Harriman to Propose 40-Hour Week And Wage Adjustments; GOP Program Lists Retirement Improvements, Reduced Hours

Lower Paid Aides Would Have Choice on Joining State Retirement System

ALBANY, Jan. 6—Republican legislative leaders today unveiled a 9-point civil service program for consideration at the 1958 Legislature session, opening Wednesday.

A surprise feature for State employees was a recommendation that "greater flexibility in retirement decisions be granted State workers." This refers specifically to a point in the program which would allow workers in lower grade brackets who have Social Security to have a choice about joining the State Retirement System, as is now mandatory.

For institution employees, the GOP program indicated a move might be approved to establish a uniform 40-hour week for all. The Republicans introduced legislation last year to cut the institution work week to 42 hours.

The GOP statement made reference to the wage increases for State employees sponsored by Republicans last year but did not indicate whether it would sponsor or support a round of raises this session.

Another plank deals with provisions for special off-street parking facilities for State employees in Albany.

Mahoney-Heck Statement

In releasing the civil service program, Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney and Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck, declared: "The Republican Party repeatedly has taken the initiative, in the face of Harriman Administration opposition, in improving the compensation and working hours of public employees and in providing other benefits for them.

"Two steps have been taken to reduce the work week of State employees, who work more than 40 hours, without reducing their pay.

"In two years the pay of State employees has been increased 19 percent for those in the lower titles to 11 percent for those in the upper grades. The second of two successive general pay-hour adjustments resulted exclusively from Republican leadership.

Social Security Cited

"Social Security coverage has been extended to supplement the benefits of the State Employees Retirement System and other public pension systems. Solely through Republican efforts coverage was made retroactive and also made available to policemen and firemen. The Republican bill has been hailed by employees as 'one of the greatest employee gains in civil service history.' As of January 1, 1958, more than 400,000 public employees in New York State will have Social Security coverage.

"Notwithstanding his characteristically brazen effort to claim credit for its enactment, the cold fact is that Governor Harriman and officials of his administration fought tooth and nail against the retroactive feature of the 1957 Republican Social Security Bill. Moreover, the Governor's bill specifically excluded policemen and firemen in the State from the benefits of Social Security coverage.

"To assure older public employees who were approaching mandatory retirement age the benefits of Social Security coverage, we sponsored and passed legislation to

Governor To Be Definite On Work Week Reduction; Up Promotion Chances

ALBANY, Dec. 6—Governor Averell Harriman will propose a 40-hour work week with no loss in take-home pay for State institutional employees and adjustments in what he earlier this year termed "inequities resulting from last year's pay increases" during his address at the opening of the State Legislature here Wednesday, The Leader learned.

Recommendations for improving retirement conditions and career promotions and repeal of the "unworkable provisions" of the Condon-Wadlin Law also will be included in that section of the Governor's message dealing with civil service, informed sources reported.

Proposals for inclusion of police and firemen under Social Security coverage also will be made, it was reported.

The full text of the Governor's message dealing with civil service will appear in next week's issue of The Leader. It was learned, in the meantime, that the Governor will propose these major points on Wednesday:

1. A forty-hour week for State institutional employees, with no loss in take-home pay. (Some 20,000 aides still work a 42-hour week.)
2. Wage adjustments where inequities exist. (Previous remarks by the Governor indicate these adjustments will be aimed toward lower grade employees.)
3. A choice on whether or not a public employee should join the Retirement System.
4. A permanent Health Insurance Board with employee representation.
5. Payment toward employee's moving costs when transferred by the State.
6. Legislation to give police and firemen Social Security coverage.
7. Extension of the temporary provision for doubling the ordinary death benefit to retain the 12-month allowance.

Increased Load Coverage

8. Increase life insurance loan coverage from $2,000 to $3,000 and increase the age of members for insurable loans.
9. Major revisions in the Civil Service Law.

Eisenhower Backs General Pay Raise

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 — The prospects of a Federal pay raise, which have appeared good now for a couple of weeks, became almost a certainty this week as the White House indicated what extent to which it is willing to go.

The minimum raise is in the 6 percent category, which the employees will not consider anything like sufficient, although they are heartened at the indications that this time, unlike the last, the President will sign a pay increase bill. He vetoed the last one on the ground that it was premature, with completion of the study of Federal salaries not in sight.

Incentive Raises, Too

Employee organizations say that study of Federal salaries is never complete; the situation changes almost from day to day. They add that this time the employees have the additional argument in their favor for a substantial raise the fact that the cost-of-living has reached an all-time high.

Although the amount of the general raise might not prove satisfactory, word from a White House informant that the bill the President is considering recommending in his budget message would provide for incentive raises, as well. Such raises might not benefit a large percentage of employees, but the idea of paying workers the actual value of their services, even when the run-of-mill rules don't make it easy or sometimes even possible to do so, would be considered an improvement.

Cost-of-Living Is Key

The White House salary plan would be based on the cost-of-living. That cost has been shooting skyward while Federal pay has remained at a standstill so long that most employees probably don't quite remember when they got their last raise. It was in March, 1955, nearly three years ago.

With a minimum raise of 6 percent, the average would reach around 8 or 8½ percent.

President Eisenhower has practically decided to go ahead with the plan along the lines just described, although several members of his Cabinet advised him not to do so. No information was given out as to what were their grounds for opposition.

Backing for Employees

The possibility is that some Cabinet members thought that the President should favor a much higher raise. However, it is believed that the opposition arose from mixed reasons, some Cabinet members emphasizing inflation stimulation, and others the plight of the Federal employees.

The President will hold some more conferences before coming to a final decision.

It is regarded as certain that there will be some disparity between the raises that the postal employees get, as compared to the classified employees, the other white-collar workers. The pay of blue-collar workers is usually set by wage boards.

