In Memoriam

FRANCISCA MARTINEZ

"O strong soul, by what shore
Tarest thou now? For that force,
Surely, has not been left vain!
Somewhere, surely, afar,
In the sounding labour-house vast
Of being, is practised that strength,
Zealous, beneficent, firm!"

PEDAGOGUE

JANUARY 12, 1925

Dear Editor,

Will you chide me if I neither write witticisms for you and your classmates to chuckle at again, "when you are old and gray,"—do grant me therein the precedent of at least one American humorist who saved something to speak from the grave, nor perform that alternate function traditionally the adviser's, sing of youth, its destiny, and the blessings it bestows on age,—in my most ardent moment I should feel the scorn, too languid to be hot, of this haughty generation of sentiment haters? In assigning me so little to do you have demonstrated your assured success as a pedagogue, and, in return I should like to bid you a very cheerful farewell. Come, then; one moment more with a poet, for

"Some day the soft Ideal that we wooed
Confronts us fiercely, foe-beset, pursued,
And cries reproachful: 'Was it, then, my praise
And not myself was loved? Prove now thy truth;
I claim of thee the promise of thy youth;
Give me thy life, or cower in empty phrase,
The victim of thy genius, not its mate!'
Life may be given in many ways,
And loyalty to Truth be sealed,
As bravely in the closet as the field,
So bountiful is Fate."

Sincerely yours,

EDITH O. WALLACE

Senior Class History

From the senior point of view, a freshman class is non bonum nisi mortuum est.

“I hate freshmen,—
They litter up the place!”

states a contemporary of ours savagely. This sentiment may be a trifle cruel, but it is profound. Therefore, we refuse to disclose our opinion of our prowess as freshmen. Doubtless, our only distinction lay in our name, which was given to us by Dr. Brubacher in a fit of wild abandon. We have since come to know better Dr. Brubacher's yen toward paradoxes.

The present quiet state of underclass rivalry dates from our sophomore year, when we instigated a reign of terror and completely subdued the campus. The startling peace which ensued has lasted ever since. A pity that the League of Nations cannot avail itself of some of our diplomats!

In our junior year, we were left lone and lorn. Riz migrated, and only the consuming curiosity as to what the freshmen would find to be romantic over kept most of us out of Europe. Croasy, however, sprang to the helm. On his return, the only thing that kept Riz from being a second violin was his moustache.

As seniors, we suffer from a lack of poise and self-esteem. The lack of poise shows itself in our reiterated demands for the annihilation of the youth of the state. The lack of self-esteem is fairly well inhibited. We are wondering if we have really become pedagogues, or if the person who wrote “The Ideal Teacher” is right. If he is, we remark with the man who was hanged, “Finis opus coronat.”

An Interview with 1926

IT was an extremely difficult matter, this attempting to gain an interview with that extremely prominent and popular junior, 1926. When I finally succeeded in getting a few moments of conversation with her, I was amazed to note that the grave responsibilities of almost three years of upholding State traditions had left so lightly their imprint upon her. I was delighted, also, to find her wholly unspoiled by her unprecedented success and fame. When I inquired how it felt to be a celebrity, she replied naïvely that she had not as yet found time to stop and consider it.

I realized that modesty was the cause for her reticence about her present achievements, so I sought in devious ways to draw her into a reminiscent mood. She was too excited, however, about an extremely important engagement she had for that afternoon—indeed, she confided with ingenuous impulsiveness that she was to select the ring—and she was full, too, of delightful plans for Prom, and of perplexing doubts about the choice of favors.

Suddenly she grew very serious. "We must win that debate," she explained. "You remember, of course, that we won the judges over to our side last year." She had begun to retrospect. I pursued my advantage eagerly. "The mascot hunt," I plunged headlong, "Did they ever find your hiding place for it?" She laughed merrily at the memory. "How they searched, poor dears! But we have handed it on safely to our sister class." With adroit questioning on my part, she told me of her success in finding the enemy's banner shortly after her arrival at State; of how her immediate forerunners had taught her wisdom, only to be dismayed afterward that she was so apt a pupil; of how she fought for her rights until a cessation of hostilities had to be called by Dr. Brubacher and Myskania to save the men of the sophomore class for the teaching profession.

