Three Students Shot In College Abduction

Columbia, Mo. (AP)—What began as the playful renewal of an old feud between the engineering and law schools at the University of Missouri when Miss Mary Butterfield was kidnapped by five law school students to prevent her being crowned queen of the engineer's annual dance, took a serious turn last week when three engineering students were shot, one of them seriously.

A law student identified as one of the men who kidnapped Miss Butterfield was charged with and, police said, admitted the shooting. He claimed self-defense. The shooting took place on a street car near the campus. One of the four, it was feared would die.

Teach And Practice Thrift, President Tells Students

One of the most important contributions which a teacher can make to the community through the classroom is the teaching of thrift, President A. R. Brubacher said today.

Every college student should practice thrift habits, he declared. Dr. Brubacher's opinion, published in city dailies in Albany during the past week, concludes: "A savings bank deposit is one of the best forms of economic security yet devised. The state zealously guards the integrity of the bank; deposits will be secure against depressions and fluctuations in value; and the depositor may know that his future is assured. The savings bank deposit is a badge of economic independence and rugged citizenship."

"PENNY-A-MEAL" CAMPAIGN CLOSES DRIVE LATE TODAY

Today is the last day that State college students will have an opportunity to contribute to the fund for Mayor Thatcher's Unemployment Relief committee through the "Penny-a-Meal plan," according to Elizabeth Gordon, '33, chairman of the National Student Federation of America committee at State college. It is not yet too late to contribute, and students who have not done so are urged to deposit their pennies for the entire week including tomorrow and Sunday sometime today in one of the boxes distributed through the various group houses and College buildings for that purpose. The boxes may be found in the rotunda, on the second floor in Draper hall, in the Activities office, near the mail box, in the Annex and Cafeteria of Husted hall, on the second floor in Husted hall, outside of the Auditorium of Page hall, and in the Lounge of Richardson hall. These boxes will be taken down tonight or tomorrow, according to Miss Gordon.

The local committee of the National Student Federation of America which is sponsoring the project, includes Miss Gordon, chairman; Raymond Harris, '33; Hannah Parker and Grenfell Rand, sophomores; and Ruth Sage, '35.

ASSEMBLY TO GET REPORTS AND HAS VOTE FOR QUEEN

Three committee reports and the election of a queen for the Spanish carnival compose the program for the 11:10 o'clock assembly of the student association this morning in the auditorium of Page hall, according to Isabel Peard, '32, president of the student association.

Those committees giving reports are: the electoral committee, the committee on the investigation of the advisability of a publications board at State college, and the music committee for the stimulating of song writing.

The queen for the Spanish carnival is to be elected from the following five nominees all of whom are seniors: Marie Green, Josephine Holt, Mary Kant, Mildred Smith and Louise Carlow.

The inter-class debate between the freshman and sophomore classes which was to have taken place in assembly today has been postponed.

Edward Eldred Potter Club Elects Four Men

Four new members were initiated into the Edward Eldred Potter club at a reunion dinner conducted Saturday night at the University club. The new members are Charles Kolson, '34, and Kenneth Johnson, John Bills, and Thurston Paul, freshmen.

Among the alumni who returned for the initiation dinner were: Arthur Jones, Russell Ludlum, Alfred Basch, and Lawrence Newcomb, members of the class of 1931.

16 SENIORS NAMED TO SIGNUM LAUDIS

Four Men Honored By Election; Induction to be Next Saturday

Sixteen seniors will be inducted into membership in Signum Laudis, senior honorary scholastic honor society, at a luncheon at the New Kenmore hotel, next Saturday, Margaret Henry, '32, president, announced today.

Four of the new members are men and twelve of them are women.

They are: Lulu Charles, Nile Clemens, Ellen Dinneen, Florence Friedman, Frances Gaynor, Andrew Hritz, Inez Kelley, Sylvia Kline, Ruth Kronman, Bessie Levine, Elizabeth McLaughlin, Marian Nelson, George P. Rice, Bernard Simon, Mary Weeks, and Donald Whiston.

