Feily Asks Strong Action On Bill Requiring Budget To Give Reasons For Vote

ALBANY, Feb. 18—All State employees are being urged to take the strongest possible action to support a bill now before the Legislature that would "require the State Budget Director to specify in writing his reasons for disapproving a reallocation or reclassification request that reaches him."

As a first step, Joseph F. Feily, president of the Civil Service Employees Association, last week asked all State Correction Dept. chapter presidents to lend particular weight to the drive.

Bills In Legislature

The bill, sponsored by the Association, was introduced to the Legislature by Senator Norman S. Lent of East Rockaway and Assemblyman Robert J. Feinberg of Plattsburg.

Under present law, the courts have held that the Budget Director does not have to give any reasons whatsoever for a veto of a reclassification or reallocation request that reaches him, with the result that his veto, for all practical purposes, cannot even be reviewed in court. Passage of this bill would remedy the situation.

Feily's Letter

In his letter to Correction chapter officers Feily said; "I don't have to tell you why this bill is of so much importance to you and all other state employees

The reason was dramatically expressed last Christmas when the budget director dismissed the reallocation appeal for Correction Officers that had been approved by the Civil Service Commission."

Feily was referring to the Division of Budget's dismissal of a request for a one-grade reallocation, from grade 11 to grade 12, of the State's 4,000 Correction Officers. The reallocation had been approved some months before by the State Civil Service Commission.

Says "Passage Imperative"

The CSEA president emphasized to Correction Officers that "this campaign is not in any way designed to take away from our fight for the reallocation taken from you by the Division of the Budget. The purpose of the campaign is to prevent anything like your recent denial from occurring again."

He said "It is imperative that we pass this bill this year. It is the only way we can assure that we shall have the right to test in the courts the fairness of a budget director's veto".

CSEA chapters throughout the state will be urged this week to begin a concentrated drive to secure passage of the bill.

New Non-Teaching Unit in Long Island

ISLIP, Feb. 18—John Corcoran Jr., Long Island field representative for the Civil Service Employees Association announced the formation of a new non-teaching unit at the Connetquot School District, located in the Towns of Islip and Brookhaven. The new unit has 35 members. Pat Trotta is the unit president.

On Commission

ALBANY, Feb. 18—Dr. Natale Colosi of Staten Island has been reappointed a member of the Interstate Sanitation Commission. He will serve through 1966.

Residence Bill Runs Into Snag

ALBANY, Feb. 18—A bill to erase residence requirements on appointments to municipal jobs has run into unexpected opposition in the State Assembly.

Assemblyman Orin S. Wilcox, chairman of the Civil Service Committee, withdrew his measure temporarily from consideration, when a debate threatened its chances of passage.

He has asked opponents to outline their objections to him for study before bringing the bill up for a vote.

Wording Changed

The measure changes the wording of the Civil Service Law with regard to the use of residency requirements in selecting from an eligibility list for municipal positions.

Under present wording, only residents are listed unless residency requirements have been waived. Under the new wording, eligibles are restricted to residents if requested by the municipal civil service commission.

The bill also adds the alternative of picking first from local residents only. Then, when that group is exhausted, picking from the entire eligible list.

Both Republican and Democratic assemblymen questioned the bill.

Major Portion of CSEA Program In Legislature

(Special To The Leader)

ALBANY, Feb. 18—The major portion of the legislative program of the Civil Service Employees Association has been submitted to the Legislature and The Leader, this week, presents the latest report on these measures.

The sponsors, introductory and print numbers are given, where available, and the committees considering the bills. Employees are urged to use these numbers when writing to legislators for support of the CSEA-sponsored measures.

Leading off with the salary resolutions, here is the latest report:

Legislators Respond To Metro Conference

Numerous legislators from the Metropolitan New York and Long Island area have already accepted invitations to a panel discussion on the relationship between legislators and the public employee, being sponsored by the Metropolitan Conference of the Civil Service Employees Assn.

The contest, now in its third year, is sponsored by the Civil Service Employees Association chapter of the Department.

Barbara Seidenberg was named runner-up, becoming the alternate Miss Highway Safety for the coming year.

Some 200 department employees turned out to witness the ceremony, which was covered by newspaper and television cameramen.

Civil Servants Again Pondering Using Vote Muscle

PUBLIC employees in New York State, who represent approximately 10 per cent of the voting population, are reported watching the "Battle of the Budget" in the State Legislature with considerable concern. Once again, they fear that the civil servant is going to be the sacrificial goat in terms of saving money to appease the other taxpayers in the State. These concerns are reported to be causing some segments of the civil service to bring up again the question of whether or not political action is the answer to getting first class attention from the political parties.

Large civil service employee organizations such as the 110,000-member Civil Service Employees Assn. know they are going to have to fight hard for every dollar they need to win in order to keep state workers near par with private industry personnel. But they want, as do other employee organizations, several things that do not cost money that rank high in their legislative goals. They don't want to see these items pushed aside in the battle over what means will be used to raise money to balance the budget.

