "service in the uniformed force of the department." The first prerequisite for accident disability retirement is that the employee be "physically or mentally incapacitated for the performance of City-service." Is the type of inside desk duty to which the petitioner has been assigned since his injury in 1962 City-service within the definition?

JUSTICE DICKENS held that such work does come within the definition of City-service. Consequently, in accordance with this ruling, an employee who is disabled from performing the usual duties of his position may nevertheless be barred from retirement, whether on ordinary or accident disability, so long as his department continues to assign him to light duties which he is able to perform.

That's all, folks.

One thing you don't get when you buy a new Volkswagen:
Confused.
 Because all you get to choose from are six different Volkswagens. Instead of 30 or 40 look-alike models some other car makers make.
 So it's a lot easier to pick out a VW.
 And a lot more comforting.

You don't have to worry about your VW going out of style next year. Or turning out to be last year's dud cleverly disguised as this year's stud.
 Those six VWs are the very same ones we've been making (and improving) for years.
 Starting with our little car. The VW Beetle.
 And our sports car. The VW

Karmann Ghia.
 And our luxury car. The VW Fastback.
 And our big car. The VW Squareback.
 And our great big car. The VW Station Wagon.
 And our chuck wagon. The VW Campmobile.
 And that's all, folks.

Research for Protection ... so more will live.

The National Multiple Sclerosis Society, with chapters in all major cities of New York State, was founded in 1946 to seek the cause and cure — still unknown — of this disease which afflicts more than 500,000 Americans.

Multiple Sclerosis is a disease of the central nervous system that most often strikes young adults. The patient may suffer impairment of speech, sight and movement.

The National Multiple Sclerosis Society has allocated some $7 million to research since its inception. Regional chapters assist patients with loans of wheelchairs, crutches and sick-room equipment, and serve as clearing houses for information on how best to cope with this disabling disease. Chapters conduct regional fund drives and contribute a large portion of the proceeds to the National Society for research.

"All the pieces of the Multiple Sclerosis jigsaw puzzle are on the table" said a scientist recently. "It remains only to assemble them correctly."

League To Cite Ten Executives At Annual Fete

The 1969 Career Service Awards of the National Civil Service League will be given to 10 Federal executives with long and distinguished records. League President Mortimer M. Caplin announced recently.

The recipients represent, according to Caplin "a combined total of almost 200 years of selfless and dedicated service to the American people. We feel that their records offer a stirring example to youth, while their achievements fulfill the intent and the promise of the civil service system."

An inscribed gold watch, $1,000, and a citation at the League's 15th annual career service awards banquet will be presented to each of the winners. The banquet will take place June 13 at the Washington-Hilton Hotel, Washington, D.C.

Honored will be Edward J. Bloch, deputy general manager, Atomic Energy Commission; John K. Carlock, fiscal assistant secretary, Department of the Treasury; Millard Cass, deputy under secretary of labor, Department of Labor; Dr. Kurt H. Debus, director, John F. Kennedy Space Center, National Aeronautics and Space Administration; and Marshall Green, assistant secretary of state (designate), Department of State.

Also awarded will be Raymond A. Ioanes, administrator, Foreign Agricultural Service, Department of Agriculture; Irving J. Lewis, deputy administrator, Health Services and Mental Health Administration, Department of Health Education and Welfare; Joseph J. Liebling, director for security policy, Department of Defense; George S. Moore, associate administrator for operations, Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation; and Lawrence K. White, executive director - comptroller, Central Intelligence Agency.

The award recipients have each served more than 20 years with the Federal government, and their fields of achievement range from successful launching of space vehicles to the development of social welfare programs, international relations, agricultural production and protection of national security. All have "worked their way up" through the Federal service to top leadership positions.

The League presents the annual Career Service Awards to promote excellence in government service, recognize exceptional achievement and to encourage the best young minds in America to consider national service as a career, Caplin said.

The banquet will be attended by many of the 140 other Career Award recipients, top government officials and other community leaders. The affair is open to all citizens interested in furthering effective and creative government in the United States, Caplin said.

Social Services Official Given Federal Award

A State Social Services Department official received a Federal honor award today at the State Bureau of Disability Determinations in New York City. The award recipient was Sidney Houben, director of the bureau.

