Upgrading Advised for Thruway Toll Collectors

A recommendation that State Thruway toll collectors be re-located from Grade 7 to Grade 8 has been made by the State Classification and Compensation Appeals Board, John F. Powers, president of the Civil Service Employees Association, announced.

The recommendation will go to the State Thruway Authority board, Mr. Powers said.

The Association president pointed out that the recommendation is advisory and that the actual upgrading must be approved by the Authority itself.

The CSEA, in coordination with Association Thruway chapters, has pressed for the upgrading for some time.

Mr. Powers said he hopes the Authority would act positively on the recommendation.

'You'll Get A Raise' Harriman Tells Workers

(Special to The Leader)

MIDDLETOWN, Nov. 3 — An attendant at the Middletown State Hospital has been given assurances by Governor Harriman that state workers will receive a salary boost next year.

The Governor, on a reelection campaign trip through Orange County, met Mrs. Irene Hovencamp, a hospital employ. When told by Mrs. Hovencamp that state workers needed a substantial raise to meet higher living costs, Mr. Harriman replied:

"You'll get an increase next year. You remember," he added, "don't you, that the Republican Legislature cut out my increase for state employes at the 1958 session as 'fat and waste?'"

Both Mr. Harriman and Nelson A. Rockefeller, Republican candidate, have voiced support for higher state salaries during the current campaign for governor.

Mr. Harriman told a group of supporters on his visit here that he had fulfilled every promise he had made in connection with state employes during his first term as Governor.

"We even went beyond what we had promised in the 1954 campaign," he said, pointing "with pride" to the "best health insurance program of its kind in the nation."

Binghamton Unit Meets Nov. 17

Binghamton chapter, CSEA, will hold its regular meeting at 8 P.M. on Monday, November 17 at the Veterans of Foreign Wars clubhouse at 65 Carroll Street, Binghamton, N. Y. Edward D. Meacham, Director of Personnel Services, New York State Department of Civil Service, will address the meeting on the subject of health insurance rights of State employes.

Following Mr. Meacham's talk there will be free refreshments and dancing to the music of the Binghamton State Hospital Serenaders.

A & M Bowling League Gets Under Way

ALBANY, Nov. 3 — Vivian Spillane is president of the first bowling league in the history of the State Department of Agriculture and Markets and it is made up of all members of the fairer sex.

All 18 woman bowlers or pin topplers are employed in the Albany office of the Department. Other league officers are: Vice president, Dorothy Van Derzee; treasurer, Ona Reinhart; secretary, Mae Russo.

In the past, efforts to form an all-department league have been unsuccessful. The new league opened its season at the Clinton Square Alleys. Those who have signed up include: Gloria Bink, Viola Canavan, Teresa Dowd, Jean Dwyer, Marian Ford, Nancy Gable, Rhoda Green, Margaret Keck, Joan Lachowich, Rose Lichtenfels, Stacia McMeekin, Mary Marks, Jean Ryan and Ruth Ann Shields.

Harriman and Rockefeller Reply to Query On View Towards CSEA Pay Stand

ALBANY, Nov. 3 — Acting on a resolution passed by delegates to the 48th annual meeting of the 80,000-member Civil Service Employees Association, President John F. Powers wrote both candidates for the State governorship asking definitely whether or not they were in favor of the Association's salary resolution.

This resolution calls for a 12½ percent pay raise, $500 minimum, on last year's gross compensation for State employes.

Both Gov. Averell Harriman and his opponent, Nelson A. Rockefeller, sent their replies late last week and they are printed in full below.

Harriman Letter

Mr. Harriman wrote saying: "Thank you for your letter of October 20th. I appreciate your kind remarks about my visit to your Annual Meeting which was, as always, a great pleasure for me.

"I know you are familiar with my record on the issue of obtaining fair compensation schedules for our public employes. During my administration there have been two general pay increases, which have increased salary levels on an average of 17%. As you also know, last year I recommended an 8½ million dollar appropriation to provide a general pay increase for most of the employes. I feel this increase was justified, and was shocked when it was cut out of my budget by the Republican legislative leaders as one of the items they called 'fat and waste.'"

"I have not changed my position in this matter. I am sure you will agree that there is a significant difference between last minute election promises and these solid gains of the past four years, including elimination of the 44 and 48 hour work week, establishment of effective grievance procedure, a health and medical insurance program, and addition of Social Security benefits to our State pension system.