During her second season, she had little time for frivolity, so busy was she in teaching the freshmen climbers their proper place. Her one soiree, however, she will long remember as her first social triumph. Soon, however, she concluded the interview gravely, she must lay aside all youthful pleasure and turn to the sober career of molding the promising and still unformed intellects of Milne High.

Sophomore Class History

There was a time when lecture, books, the rest,
The halls, and every common sight,
To me did seem
Apparelled in the direst light,
The horror and the shrinking from a test.
It is not now as it hath been of yore,
Turn wheresoe'er I may,
From day to day
The fears which I have seen I now can see no more.

Vacation comes and goes,
And lovely are the shows.
The moon doth with delight
Look down here when we are—la pair;
Studies on a stormy night
Are cautiously rare;
The friendships are a glorious birth;
And now I know where'er I go,
That there hath passed away a glory from the earth.
('27 Class as Freshmen)

The clouds that gather round the Senior sun
Do take a sober coloring from an eye
That hath kept watch of man's mortality!
Another race hath been and other palms are won.
Thanks to the Sophomore Class in which we live,
Thanks to its Carefulness, its Joys, its Cheers,
To me the meanest Frosh that brays can give
Thoughts that do often lie too deep for tears.

(With apologies to Wordsworth)

Freshman History

albani nu yawk 24th of november of 1924

dere edt,

yur most wellcum rekuest that i rite won (1) histry of the wundrefull efecsieneight & nobel class of '28 wuz got bi me this a. m. i wundre ef u ever paws to rekolekt wot kinda onur yur putin on me a pur unwoildli frosh? but yur desir brings me kurage to due the plezerabel & unthankabel tasque.

on the uthar hand it is veri difakult to explain just exaktli how we cum to be hear in State maybi wun (1) of them thear pepul as sits on a ornientle rug with thear laigs curld in undernith them & as smukes a dop pipe & as tels u about wut yur ded uncel & ant is doin in heven or hell or maybi both noes the ansur to that.

our histry is sumthin lik the son u no its termendus big but ef u luk at it u aint abel to sea it at all: our reel histry didnt begin til we cum to State. gee but those as wuz hear when we cum hear (u no thear wuz the senyurs the junyurs & them stif-neked sopps) o momma they thot that we wuz pikres & that we new less then nothin but we fuled them.

we frosh rize on our fete with our cheasts stuk away out in frunt & our rite hands stuk away out in up & pernourse to all the woild that foity (40) pur cent (%) of the varciti futbawl skuad wuz frosh & onli .0001 (dere edt i kant rite this no. out i kant spell it im onli a pur unwoildli frosh) pur cent (%) wuz sopps dere edt u reelli kant blame the sopps they dont no any better. aftur we give our all to our beluvud kolege in futbawl we frosh turned our atenshun to basktebawl & we organised a class teem & then played agenst the rensaler hi skul who almost one the intreskolastik championship of nu yawk last year & they onli beet us bi 20 to 18 & the next wk. we beet skohare hi skul bi the termendus skor of 33 to 12 so u sea dere edt wot a wundrefull teem we frosh have got. & our butifull girls has got a basktebawl teem two. them senyurs & junyurs & them sopps stoled sum points frum our butifull girls & one sum basktebawl games frum them. gee edt ef u onli nu as much about the frosh class as we as is in it no i imajin u wood rite wun (1) hole buk on it & thearbi urn a veri respekabel fourtun.

well edt as im not getin paided to rite this ges i will clothes.

respektivli & afecsieneightli yurs

Myskania

Myskania, organized in 1917, is an honorary body composed of seniors who have led in scholarship, literary effort, debate, dramatics, athletics, and in undergraduate affairs generally.

This organization leads in formulating and guiding student sentiment in matters relating to student activities. These activities include: induction of freshmen into college customs, organization of the Freshmen class, guardianship of college traditions and innovations, preservation of student morale, direction of Campus Day program, direction of Post-Exam Jubilee program, and direction of Moving-Up Day.

The members are elected in the spring of their junior year, and they are not known until Moving-Up Day, when the results are announced with proper ceremony. The members are chosen as follows: The Student Association elects two qualified juniors. Inasmuch as the president of the Student Association becomes an ex-officio member, the Student Association really elects a third member. The other eight, nine, or ten qualified juniors are appointed by the outgoing Myskania at its discretion.