Paul E. Webb, assistant director of the Federal Social Security Administration's Bureau of Disability Insurance, presented the director's citation award, one of the first of its kind honoring a State agency bureau director. The award is given for suggestions of nationwide significance, outstanding service, or superior work performance.

State Social Services Commissioner George K. Wyman was principal speaker at the ceremony, at which Department De-

Atomic Age Creates Position Of State Civil Defense Aide

Now that we've passed into the atomic age and things like ABMs and ICBMs are major topics of conversation, the need for civil defense preparation is of greater proportions. The State of New York has just announced that a job for civil defense aide—with yearly pay of $5,825 to $7,180—is open in Albany.

Issued as Bulletin No. 22-469, the notice states that candidates for the coming June 21 test must file by May 19, and requires two years of satisfactory business or governmental experience with public contact involved.

Character requirements call for good moral character, with any conviction for felony or misdemeanor likely for disqualification. The physical and medical standards necessitate 20/40 vision in each eye, good physical condition, and not suffering from any defect tending to impair performance of the civil service aide duties. A driver's license will be required as well.

The duties for this post focus on fall-out shelter equipment. Specifically, the aide would transport a model family fall-out shelter throughout the State, select suitable display areas, and explain to viewers the need for such shelters and how they are constructed. There are related duties, dealing with care and maintenance of the trailer truck used to exhibit.

Potential candidates for this position should get in touch with any regional office of the State Department of Civil Service, either in Albany, Buffalo, New York, or Syracuse, and mail applications to the department headquarters, care of the State Office Building Campus, Albany 12226.

No Test, Just Apply For Federal Positions At $1.87 Hourly Pay

To get in the "in-group" making between $1.87 and $3.00 per hour, were taking a test is out, head on into the Federal Job Information Center at 26 Federal Plaza in Manhattan, just north of the City Hall.

Once there, ask for an application for clerk, food handler, housekeeping aid, and custodial laborer; there is one form to fill out for all of these positions. The form is called Announcement No. NY-8-44 and covers many Federal agencies located in New York.

Should you wish to call instead of visit, phone 212-264-0422 and specify the announcement number mentioned above.

Wallach Heads Hosp.

ALBANY — Dr. Morton B. Wallach is the new director of Brooklyn State Hospital. He succeeds Dr. Nathan Bechenstein, who died recently.

In addition to his hospital post, Dr. Wallach also will hold a faculty post at the Downstate Medical Center in Brooklyn.

As hospital director, he will be paid $31,000 a year. No salary was announced for his teaching post.

Adjacent County Eligibility

Westchester Welcomes Entries For June Patrolmen's Exam

Where you live will play a factor in determining eligibility for the post of police patrolman in various Westchester towns and villages, including the City of Rye. With the exception of Richmond, candidates can live in New York City or the suburban counties of Westchester, Putnam, Rockland, Nassau, Orange, Dutchess and Ulster.

The minimum qualifications call for living in one of these areas at least four months prior to the test, scheduled for June 21. Also, you have until May 16 to file an application.

Residents from Orange, Ulster or Dutchess Counties have eligibility only for the appointment in Yorktown, while applicants whose home is in New York, Kings or Queens Counties will vie for the position in Pelham Manor.

The annual pay scale can go as high as $8,400, depending on the municipality. Preferential selection will go toward those qualifying as legal resident of the area served by the local police unit of the existing vacancy.

Army Service Could Aid

Police patrolmen in Westchester may be appointed between the ages of 20 and 29, but will be eligible for the written test on their 19th birthday. Applicants who have served in the armed forces may deduct the length of time they spent in service, not to exceed six years, from their actual age.

Graduation from a senior high school or possession of a New York State equivalency diploma is required.

Candidates must also be physically strong and active; free from mental and physical defects, deformities, or diseases; and have satisfactory hearing and eyesight without corrective lenses or hearing aids. Height requirements are 5'8" to 6'5", and weight requirements are 145 to 235 pounds. Height and weight must be in normal proportion.

Possession of a New York State driver's license is necessary, and candidates must prove they are of good moral character. Conviction of a felony will bar, and conviction of a misdemeanor or other offense may bar examination and appointment. U.S. citizenship is also required.

For further information and applications contact the Westchester County Personnel Office, Room 700, County Office Building, White Plains.

Lifeguard Classes For City Positions

Young men 17 years of age or over may apply for free lifeguard training at the Municipal Lifeguard Training School, 342 E. 54th St., Manhattan. The school is sponsored by New York City's Parks, Recreation and Cultural Affairs Administration.