Postal Group's Hope

Postal employees expect to get a better break because they carry the ball in the campaigning for a raise, are much more solidly organized, and have what they consider overpowering evidence gathered by their labor economists.

Reclassification Appeals in Nassau

MINEOLA, Jan. 6 — A three-man board of appeals has launched hearings into complaints by some 950 Nassau County employees over their pay scales under civil service classification plan adopted July 1.

Deputy County Attorney George Greenstein, chairman of the appeals board, estimates that six or seven months will be required to hear all complaints. Hearings will be held each Tuesday and Thursday.

The appeals for higher pay are an outgrowth of reclassification studies made last year by H. Elliot Kaplan. The survey revised titles and salaries of the county's 7,000 employees.

Other board members are Clarence E. Southward, executive assistant to Nassau Public Works Superintendent John C. Guilbert, and Edward M. Edell, a civil service employe in the county treasurer's office.

Anti-Discrimination Policy Outlined by Gov. Harriman

ALBANY, Jan. 6 — Governor Harriman issued a "statement of policy" on the responsibility of State agencies to carry out the State's anti-discrimination laws and program.

The statement has been sent to all department heads with the request that all officers and employees be familiar with its contents.

The Governor's statement follows recent complaints of discrimination filed against state agencies, including the State Police and Creedmoor State Hospital. In both cases, the State Commission Against Discrimination cleared the agencies of the charges.

Because of the importance of the statement, The Leader is reprinting the full text. The statement follows:

"In my annual message to the Legislature in 1957 I said: 'At a time when racial friction is being highlighted in the nation, it is more important than ever that New York State demonstrate what can be achieved in eliminating discriminatory practices from American life.'

"Events in other parts of the nation in recent months have given this statement added significance. They have demonstrated far better than any words the urgent necessity for eliminating all discriminatory practices, everywhere.

"States have obligations as well as rights. I am determined that

New York State maintain leadership in the fight for racial and religious equality. We must be constantly alert if we are to hold the gains we have made.

"New York State agencies employ 85,000 persons. This makes them collectively one of the largest employers in the State. We in State service then, have the responsibility of setting an example for the entire State and for the nation. The basic State policy is and has been to countenance no type of discrimination because of race, color or national origin within our own ranks or within the areas in which the State government participates, to the extent permitted by law. Each of you shares the responsibility of implementing this policy.

Procedures Outlined

"In pursuit of this policy, the following procedures should be observed:

- "1. Whenever a department head considers it essential, or whenever a complaint of discrimination is received...

THE PUBLIC EMPLOYEE

By JOHN F. POWERS
President

Civil Service Employees Association

An Assessment of Values

It is the custom at this season to review the past, contemplate the present, and make firm resolves about the future. Probably each and every one of us has, at one time or another during these days, performed this audit. This spiritual assessment cannot but have value. It serves as a compass enabling one to steer his course more directly towards his goal.

As it is with an individual, so is it with a group. It is good for any association of men to pause—look back at the past, contemplate the present, and consider the future. The spirit of an organization is as vital as the spirit of man. When the spirit fails, death and decay soon follow.

An Honored Cause

The Civil Service Employees Association was born to an honored cause. Its life was dedicated to the service of the people and the dignity of the public servant. Its way has ever been to the concern of both, and its past is a testament to its purpose. The record is full of its deeds. It has served the public and it has helped the public servant. Both have been made better because of its existence. It has brought understanding and shed light on the problems of human government. At times its voice has been strong but it never used the tone of enmity. It spoke with the conviction of its ideals and its sense of responsibility. Its ranks have grown from the respect and appreciation of the public servant and what it says is listened to by official and editor.

A New Year's Resolution

These things have come about within the Association from the spirit of its members. Each has felt the solemnity of the dedication and each has given freely of himself to the common good. Without that spirit the Association would be only a name and its voice would be ranting and raucous.

To maintain the spirit of dedication to the public good and the public servant is our resolution for the New Year. To bring dignity and a sense of purpose to the public employee is our goal. To act with reason and responsibility is our way of life.

Rockland State Honors 10 at Retirement Party

A retirement party was given by Rockland State Hospital for ten employees, who collectively had given 217 years of service to the State Department of Mental Hygiene.

In addressing the pensioners, Dr. Alfred M. Stanley, director of the hospital, cited the occasion as a happy one for them, since they now would be able to enjoy the fruits of their many years of work, but a sad one for the hospital, which was losing valued employees.

Bronze plaques inscribed with their names and the number of years of service, were presented by Dr. Stanley, and a gift of a bond to each was given by H. Underwood Blaisdell, hospital business officer. Corsages were also presented to the women and boutonnières to the men.

Those honored, and years of service, were Joseph Murray, of laundry, 15; Anna Saletan, occupational instructor, 16; Linda Gross, head housekeeper of Building 9, 17; Grace Ottenheimer, senior occupational therapist, 21; Donald MacDonald of the Building 19 ward service, and his wife, Elizabeth MacDonald, head of the mending room, 22; Roy Greenier of the industrial shops, 25; John Kantenwein, motor vehicle operator assigned to social service, and his wife, Rachel Kantenwein, head housekeeper of Home 14, 26; and Joseph R. Reilly of the Building 57-M ward service, 27.

Neither Mrs. Salstan nor Mrs. Gross was able to be present. The presentations to them were received respectively by Rose Kunze of the occupational therapy department, and Alice Chandler of the housekeeping department.

Twenty-five year service pins were presented to Mrs. Kantenwein and Mr. Greenier by Dr. Stanley.

Additional gifts from their co-workers were presented to Mr. MacDonald by James Reilly of Building 19; to Mr. Greenier by Anton Eiskant of the industrial shops; and to Mrs. Kantenwein by Theresa Helder, head of the housekeeping department.

