After 5 Year's Service

Last Minute CSEA Win Gives Job Protection To 18,000 State Aides

NON-COMPETITIVE CLASS

5 yrs

(Special To The Leader)

ALBANY, April 15—In a dramatic, 11th hour action, the State Legislature approved a measure that would protect 18,000 State employees in the non-competitive class of Civil Service against arbitrary removal from their jobs.

The measure, the last bill of the session to be approved, was sponsored by the Civil Service Employees Assn. It provides that non-competitive employees who have completed five years of continuous service cannot be removed from their jobs without first receiving written charges and a hearing, in accordance with Section 75 of the Civil Service Law.

Dramatic Action

Up to the closing hours of the session it appeared that the bill had no chance of passage. Last minute appeals by the Employees Association to Assemblyman Orin Wilcox (R.-Jefferson) and Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney got the bill out on the floor for a vote. After passing the Senate, the most dramatic action came on the floor of the Assembly when Wilcox found himself short one vote of passage. He appealed for one more vote by holding up a finger—and got the winning margin.

Prior to calling for a vote on the measure, the Assembly was prepared, in every sense of the word, to adjourn. Wilcox credited action on the bill to the cooperation of Speaker Joseph Carlini who held the Assembly in session solely in order to permit the bill to come to the floor.

Mahoney's View

Commenting on the bill's passage, Senator Mahoney said "I feel strongly that an incoming administration should have the right to place appointees of its own choosing in exempt positions on the policy level. This is traditional in our system and it is entirely proper.

"Certainly, however, an employee on the non-policy level who has performed his duties faithfully over a period of years, is entitled to the basic protection of his job, even though it is one which does not fit in to the normal civil service examination pattern. He should not be subject to the vagaries of politics," the Senator said.

Mahoney declared that "for this reason I feel that the Hatfield-Wilcox bill was a good one and

CSEA Resisting Attempt To Downgrade Painters

ALBANY, April 15—The Civil Service Employees Assn. said last week it would fight any attempt to downgrade painter positions in the Department of Mental Hygiene or other State agencies.

The CSEA's stand was taken at a meeting with J. Earl Kelly, director of the State Division of Classification and Compensation, whose office reportedly has earmarked the painter positions (Grade 10) for review and possible reclassification to maintenance man (painter) at Grade 7.

Association representatives told Kelly that any such move would be entirely inappropriate and a step in the wrong direction.

Kelly indicated that the action taken by his Division in earmarking the positions resulted from a review of certain building maintenance titles in the Departments of Mental Hygiene, Correction and Social Welfare and some

One of the most popular European vacations — the Grand Tour—has again been organized for members of the Civil Service Employees Association and will depart for 24 days from New York via KLM Royal Dutch Airlines jet on June 18, returning there July 11.

For a total cost of $795, tour members will receive round trip jet transportation; all hotel rooms, host meals, sightseeing tours, etc. Group rates are responsible for the low all-inclusive price, which offers savings of more than $250 over regular rates.

DANCE TICKETS — Austin M. Sarr, left, metropolitan district engineer, is shown receiving tickets from Lou A. Desiderio, president of the District 10 Public Works chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, for a forthcoming chapter dance. The dance will be held May 4 at 9 p.m. at the American Legion Hall, Grove St., Babylon. Tickets for the "Night in Paris" may be obtained from Dorothy Whitty at the Babylon office, ext. 256.

South Conference To Meet On May 3

The Southern Conference of the Civil Service Employees Assn. will meet May 3 at 8 p.m. in the State Armory at Newburgh, it was announced last week.

Main topic of the meeting will be the results of the recent session of the Legislature in terms of civil service measures. The 30-day bill signing period will be near its end by the time of the meeting. There will be a main speaker on the topic, followed by general discussion.

A Conference spokesman said that delegates would be urged to begin planning at once for legislative proposals to be presented to the next term of the Legislature. A regular business meeting also will be held.

Behind-The-Scenes Work For Rockefeller Candidacy Conducted By George L. Hinman

NOW that the 1963 session of the New York State Legislature is at an end, Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller will step up his speaking engagements around the nation. It is reported that in the coming months Rockefeller will find occasion to speak out continually on everything from foreign affairs to unemployment to government fiscal operations.

Naturally enough, the Governor

nor will not tag these visits and speeches as campaigning for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination. This may be sheer fiction but it is a kind of fiction that politicians understand and accept. They all know the danger of "peaking" too soon in any race.

Rockefeller's official silence on his candidacy does not mean, of course, that nothing is being done to encourage party delegate votes for his nomination next year. He has a wide personal following throughout the country and unofficial, unauthorized "Rockefeller for President" clubs have been formed in many states, although the Governor has tried to keep down this early enthusiasm.