Those who complete the course will be eligible for jobs that pay $21 per day at the Department of Parks' pools and beaches this summer.

To qualify for the swimming and physical exams candidates must be between the ages of 17 and 34, weigh a minimum of 135 pounds, and be at least five feet seven inches tall.

The tests will be given Tuesday through Friday, from 3:00 to 9:00 p.m., and on Saturday from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Applicants must furnish their own swim trunks and towels for the tests and classes.

Class sessions run for fourteen weeks and candidates are required to attend one two-hour period each week. Classes will be held at 4:00 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

For additional information call Paul Freisel, director of the program, at PL 8-3147.

Viola, NYC's Director Of Exams, Plans Retirement After 31 Years

Felix Viola, Director of Examinations for the City Department of Personnel, is retiring after 31 years of service effective January 1, 1970.

Viola is director of the bureau which prepares and conducts all of the civil service examinations given by the City of New York.

He entered City service as an engineering examiner in 1938 with the Municipal Civil Service Commission. After a brief hiatus with the Board of Water Supply, he returned to the commission in 1941 as a civil service examiner (engineering). He progressed to chief of the skilled trades and licenses division, to assistant director of examinations and in 1958 was appointed director of examinations.

He is a licensed professional engineer and land surveyor in the State of New York and holds degrees in mechanical engineering from the Stevens Institute of Technology (1925) and civil engineering from the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn (1930). He attended graduate school in engineering at Columbia University (1925-26).

Spurred Testing Lab

Prior to his appointment as director, Viola conceived the idea of developing a testing laboratory for conducting practical examination for the skilled trades. He was able to put his idea into action and the laboratory was constructed in the Hall of Records, with salvage material and labor loaned by other City departments. New York was thus the first city to construct such a laboratory and it was done at minimal cost to the taxpayers.

Since his appointment as director of examination, Viola has been at the forefront of such innovations as the walk-in examination system and the widespread use of unassembled (training and experience) examinations.

He is a member of numerous organizations including the Public Personnel Association, and is a former president of the New York Chapter of the New York State Society of Professional Engineers.

Barkan Blasts Education Budget At Public Hearing

Board of Education member Joseph G. Barkan, at a Board of Estimate and City Council public hearing on the proposed Executive Expense Budget for the Board of Education last week, blasted the proposal as "nothing short of a disaster for the school children of this City." He claimed that it represents a reduction of about nine percent from current program levels.

Barkan said: "It is not possible to remove 4,200 classroom teachers and almost 1,000 additional teaching and supervising positions from our elementary and secondary schools without doing enormous damage to the classroom education program. When this shortage must be accompanied by a proportionate loss of various categories of supervisory positions, of guidance counselors, remedial reading teachers, bilingual teachers, teachers for the handicapped, laboratory specialists and so on down the long list for a total of about 5,200 positions related to teaching: when it must include drastic lowering of allowances for substitute teachers to fill in for absentees; when approximately 1,000 school aides and 238 school secretaries must be dropped, and when such assistance to communities as has been rendered through Community Education and Research programs has to be totally eliminated then the dimensions of this disaster being to emerge.

"Added to these," he said, "must be enforced reductions in every area of support for the educational program: nearly $5 million, for example, is gone from the budget for supplies and equipment, and 123 positions for processing payrolls, bills, medical examinations, teacher recruitment and the like. The reduction of funds for the Bureau of Curriculum Development illustrates losses that will have cumulative effects on the New York Public School System.

$100 Per Child

"It takes years to build a competent staff for training new teachers, or for curriculum and other research but a slash of this magnitude can only be carried out by across-the-board reductions. $116 million is a lot of money, gentlemen; it is a hundred dollars per child for every student in our school system.

"Let me point out one other item that does not show up in our Board of Education's proposed reductions, and for good reason. The budget for maintenance and repair given to the Board of Education has never been as much as half of what is needed. A group of realty consultants several years ago advised us that good business practice mandates the expenditure of a minimum of 1½% of the capital value of plant and equipment annually in maintenance if this capital investment is to be protected. The taxpayers of this City own approximately $3 billion worth of school plant and equipment and on this basis we should be spending a minimum of $45 million a year for its protection and upkeep. The budget this year will allow us about $22 million for this purpose. Each year we fall further and further behind until the present time it is estimated that upwards of $100 million would be required to put buildings that are essentially sound, if properly maintained, into acceptable condition. I cite this to you for I am sure you have heard complaints, as we have, on the need for paint and other repairs to schools in every borough of this City. It is one reason why so many of the Mayor's reductions have to be made against the educational program.