Present at the party was Mrs. Alfred M. Stanley, wife of the hospital's director; also Dr. Lawrence P. Roberts, the hospital's associate director.

A buffet supper and dancing to music by Joe Pagnozzi's orchestra, followed. Personnel of the food service department who assisted Mildred Thompson were Ruth Jones, Eva Writer and Addie Ellerbe.

Feb. 20 Date Set For Brotherhood Luncheon In NYC

The New York State Civil Service Employees Brotherhood Luncheon Committee announced that it will hold the Fifth Annual Brotherhood Luncheon on February 20, at the Americana Restaurant, 551 Grand St., New York City.

Because of the increasing attendance at the affair, the committee has made arrangements to accommodate up to one thousand persons.

In connection with the luncheon the committee, representing organizations of all races and religions, presents a Brotherhood Award to the state employee, who by his words and deeds promotes better understanding among his fellowmen.

Previous awards have gone to George M. Bragalini, president of the New York State Tax Commission and Angela Parisi, chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Board.

This year the committee is considering the presentation of two Brotherhood Awards. One is to go to an elected or appointed state official. The other is to go to a civil service employee from the ranks.

The Committee is requesting the assistance of all state employees in the selection of recipients. Anyone can be nominated for the awards. Letters, suggesting individuals, should contain a short biography of the nominee and a summary of his accomplishments. Letters should be sent to James Buccellato, chairman, Brotherhood Committee, Room 284, State Office, 80 Centre St., NYC, or Morris Gimpelson, co-chairman, Room 275, State Office Building, 80 Centre St., N.Y.C.

Mr. Buccellato is president of the Columbian Association and Mr. Gimpelson is President of the Jewish State Employees Association. Other committee members are Oladyse Snyder, St. George Association; Katherine Hafele, Dongan Guild; Philip Toren, Tax Examiners Association, and Arthur Mendelsohn, Bnai Brith, Excelsior Lodge and Chapter.

TEA HONORS CORINNE MORTIMER

Dr. Hilda Goldbach presents Corinne Mortimer with a retirement gift from the employees and staff of Marcy State Hospital as Mr. Mortimer looks on. Mrs. Mortimer, supervising nurse of "E" Building, was honored December 4 at a tea at the hospital on her retirement from State Service. She was graduated from Utica State Hospital School of Nursing in 1924 and stayed at that hospital as a nurse until 1930 when she transferred to Marcy State. She had been a supervising nurse since 1941. Dr. Goldbach expressed the good wishes of the employes and the staff.

Elite Corps Idea Nearing Fruition

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 — Something may yet come of the proposal by the Hoover Commission that a new rank for competitive employees, to be known as the Senior Civil Service, be created. The name may be different—Career Executive—and the number fewer—1,000 instead of 4,000—but the germ of the idea remains.

The next move is expected to come from the White House soon, by the designation of present top administrators as Career Executives. They would thus be distinguished from the politically or otherwise appointed administrators who are not in the classified service. But later some officials outside the competitive ranks may get the prized designation, too. How that is to be arranged has not yet been made clear.

Transferrable Type

The Career Executive would be free from danger of downgrading. He would take his rank with him wherever he went. He would not be an employee whose work would be limited to one department. He would never have to take any promotion test, even if the Federal government goes in for competitive promotion tests, as seems likely. He would be as far as he could go.

The first group to be honored may consist of the 800 competitive employees now in super-grade positions, GS-16 through GS-18. Some scientists in the high-brackets may be included, too.

License Exams Open

Applications are being received continuously by New York City for the license examinations. The titles follow: Install oil burning equipment; install and repair underground storage tanks, to wit: gasoline, diesel fuel oil and other volatile inflammable liquids; master electrician; master plumber; master rigger; master sign hanger; motion picture operator; portable engineer (any motive power except steam); portable engineer (steam); refrigerating machine operator (unlimited capacity); special electrician; special rigger; special sign hanger; stationary engineers; structural welder.

APPELLATE DIVISION TO DECIDE IF ARGUMENT BY CITY IN CAREER PLAN CASE IS FEEBLE

Argument will be heard by the Appellate Division, First Department, during the February term, on the appeal of New York City government from a decision by Justice Aron Steuer holding that advancement of certain employees constituted promotion without the competitive examination required by the State Constitution.

Twenty-six petitioners employed in the Department of Welfare as administrative assistants and senior accountants brought suit in the New York County Supreme Court. They are headed by William Gorman, administrative assistant.

They said that granting of the higher positions on the basis of so-called reclassification was illegal. In granting the petition Justice Steuer declared that the City Civil Service Commission's claim to the legality of what it had done was so feeble as not to warrant discussion.

Recalls Mandle Case

The case has added interest because the subject of legality of reclassification has been decided recently by the Appellate Division in favor of the City, reversing a victory won in the lower court by Leroy Mandle, an attorney in the Law Department. In its opinion in that case the appellate court held that reclassification is an applicable remedy if no vacancy exists, the difference being that a person now performing the duties of the reclassified title is entitled to be continued in that title.

In the Gorman case Attorney Samuel Resnicoff, in opposing the City's appeal from the victory he won for his clients in the lower court, will argue that the acts of which his clients complain constituted promotions in the true sense of the word, and did not come within the terms of the Appellate Division's decision in the Mandle case. Even in that case, he adds, the Appellate Division carefully laid down the lines of limitation beyond which the City must not attempt reclassification, and he cites what he calls the instances in the Gorman case of failure by the City to respect these limitations.

Mandle Case in Appeals Court

The Mandle case itself is now before the Court of Appeals, where it is to be argued soon.

