In addition, William Southard has been elected president of the newly formed Nassau County unit in the Village of Sea Cliff.

More Than 100 Persons Salute Davis Shultes

ALBANY, Nov. 18—More than 100 persons attending a retirement banquet here recently in honor of Davis Shultes, a 34-year veteran of the State Insurance Department, heard him tell his fellow State employees that "more of us should take advantages of the 55-year Retirement Plan."

Shultes, as a member of the Pension-Insurance Committee of the Civil Service Employees Association, helped champion the drive for the optional 55-year retirement privileges won by CSEA in 1950 and reopened in subsequent years. He is 56 and will retire November 22nd.

"Outstanding" Public Servant

During the testimonial given by his associates from the department and other friends, Shultes was called, "an outstanding and devoted public servant" who has done much toward the "cause of the merit system."

Joseph F. Feily, president of CSEA praised Shultes for his dedicated and loyal membership and assistance in the Association. He Joseph F. Feily, CSEA president, announced last week that Rossiter, an employee in the State Department of Mental Hygiene, had accepted the post.

Formation of the committee was approved by more than 800 delegates who attended the annual meeting of the CSEA last month in New York City. At this same meeting, delegates passed a resolution which also called for repeal of the Condon-Wadlin law, which forbids strikes by public employees.

On The Committee

Feily also asked the following State and county employees to serve on the committee:

Edward G. Sorenson, Audit & Control; Salvatore Butero, president, Metropolitan Conference; A. Victor Costa, president; Capital District Conference; George De-Long, president, Western Conference; Thomas Ranger, president, Central Conference; Nicholas Puziferri, president, Southern Conference.

Expected are representatives from at least 20 institutions in the Department of Correction, Mental Hygiene, Social Welfare and Health. Immediately following this meeting other similar meetings will be established in other areas of the State.

All institutional clerical employees are invited to attend the meeting.

CSEA, Budget Step Up Pace Of Pay Talks

ALBANY, Nov. 18—Salary talks between the Civil Service Employees Assn. and the State Division of the Budget are increasing in frequency to the point where representatives of CSEA and the Budget have met twice within eight days.

Latest round of discussions was held here last Saturday; the previous meeting was held the Saturday before; more sessions are reported in the making.

Again, the meeting last week was held at Leader press time and no details are yet forthcoming. Some report on the progress, or lack of it, in these meetings is expected in the near future, however.

Jefferson County Rejects Own Committee's Pay Plan, Lops 60% Off Wage Proposal

(From Leader Correspondent)

WATERTOWN, Nov. 18—The Jefferson County Board of Supervisors repudiated its own Salaries Committee and approved a compromise pay boost plan, attacked as "weak" by Mrs. Fannie W. Smith, president of Jefferson chapter, Civil Service Employees Assn.

In an unusual move, the board voted to increase pay of county workers with maximum raises to lowest paid employees and minimum increase to those higher paid. The compromise voted in was a ten to one percent increase with the largest amount going to lower paid workers.

The salaries committee had approved a ten-five percent increase, on a graduating scale based on annual pay with the larger percentage going to lowest paid workers.

Revised Proposal Attacked

Mrs. Smith had charged the supervisors with "political expediency." She said the compromise action was "unwarranted on the facts."

The county CSEA chapter had asked approval of a five percent cut in retirement payments which would be tantamount to a raise in pay.

"Our plan was designed to meet a cost of living advance," Mrs. Smith asserted.

The salaries committee program would have cost $54,000 a year. The compromise plan will cost $21,000.

Named To Council

ALBANY, Nov. 18—George B. Costigan of Long Beach, a member of the Nassau County Board of Supervisors, has been appointed by Governor Rockefeller to the Council of the State University at Stony Brook. Costigan is a Democrat and former president of the Long Beach Board of Education.

Rockefeller Will Try To Use State As A Show Case

SOME months before the State Department of Commerce opened a branch office in Brussels, Belgium, this column noted that this movement by the State into the international business scene was one means by which Governor Rockefeller intended to show how he would perform at the Presidential level, if he should reach that lofty plateau. The point was that the Governor would try to utilize as many State actions as possible as a show case for what he could do for the nation.

No government functions so well, however, that the performance of every agency can be held up to public view. Rockefeller, for instance, certainly isn't going to parade the troubles in the State Liquor Authority. But this type of embarrassment is all part of the political game. Harry Truman had his Major Harry Vaughn and Dwight Eisenhower his Sherman Adams to worry about.

