Dissipation . . .

The purpose of Men's Athletic Association, as stated in the Freshman Handbook, is "to foster and develop athletics for all men at the college."

MAA, constitutionally, is set up similarly to WAA. Every male enrolled at State is a member, and is entitled to participate in MAA-sponsored intramurals.

It is reported that participation in MAA-sponsored intramurals has been sharply declining while the male enrollment at State has considerably increased.

The meeting Wednesday night is to decide a new setup of intramurals which, it is hoped, will result in more even competition and a stimulated interest in MAA.

There is a narrow choice in the course to be decided upon to rescue intramurals. Either MAA will vote to continue its present policy, a slipshod system that wastes money and talent and does not approach the true end of intramurals, or a new setup will be plotted, designed for keener competition with less emphasis on winning.

Again we face the problem of guiding the hands that spend our money. Every male member of Student Association is a paying member of MAA.

...AND I'VE GOT A DATE ON SATURDAY NIGHT!

The Coffee-Klotch: Its American Values

Throughout various schools, and even more various years at these schools, it seems that the department most popular and the one serving some of the highest goals of American education is the cafeteria.

How many teachers have expressed sincere regret at the illness of a student only to find him comfortably curled around a table at the coffee shop? How many teachers have wondered why the coffee shop had a greater drawing power than did their classes?

True, there is a great deal of trivia tossed around at the "Bull-sessions," but isn't there a need for trivia? The amount of pertinent information floating about the coffee shop outweighs by far the amount of trivia.

If one listens carefully, one realizes that a good deal of the conversation at the coffee shop concerns problems related to, or closely related to, academic work.

Council Releases Debate Schedule For State's Team

Novices Start Season In Series With RPI

The Debate Council has planned its debate schedule for the coming semester, states Richard Shaper '54, President.

The first major tourney will be conducted at the University of Vermont late in November at which four experienced and four beginners teams will represent State.

Shaper requests all beginners to attend one meeting next week at one of the following times: Wednesday, October 14 at 2:30, 3:30 or 4:30 p.m.

Shaper also asks that everyone interested in this year's topic, "Resolved: That the U. S. Should Adopt a Policy of Free Trade," attend a model debate at 8 p.m. Wednesday, October 14, in Brubacher.

As fifty-four prospective debaters have signed up for tryouts, and thirteen veteran debaters remain from last year, Shaper believes that Debate Council will have an unusually successful season.

One On The Aisle

By FRITZ CRUMB

A week later, we can all look back on last Saturday, and say that everyone seemed to have had a good time, but as a finish for the day, the Soph skit didn't live up to expectations.

The script was weak, but this needn't have been a real handicap. The worst fault seemed to lie in the cast itself. Lines were shaky, cues were slow, and perhaps worst of all, the song lyrics were weak.

There was a lack of tempo to the whole show, which showed up (no pun) in the over long piano intro, and the opening by the chorus.

There were some really funny bits, as with the draft card and the two frosh who slunk in and ordered the cokes, but it wasn't enough to save the whole works.

Next Tuesday marks the opening of the '53-'54 Season and we are presented a good bill by Nan Light-hall and Jim Thompson.

Speaking of A.D., there will be tryouts for the third set of plays this next week. Don Duclou and Elections will be held next week in Assembly for Who's Who, and Junior and Senior replacements for Student Council. Anyone off-campus who would like to vote should contact Marvin Chernoff '54, today for ballots.

The procedure for the meeting is as follows: at 9:30 a.m. the conference will convene in Brubacher Hall from 9:30 to 3:30 p.m. The discussion at this conference will concern Junior High School Education.

State Soccer Team To Play Host To Bridgeport In Home Opener At Beverwyck Field Tomorrow

From The Sidelines By BOB ASHFIELD

Last Wednesday night, an open MAA Forum was held to discuss, and we think they termed it rightly, "the death of intramurals." MAA includes all the men enrolled at State College and fills the same capacity as WAA does for the women. The only difference is that WAA is active.

It was surprising news to those attending the forum that participation in the men's IM leagues has dropped some 57 per cent since 1950. This decrease at the time when the enrollment has steadily increased seems incredible. What then has happened to MAA and its program?