Prize Song

MOVING UP DAY 1925

Words by Ruth Moore

The swallows dip at twilight
Through mighty elms and old
And mellowed ways and doorway
A gathered radiance hold.
The light that moves the shadows
Creeps round us as it will
Above our own a new voice comes
That calls and is not still.

Chorus

College Days, College Days
Wonder days of dawn and dream
Mother true, old and new
Echoes that whisper the old halls through
Voices clear, call us near
For a day
High and free, the road ahead
Shall take us far away.

The moving years go forward
The swift days drop away
Outlined in gold before us
The youthful years and gay
The far-off hill-tops beckon
Through mist the wood-path goes
And voices come to call us on
With every wind that blows.

Chorus

College Days, College Days
Wonder days of dawn and dream
Mother true, old and new
Echoes that whisper the old halls through
Voices clear, call us near
For a day
High and free, the road ahead
Shall take us far away.

Class Song

We '25 salute you,
Colors of purple and gold,
Thou, Alma Mater, who givest
Precious gifts to hold;
Heart of our hearts uplifting
Pride, Alma Mater, in thee;
Loyal to thee and thy colors
Always we shall be.

Years, Alma Mater, are flying,
Hurrying feet shall pass;
We in the midst of your others
Sand in your hour glass;
Gold that you give, Alma Mater,
Faith like a gleaming gem,
All that you give to your children
We ask you, give to them.

Basketball Season 1924-25

The earth trembled from the Great Lakes to the Sea, and athletic trophies on walls of a score of Eastern Colleges shook in their places at 9:25 o'clock of February 28, 1925, as State's basketball season came to a glorious close with a sixth consecutive victory on the home court. At the precise moment that the first earthquake in two hundred years rocked Albany, a basket by a Purple and Gold player polled the deciding two points that won the game, brought the year's record out with six victories and five defeats, and made State's total scoring for the season one point more than that of its opponents!

Individually and as a group, the players earned the right to be called the best team since 1919. Captain Gainor at center outscored his opponents three points to one and outjumped every rival center throughout the season. Juckett at guard played his fourth year with the team. The former captain and Nephew were the reasons why the opponents scored so few points. Kuczynski and Hornung, the forwards, were the reasons why State scored so many. Nephew, playing a running guard game was the top point-getter for State. Kuczynski was second, Cainor third. Johnson, a guard and another former captain played successfully in three games before illness forced him from the line-up. Griffin and Gilchrist, substitutes, were in more than half the games and carried off a share of the glory.

Native ability to play basketball coupled with fine management, excellent coaching and four months of hard work were the reasons for success. Clean playing won support for the athletes from the college and Albany sporting world.

Girls Athletic Association

The organization which means the most to the most people in State College is G. A. A. It is the "mother" of all sports—initiating them, controlling them, expanding them. It plans the relaxation and recreation of everyone.

The gym frolics are among the most popular activities of the G. A. A. They are the general assembling ground for everyone. Here, even the Freshman feels herself an important part of the gang, and even the Senior forgets her dignity for a while. These social frolics do much toward promoting college spirit. Everyone enjoys herself. Clever and ingenious stunts are given. There are always refreshments.

Field Day, Campus Day, and Moving-Up Day are when G. A. A. shines brightest. Inter-class rivalry and sportsmanship are encouraged through athletic meets. In the fall is also the Freshman-Sophomore gymnasium meet, when each class strives to out-do its rival in individual and class contests.

In these ways, G. A. A. strives to realize its aim—"to promote, regulate, and control women's athletics in State College."

Girls Varsity Basketball Team-1925

The record of the Girls Varsity Basketball Team for the year 1925 stands, as it did last year, clean of defeats.

The opening game of the season, played with the Alumnae, ended with the close score of 18 to 16 in favor of the Purple and Gold. The narrow margin of this score added zest to the game, and was probably due to the continual changing of Varsity players during the course of the game for the purpose of trying out various combinations in order to pick the best one to use in the game with Russell Sage.

The big game of the season was that played with Russell Sage College at Troy on March 7. This is the third season State has met Russell Sage on the basketball court, and the standing to date shows one victory for Sage, that of 1923, and two for State, those of 1924 and 1925. The 1925 game was an unusually exciting one, markedly characterized with a lack of fouls called on either side, and when the final whistle blew, the score stood 29 to 28 in favor of State.

