College Establishes Full-Time Prof Offers Student Housing Office Dance Course In Game Room

This fall marks the beginning of a full-time Student Housing Office at State Teachers College. The position of Housing Officer will be held by R. Keith Munsey.

Plans are underway for a wing on each of the dorms to house 100 people. In the final analysis the building will house 600 students. It is possible that the newest dormitory will be for men.

Freshmen and new transfer students should have little trouble getting around in Albany this year. Shell Oil Co. supplied the Housing Office with some 300 maps of the City of Albany for the benefit of newcomers to the city.

If you are interested in learning how to dance or improve your skill in the latest dances such as the Cha Cha, Lindy, Tango, Foxrot, and other popular dances, here is your chance. Dr. Frank Calabria, Assistant Professor of Psychology, will give lessons in the Brubacher game room.

The classes will meet each Wednesday from 3 to 5 p.m. for a period of approximately eight to ten weeks, and a dance will be given at the end of the course for all class members.

Professional Teacher

Dr. Calabria has been a professional teacher of ballroom dancing. He has taught at many national conventions for teachers of ballroom dancing and has done his Ph.D. dissertation studying how people learn in groups.

Dr. Calabria began this experiment the second semester of last year, and this class will be a continuation of the experimental work he is doing.

Who Can Join?

The class will be open to members of the Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes, but it will be limited to twenty boys and twenty girls. Acceptance into the class will depend upon the sample needed for the experiment. Dr. Calabria has requested that no one sign up for the course unless he has free time to attend all the classes.

How To Register

In order to register, fill out a card with your name, sex, age, class (up, soph, etc.), and Albany address and telephone number. Leave the card in the Student Personnel Office. Those who are accepted for the class will be notified by mail.

State University To Celebrate Its Anniversary

A very important anniversary is being celebrated this year, an anniversary which is, in many ways, close to the hearts of State College students. This is the tenth year of the State University of New York. The theme of this tenth anniversary celebration is "a decade of growth."

With the entire state as its campus, the University was designed to eventually make higher education opportunities more readily available to qualified students, either in their home towns, neighboring communities or geographic regions.

Many Professional Graduates

The State University, in these ten years has graduated 1,640 doctors of medicine, 37,171 teachers, 3,414 agricultural experts, as well as many veterinarians, labor and industrial relations leaders, and marine transportation and engineering students. From its four-year and graduate institutions.

In addition thousands have graduated from the two-year technical and community colleges, specialists in technologies like agricultural products, restaurant and food-service management, electrical and metallurgical technologies, and many others.

Unique Distribution

The geographic distribution of State University, with its forty-two colleges, in thirty-one cities and towns has been a unique and successful experiment. The University was one of the pioneers in developing this decentralized type of higher education program, but its advantages are being recognized and employed, now by a growing number of other states.

Students Offer Revue Of Talent Tomorrow Night

The annual All College Reception will take place tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m. in Page Hall Auditorium. It will be followed by a dance in the Brubacher Hall dining room from 9 to 12 p.m.

The event in Page will be a talent revue with participants from all four classes here at State. Some of the entertainers are: Robert Fox and Rosemarie Sepe, Seniors, doing a song and dance routine called "Brush Up Your Shakespeare"; a medley of songs by the "Ascots"; Robert Helwig '60 doing "John Henry"; Dan Labelle '62 doing a pantomime of a girl getting ready for a date.

The music for the dance will be furnished by Vince Belleville and the "New Sounds," featuring music in the modern mood.

Vets To Profit From Change

Civilian veterans, who have lost their benefits due to the early cutoff of their training, will profit from a recent change in the regulations by the Veterans Administration, according to David Bartley, Dean of Men.

This change will reinstate men who have lost their benefits in this way. Men are requested to read the letter from the Veterans Administration which has been posted on the Registrar's Bulletin Board.

Boys' Club Openings

Another announcement concerns openings for part-time employment at the Rensselaer Boys' Club. Positions are open for the following: Gymnasium Instructor, Woodwork Instructor and Photography Instructor. All those interested should contact James P. Kennedy, Executive Director, Rensselaer Boys' Club, Inc., 441 Broadway, Rensselaer at 2-463.