 Business expansion obviously cannot compete with the conduct of foreign policy for headlines but if industrial progress is not as dramatic as an atomic test ban treaty, Rockefeller has to be given credit for making the most of the showcase he does have.

McHugh Speech Sets Tone

Our prediction that the Governor would use the activity of his Commerce Department as one accomplishment bore fruit last week in the form of a speech delivered by State Commerce Commissioner Keith S. McHugh to the regional meeting of the American Society of Corporate Secretaries, held in New York City.

What was interesting about McHugh's speech was not so much his justifiable pride in the new industry and plant expansion in New York State during the past five years but his pointed comparison to California, a Democratic-controlled state where, he declared, the growth rate was only one-third that of New York.

Further Comparisons

Although not referring to the fact that a Democratic governor preceded Rockefeller in office, McHugh made his point by citing what he termed "the reversing of a trend which had shackled business development" and then claiming that New York State "is a place where the freest possible business and industrial competition and growth is encouraged by government."

As evidence of the State's general economy, the Commerce Commissioner reported that 2,600 new and expanded industrial plants have been added here since 1959. In the last two and one half years, he pointed out that the State has gained 976 "important" new plants, more than any other state and "more than three times those of California" as reported, he said, by "Industrial and Development Manufacturer's Record," a national magazine.

Naturally enough, McHugh congratulated Rockefeller with "having provided the leadership which

Good Reading

This performance of the Commerce Department is certainly going to make good reading in the Governor's campaign literature as he seeks support in his drive for the GOP Presidential nomination next fall.

The Woman's Angle

By MARY ANN BANKS

City, State and Federal civil servants are urged to contact the Women's Editor of the Leader with news of interest to women in civil service. Deadline for this material is Thursday at noon for publication in the following week's paper.

The Neighborhood Study Clubs, which provide an adequate place for youngsters to prepare homework assignments under the guidance of part-time teachers, under the auspices of the NYC Housing and Redevelopment Board's Neighbor Conservation Bureau, will continue to operate thanks to the good work of EDNA BAER, MRS. The form for this application may be obtained at Room 2201, 2 Lafayette St. or from the personnel or payroll clerk.

15% Salary Increase Asked For Aides In Village Of Garden City

(From Leader Correspondent)

GARDEN CITY, Nov. 18—A 15 percent salary increase for employees of the Village of Garden City is the chief request filed this week with the Village Board by the local unit of the Nassau County chapter of the Civil Service Employees Association.

The 13-point CSEA program was contained in a letter to Ellsworth Tobias, village mayor, by Louis Santorello, president of the Garden City unit.

Although the village unit now has 200 members out of 350-400 village workers, the village officials have been ignoring all offers of cooperation by the CSEA.

"Most Unhappy"

Irving Flaumenbaum, Nassau County chapter president, said he was "most unhappy with the attitude of village officials." He said village officials had failed even to answer the CSEA letter.

"There are some unions clamoring to enroll village workers," he said. "If the village wants a union, they can have it, but the employees do want some type of organization and we feel we are the ones who can best represent them." CSEA efforts to negotiate with the village of Garden City has been in progress, unsuccessfully, for two years.

In addition to its call for a salary boost, the Garden City unit asked for:

1. Liberalized vacation rules to include two weeks after one year progressing to four weeks after eight years.
2. Payroll deductions of CSEA dues.
3. Installation of the CSEA insurance program.
4. Tenure for labor class and non-competitive employees after one year of service.
5. Time and one half for over-time work.
6. Sick leave accumulating to 120 days.
7. Longevity increments.
8. Retirement at half pay after 25 years of service.
9. Reclassification of all positions.
10. Unemployment insurance.
11. Installation of workable attendance rules.
12. Five personal leave days per year.

Olean Heeds CSEA Plea To Add 4th Police Sergeant

OLEAN, Nov. 18—A request by Cattaraugus County chapter of the Civil Service Employees Assn. to increase the number of Olean police sergeants from three to four has been granted, the Leader learned last week.

Arthur Haley, president of Cattaraugus chapter, appeared at a public hearing in Olean last month to urge creation of the additional post.

Haley argued that the position was desirable not only because it would strengthen the police department but also because it would offer another promotion opportunity for men in the ranks.