Talented Spokesman

But if Rockefeller doesn't want to stay in the news as an avowed presidential candidate he can certainly stay in the news by talking like one. There are talented and important GOP officials working behind the scenes making sure that the public press and other communication media understand that what Rockefeller has to say now is what he would have to say if he were not only a presidential nominee but the President of the United States.

One of the most important men to Rockefeller on the score of building party support is Binghamton lawyer and longtime Rockefeller political advisor George L. Hinman. Hinman has been associated with Rockefeller since the beginning of the latter's political career; was his first appointments officer and was highly influential in helping form the first Rockefeller cabinet. Now Hinman's attention is turned toward the national scene.

A member of the Republican National Committee, Hinman is reported to have set as his task the gradual garnering of support for Rockefeller in 1964 from fellow Republicans in states throughout the nation. He is in constant touch with important GOP leaders in other states. Working out of offices in Rockefeller Center, Hinman's main task is said to be making sure that what Rockefeller has to say receives national attention. To this purpose, he often precedes Rockefeller when the Governor is headed South or West to get the message across to the Republican leaders in the area—that what Rockefeller has to say is important and good for the party's political future. Hinman is given a good deal of credit for the enthusiastic receptions Rockefeller does receive on these political forays.

Civil Service Theme

In the main, Rockefeller will continue on the major themes of foreign affairs, domestic economy problems and the pay-as-you-go government spending philosophy. State workers will be interested to note that from time to time Rockefeller will refer to the fact that he has been able to make considerable advances in the State Civil Service while still operating within the framework of his "fiscal integrity" policy. Naturally, this could have a great appeal to the large body of workers in the Federal Government.

Note: While the New York State members of the GOP National Committee are functioning full-time, the problem of settling on a State GOP chairman to handle local affairs remains unsolved. At Leader press time, no single candidate stands out for the post. Most activity to get the job settled is reported among upstate leaders, who are reported working hard to find an upstate man that can qualify for the post. The consensus is that most of the major candidates to date have been from the New York area and the feeling is that there is an over-concentration of party authority in that area now. No quick choice seems in sight at this writing.

CHARITY FUND — Transit Authority typing and stenographic section employees flash IBM check-off cards which they used to sign-up in the Transit Authority Employees' Charity Fund. These new members of the charity fund were among the more than 100 who responded to the fund's week-long campaign for increased membership, bringing the total membership to nearly 15,000. The campaign will continue at scheduled intervals during the rest of the year, according to chairman Lloyd Peterson, TA secretary. Charity fund members contribute each week through a payroll deduction plan. Total contributions to the fund during its first year (1962) totaled $58,000 of which $32,800 has been distributed to 19 employee-selected charitable organizations. ALBANY, April 15—Governor Rockefeller has named Peter Chema of Yonkers to the State Correction Commission, succeeding John B. Law of Tarrytown, who died last October.

Legislative Committee Studies New Pension For Police & Fire Groups

(From Leader Correspondent)

WATERTOWN, April 15—The Joint Legislative Committee on the State Employees Retirement System plans to undertake study this year of the feasibility of establishing separate systems for police and firemen, similar to systems in New York City.

These committee is headed by Assemblyman Orin S. Wilcox, (R. Theresa).

Mr. Wilcox said the Police Conference of New York, the State Association of Chiefs of Police and the State Firefighters Association have been working to obtain a serious study of the separate retirement plan proposals.

Fulltime policemen and firemen would, if such a program is approved, be affected. The groups already have about 14,000 retired members in the State Employees Retirement System. The system has a membership of 225,000.

Under the separation plan, police and firemen would be involved in a different retirement program because of the nature of their work. The organized police-fire groups are represented as feeling that under a new retirement plan limited to active police and firemen the individuals would eventually win greater benefits.

The groups recognize, however, that the cost of such a move would also be greater to the people involved.

Higgins Appointed

ONEONTA, April 15—Harold Higgins of Exeter, a former county supervisor, has been appointed to the Otsego County Civil Service Commission.

Higgins succeeds the late Legrand C. Colburn of Milford. The commissioner's job pays $500 a year.

CSEA Wins 11th-Hour Victory

I was delighted to be of assistance in its passage."

Significant Reform

In commenting on the bill, which now goes to Governor Rockefeller for final disposition, CSEA said:

"This bill is one of the most significant reforms directly relating to the Civil Service Law which has occurred within the past ten years. Employees who are unable to compete by competitive examination for their positions because of the nature of their work will no longer be exposed to the vagaries of political change or the whims of their superiors. Certainly, an employer has had ample opportunity to determine, in a period of five years, whether an employee is suitable and effective in his position."