Rockefeller Reply

Here is Mr. Rockefeller's answer:

"First may I congratulate your staff and members of your Association on the fine Annual Meeting which you held recently. It was a pleasure to be able to attend one of your sessions and to discuss my viewpoints on matters of interest to public employes.

"You have asked for my comment on the resolution adopted by the delegates which proposed the 12½% increase for all state employes.

"During the past few weeks I have repeatedly stated my conviction that state salaries should be more competitive with those in private industry.

"However, I do not think it would be appropriate for me to comment on a particular proposal. This requires much more specific knowledge than is available to me.

"I have stated and I would like to repeat to you, that if I am elected, early in November I will designate a group to sit down with representatives of your organization to discuss your proposals, the facts behind them, and what can and should be done at the 1959 legislative session.

"Salaries would receive top priority in those discussions, but there are other matters I would want discussed. These include improvements in the State Employees Retirement System, possible amendment to the State Social Security Law, increase in supplemental pensions for retired employes.

"I would hope also to obtain your advice on what should be done to assure a continuing review of state salaries and on a program to help state employes develop their skills and capacities in order to improve their chances for promotion.

"I would work with you to develop programs which will assure that state employes receive the recognition they deserve. Much of the success of state government depends on able public employes who are encouraged to give their best efforts in serving the people of the state.

"Thank you for the opportunity of expressing my views on this important subject.

Monroe County Selected For Special Project On Mentally Retarded Youth

ALBANY, Nov. 3 — Monroe County has been designated as the recipient of a grant of $150,000 for the establishment of a demonstration community program for the mentally retarded. The announcement was made by Dr. James E. Allen, Jr., chairman of the New York State Interdepartmental Health Resources Board, after the Board made the decision at its monthly meeting.

The funds became available as a result of legislation introduced during the 1958 session under the sponsorship of the Joint Legislative Committee on Mental Retardation, of which Senator Earl W. Brydges of Niagara County is chairman. Signed by Governor Harriman on April 22, 1958, the law provides that the project be administered locally by a community mental health board in the northwestern part of the state.

The objective of the program is to provide suitable services for mentally retarded children in the community who are of pre-school age or ineligible for public school classes and mentally retarded adults in the community who are unable to maintain employment. The project will attempt to coordinate current services, fill existing gaps to the extent possible within the framework of established state programs, develop additional services as needed, and effect a continuity of service.

Aim of Program

The purpose of the demonstration is to determine the effectiveness of such services in developing the full potentialities of the retarded in social adjustment and economic usefulness. It will also aim to determine the role and responsibilities of the state, local government, and private organizations in providing such services as prove effective.

The Health Resources Board had two excellent applications for the grant, one from Monroe County and the other from Erie County," said Dr. Allen. "Each application revealed a considerable amount of basic work in the evaluation of the existing resources, the determination of unmet needs and the development of methods."

Dr. Allen stated that the Board had procured detailed analyses of the plans of the two counties from its own interdepartmental committee on mental retardation, from its advisory committee of professional and lay persons with considerable experience in this field, and from two nationally known consultants from out of state. After considering the recommendations of these experts, the Board voted in favor of Monroe County because of the greater advancement of its present provisions for the mentally retarded and its prior experiences in the coordination of these services.

"In making the grant to Monroe County," continued Dr. Allen, "the Board wishes at the same time to extend its congratulations to Erie County for the fine plan that it developed. We do not doubt that Erie County could do the job capably. However, we believe that Monroe County, because of its earlier entrance into the field of community mental retardation services, will be able to implement the demonstration more rapidly and thus give us the answers to our many questions in a significantly shorter time.

Practice of Paying For Unused Sick Leave Grows Throughout World

CHICAGO, Nov. 3 — Federal officials attending the annual conference of public personnel administration expressed surprise at the fact that more and more state and municipal governments are encouraging employees to accumulate sick leave. The Federal government has consistently opposed bills to give its employees an incentive for preserving their sick leave through crediting it towards retirement, contending that this is a perversion of the original purpose of sick leave.

Opposition Still Firm

A check of the delegates here reveals that many foreign, state, and local governments have found it profitable to compensate employees in some form for their unused sick leave. A typical plan was one described by a Michigan official. He said that employees who use five or fewer days of sick leave in any year are given three extra days of vacation. This system was put into effect because it was feared that employees would start taking sick leave to prevent its loss, and incentives had to be offered for its preservation.