Freshman Hours

Committees

The General Chairman is Teresa Kerwin '63. Chairmen for the committees for the event are: Sally McLeod '59, Chaperones; Mark Nye Lighting; Nancy Lou Ryan, Publicity; Sophomores; John Sullivan '61, Arrangements.

Leave Them Alone - Frosh Need Therapy, Not Rivalry!

BY PETER BARBAGELATA

Every year there exists an antagonism toward the freshmen which arises from the fact that they are not appreciated or understood. There is no reason to condemn them because they are so immature, so noisy, and so unduly egotistical. We should instead take into account the fact that many of them are unsettled, having suddenly been snatched from the security of their switch-blades and marijuana. What they need is therapy, not rivalry! After all, freshmen are human and any upperclassman with a little bit of imagination should come to realize this.

Facts

Upperclassmen might just as well learn to tolerate freshmen, since 6,202 are now enrolled in the college. This figure may be broken down into 4,484 females, 123.8 draft dodgers, and 7 miscellaneous.

Freshmen also make a few contributions to the school and the community. Interclass relations are especially aided by the girls who attract boys from the surrounding colleges to our Student Union, as a piece of chess draws rats. It is really gratifying to see these outsiders happily enjoying our facilities. The Co-op thrives on President Collins formally welcomes the Class of 1962, the largest and the best freshman class (and we quote) ever admitted to State. The convocation was held last Tuesday.

Fulbright Advisor Seeks Applications

Another opportunity for foreign study will be presented to State College students in the Fulbright Program.

Seniors and Graduate students who are interested in applying should see Edward P. Shaw, Professor of Modern Languages, in Draper 339.

Applications must be processed before November 1 and should be placed as soon as possible.

Drab Monday . . .

No Make-up Monday will mark the beginning of a grand old tradition called Rivalry. At present we're not worried about the Frosh and how they will react to this very purposeful escapade. We think they will survive as well or better than the classes that have preceded them. The responsibility of seeing that this year's Rivalry is a success is not entirely up to them.

Last year when the revision of the Rivalry plan took place it was emphasized very strongly that a good deal of the work of carrying on our customs and traditions would be up to the upperclassmen. For example, you can't give a warning to a frosh for cutting campus or walking in the rotunda, but you can certainly assert your authority as an upperclassman and let them know that these are two of State's "unwritten laws."

And now we shall consider the question of those customs which can be enforced via warnings and the invincible justice of our Ped Kangaroo Court. We realize that it is not always in good pre-rushing taste to give a warning next Monday to some lipsticked frosh who might some day become the first woman president of S.A., but unfortunately this is the only way that this new custom can be ingrained in the memories of all erst-while frosh, short of open warfare. The same holds true for "Boys-Pants-Rolled-Up-Monday" and our other new tongue-twisting Fun Days.

Assured as we are that the freshmen will accept these days in the spirit that they were devised, there are bound to be some rebellious frosh. It will be up to the upperclassmen to put them on the straight and narrow. We sincerely hope that each upperclassman will share in this responsibility.

Had A Ball . . .

This year's incoming freshmen were met by an improved Frosh Weekend. For the first time, a combined women's and men's weekend was held here on campus, an arrangement which enabled the staffs to conduct activities such as the Beanie Ceremony, the very successful picnic at Thacher, and the dance Saturday evening. Without a doubt the picnic highlighted the whole weekend since the frosh could swim, hike, engage in competitive sports with the counselors, faculty and other freshmen, or spend a leisurely afternoon.

Encouragement and participation by the administration and faculty, enthusiastic class spirit, organization and co-ordination by Connie Olivo, Anne King, Dave Youst and their staffs all contributed to the success of the entire weekend.

We certainly feel confident that this Freshman Weekend served as an introduction to college life, our customs and traditions, and extra-curricular activities. Let's hope that future freshmen classes will be able to experience just such an introduction to college.

M.J.N. and M.L.

How To Succeed . . .

Now that the anticipation and confusion of registration, schedule changes, and initial adjustment to dorm food is over for you frosh, it is expedient and traditional for the News to publish some sage advice to the incoming freshman class.