Two Examples

One of the major items over which all employees, local as well as state, are concerned is sold action on the Condon-Wadlin Law. At this writing, neither Governor Rockefeller nor any other leaders pledged to act on this legislation have produced any announcement on what is intended. Another item—and one which State workers feel particularly strong about—is legislation introduced by the Employees Association requiring the Budget Director to give reasons in writing when he turns down funds for title reallocations. This has produced one of the greatest morale problems in the civil service and its irritation was exemplified recently when State Correction officers lost an initial appeal for a title upgrading, won it on appeal to the Civil Service Commission — and then had it vetoed by the Budget Director's office. They feel the least the Administration could do is explain the causes for the denial. Both parties will be asked to support the CSEA bill which would mandate such explanations.

Most Are Reluctant

In past years, most civil service groups have been reluctant to take sides in political battles but this pattern is slowly changing, starting with New York City. In one important election, two large organizations endorsed the GOP and the Democratic candidates respectively. After the election, however, the two groups got together and agreed that in the future they would endorse the same candidate, based on the candidate's civil service program performance. The majority of employee organizations are still reluctant to take sides, however, and are unhappy about the internal pressures in their groups which are building up toward taking a stand for one party or the other. These pressures have largely been created by the fact that civil servants are becoming aware, for the first time, of their voting size and strength—and they are getting the itch to use it. There are some 8,000,000 registered voters in the State—and some 800,000 are in public employment. If one counts three votes to a family, the number of civil service ballots could total 2,400,000 or 30 per cent of the total vote. These figures are being impressed in the minds of the public employees and, in several areas, these people are starting to call for more political action.

Action By Neglect

So far, action on public employee legislation has not moved with any degree of swiftness or interest in the Legislature, mainly because of the concern over the budget. This battle will, of course, be settled one way or the other. In the meantime, public employees are keeping a sharp eye on how their interests are being treated. The non-money legislation they have sponsored ranks as high as fringe benefits and they see no reason why these bills should be ignored. What all this means is that if civil service groups go into high gear on political action it will be because of legislative neglect rather than any desire to get into the political area.

Presidential Request

Youth Unemployment Target Of Proposed Conservation Corps

By MARY ANN BANKS

One of the more startling facts in America today is the fact that unemployment among young Americans is two and a half times higher than the national average. And this figure is minor when compared with unemployment rates among youths who are unable to complete their high school education.

These are some of the facts behind President Kennedy's special message to Congress in regard to the young people of our country. In his message, the President proposed the creation of a youth employment act which would enable a youth conservation corps to engage young men to work improving the country's forests and recreation areas.

The second part of this program would allow the federal government to provide half the wages and costs for young persons employed on local projects that offer useful work experience in non-profit community services such

Increased Hours For Police Recruit Training Mandated By Governor

(From Leader Correspondent)

ALBANY, Feb. 18—Police recruits will be required to pass a special training course of 120 hours in the future, it has been announced by Governor Rockefeller.

The new rules were recommended by the Municipal Police Training Council, which set up a mandatory training system several years ago. The old rules called for local police recruits to take 80 hours of training.

In announcing the program, the Governor said:

"New York State—the first in the Nation to mandate minimum training standards for local police officers—can take great pride in this significant further step in the professionalization of law enforcement. The Municipal Police Training Council, which has provided such able leadership in the State's efforts to enhance the professional status of local police is to be commended for its development of this new 120-hour training course. With the benefit of this increased training, there will be a stronger system of law enforcement throughout the State."

Twenty-two Subjects

The new course of instruction includes mandatory training in twenty-two subjects for at least 110 hours of classroom instruction including an examination. The remaining ten hours of instruction may be devoted to expanded instruction in the mandatory subjects or apportioned among fifteen elective subjects.

Among the mandatory courses are: The Role of Law Enforcement; Police-Community Relations; Police Ethics; Racial and Minority Group Relations; Laws of Arrest, Search and Seizure; Civil Rights, Civil Liberties, Constitutional Guarantees; Code of Criminal Procedures; Penal Law; Vehicle and Traffic Law; Traffic Control, Accident Investigation; Laws of Evidence; Physical Evidence; Court Testimony; Note-Taking and Report Writing; Interviews, Interrogation, Admissions, and Mechanics of Arrest; Emergency Aid to Persons; Recognition and Handling of Abnormal Persons; and Youthful Offender Law, Family Court, Handling of Juveniles.

The elective subjects include such courses as: Parole; Probation; Investigative Techniques and Procedures—Narcotics; Investigative Techniques and Procedures—Vice; Civil Defense; Crowd and Riot Control; Police Communications.

Weapons Training

Each trainee must pass a final examination and is required to devote time in firing his service weapon on a range. Attendance and notebook requirements must also be met before an officer can be issued a certificate of satisfactory completion.

Training schools are sponsored by local Police Departments and Sheriffs' Departments, subject to approval of the Municipal Police Training Council. Instructors may be requested without charge from such agencies as the Judiciary, District Attorney, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the New York State Police, Sheriffs' Departments and Police Departments. Once the State's minimum standards have been met, local schools are allowed considerable latitude in expanding and developing their curricula.