But some personnel experts here still are vigorously opposed to any compensation for unused sick leave. They fear some employees would come to work when they are ill and jeopardize their own health and that of their co-workers in order to gain credit for the sick leave later.

A. J. Hayes* says:

"It is the desire for good health, rather than the outworn appeal to insurance against the high costs of neglected health, that has impelled our New York members to change from a plan which gave them unlimited cash indemnity for limited medical expenses to a guarantee of broad medical service with an emphasis on prevention and early treatment . . . and that is the kind of service our members get from H.I.P. . . ."

"You people (of cash-indemnity plans) may as well face up to this unpleasant truth: In the New York area, H.I.P. has been doing a better job for its subscribers than you have been doing. H.I.P. has been keeping its people out of hospitals. And that is the only way we are going to hold down rising hospital costs and rising rates for Blue Cross."

Mr. Hayes' remarks were based in part on recent research studies showing that:

- H.I.P. subscribers require hospitalization 20 per cent less often than subscribers insured by a cash-indemnity plan.
- There are fewer infant deaths and premature births among pregnant women in H.I.P. than among women in the general New York City population *Excerpt from a talk by the International President of the International Association of Machinists at a meeting of executive personnel of Blue Cross-Blue Shield in Chicago, September 17, 1958. Mr. Hayes was also a member of the President's Commission on Health Needs of the Nation from 1951-1952.

CORRECTION CORNER

By JACK SOLOD

Sidelights Of C.S.E.A. Meeting & Dinner

Commissioner of Civil Service Bill Morgan made the biggest hit at the dinner. His sly, droll manner had the delegates in stitches. Georgie Jessel will have to find a new racket if this guy continues to make after-dinner talks . . . Larry Kerwin, Associate Personnel Director in Correction, worked so hard as chairman of resolutions committee, he caught the virus. Entire committee did a fine job. . . Gov. Harriman in lobby of Manger-DeWitt with our own Mary Houghton and Mary Orlando of Albion and Danny Nelligan of Westfield taking motion pictures commemorating equal pay for Correction matrons.

Harold Violet, President of Uniformed Supervisors Association in Correction very much evident, looking after the interest of the brass hats. . . 884 passed last Correction officer exam. Physicals are just about finished. Civil Service expects a list of over 400. . . Meeting adjourned for lunch and I dropped into some joint off State Street for a bite to eat. Some guy next o me ordered "A.C.T. and coffee." Me, I live in the sticks, so I turned to this fellow and asked, "What's A.C.T.?" He looked at me in utter contempt and answered: "American cheese on toast." Live and learn, I always say . . . Jim Lyons, Deputy Commissioner of Agriculture, resting in lobby of hotel, looking real beat after hectic day's work. I thought these big jobs were a picnic? . . . Al Falk, President of Civil Service Commission, looking much better physically, greeting delegates and old friends. . . Mary Krone, her usual charming self, female member of Commission, renewing old friends.

Human Millionaires

Monday, Nelson Rockefeller addressed the delegates. Tuesday, Gov. Harriman was guest speaker. First time I can remember two millionaires looking to be just like you and I. They both want to be State employees. . . Lots of backstage maneuvering on C.S.E.A. salary resolution All groups were satisfied with committee's final recommendation: 12½% raise for all State employees, with a $500 minimum. Any raise based on last year's gross pay. Institutions demanded the inclusion of gross pay bit. . . Capitol and Western Conferences put on nice cocktail parties. What a mob! . . . Southern-Metropolitan Conference annual workshop being planned for either the Concord Hotel or Nevele Country Club. Two swanky joints. . . Attorney General Louis Lefkowitz dropped in to say hello and planned out for New York City and speaking engagement at the Waldorf.

News and Notes

Southern Conference Correctional Bowling League, with teams from Napanoch, Woodbourne, Sing Sing, Greenhaven and Walkill, started hitting wood at Orange Recreation Center, Walden, N.Y. Bill Flanagan, Executive Assistant to Commissioner McHugh, rolled the first ball down the alley. Tentative arrangements call for one day sectional championships with the Commissioner's Trophy top prize.