Those chosen are the six percent of the senior class with the highest averages. The selection is based on the honor system. To be eligible, the senior must maintain a scholastic average of 2.00 or better for his sophomore and junior years and the first semester of his senior year. A student is not eligible if he has had a D grade in any subject required for his major or minor.

Signum Laudis was organized at State college with Emmanuel Green, '30, acting chairman of the committee, President A. R. Brubacher, Dr. William H. Metzler, dean, and Dr. Harold W. Thompson, professor of English, are honorary members.

The other members of the fraternity elected in the fall numbered eight and were chosen from the highest four percent of the senior class, including their freshman honors. Together the two groups bring the total membership for 1932 up to 24.

The speakers at the luncheon will be President A. R. Brubacher, Dr. Metzler and Miss Henry.

MISS RUSS TO GO TO SYRACUSE AS STATE DELEGATE

Almira W. Russ, '34, will represent the Young Women's Christian association of State college at a joint Y. M.—Y. W. C. A. convention at Syracuse university tomorrow. The work of the convention will be to arrange for a New York state student conference to be conducted next fall.

Miss Russ is chairman of the Y. W. C. A. committee on conferences and conventions, and is a reporter on the STATE COLLEGE NEWS.

ARE HOUSE GUESTS

Alice Bennett, Annabelle McConnell, and Mae Bonstedt, members of the class of 1931, were recent weekend guests at Psi Gamma sorority house.

Freshmen And Sophomores Are Tied, 3-3 In Interclass Rivalry, Myskania Says

The score of the freshmen and sophomore classes is now tied at 3-3, according to Myskania, senior honorary society, which is in charge of all rivalry events. The men's basketball game resulted in a victory for the freshmen, while the sophomore girls gained three points by defeating the freshmen in two out of three games. The next event in rivalry will be the debate. Banner rivalry is now being carried on and will be continued until Moving Up Day, except that the banners of both classes will be out of competition from 8 until 2 a. m. tonight, that is, during sophomore soiree.

Mascot hunt will be conducted during the first full week in May. Tag-o-war for women and banner rush for men will take place on the

1935 Will Rush Sophomore Banner At Soiree Tonight

Interclass rivalry will receive a new impetus in the banner rivalry attendant with the sophomore soiree tonight. Myskania, senior honorary society, has ruled that the banner shall be out of competition on the night of soiree until 2 o'clock. What will happen to the banner after that time is a matter of much conjecture among members of both freshman and sophomore classes. It will be recalled that the STATE COLLEGE NEWS carried headlines last year to the effect that "Freshman Women Get Bruises at Soiree; Sophomores Remove Banner Safely."

Teams Signed By Manager for 1932-33 Will Provide Strong Competition

WE ARE HONORED, TOO

Announcement of the deserved election of Dr. Harold W. Thompson to membership in the Royal Society of Edinburgh confers a distinct honor upon State college and adds to the ranks of the Society a humane scholar of acknowledged reputation.

His friends in Europe and America view the selection with appreciation. Dr. Thompson has distinguished himself by outstanding scholastic achievement ever since his undergraduate days at Hamilton. More than one learned society conferred membership upon him. His researches in the field of eighteenth century Scottish literature have been marked by a deep and authentic stamp of real value to men of letters. These same efforts have conferred upon him the title of an authority in this field.

Many men who have made their marks in learned professions have been marked by a cold exterior toward those with whom they came in contact. Dr. Thompson has radiated a human warmth that has gained for him the best wishes of his colleagues of the faculty and the sincerest admiration and respect from those students who have been fortunate enough to have had a course with him.

State college wants Dr. Thompson to know that it is proud of him and of his achievements. The News speaks, not only for the faculty and undergraduates, but for all of the alumni, who have known his friendly and discerning guidance and who have had endeared within them by his example the desire for worthy scholastic achievement.

NEW SIGNUM LAUDIS

Sixteen students, including four men, who have distinguished themselves for high scholarship, are named this week as new members of Signum Laudis, senior honorary scholastic fraternity. They complete the third group of members of a graduating class to be so designated.