The Council is appointed by the Governor to serve without pay and its members are: Sheriff Charles C. McCloskey, Jr., of Chautauqua County, chairman; Mayor Peter Barry, of Rochester; Superintendent Arthur Cornelius, Jr., of the New York State Police; John F. Malone, in charge of the New York City FBI Office; Sheriff J. Henry Mock, of Rockland County; Commissioner Michael J. Murphy, of the New York City Police Department; Chief Raymond R. Ninesing, of the Kings Point Police; and Chief Walter F. Waring, of the Lynbrook Police.

Auburn Survey Is Completed

(From Leader Correspondent)

AUBURN, Feb. 18—The Auburn Civil Service Commission has received a commendation from the State Civil Service Commission following a management survey.

George A. Donovan, secretary of the Auburn unit, said the only criticism in the report was about "difficulties that persist" in the recruitment of personnel for semi-technical positions in the Water and Sewage Department.

Steps Taken

He said steps to correct this matter already have been taken. The Auburn commission, he said has recommended that funds be made available for improving the training facilities of employees. Also, he said, the city administration is now studying possible reorganization of the sewage plant.

The report states that five consecutive examinations for positions of assistant sewage plant operator failed to produce an eligibility list. Many applicants were disapproved on lack of training and experience. Those who qualified failed the written examination.

Similar Pattern

The pattern was similar for high level positions, except that the two most recent tests in 1960 and 1961 produced lists of one and three eligible employees, respectively, the report said. Two appointments have been made from the 1961 list.

The report covers activities of the Auburn unit from March 1961 to August 1962 when the survey was made. Members of the commission are Louis R. Shambo and Arthur Lee. One position is vacant.

No Physical In Feb. For CSEA Group Life

New applicants for CSEA Group Life Insurance under age 50 will not be required to take the usual medical examination if they apply during the month of February, 1963.

This does not apply to applicants who have previously been rejected for this group plan on the basis of a medical examination. This announcement was made by Joseph F. Feily, CSEA president. Applicants 50 years of over will have to take the usual examination at the expense of the Insurance Company.

Who Is Eligible

Any employee of the state, or of the counties of Westchester, St. Lawrence, Chemung, Nassau, Niagara, Orange, Rensselaer, Schenectady and Suffolk, the Cities of White Plains, Ogdensburg, Potsdam, Newburgh, Schenectady, Elmira, Troy and Mount Vernon, the Towns of Oyster Bay, Hempstead, North Hempstead, Glen Cove and Roslyn Water District, who are or become members of CSEA may apply for its low-cost Group Life Insurance.

Applications and explanatory literature can be secured from any CSEA chapter or from its headquarters at 8 Elk Street, Albany, or 11 Park Place, New York City.

Under the CSEA Group Life Plan, a member 29 years or younger secures Term Life Insurance protection for 10c bi-weekly per thousand. Older employees enjoy proportionately low rates.

In addition to low cost, the plan provides many advantages. Claims are paid to beneficiaries of deceased members within 24 hours after notice of death is received at CSEA headquarters without red tape. Payment of cost is made through convenient payroll deductions.

The CSEA Plan now covers over 50,000 of its members and has been steadily developed and improved throughout the years. It provides double indemnity for accidental death and waiver of premium if total disability occurs before age 60. The premium charges to insured members under the plan have been reduced on several occasions in the past and cash refunds have been paid to insured members.

Only in February

The continued development of the CSEA Plan was made possible by ever increasing membership becoming insured thereunder. The total membership of CSEA is now over 110,000. Any employee of the state or any political subdivision is eligible for membership therein. State Police, prison guards, and other members who have hazardous employment usually have to pay additional premiums for Life Insurance, but in the CSEA Group Plan cost to all members, regardless of employment, is the same.

The special offer is good only during February, 1963. Bring this matter to the attention of your fellow employees. Within CSEA circles, the usual reference to its Group Life Insurance is "How can I afford not to have it?"

Canton Votes Classified Status For Village Clerk

(From Leader Correspondent)

CANTON, Feb. 18—The village board has voted 4-1 to make the post of village clerk—heretofore a year-to-year appointive office—a classified position under civil service.

The board took action after a public hearing so large it had to be moved to the firemen's hall here. Opposition to the change was estimated about three to one against the civil service move.

Mayor Sees "Merit"

Mayor Milford W. Howe, attending his first meeting in some time, said there was "merit" in the new civil service classification for the village clerk. He said the post of clerk should have the protection it gets under civil service in the best interest of the community—a Class A village.

The only member of the board, Staton B. Smith, to oppose the civil service move is the G.O.P. candidate for mayor in upcoming village elections.

The village clerk is Irving Joyce.

Some Opposition

Attorney Sidney Kitay appeared at the hearing in favor of the civil service rating for Joyce. He said he represented a number of other residents. Included in the opposition was a candidate for village trustee in the Republican caucus and Mrs. Kenneth Reasoner, president of the Canton Democratic club.

