FORREST CASE WRITES OF LIFE ON SUB CHASER

May Be Discharged Soon

A letter received from Ensign Forrest N. Case by Prof. Douglass, gives us some interesting news of this ex-Senior. Mr. Case left College in December, 1917, enlisting in the Navy. His commission was conferred early in August, 1918.

Mr. Case hopes to be released this spring, and to return to College for the fall term. He is now stationed on the U. S. Sub Chaser No. 20, which expects soon to leave for duty in the North sea. Mr. Case enclosed a picture of this ship, a cut of which appears above.

ROOSEVELT COMMEMORATION

Dr. Thompson will lecture on "Theodore Roosevelt, His Life and Works" next Friday morning in Student Assembly. This may seem rather a late date for such a commemoration, but we trust Dr. Thompson's ability to deliver an address that will revive all our memories of this, our most famous American.

Juniors Win Championship

Sophs Put Up Stiff Fight

For the second consecutive year the Junior girls have won the interclass basketball championship. Last year it was from the Senior team, but this year it was the Sophomores who disputed their claim to the title. In the first game, Monday, the Juniors won by a score of 28 to 15. Both teams fought hard for supremacy, but the Juniors were the stronger and won. This game spelled doom for the Sophs, for Jessie Darling, the clever forward, hurt her knee so badly that she was unable to play in the second game. The deciding game was a thriller from start to finish, the Juniors winning by a score of 28 to 10. Lillian Hopper, who took Jessie Darling's place, surprised even her own admirers by playing a splendid game. The real treat was the playing of Ellen

President Brubacher Entertains in Honor of Team and Coach Maroney

Brilliant Athletic Future Prophesied for State College

President A. R. Brubacher entertained a company of 15 men, including the team, the coach, the Athletic Council and the Editor of the "News," in honor of the State College basketball team and Coach Maroney, on Friday evening, March 28. A delicious dinner was served in the private dining room of the College cafeteria, at 6 o'clock.

At the conclusion of the dinner, Dr. Brubacher made a few remarks concerning the fine quality of the coach and his men. He then spoke of the untiring efforts of Professor Risley toward getting a successful College team. Speaking with great admiration of Mr. Risley as a man, a teacher and a booster, the speaker introduced him to the men as the father of the team.

Professor Risley responded with a toast "Our Boys." He spoke at some length on the successful basketball season, the splendid work of the men and the ceaseless efforts of the coach. He said that their playing and clean sportsmanship equalled that of any of our opponents during the 1918-19 season. He called this an epoch-making banquet, an historical affair, and said: "I could not have missed this first annual banquet for our team." He reminded us of the fact that war is over, and that

Announcement of Successful Candidates

Associate Editors Chosen After Close Competition

The following people have been chosen to act as associate editors of the "News": From the Class of 1920—Kenneth Holben, Elsie Hanbury, Bertha West, Dorothy Banner and Ellen Donohue. From the Class of 1921—Mary Whish, Florence Stambro, Marjorie Potter, Edna Lowerree. From the Class of 1922—Elisa Rigouard, Louise Persons. The Editors congratulate the successful contestants on the excellent quality of work which they have offered.

The new members were chosen on a strict basis of merit, according to the constitution which governs "News" elections, determined by the records of service for the paper.

Commencing with this issue and continuing until May, the "News" will be actively managed and edited by the junior members of the board, under the supervision of the Senior Editors. This will constitute the try-out for the senior editor positions.

SERGEANT ERNEST PUDEURBAUGH, EX-'19, ATTENDS FRENCH UNIVERSITY

Word has just been received by Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Puderbaugh, of Manchester road, Schenectady, that their son, Ernest T. Puderbaugh, sergeant first class of the medical department, has received orders which will take him to the University of Toulouse, France, where he will pursue a course in French letters, taking French, literature, history, philosophy and English. The course is one offered to officers and men of the American Expeditionary Forces and requires college graduation or two years college course at some creditable American college.

PURCHASE OF LAND ADJACENT TO COLLEGE

Legislature Passes Bill

It is now up to Governor Smith as to whether State College obtains the land between it and the Albany High School. A bill providing $75,000 for the purchase of this land has passed the Legislature and now awaits the Governor's signature.

It seems almost too good to be true, to have at least the land for our assured expansion. Ever since State College was founded students here have visualized several new buildings on this lot. Representatives of the four classes have been to the Governor to inform him how much we students need and want this bill signed.

STUDENT ASSEMBLY

Owing to the stormy weather there were many vacant seats at Student Assembly, Friday morning. Myskania presided. The Athletic Council having recommended George Schiavone for basketball manager next year, a rising vote was taken and Mr. Schiavone unanimously elected. A representative of each class spoke in interest of class athletics; Mr. Lichtenstein, for the Senior class; Mr. Springmann, for the Junior class; Mr. Baker, for the Sophomore class, and Mr. Miller, for the Freshman class. The rest of the hour was given over to a "sing." Florence Stubbs, '20, leading in the absence of Elizabeth Archibald, College song leader.