Transportation Cut

"In an effort to avoid heavier inroads into services for children, the Board of Education is proposing to limit reduced fare privileges and free transportation for New York City students to those standards set by the State. No child would receive free or reduced fare transportation unless he lives 1½ miles from school. Although this will mean a loss to the Transit Authority some part will be made up by the fact that many children will continue to ride even though fare must be supplied by parents.

State and Federal Cuts

"There is in prospect a serious reduction in Federal funds for poverty programs in the City—funds that have made possible the amelioration of the hard lot of impoverished children. Even the State has joined in this game by eliminating some $15 million of welfare money from school lunches for hungry kids. I can only repeat that the combined impact of such slashes on the lives and education of the children of this City is utterly destructive.

"Budget making is always a difficult and thankless activity for elected executives and legislators," Barkan said. "This year is no different from other years in that your first task is to resolve the priorities. What must be done in fact is to restore the priority for education to the first category which it has always justifiably held. This Executive Budget places education among the lowest—not the highest—priorities.

"Reduction in various City Departments from levels required to support existing services are as follows:

Police	2.2%
Fire	1.0%
Environmental Protection	1.7%
City University	2.7%
Health Services	6.5%
Human Resources	6.0%
Courts	9.4%
Parks	13.0%
Highways	15.0%
All Other	7.4%
EDUCATION	9.0%

Rockefeller Proclaims Statewide Teacher Day

Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller has proclaimed May 20 as Teacher Recognition Day in New York State, and urged that "every person in every community join me in actively honoring teachers for their courage, loyalty, devotion and unselfish services in our behalf."

In announcing the special day the Governor said: "Americans in general, and the citizens of New York State in particular, have always expected a great deal from their schools. In recent years, the increase of knowledge and the realization that only through education can we ever achieve true equality of opportunity for all citizens have served to intensify these expectations.

"In an effort to keep pace with society's progress and its concurrent reliance on a strong system of education, our schools have been thrust into a continuing state of change. Innovation permeates education in new curricula, new ways of grouping students, new types of teaching equipment and materials, new approaches to improving educational opportunity for the disadvantaged, and even new ways to construct school buildings.

"These changes, while often confusing to the non-educator, are essential to the continued quality of education.

"But all the innovations in curricula, and all the technological inventions, are meaningless without the most important element in education—good teachers. Because of the problems and issues facing education today we often forget that the quality of each child's education is determined by the teacher who spends each day with him in the classroom."

Education Park Funds Requested By Board

The Board of Education, in a special public meeting, acted to move up construction of the North-east Bronx Education Park.

The action consisted of a formal request to Mayor John V. Lindsay to amend the Capital Budget for 1968-69 by substituting a line which would add $7,590,000 to the construction proposal for the new Herbert H. Lehman High School.

The original line for this item stood at $2,060,000. Due to the complex building planning, which involves spanning the Hutchinson River Parkway with a major element of the school structure, it was necessary to appropriate additional funds so that the contracts for actual construction may be awarded during the current fiscal year.

Schools Close Jan. 15 In Honor Of Dr. King

At its last regular meeting the Board of Education declared a school holiday next Jan. 15 in honor of the birthday of the late Dr. Martin Luther King.

Dr. King was assassinated a year ago. Shortly thereafter, the Board of Education named in his honor the Martin Luther King HS to be built in Lincoln Center.

CUNY Chancellor Seeks $6 Million More Funds

In requesting a minimum of $6 million additional funds from the Board of Estimate and City Council of New York City, City University Chancellor Albert H. Bowker said: "We are fighting for the life of the City University on two fronts: student upheaval and budget. The two fronts are closely related."

Bowker cited the pledge of $2.5 million in additional non-matching State funds for the SEEK program as a "great save for the City University," and noted that "the combined efforts of many thousands of concerned individuals, organizations and legislators succeeded in removing the expenditure ceiling initially proposed in the Governor's Executive Budget and in persuading the Governor to withdraw his proposals for a reduction in our State aid formula in 1970-71," but said that "victory in Albany has not averted the disaster we warned against last December.