Signum Laudis has been in existence only for three years, yet in that time it has exerted a profound influence in scholastic circles in the college. The possibility of membership has become an honor that is looked forward to. The society has become more than a name; it has become a real and potent incentive for increased high scholarship.

The new group lists four men as members, a fact which is of itself encouraging. It has been too easily assumed, perhaps, that high scholastic achievement is an honor which has rested mainly in the hands of the women students of the college. It considered in proportion to their total representation in the student body, the men will be found to be upholding their share of the scholastic honors.

For many years the incentive of outward recognition of scholarship was missing here. It is not meant, of course, that all students require such a mark of honor in order to work, but it did leave State college behind others in this respect.

When Signum Laudis was organized some argument was heard in favor of installing a chapter of one of the national honorary scholastic fraternities, Phi Beta Kappa was beyond reach and a local society was decided upon. It has fulfilled its purpose—that of encouraging and recognizing good scholarship.

BOOKS: OUR MODERN PHILOSOPHERS

TOM PAINE—LIBERTY BELL COLLEGIATE SHAKESPEARE.

By G. P. R.

(All books reviewed for sale in Co-op.)
An Introduction to Living Philosophy. By D. S. Robinson, Thomas Y. Crowell Company, New York. 381 pages. $3.00.

Dr. Robinson places before his readers an intelligent survey of existing types of philosophy in this companion volume to his "Anthology of Recent Philosophy." This book aims chiefly at a presentation of types, methods, and problems of modern philosophic thought. The newer students of philosophy will find themselves deftly orientated in the opening section of the volume which deals with such fundamental topics as why men philosophize, how to study philosophy, and types and problems of philosophy. Following this are the considerations of idealism, realism, and pragmatism with the main points in the development of each. The relationship of each of these with knowledge and existence, truth and error, value and evil, and the body-mind problem is taken up.

The concluding section deals with vitalism, phenomenology, irrationalism, eclecticism, and the new scholasticism. The author maintains throughout the attempt to point out contrasting and conflicting schools which are under debate today. He abandons the traditional theories. His tables and diagrams of branches of philosophy, classification of realistic theories, and classification of British and American philosophers are very helpful in differentiating the various fields of thought together with the contributions of each. The individual works of James, Royce, Santayana, Dewey, and Bergson are emphasized. Every student of philosophy, as well as every cultured college student, needs a book like this on his shelf.

Tom Paine-Liberty Bell. By George Creel, Sears Publishing Company, New York City. 173 pages. $2.00.

Tom Paine, the greatest pamphleteer of the American and French Revolutions, is the subject of this study by Mr. Creel. In it is set forth the great debt of both France and America to a man whose clear intellect and prolific pen dealt tremendous strokes at the tyranny of the eighteenth century. His writings were reckoned almost as weighty as the sword of Washington in the cause of liberty, and many a time that leader called upon Paine to produce the courageous and inspiring papers which renewed the flagging hopes and sinking courage of the patriotic armies.

But Paine's invaluable services, during which he donated all proceeds from the sale of hundreds of thousands of pamphlets, did not save him from becoming a martyr on the pike of public opinion. He was burned in effigy in England and for months lay in a prison in France, due to the wiles of the treacherous Gouverneur Morris. It is a story packed with drama and high adventure in the highest cause to which a man can devote his talents and his life. Every student of American history will add to his knowledge of the Revolution by reading it.

Deutsche Fibel. By Otto Koischwitz, F. S. Crofts & Company, Publishers, New York City. 131 pages. $1.00.

The value of visual instruction in the presentation of a foreign language is the basis upon which this text in elementary German is built. The author has incorporated intensive word study, extensive vocabulary building, and a painstaking collection of materials relating to land, life, and social conditions of both ancient and modern Germany.

