DEAN IS APPOINTED COLLEGE TRUSTEE

Abraham Lincoln University Names Dr. Metzler Board Member

Dean William H. Metzler was named a trustee of the new Abraham Lincoln university at a dinner conducted at the Hotel Commodore in New York, Wednesday, February 12, Lincoln's birthday. The dinner was the first anniversary of the inauguration of the idea of the university.

Twelve distinguished men and one woman of educational, professional, and business life will serve with Dr. Metzler on the board of trustees. These include John Dewey, professor of philosophy at Columbia university and author of "Quest for Certainty"; Arnold Bennett Hall, president of University of Oregon; David Starr Jordan, president emeritus of Leland Stanford Junior university; William B. Millar, general secretary of the Greater New York Federation of Churches; Michael J. Pupin, professor of electro-mechanics at Columbia university; Eugene Randall Smith, head master Beaver County Day school; Mary Emma Woolley, president of Mount Holyoke college; General J. Johnson Morrow, brother of Dwight Morrow; Flynn D. Sampson, Governor of Kentucky; Honorable Charles H. Tuttle, United States attorney of New York; George M. Verrity, president American Rolling Mill Company; and Roy Curtis, president of Abraham Lincoln Foundation.

Dr. Curtis and Dr. Millar were both original incorporators. With three other men, they first conceived the idea of the Abraham Lincoln university on Lincoln's birthday a year ago. The ideal of the university is to build character among its student body which is to be recruited from all parts of the world and sent back after their graduation to be leaders in their community in spreading the idea of world peace.

The aim of the university is different from other institutions of higher learning, according to Dr. Metzler. The development of character will be a specific purpose of instruction.

The board of trustees was appointed by the educational advisory committee of the foundation. The members of this committee are Dr. Dewey, Dr. Woolley, Dr. Pupin, Dr. Metzler, Dr. Jordan, Dr. Hall, and Dr. Finley.

PURPLE AND GOLD WARRIORS TO FACE ALUMNI TOMORROW

By Al Schaefer
The Purple and Gold warriors will face the alumni tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock in the gymnasium of Fayer hall and are hoping to commemorate George Washington's birthday in a fitting manner, now that the morale of the team has been strengthened by last week's fine performance. Another alumni game will be played to-morrow night when the women's varsity play their alumni in the preliminary contest at 7:30 o'clock in the same gymnasium, according to Ethel Grandchester, '30, president of the Girls' Athletic association.

This is the only game played by the women's varsity basketball team, since intercollegiate games are prohibited by the American conference of Athletic College Women, of which State college is a member. The men's alumni team will be composed of the following former stars of State basketball aggregation: Anthony Cousins, Louis Klein, Joseph Henney, G. La Verne Carr, Bernard Ansbach, Howard Galt and Francis Griffin.

These seven men helped to put State college way up among the leaders in intercollegiate basketball circles by their remarkable playing.

STATE ORCHESTRA WILL MAKE THIRD ATTEMPT FOR LIFE

For the third time in two years an attempt will be made to reorganize an orchestra in State college, according to Frieda Schad, '30, promoter of a previous attempt. The members of this group will meet Wednesday to select a student conductor.

An attempt was made last year to form a symphony orchestra, but failed due to insufficient student support. A second endeavor for an orchestra was initiated by Miss Schad and student colleagues. Twenty-five students reported for the first rehearsal and Dr. T. Frederick Canfield, head of the music department, agreed to act as conductor. Since attendance at rehearsal dwindled down to ten students, Dr. Canfield withdrew his services.

"The new orchestra will be totally independent of the Music council," Miss Schad said. "In fact, we hope to organize as a club and seek the sanction of Myskama. Ten persons have already voiced their intention to support the new project, and a student conductor will be chosen in the near future," she continued.

Varsity Debaters Get 2 Contests For Teams

Varsity debaters of the varsity teams have been tentatively arranged, according to Anna I. Moore, '29, president of debate council. The debate was with Vassar college on Tuesday, April 2, in Albany, and with Hamilton college in Clinton on Saturday night, March 16.

The subject selected by Vassar for their debate is "Resolved: That a policy of disarmament be adopted by the United States except for an adequate police force." It is possible that the same subject may be used for the Hamilton debate.

Try-outs for the team will be conducted Monday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock in room 28 of Richardson hall. Miss Moore announced candidates will speak for five minutes on either side of the disarmament proposition.