"There are very few promotion opportunities at present," Haley pointed out, "and the addition of a fourth sergeant position would be a great morale booster."

Olean recently approved the addition.

His Association activities included chairman of the salary committee as well as membership on the Association's pension-insurance committee and the board of directors.

Gen. O'Hara's sentiments came in a letter he wrote to the annual meeting of the Western New York Armory Employee chapter, CSEA, held this month in this Orleans County community.

It was the first meeting in Medina since the chapter was organized in 1946

A-OK Rating Given To 3 State Prisons

ALBANY, Nov. 18—The State Commission of Correction, charged with the duty of inspecting all State and local prisons, has issued a series of reports praising the work of various groups of prison employees.

On-Coming Election Year May Influence Chances of Pay Bill

The major drawback of the supplemental pay increase bill, which is now in the House Rules Committee, is the fact that raises for members of Congress are tied to the bill, it is reported.

Most members of Congress are highly in favor of a pay raise but are afraid of trouble with the voters back home. Congress must remember that next year is an election year.

On the other hand, members of Congress are not anxious to make less money than career Government and postal employees. Substantial increases are scheduled for the higher level civil service jobs in this package.

At any rate, as long as the Democratic leadership in the House and Senate back this increase, the bill stands a good chance of approval and the backing has been good.

CSC Staff Developing Plans For Increased Job Protection Rights

As many as 40,000 to 50,000 Federal employees annually are affected by the transfer of agency functions from one city to another. In many cases, employees cannot or do not wish to relocate.

Under the current law, however, employees are only guaranteed the right to transfer with the function and have no right to another job in that agency if they will not transfer.

As a result, the Civil Service Commission is developing plans which will provide greater employee job protection rights in regard to agency shifts. There are several proposals under study but no decisions have been made as yet.

17 Top-level Officials Attend Recent Meet Of New York FEB

A relatively new idea is apparently moving forth with great success if the attendance at the recent Steering Committee meeting of the New York Federal Executive Board is an indication. Seventeen top level officials were present, under the chairmanship of Thomas V. O'Keefe, to discuss and plan for problems involving New York area personnel.

In attendance were Joseph C. Clarke, manager, New York Operations Office, Atomic Energy Commission; Arthur Miller, regional administrator; General Services Administration; Captain E.J. Zimmermann, Jr., assistant chief of staff for personnel, Third Naval District; P. A. Esperdy, district director, Immigration and Naturalization Service, Department of Justice; Colonel W. B. Saurel, First U.S. Army; F. Galozzi, program management officer, Customs; Ivan McLeod, regional director, National Labor Relations Board; Warren Woolsey, executive secretary, NYFEB, Civil Service Commission; Howard Taylor, vice chairman, NYFEB, regional commissioner Internal Revenue; Oscar Bake, regional director, Federal Aviation Agency; Captain Hewlett R. Bishop, Atlantic Coast Director, Maritime Administration; L. H. Baer, regional director, Civil Service Commission; Colonel M. Miletaich, district engineer, U. S. Army Engineer District; Philip Goldman, Air Force Contract Management District; Brigadier General Howard Snyder, chief of staff, First U.S. Army; Joseph Klegman, regional comptroller, Post Office, and O'Keefe manager, Veterans Administration Regional Office.

About two years ago, U.S. Civil Service Commission Chairman John W. Macy instructed Commission regional directors to carry out President Kennedy's request to establish Federal Executive Boards in all ten of the regional headquarters cities. The Boards have made it possible to coordinate Federal activities on the regional level and provide broader, understanding of interrelated activities.

Bus Driver Questions

An analysis of the key answers as they were given for the surface line operator test in a past issue of The Leader will now be applied to the exam as it was given. 23,425 persons took the exam November 2, 11,702 in the morning period and 11,713 in the afternoon session. There were ten sabbatical observers. Protests for these tests will be allowed to be submitted until midnight, November 22 along with evidence of substantiation. The analysis of a number of questions in the morning session follow below. The questions will continue in the next issue of The Leader.

