JUNIOR NEWS

PARTY PLANS PROGRESS

The Student Council is progressing rapidly with plans for the Junior High party to be held on April 16. The dates, for the collection of the money needed, have been changed. You may pay your money to your council members on any date between April 5 and April 12.

Estelle Dilg was elected general chairman. She appointed her committees as follows:

Orchestra	Donner Atwood
Decorating	Marilyn Fincher
	Suzanne Roberts
	Don Foucault
	Robert Wheeler
Chaperones	Evelyn Wilber
Games	Helen Hutchinson
	Armon Livermore

The votes will be counted in Council this afternoon to determine the type of dress and whether or not the students want refreshment.

KNOWLTON PRESENTS PROGRAM

Yesterday, February 25, Steven Knowlton presented an assembly program made up by himself, of himself and for the Junior High. The program was a talk on the sport of skiing. He covered the topics of equipment, the technique of skiing, different ways of turning, hill climbing and ski jumping.

Under equipment, he presented his outfit consisting of skis, harness, ankle straps, a wax kit, and ski poles. He presented the various kinds of clothing worn on ski trips on "models". The "models" were Donner Atwood, Norman Andrews, Marjory Stanton and Barbara Soper. Norman Andrews wore an outfit like the ones worn in warm springtime. Donner Atwood, Marjory Stanton, and Barbara Soper wore outfits as those worn by people in this climate or warmer at winter time.

Steve stated that skiing is an energetic sport and that he is an enthusiast of it, but the chief difficulty this winter is, no snow.

CRIMSON AND WHITE TAKES VOTE

According to votes of the home-rooms of the seventh and eighth grades, the ninth grade will probably vote for the Junior High president. That will finally be decided by Student Council.

HOW ARE BOOKS MADE?

A display of how books are made is now set up in the conference room of the Milne library. The exhibit shows how a manuscript is prepared for being set in type, all the processes it goes through before it is ready for printing and the finished book. The exhibit is prepared by F. E. Compton and Co., publishers of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia. The exhibit also shows how color printing is done. The exhibit has been set up for about a week and is expected to be taken down today. To be sure that the boys see it, Mr. Raymond has given them an assignment on book printing. Although the girls have no assignments, they may find the exhibit interesting.

TO BREAK

There is an important subject, we have heard, that is to break in Student Council, today. The students of the Junior High School will probably be asked to vote about this plan. We suppose you're wondering just what this is all about. The question is whether or not the ninth grade students should vote for Junior High School Student Council President or Senior President, and whether or not the Seniors in Senior High should vote at all. Be sure and consider this matter thoroughly before voting. If there are any questions, your Council members will be able to answer them.

CLUB NEWS

The most beautiful aroma floated from the cooking club this week because the boys were making "cheese dreams", and you can bet they were delicious.

The girls of the sub-deb club were planning this week to put on a Saint Patrick's day party. It ought to be a big success.

THE WINNERS

The nine (one) basketball team has had two great victories in the last weeks. The first was over eleven (three) and the second was a victory over ten (three). The ninth grade just started playing basketball this year, too!!

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

The skin alone of an elephant weighs one ton.

The unfinished call to arms. For 700 years it has stayed unfinished. The first trumpeter was killed as he warned of a Tartar attack in Krakow, Poland.

Archimedes, the scientist was born in 287 B.C. and died in 212 B.C. --- figure it out!

A NEW BOOK FOR THE LIBRARY

Recently a boy came into the library and asked Miss Eaton if the book, "Back to Treasure Island", was in our library. The reason that he asked, he said was that he had started reading it in the Sunday Knickerbocker Press Weekly novel section and before he had finished it, his mother threw the paper away. Since that time Miss Eaton has ordered that book and by today it should be on the shelves.

ANOTHER PLAY

124 is selecting a play for assembly under the leadership of Dexter Simpson and Shirley Smith.

REMEMBER WHEN ?

The following article ran in the Crimson and White:

The three most popular candidates for Student council presidency were officially announced Wednesday by Student Council.

The candidates are Robert Wheeler, 227, who was supported by 5 homerooms; Donner Atwood, 121, with the support of three rooms, and John Fink, 127, with two.

Each will deliver his speech on Monday at 1:00 o'clock in the Page Hall auditorium.

DID YOU KNOW

That George Perkins uses glue on his hair?

That the light in the telephone booth was out?

That Marvin Rosenstein's father runs Jack's Restaruant on Beaver Street?

That Kenneth Gypson thinks if you call up a bank on the telephone you'll get your nickel back with interest?

That George Perkins thinks you can't get born without a birth certificate?

That the Annex can seat about 100 people counting the tables?

Well if you didn't, you do now.

DO YOU BELIEVE IN LUCK?

Maybe you don't, but we hope 224 has some luck when they put their play "Do You Believe in Luck" on in assembly. Try-outs for the parts in this play have been taking place throughout this week. "We will let you know whom we have chosen for the different parts," stated Katherine Schul, president of 224.

ABOUT THE EDITOR

Reporter: Did you hear about the Editor?

Composing Staff: No!

Reporter: Well, the Editor went to a cannibal isle and now she's Editor-in-Chief.

126 GETS HUNGRY

Edward Langwig, president of 126 announces that "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" is about to be rehearsed for an assembly program. The adaptation of the story into the play form of four scenes was recently accomplished by Joan Manweler, Ann Foucks, Edward Langwig, and Joan Hunting, all of this room. It is directed by Mrs. Dheideich and Laura Ann Lyons. is in charge of the play. The cast includes Adele Buchaca in the role of Mrs. Wiggs; Donald Jones takes the part of Mr. Bob; while Helen Norris is cast as Miss Hazy. Miss Lucy will be Betty Miller. The children, Asia, Australia, Europa, Chris, Billy, and Jim in order are Joan Hunting, Joan Manwiler, Phyllis Reed, Edward Meghreblian, Jerome Levitz, and Norman Arnstein.

P. S.

What, you ask, is P. S? Well, as far as I can forgive out, it's just a column to fill up space. First, we'll have a supposedly, joke.

Boe: What do you do for a living?

Bum: I'm a panhandler.

Boe: That's bad; I hate people that panhandle on the street.

Bum: Well, what the heck do you want me to do; open up a office?

SEE AND HEAR

Screen--Your reporter recommends Love is News which started yesterday at the Strand. This picture stars Loretta Young and Tyrone Power Jr., who turned out such an outstanding performance in "Lloyds of London."

Radio-- I suppose you all heard the brilliant revival of Captain Blood on the Lux Radio Radio Theatre with Carrol Flynn, Olivia de Haviland, and Basil Rathbone. Herbert Marshall did a good job as announcer subbing for Cecil de Mille, returning next week bringing as his guests Charles Winninger, Richard Arlen, and Sally Eilers.

DO YOU KNOW

The Crimson and White may become just an after school organization so that there will be no limit to the people desiring to work on the staff.

THAT AGAIN

You have probably heard most students say "That Again", about the subject of the excursion. However the Student Council is quite concerned about that. They are trying to find out now how many people will be affected by having it on June 5. You see, the Boy Scout Pow-Wow is thought to be on the same date. It is a matter that concerns all Milne students, so please don't say "That Again" in a sarcastic voice when you hear it spoken of in the future.