College represents for most of you a good deal more freedom than you have experienced in your short, innocent lives. From now on until June 1962, no one will tell you when to go to bed, to study, to do your assignment—and certainly no one will care. Some freshmen adjust to this fact quite nicely, and these freshmen graduate. Some do not, and these flunk out except for a few with a surplus of brains.

In the next few weeks there will be a great many demands on your time—academic and otherwise. It would be foolish for us to tell you to pursue the purely academic and ignore the "otherwise." We are in complete accord with the old trite aim of developing a well-rounded individual in the course of a college education. We just ask you to remember that the primary aim of a college education is a college education. Choose what activities you will join carefully and conservatively. You can't do everything everyone asks you unless you intend to join the vast number of popularity poll winners who flunked out their first year. Budget your time and you'll be able to enjoy the simpler pleasures of life and be sophomores next year.

Kapital Kapers

By Gebhardt and Barbagelata

We are not going into the nauseating bit about welcoming the freshmen. Instead let us be the first to say goodbye to those who will be leaving us within the next few weeks.

RITZ

The Mark of Zorro, starring Tyrone Power and loveless Linda Christian. Don't bother seeing this one. It's old enough to be on the late show any night now. The second hit is Ride A Violent Mile featuring John Agar and horse. What talent! The horse that is.

STRAND

Adam and Eve—A new approach to an old theme—sex. The wardrobe for this movie was designed by Lady Godiva. The people in this movie are so new that the director has forgotten their names already. This is supposed to be the story of creation. What we want to know is, who wrote it? Mickey Spillane. The second tucker is hardly worth mentioning. Toughest Gun in Tombstone, starring Jim Davis. What talent! The tombstone that it.

PALACE

Me and the Colonel. This is our pick of the week. Danny Kaye and C. R. Jurgens team up to give us some surely needed good entertainment. Our only question is? How come it is playing in Albany? Good talent like this might become commodities and maybe even spread to T.V.

MADISON

Twilight for the Gods, starring Rock Hudson and Cyd Charisse. This flicker couples a powerful and moving story with fine acting and excellent photography. Don't miss it. George Gobel fluffs his way through the second show. I Married a Woman. The title is tough to take and, for that fact, so is George.

In closing we would like to say hats off to the Frosh Weekend Committee for being the only ones to set a firm field at the end of the year event which they sponsored, incidentally. An inspiring show of intestinal fortitude.

Communications

To the Editor:

The school administration, the staff, counselors, and freshmen made this year's Frosh Weekend the success that it was. Many thanks to all of you who helped in the planning, organization, and carrying out of the weekend.

To the freshmen everything at Albany State seems to keep improving through time. With your resources, talent, spirit, and originality, you can make and I know you will make next year's freshman program better than ever.

Sincerely,

Dave Youst

To All Upperclassmen:

Rivalry starts on Monday! The Rivalry period is only three weeks long this year. Let's make it a great success.

Warning cards will be placed in the Commons. Warnings may be given for:

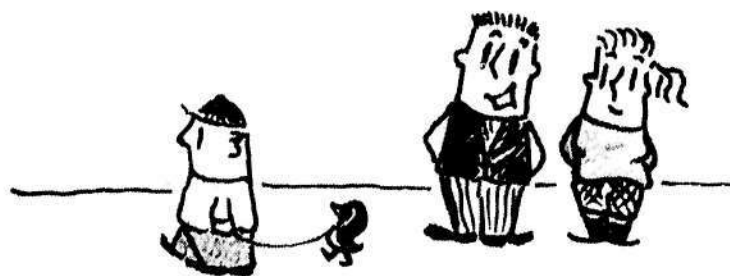

- Not wearing a beanie
- Not having a name tag
- Not having matches
- Not complying to Special Pun Days

Monday is "No-Make-Up Monday" for the girls. If you see a freshman girl with make-up, give her a warning. The frosh can be asked to sing their songs this coming Wednesday and each Wednesday for the next three weeks.

If you want to continue our customs of not permitting the frosh to cut campus, walk in the rotunda area, wear school rings or insignias, or use the front entrance to Page, it is up to you! Warnings can not be given for these offenses.