Under Civil Service Law, the non-competitive class includes positions that are not in the exempt, labor or competitive class and for which it is not practicable to test merit and fitness by competitive examination.

Affected Positions

A distribution of State positions compiled quarterly by the Department of Civil Service shows the Department of Mental Hygiene with the greatest number of employees in the non-competitive class, some 8,850, as of last October 31. Other departments with more than 500 positions in the non-competitive class include Public Works, 2,494; State University, 1,525; Health, 1,399; Conservation, 911; Social Welfare, 900; Correction, 557, all as of October 31, 1962.

In memoranda supporting the measure, CSEA had noted that employees in the policy-making range of State service are not affected by it as they are in the exempt class.

Sen. Ernest I. Hatfield was co-sponsor of the bill.

'Miss Civil Service' Of Niagara County Gives Up CSEA Post

(From Leader Correspondent)

LOCKPORT, April 15—"Miss Civil Service" of Niagara County is retiring

Viola Demorest, a Welfare Department worker, is stepping down this month after a 10-year career as president of the Niagara chapter, Civil Service Employees Assn.

Her successor, who is unopposed, will be Mrs. Ruth Heacox, also a Welfare Department employe.

When Miss Demorest began her tenure in 1953, the Niagara County CSEA chapter had 250 members. Membership is now 650 and every department in the county is represented.

'Spirited' Representation

Miss Demorest has been highly praised on numerous occasions by the Niagara County Board of Supervisors for the "spirited way" she represented county employes. The CSEA chapter is recognized by the Board as the employe's official bargaining agent.

Pay raises have been frequent during Miss Demorest's presidency and other benefits, including health insurance and sick leave, are now standard.

Forest Maxwell, longtime chapter vice president, also is retiring this year.

Miss Heacox, and other 1963-64 officers, will be installed April 24 at a dinner meeting in the Tuscarora Club, Lockport.

VIOLA DEMOREST

Onondaga Aides Don't Need Sick Grandmother Excuse

SYRACUSE, April 15—Free time off will be granted Onondaga County employees here on April 24 to permit workers to attend the opening home game of the Syracuse Chiefs baseball team.

County employees also were permitted time off last Friday to attend Good Friday religious services.

However, Friday's time off will be counted against the county workers' new three days annual personal leave allowance. The baseball game time will not be counted against personal leave, according to county officials.

Fair to All

They also said department heads have been directed to keep "adequate staffs" working on both days so that the work of all departments will continue.

The personal leave allowance was instituted in an effort to counteract complaints from employees of any religious faith that members of another faith were granted more time off for religious observances.

Central Conference To Nominate Officers At Oneonta Meeting

(From Leader Correspondent)

SYRACUSE, April 15—Nominations for officers for 1963-64 will be presented at the annual spring meeting of the Central New York Conference, Civil Service Employees Assn. scheduled for April 19-20 at Oneonta.

In between, the State chapters will hold their meeting with Tom Ranger of Syracuse, conference president, presiding; and county chapters will have their meeting, with Sam Boreilly, County Workshop president, in charge.

Chapter Presidents' Meeting

Friday night, Ranger will direct the chapter presidents' meeting.

A speaker for the Saturday night dinner which will climax the meeting, is to be announced later.

Mrs. Florence A. Drew, a member of the Binghamton chapter and immediate past president of the Central Conference, will announce the slate of officers at the joint business meeting. She is chairman of the nominations committee this year.

Guests

Guests will include state officers, and area legislators, including Congressman Samuel S. Stratton and State Sen. Leighton Hope of Cortland, the new legislator for the area.

Host chapter will be the Oneonta group, with J. Joseph Mahany as president. Chairman of committees include: Joseph Sauer, social committee; Dr. John M. Constantine, entertainment; Mrs. Ann McKean, arrangements, and Mrs. Mina Weir, reservations. Miss Majorie Reed, is social committee secretary.

She's Quite A Gal, Is Consensus On Mrs. Nellie Davis

(From Leader Correspondent)

POUGHKEEPSIE, April 15—Mrs. Nellie Davis, an employe of the Hudson River State Hospital since 1929, is "quite a gal," according to fellow employees, her superiors, her outside contacts, just about everybody who meets her.

The former Nellie Wanzer, Mrs. Davis was born in Poughkeepsie. Early in life she moved to Upper Red Hook, N.Y., with her parents and received her education there.

Later she attended the Eastman College of Business, Poughkeepsie. Since joining the staff she has cared for all kinds of psychiatric cases.