"Faced with a serious fiscal crisis in the City," Bowker said "the Mayor has proposed a budget which falls far short of what was initially suggested by the Governor and which surrenders millions of dollars in available State aid for the University.

Asked $270 Million

"Our original budget request, certified by the City Budget Director, was for $270 million. That would give us what we really need. But we are resigned to making do with much less, with postponing some of the improvements we sought, improvements which have been long overdue to meet the needs of higher education in a city in crisis.

"The University is now faced with a budget of $221.6 million, a budget which allows for no improvements at all and provides $4 million less than is required to meet our Master Plan enrollment commitments.

Faced with the necessity of turning away thousands of qualified students, a week ago the Board of Higher Education decided to admit our full planned freshman class of 20,000 next fall. But to do this, under the budget constraints imposed by the Mayor, we are required to limit the entire class to a semester workload of 12 credit hours, four-fifths of the usual program.

"Deficit Spending"

"This is nothing less than the deficit spending of the lives and futures of the youth of our city. At a time when the necessity for higher education for all members of our society is greatest, retreat should be unthinkable. The City University represents the last best hope, the future, for thousands of New Yorkers, especially the economically disadvantaged. If we fall them, we fall ourselves.

"The University must have $6 million more than is provided in the Mayor's proposed budget. Four of the six will allow us to take in the full September enrollment at normal program levels. In addition, the University must have at least $2 million with which to develop the most urgently needed new programs, especially in the health sciences, to continue its College Discovery program at its Master Plan level and to fund new community colleges.

"We cannot stand still or retreat as the present budget requires. We must meet the minimal needs of our students and our city. We have had to reduce plans for new programs and necessary improvements amounting to over $25 million; but it is absolutely imperative that we have funds to develop programs which would train our students in the critical shortage fields of nursing, medical technologies and social work, and at least fulfill our commitments to disadvantaged College Discovery students.

"Cruel Fiscal Charade"

"I must make one further request," Bowker said. "In the past the Board of Estimate and City Council have responded to the needs of the City University and for this I am indeed grateful. However, administrative restrictions placed upon the University have effectively vetoed the legislative fiscal mandate and enabled the Budget Office to force savings in appropriated funds in mid-year. This practice makes it impossible for us to know how much of our budget we will actually be permitted to spend. It constitutes an evasion of the intent of this legislative body that money appropriated is thus withheld by the Budget Director.

"I therefore ask for an additional $6 million, which will barely allow the University to meet its commitments, and I further request that you provide us with an understanding which will avert this cruel fiscal charade and allows us to use the money you actually appropriate."

At 800-Bed Facility

Staten Is. USPHS Hospital Seeking Housekeeping Aides

Several no-experience positions as housekeeping aides are currently open at the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital on Staten Island, located almost in the shadow of the Verrazano Bridge overlooking the Narrows.

The entrance level jobs, which offer $2.19 per hour with an increase anticipated shortly, involve custodial work in the facilities of the large, 800-bed hospital. A modern complex just a busride away from the Staten Island ferry, the hospital has seven floors and a large staff of several hundred employees.

Housekeeping aides at the USPHS hospital are eligible for the liberal package of fringe benefits given to all Federal workers, including paid holidays, sick and personal leave, health insurance, and an excellent pension plan. In addition, there are promotional opportunities to be upgraded in salary and status under Federal merit promotion program.

To obtain an application blank and further information, dial (212) 447-3010, ext. 214, and ask for Mrs. Doud, or write the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital, Staten Island 10304.

Anchor Away, Gals! Naval Unit Seeking Secretary-Typist

If you're a typist, ponder the prospect of dropping anchor at the offices of the Naval Intelligence Service. Life aboard this GS-4 level secretary position can reward you with the yearly treasure of $5,145 to $6,684, depending on qualifications.

The applicant to be chosen will provide secretarial, receptionist, clerical and typist services for the department head. No examination is required for this post.

Further data and applications can be obtained from the Consolidated Industrial Relations Office, Room 1501, 90 Church St., New York 10007. Continuous filing is currently in effect.

Junior Urban Designer

Junior urban designers will receive $8,400 to $10,450 per year, an increase of $700, according to the New York City Department of Personnel.

Opportunity For An Elevation To Asst. Bridge Oper.

