OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE NEW YORK STATE NORMAL SCHOOL.

To the Legislature:

V. M. RICE,

Superintendent of Public Instruction.

JOHN V. L. PRUYN,

Chancellor of the University.

ALBANY, January 24, 1868.

REPORT.

To the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and the Regents of the University:

The Executive Committee of the New York State Normal School respectfully report:

During the past year, embracing the forty-fifth and forty-sixth terms, one hundred and forty-four students were admitted to the school. Their average age was eighteen years. The average time spent in teaching before entering the school was eighteen months. The whole number of pupils connected with the school during the year, was two hundred and forty-four.

At the end of the forty-fifth term, twenty ladies and five gentlemen received diplomas as graduates of the Institution; and at the end of the forty-sixth term, eighteen ladies and eight gentlemen.

At the close of the forty-fifth term, Professor Arey resigned his post as principal. On the 24th of April, Dr. Joseph Alden, for many years a professor in Williams College, Mass., and recently president of Jefferson College, Pa., took charge of the Institution.

Dr. French having resigned his position as superintendent of the Experimental school, was succeeded by Chauncey W. Allen, A. M., a graduate of the fourth term of the Normal school, and, for several years past, the successful principal of the Broad street public school in this city. The committee were thus enabled to secure the services of one practically familiar with the kind of instruction for which it is the design of the school to prepare its pupils.

Miss Rebecca Hand, a graduate of the twenty-seventh term, and an experienced teacher in one of the public schools, was appointed an assistant teacher in the place of Miss Jennie Marlette resigned.

At the opening of the present term, (the forty-seventh), the greatly increased number of students in the Normal department, rendered the appointment of additional teachers absolutely necessary. Accordingly, Mrs. Emily A. Faylor and Miss Josephine B. Shaw, both graduates of the forty-sixth term, were appointed.

The following is a full list of the present officers of the school:

Faculty.

JOSEPH ALDEN, D. D., LL. D.,

President and Professor of Intellectual and Moral Philosophy.

FREDERICK S. JEWELL, Ph. D., Professor of the English Language and Literature.

RODNEY G. KIMBALL, A. M., Professor of Mathematics.

LE ROY C. COOLEY, A. M., Professor of Natural Science.

CHAUNCEY W. ALLEN, A. M., Superintendent of the Model School.

ALBERT N. HUSTED, A. M., Teacher of Mathematics.

> T. SPENCER LLOYD, Teacher of Vocal Music.

MISS LOUISA OSTROM, Teacher of Geography, History and Drawing.

MISS MARY E. BUTLER, Teacher of Elecution and English Grammar.

MISS KATE STONEMAN, Teacher of Penmanship, French and Algebra.

> MISS REBECCA JONES, Principal of the Primary School.

MISS REBECCA HAND,
Teacher in the Model School.

MISS ELLA L. KEYES, Teacher in the Primary School.

MRS. EMILY A. TAYLOR, Teacher of Elecution and Ethics.

MISS JOSEPHINE B. SHAW, Teacher of Geometry and Latin.

In their last annual report, the committee intimated their intention to make such changes in the course of study and discipline of the school as the progress made in educational matters should suggest as best adapted to promote its efficiency. They have now to report that a thorough re-organization in all the départments of the school has been effected.

In the changes introduced, the prime design of the institution, that of educating and training teachers for common schools, has been kept steadily in view. The object sought was to make the institution a Normal school, not an academy or college.

Since the first impressions made upon youthful minds are the most permanent and influential, teachers should not only be able to communicate knowledge to their pupils, but also to train their minds to right habits of action. Those who have the training of other minds, should have well trained minds themselves.

The course of study is therefore arranged with a two-fold object. The students are thoroughly drilled in all the branches they will be called upon to teach, and in such other studies as experience has shown to be best adapted to discipline and develop the mind.