Reclassification as a means of improving uniformity in the City's job structure is one of the pillars of the Career and Salary Plan, Corporation Counsel Pete. Campbell Brown contends, and was legally practised in both the Mandle and Gorman cases.

Ready Pen and Voice!

THIS week the State Legislature will open its 1958 session.

As the months progress, a program for public employees in State and local governments will be pounded out in the Legislature through the efforts of the Civil Service Employees Association and legislators conscious of their duty to the civil servant.

Important decisions will be determined from the known sentiment of workers throughout the State. These are the moments when the voices of public employees must be heard in unison—and loudly.

Ready your voices now. Be prepared to lend your vocal—and written—weight to those who are fighting for your welfare this year.

Meat-Ax 'Economy'

A RIDER to all bills appropriating funds for the Federal payroll, to limit the filling of vacancies to one out of three, is being attempted by Representative Ben F. Jensen of Iowa.

He was successful in having similar riders enacted five and six years ago. The effect of the riders was injurious to the public service. The same failure would attend new similar riders.

While federal, state and local governments are trying to put personnel administration on as scientific a basis as possible, and financial policies are being decided with greater expertness than ever before, legislators should not think that they can do a better job. Certainly no meat-ax method is going to supply the delicacy that the situation requires.

Impracticable and Dangerous

It is unsound practice for an employer to have even one superfluous employee. That applies no less to all branches of government than to private employers. Employee groups resisting Mr. Jensen's efforts are not arguing for the creation or continuance of any unnecessary jobs. They are asking that the Federal government provide the quality and quantity of employees necessary to enable the government to meet its responsibilities not only to the people of our own nation but to the world.

Such a breadth of purpose evidently does not occur to Mr. Jensen. The good intentions of his striving for economy in government are not in doubt, but neither is the impracticability and even the danger of his method.

Social Security Card Quickly

Employees who never had a Social Security card must have one, before they can be covered by Old Age and Survivors' Insurance.

Application must be made on a special form issued by the Social Security Administration. The filled-out form may be returned to the State or local government Comptroller through one's own personnel office, or mailed, in the case of persons employed in and near New York City, to the Social Security Administration, Room 400 at 42 Broadway, New York City. Blanks may be obtained also at the Broadway address.

In the run of cases a card is received within three days after the filled-in form has been submitted. If an applicant previously had a card, it takes at least a week to get a new one because of the research involved.

Employees now voted to be covered by Social Security must get one to remain hired, if they don't have one already.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

VALUE OF VESTED RIGHTS STRESSED BY CSEA CHAPTER

Editor, The Leader:

The Social Welfare chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, extends its thanks to The Leader for its editorial in support of vested retirement rights. Having taken a stand more than two years ago in pressing for Social Security supplementation, we in Social Welfare also feel proud to be one of the first chapters to have formed a committee to further the vesting of retirement rights.

It is very true, as you say, that the benefits of such a plan would constitute a major improvement to the State retirement system. Indeed, many State employees feel that this could very well be one of the most important objectives of the CSEA's current legislative program and that every effort should be directed towards its passage during the 1958 Legislative session.

Unfortunately—and this was also true of Social Security before the spotlight of publicity was focussed on it—too few State employees understand its far-reaching potentialities. For many persons with 10 or more years of service it could result in benefits many times the value of a salary increase.

List of Inequities

In your editorial of December 10, you cited the example of the State employee who has the opportunity to advance himself in other employment. There are many other instances of inequities created by the rigid provisions of the present retirement law and when such inequities exist, poor employer-employee relationships and inefficiency result. Vested retirement rights would provide an enlightened solution to these situations. Following are some typical examples:

1. An employee, after serving many years, becomes chronically ill or infirm, but not sufficiently so to qualify him for disability retirement. Perhaps his eyesight or his hearing is seriously impaired and, as a result, he cannot carry on as efficiently as he did in the past. He must choose between resigning and losing his retirement rights or of continuing on in a bad situation.

2. A State employee's position is abolished, but because he lacks 20 years of service, he receives no retirement allowance. It certainly is inequitable not to grant a pension to the employee who finds himself in this position after many years of service (perhaps 19½ years).

3. An employee has many years of State service and, although himself healthy, is advised to move to a different climate for the health of a member of his family. He faces the choice of risking the health of his loved one or giving up his pension rights.

4. A woman has worked for the State for many years finds she must resign because her husband, whether employed by the state or not, is being transferred or is retiring from his job. This situation sometimes occurs where the husband is a State employee and is transferred elsewhere in the State.

5. Many women employees desire to resign, perhaps to maintain a home, or for other important reasons. They decide to stay on as "captive" employees because to sacrifice the retirement

Law Cases

Sidney M. Stern, counsel, reported to the New York City Civil Service Commission on law cases as follows:

PROCEEDINGS INSTITUTED

Schoen v Schechter. Petitioner, a chemist, seeks to have his name transferred from list for promotion to senior chemist in the Housing Authority to the corresponding list in Purchase Department.

Adrizzone, et al v Civil Service Commission. Petitioners, laborers, seek to vacate and set aside the resolutions of the City and State Civil Service Commissions placing them in the competitive class.

JUDICIAL DECISIONS

Appellate Division

Lore v Kennedy and Gallo v Kennedy. The facts in both cases are similar. Petitioners were dismissed from the police department during their respective probationary periods when certification in each case was revoked by the commission after investigation because of their medical histories while in the U. S. Navy. The derogatory record was later expunged by the Navy and Special Term held their dismissals arbitrary and ordered them restored to their positions. The Appellate Division unanimously reversed on the law and dismissed both petitions.

Benevento v Schechter. Petitioners complain that certain gardeners in the Park Department were reclassified unlawfully as foremen of gardeners under the Career and Salary Plan. The court held such reclassification was a promotion in violation of law.

