WE, '35, SALUTE YOU

A FAREWELL and a beginning. Four years we have been shaped and molded. In the fall of thirty-one, we came—but particles of clay with which the potter was to work. He placed us, his material, on the molding board. As a large gob of clay on the pivot, we were a united force, and with the turning of the wheel we began to take shape—not a definite one, perhaps, but at least it was a beginning. Our first year, while we were still pliable, our opponents, the class of thirty-four, dented us by hurling a debate and the mascot at us; however, we carried on. By the end of the year, in fact, even by Moving-Up Day, we were mended and sufficiently strong to throw a stunt back that bent their sides.

Fall of thirty-two; the wheel continued to turn. This year we had power, and though things were thrown at us, we stood unmarred. There were banquets, yellow and green rivalry, “stuff,” and most important of all—SOIREE, which was—just by chance—the night of repeal and, we might add, one mighty fine affair. The June of thirty-three saw us as a lovely “vaçe”—multi-colored, finely shaped and firm enough to stand alone.

The potter toiled long and hard and hoped for a really good piece of work. The material blended; the colors became brighter and the shape became more refined and distinct. We gave a “smart” reception for our sister class—may they cherish it long; we had many banquets; and, we produced stunts—great to us, though not always recognized by others as such. Of course, our big event was JUNIOR PROM. It was, in truth, a great and gala affair—“dazzling” to many of our members. “Tea” Dance and Junior Luncheon were also recorded as successes. By this time, other classes recognized our abilities. We grew and developed, and though we had no rivalry, we had material with which to meet any competition. We had become, by this time a “vabs” of which any potter might be proud.

We have been back on the pivot for finishing touches. It is our last year, but our joy and successes completely overshadow any regrets. We didn't win the stunt at Campus Day, but we probably never had a better time than while we were down in Davy Jones' locker. Our SENIOR HOP was the best in years; we have a fine Myskania; we have competent leaders in activities; we have, in other words, the traditionally perfect class.

Our four years at State will not easily be forgotten—the friendships, the associations, the excuse notices, billet-doux, the Boulevard and the Activities Office have all become a part of us. However, we must leave, and give our place to others—others who have striven and undoubtedly deserve it. We're sorry to go, but because the potter and his wheel have stopped turning and we have become the smoothly blended, firm and iridescent “vaws” State would have us.

WE, '35, SALUTE YOU!

JUNIOR HISTORY

WE TORE down upon State with an awful lot of enthusiasm. Being precocious youngsters, we had decided upon a collegiate spirit with glamour. And so we rah-rahed with great gusto. Sophomore hazing didn't disturb us too much—we kept our nice strident affability. And were we ever proud when our stunt took first place Campus night? We did think ourselves prime, but we liked everybody else too. The sing wasn't so successful; our rivals had better voices. Mascot hunt proved a real lark, jolly and maybe a little bit violent. Moving-Up Day came and brought victory to '35. In our new dignity, "safe in the sophomore class," we found consolation.

As Sophomores we continued to play, worked, oh, ever so seriously and triumphed over '37. We felt wiser, more experienced. Both defeat and victory had been ours. Socially launched we were, too. Remember Soiree?

Now we have really grown. We have a sister class. We tramp the halls looking harassed. We worry about our philosophy, the philosophy of life we must have and give. Practice teaching looms before us; behind is the ghost of our collegiate spirit. Our aims are greater, finer, growing as we tramp. We want to do big things, very big things. College has opened to us a new existence. We're interested in a wide world of culture and learning. This, State has done in guiding us through our adolescent impulsiveness to a maturer understanding. To be sure, we still jump up and down and cheer, but we are sincere in our loyalty to our college and her traditions.

MILDRED SCHNEIDER, '36.

SOPHOMORE HISTORY

IT is a well-known fact in
The Sophomore class that we
Are the best class—
The mainspring of the Institution
So to speak—
It is doubtful whether anyone
Else realizes our importance—
Other classes never do—
And would the faculty?

We are young in years and
Old in experience—Didn't
Our mascot hunt prove to
Be our undoing—almost?
It is feared we became Too boisterous—and the Walls of this noble Institution
Failed to restrain us—A
Pep meeting on the steps of

Draper—our wholehearted coöperation—
 That huge bonfire and snake
 Dance which frightened the Law and Order—And then the Sophs had established a new Tradition at State—The
 Interclass snake dance.
 We didn't beat "36" in interclass
 Rivalry—oh my—no—Freshmen
 Banquet—a fracas in the Cafeteria—Arms—Legs—
 Chairs upturned—screams—
 Laughter—That huge banner—
 Did we win?
 Then interclass rivalry was called Off—Guess we had
 Too much grapenuts!!!
 But we did win a debate
 Because of Swiss Cheese having
 Holes in it—Moving-Up
 Day with our Red hair-ribbons
 And ties—Usual talent in the Stunt—achieved Honorable Mention.

Second year, we returned to State
 Almost like Frosh—but not quite—
 We tackled new work with our
 Customary vim—Such spirit! Oh
 My—too much!!
 This year the Frosh bettered us
 In the stunt Campus Day—but
 We did sing with all our might.

Teas—Parties—Dances—Receptions—
 Pep meetings—Contests—Frosh—
 Football games—sororities—Fraternities—
 Exams—Basketball—Rushing—Sings—
 Jamborees—Sports—Studies—
 Friends—Pals—Proms—
 Such is the life of the Gay Young Soph!

Moving-Up Day—ah!—and
 We become Juniors—
 Psychology—
 Two years gone, but two left
 In dear old State—Two
 Years more to prove our
 Worth and importance to
 The undergrads—

It is a well-known fact in
 The Sophomore class that we
 Are the best class—
 The mainspring of the Institution
 So to speak—
 It is doubtful whether anyone
 Else realizes our importance—
 Other classes never do—
 And would the faculty?