On Tuesday October 8, 1963 at about 4 p.m., bus operator Sam Bell, badge No. 3871, whose accident record was perfect, was operating his half-filled bus, number 4392Y, northbound and on schedule along Dean Street. At this time, a male passenger who was apparently intoxicated started to yell and to use loud and profane language. The bus driver told this passenger to be quiet or to get off the bus. The passenger said that he would not be quiet but indicated that he wanted to get off the bus by moving toward the front exit. When he reached the front of the bus, which at the time was in motion, the intoxicated passenger slapped the bus operator and pulled the steering wheel sharply. This action caused the bus to sideswipe a passenger automobile that was coming from the opposite direction before the operator could stop the bus. The sideswiped car was a red 1962 Pontiac two-door convertible, New York license 6416-KN, driven by Albert Holt. The bus driver kept the doors of his bus closed and blew the horn vigorously. The horn blowing was quickly answered as sergeant Henry Burns, badge number 1208, and patrolman Joe Cross, badge number 24643, happened to be following a few cars behind the bus in police car number 736. The intoxicated passenger, who gave his name as John Doe, was placed under arrest, and patrolman Cross took the names of the witnesses while sergeant Burns recorded the necessary vehicular information. Investigation showed that no one was injured in the accident and that the entire damage to the automobile was having its side pushed in.

The following questions relate to the above description of accident. Questions 14 to 23 fall in this class.

14. From the information given, it can be reasoned that:
- (A) it was just beginning to rain.
 - (B) Dean Street is a two-way street.
 - (C) there were mostly women shoppers on the bus.
 - (D) most seats in the bus were filled.
- (It was stated that the red convertible was coming from the opposite direction of that which the bus was traveling.)
15. The name of the policeman

Press Support Needs To Go Even Further

WE ARE glad to see the daily press in many areas coming to the support of proposals on substantial increases in pay for higher echelons in Federal service. The reasons for this support are, at last, an awareness that between low-level salaries and necessary conflict-of-interest laws, the United States Government simply cannot get the best brains and when it does, cannot hang on to them.

What is missing in this journalistic enthusiasm to date, however, is the follow-through all the way down the line. With few exceptions, shortages of skilled and able personnel exist in government agencies on all levels and for the same reasons that apply to the top positions.

Press and public alike must become even more aware than ever that mediocre wage scales cost, rather than save, the taxpayer money. With some governmental agencies reporting annual personnel turnover ranging up to 38 percent, it should be obvious that the money spent training people who will not stay in public employment is one of the greatest wastes. We sincerely believe that many of these people would not depart for business and industry if a career in government kept pace with the advantages, in terms of benefits as well as wages, of private employment. Surely, the retention of personnel permanently would allow enough genuine savings to pay the cost of higher wage scales. It would simply be a case of more expenditures in the beginning costing less in the long run.

We must add increased promotion opportunities to the need for more attractive financial compensation. A true career offers not only monetary reward but advancement in the ranks.

The Veteran's Counselor

The following are recent public laws, of interest to veterans and/or their survivors and dependents, enacted by the 88th Congress.

PUBLIC LAW 88-20

PUBLIC LAW 88-20, authorizes the payment of additional compensation in the amount of $47 per month to a veteran who has a service-incurred disability of deafness of both ears, with absence of air and bone conduction. Under the former schedule for rating disabilities, total deafness is ratable at 80 percent disabling which resulted in compensation for war-time cases of $170 monthly. Under this new law, a veteran who suffers from total deafness will receive an additional $47 a month or a total of $217 monthly.

PUBLIC LAW 88-21

PUBLIC LAW 88-21, increases by 10 percent (with fractions rounded off to next higher dollar) the monthly rates of dependency and indemnity compensation payable for eligible parents and children of veterans dying of service-connected causes.

THE RATE OF dependency and indemnity compensation payable to widows is geared to basic active service pay. As the service pay is increased, the widow's rates under this program are automatically increased. The basic service pay was last increased June 1, 1958, and thus, payments to widows are not increased under the new Legislation.

HOWEVER, THIS automatic adjustment provision is not applicable to the monthly rate for parents or children, thus necessitating this amendatory Legislation.

Retiree's Plea

BOX 101:

I have been retired from New York City Retirement System since 1958.

City retired pensioners have already received their pension hike but retirees receiving $1,800 or more a year received no increase at all.

We retirees have never received medical health insurance. When will Mayor Wagner help us get this increase in pensions and medical care? We need both now!

Your Public Relations IQ

By LEO J. MARGOLIN

Mr. Margolin is Adjunct Professor of Public Relations in the New York University School of Public Administration and is Vice President, Public Relations, of A. J. Armstrong Co., Inc.