The drill work in grammatical constructions, stressed with persistence in most textbooks, is not conspicuous here. The book may be used within two weeks after the study has begun and presents with steady repetition the important principles of German grammar. These are so included in the subject matter that they are learned almost incidentally. The vocabulary is limited, but carefully chosen. Yet it embodies some two score pages.

The value in the visual instruction phases becomes readily apparent when one realizes that every lesson has its pictures. Some of these are the work of the author himself. All of them are of historical or timely interest and make the study of the related vocabularies a pleasure.

College Shakespeare. By William John Tucker, Thomas Y. Crowell Company, New York. 369 pages. $3.00.

Too much dissection and analysis and not enough appreciation and enjoyment of Shakespeare have been the main difficulties that students have encountered in their acquaintance with the immortal dramatist and poet. With these facts in mind, Professor Tucker has introduced a radical change in the presentation of the material contained in this volume.

His task is clarified by the insertion of many apt quotations regarding the plays which he handles individually. His aim is not that of the critic who sets out to dissect and probe into the excellencies and demerits of the work. Rather, in the spirit of a genuine lover of the immortal works, he approaches with a fresh viewpoint, striving to open an avenue for the appreciation of others. He does not strive to present a scholarly piece of original research. Rather, he aims for the presentation of the best that has been said and written about the significant features of the Shakespearean writings. His authorities and quotations are carefully chosen and are unusually helpful in interpreting the plays.

The organization of the material, too, is logical. The biographical facts and interferences about Shakespeare are dealt with, followed by the minor plays, the historical plays, the great comedies, Hamlet, the masterpiece, the great tragedies, and the Roman historical plays. In addition, the most recent data available on the Baconian Shakespeare controversy is presented.

Dr. Thompson considers the material presented as valuable and well chosen, although not original thoughts of the author, for the most part.

Dr. Thompson Is Elected Royal Fellow; Scots Society Recognizes Scholarship

Election of Dr. Harold W. Thompson, professor of English, to membership in the Royal Society of Edinburgh confers upon State college the distinction of being one of the few American colleges to have two members of the society on its faculty. Dr. William H. Metzler, dean, is the other member.

Dr. Thompson was proposed for membership by Dr. Metzler. News of his election was received very recently. He was proposed for membership by five scholars of international reputation, including a son of Charles Darwin and a member of the faculty of Edinburgh university.

Dr. Thompson studied at Edinburgh university several years ago under a Guggenheim Fellowship. He is the author of "Anecdotes and Egotisms of Henry Mackenzie," "A Scottish Man of Feeling," and together with Dr. Harry W. Hastings, head of the English department, edited Lincoln, Selections from Speeches. He is also a fellow of the Society of Antiquarians and a member of the Scottish History Society. He is also a member of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity.

He graduated summa cum laude from Hamilton college in 1912 with the degree of bachelor of philosophy. He took his masters and doctor's degrees at Harvard. Edinburgh university conferred the degree of doctor of literature upon him in recognition of his researches in Scottish literature.

He is the youngest member of the society, being but forty years of age.

COLLEGE DEGREE'S ECONOMIC VALUE FACES DECREASE

New York, N. Y.—(NSFA)—The economic importance of a college education is going to decrease in the future, for the number of college graduates is increasing faster than the demand for them, Dr. Harvey N. Davis, president of Stevens Institute of Technology, declared here at the eighth annual luncheon of science teachers and research investigators of the metropolitan district.

"It will no longer be worth $3,400 a year to a man to have had a college education," Dr. Davis asserted. "But this will not mean it will no longer pay to go to college, because more and more young people will do so merely for the increased enjoyment they will get out of life afterward."

Dr. Davis held that "the modern educationalist underestimates the importance of developing skilled technique before encouraging self-expression," while the inculturation of knowledge is over-emphasized, since more than one-half of the graduates go into business. The development of the ability to think and appreciate, he said, is the primary purpose of higher education. Since this is a scientific age, "it may therefore be true that the most liberal kind of an education is given in what is called an engineering school." The best all-round preparation for obtaining a living, he said, may be the study of mathematics, physics and chemistry.