Since the village hall was destroyed by fire, the village board has been meeting in City Clerk Joyce's office. Because of the number of persons attending, the site had to be moved. After the hearing had ended, the board moved back to Joyce's office where it voted and pursued other routine village business.

Joint Consideration of Raise & Retiree Funds Means April Approval

In last week's column, we reported that retirees could look forward to their additional annuities sometime this month. In the meantime, there have been some new developments. The President did ask for Congressional approval of funds needed for the raise last week, as was reported earlier.

Kennedy also promised to submit a full report on the pay raise and retiree raise law at a later date. He stressed the fact that the money had to be appropriated by Congress before the large benefits voted by Congress could be paid by the Civil Service Commission to either group.

The problem will arise if the retirement section funds of the Federal pay raise law are not considered as separate matter. If Congress considers the pay raise funds and the retiree funds at the same time, it might be April 15th before retirees and survivors receive the 5 percent increase. In any case, the money will be retroactive to January 1st.

$1.6 Million Salary Increase Is Hoped To Aid Recruitment

In an effort to aid recruitment of engineers and physical scientists, the U.S. Civil Service Commission has announced that pay for these hard-to-fill GS-5 through 8 positions will be increased.

Among the jobs affected by the new adjustments are all professional engineering jobs, including those in architecture, and jobs in the following science specialties: chemistry, physics, health physics, mathematics, mathematical statistics, metallurgy, astronomy and space science meteorology, oceanography (Physical), and landscape architecture. Others included are: patent advisor, patent examining, physical science subseries, geophysics (including seismology, geomagnetics, and earth physics), and geodesy. Also actuary, forest products technology, and technology in rubber, plastics, aviation survival, industrial radiography, packaging and preservation, and photographic equipment.

The increase, which was authorized under the 1962 Salary Reform Act, is expected to cost about $1.6 million annually. It is hoped that the change will aid Federal agencies in obtaining a greater number of these professionals and also a larger number of this year's college graduates. Reports show that recruiting in these fields was much harder last year than in the previous year.

Experimental Type Solicitation Drive Launched by CSC

Even though the voluntary payroll charity deduction system has worked well in private industry, CSC officials feel that enthusiasm for this system is practically null and void in the Government.

Up until this year, various charity drives have solicited two or three times a year. This year, several Federal agencies throughout the country will experiment with a new method. A once-a-year contribution will be attempted on the basis of being a time-saving device.

If successful, the new plan will be adopted for future years. Nevertheless, contributions will still be made on a voluntary basis.

Lunch-time Injury On Employer's Property Merits Compensation

A recent ruling of the Employees Compensation Appeals Board has eliminated much of the discussion concerning injury compensation. The Board has maintained that any Federal employees injured on the premises where they work are entitled to injury compensation benefits.

This decision is a reversal of the decision given by the United States Employees Compensation Board which had denied injury compensation benefits to a Government worker who was injured on agency property while on his lunch hour.

The appeals board ruled further that in case of employee injuries on the employer's premises "the going to and from the actual work and the risk involved in it are reasonably incidental to the employment."

Federal Government Combines Forces With The Telephonitis Set

Apparently the teenage set is not the only group tempted by telephonitis; the Federal Government has gotten in on the act also. Just recently, they leased long distance lines connecting 43 United States cities in order to make long distance communication as simple as local calling.

The Federal Telecommunications System (FTS) will work on a direct dialing principle to all cities in the network. The system will not only interconnect key Government agencies but will enable easy connection with other organizations in these key cities.

Unlike the teenager, the Federal Government has used the telephone system to a practical advantage. In addition to its merit as a time-saving device, this method will offer a considerable saving. Since the largest savings will be best realized when the system is used to a maximum, the Government is urging frequent usage of this communication method.

TBTA Maintainer Promotion Exam Closes This Week

There are only a few days left to file for a promotional examination for the title of senior bridge and tunnel maintainer which has been announced by the New York City Department of Personnel.

Applications are only being accepted until February 21 for this May 21 exam. Those who achieve this title will be required to work shifts as ordered and will receive a salary ranging from $6,726 to $8,375 per annum.

The examination is open to employees of the Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority who are permanently employed in the title of bridge and tunnel maintainer or motor vehicle operator. Such employees must have served in that title in the department for a period of not less than six months.

Any employee who has been reinstated after resignation or retirement is required to serve only three consecutive months before the test in order to be eligible. The admission of employees in the title of motor vehicle operator is for reclassification and applies to this examination only.

Under general direction, a senior bridge and tunnel maintainer supervises and takes part in the maintenance and operation of the varied facilities and equipment of the TBTA and performs related work.

Other tasks include supervising the work of assigned personnel in the maintenance of buildings, and tunnels; maintaining and making repairs to electrical wiring systems, power and control equipment, and mechanical and structural devices; cleaning and clearing the bridges, buildings, and approaches operated by the Authority.