Court of Appeals

Mandle v Brown. A motion for leave to file briefs amicus curiae was granted to certain individuals and associations representing employees.

Appellate Division

Matter of Nelson (Kelly). The court, reversing Special Term, held that the four-month statute of limitation under 1286 Civil Practice Act, begins to run from the time an administrative determination is made and not from the time a request is made to reconsider the original determination.

Questions Answered

PLEASE let me know how I made out in the examination for transit patrolman recently given by New York City. E. L. COLLM.

The papers have not been rated yet. As soon as the official list is established The Leader will publish that fact, probably also the eligible list, but at least you will be able to inspect the list at The Leader office during the entire following week. Also, you will be notified by the Personnel Department how you made out.

TO WHAT EXTENT did the action of the U.S. Civil Service Commission in raising pay in hard-to-fill jobs benefit present employees? K.L.

By present employees we assume you mean persons who already were in the employ of the Federal government when the raises went into effect. The number was about 89,000 and the average increase $660. New appointments were made at the higher rate. About 10 percent of the entire list of classified employees benefitted.

I DO SHIFT WORK in my State job six months a year. I have different days off each week. When one of my days off falls on a holiday, I get that day off, of course, but lose the holiday benefit. Last year I lost three holidays. I claim that working on paid holidays entitles me to compensatory time off. I also claim that a paid holiday cannot be used as compensatory time off. H.N.

Compensatory time off is not granted when a day off falls on a holiday.

Social Security

I WILL REACH my sixty-fifth birthday next month and may retire at that time. Should I apply for my old age benefits after I retire or can I get it taken care of sooner? J. C.

You may apply for your benefits before you attain age 65. It is suggested that you call at your Social Security district office about three or four weeks before you expect to retire.

I HAVE RECEIVED my first check for disability benefits this month. I would like to know when my wife can apply for benefits on my wage record? M. C. E.

At the time you become 65 your disability insurance benefit will automatically become an old age insurance benefit. If your wife is at least 62 at that time, she may apply for reduced wife's benefits based on your wage record. If she is under 62 at that time, she must have a child in her care under 18 or disabled.

I AM HIRING household workers for the first time, what Social Security or related action should I take? P. V.

You should promptly register as a domestic employer with the Internal Revenue Service. A post card for this purpose is contained in a leaflet titled, "Do You Have A Maid," (OASI-21), which may be obtained from your nearest Internal Revenue Service or social security office.

MY SON DIED recently. He was my sole support as he had never been married. Can I receive Social Security? Mrs. E. V.

If you are age 65, you may be entitled to monthly benefits right now. If a worker dies and leaves no widow, widower, or child, a dependent mother at age 62 can receive benefits. You should get in touch with the local Social Security office.

IS INCOME from stocks and bonds included in figuring the $1,200 allowed as yearly earnings under Social Security? C. P. D.

No. Investment income, income from real estate and other such income which might fall into a category of a similar nature is not counted in the $1,200 earnings test, not being income from gainful employment. Also, of course, Social Security checks themselves are not considered earnings since we do not include any pension income as earnings.

IS IT NECESSARY for part-time workers to pay Social Security? M. O. J.

All persons working in employment that is covered by Social Security must pay Social Security taxes. Part-time workers are included.

"11. The State Commission Against Discrimination regulatory poster should be displayed in a conspicuous place in the headquarters and branch offices of all departments. Such a procedure is already in effect in private industries subject to the Law Against Discrimination.

"12. Department heads should check periodically to ascertain that these measures are being carried out by department staffs. Supervisors should be instructed to see that personnel is selected, assigned and promoted on merit without regard to race, creed, color or national origin; all workers are accorded equal opportunities for in-service training; that each person under their supervision is given the opportunity to realize his full potential as a worker on the basis of his merit.

nation is filed against a state agency, with the agency itself, by a person inside or outside the agency, the State Commission Against Discrimination should be requested to work with the department staff in reviewing the employment pattern of the department or its units. This should be done particularly with respect to the utilization of white and non-white workers at all job levels, and a report should be filed with the Governor.

"2. When notified by the State Commission Against Discrimination that an establishment or individual already licensed or applying for a license from a department has been found, after a complaint and a public hearing by the Commission, to be in violation of the Law Against Discrimination, department heads should take such action as may be warranted with respect to the issuance, continuance, or renewal of such license, within their prerogatives under law. The recent agreement made between the Commission and the License Commissioner of the City of New York governing discrimination by employment agencies, provides an example of how joint action by two public agencies can achieve a mutual objective.

"3. When informed by the Commission Against Discrimination that an establishment or individual applying for or receiving a subsidy or other financial assistance from a department has been found, after a public hearing to be in violation of the Law Against Discrimination, the department should take whatever action is warranted and authorized under law with respect to the granting or continuance of such subsidy or financial assistance.

"4. If a department seeks to place persons in jobs with private industry or fill job orders received from private employers, such services must be on a non-discriminatory basis. If an employer will not relax an illegal specification, the job order should be refused and the matter reported to the State Commission Against Discrimination. The State Employment Service has already set up a procedure for this, and it has been functioning effectively.

"5. If a department conducts educational and vocational counseling programs, all clients should be encouraged to train and apply for employment in accordance with their interests and aptitudes without regard to their race, color, creed or national origin.

"6. If a department provides services to the public, efforts should be reinforced to assure that all such services are extended without regard to the race, creed, color or national origin of the clients.

On Contracts

"7. In all contracts for goods and services entered into by a department, a non-discrimination clause should be included along the lines set forth in Section 230-E of the Labor Law to the effect that in the hiring of employees for the performance of work under this contract, no contractor, subcontractor nor any person acting on behalf of such contractor, shall discriminate on the basis of race, creed, color or national origin. The Division of Standards and Purchase has already taken the appropriate action in line with this paragraph. The State Department of Audit and Control and other agencies having jurisdiction should check all state contracts to insure that this directive is not overlooked.