Present meeting and banquet facilities in Albany much too small for C.S.E.A. delegates. Elbow to elbow at the dinner, some delegates had complete main dishes dumped into their laps. How about checking some of the larger resort hotels for the October meeting? . . . Correction delegates talking about forming an organization similar to Mental Hygiene Employees Assn., with dues of $1.00 per year. It takes dough to operate and get around. The Correction Conference is a good deal, but has no way of raising money . . . Something new has been added: For the first time in the history of the C.S.E.A., the delegates voted formation of a Political Action Committee.

Present pension system took a real beating in open meeting of Resolutions Committee. It was pointed out first that capital fund is over one billion dollars. Invested at 2.6%, this rate was attacked as being too low, brings in 26 million interest alone and the system is paying out only 31 million a year. Properly invested, the interest alone would more than meet the present outgo of the retirement system. The Capitol Fund keeps growing by leaps and bounds and poor retired State employees must turn to Welfare to exist. What a kicking around this will get. Let's see some of this money used wisely to better the retirement system.

Westfield to Get New Cottage-Type Facilities

ALBANY, Nov. 3 — Plans have been completed for construction of two connecting cottage-type facilities at Westfield State Farm. It was announced by Correction Commissioner Thomas J. McHugh.

The new buildings will be of ranch house styling and will accommodate a total of 60 girls with private rooms. There also will be kitchen and dining facilities for 30 each.

A state appropriation of $600,000 is available for the work and construction bids will be sought by Feb. 1.

Mr. McHugh said the type of buildings selected was in keeping with modern correctional thought on the detention and treatment of woman prisoners. The modern kitchen, he added, will help to provide training in domestic science and skills and the small dining rooms will permit more normal arrangements for meals than are usually possible in a large institution.

"The construction of these buildings has been a primary objective of the Department of Correction for the last three years," Mr. McHugh said, adding "And represents the first new housing facilities for prisoners at the reformatory since 1916."

Additional construction is planned for the future to replace most of the old condemned buildings and develop an institution in Westchester County which will be a credit to the state from a standpoint of program and appearance. Mr. McHugh said.

ROSWELL PARK WAS WELL REPRESENTED

These delegates from Roswell Park Memorial Institute chapter, CSEA, are pictured at the dinner which closed the 48th annual meeting of the Civil Service Employees Association in Albany.

ACTIVITIES OF EMPLOYEES THROUGHOUT NEW YORK STATE

Manhattan State

A regular meeting of the Manhattan State Hospital Grievance Committee, will be held on November 6, 1958, at 4:00 p.m. in the No. 2 Lecture Hall in the Medical-Surgical Building. Every department representative should make a note of this notice and attend this important meeting. In the event the regular representative is unable to attend, an alternate should be named. Each departmental head will receive a notice regarding this meeting and should make every effort to see that the representatives are notified. The meeting will be held under the chairmanship of Dr. Nobe E. Stein.

The chapter delegates recently returned from Albany, where they attended the Annual meeting of the Civil Service Employees Association. Charles Loucks and John Wallace were your representatives. Main issues acted upon were, a substantial increase in salaries, for all State employees, free toll for non-resident car owners at MSH, better pension provisions, an allowance for uniforms, and many other vital matters. The assembled delegates heard speeches by the two candidates for the Governorship of New York. It remains to be seen whether the speeches were the usual campaign of hot air, or the true intent of the candidates. Voting time is near and every employee is urged to seriously study the record of every candidate for public office before casting their vote. None of us need reminding of the urgency of a salary increase; we have that reminder every time the neighborhood grocery is visited.

Membership in the chapter reached an all time high this year. Total membership up to July 1, was 630. This is a good record, but there are many more employees who must be contacted and induced to join. As a member yourself, the chapter officers would sincerely appreciate your efforts in securing at least one new member. A hearty welcome to the following new members: Beasie Lee Haggood and Nora Breheny.

Get well wishes are extended to the following: Mary T. O'Keefe, Betty Lavin, Richard Magee, Carrie Brown, Godfrey Harrigan, Dorothy Harrison, Delia Paretli and Mary Duncan. Deepest sympathy is extended to the family of the late Pete Semsok, who recently passed away at the Kingsbridge Veterans Hospital. Pete was very well liked, a good worker and he will be missed in the paint shop at this hospital.

