Poole Becomes President of Societies' Council

Phi Sigma, Theta Nu, Adelphoi, Delegate Representatives

The Inter-Society Council elected John Poole, '42, president of Phi Sigma, as president for the coming year at its first meeting on Thursday, October 2.

Members present were Fred Detwiler, '42, Walter Griggs, '42, and John Poole, '42, from Phi Sigma; Don Foucault, '42, and Harold Game, '43, of Theta Nu; and Sanford Golden, '42, and Charles Kosbob, '42, of Adelphoi.

Dr. Carleton A. Moose, adviser, explained all the rules to the representatives. The groups decided that the next meeting would take place on the following week, after final members were selected by the societies.

The advisers from the faculty were announced at the meeting, and are as follows: Mr. James E. Cochran of the English department, Phi Sigma; Mr. Harlan W. Raymond, Instructor of Manual Arts, Theta Nu; and Dr. Carleton A. Moose, head of the Science department, Adelphoi.

Wilson Presides As BAC Allots Athletic Money

The Boys' Athletic Council held its first meeting of the season on Friday afternoon, October 3. Alton Wilson, '42, president for 1941-1942, presided.

Ways and means to raise money were a chief matter of discussion, for boys' athletics received a cut in their budget for last year. Sanford Golden, '42, was appointed to head a committee to study new methods of acquiring the necessary funds.

Of special interest to all Milne students is a new policy to be adopted for the first time this year: that of selling season tickets to parents for basketball games. The tickets will cost one dollar and will cover all eight home games. One ticket will admit both parents and friends of pupils.

Funds were appropriated at the meeting which Coach Kooman Boycheff, head of boys' athletics, will use to buy basketball, soccer, and football equipment.

Election of officers was scheduled for the next meeting, as the sophomore class has not yet elected members for the council.

Walter Grace Elected President of Senior Class

Ring's Flash Foretells Toll of Wedding Bells

"Third Finger, Left Hand"—we're not discussing a movie, just the ring Miss Anna L. Palmer's been flashing around these days.

According to Miss P, his name is W. S. Wilson and he's a civil engineer from way up in the north woods.

The two mathematicians have set no date yet, but when they do, CRIMSON AND WHITE will scoop as usual.

Congratulations to you, Miss Palmer, from all of Milne.

Choose George Vice-President

Walter Grace was elected president of the Senior Class, by a large plurality, at a meeting of the class Monday afternoon, October 7, conducted by Phillip Snare, president of the Junior Class last season.

Robert George was elected vice-president. Others chosen to lead the group, largest Senior Class in the history of the school, are: June Black, secretary; Phillip Snare, treasurer; and Walter Griggs, business manager.

Other nominees for president were Allan Ely and Robert George. June Black, Walter Griggs, Allan Ely and Bernard Golding were also nominated for vice-president. Nominees for secretary were Margaret Hodecker, Lois Ambler, and Alice Van Gaasbeek. Runners-up for treasurer were Walter Griggs, Allan Ely and Alice Van Gaasbeek.

Dr. Carleton A. Moose, Supervisor of Science, and a Senior Class Homeroom teacher, acted as adviser during the meeting. Joyce Hoopes, '42, secretary of the Junior Class last season, was temporary secretary.

MacMahon Releases Junior Council Staff

Barbara MacMahon, '45, newly-elected president of Junior High Student Council, conducted the group's first meeting of the season on Monday afternoon, October 6.

Alfred Saunders, '45, was elected vice-president of the Council at this time. Other officers chosen were: Ruth Welch, '45, secretary; James Detwiler, '45, treasurer; and Jeanette Price, '46, representative to the Senior High Council.

Plans for the coming fall reception were discussed. Innovations this season include the entire membership of the council acting as hosts and hostesses and the new students wearing identification tags. Committee personnel has not yet been selected, announced Mr. Paul Bulger, assistant to the principal, who is acting as faculty adviser to the group for the 1941-1942 season.