"8. No printed forms should be used by an agency that bear questions pertaining to race, creed, color or national origin except in those departments in which such questions are essential to the purpose for which the form is used and except for documents and forms relating to basic research and the State Commission Against Discrimination has been so notified.

"9. All in-service training courses should include the state's policy of opportunity based on merit regardless of race, creed, color or national origin.

'College Series' Closes Jan. 17

College Juniors and seniors, as well as college graduates, both men and women, may apply for jobs to get started on a career in the State government. The last day is January 17.

The examination will be held at centers throughout the State on Saturday, February 15.

The openings are in professional, technical, scientific, and administrative work. Starting pay is $4,400 a year.

Earliest appointments would naturally go to those who already have a college degree when first appointments from the new list are made. This is expected to be about July 1, so many of next June's graduates may be among the lucky early birds. They would have to submit proof of graduation from college, after passing the competitive written test for the position.

College students in their senior or junior terms, while they may compete, won't be appointed until after they are graduated.

Where to Apply

Some contestants will enter the armed forces after passing the test, but if they notify the State Civil Service Commission within 90 days of their discharge from the armed service, their position on the list will be protected.

The serial number of the examination is 6160.

Application forms are obtainable at colleges, or from the State Civil Service Department, Recruitment Unit, Albany 1, N. Y. Enclose a six-cent-stamped, self-addressed envelope, if applying by mail. In New York City applications may be obtained in person or by representative at the department's branch office at 270 Broadway, corner Chambers Street.

Incentive Awards Group Will Meet on Jan. 16

A group of more than 50 persons interested in exchanging ideas and techniques for improving the Federal Incentive Awards Program attended the first meeting of the Federal Incentive Awards Association of Metropolitan New York. This group, consisting of appointing officers, personnel officers, executive secretaries, and others interested in Incentive Awards Programs, heard Stanley Wilcox, coordinator of the National Suggestion System for the Socony Mobil Oil Company, discuss incentive awards in his company.

Later a similar group met and elected the following officers:

M. Kaufman, Brooklyn Army Terminal, chairman; J. Flanagan, U.S. Civil Service Commission, vice chairman; Andrew F. Kaye, Headquarters First U.S. Army, program chairman; Miss R. Chinery, Corps of Engineers, North Atlantic Division, secretary.

There was full discussion of coordination of the incentive awards program with safety, recruitment and Community Relations.

The next meeting of this association is planned for Thursday, January 16, which is also the 75th anniversary of the passage of the Civil Service Act.

The agenda for the meeting includes a talk and presentation of slides on "Federal Employees Stretch the Tax Dollar" by William Patterson of the Inspection-Classification Division, Second U.S. Civil Service Commission. By-laws will be presented to the membership for approval. Condensed report will be given by Mr. Kaye on pertinent information in the recent issue of the Incentive Awards Notes, a publication of the U.S. Civil Service Commission. Open discussion will follow.

The organization has stimulated interest among agency executives and administrators. There has been active participation at meetings and keen interest in the program. The association hopes to bring to future meetings well known speakers who are active in the incentive awards field.

Pay Delay on Uniforms

Some employees of the Department of Hospitals did not get their uniform allowance in full, others didn't get it at all, and President Henry Feinstein of Local 237, arranged a conference with Assistant Budget Director William F. Shea, the result of which was that the shortage will be made up at the next payroll period for both groups. Mr. Feinstein sampled many of those who had been disappointed. They accepted the solution, on the City's explanation that the delay arose from impossibility of coping with the entire job in full because of various pressures, including the mass of work that Social Security introduction involved. Then Mr. Feinstein accepted the proposal.

Previously the union had written to each member involved, promising prompt action.

Union headquarters received many letters of thanks for the promptness and success of Mr. Feinstein's efforts.

Greenpoint Meeting

Peter Palladino, active in the field for the union, represented William Lewis, chairman, hospital division, Local 237, at a meeting held at Greenpoint Hospital. Margaret Stevenson and George Bruno conducted the meeting, at which problems affecting member employees at the hospital were sifted in detail.

Junior Scientists and Engineers Sought By U.S. at Higher Pay

The Second Regional Office, U. S. Civil Service Commission, opening its first examination of the new year, seeks junior scientists and junior engineers at higher starting pay than the government has ever before offered for such positions. Government officials point out that as these appointees rise in the Federal service they attain sizeable incomes.

The examination is for filling positions in the specialties of chemistry, physics, electronic science, mathematics, and metallurgy. The starting pay is $4,480, or more than $86 a week, and rises in the entrance grade to $5,335, or more than $100 a week. After that higher positions are obtained, the ones referred to by the officials, through promotion.

A new promotion plan is to be instituted in the Federal government as a step toward the introduction of the competitive promotion principle.

Still Higher Pay in Sight

Even the entrance salaries are likely to be increased. A raise of about 6 percent for classified employees appears to be in store, and the belief is that it would go with the job, hence anybody in it would receive the additional pay, despite in-grade advances previously granted. That would add about $5 a week to pay starting pay of these jobs.

A college degree is not an absolute necessity, but in the absence of one a candidate must comply with requirements of equivalent training and experience, in which a certain minimum number of semester hours in the optional field would be demanded. This number varies with the different specialties.

The substitution provisions are detailed but will be found in a booklet that may be obtained free by writing to the director, Second U.S. Civil Service Commission, 641 Washington Street, New York 14, N. Y. Application blanks would be submitted automatically at the same time. Ask for the junior scientist and engineer booklet, examination No. 2-1 (58). Do not enclose return postage.