Game Tomorrow Night To Have Score-Board

A new score board will be used for the first time tomorrow night when the State college basketball team meets the alumni. The apparatus was purchased by the athletic association following an expenditure of $10.00. The material for the board was purchased by Frederick Grinde, '30, basketball manager.

1 OF 12 STUDENT SEES BALL GAMES

Park Too Far Away 60 People Write In Questionnaire Of Newspaper

Men Meet Monday For Long Talk Session, But Fail To Make Decision

Only one student out of twelve attends varsity baseball games, according to the tally on the questionnaire conducted by the News in assembly Friday. Of 211 students who answered the questionnaire, 17 said they attended regularly. Three hundred seventy-seven reasons were given by non-attenders for not attending, or about 2 reasons per person.

The chief reason for not attending was the distance of the field. Sixty people marked that as their reason for staying away from the game. However, 59 people said the games were over too late for dinner, 38 had classes at the time of the game, and 4 stayed away because they either committed or had to go to work before the end of the games, making a total of 97 who stayed away because of the inconvenience time of day the game is played.

Fifty-four said they did not get sufficient notice of the game, while 44 students did not know where the field was. Forty-two simply did not like baseball, and 30 stayed away because there were no seats. Twenty-four had no companions with whom to go to the games, 4 stayed away because there was no entertainment after the game, and 2 because State college had losing teams.

Students Add Reasons
The reasons stated above were all printed on the questionnaire distributed in the assembly. Besides these, several students added reasons that had not been included, for absence from the contests.

Seven stated that they had too much college work to do, 4 worked at the time of the games, 2 committed and could not come in for games played on Saturday, while others gave as their reasons, "No really collegiate spirit at State college," "Comes too late in year," "Never thought of going," "Not enough girls attend," and "We only went because we play inferior teams."

Several of the causes for absence may be remedied, according to Kenneth Miller, '32, manager of baseball. The question of time of day will be eliminated this year, he believes, since all the games will be played on Saturdays. This will also eliminate the lack of notice, for the copies of the News-Friday will contain advance news of the game, and these students will forget about it over a period of one day that it was played in the middle of the week.

Men Reach No Decision
There is no method known of forming the field matter, nor has there been any movement to provide grandstands or bleachers for them. "Forty-four people who do not know the location of the field may be educated, when the baseball season comes, by a poster program, and stories in the News," Miller said.

After two hours of heated argument, 14 men who attended the mass meeting Monday voted a motion that the student association be petitioned to abolish varsity baseball.

This lack of decision was aided by the withdrawal of support by Coach Rutherford Baker of his plan to substitute a coaching class for baseball, which he first proposed. "If the men do not want a coaching class, I shall not attempt to organize one," he said.

Proponents of the abolition of baseball argued the expense of the sport in comparison with the numbers deriving any benefit from it, the lack of any material and the possibility of losing a man at a coaching course as preferable better to doing nothing.

According to the men who wished to return the spot on the State college program, baseball provided a portion which a coaching class could not have helped maintain State college.

STUDENTS TO GET TRANSFER TICKETS AT DOOR TONIGHT

Students who have not yet exchanged their student tax tickets for tickets of admission to the reading of Ibsen's "Doll House" by Alla Nazimova in the auditorium of Page hall tonight at 8:30 o'clock may make transfers at the door, according to Katherine T. Graham, '30, president of the Dramatics and Art council.

Madame Nazimova, world famous actress who came to America from the Moscow Art Theatre has appeared here in the cinema, vanderbilt, and has also performed on the legitimate stage. Last year, she played in three of Anton Chekov's plays, "Katerina," "The Cherry Orchard," and "The Three Sisters," which were produced by the Civic Repertory Theatre of New York city.

Simon Maslan, '30, who was born in the same part of Russia from which Madame Nazimova comes, will go back stage after the performance to speak to the actress in her native Russian.

SOPORITIES TAKE 25 MORE PLEDGES THAN LAST YEAR

Twenty-five more freshmen have been pledged to sororities this year than last, according to a count taken this week. The total of the new members taken in by the 15 Greek letter societies is one hundred eleven. Gamma Phi Sigma pledged the largest number with thirteen neophytes, while Delta Omega pledged eleven.

Thirteen sororities conducted their pledge services this week, and two have had formal initiations. Twelve sororities will have their formal initiation ceremonies this week.