Milne Library Displays Ninth Albany Mural

The ninth in a series of murals depicting historic Albany, painted by David Lithgow for the Milne School, is now on display in the library.

The mural is a picture of Robert Fulton's Clermont arriving in Albany on September 5, 1802. The Clermont with forty passengers on board and the inventor, Robert Fulton, completed the trip up the Hudson to and from Albany without a mishap.

Each year a new mural is presented to the library. It is financed by the annual card party which, with the supervision of Mrs. Anna K. Barsam, Instructor in Clothing, is managed by the Milne students.

Seventh, Eighth Grades Meet At Assemblies

An assembly for eighth grade students will take place in Page Hall at 2:30 p. m. this afternoon.

"The purpose of this assembly is to reestablish the eighth grade as a group and to get them started on their second year in Milne in order that they may take their place with the other classes," stated Mr. Paul G. Bulger, assistant to the principal.

A similar gathering was held for the seventh graders on Friday, September 26.

As part of the program, Mr. Earl Snow, of State College, lead the group in school songs. They were accompanied by Miss Mildred Maasch, also of State College.

Mr. Bulger addressed the students concerning their entrance to Milne.

John Jansing, captain of the traffic squad, spoke about the conduct of students when passing classes.

Mr. Jim Lockman welcomed the seventh graders to Milne.

Sally Duncan and Frank Bellville explained the various Junior High clubs.

Dr. Ralph B. Kenny, Director of Guidance, explained the procedure if a student is tardy or absent.

Bob Barden '41, Former C & W Chief—Still In The Business

Once a newspaperman—always a newspaperman. At least that is the way it's been for Bob Barden, '41, last year's editor of the CRIMSON AND WHITE, who is now on the staff of the Watertown Times, one of New York State's largest newspapers.

Bob, who has been working since early fall, must be quite a busy man these days, according to his sister, Miss Betty Barden, '39, another former editor of the CRIMSON AND WHITE, who is now a junior at State College.

Said sister Betty, when asked what Bob's job consisted of: "Well, he works in the advertising department a good part of the time, and is a sort of reporter-in-training or glorified office boy, the rest of the time. He likes the job a lot and especially enjoys the two nights a week when he works on the Times and is the only one in the building. Guess it brings back C. and W. memories."

We wish you a lot of luck, Bob. The Watertown Times gained a valuable asset, when they hired

Robert W. Barden '41

"Big-Time" Barden.

While at Milne, Bob gained additional newspaper experience by representing Milne on the weekly school page of the Knickerbocker News. He was also chairman of the Crimson and White Banquet Committee, and a delegate to the CSPA Convention in New York City.

We're for You, Phi Sigma

Phi Sigma is a literary society which was formed in Milne two years ago. This society was formed according to all the rules and regulations in the school pertaining to such an organization, and upholds these rules as well as the other societies. Why can't Milne accept it?

Opposition to Phi Sigma was very strong in the past two years because the boys in the Senior High objected to the new society. They were afraid that it would take members out of Theta Nu and Adelphoi. Doesn't Theta Nu take some boys that Adelphoi wants and doesn't Adelphoi take any of Theta Nu's prospective members?

Phi Sigma is no different from any of the other literary societies. The boys' societies were overcrowded and there was need for another one. If there were peace among all the boys' literary societies, Milne would be much better off. A Society Day would be possible. We used to have them and they were fun to watch and fun to produce. Phi Sigma would very easily be included in the Q.T.S.A. dance and scholarship. Why not do something about it, Milne? The strong opposition graduated in the class of 1941 so why should we discriminate against a perfectly legitimate society, which is as good as any of the rest? Let peace again reign in Milne!

Music in Our Ears

From the moment we heard the Quartet sing at the opening assembly, we have been wanting to hear more and more, not only from these four boys, but from the newly formed A Cappella choir, and the band.

Each morning at 9:00 A. M. we hear strains of song floating out the windows and from under the door of the Little Theater. This is a new experience to Milne students, and is a pleasure which we are beginning to look forward to. A few more lessons and these Milne musicians will be able to play at our affairs, and assemblies. We must hand it to you, Mr. York for the fine way you've started our music department. We're waiting to hear from you, Milne Maestros!

