TWO WORKSHOPS

TRANSFER LITHOGRAPHY

Monday through Thursday, Jan. 12-15, 1976. This unique workshop will deal with the basic process of transfers and the making of transfer paper. A series of demonstrations will show the making of transfer paper and the different methods by which one makes transfers to stones and plates. Participants will be given time to practice various techniques and will be given the opportunity to make the paper. This workshop is intended for those with some experience in lithography.

Thomas O'Connor has been Professor ^{of} Art with the State University of New York at Albany since 1962 and is regarded as outstanding in the area of transfer lithography.

Fee: $95 (includes all materials except paper for printing) Limit: 20 Students

CASTING SOLID LUCITE

Monday through Sunday, January 12-18, 1976. State University of New York at Albany is the only college or university in the country offering coursework in the colored cast lucite process for sculpture. In this workshop, students will be instructed in all phases of the solid cast lucite process. Each participant will create and cast solid (colored or transparent clear) lucite sculptures with the aid of the autoclave pressure and heat vessel. In addition, basic skills necessary to working with sheet Plexiglas will be covered. Slide presentations and films will accompany the discussions. Among the topics to be covered:

- Mold making techniques [Metal, rubber, etc.]
- Lucite Dye processes [Transparent and opaque coloring].
- Grinding, sanding and polishing of castworks
- Heat forming and annealing of finished works

Dennis Byng. Professor of Art at the State University of New York at Albany since 1968, is a pioneer in the field of sculpture with plastics and has made an outstanding contribution to the field by his study of light and its relationship to three-dimensional space.

Fee: $135 [includes lucite raw materials for sculpture]
Limit: 20 Students

Dear Warren,

The workshop described in the attached sheet (background) are unusual enough to call to your special attention.

For photo purposes, the best times will be on Tuesday for the "Casting Solid Lucite" from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Fine Arts Building, Room 223 and on Wednesday or Thursday for "Transfer Lithography" in the Fine Arts Building, Room 126 also from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

This should make interesting feature material. Hope you agree.

FARNSWORTH TO LEAVE CASDA POST AT UNIVERSITY AT ALBANY

Alton U. Farnsworth, executive director of the Capital Area School Development Association, with headquarters at The University at Albany, has announced his resignation effective June 30. CASDA is the field service arm of the university's School of Education, with 71 affiliated school districts in the 11-county capital area.

Mr. Farnsworth has held his present position since 1970 and prior to that date he was superintendent of schools at Guilderland for 12 years. Before joining CASDA, he completed 35 years as a teacher, principal, and superintendent in public schools of New York State.

In addition to his CASDA position, Mr. Farnsworth serves as a Councilman for the Town of Guilderland, and is a director and vice-chairman of the executive committee of the Pupil Benefits Insurance Plan based in Schenectady.

Mr. Farnsworth, who resides in Altamont, has had broad experience in consulting work with school districts throughout the State and he plans to continue the work upon retirement.

"DIARY PAINTINGS" TO OPEN AT UNIVERSITY AT ALBANY GALLERY

Robert Huot's "Diary Paintings" opens Monday, Jan. 19, in the Art Gallery at The University at Albany. It will be on display through Feb. 15. A reception is scheduled from 2-5 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 18.

The paintings are a personal log of sometimes mundane, sometimes significant events, thoughts, images, persons, and actions. The format generally is a roll of canvas of barely manageable size, some of which the artist rolls out each day, works upon, and rolls up the portion that is dry. The works are non-relational.

Mr. Huot is on the art faculty at Hunter College where he teaches painting, drawing, film making, introductory studio, and design. He has had a number of shows, both in this country and abroad, since 1964. In addition to his "diary paintings," he also has done diary films.

SPRING THEATRE PRODUCTIONS SET AT UA

The University at Albany Theatre has announced a revised schedule of major productions scheduled for the spring session.