FRESHMAN HISTORY

IN SEPTEMBER of the year 1934, a young army of freshmen stormed the citadels of State College. Their garb was a bright, clear blue, and when they marched through the halls, flaunting their ribbons, everyone saw them coming. To say that they conquered the place would hardly be fair, but that they conquered the hearts of all upper classmen is not to be denied. "When in Rome, do as the Romans do"—they adopted as their first code, and all personal pride and glory fell before the traditional observances of Myskania, Minerva, back doors, and "Life Is Very Different."

It wasn't long before the female soldiers left off their accoutrements of battle and trotted off to the frolic of Play Day. There, too, they met tradition—games, swimming, apples, hamburgers, and the final "Arm In Arm." It was here that Frosh met Frosh, and learned the foibles of upper classmen.

As work descended, the blue army needed advice, help, guidance. To the yellow most of all they turned for help. For to the "plebes," the Juniors represented all sympathy and understanding. But the monotony of work was broken by parties. Off hours, they credulously followed guides through Junior tours, danced self-consciously at Junior Reception, laughed gaily at Sophomore party, and becoming smoother by the minute, the amazons decorously nibbled angel food squares at Intersorority Tea.

Now despite the fact that their enemy '37 could sing slightly better, they surprised themselves and everybody else with their Campus Day comeback. To the rumble of the weird drums of the Congo, their "stunt" took first place.

Their next victory was truly a war. The girls beat their rivals in basketball—and within a month, their brave young Lochinvars conquered the Sophomore men. Just one more proof of their great worth!

State has meant a lot to the class of '38. This year they've organized. They have the pep, the people, and the spirit. Now—Let's go, '38!

COUNCIL

ORGANIZED 1921

*T*HE Executive Council is the student group which executes legislation passed by the Student Association. Its officers are the President, Vice-President, and Secretary of the Student Association; the Presidents of the four classes are the remaining members. In addition to executing the will of the Student Association, the Council has other duties, such as the appointing of students to Campus Commission, Directory Board, and Electrola Committee, and the enforcing of the extra-curricular point system. Since those students who have not paid their blanket-tax are ineligible for participation in activities receiving support from the Association budget, Executive Council, with the aid of the Finance Board, enforces this rule. The Council also charters all boards, committees, and associations which are to secure finances from the Student Association. The last, but not the least important, of the duties delegated to the Council is the arranging of programs for the meetings of the Association at which prominent and interesting speakers are heard.

The Executive Council acts as an advisory body, in which capacity it brings various resolutions before the Association and also serves as a nominating committee for delegates to the conferences of the National Student Federation of America.

OF FINANCE •

*T*HE Student Board of Finance, which was organized in 1920, arranges the financing of student activities. Meeting weekly, the Board numbers among its duties the organization of a budget of expense, the recommendation to the Student Association of the amount of the annual Student Tax, the collection of the tax, the authorization of the disbursement of money in accordance with the budget, and the holding and investing of all money received from the tax and from all student activities governed by the Board. The Board coöperates with the Hygiene department in the payment of Infirmary benefits allowed members of the Student Association.

Throughout its history, the Student Association has lived within its income, carrying out a varied extra-curricular program supported by a Student Tax at no time greater than $14.00.

In 1934, the Board established the precedent of arranging the budget and presenting it to the Student Association for consideration in the spring instead of the following fall. This step makes it possible for the tax to be collected at the opening of school in the fall, and correspondingly, for the student activities to get under way almost immediately.

Advanced Dramatics Class Play "Death Takes a Holiday"	May 21, 1935

IN 1919, an extra-curricular club was organized at college, financed solely by the door receipts at the various performances. Later, when the student budget was initiated, this club was included. Its first presentation was "The Yellow Jacket," directed by Miss Agnes Futterer. It was for this production that Miss Perine, of the Art Department, conceived the idea of combining the dramatic and art classes into one organization having the art classes design sets, window cards, etc. Thus the Dramatic and Art Association came into being.

All regular students of the college on payment of the student tax automatically become members of the association and are privileged to attend all presentations without further payment. The executive council is composed of six students, two from each of the three upper classes, chosen in the spring of their freshman year after being "try-outs" for both semesters. The choice is based principally on the interest in the association, personality, executive possibilities, and initiative. The faculty members are the Director of Dramatics and the head of the Art Department. The council is strictly an executive body, procuring information on lectures, actors, authors, and various art exhibits and deciding which of these presentations would be most profitable to the students of the college.

The Association sponsors the three one-act plays presented annually by the Elementary Dramatics class in January, the Advanced Dramatics production in the spring, and an occasional program by the Blackfriars, a dramatics organization of State Alumni.

During former years, some of the foremost artists and men of letters including John Drinkwater, Alexander Woollcott, Rachel Crothers, Louise Closser Hale, Edith Wynne Matthison, the Abbey Players, the Ben Greet Players, Ruth Draper, and Nazimova have been presented at State College by the Dramatic and Art Association. More recently we have had Clayton Hamilton, Edna St. Vincent Millay, Angna Enters, Daniel Frohman, and John Lomax.

ASSOCIATION

*T*HE present Music Association originated in 1916 in an English I class taught by Professor Kirtland. Its members met bi-weekly for the presentation of musical programs.

When the music department was instituted at State College, Dr. Candlyn organized a Music Association composed of two members from each class. The students are selected on competitive basis in their freshman year, according to interest, dependability, and initiative. These students then become members of the council for their four remaining college years.

Each year the council tries to present to the student body the best in musical opportunities. This year, the council was most fortunate in securing the Don Cossacks, a chorus of ex-officers of the Russian army, who were received enthusiastically by the students and their friends. In former years, the council has presented Gabrilovitch, Percy Granger, Gilbert Ross, and Ensembles from the Boston Symphony. Music Association is an important factor in increasing the cultural life of the student body.

TO BUILD a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of realizing in our common life those ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed by our faith as Christians. In this endeavor we seek to understand Jesus, to share His love for all people, and to grow in the knowledge and love of God."