"Thou speak'st with all thy wit, and yet, I' faith, With wit enough for thee." Macbeth

HALF APOLOGETICALLY We are a disorganized Common-States, for this is our very first attempt at scintillating, effervescent, and somewhat deathless prose. We would like to entertain you, we hope that we do amuse you a bit, but we are novices and obviously need practice at this sort of thing. Common-States, that is, good Common-States, have to earn a reputation for scathing and clever invective. We promise to do our best, and if that best is not quite what you expect, write a letter to the editor of this great, tradition-filled newspaper. Our editor will print your letter, for she fosters budding geniuses in the field of creativity. But I warn you, your letters won't change us; we're Seniors, set in our ways, adamant, and so forth. Besides all that, we were happy to accept the post, you shall have to put up with us for a whole semester, and we like to see our own endeavors in print. Next week we'll get organized.

INSIDE STORY It has been handled about the Campus that State College will this year emphasize gracious living, and the rumor seems to be holding true. The maids made several beds in one of the dorms, one fraternity owns a hotel, and the Union is now offering breakfast.

FRESH FROSH In the athletic room at the Student Union, two purple-topped win-somes were leisurely engaged in a ping-pong game. Someone asked if they might have the winner of the game, and both turned, chirping "Of course, if you'll be nice to us." Now rrrrr! I' emphasis is upon gracious living, but.

RECKLESS RUNAWAY A student V.I.P. is searching for the vandals who uprooted his petunia plants. Perhaps Mr. Fowler could secure a fur cap and initiate an investigation. While he is so engaged, he might be able to find out why the bookcases in Brubacher lounges are so conspicuously empty.

ORGANIZED CONFUSION Registration was, barring the inevitable conflicts, much more efficient this year. Contrasting to those responsible for making the game so much easier to play. A Canasta-like handful of LBM cards, a well marked-out obstacle course, and like "Monopoly", some students lost lots of money at certain stations. Hazardous, but all part of the game.

SNEAK PREVIEW International Film Group has been reorganized, and it plans to explain everything this year in a weekly column. The English films will have Mediterranean subtitles, and Bardot will be heralded a month trained mistresses, and walk about with an air of other-worldliness in advance. The I.F.G. officers will be required to wear small, neatly rolled umbrellas and jodpurs are de rigueur. Bah notwithstanding. It should be a good year for culture.

HOME AWAY FROM HOME We're back again, and it's so wonderful! Almost nothing has changed from registration to repairs. We understand that the lower peristyle from the Cafeteria to the Commons is sandbagged on purpose to provide us a shelter from attacking Indians.

How easily will the Class of 1962 win Rivalry?

The News Comments On Frosh Weekend

Who ever heard of getting in line to go to Thacher Park? Frosh Weekend even provided this innovation.

Under the spreading chestnut tree the village freshmen sat. Where was Billy Graham?

I can't help it. When I've got an itch, I don't care WHERE I am!

Isn't it strange the way the final skit isn't quite like the rehearsed act?

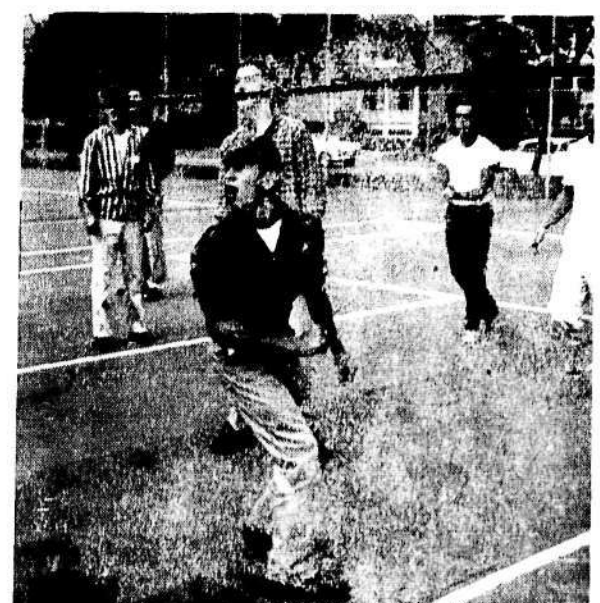

I don't know what happened to him. He was leaning over just a minute ago.