On November 14, 15 and 16 an occupational therapy exhibit and sale will be held at the Medical Surgical Building, Lecture Hall No. 1. Articles made by patients will be displayed and sold on Nov. 14, 15 from 12 noon to 8 p.m. and on Nov. 16 from 12 noon to 5 p.m. A visit to this exhibit and sale will be interesting. Don't miss it.

All employees and members of their families as well as their friends are invited to attend a retirement party to be held in honor of eight employees who have retired recently, at the Assembly Hall, Nov. 8, 1958, 7:30 p.m. at Manhattan State Hospital. Admission is $3.00 per person. Two orchestras will be on hand, refreshments and buffet will also be on the program. To be honored are Della O'Malley, Dan McCormack, Mary Connelly, Adolph Ranghelli, Rose Ranghelli, William Wallace, Betty Griffin and Matilda Flanagan. Tickets are available now and you are urged to get yours early. This affair will be a highlight of the social activity at Manhattan State Hospital.

Capital Conservation

Special guests at the affair included Mr. John F. Powers, CSEA President, and Frank Casey, CSEA Field Representative. Messrs. Powers and Casey reported on additions to and improvements of the Campus Site facilities. The meeting was followed by a program of dancing.

Delegates to the CSEA Annual Meeting at Albany recently included Willard J. Rice, chapter president, Ken Nichols, vice president, Catherine de Kruif, secretary, Alice Lawrence, Shirley Parker and Mimi Singer.

5,000 On City's First Competitive Laborer List

The New York City eligible list for laborer, established from an open-competitive examination for which 9,470 candidates applied, contains 5,432 names. It marks the first time that a laborer competitive class list was established by New York City. Laborers were formerly in the labor class, though skilled laborers have been in the competitive class for years.

The list took more than a year to establish because of the precedence given in establishing the patrolman and sanitation man rosters. As a result laborer provisionals have grown to 265.

The announced starting pay was $3,250, but pay is now governed by prevailing rates. Decision on the new rate is expected to be made by Comptroller Lawrence E. Gerosa within the next few weeks.

UFOA WEIGHS HIRING LABOR RELATIONS COUNSEL

The Uniformed Fire Officers' Association announced this week that it is thinking of hiring a labor relations counsel. The reason given was that the Association expects to become the exclusive bargaining agent for officers in the New York City Fire Department in the very near future.

"Our status as a bona fide labor union demands that we operate as closely as possible with our brothers in the craft unions who have found by their experience that an expert in these matters is essential in dealing with management," the statement said in part.

Senior Clerks to Sue For Higher Pay Slot

Jack Treblich, chairman of the Third Grade Clerical Committee, which consists of senior clerks, senior stenographers and senior typists, announced that court action will be taken against the New York City Classification Appeals Board for refusal to reclassify the position to assistant supervising clerk, and reallocate the position to a higher salary slot.

After the Board by a 3-2 vote denied the appeals, an application was made for reconsideration. Anthony Russo and Jeremiah Sullivan, members of the Board who represent employees, requested the Board to reconsider its vote. Budget Director Abraham D. Beame disagreed on the ground that the Board would be swamped with similar applications. Messrs. Russo and Sullivan cited previous action taken by the Board in the appeals of the tabulator operators, senior ticket agents, and motor vehicle operators as precedent.

Samuel Resnicoff is counsel for the employee group.

More Big Jobs Needed

THE Federal government has about 300 super-grade positions, the number recently increased to that by authority of Congress. The opportunity for competitive employees to fill key jobs is thereby increased, too, since more than half of the total are in the competitive class.

The idea behind establishing super-grade positions is to make the pay schedule much more than a tabulation on a sheet of paper. The Federal grade, GS-18, starts at $16,000 and rises to $17,500, but the jobs now being filled in that grade carry top pay of the grade.

The New York State government is not without its comparable grades, 37 ($15,370-$18,286) and 38 ($14,800 up), but with only 16 out of 90,000 in the lower and 13 in the higher grade. New York City's grade 31 to $15,300, and grade 32 ($13,200, no upper limit) are also comparable. There are about 22 employees in New York City's grade 31, and about 42 in grade 32. As in the Federal and State instances there are also some vacancies. These two jurisdictions, as well as others, could well follow the Federal example of not making so much of an exception of providing budget lines whereby employees doing highly responsible administrative and even executive tasks would be suitably rewarded.