Also, the booklet may be obtained in person or by representative from the regional director, or at the main post office in any of the boroughs excepting Manhattan and Bronx.

The positions are described by officials as having the highest job security.

"Steady as they come," remarked one official.

The examination remains open continuously.

Investment built up over many years would be prohibitively expensive.

Canvass of Members Proposed

One of the best arguments in favor of vested retirement concerns the State's efforts to recruit competent employees. A prospective employee will be greatly impressed by the assurance that the State's contribution to the retirement system will be held for his benefit, whether or not he remains in service until retirement. Such a policy would provide an inviting incentive, particularly in the professional fields where the State finds it so difficult to match the compensation offered by most other employers.

The employees so gained would more than offset the possible loss to the State of the relatively few employees whose best interests would be served by availing themselves of the benefits of vested pension rights.

We urge all chapters to explain this proposition and its benefits to members, as we do; seek questionnaires to find out how the members feel about vested benefits; and make members' desires regarding this important legislation known to elected representatives in the State legislature.

INSTITUTIONAL EMPLOYEES SEEK FAIR PAY AND HOURS

Editor, The Leader:

Slowdown in business means less taxes collected. Deficits will increase due to more spending. Outgo is rising. Income dropping. Another era of red ink is coming. Personal income is down. Retail sales are falling off. Steel production is off. Auto production is expected to be lower. Machine tool orders are the lowest since 1950. Some economists predict a recession for 1958. These are some of the news items that we have read recently.

Questions Employees Face

What does all this mean to the State employee? For the sake of economy are we going to be sacrificed again? Is the long overdue salary increase to be sidetracked? Will the starting salary of $53 a week for Mental Hygiene Department attendants remain unchanged? Will it be necessary for nearly half the institutional employees to continue to hold another job to make ends meet? Isn't it logical to deduce that the tax forgiveness of 15 percent on New York State income taxes in times of prosperity was a fiscal mistake?

These are some of the questions that face State employees, legislators and the Governor in the present legislative session. These questions can be resolved if we all work together.

For years we have studied how to conquer the boom-bust cycle. We are now in, as economists call it, a "cyclical economic fluctuation." This means a period when business is declining and joblessness is rising after a period when business boomed and employment climbed.

Reasons for Optimism

There are many reasons why we should be optimistic. We are determined not to let a depression happen again. The depression of the 30's wouldn't have occurred if we hadn't let it happen. A healthy attitude toward a business recession is a weapon against it. Economic stabilizers such as unemployment insurance, old age pensions, farm price supports, mortgage insurance, are all assets against business declines.

Congress has passed various laws to maintain maximum production and high employment. The Employment Act, passed in 1946, can be brought into use. The Federal Reserve System can stimulate the economy by making loans easy to get. There is a tremendous backlog of public works that can be started if the recession continues. Taxes can be cut and release billions to stimulate business.

The prospect looks promising for federal and New York City employees receiving wage increases in 1958. Employees in industry demand and will continue to demand higher salaries regardless of a temporary dip in business. What about the State civil servant?

Institutional Employees

Uppermost in the minds of institutional employees are the 40-hour week, a substantial salary increase and 25-year retirement. Pertinent legislation to follow and support consists of time and a half for overtime, promotional series for attendants, premium pay for evening and night shifts, a personnel officer in each institution, vesting of retirement rights, 37 1/2-hour week for institutional office employees, etc.

I cannot emphasize too strongly the need of employees to write to their legislators asking support of all bills that will improve the lot of those employees. With the help of 75,000 members we can look forward to another successful legislative year. Let's go to work so that 1958, an election year, will go down in history as one of the best for the civil servant.

Questions and Answers On Health Insurance

Under the Statewide Plan, how do I get a refund for my doctor's bills and medicines from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company?

Obtain, from your Personnel Office forms PS-425 and PS-455. One of these forms is a "work sheet" so that you can figure up the total amount of your covered expenses. The other form is a "statement of claim." You should attach all the bills that you are using to prove your deductible, or those asked for reimbursement, to the work sheet. The statement of claim is a general form that contains a brief description of the claimant and asks you a few other questions. You will fill in part of this statement, and turn it in to your department so that they can certify that your claim has no connection with workmen's compensation coverage. You may turn in your claim through your Personnel Office, submitting bills, the work sheet, and the statement of claim.

Should I send in all the bills that I have paid at the end of 1958 in order to make a Major Medical claim?

You may submit a Major Medical claim at any time after your first $50 has been paid. Your bills to prove your $50 deductible, plus the bills on which you claim 80 percent reimbursement should be submitted all together. It is not expected that these bills will be returned to you. If you wish to retain copies of them, you should obtain duplicates or have photostatic copies made. If it is easier for you to save up a few small bills and submit them after several months, or even at the end of the calendar year, you may do so.

In October of this year I paid a bill for medical services rendered in September, amount $52. Since this expense was incurred during the last three months of this year, can it be applied to cancel the $50 initial amount applicable for the next calendar year. Does the year start on December 5?

No expenses incurred before this Plan was effective will be covered. For your own information, however, in coming years, only those expenses that are incurred during the last three months of a calendar year may be carried over to the next year. Expenses are incurred on the date you receive the services. Expenses that are incurred prior to October 1 of any year may not be carried over, regardless of when they were paid.

I should like to know if these policies that we now have are also "guaranteed renewable" in addition to being "non-cancellable."

The contracts of insurance with the carriers provide that the contract shall be terminated only by default in the payment of charges, or at the option of the carrier on any anniversary of the effective date (December 5 of any year) by giving at least 90 days prior written notice to the employer (the State of New York). Your own coverage would also be cancellable if you used your full $15,000 maximum. As you can see, 90 days provides ample time for the State of New York to obtain a replacement for any carrier that might wish to withdraw.