Senior Basketball Team-1925

Finally the Senior Basketball Team has come into its own—they hold the championship this year, and also helped to fill the ranks of the Varsity with five “valiant warriors.”

Up to last year, the team struggled with the handicap of a continual shifting of players. Last year, with a firmly organized team, they showed marked improvement, and were in the final scoring runners-up for the championship. This year, with the same squad as last year, they were almost invincible, showing by their victories the reward of steady cooperation.

Line-Up for the Year 1924-1925

Sport Captains

In order to encourage participation in the various sports, a point system was originated five years ago by which points were given for time spent in any legitimate sport. This year a revision of the point system was instituted as follows:

- 1 point for practice in any organized sport
- 2 points for participation in game of said organized sport
- 1 point for one hour's practice in any sport for which a Sport Captain has been appointed.

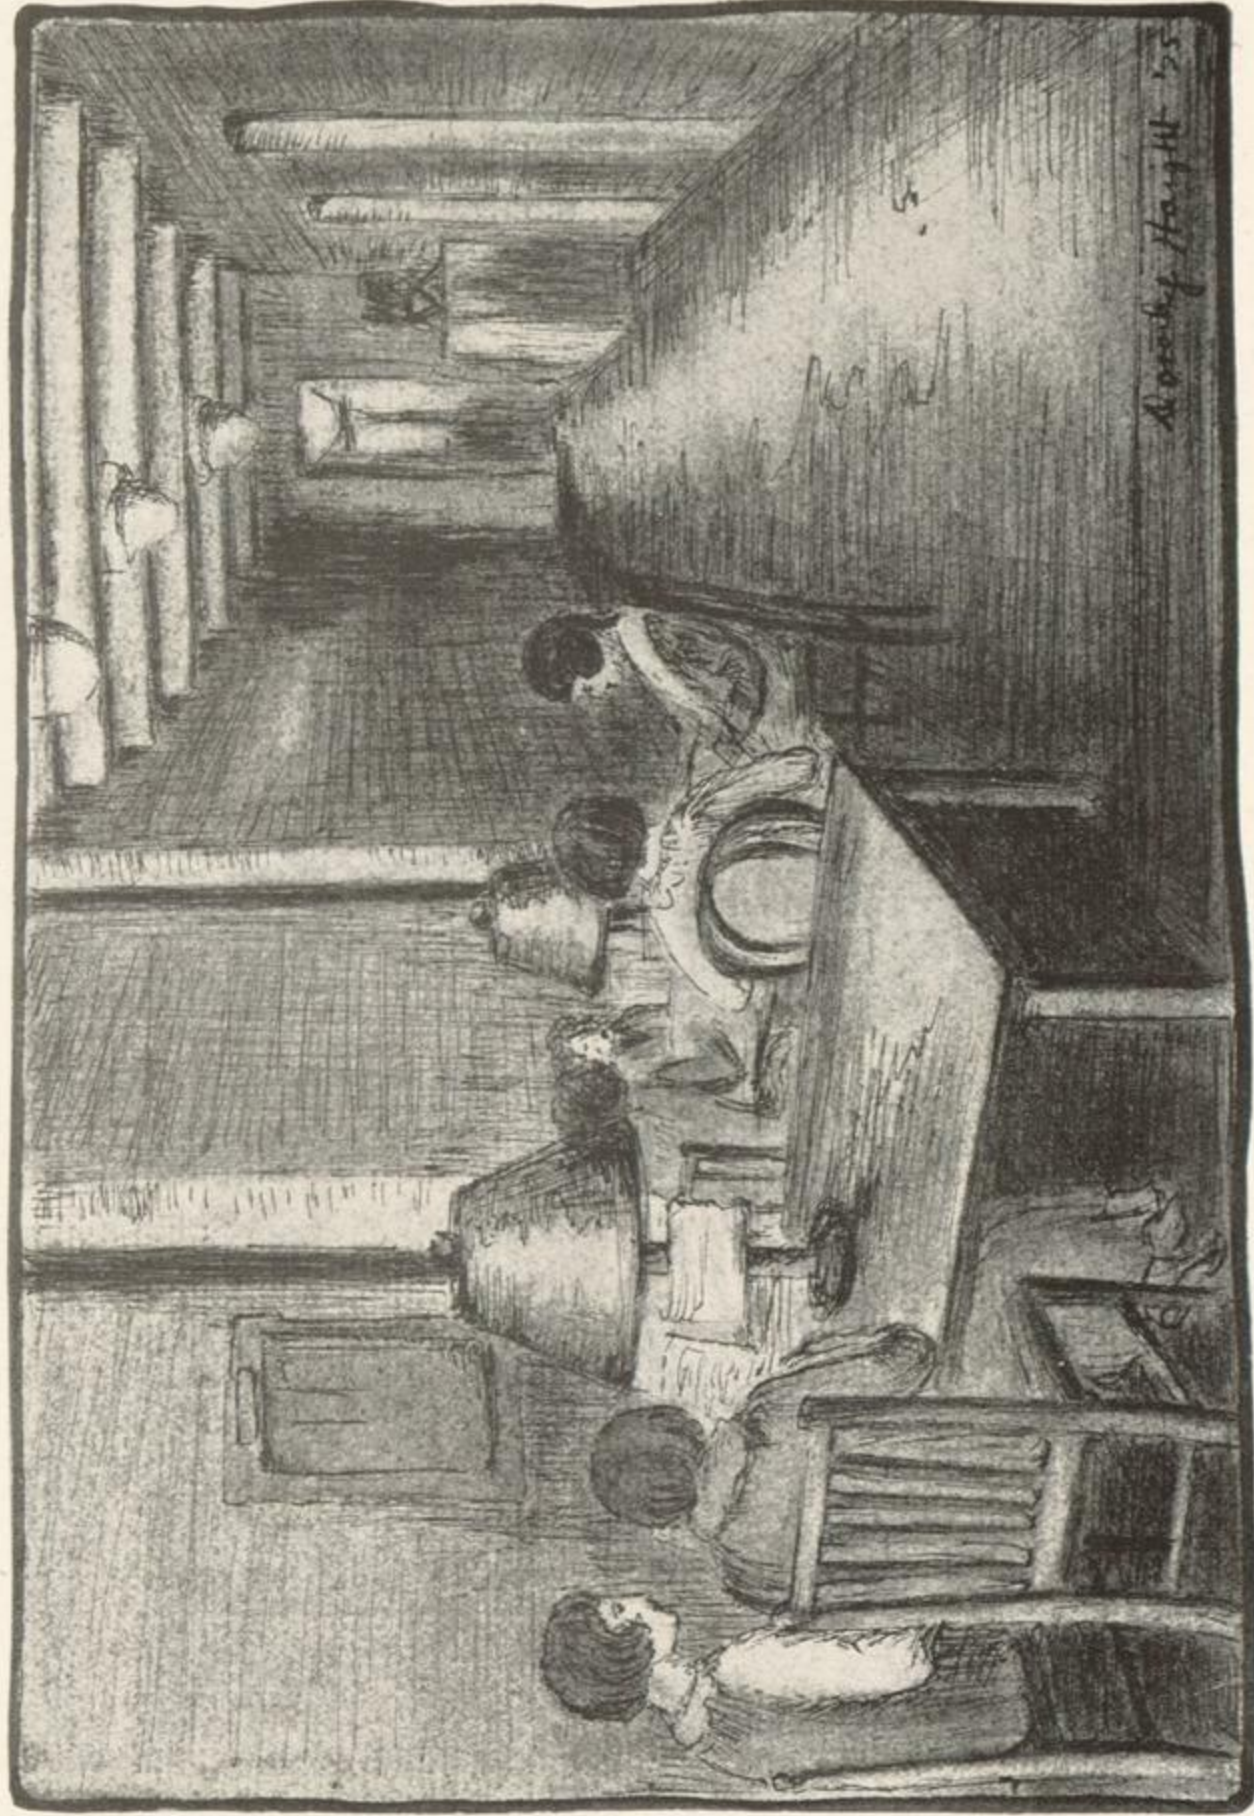

Major letters—To any girl who makes 3 class teams for 3 years.

Minor letters—To those who win 100 points a year for 3 years.