Your ascent in civil service ranks can get a lift in status if you score well on the June 9 exam (filing deadlines set for May 27) for the title of assistant bridge operator. Salary begins at $6,100 with the prospect of promotion to the bridge operator post, spanning the pay range of $7,500 to $9,900 per annum.

At present, four vacancies exist within the Municipal Services Administration of New York City. Your typical tasks could include operating traffic light signals and traffic gates; reporting any malfunctions that would impair bridge operation; patrol of bridge and bridge approaches; sweeping of roadways, footwalks, pits, bridge houses, and engine rooms; assisting in the direction of traffic and the reporting of auto accidents; and similar responsibilities.

To elevate yourself to one of these four openings, you must first meet qualifications—namely, completion of eight years of school; one year of full-time experience of a mechanical or electrical experience suited to the job; or a satisfactory combination of education and experience.

Those who score on the written exam still have a qualifying physical test before them, since this position requires extraordinary physical effort. This test will be designed to show the stamina and agility of candidates. It will consist of a dumbbell pressup and a broad jump. Applicants will be taking the physical test at their own risk, although every effort will be made to safeguard them.

Medical testing may be administered before the physicals are given, and personnel reserves the right to exclude from the test candidates found to be physically unfit. Standards used in the exams will be determined in advance.

To gain further information and to apply, and maybe bridge your aspirations, visit the New York City Department of Personnel, 49 Thomas St., Manhattan.

Leary Elevates Cone To Job Of Personnel Chief

Police Commissioner Howard R. Leary announced recently the appointment of Assistant Chief Inspector Elmer C. Cone as Chief of Personnel of the New York Police Department. The promotion elevates Chief Cone, a 27-year veteran of the force, to one of the department's four 3-star posts.

A graduate of NYU, where he earned both his B.S. and J.D. degrees, Chief Cone was a practicing attorney when he joined the Police Department in August, 1942.

Chief Cone will bring considerable experience in police personnel work to his new position. As an Assistant Chief Inspector, he commanded the former Personnel and Administrative Services Bureau and subsequently served as second in command to the department's first Chief of Personnel, now Chief Inspector George P. McManus. As a Deputy Chief Inspector, he served as Assistant to the Chief of Planning. Chief Cone served with the department's Tactical Force as a Deputy Inspector and Inspector. As a Captain he commanded the 19th Precinct.

Law Enforcement Week Proclaimed By The Governor

Governor Rockefeller has issued a proclamation declaring the period of May 11-17 as Law Enforcement Week throughout the State.

In the proclamation, the governor observes, "In every community of our State and throughout the country, there are few more dedicated public servants than our peace officers. The duties they perform with courage and steadfastness are indispensable, protecting as they do our lives, our property and our freedoms.

"Without their enforcement of law and order, no unit of our body politic could continue to exist.

"We in the Empire State have particular reason to be proud of our policemen and policewomen. Our State troopers as well as the peace officers of our counties, villages, towns and cities are famous for maintaining the highest standards," declared Rockefeller.

Two $10,220 CSEA Positions As Field Reps Open Upstate

Five annual increments as a field representative for the Civil Service Employees Assn. will take you up the salary ladder from $10,220 to $12,225 annually, the CSEA headquarters in Albany reports, adding that an upward adjustment of about five percent can be expected in a few weeks.

Two field representative posts are now open—one appointment in the Western New York Rochester and Buffalo area; the other appointment in the County of Rockland, Putnam, Sullivan, Westchester, Dutchess and Ulster. In both cases, residence must be required near the central part of these regions.

The positions per se will involve efforts to develop membership promotion activities and provide to the membership in the assigned areas. A probationary period precedes the appointment made permanent.

Examples of a few of the typical duties are visiting chapters and regional conferences; advising and aiding chapter and conference officers on Association policies, programs and services; representing members in salary and employment problems before administrative officers in State government and executive, administrative and legislative officers in local government. The job would pertain to helping member groups in securing formal recognition and certification and in negotiating terms and conditions of employment, including the writing of work contracts.

Needed To Qualify
To attain these positions, applicants must have earned a high school diploma or equivalency certificate and, in addition, possess three years of responsible business or investigative experience which must have involved extensive public contact as an advertiser, salesman, customer representative, investigator, inspector, or complaint supervisor. Labor relations background—from either the employer or employee standpoint—is especially desirable.