Gamma Kappa Phi at a formal initiation Thursday night welcomed into full membership: Elsie Babcock, Helen Brady, Florence Buchanan, Carolyn Christensen, Marion Church, Lois Ladd, Regina Parker, and Margaret Sawyer, freshmen.

Delta Omega will conduct formal initiation Monday night. Those who were welcomed into pledge membership Monday are: Naomi Albrecht, Dorothy Cook, Elizabeth Jackson, Rosalind Kaper, Edith Kenham, Marjorie Morton, Mary Pukin, Florence Venable, Doris Williams, Esther Woodlawn, and Ethel Zott.

COMMITTEE GAINS LIBRARY PROMISE

Budget Reworded To Include Complete Remodelling Of Hawley Hall

The library committee appointed by the student association gained assurance Monday night from state officials that Hawley hall will be remodelled into a library.

The bill, as reworded, calls for a $40,000 appropriation for repairs, re-flooring, new windows, and the "provision of library facilities" in Hawley hall of State college, according to Warren R. Cochrane, '30, chairman of the committee.

This correction was entered on the secretary's book in the presence of the committee members. The old bill read that the $40,000 was for repairs to the roofs of Hawley, Draper, and Husted halls.

The committee was very fortunate, Cochrane said, in finding Charles J. Hewitt, chairman of the finance committee of the senate, and Eberly Hutchinson, chairman of the ways and means committee of the assembly, in conference together.

There was no delay in the completion of the business of the committee.

The item, which will guarantee a library for the College in the form suggested to Mr. Hewitt and Mr. Hutchinson by the committee, is now ready to be printed in the budget, in which form it will eventually be submitted to the vote of the legislature. Both Mr. Hewitt and Mr. Hutchinson felt that the item would be accepted.

"This is the first time we have had definite assurance that the bill in proper form has been entered on the books, and there is very little danger of the bill's not being passed now," declared President A. R. Brubacher. "In the last fifteen years, I know of no budget item which was altered after being printed."

The other members of the committee were Emanuel Green, '30, Russell Ludlum, Constance DeGuzman, and Ruth Hughes, juniors.

The fence committee, of which Alconter with Dr. Brubacher Wednesday D. Rasch, '31, is chairman, will day to make plans for submitting to the proper authorities their petition for $10,000 to be used to build a fence around the College.

4 Members Of Faculty Attending Conference

President A. R. Brubacher is today at the conference of the National Education association at Atlantic City. Professor John M. Savley, principal of Milne High school, and Dr. Milton G. Nelson, professor of education, will also attend the conference. The conference will discuss national education problems.

Besides the national education meeting there will be, beginning Friday, a series of conferences including the association of teachers colleges, a meeting of the association of the deans of women's colleges, which will be attended by Dean Anna F. Pierce.

Other prominent Albany educators who will attend the sessions are Dr. Frank P. Graves, commissioner of education, and George M. Wiley, commissioner of secondary education, and all the other members of the education department.

Professor York Will Address Students In Assembly Today

Professor George M. York, head of the commerce department, will address the student assembly today, according to Marion E. Botta, '30, president of the student association.

He will speak on the necessity for the broadest kind of training from the physical, mental, and feeling sides. "Too many people train along only one line," Professor York said. "They become scientists, and mathematicians, and fail to become human beings," he continued.

Organizations Receive 7 Percent Budget Cut

This week the various College organizations have received notice of the 7 per cent cut in all budget appropriations, which is due to a deficit of approximately $1,000, according to Clarence A. Hilley, assistant professor of history, and member of the student board of finance.

The budget depletion of $980 is caused by the neglect of seventy students to pay their $14 tax, he said.

11 Students Will Visit New York Next Week

Eleven students in the art department are planning to visit the art galleries in New York city over the week-end of February 28 to March 2, according to Miss Eunice A. Perine, instructor in fine arts.

Accompanied by Miss Perine, they will study the works of art in the Metropolitan Museum of Modern Art, Saturday, March 1. They also will attend the dinner, given by the New York City Alumni of State college at the Beadilly hotel.

Those who have already signed up for the trip are: Gladys Bradley, Florence Davis, Bertha Harris, Lena Reiger, Esther Waters, Ethel Moore, seniors; Eunice Bodley, '31; Winifred Lansing, Marion Larbey, Catherine Riegel, sophomores; and Katherine Anderson, '33.