The course of study and of practice extends, as heretofore, over a period of two years. The students are divided into two classes, Junior and Senior. The year is divided into two terms of twenty weeks each.

The terms of admission have not been changed. For the benefit of those who may come from a distance with partial preparation for entering the Junior class, a Preparatory class has been instituted, in which are pursued the studies necessary for admission to that class. Experience has already shown this to be an improvement. Several who had entered the Junior class have voluntarily fallen back to this class, in order to insure a more thorough mastery of the course. It promises to form a fine nucleus for a Junior class, and thus to elevate the standard of scholarship throughout the course.

To meet the increasing demand for teachers of higher qualifitions, provision has been made for the instruction of graduates and others in the Latin, Greek and French languages, and in the higher mathematical and philosophical studies. This department will not interfere with or impair the efficiency of the regular course. It is fitting that the State Normal School should prepare teachers for all departments of the public free schools of the State, especially as this can be done without additional expense.

In the re-organization of the school, due regard was had to the importance of practice in teaching under the direction and criticism of experienced teachers. To this end the schools for practice, now called the Model and Primary schools, have been put in a condition to furnish models of organization and government, and to give abundant opportunities for continuous practice on the part of the pupils of the Normal department. The committee regard these departments of the school as of the greatest importance, and have commended them to the earnest attention of the President.

The committee are happy to state, that the faculty are cordially united in their efforts to carry to a successful issue the scheme of instruction and discipline that has been adopted. They are impressed with a belief that the school will continue to improve, and realize the design of its conductors to make it worthy of the munificence of the State.

There have been in attendance during this term, 295 students—a greater number than is shown by the records of any term since the school went into operation.

To prevent this increased number of students from impairing the efficiency of instruction, the classes have been subdivided into sections containing an average of twenty-five pupils. This has greatly increased the labors of the teachers, and has compelled the President to hear a greater number of recitations than is consistent with the general supervision that is desirable.

Numerous applications for admission at the opening of the coming term have already been made. Should the expected increase of students take place, the employment of additional teachers will be indispensable, and this cannot be done without an additional appropriation from the Legislature. Even with the present number of pupils, there is no reserve force. If a teacher is ill or unable to meet his classes, there are no teachers at leisure to take his place.

During the year, 338 text books have been added to the library, for the most part to replace those too much worn for use. The miscellaneous library remains as at the date of the last report. It is very desirable that it should receive additions of standard English and American authors. A wider acquaintance wt English literature than is now practicable on the part of the pupils, would aid in qualifying them for the posts of influence they are to occupy.

The building has been extensively repaired and is now in good condition. The account of the expenditures for these repairs will be found in the financial report.

A statement of the receipts and expenditures for the year ending , is appended to this report, and the vouchers for every payment are in the hands of the committee.

DESIGN OF THE NORMAL SCHOOL.

The design of this Institution is to furnish well qualified teachers for the public schools of this State. Its students receive a thorough drilling in all the branches which they will be called to teach, and in such other studies as experience has shown to be best adapted to discipline and develop the mind. Those who train the minds of others, should have well trained minds themselves.

Besides receiving from the Faculty instruction in the art of teaching, the pupils are, at the proper stage of their progress, required to teach in the model and primary schools. This practice is under the supervision and criticism of the President, the Superintendent of the Model School, and the Principal of the Primary School.

The course of instruction and practice occupies two years. The year is divided into two terms of twenty weeks each. The students are divided into two classes, Junior and Senior.

Terms of Admission.

Candidates for admission to the Junior class must exhibit satisfactory evidence of good moral character, must be not less than sixteen years of age, and must pass a satisfactory examination in spelling, reading, writing, geography, and arithmetic (as far as roots), and be able to analyze and parse any ordinary English sentence.

Persons desiring to enter at an advanced standing must, in addition to the examination for the Junior class, pass an examination in all the studies gone over by the class to which they desire admission.