I would like to know if the new Statewide Health Insurance Plan in which my husband and I are enrolled will pay for any part or all of the cost of the following conditions:

A. Removal of a cyst on my eye, probably in the doctor's office.
Yes. Blue Shield covers surgery anywhere.

B. Twice monthly biennial shots for treatment of an allergy.
Yes. Major Medical will cover this.

C. Polio shots, triple vaccine booster shots and vaccinations.
No. The Statewide Plan provides medicines needed because of illness or disability, but not preventive medications for an illness that is not in existence.

I would like to know if I can go to any doctor or does your doctor have to belong to this plan?

Any doctor's services are available to you under the Statewide Plan, or under the GHI option. HIP has its own doctors.

Under the Statewide Plan to whom does one submit a bill?

No bill is submitted to Blue Cross for your hospital expenses. The hospital deals directly with Blue Cross. If you receive the benefits under Part II of the Plan from participating physicians, there is no need to submit a bill as the doctor deals directly with Blue Shield. If, however, you use a non-participating physician, and he has no claim forms, a Blue Shield claim form is available at your local Blue Shield Office. Any covered expenses that you incur under the Major Medical part of the Plan are submitted to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. Your Personnel or Payroll Offices will have the necessary forms for you to fill out and can give you further information on this.

Am I correct in assuming that the first $50 of covered expenses is the only amount that I pay under the Major Medical part of the Plan?

Major Medical only reimburses you 80 per cent of the amount that you spend for these covered medical expenses, after your initial payment has been made.

GOP Presents Nine-Point Program for State Aides

suspend mandatory retirements. Governor Harriman reluctantly yielded to our insistent demand that this subject be included on the agenda of the 1957 Special Session of the Legislature, insisting that it could be handled administratively. More than 1,500 State and local employees have filed for retirement as of January 1, 1958, and will receive Social Security benefits.

"We fulfilled our 1957 pre-session promise to double the ordinary death benefit from a maximum of six months' pay up to a maximum of twelve months' pay.

"The supplemental pensions to public employees who retired many years ago on allowances which inflation has made entirely inadequate have been increased.

"A comprehensive plan of medical, surgical and hospital insurance has been made available to State employees. This plan was recently described by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare as 'the most liberal and comprehensive program enacted by a government body to provide its employees with protection against medical costs.'"

GOP Program Listed

The official Republican program for 1958 includes the following public employee planks:

1. The establishment of a basic 40-hour work week for State employees is being studied by the fiscal committees of the Legislature whose recommendations will be announced later.

2. To authorize local governments, including school districts a "second chance" as is now permitted by the Federal law, to extend retroactive coverage to their employees. This is essential for many policemen and firemen and important to school teachers.

3. To give State employees greater flexibility in retirement decisions. Employees in the lower brackets who have Social Security coverage will be permitted to withdraw, if they so desire, from the State Employees Retirement System and the Retirement System will be opened to employees with Social Security coverage who have been previously excluded.

4. To extend to members of the Teachers' Retirement System the provision that the death benefit shall be equivalent to one month's pay for each year of service not in excess of twelve.

5. To renew other temporary retirement legislation where necessary for at least another year.

6. To assure to members of teachers' retirement systems, individual annual reports such as those which were initiated for members of the State Employees Retirement System under the Republican administration.

7. To give municipalities and school districts the opportunity to provide medical, surgical and hospital insurance for their employees.

8. To increase to a more realistic level the supplemental pensions of teachers with long service who retired on a low average salary.

9. To explore the feasibility of a self-financing parking facility in the immediate area of the State Office Building, Capitol and Education building.

Parking Plans

From other GOP sources, The Leader learned the construction of additional office buildings in the capitol area in Albany is felt to be causing increasing difficulty for State employees to find suitable parking space, convenient to their work.

The Republican position is that in view of exemption of state buildings from real estate taxes the argument can be made that the State has a greater obligation to provide off-street parking for its employees than does the owner of a private office building.

A GOP spokesman described the plan as follows:

"Studies which we hope will lead to a satisfactory solution of the parking problem are underway. Specifically we are examining the financial and engineering aspects of a capitol parking authority to acquire land between Elk Street and Sheridan Avenue as the site for a multi-level mechanical parking facility of the 'pigeon-hole' type to be operated on a revenue-producing, self-liquidating basis.

"Parking space for State employees would be provided for a monthly charge with any excess space available to the public. The facility also would be available to the public evenings when existing down-town facilities are sometimes over-crowded.

"We believe that, in view of the revenue-producing nature of the facility, taxes should be paid to the City of Albany on the basis of the present assessment on such land as may be acquired but not on the improvement.

"If the studies demonstrate the feasibility of such an operation at a monthly charge which State employees are willing to pay, such a unit can be constructed as a pilot operation and others added at other convenient locations as demand warrants.

The cost and feasibility of tunnels to connect the parking facility with the proposed Education Building annex and the State Capitol also will be studied."

Harriman Program

10. Permit the State Civil Service Department to waive fees for examinations with the approval of the Budget.

11. Permit the Civil Service Department to certify a general promotion list for administrative positions of Grade 14 or higher without preference to departmental lists or eligibles holding lower grade positions in the individual department in question.

(This proposal would permit employees at the top promotion spot in one department to apply for an even higher position in another department.)

12. Cash awards for superior service where promotion is no longer possible. It was learned that a committee is already at work on this proposal.

13. Repeal "unworkable provisions" of the Condon-Wadlin Law.

Future Will Tell

Specific implementation of the Governor's recommendations will define his proposals more thoroughly. His message Wednesday will not elaborate on wage adjustments but some definite proposals are expected in the near future.

The legislative address will cite accomplishments on behalf of public employees since Governor Harriman's tenure of office. It was reported.