Not Just Quantity, But Quality, Too

The idea of filling ranking positions on a competitive or closely related basis is in line with highest standards for the merit system. Many a hesitant person would apply for a public job at a much lower level if the prospect of getting into the comfortable pay brackets were not dim; also, present employees would be given an inspiring incentive, not that no such opportunity exists at all in any of the jurisdictions but that it is severely limited, and, besides, government has not shown much interest, until lately, in matching the remuneration with the responsibilities.

The Federal government has been most alert in recognizing the need for recruiting top-level administrators from the ranks. Fertility of the recruitment field does not arise from mere numbers, but rather from the calibre of those who enter public service with the idea of making it a career. The next natural step is to establish the positions that give real meaning to the word "career," not that any large percentage of the rolls will be filled from them — 300 out of 2,000,000 is only 1/60 of 1 percent) but that the outstanding won't be weighted with responsibilities that bear no sensible comparison with pay, while private industry offers for similar work salaries that are multiples of what government pays.

A competitive elite corps or even brain trust may invite jibes from jokesmiths and cartoonists, but is not only consistent with the loftiest aspirations of the merit system, and an instrument of advancement and retention of noteworthy employees, but must become an integral and operating part of the merit system if government is to fulfill its obligation both to the public and the employees.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

TRIAL ASKED IN SUITS FOR REINSTATEMENT

Editor, The Leader:

New York City employees, seeking reinstatement or other important remedies, don't seem to have much luck with the only kind of court cases they're able to bring, proceedings under Article 78 of the Civil Practice Act. Few such proceedings succeed in the court of first instance, Special Term of the New York County Supreme Court. Even those who do succeed there usually lose out in the Appellate Division, I don't recall any such case successful at Special Term in the past two years that, when appealed by the City, was not reversed by the Appellate Division.

The protection intended to be afforded by Article 78 either isn't sufficiently strong, or the employees did not have strong enough cases, I can't say which, but I do feel that employees of the State and its political divisions, in waging such cases, should be entitled an alternative order as a matter of right, so that a trial of the issues may be held before a jury, if either side so moves, or before a Justice of the Supreme Court. Decisions made on what are only motions, with affidavits providing the main evidence, would be different in many instances, I feel, if they constituted verdicts reached after a trial.

J. GASTON FERRIER

Social Security Questions

THE PRESIDENT recently signed the bill for an increase in Social Security benefits. When may I receive this increase?

C. E. A.

The increase will be added to the January, 1959 check which will be mailed in February.

I HAVE BEEN drawing Social Security benefits for several years. Must I contact the Social Security office to get this increase in benefits?

V. E.

No. The increase in benefits will be made automatically.

I AM A WIDOW with one child, drawing a monthly check of $162.-80. How much of an increase will we be entitled to?

C. C. G.

The monthly check will be $174, an increase of $11.20, a 7 percent increase.

SINCE there has been an increase in benefit amounts, has there also been an increase in the lump-sum death benefit?

P. J. E.

Yes, but it still cannot be more than $255, or more than three times the amount the insured person's benefit would be at 65.

HOW LONG must a person have worked under Social Security to qualify for disability benefits under the 1958 Amendments?

V. O' C.

At least five years (or 20 quarters) within the 10 years, or 40 quarters just before the onset of the disability.

I'M RETIRING next month at 68, and have a wife, 50, and a child 28 who has been totally disabled since birth. I know I will be entitled to benefits, but I want to ask about my wife and child. Isn't there something Social Security can do for them?

The Social Security Act provides monthly benefits for disabled children and for a mother who has such a child in her care. From your question it appears that your wife and child may be eligible to receive monthly benefits. You should see your Social Security representative as soon as possible.

Vesting of Pensions Draws Nearer to Realization

WHILE THE TIME has come for introducing flexibility in a civil service system grown too rigid, the need for elasticity does not apply to administration only but also to benefits under pension systems.

Among pension systems Social Security must be included because of its pension benefits though it does provide other benefits, including important ones absent from civil service retirement systems.

One of the prime necessities is the vesting of civil service pensions. A member of the State Employees Retirement System, or of a local government retirement system, who resigns after meeting minimum age and service length requirements would not go out with nothing more than the return, with interest, of the money he contributed to his annuity reserve.

Various degrees of minimum requirements have been proposed, and some have shown progress in the New York State Legislature, though none has been enacted.