CLASS ELECTIONS

Use your heads at elections of class officers to-morrow morning! Vote for the best man for the job. You know better than anyone else who this is. No matter if the nominee for an office has been a hard worker and big success at some other job, use your own judgment as to whether he can fill the ticket for which he is candidate. Don't let personal feelings enter into your voting at all. Of course, we all have our preferences as to who we'd like to see elected, but let's start next year right by putting in office our most efficient candidates. The names are published again in this week's issue. Read them over and decide definitely before you go to meeting who the ablest man is. Vote once, but be sure you have the right name on your slip! The most important elections are those of the Junior class. Senior officers have a lot of dignity to maintain. Juniors, see to it that the most efficient, best all-round man or girl gets elected.

FOR THE FUTURE

We heard a girl say, "Isn't this the dearest hole you ever struck?" It's her own fault if that's the way she feels, and besides what she says isn't true. What she lacks is pep of her own, that little spark of congeniality that people possess who realize this "hole" isn't so dead as it might be.

We admit we don't have quite so many or such elaborate affairs as some other colleges, but the regular ones we do have are mighty good fun.

We are young yet and have time and bright outlooks for growing. The culmination of an idea of a live place may not arrive during our four years but—all the more fun hoping, planning and working for bigger, better things.

It's now while we are young that perpetual guarantees of absence of future deadness must be established. Customs give a mellowness to even new places. We can all work better together when a mutual benefit and pleasure is to result. Let's try to have each Senior class establish a definite custom that is practical, original, and enforced! No "me time of college life is more enjoyed or better remembered than Moving-up Day. We have some splendid customs, and more pleasant, but rather weakly-put-over traditions. When something really worth while is suggested let's see it through, and next year when that big '23 comes here, eager for new experiences, let's impress them right from the start that State is a "regular" place, full of live times.

RUMORS, WE HOPE

Amusing rumors of a coming fashion show or model show have been afloat about the halls for several days. Like all rumors, these stories have different contents, but the general impression is that a number of upperclassman girls have been selected to appear before a group of Freshmen, for the purpose of showing correct apparel for school, street and evening wear. At first we thought somebody was "kidding" us into believing that spring display week or the Empire model show had moved up from down town. But the persistency of the rumors leads us to wonder if there be serious consideration of a State College gown display.

The consensus of opinion is that nothing quite so absurd will ever happen, at any rate, there has been no official, public announcement to this effect. The scheme, as rumor has it, would be decidedly insulting to the Freshmen. It implies that they are incapable of judging propriety in dress. At least it implies that they fail to exercise such judgment. While it is a decided compliment to those girls who belong to the "chosen few," it is keenly felt by the remainder of the College girls as an insult to their judgment. Not to be chosen implies deficiency in the matter of proper dress.

But the worst feature of the whole plan is that it will put State College on the basis of a female college. It is distinctly a "co-ed" College, and will grow more "co-ed" in the coming years, if not made too effeminate. A gown display is proper at Vassar, Wellesley, Mt. Holyoke, and other women's colleges, but at State College it is decidedly out of place and unwelcome. This women's seminary or finishing school affair is inconsistent with the distinctly "co-ed" rating that our basketball team has secured for us. It puts a "ha-ha" on the men who have played on the team.

As we said before, the fashion show is only a matter of rumor thus far, and we sincerely hope it will stay a matter of rumor, forever and ever.

REMEMBER-APRIL 25!

How's the song contest coming? We presume everybody's busy "scratching" for the honor of being the composer of State College's Alma Mater. If you have an idea and can't express it try the A. M. and C. M. Williamson idea. It's better to have half the honor than no honor at all. Even though you do work doubly remember the time's the same—April 25.

FROSH, ATTENTION

Do you remember when we discussed Red Cross? Where are the 30 members or more who promised to come? The same 10 or 12 come every Monday night, but where are the rest of you? Remember we're the only class in College besides two or three Juniors doing Red Cross work; so let 1922 be well represented. Let us keep up the good work we have started!

O Ye Editor!

Does it seem possible that there are in College, yea verily, even in our College, such benighted creatures that they know not the citizen's code of morals? It seemeth as though the poor, misguided things have no respect for the property rights of others. They pay unwelcome visits to unlocked lockers; they gently abstract from therein such small, inconsequential things as pocket-books and lunches, yea—lunches! Lo, I say unto them, how is a person to live if both money and lunch are extracted from her pocket?

Let the guilty repent them of their wicked ways and vow they will sin no more. Selah!

A SOPHOMORE.