'Round Town With Lo-Lo

"Picnics and Hayrides and mid-winter sleighrides," the lyrics of a popular song fit the activities of the Milne students to a "t". Picnics are more common to the summer, and mid-winter sleigh rides seem to come in the winter, which leaves the hayrides to the crisp months of October, and November. Everyone knows and loves the atmosphere of a good old-fashioned hayride, where an old tattered wagon is loaded to the brim with hay, apples, and many gay, shouting people. There's always the excitement of riding the horses, chasing the wagons, singing loudly, and watching the "man in the moon" as he slyly smiles down at young couples.

Confidentially, there's a rumor that a hayride is in the wind for this evening. Some of those farmers planning to attend are: Margaret Hodecker, Sally Hunt, Priscilla Smith, Lois Ambler, Marian Horton, Mariam Boice, Glenna Smith, Joyce Hoopes, Marilyn Potter, Marcia Bissikumer, Ethelee Gould, Bob Ball, John Jansing, Bob Clarke, Bill Wiley, Duncan Crook, Kirk Leaning, Fred Detwiler, and Van Varner. They'll make hay while the moon shines!

A well-known movie magazine has a column on interesting and trick parties. Last week in Milne's social life Nancy Edison gave a "Call-It-What-You-Want-Party." It started out as a hot dog roast, proceeded to a scavenger hunt, and then finally back at Nancy's house the guests ate, danced and told ghost stories. Sounds like quite an evening. Those present were: Jane Curtis, Meg Hunting, Eleanor McFee, Elaine Fite, Marie Edwards, Marion Mulvey, Lucia Swift, Betty Jane Southwell, Hilda Schilling, Chuck Cross, Bill Soper, Nick Mitchell, Hal Game, George Edick, Ted DeMoss, Dick Bates, Dick Lawyer, Harvey Holmes and Stanley Heidenreich. Around the middle of the evening Sanford Golden and Marty Edwards crashed the party. Naughty boys!

The Juke Box — By "Book"

"Hello, students!" This column now makes its first appearance in the new CRIMSON AND WHITE. It's purpose is to review the better records of the week and give you some news of your favorite "name" bands. Well, Milnites, let's go to press!

"Sing a Love Song" and "I'm Thrilled"—Claude Thornhill . . . This up and coming young band has done a fine job of recording these two lovely ballads. They feature the tinkling piano of Thornhill and his seven man clarinet section well moulded about the vocal. If you hear this platter and it meets with your approval, try his "Lovers in Glass Houses." It's equally well done.

"Blue Skies" and "Backstage at the Ballet"—T. Dorsey . . . An old favorite recorded with a new zest. Frank Sinatra's vocal, the whole chorus singing along, terrific arrangement for the band paced by Ziggy Elman's torrid trumpet all adds up to a number that's a "must" in your collection. The other side, "Backstage at the Ballet," is mediocre.

"Embraceable You" — "Fingerbustin'" — J. Dorsey . . . Helen O'Connel does the finest singing job she has ever done on "Embraceable You." The tune is wilting and Helen's slow, limped vocal is solidly backed by the sax section of the Dorsey men.

"Elmer's Tune" — "Delilah" . . . "Elmer's Tune" is a catchy comer very well done by the Miller Orchestra. Eberle and the Modernairs show fine teamwork and the arrangement rolls along fluidly. "Tex" Beneke does his usual dead pan vocal with the Modernairs filling in on the back.

"It's Yours!" — "Kiss the Boys Goodbye"—Alvino Ray . . . Ray's band has had a sharp rise in popularity and when you hear this platter it will be easily understandable. After more "cuttings" like this one, he'll be really big time. "It's Yours" is wonderful. Vocal is good, chorus does super job and the arrangement is canned by the entire ensemble sparded by the maestro's guitar. "Kiss the Boys Goodbye" is also well done and it tops off one of the best record buys Bluebird has made of late.