Sorority Entertained Faculty Informally

Chi Sigma Theta sorority entertained at a faculty-student buffet supper Saturday night, March 19. Miss Katherine F. Wheeler, assistant professor of English and supervisor of practice teaching in Milne High school, Miss Mary Conklin, supervisor of practice teaching in Milne High school, and Miss Margaret F. Hitchcock, instructor in physical education, were the faculty guests. The committees in charge of the supper were: chairman, Helen Doherty, '31; arrangements, Mildred Crowley, '32; entertainment, Mary Gardner, '33; decorations, Ellen Noon, '31; and refreshments, Katherine Simmons, '31.

TO BE PRESIDENT

Election of Professor John M. Savley, principal of Milne High school, to the presidency of the University club of Albany was forecast, following his unopposed nomination for the office.

President A. R. Brubacher is a candidate for one of the five directorships, which will be filled by the elections.

MODERNS DEMAND IMPROVED MATES

Character, Health, and Brains Are Three Essentials in Marriage

Flagstaff, Ariz.—(1P)—What are members of the younger generation looking for in future husbands and wives? Do men desire physical beauty? Does the girl want wealth and social position?

Results of questionnaires submitted to the 550 students at Arizona State Teachers' college here by an advanced course in heredity show none of these are important.

The common virtues of health and character led the list of 15 characteristics those answering the questionnaires were asked to rank. Men considered health most important in the future wife, and demanded character second. Women wanted character first and health second. Both groups place intelligence third.

Men rated personal appearance sixth and women placed it ninth. Nationality was rated as more important by the women than by the men. The first group rated it seventh and the second group eighth.

Both men and women put religion and desire for children at the bottom of the list. Only three per cent of the women gave religion of the future husband first place in importance, while four per cent of the men said they would consider it first.

According to Professor Chester Deaver, head of the department of biology at the College, what the younger generation desires in future mates matters profoundly.

He believes the answers show an increasing tendency to judge the individual as himself and not by the tag he wears, and he thinks the next generation will be healthier and happier as a consequence.

Professor Deaver will present his findings to the Southwestern branch of the American association for the Advancement of Science at its annual meeting at Denver this month.

NEW YORK SENDS MIKADO COSTUMES

G. A. A. Annual Production Is April 29-30; Dr. Candlyn To Train Choruses

The costumes which will be used in the "Mikado", the operetta by Gilbert and Sullivan, to be presented by the Girls' Athletic Association Friday and Saturday, April 29 and 30, will be rented from the Arthur W. Tams Music House, New York city, according to Florence Friedman, '32, director of the performance.

The Tams Music House is a Broadway costuming house which supplies many of the New York theatres. The costumes will be exact reproductions of those used in the original presentation of the operetta, Miss Friedman said. They will be made of elaborate materials in Japanese style.

The "Mikado" is a comic opera and a satire on the British form of government in Japanese setting. Margaret Betts, '32, will take the part of the Mikado of Japan; Kathryn Belknap, '32, Nauki Foo; Mary Moore, '34, Ko-Ko; Marion Lloyd, '34, Pish-Tush; Helen Mead, '32, Yum-Yum; Sylvia Mann, '32, Pitt-Sing; Dorothy Kummerle, '35, Peep-Bo; Alice Owen, '34, Katish; and Helen Mahar, '34, Pooh-lah.

Some of the songs that will be presented are "Flowers that Bloom in the Spring", which will be sung by Miss Moore and Miss Belknap, and "Till Willow" and "I got him on my list", which Miss Moore will sing.

One of the several Japanese dances will be the fan dance.

There will be a chorus consisting of sixteen persons, which Dr. T. Frederick H. Candlyn, head of the music department, is training. The chorus includes: women's chorus: Isabel Hewitt, Katherine Long, Laura Fletcher, and Helen Cadieux, juniors; Katherine Fitzpatrick and Mildred White, sophomores; men's chorus: Elsie Holmes, '32; Margaret Rausch, Georgia Roberts, and Vera Bergen, juniors; and Maybelle Matthews and Laura Vroman, sopranos.