This is the purpose of Y. W. C. A.—carried out by its varied activities of fun and service, discussion, and worship. Traditional events include frequent discussion meetings, teas, dances, sings, matins, and vespers, conferences, a Candle Light Service, a bazaar—this year, the State Fair, and social service work in Albany.

Through all these activities is gained that factor essential to all progress, the constant interplay and free interchange, of ideas. On this foundation the organization seeks to stimulate thought, to help unify the college student body, and to bring about greater understanding of the problems of modern life both within and outside the college halls.

NEWMAN CLUB was founded by command of Pope Pius X. His Encyclical, issued in 1906, contained the command that religious doctrine classes be established in public institutions wherein no mention whatsoever is made of religion.

Cardinal Newman was chosen patron of Catholic students in non-Catholic colleges because of his qualities of head, of heart, and of soul. His motto, "Cor ad cor loquitor"—"Heart speaketh unto heart," is our motto; his shield, our shield.

The object of the club is threefold: religious, intellectual, and social. It supplements the work of the secular institution by spiritual and religious education. This is carried out by means of special lectures and devotions. The annual retreat of the Club is held after the Christmas vacation. Meetings are held monthly at the Club House, Newman Hall, 741 Madison Avenue. Social functions include a reception for the Freshmen, a club dance held at the College, and several informal parties.

Newman Club is a member of the Central New York Province of the Federation of College Catholic Clubs of the United States and Canada. Members of the Club receive the "Newman News," the publication of the Federation. Delegates are sent each year to the Province and Federation conventions. Last year delegates were sent to Jacksonville, Florida. The Federation Convention this year is to be held at Toronto, Canada.

STATE COLLEGE

Ruth Williams

Daniel Van Leuvan

THE undergraduate weekly newspaper of State College is the State College News. Founded in May, 1916 as the mirror of undergraduate sentiment at S. C. T. the News has continued as the official reporter of the various activities of the College student body.

Under the efficient leadership of its editorial directors the State College News has progressed in its scope until today it occupies a preëminent post in State College student life. With a trained staff of over one hundred, its various departments are consolidated in the editorial board, consisting of the editor-in-chief, the managing editor, the associate managing editors, finance manager, advertising manager, and circulation manager. Determination and direction of editorial policies together with supervision of the activities of the staff constitutes the duties of the News board.

Over a period of nineteen years the News has maintained itself in harmonious relations with student activities and, as a leader in formulating undergraduate sentiment, has justified the intent of its founder, Alfred Dedicke, '17: "In the columns of the News, you will find the pulse beat of the student body."

CHRISTMAS, 1926, Santa Claus left State College a scrappy little Lion cub that grew to vigorous Lion-hood by 1928, bounding into the middle of the family budget as State College's own humor magazine.

A dozen editors have guided the Lion's paw to point out the humorous and the ridiculous, to smear with satire the false and the obnoxious, to champion good-naturedly the worthwhile. To do this, the Lion has had—especially in the past year—to change from the old-fashioned, hack-product gag and gaglet humor publication to the modern type of mature, debonair humor magazine. The requirements this change entailed—the shift to a better form of typographical set-up, better handling of art work, a more select paper—forced an ordinarily hard-working advertising staff to double its efforts and, what's more, its income.

ECHO

FOR forty-three years, the Echo has been serving the student-teachers of Albany. Created to be the sole publication of the Albany Normal School, it did, in its early days, the work of a school-paper, a literary vehicle, and a humor magazine.

The rise of the News, the Pedagogue, and the Lion gave the Echo an opportunity to concentrate upon the literary efforts of the students and to give recognition, wherever possible, to special achievements in the writing field.

The 1934-35 Echo differs slightly from earlier issues. Book reviews are no longer a feature of the magazine, but are completely a part of the State College News. Recent copies of the Echo, too, boast brighter covers than earlier issues wore.

The Echo hopes that every year will bring it nearer to its goal—the accomplishment of truly fine literature. We feel that Echo is progressing rapidly in this direction.

Seated: Amyot, Byrnes, Rall, Bancroft, Jadick
Standing: Coach Baker, Kane, Murray, Leonard, Welter, Finch, Manager Mohrman

WE CONGRATULATE our basketball team for having given us the most successful season a State quintet has ever had. Coach Baker's basketeers lost but one out of ten games and avenged a defeat by Brooklyn Poly by trouncing that team in a return engagement 33-27. State out-scored its opponents to the tune of 416 to 276.

Starting the season off with an easy victory over Connecticut State Teachers, N. Y. S. C. T. next opposed Middlebury College. In a struggle consisting of phenomenal basket shooting by both sides and in which Murray of State netted 26 points for scoring honors, State College came out on the top of a 58-53 score. In quick succession, State disposed of the Alumni 29-15, New Jersey State Teachers 38-26, Drew University 73-24, M. I. T. 43-15, and Massachusetts State Teachers 41-35. To climax a most brilliant season, State defeated Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in what was, undoubtedly, the fastest and most spectacular game ever played on the Page Hall court. The game was closely contested throughout; at the end of the first half, the score was tied at 20-20; R. P. I. drew away in the second half, but a strong rally brought State to within one point of tying. With less than one minute of playing time left, Murray tied with a free throw and Finch also converted from the 15 foot line to place State on the winning end of a 33-32 score. Bancroft's scoring spree and Rall's tight defense were the high spots in the contest.

Contributory factors to these remarkable victories were Len Welter's steadiness, Bancroft and Murray's aggressive tactics and Rall and Finch's defensive floorwork. Amyot, Byrnes, and Kane featured in several games. Teamwork was the essence of the 1934-1935 quintet's success.