What would girls' frosh weekend be without a charleston number?

A guy has gotta get through college somehow.

Who's the joker who stole my hula-hoop?

Now boys! You can carry this sportsmanship idea too far! In tennis the nets are lower!

Step right up and get your beanie! The solemn Beanie ceremony is right in swing and the counselors are having a ball!

From This Vantage Point:

Frosh Can Turn Tide For Varsity Soccer Team

By JIM DOUGHERTY

Spirit! Spirit! Spirit! It seems that the Class of 1962 really has this vital quality, as was witnessed at this year's Freshman Weekend.

There were several innovations this year; boys on campus, orientation meetings, a co-ed outing and several others. There was also something extra—spirit, and for this the Class of 1962 deserves all the credit.

The frosh had the spirit and, equally important, the talent to beat the counselors in their annual softball battle. Behind the leadership of John Pavelka, the Bluejays dumped the upperclassmen to the tune of 7-3. They then went on to tie against the "always powerful" faculty team. Dr. Lemmon pitched a nice game, but the Bluejays had too much power and great backing from their cheering section.

Spirit And Talent Equals Victory

All this leads us to believe that the upsetting factor for this hardly organized group was spirit. Followers of any college sports will tell you that with enough backing from the student body a good team can become an excellent one.

Coach Joe Garcia says that his soccer team will have the best chances for its rough schedule if it has a ready group of followers. The Class of 1962 not only has this ready and spirited group, it also has several outstanding players on the varsity squad. We are sure that as soon as the frosh become aware of their own potential this potential will be realized.

From The Sports Desk: Everybody should be active in sports this year. Coach Hathaway and Gus Tillman have embarked on a great expanded AMIA program and we are sure that it will do a lot of good for the spirit of the school. . . . Dan Labeille does as well on the soccer field as he does doing pantomime. . . . the soccer team should have a winning season under co-captains Gus Tillman and Lou Del Signore.

PREDICTION: Frosh over the Sophs in traditional rivalry. Frosh should have things all wrapped up even before campus night.

Opportunities For Freshmen Coach Sauers In Intramurals And Rivalry Schedules Fall Tryouts

Another school year has come to State College, bringing with it falling leaves, rainy foggy days, classes, freshmen, and very important, freshman in sports.

Perhaps even more important, at the moment, than intra-mural sports, are the rivalry events. Almost anyone who really wants to participate in these sports will have a chance. There are also several opportunities for those who prefer to participate on the managerial and organizational side.

Many believe that the future star athletes of this school are discovered during Rivalry and one can doubt the truth in this statement. However, we believe that the stars of intramural sports—as important as Varsity lettermen—are discovered during this period.

Coach Richard Sauers announces that there will be fall baseball practice this year. These preliminary tryouts will be held from September 22 to 27.

All men who expect to play in the spring are requested to come out now. Freshmen and other new candidates should sign the list posted in Mr. Sauers' office. Practice will be held from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. every day. Mr. Sauers will excuse an lateness because he feels it is better to show up late than never.

Captains Announced
The captains of the varsity baseball team for the 1958 season have also recently been announced. Ray Haver, a Senior from Howes Cavern and Wes Brown from Chatham will lead the Peds in the spring. Ray will be the regular second baseman and Wes Brown will alternate between first base and the mound.

With Rank Goes Privilege

This picture depicts some of the co-educational sports activity that took place at Fresh Weekend. Dave Young, Mens Director, seems to have won the affections of the girls from the 3rd floor of Bru.

Potter, SLS Eye Title

By JACK LEWIS

With the opening of the new year all eyes will soon turn to Beverwyck field to view the struggle for the intramural football title. Before the season gets under way we would like to look over the top teams to estimate how they stack up in the forthcoming race.

Potter Club Confident

Potter Club, the title holder of last year again looks like the team to beat. With Harry Millet, last season's halfback being the only loss, the Club should be able to field one of its strongest teams. Returning quarterback, Tom Brierly will again be calling the plays with assistance from Owen Davis who took the reins last year after Brierly's injury.