All pupils before entering the school, are required to sign the following declaration:

We, the subscribers, hereby DECLARE, that it is our intention to devote ourselves to the business of teaching in the schools of the State, and that our object in resorting to the Normal School is the better to prepare ourselves for this important duty.

Preparatory Class.

Those who may not be found qualified to enter the Junior class, will be admitted to the Preparatory class, in which the studies necessary for admission to the Junior class will be pursued.

STATE OF NEW YORK, Normal School, Albany, N. Y., [Date.]

To whom it may concern:

This certifies that A. B., having been a member of the State Normal School, and having completed the prescribed course of study, is deemed by the Faculty of the Institution to be well qualified to enter upon the duties of a teacher.

[Signed by each member of the Faculty.]

In accordance with the above certificate, we the Executive Committee have granted this DIPLOMA.

[Signed by each member of the Executive Committee.]

[[]By an act of the Legislature, passed April 11, 1849, "every teacher shall be deemed a qualified teacher who shall have in pessession a Diploma from the State Normal School."]

English Composition.

Particular attention is paid to this department, which is conducted by the President, assisted by the Professors. A composition is read in connection with each recitation in English studies. These compositions are criticised by the teacher before whom they are read.

Extempore Speaking.

In connection with the recitations, brief premeditated argumentative speeches will be required of the members of the class in turn.

In connection with the recitation in Geography and History, brief unwritten lectures on historical topics, assigned by the teacher, will be required of the members of the class in turn, upon which lectures the class will be questioned by the teacher.

Lectures.

In addition to the regular recitations, lectures will be delivered on the Fine Arts, the History of Civilization, Educational Institutions, Comparative Philology, Geology and Natural History.

In connection with the lectures on Geology and Natural History, the pupils have access to the State Geological collections in the Geological rooms adjacent to the Normal school, and to the Museum of the Medical College.

Post Graduate Class.

Graduates of the school who may desire still higher qualifications, will receive instruction in the Latin, Greek and French Languages, and in the higher mathematical and philosophical studies. Members of this class will also be permitted to review any of their previous studies, in connection with the under-graduate classes.

Classical Course.

To meet the increasing demand for teachers in Classical studies, provision has been made for a Classical Course that will qualify teachers for academies, and academical departments in the Free public schools in which the languages are taught. This optional course will occupy at least four years. It will not interfere with or impair the efficiency of the regular course above given.

Special Privileges of Pupils.

The tuition and the use of all text-books are free of charge. Students, however, will be held responsible for any injury or loss of books, and they are advised to bring with them any text-books or books of reference they may have in their possession. The amount of fare necessarily paid on public conveyances in coming to the school will be refunded to those who are present at the opening of the term and remain till its close.

Apparatus.

The apparatus of the school is well assorted, and sufficiently extensive to illustrate all the important principles in natural philosophy, surveying, chemistry and human physiology. Extraordinary facilities for the study of natural history are afforded by the museum of the Medical College and the State collections, which are open at all hours for visitors.

Library.

Besides an abundant supply of text-books upon all the branches of the course of study, a well selected miscellaneous library has been procured, to which all the pupils may have access, free of charge. In the selection of this library, particular care has been exercised to procure most of the recent works upon education, as well as valuable standard works upon the natural sciences, history, mathematics, &c. The State Library is also freely accessible to all.

Terms and Vacations.

The Fall Term will begin on the third Wednesday in September, and continue twenty weeks.

The Spring Term will begin on the last Wednesday in February.

Price of Board.

The price of board in respectable families varies from $4.50 to $5, exclusive of washing. Students wishing to board themselves can procure ready furnished rooms at $1 per week. Many pupils, by so doing, reduce their entire expenses to $3 per week.

Pupils of different sexes are not allowed to board in the same families. Particular care is taken to be assured of the respectability of the families who propose to take boarders, before they are recommended to the pupils.

Prompt Attendance.