Juniors To Meet 1930 For Title Wednesday

The junior men will play the seniors Wednesday at 4:15 o'clock in the gymnasium of Hawley hall in a game that will determine the championship of the upperclasses. The juniors have defeated the sophomores twice and the seniors once, while the seniors beat the sophomores twice and lost to the juniors. If they win from the juniors Wednesday, they will be tied with three wins and one loss each.

The winner of the interclass tournament will play the freshman team a preliminary game to the New Jersey Law encounter March 7. The freshmen this year have a stronger team than State college has seen for four years.

THREE DEBATERS WITH EXPERIENCE WILL MEET 1933

Three experienced debaters will represent the sophomore class when its debate team meets the freshman representatives in Page hall in assembly, Friday, March 7, at 11:15 o'clock. The date is tentative, according to Marion E. Botto, '30, president of student association.

Kenneth A. Miller, Ruth Kronman, George P. Rice, and Andrew Hritz will compose the sophomore team. Robert J. Floody, '32, chairman of the debate committee, announced today. Miller is alternate on the varsity and Miss Kronman was a member of the sophomore team last year. Rice is first speaker on the men's varsity and was a member of the sophomore team last year. Hritz, the alternate, has had experience in high school debating.

As soon as the freshmen debaters are chosen, they will meet with the sophomore team to decide upon a subject, time of speeches, and sides. The freshman team will be chosen this week, but the names of the members were not available as the News went to press.

JUNIOR WOMEN WIN

The juniors defeated the sophomore women Wednesday night 30-14 in the second game of the interclass championship series.

The juniors defeated the freshman team by a score of 32-8, and will meet the seniors Monday. Each team must play every other class team twice to decide the championship.

college prestige among other colleges. Abolition of the sport might lead to a movement to eliminate basketball, the only other intercollegiate major sport at State college, they argued.

Baseball's defenders claimed that if five percent of the new students were interested in baseball, it would justify the expenditure of five percent of the student association budget. This was denied by some of the other men, who said that this five percent of the money was not being paid by the interested men, but by the entire association.

The question of a coaching class was vetoed on the grounds of impracticability. It would require three afternoons a week, and according to one speaker, this time could better be spent in education classes, or classes of his major subject, to fit him for a teaching position.

The proposition of having a coaching class besides a varsity baseball team received favorable comment, but was vetoed by Coach Baker who claimed that the strain of coaching a baseball team would not allow him to undertake the added burden of conducting a coaching class.

After two hours of debate, a vote was taken on the motion to eliminate baseball, and was voted down. A new motion was presented to "recommend to the student association that baseball be retained in State college as a major sport," but was declared out of order by the chairman of the meeting because it moved something already in effect.

A motion to appoint a committee to investigate the athletic situation in State college was lost when speakers declared that the fixed opinion of the chair might prevent the appointment of a representative committee.

A motion to reconsider the original motion to appoint a committee with the amendment that the appointments should be approved by the assembly was lost when Coach Baker declared that he would not care to confer with the members of such a committee. The meeting was then adjourned.

TROUBADOURS BEGIN TO REHEARSE FOR ANNUAL MINSTREL

Rehearsals for the annual public performance of the Troubadours, men's minstrel organization, were begun Tuesday, according to Royal W. Knox, '31, director. Most of the cast has been selected, Knox said.

The circle which has been rehearsing all week, is composed of Raymond Collins, Vincent Festa, John Kennedy, Jack Widger, Rudolph Wurth, Richard Whiston, and Edward A. Burke, seniors; Alfred Basch, Earl Bloomingtondale, Norman Collins, Daniel Corr, Arthur Jones, Maxwell Knapp, Lawrence Newcomb, Horace Myers, and Ward Cole, juniors; Walter Anderson, Duane Baker, Harold Haswell, Carl Tarbox, Gordon Hughes, Robert Rankins, and Anthony Sroka, sophomores; and William Collins and Arlon Bush, freshmen.

The saxophone chorus has also been practicing, according to Knox. It is composed of Charles Kissam, '32, Conwell Higgins, Frank Ott, '31, and Ormand Guyer, '33.

Several of the men have been appointed to take charge of various departments to aid the success of the minstrel, Knox reported. Lawrence C. Newcomb, '31, is in charge of publicity; James Cassidy, '30, is in charge of costumes; Walter Driscoll, '31, of properties; and Russell Ludlum, '31, will play the piano.

"The parts of the show will rehearse separately in small groups," Knox said. "I believe a greater return for time expended can be obtained by this method. Irving McConnell is handling the orchestra, and Charles Kissam is directing the saxophone quartet," he said.