Lou Call, the acting captain and halfback, reports that the remaining positions have not been definitely filled but that there is much talent, both old and new, for the Club to choose from. Mike Maxiam, returning after a year's absence should again prove to be a stalwart lineman, as in previous years. Al Jaquays will again be a tough man to get through, and Al Hayes, Skip Gebhardt and Charlie Kane will be aiming to recover their berth on the line. Ross Daley again seems to be a good bet for end position as does Bob Costello who gained recognition with the Ridge Runners. Don Nolan is reported to be a smooth man in the backfield and should prove to be an asset to the squad this year.

With everything considered, Potter Club seems to be in a good position to dominate the scene again and can probably be expected to work from their usual T-formation.

Strong and Hopeful
The powerful SLS squad, which challenged Potter Club for the title last season will again be a team to watch as they go back for revenge. Captained this year by Bud Baker, the South Lakemen expect to put up a strong fight despite the loss of some of last year's regulars.

Assisting SLS quarterback, Ed Vesneske will be Ed Whalen, who piloted the almost all-frosh team from Sayles Hall last year. From the same ranks SLS has acquired Paul Harris who will hold down an end position, and Pete Spina of baseball fame will also add strength to the squad. Ron Adams will head the list of veterans returning to the line. Judging from the line-up thus far SLS should again make a high bid for the title.

Soccer Squad Prepares For Opener; Freshmen Hopefuls To Bolster Team

By DAVE MILLER

Albany's 1958 edition of the varsity soccer squad under the tutelage of Joe Garcia and co-captained by Seniors Gus Tillman and Lou Del Signore will undergo its first test tomorrow at an intersquad scrimmage at Bleeker Stadium. The match will put a crew of spirited freshmen and newcomers against the returning men who will spearhead the varsity in the coming campaign.

Coaching the frosh in this match will be the regular varsity mentor, Garcia, while Eddie Jones, new JV coach who had four years of soccer under the direction of Garcia, will coach the regular. Jones is doing graduate work at the College.

Lose Miller, Upercraft

Miller, a starting freshman and key man in last season's crusade. The talented sophomore was lost for the season when he broke his jaw in an auto accident in the late part of the summer. He joined Lee Upercraft on the disabled list after the doctors expressed doubt that the sophomore would be able to play this season after suffering a broken leg last October.

One of the most encouraging turnouts of freshmen in recent years may help to offset this loss, however, as no less than nineteen of the beam-men appeared for practice this week. Some show the type of play which may net them a spot on the varsity eleven when the squad opens a week from tomorrow at Bleeker; included in this are such people as Russ Knights, a Bayshore, L.I. boy who was named to the Suffolk County all-scholastic team for the last two years, and Dan Labeille, a potential forward who learned his soccer in France.

Managers Needed
The one sorry spot in this picture is not on the playing field but in the administrative end—the "front office"—where there is great need for a crew of four people or so to take care of the work entailed in putting the team on the field. Anyone who may be interested in this type of work—managing or publicity—is strongly urged to contact this reporter (Dave Miller) or someone connected with the athletic department immediately after reading this article.

The squad will travel to Williams College in Williamstown, Massachusetts, on Monday for a scrimmage in preparation for the opener at Bleeker on Saturday, September 27. The Saturday opener will be the second meeting of State with Fairleigh Dickinson College of New Jersey, an attempt at revenge for the 2-1 loss at FDU's hands last season, and an opportunity for the fans of State to make track of a few short blocks to Bleeker to show their support of a ball club which may be one of the best at State in many years.

WHAT HAPPENED COUNSELORS?? Frosh score another run in 7-3 victory over counselors at Fresh Weekend. This was the prelude to a 4-1 tie against the faculty.

Football, Volleyball Begins; Tennis, Archery Are Planned

With the opening of the new year, AMIA is resuming operations with full force. Gus Tillman, the newly appointed president, announces the beginning of the new program, designed to bring about more participation by the undergraduates in AMIA sports. With this aim in view, AMIA seems to be off on a win-loud campaign.

Football and Tennis
Plans for the intramural football leagues are completed and all participants are welcome. Sign-up sheets will be posted on the AMIA bulletin board and all teams and captains must be registered by Monday.

The tennis and archery enthusiasts will be glad to hear that tournaments will now be conducted in both of these activities. Definite notification of these tournaments will soon be given. Tentative plans for a fall tournament are also in the process of being evolved.