State's outlook for the 1935-1936 season is bright despite the grievous losses of Rall, Murray, and Finch. Managers Mohrman and Huber in coöperation with the Athletic Council have planned a schedule for next year that promises to give the spectators plenty of excitement. There is a possibility that the team will oppose Hamilton, Hartwick, and various New York City teams. The more definite 1935-1936 schedule is as follows:

December 7	R. P. I.
January 15-18	New York Trip Pratt Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute
February 14	Lowell Textile Institute
February 22	Bridgewater Teachers College
February 29	Fitchburg Teachers College

BASEBALL

Seated: Baird, Carter, Cullen, Brooks, Byrnes, Amyot, Welsh
Standing: Coach Baker, Quigley, Quinlan, Rifenerick, Drake, Allan, Hayes, Manager Mohrman

BASEBALL this year is the dark horse of State College athletics. The outlook for the team is promising but at the same time, uncertain.

To begin with the keystone positions of record base and shortstop are open and it will take hard work on the part of Coach Baker to develop regulars for these positions. Jerry Amyot seems to have the first base position pretty well clinched, while the dependable Captain Ken Drake will again fill in the hot corner at third base. Freddie Byrnes and Jim Quigley are the two outstanding outfielders, and there is a possibility that several freshmen may turn out as promising candidates. Bob Rifenerick, a veteran of several years ago, who has returned to school this year, will capably fill in the backstop position.

Pitching is one of Coach Baker's major problems. When Ossie Brooks was graduated last June, State lost one of its greatest hurlers. Johnny Cullen is expected to bear the brunt of the pitching this year with the possibility that Al Dumont's sore arm of a year ago will have recovered to enable him to take a regular turn in the box.

After the successful basketball season, the baseball squad will have to work hard to turn in as good a season as the hoopsters turned in.

The schedule as arranged by Manager Karl Ebers is as follows:—

May 11	Oswego	May 18	Hartwick
May 15	Bard (away)	May 25	Hamilton
	May 29	Hartwick (away)

TENNIS

STATE'S tennis team suffered a rather disastrous season in the Spring of the year 1934. The varsity won none, tied one match 3-3 with St. Stephens, and lost matches to Middlebury, Hamilton, and R. P. I. Other matches rained out were Vermont, Massachusetts State Teachers College, and a return game with R. P. I.

Several factors accounted for this unsuccessful season; Ridgefield Park, which was to have been available for practice for our tennis men, was found to be open only for the matches; Bill Allard, last year's captain, was able to contribute his services only for the last game; rainy weather and the poor condition of the Washington Park courts prevented our team from reaching its top form.

The prospects for the 1935 season are not too favorable. Livingston and Tarbox, stellar racket men at STATE for the past three years, are no longer in our ranks. Livingston closed his tennis career at STATE with not a single defeat. He forfeited one match to R. P. I. last year because of unfavorable weather conditions. Tarbox won games against Middlebury and R. P. I. We are financially unable to rent Ridgefield Park; consequently we shall be without regular practice and home games.

The bright spots on our tennis horizon are Harold Cahn, a freshman who won the Fall Tournament, and Harry Wheeler, a sophomore whose playing has received the polish necessary in college competition. Jack Saroff is again with us, and the team has veterans in Hardmeyer, Allard, Decker, and Rall.

The 1935 schedule includes matches with Middlebury, Seth Low, Keene Normal School, St. Stephens, Hamilton, and R. P. I. Despite all handicaps, Captain Hardmeyer is confident of a successful season. It is unfortunate that State College cannot encourage its men in tennis. Remedial steps should be taken to provide them with practice courts. All games must, of necessity, be played away this year.

HONOR COUNCIL

HONOR COUNCIL was formed in 1925 for the purpose of distinguishing women of outstanding personality with ability in athletics, scholarship and general leadership. It was felt that such a council would link these women with G. A. A. in after years. Membership in Honor Council is the highest honor G. A. A. can award. Members are announced on Moving-up Day of their Junior year.

G A A, you welcomed us when first we came to State,
 I n your sports we've found a joy in life, a gayety;
 R ound your campfires we have dreamed the dreams we will relate
 L ong after their dead embers are blown and free,
 S een the visions of youth that doth ever stand and wait.

A nd in your friendships we've found the best of college life;
 T hrough sports we've gained a comradeship we never can forget;
 H ockey and baseball made us one in friendly strife,
 L eadership we've learned, fine people we have met,—
 E ver to you for them we'll owe this unpaid debt;
 T hrough years we'll remember the songs that we've sung
 I n busses and by fireplaces where our voices high have rung;
 C ourage, too, we've learned, a lesson we'll not soon forget—

A nd in many games we've striven and won, and often lost,—
 S occer, basketball, and tennis we have played, and playing,
 S eemed to lose all sight of teams and sides and scores and cost
 O f losing, or gain in winning, our answer found in saying,
 "C all your game well won though it be lost, if you have found
 I n losing, something you'd not have known in winning, for
 A ny game well played is won though lost." And the sound
 T o us will long be sweet of teammates' cheers, although no more

 O h, G A A, we do salute you now, for we can know
 N o better way to tender you the thanks we'll ever owe.

DEBATE COUNCIL

DEBATE COUNCIL was organized in 1927 at State College in order to promote our intercollegiate debating relations and foster intramural debating. Debate Council has maintained, through the course of its brief existence, its ability to keep State College in the foreground of the eastern intercollegiate debating field.

First under the direction of Dr. Thompson and now under that of Mr. Bryant, and through the leadership of aggressive Debate Councils, State College's debate teams have regularly met some of the leading teams of America and England with a consistent and considerable degree of success.

