ART CRAFT CLUB FORMED; MEMBERS WILL MAKE JARS, WASTEBASKETS AND PICTURES

The Art Craft Club members were asked in the meeting last week to bring some shellac, a tiny brush, and scissors to the next meeting. With these they are going to make things. They have a choice of making a waste basket, a silhouette picture, or cover a jar with envelope linings to make a flower jar. To make a waste basket, a tin can is covered with envelope linings.

DRAMATICS CLUB

The Dramatics Club is going to buy a make-up box. They are going to learn how to use it and how to make people up to take different parts. They are also selecting a play that they intend to present.

HOME ROOM NEWS

Home room 320 plans to have a one act play called "The Three Ghosts". The chairman, Dorothy Hoornbeek, plans to present it during home room period on Thursday.

Home room 124 discussed basketball, hockey, and football. Last week they had a Washington program. Sara Kessler read the life history of Washington. William Lowenberg told an original funny story, and Willis Green told us about the past presidents of the United States.

Home room 224 discussed the attendance of the pupils of Junior High at the basketball games. The pupils think that the Junior High should have some pep meetings to help school spirit.

Home room 129 had a meeting on Wednesday and decided that they would have class colors. The colors will be green and yellow.

They had a program Friday in which David Ronan did card tricks.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL PARTY TO BE SATURDAY, MARCH 12

Faculty Invited to Affair
in State College Lounge

The annual Milne Junior High School party will be conducted on Saturday evening, March 12, in the State College Lounge. It will start at eight and end at eleven.

Alvin Neef is in charge of obtaining an orchestra. Sara Kessler is chairman of the invitation committee. Invitations are being extended to all the members of the Milne Junior High faculty. This is the first time that this has been done. Barbara Birchenough has charge of publicity for the party.

Each home room is being asked to make suggestions for a program. These suggestions will be collected, and the final program will be made up from them.

Excursion Club Visits Meat Packing Plant

Last Thursday the Excursion Club visited the Albany Meat Packing Company. They were shown around by the head of the smoking department. One of the most interesting things was seeing the frankfurters and sausages made. It was very smoky in some of the rooms which the members thought would be hard to work in.

At the next meeting they are planning to go through Freihofer's Bakery.

The president of the club is Roger Orton.

STAMP CLUB

The Stamp Club had an auction of stamps last Thursday. Members of the club brought the stamps. Ronald Kneller was auctioneer. Arthur Thompson and James Nesbitt are new members of the club. The club plans to have a speaker in the near future.

SET A GOOD EXAMPLE

Members of the Student Council and officers of home rooms should set better examples for the other students. The students have elected these people to their positions and expect them to live up to them.

If officers and members of the Student Council don't behave and are sent out of class, how can we expect the pupils who are supposed to pattern their behavior after that of the officers to behave? Perhaps we should have a rule that if members of the Student Council are sent to the office they should resign or be put off. If a member of the Student Council sees another member breaking a rule of the school, he should feel free to report it, because the disobedient student would be setting a bad example.

QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Would you like a football team in Milne?

SARA KESSLER: "Yes, because Milne needs more athletics."

MARION CAMP: "Yes, because I think a football team would improve Milne's spirit."

JAMES REED: "No, because then there would not be enough time to study and do our homework if we had a team."

VIRGINIA MC DERMOTT: "No, because it is too dangerous for high school people, and

ROBERT KUHN: "No, because there is not enough material to make a good football team."

BOOK REPORT

(Ed. Note: Each week the members of the Library Club write book reviews. The best one each week will be published in the JUNIOR NEWS.)

"Out of the Flame", by Elsie Lowensbury, is the story of France in the time of chivalry. The main character is a young page whose name is Pierre. His closest friend is Master Hevre, a kind old scholar. Pierre and his play mates, Prince Henri and Francois, have many adventures. Read it and find out about France, how Pierre comes to own the dwarf Jac, and how Jac proves to be very valuable.

HOME ROOM NEWS

Home room 135 had class meetings on Thursday and Friday. They discussed Milne athletics and school letters and what they should be awarded for.

Home room 127 is going to give a play to the other two seventh grades. The name of this play is "George Washington's Fortune".

This home room has started a bulletin board. Their colors are blue and silver.

Home room 121 is giving a play for the benefit of the other two seventh grade home rooms.

ENGLISH NEWS

The ninth grade English classes are going to read "The White Company", a novel by A. Conan Doyle. It is a story of the fourteenth century.

The eighth grade classes have just finished reading "The Gold Bug" by Edgar Allen Poe.

The seventh grade classes have been doing grammar this past week.

There will be no assembly until March 23, according to Miss Conklin, English supervisor.