Records that have already gained recognition and are worth mentioning are—"Joltin' Joe Dimaggio"—Les Brown. "Adios"—G. Miller. "Yes Indeed"—T. Dorsey. "Chatanooga Choo-Choo"—G. Miller.

Songs to watch for future popularity include: "Love Me As I Am," "This Love of Mine," "I Don't Want to Set the World on Fire."

Well, you swing (and Dodger) fans, adieu.

By Word Of Mouth

The question our inquiring reporter put to Milnites this week was, "What do you think of the new CRIMSON AND WHITE?" It seems that the majority of students agree that the paper is easier to read. A few comments by some of the students appear below:

Ruth Ketter, '43—"Pretty snazzy! I like the idea of pictures, and it seems good to be able to read it all."

John Jansing, '42—"I like it a lot, but it isn't as large, and I don't think it contains as much news. Outside of that, it's composed very well."

Helen Huntington, '45—"I like it better, naturally, because it's easier to read and it makes a better showing when compared with other school papers. Also, there's not as much gossip."

Bill Soper, '43—"Well done! Maybe even worth paying my student tax for."

Sally Hunt, '42—"It's a lot more popular with the students the way it is now."

Dave Golding, '45—"Swell! It's worth the extra dollar spent for it."

Barbara Bethan, '47—"It's swell! Our paper in School 19 wasn't half as good."

Chuck Cross, '43—"I think the printed paper is a great improvement over the old hit and miss mimeographed CRIMSON AND WHITE. You can read it now."

Pete Peterson, '44—"It's a great improvement, but there were a few mis-spelled names."

Sandy Bookstein, '44—"Great improvement. We should have more photos. What happened to the features?"

Marcia Schifferdecker, '42—"Grand! Bob deserves a lot of credit, and the whole staff has done a splendid job in putting it out. I hope they keep up the good work."

Jim Lockman — "It's a very businesslike, compact paper, and it's so good the staff can stay after 4:15 to work on it."

Margie Wright, '43—"It's more legible and we can have pictures. You can read an article without making a guessing game about the words that didn't mimeograph well. They could improve the girls' sports."

Dr. R. W. Frederick—"The first issue of the CRIMSON AND WHITE is attractive and well balanced. The CRIMSON AND WHITE gives every promise of being the most successful paper yet."

Eve Morgan, '46—"Swell!"

Joe Hunting, '42—"It's more attractive and legible, and the pictures are nice. I like the idea of by-lines. You know who the article is written by. There should be more girls' sports."

To The Editor:

Cornell University
Ithaca, N. Y.
October 7, 1941

Dear Bob,

I intended to write you some time ago to wish you much luck in your new venture with the CRIMSON AND WHITE. Now I'm so glad that I waited for I can add my congratulations on a splendid first issue. As I told Miss Wheeling, I have only one criticism to make—that is, that you have set such a high standard for yourselves in having this perfect first issue that you are going to be hardpressed to find much room for improvement. It was certainly a real source of satisfaction to me to find my name included with Miss Wheeling's.

How do the Milne students take to the uplifted face of the C. and W.? I trust favorably.

Mr. Allard and I are most comfortably situated near the campus with Prof. Bergin who used to teach at State. Our room overlooks the lake, and their yard ends in one of Ithaca's many gorges. Of the Milne delegation here I've only seen Metz and Stevenson, but Allard has seen the three girls as well, Evelyn Wilber, Doris Holmes, and J. Townsend.

We saw Cornell whip Syracuse Saturday, and nearly had a sunstroke for our pains, it was so hot.

Please extend my best wishes to the other members of the staff, and I hope all your little headaches will lessen as the year goes on.

As ever,

Warren I. Densmore.

The staff of the CRIMSON AND WHITE wish to take this time to offer their condolence to the Brooklyn Dodgers, and all those loyal fans, who thought that the bums could beat those mighty Bronx Bombers.

President Wilson announced that on October 24th the budget would be presented to the school for its