Alternate qualifications consist of two or more years of experience in the public contact fields noted above or graduation from a recognized college or university with a bachelor's degree or a recognized school of labor relations or an equivalent combination of the foregoing training and experience.

Also required will be a New York State driver's license and a car for business use. Candidates should be in sound health and good physical condition, as determined by the Association, as well as of good moral character and habits. Conviction of any violation of law may bar appointment.

A list of the required aptitudes and skills and a full job description can be obtained directly from the Civil Service Employees Assn., Inc., 33 Elk St., Albany. Application forms should be requested and sent to the same address before June 1, 1969.

Special Group Life Insurance Program Offered Thru CSEA Without Test Until May 31

(Special to The Leader)

ALBANY—The Civil Service Employees Assn. will offer a special group life insurance without medical examination. Applications must be received by May 31, 1969, from members or those eligible who become members.

Cost for the insurance is only ten cents bi-weekly per $1,000 of insurance for members 29 years old or younger. Older members may obtain this insurance at lower than normal rates.

Premiums will be deducted automatically from salary each pay period.

All applicants under age 50 who have not been previously rejected for this insurance as the result of a medical examination will not be required to have such an examination.

An extra benefit being offered is 10 percent additional insurance (guaranteed through Oct. 31, 1969). Premiums will be waived if the insuree becomes permanently and totally disabled prior to age 60, as described in the insurance literature. Double indemnity in the event of death is guaranteed through Oct. 31, 1969.

Literature explaining the group life insurance and the necessary application forms are being mailed out to all non-insured members and non-member State and local government employees.

Wenzl, Benko Speak Correction Chapter Installs New Slate

ALBANY — Dr. Theodore Wenzl, President of the Civil Service Employees Assn. and Max Benko, President of Capital District Conference, CSEA, addressed the members of the New York State Department of Correction chapter, at the recent installation dinner held May 1 at Raphael's Restaurant, Albany-Saratoga Road.

In addition, Dr. Wenzl administered the oaths of office to the newly elected officers for the ensuing year. Installed were:

President, Warren A. Harding; vice-president, Mrs. J. Elizabeth Hamlin; secretary, Anna Miller; treasurer, Carol Purzycki; delegate, Mrs. Evelyn Zeh and alternate delegate, Anthony Daley.

Retiring president David Harris welcomed and introduced the guests, including Deputy Commissioner Joseph F. David and Mrs. David, officers and chapter members, after which Harding expressed appreciation in behalf of the new officers and solicited the support and cooperation of the membership in endeavoring to promote and further the principles and ideals of both the chapter and the Association.

MCC Staff Organizes As Official Unit Of Monroe Co. Chapter

Effective April 24, the Monroe Community College staff became the official organized unit of the Monroe County chapter, Civil Service Employees Assn.

Elections resulted in the following slate of officers: Robert Finlay, president; Barbara Hurrman, vice president; Adele Henderson, secretary; and Jeanne Caplan, treasurer.

A dinner meeting for all MCC members has been scheduled for today, May 13, at the Passport Restaurant.

CORRECTION

Joseph Vollman was listed as the Buffalo chapter's nominee for secretary in last week's issue of The Leader. He is actually a candidate for the post of treasurer.

CSEA, Parks Dept. Ask Upgrading For Grade 9 Foremen

(Special to The Leader)

ALBANY—The Civil Service Employees Assn. has joined with the State Division of Parks in an appeal to the Civil Service Commission for reallocations of park and parkway foreman from grade 9 to grade 11 and general park and parkway foreman from grade 14 to grade 15. Both titles are newly classified.

The reallocation appeals were previously denied by the Director of Classification and Compensation, but CSEA hopes to win a favorable recommendation from the Commission.

Evidence cited by the Employees Association in support of the appeal for park and parkway foreman included the fact that these employees are "first line maintenance supervisors," and that the wide variety and scope of their supervision should be reflected in their salaries.

CSEA, in supporting the general park and parkway foreman's reallocation to grade 15, said "this class is distinguished by either extensive second-line supervisory responsibility or supervisory of journeymen and craftsmen as well as semi-skilled and unskilled workers."

The Commission is expected to give its decision shortly.