The views expressed in this column are those of the writer and do not necessarily constitute the views of this newspaper.

Co-operation

WHAT POSSIBLE connection could there be between Mr. and Mrs. Jack Benny and the public relations of civil servants?

MORE—LOTS more—than meets a viewer's eye when watching the gifted, incomparable Mr. Benny on television.

MR. AND MRS. Jack Benny together are a good example of why civil servants, particularly police officers, often suffer bad public relations unjustifiably. The reason: lack of cooperation by the various "publics"—especially by the "example-setting public" like Mr. and Mrs. Benny—with law enforcement officers.

WHEN SOMEONE as highly respected as Mr. Benny refuses to cooperate with police, the total problem becomes more critical. If prominent public personalities, who should be setting the highest standards of conduct for others, falter in their responsibilities as citizens, we're all in trouble.

THE AVERAGE Mr. Joe Citizen will be quick to follow their example. That's why product endorsements by public figures featured in advertising are so effective.

THE REASONING is simple: if Jack Benny uses that new stainless steel razor blade for shaving, "it's good enough for me." And what follows with indifference to cooperation with police makes just as much sense to Mr. Joe Citizen: "If Jack Benny doesn't, why should I?"

THE FACTS are these: New York City has had a bad rash of hotel jewel burglaries and robberies. Mostly, the victims were visiting celebrities. It didn't take long for astute New York detectives to discover how the victims were "cased."

THE CRIMINALS were "spotting" their quarries through daily bulletins about celebrities published by several information services. These publications, usually hurriedly mimeographed, specialize in keeping posted on the "comings" and "goings" of movie, TV, radio and theatre personalities.

THE BULLETINS are a useful tool for TV and radio producers looking for actors and actresses to do guest appearances; for publicity people looking for celebrities for special "tie-ins"; for newspaper and magazine assignment editors looking for good feature stories.

UNFORTUNATELY, jewel thieves looking for good hauls also discovered the usefulness of these bulletins.

NOW THE POLICE subscribe to these services, too, and search the bulletins as diligently as an actor's agent looking for his clients.

FOUR DAYS BEFORE Mrs. Benny was robbed of $200,000 in jewels, the police offered to install a detective and a policewoman in the Benny suite at the Hotel Pierre. The Bennys refused the police offer.

NOW THAT THE thieves have done their work, just as the police intelligently surmised, Mr. Benny wants to know why the police don't go out and catch the thieves.

WELL, MR. BENNY ought to know that he can't put on his television show without the cooperation of producers, directors, writers, cameramen, electricians, sponsors, sound engineers, makeup men, musicians, lighting experts, announcers, cue men, dolly-pullers, stagehands, scenic designers, truckmen, the coaxial cable, and his violin.

SO HOW CAN the police catch the jewel thieves if they didn't have the cooperation of just two people—Mr. and Mrs. Benny?

WE GREATLY admire Mr. Benny for his magnificent talents as a performer. But we cannot be included among those who applaud his public relations sagacity.

 (A) north. (B) south. (C) east. (D) west. (The bus was traveling north and the automobile was traveling oppositely so the car was moving south.)

17. It is logical to conclude that the passenger automobile was damaged on its:
 (A) front end. (B) rear end. (C) right side. (D) left side. (The side available to potential collision by the bus when two vehicles are traveling in opposite directions.)

18. A fact concerning the intoxicated passenger that is clearly stated in the above description is that he:

(A) was intoxicated when he got on the bus. (B) hit a fellow passenger. (C) pulled the steering wheel sharply. (D) was not arrested. (The statement says he pulled the wheel sharply.)

19. The bus operator called the attention of the police by:

(A) sideswiping an oncoming car. (B) yelling and using profane language. (C) blowing his horn vigorously. (D) stopping a police car coming from the opposite direction. (It says "the horn was quickly answered as . . . the police happened to be following a few cars behind".)

20. A reasonable conclusion that can be drawn from the above description is that:

(A) the name of John Doe was fictitious. (B) the sideswiped automobile was out of town. (C) some of the passengers on the bus were injured. (D) the bus operator tried to put the intoxicated passenger off the bus. (Who do you know by the name of John Doe?)