In working toward the expanded program, a volleyball league will be formed on the same basis as the intramural football. However, participation in both sports is prohibited in order to bring out a wider array of talent.

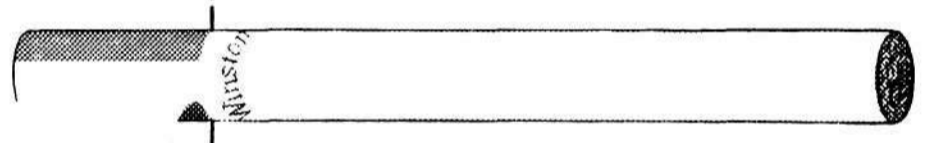

Roll-outs for the bowling squad will be held immediately since the intercollegiate bowling will begin before the intramurals. All interested candidates should contact Coach Hathaway before Monday, Sept. 22 in order that roll-offs can be arranged as soon as possible.

Cinema Sidelights

By BEVERLY J. RAHN

At the end of last semester IFG rewrote its constitution and redefined its status as a campus activity. The need for a general reorganization was felt early in the year, when the enthusiastic support of the student body guaranteed success for the new Friday night program. Besides scheduling problems and budgetary questions, the query, "When is International Film Group going international?" started the ball rolling. Should there be one or two groups? What name is appropriate? Should Student Tax Fund support the group?

Reorganization
Most of our troubles were growing pains and were easily alleviated. The members decided to retain International Film Group as a name for one organization with a dual function: (1) to present historic and art films, (2) to show popular movies. This semester IFG will operate independently of the Student Tax Fund; a standard admission fee will be charged at all films to cover expenses.

Cinema Scope
After the new cinemascope screen is installed in Page Hall, IFG will present films in the auditorium in order to eliminate double showing on Friday evenings. The schedule includes several cinemascope features, an experiment made possible by our new lens.

New Features
Tonight in Draper 349 at 7 and 8:30 p.m., IFG will present "On the Riviera," a zany musical comedy in which Danny Kaye plays the dual role of a French lover and an American entertainer. Kaye exhibits his extraordinary skill at pantomime and also does some impersonations of Maurice Chevalier. Sir Harry Lauder, and Jimmy Durante. Working with a troupe of Jack Cole dancers, Kaye performs an amusing number entitled, "Popo the Puppet," and actually is suspended by ropes like Howdy Doody and Pinocchio. His actions are controlled by eight puppeteers, who employ a system of counter-balance weights to operate the ropes which direct the performers.

The U.N. From the President's Podium
Sir Leslie Munro, K.C.M.G., K.C.V.O., President of the twelfth General Assembly of the United Nations, will be Forum's first speaker this year, according to John Cochrane '59, President of the organization.

All students who have an interest in current events and problems of the national and international affairs should attend the assembly in Page Hall Wednesday at 1 p.m.

Distinguished Background
Experience as a lawyer, a radio commentator, a journalist, and Dean of the Faculty of Law at the University of Auckland and active participation in educational circles, gave Sir Leslie a fine background for his address to the world.

SCT Provides For Interviews

State College for Teachers will provide office facilities for section organization representatives, but will make available space in which students, upon their own initiative, can interview religious as well as other advisors.

Interested laymen and clergy officials met yesterday in the office of Eyan R. Collins, President of the College, to discuss the program in light of a legal opinion from John C. Cray, Jr., counsel to the State University of New York.

Legality
Cray expressed belief that the college may not legally turn over offices to sectarian organizations through their representatives. However, it may assign available facilities for use of students for personal consultations which may include those in which they seek religious guidance.

Prior to this the First Unitarian Church, the Jewish Community Council, and several other organizations had passed the willingness to provide offices to make facilities available to religious counselors.

Available Room
President Collins announced that a room in the lower corridor of Brubacher Hall will be divided into two interview cubicles during the next two or three weeks. Students may meet there with religious counselors or with such advisors as lawyers or doctors. Rooms will also be available for interviews between Seniors and prospective employers.

Discussion yesterday concerned procedure for initiating a practical law. The preceding has been partially quoted from the Times Union.