In 1951 Mrs. Davis was elected the first woman president of the Hudson River State Hospital chapter of the Civil Service Employees Association. At that time the Association was 40 years old and the chapter had about 800 members. When asked how she felt about being elected President she said, "I was just a little afraid of the job, now I love being president. The girls say I make a pretty good president and the men voted for me; that's something."

Elected, Re-elected, Etc.

She was reelected president in 1952 and again and again and again and is still president of that group, which now has "close to" 1,600 members. Election time is again approaching, scheduled for May, 1963.

Mrs. Davis also served as president of the Southern New York Conference in 1956 and was re-elected in 1957 and for several years was co-chairman of the Membership Committees of the State CSEA and during that time was on the Board of Directors in Albany. There are 111,000 members in the State group.

Mrs. Davis is now staff attendant in charge of Ward 2C in the Cheney Memorial Building at Hudson River State Hospital.

Received Award

In 1954 she was selected to receive one of the National Association for Mental Health Psychiatric Achievement Awards for 1953.

Nominated for the award by HRSH officials, Mrs. Davis was recommended by them at that time for her "imagination and ingenuity, kindness and devotion, initiative, and resourcefulness proficiency and skill, application and appreciation of learning, courtesy and rapport, citizenship and aptitude."

Tribute from Dr. Snow

Dr. Herman B. Snow senior director of the Hudson River State Hospital, which has a resident population of 5,100 patients, said this week of Mrs. Davis: "She is indeed a very remarkable woman and an excellent employee. Not only is she active in affairs outside of the hospital, as shown in this article, but most important is her attitude toward the patients, and all love her and treat her with a great deal of respect."

In addition to her work and time spent for the CSEA, which is substantial, Mrs. Davis has served on the Board of Directors

Rochester Chapter To Hear Grace Nulty

ROCHESTER, April 15—The next meeting of the Rochester chapter, Civil Service Employees Association will be held at the 40 & 8 Club, 833 University Ave., Rochester, at 8 p.m. April 24.

Leo Bernstein, chapter program chairman, announced that the guest speaker for the evening would be Grace Nulty, CSEA State legislative chairman. The topic for her discussion will be "The Box Score for 1963 Legislation."

Samuel Grossfield, chapter president, stated that he wished to express the appreciation of the chapter to Claude E. Rowell, CSEA fifth vice president, for filling in as guest speaker at the last chapter meeting when Judge Lomena, the scheduled speaker, was unable to attend.

other State agencies. He said that as a result of the review the Division has found incumbents in the Grade 10 position performing duties ranging from the Grade 4 positions of maintenance helper and laborer and the Grade 7 position of maintenance man (painter) to the Grade 10 position of painter. In view of the findings, he said, the Division has determined that something should be done to correct the situation.

The Association learned further from Kelly that all of the painter titles Grade 10 would not be downgraded, but only those where it could be substantiated that the incumbents were mainly performing duties of a lesser title.

Restricts Promotions

The CSEA pointed out that such action on the part of the Division would seriously restrict the promotion opportunities for affected employees and would make it difficult for an incumbent in the Grade 7 painter title to become a journeyman painter at the Grade 10 level. It was also pointed out to Kelly that a very fine distinction would have to be drawn by his Division in its determination that the Grade 10 incumbents were doing the same work as employees in the lower grade titles.

The CSEA said also that a closer and more intensive study of the situation could well demonstrate that it would be more appropriate to upgrade the maintenance man painter to the higher title.

Further Meetings

Further meetings between the director of Compensation and Classification and CSEA representatives will take place before Kelly makes a final decision.

Attending the session were representatives from the Division of the Budget and the Department of Mental Hygiene, as well as CEA headquarters personnel.

Kennedy Requests Pay Reform Funds

President Kennedy has asked Congress for supplemental appropriations totaling $277,670,280 to partially finance the 1963 fiscal year Federal employee pay increases. Additional funds are needed primarily because of last year's pay reform law costs. Agencies have been asked to absorb 52 percent of these costs.

Telephone System Connects Federal Agencies in 43 Cities

With promises to save the taxpayers money, a new inter-governmental telephone system that facilitates communications among Federal offices throughout the country has gone into operation.

The system, developed by General Services Administration and the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., links Federal civilian activities in 43 cities over a 17,000-mile wire network.

The Federal Telecommunications System will connect some 355 cities and handle almost all civilian-agency telephone requirements in the country by 1964 or 1965.

CSC Requests Monies For Pre-employment Interview Expenses

In another effort to attract top-quality applicants in shortage occupations such as science and engineering, the Civil Service Commission has sent a proposal to Congress to authorize Federal agencies to pay travel expenses for pre-employment interviews.