To put it simply, 4 men can't do the work for a group which includes 734 men. These 4 men are the officers of MAA and seem to be the only ones who know the what's, where's and why's of the organization. As a result, intramurals have reached a miserable low.

There is not enough interest among the men to set up teams which will remain stable throughout the season, except that is, for the frat teams, which have their prestige to uphold. The consequence is that the 4 frat teams are the only ones battling at the end of the season for championship honors. Very seldom have other teams upset this theorem. Some might ask what is wrong with this. Can it be helped if the frats have the best teams?

What is wrong is that too many of the weaker teams concede victories to these top teams through forfeits because they figured they would lose anyway.

We like the suggestion of initiating a league or leagues with teams of nearly equal ability of this were possible and no fraternity teams to be entered as such. Each frat would have an appointed player to show its wares at the end of the season when there would be a tournament to decide who should hold the frat cup. Actually a tournament would provide for each frat team to be involved in as many decisions as if it were a regular league.

Next Wednesday night MAA will hold its second open session at 8 p.m. in Brubaker. Men, if you have any interest in the future of intramural sports—please attend this meeting.

Hathaway Works On Welcoming Group

Coach Merlin Hathaway has issued a request to State students to organize a Hospitality Committee for visiting athletic teams. The duties of this committee would be to arrange for a number of students to do such things as show the visiting teams around State College, invite them to college functions if possible, and generally make them feel welcome.

Hathaway states that Albany is usually treated well by colleges they visit on road trips, and that many other schools have Hospitality Organizations designed for this purpose. The primary objective is to set up an organizing committee which would obtain such statistics as the number of players on the visiting team, what time they will arrive, etc., and would then appoint a small group of students, e.g., 15 or 20 out of some group house, to welcome the visitors.

Anyone interested in forming an organizing committee for this purpose should contact Coach Hathaway at Page Hall Gym or Brubaker.

Kamoon Scashons Rivalry Softball Taken By Sophs

Despite the spirit displayed by the horde of Red Devils of '57 last Saturday, the Yellow Jackets of '56 showed their superiority on the softball diamond as they triumphed in both athletic events. The frosh saved face in the fact that, due to the quantity and quality of their spirit, they captured one point for rivalry cheering.

The women's game started in a better-skeeter fashion with the errors being as numerous as the hits. The frosh got off to an early lead, but the Sophs soon caught and passed them. The final inning provided a tight finish to the loosely-played game when the Red Devils tied the score in the upper half only to lose as the Sophs scored their half to win, 15-14.

Soph Defense Deciding Factor The boys' game was a complete contrast in that the Sophs' experience was the deciding factor. The steady pitching of Gerry Mattimore, backed up by the impregnable defense of '56, kept the frosh off balance throughout the entire game. The bats of '56 pounded away continuously at the slants of the frosh hurlers, Bernie Theobald and Ed Walsh, to make the score a resounding 9-1. The big blow was a four-base wallop by Mattimore and his catcher, Nick Cassevo.

The only offensive attack the frosh were able to muster up was squelched when a drive off the bat of Cliff Davis was called foul. Even though the frosh are behind in rivalry points, 4-1, they still have retained their spirit and last Saturday's events brought to a pitch the strong feeling of spirit between the classes which will undoubtedly continue throughout Rivalry.

The next events in the athletic aspect of rivalry will come on October 17, when the boys clash in football and the girls in soccer.

Booters Trounce Plattsburg, 5-3; Lose To Queens College By 3-1

Joe Garcia's Varsity Soccer team will play its first home game tomorrow afternoon at Beverwyck Park when they tackle a tough Bridgeport eleven in an effort to bring their season's record over the .500 mark. The State booters have split two games so far this season, bowing to Queens College in last Saturday's opener, and edging Plattsburg State Teachers College by 5-3 at Plattsburg.

In Wednesday's tilt at Plattsburg, Garcia received two pleasant surprises in the outstanding performances of Al Lederman and Don Canonica, neither of whom were figured for starting berths at the beginning of the season. Lederman, a freshman who just came out for the team last week, scored two big goals while Canonica, along with the Lindberg brothers, sparred the team of defense.

W. Lindberg, Snyder score Other scoring in this game, which was, incidentally, Albany's seventh straight victory over Plattsburg in soccer, was accounted for by Bill Lindberg, who scored two goals on penalty shots, and Don Snyder, who booted one through the goal. For Plattsburg, Gotsz accounted for two goals, while Rouse scored one.