The written test, which is tentatively scheduled for May 1, will test the candidate's knowledge of supervisory techniques in directing the work of assigned personnel, technical knowledge of maintenance techniques in connection with components in buildings, fixed and movable bridges and tunnels, and other related areas.

Applications will be issued and received daily Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Saturdays, until noon. These application blanks are obtainable free at the application section of the Department of Personnel, 98 Duane St., New York 7.

Thursday Is Last Day To File For Positions As Correction Officers

The New York City Correction Department has positions open to both men and women as correction officers. The salary range for these positions is from $6,180 to $7,631 per annum.

Filing for this examination will close on February 21. The written examination is expected to be given on May 18.

Employees in these titles, correction officer (men) and correction officer (women) are eligible to compete for positions as captain and subsequently to the position of either superintendent of women's prisons or warden.

Minimum requirements for these jobs are graduation from a senior high school or possession of an equivalency diploma by the time of filing applications.

The age requirements for the male officer position range from 20 to not over 31 years of age on the first day of filing of applications. (Feb. 1)

Female Officers

For the female officer position, applicants must be at least 22 years of age and less than 31 on Feb. 1, 1963.

Although the State Law on Discrimination provides that no age barrier may be established for civil service positions, the physical effort required in these positions permits an exception in this examination.

However, age requirements are waived in the case of veterans who may deduct actual time spent in the armed forces from their age in determining their eligibility.

Height requirements for the female officer position are five feet, two inches; five feet, seven and one half inches for the male officer.

Under supervision, correction officers are responsible for the custody, control, care and job training of inmates of detention and correctional institutions.

The written examination will count for 100 percent with a 70 percent passing mark required for position on the resultant eligible list. A qualifying physical examination will also be given with a 70 percent passing mark required.

Applications will be distributed and accepted by the New York City Department of Personnel's application section, 98 Duane St., N.Y. 7, N. Y., on Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and on a Saturday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon until Feb. 21.

Budget Should Give Reasons For Vetoes

NOT all public employee bills in the Legislature cost money if enacted and some of these bills are as important to civil servants as measures that require funds. One of the most important bills of this type now before the Legislature is a measure that would require the State Director of the Budget to state in writing his reasons for turning down funds for approved title upgradings and reclassifications.

As things stand now, the Budget Director can exercise this veto without stating his reasons in any form. This, of course, robs state workers of any avenue of approach toward overcoming Budget arguments for denying such funds. There is no reason why this should be so. If the denial is just, then the Budget should have no fear of explaining the reasons for not giving funds. If the denial is not just, then state workers should certainly have the means to appeal for redress.

Basically, the responsibility for deciding on whether or not upgradings and reclassifications be put into effect should not even be subject to a Budget veto. It would seem to us that the final determination should be made elsewhere. Going further, it would seem to us that the Division of the Budget should be only too happy to rid itself of the onus of making such decisions. But this involves another area and one not covered by the particular piece of legislation under discussion.

A first step in the right direction would be the measure, sponsored by the Civil Service Employees Assn., to require the Budget Director to give reasons in writing for turning down appeals. CSEA President Joseph F. Felly has called on all State employees to get behind this bill. It is to their interest that they do so.

Civil Service Heroes

A New York City patrolman, described as "an average cop" with no commendations nor complaints, was shot and killed while on duty last Thursday evening.

Six weeks ago, Youth Board worker Louis Marsh lost his life while preventing an outburst of juvenile gang warfare on the Upper East Side.

A little over a week ago, bus driver Walter Stith employed by the Manhattan and Bronx Surface Transit Operating Authority risked his life when he ran through a blazing Harlem tenement in the early hours of the morning waking sleeping residents and leading them to safety. Two patrolmen, Stith, and his 10-year-old daughter were credited with saving many lives.

So it is with civil servants day after day. Quietly they perform their work and often perform actions above and beyond the call of duty.

Public employment is an honorable profession and the deeds of those employees who are ready to lay down their lives for the people and the city they serve should result in the raising of a new sense of pride in all who work in the public behalf.

Your Public Relations IQ

By LEO J. MARGOLIN

(Mr. Margolin is Adjunct Professor of Public Relations in the New York University School of Public Administration and is Vice President, Public Relations, of A. J. Armstrong Co., Inc.)

The views expressed in this column are those of the writer and do not necessarily constitute the views of this newspaper.

An Effective Tool

THE "NEWS DIGEST" of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission is a prime example of an effective technique for government agencies to reach the various publics they serve.

SINCE COMMUNICATIONS is an essential element of good public relations, the "News Digest" serves that purpose admirably. Equally important is the information it provides its large number of publics.

INDIVIDUAL GOVERNMENT agencies do so many things, take so many actions, and affect the activities of so many people, it would be impossible to depend solely on the public media—newspapers and radio and television—to keep the public informed.

WE HAVE SAID ON many occasions—and we say it emphatically again—there is no single newspaper, press association, radio or TV station, or magazine which can cover any one government agency completely. The task is physically impossible in this day of higher newspaper production costs and shrinking reportorial staff of press associations and newspapers.