Manpower studies undertaken by the Commission reveal that competition for highly trained and specialized workers will remain high and that agencies are hampered by this competition with private industry. Under this new proposal, agencies are to pay both per diem and mileage costs connected with visits to Federal installations by qualified applicants and tentatively qualified college applicants for shortage-category jobs in the competitive Federal service.

The estimated average cost for these interviews would be $155 per applicant, with an expected 5,500 applicants a year. Most of the proposed $850,000 expense would go to the major Federal employers of scientists and engineers . . . the Departments of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Interior, Agriculture, Commerce, and Health-Education-Welfare.

Quigley Officially Recognizes Brooklyn Postal Organizations

Official action has been taken by the Brooklyn Post Office to implement the Post Office Department's new program for negotiations, working conditions, personnel practices and other related matters.

Under President Kennedy's Executive Order 10988 of January 17, 1962, federal employees organizations were granted official recognition for the first time. Recognition is granted on the basis of a nation-wide labor management election.

In the Brooklyn Post Office, exclusive recognition was granted by Postmaster Edward J. Quigley to the National Postal Union (clerks), National Assn. of Letter Carriers (carriers, National Assn. Motor Vehicle Operators (motor vehicle), and the National Assn. (special delivery messengers).

Formal bargaining rights were awarded to the National Postal Union (mail handlers), National Assn. Mail Handlers (mail handlers), National Assn. Letter Carriers (mail handlers), National Alliance of Post Office Employees (maintenance-custodial), and the National Postal Union (maintenance-custodial).

Exclusive recognition was awarded to organizations showing a clear majority of the vote in a particular craft unit; formal recognition, to organizations with at least ten percent of the valid vote of the postal employees.

Significant Victory For The Merit System

Of all the important aspects of the Merit System the most basic is still job protection. Public employees in this State must be reminded from time to time that this element of civil service is still absent in public employment in large sectors of the country. A notable example is Pennsylvania, where 50,000 jobs were open for political patronage when the incumbent party lost the election.

It is a pleasure, therefore, to report another significant victory for the Merit System in New York State in terms of job security. The victory is the result of the very last bill to be approved by the State Legislature. The measure provides that non-competitive State employees with five years' service cannot be dismissed from their jobs without written charges and a hearing. The bill is now before Governor Rockefeller, who is certain to approve such a substantial advancement of the Merit System. Some 18,000 State workers will be affected.

We are heartened by the kind of support this bill received. It was originated by the Civil Service Employees Assn., which pressed for its passage throughout the session. When all seemed lost, the drama of success began. The Employees Association made an 11th hour drive for the bill. On the Senate side, the majority leader, Walter J. Mahoney, got the legislation out of committee and onto the floor for a successful vote. Assemblyman Orin Wilcox of Jefferson County fought for the bill in the Assembly, where it passed by a single vote. But that vote couldn't have occurred were it not for the fact that Speaker Joseph Carlino held the Assembly in session when it was already in the act of adjourning.

This kind of co-operation in advancing the Merit System deserves the thanks and applause of all public employees.

Automation Solves Need

THERE has been much said on the pros and cons of automation in civil service. Most of the arguments are against the mechanization, claiming that employees will lose their jobs because of the system.

However, as has been pointed out in the past, there has never been a single lay-off through automation in City Civil Service. The system of attrition and transfer is practiced in all automated departments in New York City service.

However, a new machine, designed by the IBM Company in cooperation with the Police Department, is scheduled to replace a large number of patrolmen assigned to the tedious job of searching criminal records to find criminal suspects.

The use of this machine will allow many of these assigned to these units to be transferred to other, equally important duties.

To use automation in an area designated as critical-recruitment, is one of the best moves undertaken in the use of automation. Congratulations to Commissioner Michael Murphy for his foresight.

Signature Needed

G GOVERNOR Rockefeller has before him for approval, a bill which would provide relaxed residence requirements for probation and parole officers in the New York City Court system.

This bill, in addition to expanding the market from which officers can purchase new homes, would also serve as a recruiting boon for these impossible-to-recruit-for positions.

All city employees, including those in the police and fire service now enjoy this privilege. We urge Governor Rockefeller to take favorable action on this bill now.

THE STUDENT'S GUIDE TO MILITARY SERVICE. Michael Harwood. Channel Press, $5.95.

As with most of the decisions in life, the decision about military service can only be an educated guess as to what is best to serve your own purposes. In an attempt to eliminate the gambling factor and to make the guess as educated as possible, Michael Harwood has outlined the opportunities for the young man in the military service, in a book entitled "The Student's Guide to Military Service."

Any student, therefore, who is faced with the decision about how to complete his military obligation, how to profit from it, when to serve, in what branch, under what program, should read this concise, highly readable book.