These Sport Captains were appointed to take charge of the various branches in order to more effectively organize sports:

HISTORICAL STATEMENT

Though the legal designation of our college is The New York State College for Teachers, it is known throughout New York State as "The Albany Normal," "The Normal College," and "State College for Women."

In order to qualify for admission to N. Y. S. C. T. the candidate must be at least under 30 and over ten years of age. This insures the mature intellect combined with the healthy body.

To register for admission the candidate must fill out 16 duplicate blanks declaring his (or her) political affiliations, date of baptism, color of eyes, and favorite dessert, last named data to be used in compiling cafeteria menus for the year.

Location of College

Take large red conveyance at station which you will think at first a moving van but will be Washington Avenue bus. Ride until large brick building is noted. Do not confuse it with School 12.

Correspondence for Admission

This will be referred to Charles who will pass on aim in hitting waste paper box and general ability to share one locker with three people.

Expenses

Each student is expected to furnish his own toothbrush and bootjack, but other expenses are defrayed by the faculty.

Terms of Admission

Being a state institution, N. Y. S. C. T. endeavors to accommodate all who seek admission at her doors.

It accepts candidates subject to the following conditions:

Proof of:

1. Ability in physical culture evidenced by sea-shore snapshots, samples of filet crochet, S. S. prizes, and rapidity in rapid calculation.
2. Intellectual ability such as: if the Z is silent in Sylochivitz, why sound it in Klaxon.
3. General social acceptability:
 - a. Fluency in an accent other than of the region from which one comes.
 - b. A good stage presence.
4. Ability to pass the Regents.
N. B. No one takes this seriously except the Regents Dept.

Two Hundred Thirty-nine

PEDAGOGUE

Warning! Candidates must not underrate their abilities when registering. We are the college with the personal touch. Many a girl has told us she never looked into the deepest recesses of her soul until she matriculated at State.

General Information

Inquiries concerning laboratory fees and expense referred to the legislature the second Monday in every January.

Rooms and Boarding Houses—Dormitory site available for all bringing tents and portable oil stoves. Cooking on the premises allowed.

For more detailed information to N. Y. S. C. T. apply to switch board operator, business office, Main 2700.

COURSES IN OBSTRUCTION

- I. Charm School, conducted by Anna E. Pierce. The purpose of this course is to enable pupil to attend any function from a faculty tea to a skiing party with poise and beauty. Requisites of the course are: six evening dresses, at least three eligible men (ready to appear on demand).
- II. How to Be Happy Though Married, by H. W. Hastings. The aim of this course is to conduct an inquiry and research into archives of the past in order to discover any past cases where such a state existed.
Note: Only married people need apply for admission.
- III. Mathematical Chemistry, by Prof. B. Bronson. The aim of this course is to reconstruct the now extinct auk. Requisites: one hammer, one saw, much forbearance and determination.
Note: This course is carried on in connection with the geological department in the Education Building.
- IV. Traffic Direction, by Coleman. The aim of this course is to enable students who drive cars to recognize the different signals and to stop when the cop says "Stop." This course is carried on in connection with the cafeteria department, the cafe being used for demonstration and practical lessons, particularly between the hours of 11:45 and 12:15.
- V. The Tame Animal Kingdom, by Dr. Beik. Experiments to be conducted daily on baby chicks, white mice, and any hapless stray cats found on back fences. This course is to be conducted in the boiler room as there is more space there in which to cage the animals.

General Information

Before coming to college every candidate for admission should familiarize herself (or him) with the following facts, particularly if she wishes to go in for social activities:

PEDAGOGUE

I. Be it known that in the Annual Beauty Contest Miss Homan carried off the honors, and now, besides possessing the degree of B.S., is called "Miss State College."

II. Dr. Croasdale is known in social circles as the most popular of ladies. It seems that the seances which take place in the small compartment to the rear of the auditorium have helped her considerable in maintaining this position.

III. There is a spot affectionately remembered in the hearts of State Collegians as the Mail Box. It is here that are welcomed notes for class dues, billet doux, valentines and love letters.

IV. Another remarkable institution around State is Harvey Fenner. He is known as Big Hearted. He has evinced willingness to work for the good of his Alma Mater by doing anything from blowing up the Chem Lab to posing for ads for Home Made Bakeries.