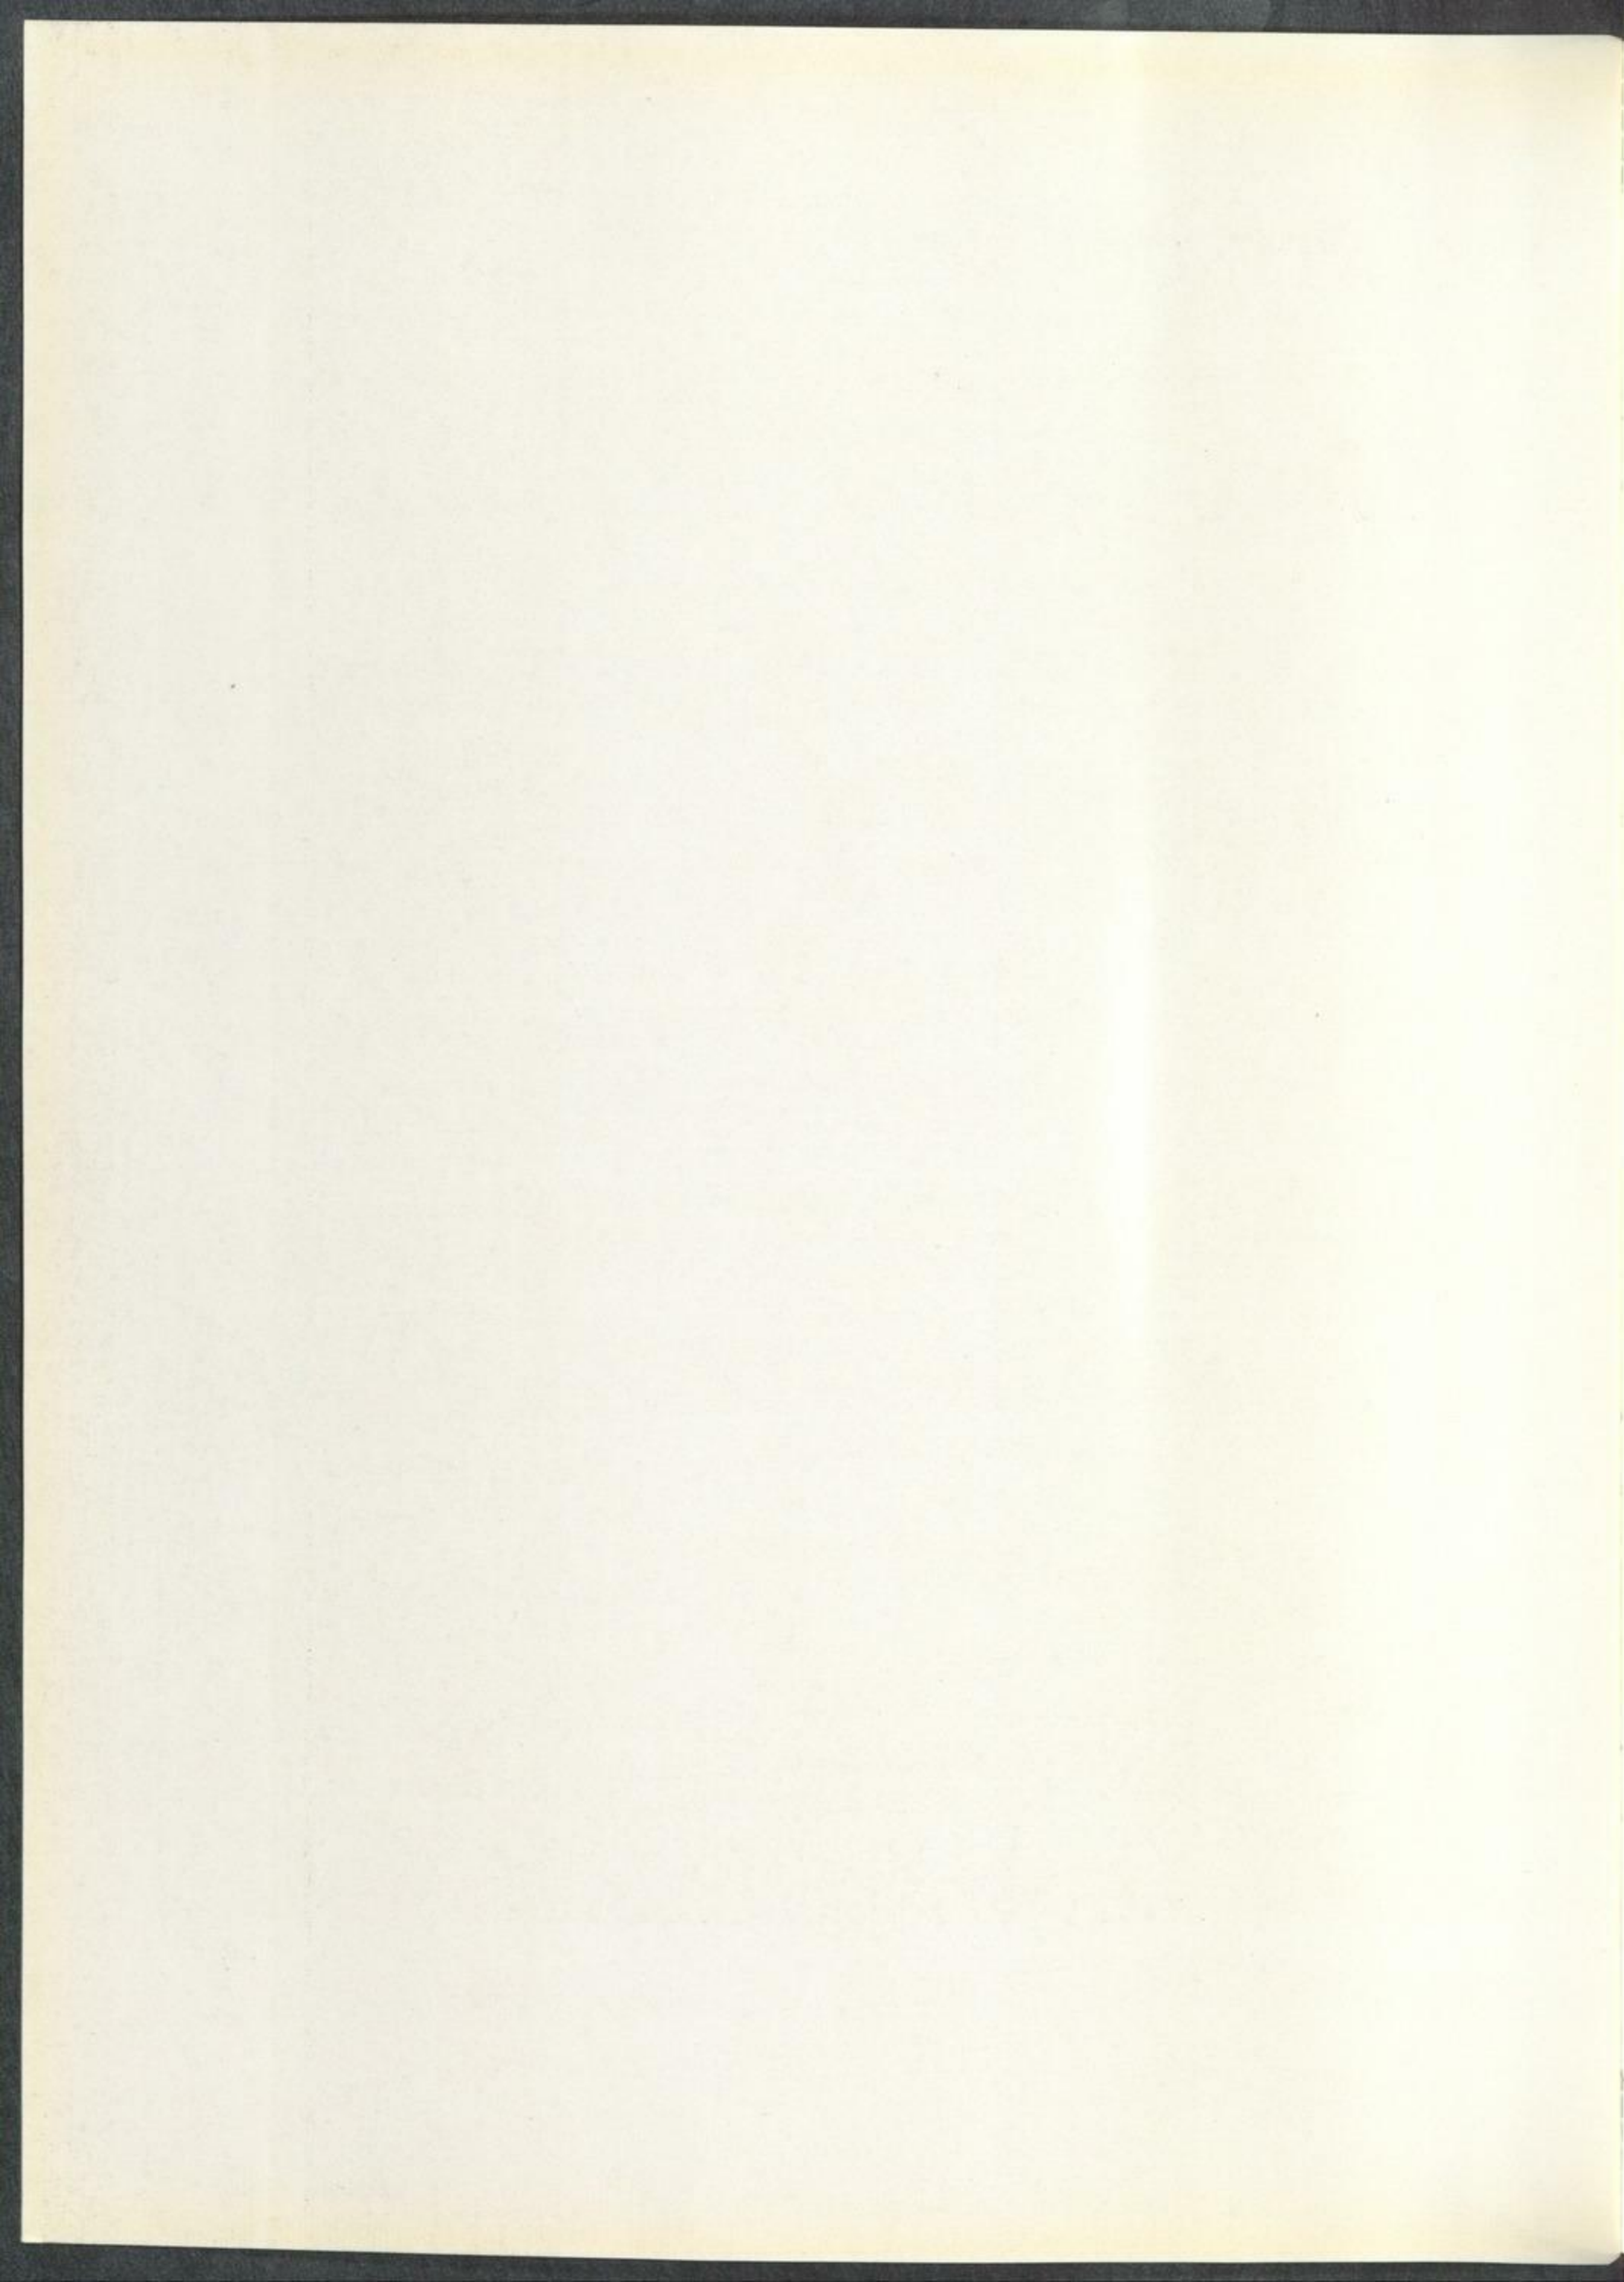

This year's varsity debate schedule includes Syracuse University, Fordham University, Wells College, Keuka College, Middlebury College, and Hamilton College. The Freshman debate schedule includes Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Colgate and St. Rose. Intramural debates include a Freshman-Sophomore Debate and a Men-Women Debate.