Mr. Harwood stresses that the individual, about to enter the service, use the opportunity to his own personal best interests. He urges the draftee to consider all aspects of the military obligation so that he may benefit from his military experience.

The book is divided into definitions of various aspects of the military service. It shows the above average man how he can use the service to acquire more skills and leadership training.

The individual chapters are specifically the question of choice, how selective systems work, the decision of school before service, guaranteed training, whether or not to wait for the draft, the reserve program, enlisted specialties, officer programs, pilot training, professions in the service, ramifications of the professional opportunity in service, and education in and through the services.

The three sections which should be read with special interest are the chapters on education before service, specialist programs and the reserve programs. These chapters have the greatest application to the reader and should be weighed carefully.

The chapter on education before schooling places the proper emphasis that education deserves. It defines the program of student deferment and illustrates the testing of the Selective Service College Qualification Test—the test which measures the students' ability to do college level work. Mr. Harwood outlines the relationship between the test and college class standing which is used as a dual measure of the student's ability.

He illustrates the options of the services for the college graduate, and for the student entering from high school. The variations are multifold and it is up to the entering serviceman to designate what option will best serve his needs.

The reserve program is the third major option of the entering servicemen and offers to some a proper channelling of his military obligation to suit his needs. This section outlines the popular six month program and its value in relative comparison with other forms of service.

For the young man in the age bracket from 16 to 26 this book is valuable reading and if that man expects to make the educa-

Your Public Relations IQ

By LEO J. MARGOLIN

(Mr. Margolin is Adjunct Professor of Public Relations in the New York University School of Public Administration and is Vice President, Public Relations, of A. J. Armstrong Co., Inc.)

The views expressed in this column are those of the writer and do not necessarily constitute the views of this newspaper.

Celebrate An Anniversary

NOTHING DRAMATIZES the service and stability of an organization like an anniversary celebration.

EVERYONE AND everything has anniversaries. Civil servants have them, and so do the agencies for which they work.

ANNIVERSARIES ARE an important means of communicating the good performance of people and their agencies. The inevitable result of good performance plus good communications is good public relations.

ANNIVERSARIES ARE personnel morale builders. They give special emphasis to the work of a government agency and the people who make the agency's wheels turn.

LARGE CORPORATIONS make important events out of their anniversaries. They are acutely aware of the public relations advantages of these celebrations, and frequently spend large sums of money to hold events marking anniversaries.

FOR GOVERNMENT agencies burdened by budget restrictions, anniversary celebrations will have to be austere. But they need not be less effective. All that is required to achieve the same result as a corporation anniversary "wingding," is a little imagination coupled with some careful and intelligent planning.

THE ANNIVERSARY celebration could be a simple cake-cutting. Cakes are relatively inexpensive. A little ingenuity in the construction of the cake to symbolize the agency, can have the same public relations impact as an expensive fireworks display put on by a company.

OF COURSE, photographs are important. These should be offered to newspapers. Or better yet, the newspapers should be invited to attend the cake-cutting ceremony.

USUALLY WHEN there is an anniversary celebration, a history of the agency should be prepared. If printing facilities are not available, it is sound procedure to mimeograph the history.

SOMETIMES, THE local library or the archives of some historical society can be brought into the celebration. This broadens the public relations effect.

IF AN EMPLOYEE has been with the agency since the day it started, he or she should be the hub around whom the entire celebration revolves.

RECENTLY, THE New York City Municipal Reference Library marked its 50th anniversary. It held a Sunday reception among its stacks for its guests, who included some of the most important citizens in town.

INTEREST IN the reception was heightened immeasurably by the presence of three former librarians, one of whom is 88 years old. Another had served 30 years, and the third retired five years ago.

ALTHOUGH IT IS one of the outstanding specialized libraries in the world, the New York City Municipal Reference Library has not been too well known. Yet, it is the largest library of its kind in the world. One of its great features is its exchange arrangements with 25 cities in the United States and abroad.

WHAT THIS LIBRARY did to mark its anniversary, any government agency can do. Cost of the celebration in terms of money; nothing; results; incalculably excellent.

MOST IMPORTANT item to remember in celebrating anniversaries—people. A 25-year or 35-year civil servant is always a cause for celebration. The usual way of doing this is the dutch-treat dinner or lunch.

LET'S HAVE more celebrations. Let everyone know that the people who work in government have ability, loyalty, and longevity.

ted guess his education can be partially fulfilled by reading this book.

IN 1829, SIR ROBERT PEEL established the London police force . . . the first of the great, modern, metropolitan protective services. For some time, London policemen were called "Peelers" and to this day we know them as "Bobbies" in memory of their founder.