Students should not fail to reach Albany the day preceding the opening of the term. They should report themselves at once at the Normal School building, where they will be directed to boarding houses, approved by the Faculty. They should retain their checks until they have secured boarding places, when their luggage will be delivered free of charge.

Persons entitled to Admission.

Each county is entitled to twice as many pupils in said school as it has representatives in the Assembly. Appointments are made by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, on the recommendation of the School Commissioner of each School Commissioner District, and on the recommendation of the Principal Superintendent of Schools of each of the cities. When the quota of a county is filled, candidates having the proper qualifications will be appointed to fill vacancies in the representation of other counties, on application to the President. As such vacancies have always existed, the School is practically open to all who desire to fit themselves to become teachers.

The following extracts from a circular issued to the School Commissioners by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction clearly present the qualifications which are deemed essential:

"The School Commissioners are directed to give the most extended notice in their power of vacancies, and to interest themselves in finding proper pupils to be appointed.

"In making the selections, those who from past successful experience have proved their aptness to teach, or from traits of character, clearly developed, give fair promise of future success, should be preferred. Talents not below mediocrity, unblemished morals and sound health, are regarded as indispensable. In your visitations of the schools you will sometimes find teachers who only need the instruction which this school is designed to give, to insure their highest success and usefulness; or pupils who have given proof of good scholarship, which, by being properly directed, may be made of great value in the cause of education. Such teachers and scholars you will encourage to seek these appointments."

"For the want of qualified applicants, the quotas of some counties may not be filled, while the number of worthy and qualified applicants in other counties may be greater than the quota to which such counties are strictly entitled. Therefore, you need not limit your recommendations to the number to which your county is entitled by representation in the Assembly, but encourage aspiring, qualified, promising young men and women who intend to make teaching their vocation to attend this school."

"Allow me to urge you to use all proper means to extend information in regard to this school, and to induce young persons who possess the requisite qualifications, to participate in its benefits."

"It is suggested that you advertise to receive applications and to examine applicants for appointment at a specified place."

Order of Exercises.

1. OPENING CHORUS-"School-Time Days." - - C. Muller.

BY PROF. F. S. JEWELL.

Youthful eyes, with glowing glances,
Life behold with gladness crowned,—
All a scene of summer dances,
Lightsome trod in ceaseless round:
Yet of all its seasons golden,
One still bears the palm of praise,
For by youthful eyes beholden,
Brightest beam the school-time days.

Youthful hands in hands entwining,
Feel life's pulses warmer beat,
'Neath the summer noontide shining
O'er the hours when loved ones meet:
But the hours, when friendships brighten
All the toils of learning's ways,
Purer, warmer rays enlighten,—
Dearest still, the school-time days.

Youthful hearts, as age advances, Roused by memory's magic spell, Backward turn with tearful glances, And on long lost pleasures dwell: But, of all life's olden splendor,— Hope's, or friendship's summer blaze, Still, in recollection tender, Sweetest shine the school-time days.

BY PROF. F. S. JEWELL.

Hail, hail, ye dear old Normal halls!
We gather for the last,
And round us many a shadow falls
As dies the sun-lit past:
Our hearts could weep, but that we hold
Our course with courage true;
The future claims the spirit bold,
Then, fond, weak tears, adieu!

O! round your memories of old,
A halo splendor streams,
Such as a sun-set touched with gold,
Sheds over twilight's dreams:
Its fading glow our hearts could weep;
But manhood cries, away!
Tis glory crowns the future's steep,—
The grave shrouds yesterday.

Adieu, adieu, we pause no more,
To nurse a vain regret;
The braver path leads on before,
And better days are yet;
And, as their trumpet call awakes,
Our hearts give answer high,—
The future strife the hero makes,
Forward to do or die!

Away, away! to deathless strife
With ignorance and wrong,
The noblest labor of our life,
We pledge with purpose strong:
Should victory her prize withhold,
And conflict beat us down,
Then time shall bring the battle bold,—
Eternity the crown.