21. The number of the police car involved in the incident was:
 (A) 4392Y. (B) 6415-KN. (C) 1208. (D) 736.

22. From the facts stated, it is obvious that the bus operator was:

(A) behind schedule. (B) driving too close to the center of the street. (C) discourteous to the intoxicated passenger. (D) a good driver. (How much more can one ask.)

23. It is clearly stated that the:

(A) sideswiped automobile was a sedan. (B) bus driver kept the bus doors closed until the police came. (C) incident happened on a Thursday. (D) police sergeant took down the names of witnesses. (It says so.)

SERVING BLIND PERSONS
50 years
IN NEW YORK STATE

blind persons throughout the state. In the insert photo, commission secretary Phillis Altieri is shown with the 50 year service emblem of the bureau. The center photo shows William Pickman, rehabilitation counselor who is also blind, checking out an electronic device which will aid blind persons in traveling. With Pickman is Allan Sadler, engineering director of Ultra Electronic Ltd. of London. The right photo shows Rosemary Brigandi, commission secretary, presenting plaque to Frederick Knarre of the Telephone Pioneers of America. Members of the Pioneers spend their off-duty time repairing the talking book machines. Four secretaries check the eye health exhibit during the bureau's 50th anniversary open house celebration in the photo, bottom left.

The girls are wearing long skirts, reminiscent of the styles when the commission first opened its doors to serve New York State's blind persons. The center photo shows blind vending stand operator serving coffee to Rendle H. Fussell, State Social Welfare Department area director in Buffalo at the opening of an ultra-modern snack bar at the Roswell Park Memorial Institute. Looking on are, left to right, representative Wayne Warnke, commission member John Patterson of Buffalo and Frank L. Muddle, Roswell Park Memorial Institute administrator. The photo on the bottom right shows Commission for The Blind Director Oscar Friedensohn lecturing to a professional group at the bureau's Eye Health Workshop.

"I'm worried. I dropped a nickel the other day and didn't bother to pick it up."

Drawing by Cattani. Copyright 1963, The New Yorker Magazine, Inc.

Remember when you used to be able to buy an ice cream cone or a cup of coffee for a nickel? These days almost everything costs more, including the things needed to make electricity. Yet Con Edison has managed to keep costs down by using the most modern methods and equipment.

For instance, we have great fuel flexibility in our modern electric power plants. Boilers can burn coal, or oil, or gas, which permits us to use the most economical fuel at any time. Of course, we're also using atomic energy.

25 State Aides Receive $750 In Suggestion Award Program

ALBANY, Nov. 18—A series of work improvement ideas resulting in a completely revised and simplified withholding tax accounting system has earned for a Troy resident a cash award of $750. The award is the largest granted through the New York State Employee Suggestion Program this year.

A total of $1,665 was awarded for 25 time-and-money saving suggestions approved by the State Civil Service Commission at its monthly meeting. Nine Certificates of Merit without cash grants were also awarded.

Hugh J. Vaughan of Troy, assistant accountant, Department of Audit and Control, received the $750 award. Savings resulting from adoption of his suggestions are estimated to be in excess of $8,500 a year.

A $400 grant was made to Charles P. O'Connell, business officer at the Department of Mental Hygiene's Middletown State Hospital. He suggested that the Ransburg electrostatic process be used to paint hospital beds. The process cuts the time required to paint each bed from 131 minutes to 13 minutes and will result in saving many thousands of dollars.

A $60 award was granted to William E. Tyson, of Schenectady, industrial consultant, Department of Commerce. He suggested that all photographs for industrial resource inventories be offset reproductions, instead of glossy photographic prints. Annual savings of many hundreds of dollars result, with no loss in quality.

Three $50 Awards

There were three awards of $50 each. Betty M. Film of Troy, principal clerk, Department of Civil Service, suggested a more economical utilization of health insurance control cards. Benjamin J. Melick of West Coxsackie, printing machine operator, Department of Labor's Division of Employment, designed a steel plate which prevents paper from catching and bunching in stapling machines, thereby increasing production by one third. Alvin Overton of Jamaica, senior statistics clerk in the banking department, suggested that symbols identifying licensees be used on all contracts and agreements filed with his agency. The idea does away with a great deal of comparison of forms which formerly existed.

Stephen F. Runfola of Mount Morris, a junior photographer in the Department of Mental Hygiene's Craig Colony and Hospital, was awarded $35.