Pioneers in Protection

Just as Sir Robert led the way to modern police protection . . . so the STATEWIDE PLAN was the first program of protection against the costs of hospital, surgical-medical and major medical care for the employees of the State of New York.

This three-part program — Blue Cross, Blue Shield and Major Medical — offers most State employees, active or retired, the most liberal benefits at the lowest possible cost. That's why more than 425,000 State employees and employees of many local subdivisions of New York State and their dependents are now subscribers.

If you are not a subscriber and would like all the facts on the STATEWIDE PLAN, see your payroll or personnel officer.

Travel Throughout World Awaits Diplomatic Couriers For State Dept.; $5,060+

Some 80 college graduates are being offered a unique opportunity to see the world, traveling over 130,000 miles a year and earn $5,060 a year to start in addition to expenses.

Men only are eligible for positions as diplomatic couriers and candidates must be between 25 and 31 years of age with no further military obligation.

A courier must be single and agree to remain unmarried for at least one year.

Assignments

After appointment, couriers are assigned to one of three regional offices; Manila, Frankfurt and Panama. The Manila office covers the area from Saudi Arabia to New Zealand; The Frankfurt office staff receives assignments throughout Europe, including the Iron Curtain countries and the Panama office staff travels throughout the Western Hemisphere.

A diplomatic courier is responsible for the safe conduct of diplomatic mail and correspondence. The State Department advises that the position requires constant arduous travel by air, train, and other methods of transportation including jeep. The diplomatic immunity of the material carried by a courier is his chief responsibility.

A minimum two-year tour of duty is required of all applicants for this position and candidates must be prepared for a haphazard schedule of sleeping and eating. For this reason, all candidates must be in excellent physical condition.

This position is an excellent training grounds for foreign service officers although this is not a prerequisite for this position.

Applications for diplomatic courier positions are currently being accepted by Adele P. Lee, U.S. State Department recruitment officer at the U.S. Civil Service Commission, 220 East 42 St., New York City. Additional information on these positions can be received from Miss Lee at 212-YU-6-2626, extension 817 or 827.

That Bare Cupboard

OLD MOTHER Hubbard's cupboard was quite bare as far as replenishments for State employees were concerned this year.

THE SHELVES emptied too soon in the eyes of the civil servant. Apparently, stock in storage was insufficient to meet the demands for so many undertakings, plans and needs for our citizens.

IT'S A FIGHT every year to obtain legislative and other gains and fight the CSEA did do again this year; but the fiscal tree just did not bear enough fruit.

WITH THE adjournment of the 1963 Legislature, State employees and specifically mental hygiene employees are apprehensive and worried about what the future has in store for them.

FAR TOO MANY mental hygiene employees, for far too many years have been relegated the short end of the stick. This imbalance must change.

NEW YORK State legislators are now of the opinion that they should exercise greater scrutiny over fiscal affairs of the State. This, of course, is and has been their responsibility for years. They now state that they should study and examine budgets of all State departments and that it should be done not in the few months during the legislative session but throughout the entire year.

WITH THIS thinking, we concur. This seems a logical course to follow and especially if money can be saved. It may be that this plan, if adopted, will benefit the civil servant.

MENTAL HYGIENE attendants, (and many classes of workers in the department) are patiently waiting and hopefully looking for a favorable decision regarding their appeal.

GOV. ROCKEFELLER has stated many times that opportunities for advancement for State employees in their jobs should always be available and he has pledged his support to this cause.

ATTENDANTS IN our institutions are limited as are many other institutional workers concerning advancement and definitely need better promotional opportunities. The State of New York has indicated the need for correcting this injustice. The proof of the pudding is in the eating. CSEA will continue to work for programs that will help the mental hygiene workers.

THE NEW YORK State Department of Mental Hygiene knows (as do its employees) that many times it is penalized because of its size and operating cost. Career employees can prove that this penalty is not justified as great advances are being made in the care of the mentally ill. It costs money to care for mentally ill people—this we admit. However, much remains to be done for dedicated workers who have done so much to help the mentally ill.

John Mulroy Cited By Onondaga Group

(From Leader Correspondent)

SYRACUSE, April 15—Onondaga chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, recently presented to County Executive John H. Mulroy a plaque containing the "Code of the Civil Servant," at the chapter's annual buffet-dance in Hotel Yates.

In presenting the plaque, Arthur Kasson, chapter vice president, commented that although the prestige of the public employee has improved over the last few years, these workers must continue to give more and better service to the public.

Kasson also cited the responsibilities of civil servants. He added: "The Civil Service Employee is a necessary part of government and the official, no matter how dedicated or capable, would be seriously handicapped without the permanent employee with his years of experience."