Statesmen Meet To Discuss IM Loop Problems

Considerable opinion on the continuation and improvement of the intramural system at State was voiced at a Wednesday night M.A.A.-sponsored open forum on the subject. A goodly number of students attended the meeting and, although no definite resolutions were adopted for remedying faults in the intramural system, the group achieved a successful analysis of the system in respect to its aims and faults.

Intramurals Lose Meaning The intramural set-up has as its purpose to provide a system of athletics here at State in which everyone may participate. In recent years the number of students participating in intramurals has diminished greatly and the program turned from an enjoyable athletic program to keep competition of high calibre teams. Wednesday night's meeting theorized that these changes in the system were due partly to the league participation by fraternity teams, since the keen competition is the result of the fraternities' drive for prestige.

Proposals were suggested for setting up a separate sports league for fraternities, a fraternity cup tournament or equalization of the league divisions as a means of returning the intramurals to former standards.

M.A.A. Discusses Publicity In a somewhat different vein the need of publicity, and establishment of a publicity committee for the intramural system and the display of intramural league trophies. In past years the program has been deficient in publicity and trophies have been displayed separately in fraternity houses and dormitories.

Freshman goalie John Pengelly played a good game, but could not stop the polished Queens offensive. He made ten saves in holding the opposition to three goals. The two Lindberg brothers, Bill and John, played separately in fraternity houses and dormitories.

Albany booters began to show signs of living up to their fine pre-season form. They displayed good teamwork and were free from much of the pressure and tension which were evident in their opening game at Queens College of New York last Saturday.

In this game the soccer squad got off on the wrong foot as Queens blasted across a goal early in the first quarter and could not be headed. The Queens eleven held this slim margin until the last quarter, when they scored twice again to make the final score 3-0.

They've Arrived Come and get them at the CO-OP What????? Why, the New LEARN-EASE Note Books of course!

Since the establishment of the Fulbright Program in 1947, over 2,700 American students have gone abroad under its auspices, and 974 have accepted grants for the current academic year.

Eligibility requirements for foreign study fellowships are: United States citizenship, a college degree or its equivalent at the time the award is to be taken up, knowledge of the language of the country sufficient to carry on the proposed study, and good health.

Freshmen will not vote in these elections.

Student Council nominated six students to attend a tour of the United Nations, sponsored by the Federation of Churches of Albany. The Federation will pay all expenses for five or six students to travel to New York to visit the UN. They have asked Student Council, the Faculty, and the Social Studies Department, each to nominate five or six students and then a Student-faculty committee will pick the final delegates. ### Blight Bites Bending Elm

Timber! The lumberjacks have hit Draper. Those buzzing, roaring noises that have penetrated the Poly Sci and German classes were not caused by a wrecking crew on the school. The last old elm on campus has come to a sad end. The Dutch Elm Blight that has taken its toll in the park and that deprived us of two other elms a few years back has done it again. This time it is a serious offense.

That elm has stood over State since its inception 169 years ago. It numbers back over 150 years. Not only is it a landmark in Albany, but it is the oldest elm in the Eastern section of our country.

The squirrels will have to find a new place to nest; the birds a new place to perch; and the students a new place to congregate. What has become of "Desire Under the Elms"?

All are juniors. Dr. Frances Colby is Faculty Advisor.

Myskania Lists Frosh Warnings

Myskania has released the names of the following freshmen, all of whom have received two warnings for violations of State College traditions: Robert Burns, Anna Ferraloli, David Greenberg, Barbara Hungerford, Lois Johnson, Joseph Purcell, Jane Richter, Alan Wiley, Peter Bookle.

This list is comparatively small for this point in the semester because of the period during which beanies could not be purchased in the Co-op, and warnings given for failing to wear beanies during that period were invalid. A third offense by the frosh named above will necessitate a public apology before Student Association Assembly.

Absentee Voting Desk Set Up By Myskania

Absentee voting for those who will not be present at Student Assembly today will take place at the desk in the lower peristyle between Draper and Husted. Voting will take place from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Voting will concern replacement class officers and Student Council members, according to Miss Dean.
