

Readings assigned from various sources. In addition, there may be additional readings that you can refer to for further information if necessary.

Computer Crime and Digital Forensics Book Periodic

Journal, Inc., p. 1-736.

<https://doi.org/10.1080/15339017.2017.1345228>

Computer Crime, 2nd edition. San Diego, CA: Academic Press.,

Computer Crime and Digital Forensics Book Periodic, 4th edition, p. 1-682.

Computer Crime and Digital Forensics Book Periodic, New York, NY: Auerbach Publications.,

Computer Crime and Digital Forensics Book Periodic. Boston, MA: Addison-Wesley Professional, p. 1-

<https://doi.org/10.1080/15339017.2017.1345228>

Computer Crime and Digital Forensics Book Periodic. Boston, MA: Addison-Wesley Professional. Some readings are available for 10-day free trial) at:

72

At the end of each presentation. Available readings will be provided. You must click on "Electronic Reserves & Reserve Pages" and then click on the Course Number section (which is hyperlinked). The password to access this information will be provided via email to you by the Unit and contains readings in pdf format or web used for similar software. Finally, ethics, law, policy, and ed in the class.

varied backgrounds in information systems with some uld be helpful if students have some knowledge of the

However, the intent of the course is to provide students gh instructor audio, discussion groups, and interactive udents in the practice of risk analysis by elucidating the dents are expected to use critical thinking skills as they ts at face value. Even though the course is spread over 3 edule so that they can participate with other students in struction video of lecture material, quizzes, discussion to: tal forensics.

ce, according to the standards required for presentation in ues for recovery and analysis of both data to be used as procedures and implications based on knowledge of the use (FAT, NTFS, etc.) and their implications on file activity.

combination of these depending on the infraction.

receiving unauthorized help before, during, or after an exam, or other academic exercises which is regarded as copying substantial portions of the same work for credit without the consent of the instructor(s) to whom the material is submitted. This includes misrepresenting material or fabricating information in an assignment, copying, damaging, or stealing of another's work or one's own work, the work of another person (for example, a student's name, evidence, organizing principles, or style of presentation), paraphrasing or summarizing without acknowledgment, using someone else's work as one's own, the purchase of prepared research, papers, or assignments, or the use of research sources gathered by someone else. Failure to properly cite the nature of one's reliance on other sources is also a violation. It is important to be able to understand the legitimate use of sources, the distinction between academic, scholarly, or creative indebtedness, and the consequences of violations.

Whether you could be violating academic integrity participate in all quizzes/exams. Two exams will be offered after the first exam. To access the exams, click "Other Tools". Select "Assessments" and you will be able to access the exams via Blackboard.

In an online course, it is expected that students will be able to participate in discussion. To promote this, you will be assigned discussion topics. You will be able to be created and viewed by going to the discussion page of the page. In addition to discussion postings, responses to discussion postings will generally be due on Wednesday and Friday of that week.

	TBD
	TBD
	TBD
ms	TBD
s Systems	TBD
	TBD
	TBD
	TBD
	TBD
	TBD
	TBD
	TBD
ing the Case	TBD
	TBD
	TBD

sh operating systems and file/Disk structures.

Systems

a recovery tools, logs and file system traces

and Macintosh Systems

recovery tools, logs and file system traces from computer networks, understanding data storage on protocol, and analyzing log files.

graphy

menting the Case

and compile report information, provide expert witness trial officials.