DEBATE COUNCIL'S OFFICERS FOR 1934-1935 ARE:

*M*YSKANIA is the Senior Secret Honorary Society of New York State College for Teachers. This organization was founded in 1917 and immediately rose to an important and prominent position. A member of Myskania has received the highest recognition that State College has to offer its students.

This organization leads in all student activities and is the main factor in formulating student opinion in matters relating to all student activities and extra-curricular work. The fields of activities are numerous and those who have lead in these fields are eligible for Myskania; scholarship, all college publications and literary efforts, debate, dramatics, sports, and all student affairs in general

The members of Myskania are elected in the spring of their Junior year, but their names are not announced until Moving-Up Day when the incoming Myskania is tapped by the out-going Myskania. Each member of the Student Association votes for two eligible Juniors and three of the candidates elected are chosen. Inasmuch as the president of the Student Association becomes an ex-officio member, the Student Association really elects four members. The other eligible Juniors are appointed by the out-going Myskania at its discretion.

Myskania takes active part in Student activities such as, the induction of Freshmen into college customs and traditions, the organization of the Freshman Class, the guardianship of college traditions, the preservation of student morale, and the direction of the programs for Moving-Up Day, Campus Day, and Activities Day.

It is the purpose of Myskania at all times to uphold the traditions of the college and to give its best energies to turning the student mind and activities into channels which will promote the deepest and truest interests of State College. Myskania symbolizes the true spirit of State College—a spirit of dignity and loyalty.

In February, 1923, a group of State College students, interested in the classics and prompted by a desire to spread that enthusiasm, organized Classical Club. Its object was "To further the interest in and increase the knowledge of the life and literature of the Roman people." Since its organization, Classical Club has grown rapidly and sponsored many noteworthy activities.

In 1926, Classical Club held its first Roman Banquet. So successful was it that since that time Roman Banquet has become an established annual custom, and the one most important social event of the Club's calendar.

Classical Club has likewise distinguished itself in dramatics. Two years ago, it presented scenes from Sophocles' "Antigone," and last year—well, everyone remembers Ida Weiner's excellent portrayal of Electra, the leading role in Euripides' play of the same name. Although we have been forced to forego such a presentation this year, we hope that, in the future, Greek Play will become an integral part of Classical Club's annual program.

The Commerce Club of State College was organized in 1924 with a membership of five. Its aim is to keep its members well-informed on modern trends in commercial education and to make contacts with people prominent in the business world.

Membership in the club has increased steadily since the date of its founding until its members now number two hundred.

This year, the Club has inaugurated an important new feature—The Com-Forum—a quarterly paper on commercial education, the only one of its kind in the State of New York. This publication has already made a name for itself.

During the year at its monthly meetings, Commerce Club has been stimulated through talks on education, industry and commerce by Professor York, head of State College Commerce Department, Mr. C. D. Moore of the Southwestern Publishing Co., Mr. Morris H. Tremaine, Comptroller of the State of New York, Mr. Clinton Reed, head of Commercial Education in New York State, Hon. James J. Wadsworth, and Mr. Lister who gave a demonstration of the Dictaphone audits.

Each Spring the Commerce Club invites all students to its most important annual social event—the Spring Banquet at which time installation of next year's officers takes place.

The French Club has for its aim fluency in French speech and appreciation of the French people, their art, customs, government, history, and education. It also tends through its monthly meetings and social gatherings to promote friendship among the students of French.

"Every one has two countries, his own and France!" Those who have traveled throughout Europe believe this. There is something great in a country which cherishes so dearly her customs and legends. French Club is studying with keen interest these legends and making them more vivid by dramatization. It also takes pride in widening its knowledge of the art and literature of France, and speaks only the French tongue. Speaking French in itself is nothing until one learns to speak fluently and to express himself quickly and with assurance. This comes only from much practise.

An annual fête is held. Plays are presented for the pleasure of outsiders and for the great benefit which is derived by members of the Club from their very participation in such enjoyable functions.

In 1915, the first Spanish class was organized in State College. One year later, Spanish Club came into being, at first a voluntary affair, and later with a definite constitution. Its first president was Alfred Edward Dedicke, a young man very much interested in the Spanish language. The purpose of the Club has always been to foster Pan-Americanism by arousing in students, especially in those who would have no other connection with things Spanish, an interest in the art, history, customs, and culture of Spanish speaking countries. This aim is realized through the presentation of speakers versed in Spanish customs. In addition, Spanish Club sponsors several social functions during the year—these functions culminating in the Spanish Carnival, one of the outstanding festivals, which attempts to create for the queen of the carnival a true mardi gras entertainment.

Membership is open to all students of State College who are interested in the Club.

In 1927 a group of State College men gathered in the locker room and originated the Troubadours, a minstrel organization to fulfill a long-felt need for a men's social organization. The Troubadours stage at least one entertainment a year.

Robert Shillinglaw, '29, was elected the first chairman of the organization. In 1927-'28 La Verne Carr, '29, was musical director of the first stage show which was presented in the Hawley Hall auditorium.

Randolph Sprague, Frederick W. Crumb, John Kennedy, Royal Knox, Robert Rankins, John Grosvenor, and Robert Robinson were successive presidents of the organization. In 1930 no entertainment was presented as the group was awaiting the opening of the new Page Hall Auditorium in June.

The Troubadours have produced such operettas as, "The Pirates of Penzance," and "The Sorcerer." In the Spring of 1933 they combined with the Girls' Athletic Association in presenting "Patience," a Gilbert and Sullivan operetta.

This year, a musical show, under the direction of Edward Kramer, was successfully presented in the Page Hall Auditorium.

The International Relations and Social Science Club made its debut in December, 1933 in answer to student desire. The Club is a member of the International Relations Clubs of America and is known abroad as the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

The purpose of this Club is two-fold: to make teachers of Social Science aware of the importance of international affairs in everyday life, and to instill in these teachers a desire to help as much as possible in promoting amiable relations between the American people and those of other nations.