The set for the operetta will probably be an impressionistic one, Miss Friedman said.

Tickets for the production will be on sale next week, Alvina Lewis, '33, business manager for the presentation, announced. They will be thirty-five cents for general admission, and fifty cents for reserved seats, she added.

More than two thousand students and residents of Albany and vicinity witnessed the performances of the Abbey Theatre Players from the Abbey Theatre in Dublin, Wednesday afternoon and evening in the auditorium of Page hall. A combined program of four plays was presented under the auspices of the College dramatic and art council.

When the Shelton opened (7 years ago) we began catering to college men and women. Gradually their patronage has increased; we feel safe in asserting that more students make the Shelton their New York home than at any club or other hotel. One reason for this is the free recreational features plus a desire to serve on the part of Shelton employees. Room rates have been greatly reduced. Rates from $50 per month upward. A room from $2.50 daily.

Club features (free to guests) are as follows: swimming pool; completely equipped gymnasium; game room for bridge and backgammon; roof garden and solarium. Restaurant and cafeteria service at reasonable prices.

FILBY WILL SELL OPERETTA TICKETS

Sale For "Pirates of Penzance" To Begin Next Week, Director Says

Tickets for the annual performance of the Troubadors, men's minstrel organization, which will be presented Tuesday night, April 19, at 8:30 o'clock in the auditorium of Page hall, will be on sale in the rotunda next week, according to John Grosvenor, '33, director. The price of the tickets will be thirty-five cents. The sale of tickets will be in charge of J. Bruce Filby, '33, chairman of publicity.

The presentation this year will be the operetta, "Pirates of Penzance," by Gilbert and Sullivan. The story involves the difficulties that Frederic has in being released from his indenture from a band of pirates to whom he was apprenticed by mistake. His indenture was to expire when he attained the age of twenty-one, but to his consternation it is discovered that he was born on February 29 of a leap year, making him only four years old. The major-general and his daughters complicate the plot, because Frederic falls in love with Mabel. A squadron of policemen, who appear on the scene to rescue the major-general and his daughters, are overpowered. At last it is discovered that the pirates are a group of famous peers who, for a bit of variety, posed as the Pirates of Penzance.

Frederic is played by Charles Robson, '34, and Mabel by Anthony Sroka, '32. The major-general, by Alfred D. Basch, '31, and the Pirate King by Howard Mann, '32.

Mr. Sheats And Five Students Visit Washington During Easter Vacation

While Albanians were digging themselves out from under the late March blizzard, one member of the faculty and five State college students were enjoying the spring weather of Washington during the Easter vacation.

The group, including Paul H. Sheats, assistant instructor in government, Lloyd Moreland, Albert Strong, and Andrew Hritz, seniors, and John Grosvenor and Bernard Kerbel, juniors, left Albany the morning of Monday, March 28, in a blinding snowstorm and arrived in Washington to see the sun set beyond the Blue Ridge mountains of Virginia.

The party spent two days on various sightseeing expeditions. Visits were made to the Lincoln Memorial, Smithsonian Institute, Washington monument, Arlington Cemetery, Congressional Library, the White House, and Congress. The most interesting part of the entire trip, according to members of the party, was observing the proceedings of Congress. The delegation was fortunate to be present at the time when Speaker Garner of the House of Representatives quelled the political revolt on the tax measures. The party was able to hear several of the tax measures pass the House and also heard debates in the Senate over the tariff bill that is up for passage before that body.

New Student Mailbox Built By Two Potter Club Members

No longer will the complaints of misplaced notes and letters to students be appropriate, because a new and sturdy mailbox has been substituted for the one with which students have had a long acquaintance.

During the past Easter recess two new members of the Edward Eldred Potter club, Kenneth Johnson and John Bills, freshmen, took it upon themselves either to build a new one or to reconstruct the old. The necessary carpenter's tools, varnish, and white paint were gathered together, and the work was begun. The result was the new pigeon-hole affair which catches the attention of every student that passes by.