NOTWITHSTANDING THE criticism of some legislators and publishers, the responsibility for covering government agencies has fallen on the agencies themselves. This also encompasses distributing all facts which affect their publics generally, or a corporation or individual specifically.

THUS, THE NEWS digest becomes a handy tool to carry out these jobs.

THE MANNER IN which the SEC is discharging this responsibility bears repeating as a guide for government agencies on the state, municipal and county levels.

WHERE THE PUBLIC interest calls for it, the SEC issues regular press releases, reporting actions it has taken. Each release is numbered.

IN ITS "NEWS DIGEST" it summarizes these press releases and includes the press release number for reference. In addition, it summarizes other actions it has taken, usually of a routine nature, which have not been the subject of a press release. These are referred to by their SEC file number.

THUS, ANYONE wanting more specific details on any SEC matter, asks for a press release by number, or visits the SEC offices to examine the particular file.

THIS SEEMS TO be a highly efficient, workable method of transmitting information. When one considers that the SEC takes as many as 16 different actions in a single day, it is easy to see how invaluable is its "News Digest."

THERE ARE MANY government agencies which could improve their public relations, as well as their communications, by adopting the SEC "News Digest" technique or custom tailoring a similar digest to meet their special needs.

Social Security Questions

"I am a woman 65 years of age or work actively in self-employment. and have been getting social security retirement benefits since

I was 62. A friend of mine has asked me to work in her hobby shop before Christmas. I have been told that I don't have to pay social security taxes since I am past 65 and am getting social security. Is this true?"

No, neither the fact that you are past 65, nor that you are getting social security benefits will exempt you and your employer from paying the social security tax on your earnings.

"My earnings from my business have been about $5000 a year since I reached 65, but I do not work every month of the year. Can I receive social security benefits at this time?"

Yes. Even though you earn more than $1200 a year, you can get benefits for any month in which you do not earn over $100 in wages

"I am an employee. Exactly how much more social security tax will I have to contribute in 1963 than I did in 1962?"

The new rate means you'll pay fifty cents more on each $100 of your earnings up to the top taxable earnings of $4,800 a year. Your employer will pay the same.

"I have operated a business for several years and will be 65 in March. Do I need bring copies of all my self-employment tax returns when I come in to file for my social security? Also, how early can I apply?"

You can file your claim as early as January or February if you prefer. Usually you need to bring only a copy of your Federal income tax return for the previous year, along with your birth or baptismal certificate, or some other document showing your age.

When CHARLES GOODYEAR invented vulcanized rubber in 1839, he gave the human body its first real means of protection against rain and immersion in water. He was called — mockingly, at first — "The India-Rubber Man" because he dressed from head to toe in his new-fangled, flexible rubber garments.

Pioneers in Protection

Just as Goodyear was first to provide mankind with wearable protection against harmful moisture . . . so the STATEWIDE PLAN was the first program of protection against the costs of hospital and medical care for the employees of the State of New York.

This three-part program — Blue Cross, Blue Shield and Major Medical — offers most State employees, active or retired, the most liberal benefits at the lowest possible cost. That's why more than 425,000 State employees and their dependents are now subscribers.

If you are not a subscriber and would like all the facts on the STATEWIDE PLAN, see your payroll or personnel officer.

'Fiesta Tour' To Mexico Set For June and July

Two 2-week "Fiesta Tours" to Mexico via Eastern Airlines jets have been announced for members of the Civil Service Employees Association, their families and friends.

Civil Service Travel Club, Inc., reported last week that plans are now complete for two departures for Mexico this summer; one on June 29 and another on July 13. The price of $495 for the complete tour applies on both dates.

The Mexican holiday program comes as the result of requests following the popular Hawaiian tours previously offered civil service personnel. Leaving from New York, the tour group will fly directly to Mexico City and be welcomed at the hotel there by a cocktail party. During the days in the nation's capital, the visitors will attend a bull fight, visit the famous "floating gardens" of Xochmilco, visit the world renowned Shrine of Guadalupe and take a long stride into the past with a visit to the ancient city of temples and pyramids near Mexico City.

Acapulco Included

The low points will rate as big as the high points when tour members visit exotic Acapulco down on the Pacific Ocean and also go high into the mountains to stay in the skytop resort of San Jose Perua, placed in a setting of waterfalls, gardens and swimming pools.

Picturesque Mexican villages also will be visited as well as Taxco, one of the most favored and well known smaller cities.

a shopping paradise for silver products and hand-crafted merchandise.

Where To Apply

The price of $495 includes the round trip air transportation, all hotel rooms, all meals except while in Mexico City, where some breakfasts are included, sight-seeing, and several special features which are described in the attractive brochure that may be had by writing to the following address:

For June 29 departure: Claude E. Rowell, 64 Langslow St., Rochester, Telephone GR 3-5657.
 For July 13 departure: John J. Hennessey, 276 Moore Ave., Kenmore, 23, N. Y., Telephone TP 2-4966.