Sample Plan Outlined

One plan, for instance, would require that the employee must have attained at least age 50 on the effective date of resignation, and must have had at least 25 years' service, though not necessarily 25 years' membership in the system, since he might have been ineligible for membership for part of the period of his government service. He would be able to draw a State or local government pension based on both the length of his system membership, and his final average salary during that period, on attaining after resignation at least minimum retirement age under the plan that he accepted. The earliest age would be 55. Other ages, like 60, 61, and 62, prevail, depending on sex, nature of occupation, and type of plan selected.

There would, of course, be no pension benefit for the period of non-public employment, nor any annuity contributions by the employee, either, during that period. But pension coverage would survive public employment, a benefit that recognizes the value to the employer of the years of service actually rendered. The old argument that the present discontinuity of pension coverage on resignation keeps in service employees the government doesn't want to lose would have to be abandoned. After all, the retirement system was not meant to be a club, and no real public purpose is served by almost coercing an employee to continue working for government if he can get a better job with better prospects and at higher pay elsewhere.

The paramount argument is based on the equity and justice of the vested pension, in line with the advantage that obtains elsewhere, for instance, under Social Security, and even in private pension contracts signed by unions that make the pension provisions a part of their collective bargaining "package." The employee who is a member of a trade union often finds that pension provisions are the same in his new job as they were in the old one, and that accrued benefits are transferrable. Vested pensions therefore are in keeping with the trend of the times. The public employees' efforts to obtain vested pensions are another example of attempting to reach parity with employees of private industry.

Opposition Is Declining

The vested-pension project has been hard to move, but the resistance to it is declining, some public officials have spoken in favor of it, and employee organizations are now hopefully drafting bills that will be dropped in the hopper at Albany, beginning in January. So 1959 may be a big year for public employees of the State and its communities as marking the enactment of a vested-pension law. The absence of budget directors from the band wagon need not necessarily prove fatal.

Social Security, in general, follows you wherever you go, and while civil service retirement systems can't be expected to provide equal universality at least some method of transfer of equities would be possible by amendment of the Federal Social Security Law, and the Retirement System Law of State or local government.

Organizations of Federal employees now have bills drafted that would enable an employee of private industry to have his credits under Social Security transferred to the U.S. Civil Service Retirement System, on his appointment to a Federal job, and also the transfer of his annuity credits under the U.S.C.S.R.S. on his acceptance of a job in private industry.

Cost Factor Won't Down

This is nothing more than the vested-pension idea operating on a broader basis, though not without cost to government, for if the employee may use his annuity contributions, even if only in part, to cover his share of Social Security tax for the period of Federal service preceding resignation, the government would have to pay an equal tax.

THEY'RE GIVING JOE A PARTY

And why not? Joe is retiring after 30 years of faithful service to the State. Everybody in the Department likes him because he was a friend in every situation. The kind that slipped a fellow worker a ten when paychecks were late, that took on a double load when a pal was in the hospital. So nothing but the best is good enough for Joe. The Department crowd will dine and wine him as he was never dined and wine before. And that means PETIT PARIS. Cost per plate may be a few cents higher than in places more accustomed to serving coffee and rollers than group dinners. But Joe's Retirement Party planners know that at PETIT PARIS the night will be a success. Reason? Central Albany location a few minutes drive from the State Office Building, plenty of parking, food and service tops, and that special know-how of handling group dinners triumphantly. And if a few extra-old bottles of spirits are needed to liven up the occasion they can be had from PETIT PARIS wine cellars. . . . If you have a Joe who is retiring from your department, you'll want to hold his farewell gathering at PETIT PARIS, 1000 Madison, Albany, N. Y. Tel. 2-7864 for reservations.

Prevent destruction of the merit system. The first step to turn promotion over to political influence was by the use of the PROBST system in Westchester County promotion. The County PBA forced to bring matter into the Supreme Court. The incumbent Attorney General's office knows the Probst deal is unlawful—violating Civil Service law.

the public employee's friend

During his 20 year legislative career, Malcolm Wilson has consistently sponsored legislation equitable to public employees. Most recently, he sponsored the bill to provide Social Security coverage for all public employees in New York State, which included retroactive coverage, coverage for policemen and firemen and coverage for employees not members of retirement systems.

This measure was praised by John F. Powers, President of the Civil Service Employees Association as "one of the greatest employee gains in Civil Service history."

Past performance is future promise.