Mrs. Talcott Heads St. Lawrence Slate

(Special to The Leader)

NORWOOD — The St. Lawrence County chapter of the Civil Service Employees Assn. last week installed re-elected president Mildred Talcott at the chapter's annual spring dinner.

Joseph J. Dolan Jr., CSEA director of local government affairs, installed Mrs. Talcott and the other officers—Flora Jane Beaton, first vice president; Donald Logan, second vice president; James Bateman, third vice president; Mary Bush, secretary; Winifred

Correction Comm. To Meet McGinnis In Albany, May 20

(Special To The Leader)

ALBANY—The Special Correction Committee of the Civil Service Employees Assn. will meet with representatives of the Department of Correction to discuss department employees' problems and demands on Tuesday, May 20, at 11 a.m. at the DeWitt Clinton Hotel here. DeWitt Commission Paul McGinnis is expected to attend.

The committee will gather to discuss agenda items for the meeting at 9 a.m. on that day in CSEA's conference room at 33 Elk St.

Committee members have been urged by Richard J. Corcoran, chairman, to send agenda suggestions to John M. Carey at CSEA headquarters in Albany.

Port Chester Village Aides Settle Contract

PORT CHESTER — A renewal contract has been negotiated between the Village of Port Chester and the Village of Port Chester unit, Westchester chapter, Civil Service Employees Assn. and will be signed in the near future.

A career and salary plan for the village employees was the major item negotiated by Michael Del Vecchio, president of the chapter and chief negotiator.

The plan, which had been many months in preparation, provides a five step salary plan with all positions allocated to a specific title and grade in the plan. Inherent in the plan are procedures to be utilized for re-classifying and re-allocating of titles. Since there has been a disparity in the rate of pay previously provided for employees, the salary increases vary from a minimum increase of $520 to a maximum of $1,200 for 1969.

Also included in the contract are the retroactive retirement provision for 13 paid holidays; additional accumulation of 30 days on the sick leave plan; and a complete revision of the provision for salary payments to employees suffering occupational injury or illness. Three personal leave days have also been granted to the village employees, as well as an amendment to the vacation schedule to provide four weeks vacation after 10 years of service.

Brady, treasurer; Everett Wells, delegate; and Gary Davis, alternate delegate—for two-year terms.

Other CSEA officials who attended the Norwood Inn festivities were S. Samuel Borely, chairman of the county executive committee; Arthur Kasson, president of the Central Conference, and Mrs. Kasson; Francis Miller, president of Oswego County chapter; CSEA field representative Edward Hannan; and former CSEA regional attorney Judge Edward Shea, who served as toastmaster.

HONOREES — Ten employees of St. Lawrence State Hospital who have completed 25 years of State service, were recently presented with 25-year pins and certificates. Rabbi David Kozak, hospital chaplain, gave the invocation, and Donald Brouse, chapter president of the Civil Service Employees Assn., welcomed the group. Shown in first row, left to right, are: Mrs. Jennie Lesperance, William Kotz, Mrs. Catherine Morley. Second row: Mrs. Lilliam Lahue, Mrs. Elizabeth Harper, Mrs. Faye Clapp and Miss Lois Crobar. Third row: Daniel Herzog, Brouse and Dr. John Gibbon, Hospital Director. Behind Herzog is Rabbi Kozak. Employees absent were Mrs. Elizabeth Rockey, Mrs. Edna Cadieux and Mrs. Bernice Zoller.

Food Inspector Appeal Set

ALBANY—Dairy products inspectors, farm products inspectors, food inspectors and meat inspectors will probably be reallocated from grade 12 to grade 13, as a result of action by the Civil Service Employees Assn.

Association officials reported last week that the reallocation must now be approved by the Division of the Budget, but that prospects for its passage are good.

Originally the appellants asked for a four-grade reallocation of the titles, bringing them up to grade 16, but this was denied by the Director of Classification. CSEA then appealed to the State Civil Service Commission, which recommended the one-grade reallocation to grade 13.

"Anything is an improvement," an Association spokesman said, "but we still feel that the four-grade reallocation is justified by the difficulty of the work these people perform. Our action won't stop here. We'll continue to push for a better upgrading."

Fulton County Judge

ALBANY — Carroll Stephen Walsh, Jr. of Johnstown will succeed Judge Arthur C. Aullis as Judge of the County Court of Fulton County upon Senate confirmation of the Governor's appointment. His term lasts until Dec. 31, 1969.