MISS FUTTERER READS

Miss Agnes Futterer read George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion" at the final entertainment of the Woman's Club of Albany, Tuesday evening, March 25, in the Assembly room of the Albany Historical and Art Society Building. The entertainment was given under the direction of the Fine Arts department, of which Mrs. Adna Risley is leader.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Dr. James I. Wyer, State Librarian, will be the speaker at commencement this year. Dr. Wyer is generally considered an authority on library work in America. The library school, of which he is the head, is the best of its kind anywhere. He has spent the last two years organizing library work in American cantonnments under the auspices of the American Library Association.

The topic of his speech has not yet been announced.

FOURTH CAMERA TALK GIVEN BY PROFESSOR KIRTLAND

Professor Kirtland will give his fourth photography lecture Monday afternoon, April 7, at 4:45 in the Chemistry room. The subject under discussion will be "Indoor and Outdoor Exposures," and promises to be wholly as instructive and entertaining as the previous ones.

MEN'S SMOKER

Faculty Smoker to Students To-morrow Night

To-morrow night the men of the Faculty will give a smoker to the male students in the College gym. Professor Douglass has promised to have plenty of smokes, and plenty of cats, and when we recall the cider, doughnuts and sandwiches which he supplied last year at Dean Horner's "Get-together," we are willing to take his word for it. The stunts and races will be in charge of leader Maroney, who has arranged for an interclass relay, a 75-yard sprint with two men representing each class, a boxing match, and a basketball game. The Faculty and students both will be represented in the novelty race, three-legged race and the novelty three-legged race. Last year Dr. Painter and Dean Horner teamed together and defeated the best that the students offered, and they have planned to enter the contests again this year. We hope the student team will carry off this honor to-morrow night. This is the first time that the students and Faculty have fraternized this year and any member of either the Faculty or student body who misses this treat will miss a jolly good time. Don't forget to be on hand Friday, April 4th.

cases affecting the welfare of the student, and each case will be carefully scrutinized by the Dean. It is therefore urged upon each student that he register carefully, considering his own comfort so far as possible. For example:

a. A commuter should inform himself about train accommodations, and take care not to register for work at hours when he will be unable to be at the college.

b. A student who plans to engage in outside work should consider the hours that will be needed for that employment and should not register for college work at those hours.

it was indeed a great privilege to be able to sit at a banquet table and so hopefully discuss an art of peace. In closing, he praised the pushing attitude taken by the President in the matter of College athletics.

Dr. Brubacher described the situation at the beginning of the year. He said, "We had only 35 men at the beginning of the season—a brilliant evidence of our patriotic support of the war." He then praised the work of Coach Maroney, who brought a victorious team out from dark discouragement.

Speaking on the subject "The Athletic Future of State College," Coach Maroney recalled the conditions in 1917, when we had basketball, baseball, hockey, track and tennis. Then came the war and the crippling of athletics. Mr. Maroney said that this year's success was but the beginning of a glorious future for State College. He prophesied the time when the number of men would be greater than the number of women. He said that only a few years hence we would be known in intercollegiate circles for track, football, baseball, tennis and hockey, as well as basketball. By way of conclusion, the coach gave his personal testimonial of the loyal support of President Bru-bacher and the faculty in general. He stressed the aid given by the Athletic Council, especially emphasizing the value of the training table. Lastly, he lauded the spirit and work of the men on the team.

Dr. Brubacher next introduced Captain Fitzgerald of the team, who spoke on "The College Back of the Team." "Fitz" praised the support of Dr. Brubacher, Prof. Risley and the Athletic Council in every move the team has made. He emphasized the immense importance of the training table as a social advantage. He mentioned student attendance at games, faculty attendance at games, the collection of the student tax, and the cheering and support of the College as a whole. In closing, "Fitz" bespoke the thanks and appreciation of the team for the backing received, and for the honor of the evening.

The next speaker, the Editor of the "News," Donald Tower, responded with the toast "What the Team Has Done for the College." Among the points brought out were, that the team made possible the collection of the student tax, that the team had set a splendid example in clean sportsmanship and sticktuitiveness in the face of discouragement. Further than this, the team has brought the student body together, and has strengthened the bonds between students and Faculty. After mentioning the importance of the colleges listed on the 1918-19 schedule, and after stressing the significance of the fact that State College was in a position to refuse to join a State league, and that she now belongs to the Eastern Intercollegiate league, Mr. Towner concluded his remarks with the summarizing sentence, "The team has put State College on the map."

Several rousing cheers for "Prexy" and coach ended one of the most significant events in the history of State College. When a college president entertains a group of men in honor of the College team, there can be no doubt for the future of the team and of the College.

INTERCLASS BASKETBALL

Soph-Frosh game to-day, 4:40. The much talked of interclass basketball series has been started at last and promises to be very interesting. The first game took place yesterday between the Seniors and Juniors. The second game takes place to-day when the Sophomore team plays the Freshmen. The fur is bound to fly in this game, because the two classes have not met in any contests yet, and there is a lot of stored-up energy waiting to be released. The rivalry is keen and it is sure to come out at this game. Both teams are in good condition and seem evenly matched so a lively game is assured.