To accomplish its purpose, the Club holds debates, informal discussions, and coffee hours at which prominent speakers are heard. Dramatizations of historical events to make them more vital are also held.

The Club owns over thirty books which have been sent by the main office in New York. Two installments are sent yearly and are placed on reserve in the Hawley Hall library for general use. A list of the titles is to be found at the library desk. Members receive, fortnightly, summaries including all international and national events occurring within the previous two weeks. Every student interested in social science is eligible for membership. Dues are fifty cents a year.

The Mathematics Club was founded in 1919 by a group of interested seniors and juniors of the College with the advice and aid of Professor Birchenough. The aim of the Club is to further the interest and broaden the perspective of students in mathematics. Meetings are held twice a month at which the regular members, faculty members and outside speakers present topics of general interest. The highlights of the year are always the Christmas party and the annual Spring picnic. All students, who have successfully completed the first semester of Analytic Geometry, are eligible for membership.

Two things greater than all things are:
Ken Christian and the D. A. R.
Ken is that active active man,
The one who quotes Kahlil Gibran.
He whispers adjectives over his tea
And belongs to all the societies that there be,
And though he's as busy as can be
Leaves this advice for you and me:
"Break the dead branches from the path:
Our hope is in the aftermath—
Our hope is in heroic men,
Star-led to build the world again."
Unquote.

HOSPITALITY DEFERRED

The day will come when I shall see
 The folly of frivolity.
 When I shan't mind a bristly cheek
 Nor ever long for smooth technique.
 In fact I'll quite appreciate
 The traits I used to underrate.
 I'll realize the truly fine
 May fail to hand a subtle line.
 I'll know that homely, gawky men
 May make a fortune now and then.
 And that when one is growing old,
 One loves man for his heart of gold.
 So, au revoir, my dear, to you—
 Come back in 1962.

MARY WILLIAMS

I go into the lake;
 The lake goes into me,
 I wonder what would happen
 If I went swimming in the sea?

RUTH BROOKS

I am akin to stones
 I have lime within my bones;
 I am akin to sea
 I have salt in blood of me;
 I am akin to windy sky
 I have breath with which to sigh;
 I am akin to earth; I find
 I have dirt within my mind.

TWO HISTORIC RHYMES FOR BLIGHTED CHILDHOOD
ANNE BOLEYN

Annie Boleyn, Annie Boleyn,
The court was quite shocked when this lady walked in
And Henry just grinned a lascivious grin.

Cardinal Wolsey called Anne a bad name
Henry said "Wolsey, you villain, for shame!"
He mentally filed it for use just the same.

PARODY ON "THE SMILE"

I didn't like the way he went away
That conqueror's smile—You'll rue it in a day
I told him. But still he smirked
And all the soul within me smirked right back.
He laughed because I'd not given in at first,
And when I did,—He knew he had my heart.
I'll get it back! He shan't have mine to jumble in his pocket with the others.
I won't have the corners nicked and battered when—
Oh, back again? (He watched me from the porch as like as not.)
Have you repented sweet?
He probably thought I had, such rot!
Oh why are men so stunted on conceit?

A STATE COLLEGE SONG

There is something at State College that is native to my blood—
Touch of dancing, hint of food;
And my heart is like a rhyme,
With the Johnnies, and the Billies, and the Tommies keeping time.

The scarlet of those classmarks can shake me like a cry
Of Freshmen going by.
And my lonely spirit thrills
To see those gentle warnings like sugar-coated pills.

There is something in Myskania sets the aspirant's blood astir;
We must rise and follow her,
When from lofty chair of fame
She walks and walks and slowly taps some dame.

K. KEARNEY

I told you that I loved you;
I promised to be true.
Had you, my dear, believed me?
Then you were cock-eyed, too.

Men who dare

'Od'sblood, the bitter fight!
The watching through the night,
Until, with morning's light,
The Commons is thrown wide,
And heroes rush inside.
'S'death, the score is tied!

For men who dare,
Buttercups and daisies.

THE INSULT

(With most humble apologies to an anonymous author in John Lomax's Songs of the cattle trail and cow camp.)

I've struggled out into the cold to get to my 8:10s;
I've staggered through a week of hist'ry quizzes;
I've fought for tuna sandwich with a bunch of howlin' swine
And oft have guzzled seventeen gin fizzes;

I've danced at noon with freshmen who belong back in the sticks;
I've gone all day on naught but Alb'ny water;
I've been caught in stampedes many to be first from English lecture;
An' I've used some methods that I hadn't orter;

I've argued with the registrar 'bout cuts and no excuses;
I've alibied through Trig and wondered how;
I've lived through freshman rushin' and still like all the sisters;
An' I never lost my temper 'til right now.

I've had the German measles on the night of Junior Prom;
I've hitch-hiked home without a bit of kale;
But I've never been so snortin', really highfalutin' mad
As when you up and hands me ginger ale.

DAYTON

They keep Dayton around the store;
 He's not worth much,
 The storekeeper says.
 He is too old and slow,
 Yes, and too lazy
 To do much more
 Than drive the trade away.
 They have to force him
 To make him earn his meager wages,
 Sacking sugar, beans, potatoes,
 Grinding the hamburg,
 Pumping gasoline.

Yet those who have the patience
 To endure the slowness of his nature
 Are often much amused
 By his generous wit
 And crude philosophy.

One time a housewife was buying a cake tin.
 She wanted one a little deeper
 Than the one Dayton had shown her.
 He told her in his friendly drawl,
 "Well, this one will be deeper
 When I get the dust
 Wiped out of it."

A fraternity had sent their curtains to the cleaners. It was the second day that the house had stood unveiled. One morning the following note arrived from the sorority across the avenue:

"Dear Sirs:

"May we suggest that you procure curtains for windows. We do not care for a course in anatomy."

The chap who left his shaving to read the note answered:

"Dear Girls:

"The course is optional."