V. No place of learning is complete without its prettiest senior and nerviest man. Mildred Hammersley is called the first and Jerome Walker wins the second title.

VI. There is a long, lean slithering man in our college. He is a Junior. He upholds State's honor whenever possible on the Basketball floor. His name is Gainor.

Wait—don't rush—freshmen are never overlooked.

VII. If you should happen to meet a girl walking around between sandwich boards or making speeches for the Honor System you may wonder who she is. She is Gert. Olds. Noted for her fine college spirit.

VIII. A drag with the faculty is a mysterious thing. Some are given away, some are bought at the price of flowers, candies, apples, chewing gum, etc. But if you'd like to acquire one without much effort just ask Ed Crane the how and why. He has the best one at "State."

IX. If you crave publicity or public notice just get an introduction to Eddie Van Kleek. Thereupon we guarantee that from that day on you will be well pictured, written around and about and you will always have interesting items concerning yourself to send home in the family letters, items gleaned from the "Albany Evening News."

X. Don't be surprised some day to see a long, mean girl drag out through the front door and nonchalantly glide down two steps at a time. Yep, that's Peg Flanagan, known as the Dressiest Dame in school.

XI. The first day you arrive go immediately to the cafeteria and put up a loud clamor for ice cream, black or white. Do not leave until your demand has been filled inasmuch as it is necessary that you stand pat behind State's most popular dessert.

Two Hundred Forty-one

XII. Prepare yourself for the inevitable. In every college there comes a time known as the saddest day in all the year. Here we call it the first day after exams.

XIII. There is just one more notable to be met and that is our college grind. Every college has one, so we are not unique in that respect. Treat her gently and in after years she may be able to live it down. Her name is Ada Berkowitz.

COLLEGE DIARY FOR 1923-1924

- Sept. 18—Inventory of roommate's clothes.
Sept. 19—Peg Flanagan decides she can't wear Pinch Lynch's new sweater.
Sept. 22—Hoads of verdant freshmen arrive for 8:10 class at 8:00.
Sept. 23—Math classes held entranced at Connie's laugh.
Oct. 5—Report circulated that Dot Hoyt held dignified senior under water for 3 minutes.
Oct. 6—Dot Hoyt vigorously denies statement.
Oct. 7—State Humane society investigates statement.
Oct. 9—Miss Cobb lets one of her penalties slip for overdue books.
Nov. 1—Hoads of not-so-verdant freshmen crowd portals for 8:10 class at 8:15
Nov. 2—Prof. Mahar seen acting boisterously in the halls.
Nov. 10—Riz wears his English suit of clothes.

Guess:

- What a man walks 5,280 ft. for?
 - What do four out of every five have?
 - What even your best friend won't tell you?
 - How to keep that school-girl complexion?
 - What takes the curse off the onion?
 - Why for the third time she has to order chicken salad?

Why girls leave home (for S. C. T.):

1. To avoid washing dishes.
 2. To kill time for four years.
 3. To learn how to dance.
 4. To improve their line.
 5. To meet man-kind or kind man?
 6. To learn law-making at first hand.
 7. To study cross word puzzles.
 8. It is easier to write papa for money than to ask him outright.
 9. Incidentally to teach the young idea how to shoot straight.

Things Never Said:

By Profs: Yes, pupils, I know you will (or shall) be tired next hour, so I'll not assign any lesson.

Raise the window.

I didn't mark the papers.

The misses gave me a call down last night.

By studes: Don't know, but I'll make a guess.

Gee, I love 8:10's, 12:15's and 4:00's.

She's a peach—give me an E.

Not going to the dance to-night—I'd rather stay home and study French.

Pardon me, said the Sophomore to the Freshman.

PEDAGOGUE

The Ped Board would like to know:

- Why Dot Hoyt has to pay board at Syddum Hall?
- Is Myskania a matrimonial bureau?
- Why Dr. Painter never married? Has "Cleopatra" anything to do with it?
- How Dr. Hastings still achieves the blush after fifteen years?
- How many fond parents Prof. Sayles didn't have to lick?
- How Harvey Fenner retains that school-girl complexion?
- Who ate the "Pretzel?"
- Did the class of '27 lose the measuring stick when they ordered the freshman buttons?
- What the head of the department had to do with the selection of a major, for example, History and Chemistry?