Or, for either departure: Civil Service Travel Club, Inc., Time & Life Bldg., New York, 20, N. Y., JU 2-3616.

In the results thus far, some washers went well over 20 years without repair. What's more, the average machine operated the equivalent of 14 years without a single minor repair.

Pentagon Calls Lax Reservists To Duty

The Army is carrying through its warning to non-participating reservists. The Pentagon recently ordered approximately 2,200 unsatisfactory civilian-soldiers to active duty for 45 days.

Unfortunately, the cost of calling one officer to duty is about $750 for pay, allowance, and travel. Enlisted men called to duty require an average expenditure of $260.

Army Feels Money Must Be Losing Its Value To Dependents

Officials at the Army Finance Center at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana are beginning to feel that a great many people are not really interested in receiving their allotment checks.

The Post Office has declared that about 80 percent of the undeliverable mail (checks and bonds) have been classed as such because of addresses which are not current.

The Army maintains that the recipients are primarily responsible for keeping the Finance Center informed of any changes, and most particularly in cases where the sponsor is overseas or separated from the dependents.

BETTER HOMES AT BETTER REALTY

Jules Hecht, president of Better Properties Realty Corp. reported today that in the face of a general drop in new home and co-operative apartment sales throughout the metropolitan area, his Company's six year annual upward trend continued in 1962. During the past year Better Properties sold 325 homes, an increase of 15 homes over 1961, a peak realty year. He stated there was no question that his firm would surpass the 500 figure for home sales in 1963.

He pointed out that his firm is servicing thousands of families who want to move from crowded areas in Manhattan, the Bronx and Brooklyn to one-family homes in Queens, Long Island and parts of Brooklyn. He noted that in most instances, upon acquisition of a spacious home in a suburban neighborhood these families still pay less monthly carrying charges than former rentals in crowded apartment tenements. Mr. Hecht said his firm has proved time and again that a family on civil service salary can more easily afford investment in a lowpriced home than most apartment rentals.

Better Properties maintains offices at 159-12 Hillside Avenue in Jamaica, as well as in South Ozone Park, Roosevelt and Hempstead to best serve new home buyers and those seeking to dispose of homes in various neighborhoods.

All home sales and financing by Better Properties are approved by the Veterans Administration or Federal Housing Administration.

Dongan Guild Offering Easter Tour to Rome

An April tour to Europe that will bring participants to Rome for Good Friday, Easter Sunday and Easter Monday has been announced by the Dongan Guild, composed of Catholic state employees.

Catherine Hafele, president of the Guild, said that the tour, which departs April 5 via KLM Royal Dutch Airline jet from New York, is open to all members of the Guild and members of their immediate families.

Tour members will have their first major stop in Europe in Paris and will receive a full tour of the gayest capital abroad. Mass on Palm Sunday will be attended in the ancient and famous cathedral of Notre Dame. Following another full day in Paris, the group will depart for the sunny Riviera to stay in Nice.

Rome

From Nice, the group will go along the Italian Riviera to Pisa and then on to Rome, arriving early on Good Friday. Saturday will feature a sightseeing tour of the city that is the very seat of the Catholic world. A grand opera performance in the impressive outdoor Caracalla Theater will end the evening. Easter Sunday will be free to attend Mass either in St. Peter's or any of the other famous churches in the city. Easter Monday also will be left free for the travelers to do what they want.

Leaving Rome, the group will head for the famed Renaissance city of Florence going by way of Assisi, where St. Francis is entombed, and Perugia. From Florence, tour members will go to famed Venice where a full sightseeing program will be given, followed at night by a gondola serenade trip. The next stop will be the outskirts of Milan to visit the famous DaVinci painting "The Last Supper."

Switzerland and Germany

Perhaps the most spectacular scenic portion of the trip comes when Guild members will ascend into the Alps to one of the most popular cities of Switzerland, Lucerne. This city is located on one of Europe's most beautiful Alpine lakes and three full nights will be spent here.

Travelers will then head for Germany's noted Black Forest and go on to the Rhine city of Heidelberg, known to many as the setting for the "Student Prince." A steamer trip up the romantic Rhine, dotted along the banks with historic castles and vineyards, will take the tour group up to Cologne. From Cologne, the group leaves for Amsterdam, the Venice of the North, where a sightseeing tour again will be offered. The group leaves from Amsterdam for New York.

Where to Apply

The complete tour price of $787 includes round trip jet transportation; all transportation in Europe; all hotel rooms, most meals, sightseeing tours, porter service and tips. The 23-day tour leaves April 5 and returns to New York April 27.

MAY BE SPONSORED — The Civil Service Employees Assn. is in the process of polling its members in the Albany area on the desirability of sponsoring this 12-story co-operative apartment building in Albany, seen here in an artist's sketch (Story on this page).

CSEA To Poll Members On Co-Op Sponsorship

ALBANY, Feb. 18—The Civil Service Employees Association has begun a mail survey of some 15,000 of its members in the Albany area to determine if there is sufficient membership interest to warrant sponsorship by the Association of a $2.5 million cooperative housing project, now under construction on the fringe of the proposed South Mall in downtown Albany, or in a future project in this area.