Two employees received $25 awards: Walter F. Chovenec, of Schenectady a tabulating machine operator in the Department of Public Works and Helen Balzer of Staten Island, a physical therapy aide in the Department of Mental Hygiene's Willowbrook State School.

Twelve Awards

There were twelve $15 awards. Six of them went to Upstate residents: Nicholas Barbera of Troy, a file clerk in the Department of Public Works (two awards); Patricia A. Boehmer of Schenectady, a typist in the Department of Public Works; Gall H. Bleser of Schenectady a typist in the Department of Civil Service; Gordon E. Mitchell of Buffalo, an X-ray technician in the Department of Health's Roswell Park Memorial Institute and Arthur Hillier of Dansville in the Department of Mental Hygiene's Craig Colony and Hospital.

Other $15 awards went to John LeFevre of Staten Island an attendant in the Department of Mental Hygiene's Willowbrook State School; Martin Ellerstein of Staten Island, a compensation reviewing examiner in the Department of Labor's Workmen's Compensation Board; Dominick Cascio of Maspeth, a locksmith, and Mary D. Lichoray, of Westbury, a supervising nurse, both of the Department of Mental Hygiene's Creedmoor State Hospital; Gerard Vandenhoff, of Long Beach, a senior stenographer in the Department of Labor (also received a $10 award); and Margaret Binkler, of Long Island City, a clerk in the Executive Department's Alcoholic Beverage Control Division.

A $10 award went jointly to Michael Pomodoro of Albany, a senior compensation claims examiner and Anna Turton, of Watervliet, a typist in the Department of Labor's workmen's compensation board. Individual $10 awards were granted to Dorothy C. Claxton of Rennselaer, a dictaphone machine transcriber in the Department of Civil Service, and to Lee Rivkin, of Springfield Gardens, a typist in the Department of Labor's Workmen's Compensation Board.

Merit Certificates

Certificates of Merit without cash grants went to Anne Kondrat, of Cohoes, a senior stenographer in the Department of Labor's Workmen's Compensation Board; Gail Moore, of Albany, a clerk in the Department of Health; John L. Sullivan, of Cohoes, an offset printing machine operator in the Education Department; and Mariette Bollard, of Schenectady, a stenographer.

Others receiving Certificates of Merit were Kenneth E. Carr Jr. of Hamilton, a laborer in the Department of Public Works; Daniel J. Kelleher of New Hartford, a supervising industrial investigator in the Department of Labor; Richard J. Mucha, of Buffalo, a plumber and steamfitter in the Department of Mental Hygiene's Buffalo State Hospital; Edward W. Bricker, of Forest Hills, an investigator in the Executive Department's Alcoholic Beverage Control Division and Francesco Martello, of the Bronx, a senior clerk in the Department of Labor's Workmen's Compensation Board.

VETERAN — State Comptroller Arthur Levitt presents Edward Farrelly, principal account clerk in the Bureau of Accounts, Department of Audit and Control, with a distinguished service pin in recognition of his 47 years of State service. Audit And Control Veterans Cited For 6,014 Years Of 'Distinguished Achievement'

(Special to the Leader)

ALBANY, Nov. 18—State Comptroller Arthur Levitt last week gave recognition to 181 employees of his Department of Audit and Control with 25 or more years of State service. The Comptroller, while presiding at the Department's first annual service award program at the Inn Towne Restaurant here, praised the "dedication and selflessness" of civil service employees in his Department and their "distinguished records of achievement" which helped immeasurably in his own electoral successes.

Levitt also noted that the aggregate service of those honored reached 6,014 years, "a bit of arithmetic achieved by our electronic computer." Using his own pencil, he quipped, Levitt found that, principal account clerk, Edward Farrelly, who joined State service in 1916 and the Comptroller's Office a year later, "is the most senior in point of service of us all—with 47 years."

In addition, the Comptroller said that those in his Department with at least a quarter-century of State service amount to 12% of all employed in Audit and Control.

The facts were awarded to male employees and spray brooches to the ladies, with appropriate stones indicative of years of service: a ruby for 25 or more years service; sapphire for 30; emerald for 35; diamond for 40 or more.

The Comptroller also gave recognition to Jay Neumann of his Municipal Affairs Division, a 37-year veteran of State service who was a classmate of Levitt's through grade school and high school in Brooklyn, New York.