"Are you laughing at me?" asked the irate professor of his class.
"No," came the answer in chorus.
"Well, I don't see anything else in the room to laugh at."

P. T.: Has first Milne High Pupil put list of revenues on the board, including income, inheritance tax, etc.
Second M. H. S. P.: "Teacher, you forgot one."
P. T.: "What?"
M. H. P.: "Carpet tacks."

Niles H.: "What's the matter? Have you given up smoking?"
Van Kleek: "Yep, it's too lady-like."

Fair S. C. T. (at Prom): "Say, have you tried the new steps?"
Dumb R. P. I.: "No, are they any softer than the fire escape?"

Little Boy: "Ma, why did you buy these pants for me?"
Mother: "Why, what's the matter with them?"
Same: "Well, they're tighter than my skin."
Mother: "How could anything be tighter than your skin?"
Ditto: "Well, I can sit down in my skin, but I'll be darned if I can sit down in these pants."

Revival of Old War Cries:

"The enemy have met us and we are theirs."—Frosh at tug-of-war.

"They shall not pass."—Faculty.

"The Alps, the Alps, there are no Alps."—Student of Geography.

"Read them and weep."—A professor returning papers.

"We have the stronger line of the two."—The Co-Eds.

Frosh: "They even had liquid soap up at the Gamma House."

Delta: "Yes, they'll drink anything."

One of our Sophs left a note on her door for her room-mate who had gone to the movies: "If I am studying when you get back, wake me up."

St. Peter (selecting equipment for a new recruit): "Harp?"

K. Hodge: "Ye're damn right. And I'm proud of it."

Midge Whitegiver: "I've just been filing Bill's old love letters."

McDougall: "Were they as rough as all that?"

Frosh: "What is that man with the big pipe in his mouth?"

Second ditto: "Oh, that must be the Freshman Smoker we've been hearing so much about."

P. Briggs: So you're the circulation manager of the team. What do you do?

Marion Landon: Why I give the rubdowns.

V. Noone: "When I was in China, I saw a woman hanging from a tree."

J. Dardess: "Shanghai?"

Noone: "Oh, about six feet."

Practice Teacher: "Who on earth is making that gurgling noise?"
Milne High: "I am. I'm trying to swallow that line you are throwing."

Slim: "They call that girl Spearmint."
Godfrey: "Why, is she Wrigley?"
Slim: "No, but she's always after meals."

Harvey says his idea of hard luck is when a man works for his board and then loses his appetite.

Crane: "Waiter, a rum-omelette."
Juck: "Same—without the eggs."

Fitz: "What makes your father so stoop-shouldered?"
Ritz: "Getting in and out of patrol wagons."

Scene: The Office.

The Editor, ragged and unkempt, discourses, while she mops ink from her person with a blotter.

The Editor: When we discovered, after our fingers were blistered with constant rubbings from the office pen and our literary temper worn to its last flapping fringes, that we were supposed to favor our readers with a farewell speech, we burst three inkpots and kicked a sole out of the editorial shoe. Ideas! We had none. So we went to the venerable files and took out volumes of preceding years, bent on a dolorous and desperate mission. We would make our swan-song from the annals of our peers. O what a fool and peasant slave were we! Our predecessors had been clever, too. We found this:

The 1921 and 1923 editors had made "hurried withdrawals from the railings of mankind;" others had done the same thing into "oblivion." On second thought, we prefer to make a graceful, unobtrusive exit.

Two editors were much indebted to and two felt that they owed many thanks to their faculty adviser, "whose untiring interest, accurate judgment, etc.," had done so-and-so to the success of the Ped—we get mixed. Our faculty adviser is a lady—know, O gentle reader, that other f. a.'s have not been—and we need to say something particularly good. We decide to thank Miss Wallace gracefully and unobtrusively. Miss Wallace, thank you, gracefully and unobtrusively.

For other editors the Ped has been three times a "link" and once a "bond" "to hold to memories and the passing years." At this juncture—pardon us. For us it shall be a nut and a bolt—which, you will remember, gentle reader, constitutes a joint—between collegē days and our last pair of spectacles. One moment, please—

(The Editor exits gracefully and unobtrusively.)