The poll was announced today by CSEA President Joseph F. Felly, who said an analysis of the response to a questionnaire mailed to members in the area would determine whether the Association would seek sponsorship of a housing project.

Construction Started

Construction of the 12-story fireproof building, located on the site of the former Dobler Brewery at Myrtle Avenue and South Swan Street, was begun last week by the Chuckrow Construction Co. of New York City, the project developer. It is scheduled to be completed in the spring of 1964. Total cost will be about $2.5 million, with approximately 90 percent of the cost being underwritten by a direct state loan under the Mitchell-Lama "limited profit" housing law.

In a letter accompanying a descriptive brochure sent to the members being surveyed, Felly said that "under this proposal, good housing on a non-profit cooperative basis would be offered to our members at low carrying charges. This or later developments would have the benefit of low interest money provided through State sources and a 50 percent real estate tax abatement already approved by the City of Albany, which was granted to encourage private removal."

Community Service

It is anticipated that under Association sponsorship, 158 of the building's proposed 160 apartment units would be available for down payments of about $200 per room, with a ten-year low-interest loan available through State sources for most of the down payment.

Felly told the polled members that "as an Association of public employees we have the firm belief that we have a special obligation to our community as well as to our membership. A project such as this will serve the community in general. However, preference for apartments would be given to the members of our Association."

He said that "although the Association would assume no direct legal or financial responsibility, it would have a continuing interest in the organization, construction and management of a project."

Charges

Under the cooperative plan, anticipated monthly carrying charges would amount to about $55.50 per month for a studio apartment; $78 to $92 for a one-bedroom unit, and $100 to $115 for a two-bedroom unit.

Members have been asked to indicate to the Association the type of apartment they would be most interested in, including one-, two- or three-bedroom units.

Some of the features of the cooperative project would be automatically controlled elevators; on-site parking space available for every member; central T.V. antenna system; private storage areas; fully-equipped laundry rooms; community room; air conditioning enclosures; and gas range, refrigerator, kitchen cabinets and ceramic tile baths and showers in each apartment.

Erie County Fire Course May Gain State Approval

BUFFALO, Feb. 18 — After many protests from Erie County's 10,000 volunteer firemen, the State Civil Service Department apparently has backed down on a rule that applicants for a job must qualify first by completing a state fire training course.

Albany scheduled an examination for the title, Erie County deputy fire coordinator, for Jan. 26 but has canceled the exam. The position pays $6,500 a year.

Volunteer firemen are irritated because the State gives no credit for a course in firemanics provided by Erie County. And County Fire Coordinator Harold R. Becker insists the course here is as good, "or better" than the state course, given by the Division of Safety.

Not all firefighters can take the state training because enrollment in classes is limited. The county course, it was explained, is more readily available.

It is anticipated that the State Division of Safety will now evaluate the Erie County course and tell the Civil Service Department whether it can be used as a substitute for the state course in qualifying for the examination.

Erie County Executive Edward Rath and County Personnel Commissioner Donald M. Neff both have urged State Civil Service authorities to recognize the Erie County training as comparable to the state course.

MHEA Meet Deals With Fringe Benefit Ambitions

Mental Hygiene Commissioner Paul H. Hoch addressed the opening session of the Mental Hygiene Employees Assn. meeting and luncheon held in the Hotel Wellington in Albany on January 22. Principal speaker for the luncheon gathering, I. J. Hungerford, administrative director of the Retirement System, covered details of retirement benefits and a non-contributory plan for state employees.

William Blom, director of research and filing appeals with group on the association's research, and filing appeals with the Civil Service Commission.

Other guests present were president Joseph Felly of CSEA; Charles Lamb, fourth vice president of CSEA; William Rossiter, Emil Bollman, and Mrs. Ann Bessette, Mental Hygiene representatives.

O'Brien told the delegates that a non-contributory pension plan or paid health insurance premiums would net the state employees more than an 8% salary raise. Other key issues discussed for legislative action were—vested rights at age 55; promotional opportunities for Attendants, Nurses, Clerical Workers, and others in the service of institutions for the mentally ill; accumulation of pass time and payment for sick leave credits upon separation or retirement were referred to as a consideration for long and faithful service as well as an incentive for a good attendance record.

Mrs. Pauline Fitchpatrick, chairman of the Attendants' Committee, advised that helpful information and suggestions would be welcome for promotion of the committee's program.

Other officers present were: vice president Irving Fisher, Arnold Moses and Babette Siazenger; acting secretary Cindy Maxwell, and Sam Cipolla, consultant on various committees of the association. Representatives were in attendance from 21 institutions in the Department of Mental Hygiene, together with other delegates.

O'Brien announced that the next meeting would be held at the Hotel Wellington at 8 p.m., Tues., March 5.

Albert Schuler, chapter president, congratulated those who had worked on arrangements in staging the contest and dinner-dance, noting that the crowning of a Miss Highway Safety was fast becoming statewide news.