The plaque was presented to County Executive Mulroy in recognition of his interest in county employees' programs, working conditions and his service to Onondaga County.

About 350 members and guests attended the buffet and dance.

Municipal Personnel Society Discusses Manpower Report; Elects Max Saslow President

The recent report of the Municipal Manpower Commission entitled "Governmental Manpower for Tomorrow's Cities" was discussed at the April meeting of the Municipal Personnel Society. This report is a study of the problems of metropolitan areas, the image of public service and recommends a management-centered personnel management setting.

Max S. Saslow of the Department of Personnel was elected president of the society at this meeting. Elected to serve with Saslow were: Cornelius G. Sheahan of the Housing Authority, vice-president; Winifred Boyle of the Housing and Redevelopment Board, secretary and Samuel Brecher of the City Register's Office, treasurer.

The new officers will be installed at the society's annual dinner meeting on Tuesday, June 4, according to Morton Nagelberg, of the Transit Authority, the outgoing president.

A panel, consisting of Meyer Kailo, deputy commissioner of the Department of Relocation, Henry Cohen, Deputy City Administrator, and Bernard Berger, principal personnel examiner of the Department of Personnel, upheld the comments in the report.

"While certain aspects of the report were too general, the report is a prospectus for the future role of personnel management" the panel indicated, "A number of its positive recommendations have been implemented in New York City and others might well be adopted." Concluding, the panelists advised that they were in strong agreement with the report on the need to improve the image of the public service.

City Mum On Pension Bill Appeal

"No decision has been made —yet—by Mayor Wagner to appeal the constitutionality of a bill which mandates 1/2 of final pay for firemen and policemen in the Police Article 2 pension system and the Fire Department Article 1B system," a spokesman for the mayor indicated at Leader press time.

At present, members of these systems receive 1/2 of the average of their last five years salary after 20 years.

After May 1, as the result of a bill passed by the 1963 session of the State Legislature and signed by Governor Rockefeller, all police and fire pensions systems will be based on their final pay.

The Mayor has until May 1 to appeal the law, his office, pointed out. Sources close to the Mayor have advised that the mayor has ordered a study on the potentialities of such a case.

Contributions Needed

CORRECTION Officers throughout the State are contributing toward a fund for payment to an Albany attorney to represent them in an Article 78 proceedings in reference to their recent denial of a reallocation of salaries. Contributions will be greatly appreciated if sent to P.O. Box 201 Ossining, New York.

EXAMINATIONS for Correction Officer, Correction Hospital Officer and Correction Youth Camp Officer will be held on June 15, 1963. Applications close on May 13, 1963. Two lists will be established as a result of this examination. List "A," all successful candidates with graduation from a two year technical institute, community college, junior college or the satisfactory completion of two years at a recognized college or university. List "B" graduation from a standard senior high school or possession of a high school equivalency diploma issued by N. Y. State Department of Education. For additional information or applications write Department of Civil Service, State Campus, Albany.

FROM THE questions heard since the examination announcement, I believe an explanation is in order. All employee groups have been requesting the Department of Correction to raise the qualifications of entrance level uniform positions, from the present low standards, to enable Correction Officers to seek higher salaries in future negotiations. In compliance with the request, the Department scheduled a meeting with the designated spokesman of each organization representing the uniform personnel, Department of Civil Service representatives and Correction Officials for the purpose of recommending higher qualifications. This meeting was a first, wherein employee representatives were given an opportunity by the Department of Correction to make such recommendations. When the higher educational requirements were recommended by the employee representatives, it was pointed out to them that the recommendations would receive more favorable consideration if the representatives would agree to the use of an "A" and "B" list. It was explained that there was no precedent to denote how many candidates would be available with the higher educational requirements.

THE CIVIL Service department felt it wanted to beef up the "A" list to avoid the possible necessity of immediately calling for a new examination because of a lack of candidates in the higher category. If the experience proved fruitful with enough higher qualified candidates to fill existing vacancies, the elimination of a "B" list may be possible in future examinations. After the explanation, all employee representatives at the meeting agreed unanimously to the use of an "A" and "B" list in order to secure the higher qualifications.

THERE APPEARS to be some confusion with reference to the passage and signing of Introductory Print No. 130 by Assemblyman Wilson to "Amend the Correction Law, in relation to the salary basis for computing retirement benefits of guards and other employees." Some employees apparently believe the 25 year retirement bill had at long last been passed. The Wilson bill affects only about 12 Correction employees who were under the old Correction 25 year Pension. The new bill provides that these effected employees will receive as their retirement one half of their previous years annual salary. The old bill read "half the salary paid to them the year immediately preceding such retirement." In other words under the old law an employee who had been out sick the preceding year would only receive a half year's salary.