In keeping with the Bicentennial spirit of 1976, the first major production will be William Gibson's "American Primitives (John & Abigail)," based upon the lives of John and Abigail Adams as taken from their letters, books, and diaries. The production, directed by Jerome Hanley, will open in the Main Theatre of the Performing Arts Center on Wednesday, Feb. 18, and run through Sunday, Feb. 22. Performances will begin at 8 p.m. Wednesday-Saturday and 2:30 p.m. on Sunday.

Euripides' "Medea," translated by Robinson Jeffers and directed by Edward Mendus, will be staged in the PAC Arena Theatre Mar. 17-20 at 8 p.m. and Mar. 21 at 2:30 p.m.

The production will deal more with the legend of Medea than with the Medea of Euripides' play.

The third and final production of the season will be "The Playboy of the Western World" by J.M. Synge to be performed in the Main Theatre Apr. 7-11, at 8 p.m. Wednesday-Saturday and 2:30 p.m. on Sunday. The production will be directed by Edward Golden.

Ticket information is available by calling the PAC Box Office, 457-86-6, Monday-Friday, 11 a.m.-4 p.m.

ALGERIA SETTING FOR FILM AT UNIVERSITY AT ALBANY

"Ramparts of Clay," a drama of one woman's inability to accept the subservient role defined for her by the ancient traditions of her desert village, will be shown Friday and Saturday, Jan. 23 and 24, at 8 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center Recital Hall of The University at Albany as part of the current Prize International Cinema series.

The film, produced and directed by Jean-Louis Bertucelli, features Leila Schenna. It was filmed in Algeria. The lead character's personal crisis is paralleled by her people's difficult awakening to their economic exploitation and their decision to protest it. Because of its controversial political nature, "Ramparts of Clay" was banned in Tunisia and Algeria; however, it has received overwhelming international acclaim for its beauty and honesty in revealing one of the most intriguing cultures of those countries.

Tickets are $2, general admission, and $1.25 for students and senior citizens.

TOKYO STRING QUARTET AT UNIVERSITY AT ALBANY ON JAN. 25

The famed Tokyo String Quartet will be heard in concert at 4 p.m. on Sunday, Jan. 25, in Page Hall on the downtown campus of The University at Albany, the second program in the season's University Celebrity Series. Featured on the program will be compositions by Mozart, Bartok, and Debussy.

Tickets at $3 general admission and $2 for students and senior citizens are on sale at the university's Performing Arts Center box office, 457-8606, on the uptown campus, and at the information desk in Draper Hall on the downtown campus, 472-7933. The University Celebrity Series of chamber music is sponsored by the Office of University Affairs and the Department of Music.

The Tokyo String Quartet, a remarkable group of young artists, burst upon the musical scene five years ago when the Amadeus Quartet awarded them the coveted first prize in the prestigious Munich International Competition. Invitations poured in from key cities throughout the world and a recording contract with Deutsche Grammophon followed soon afterwards. The first release won high critical acclaim and the Grand Prix du Disque.

The musicians received their training at the famous Toho Music Academy in Tokyo and pursued their studies at the Juilliard School where they studied under Raphael Hillyer, violist, and Robert Mann, violinist, both members of the Juilliard Quartet.

Members of the quartet are Kiochiro Harada, violin; Kikuei Ikeda, violin; Kazuhide Isomura, viola; and Sadao Harada, violoncello. Wrote a New York Times critic, "The performers were most immediately noteworthy for the extraordinary precision and elegance of the playing, and for the exquisitely matched beauty of tone the players drew from the quartet of Amati instruments they are now using.

GOVERNMENT CAREER DAYS SET AT THE UNIVERSITY AT ALBANY

The first government career day and job information fair at The University at Albany will take place on Tuesday and Wednesday, Feb. 3 and 4, in the Campus Center ballroom from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day. It is being sponsored by the Capital District College Public Agency Council, of which George Hameline is chairman, and by the University Placement Office.

The combined program will give students at two-year and four-year colleges an opportunity to meet federal and state government recruiters and to discuss with them the diversified career fields available in government. Recruiters will show films and slides and there will be brochures available to describe the eligibility requirements, application procedures, salaries, and locations. More than 20 agencies and departments of New York State and the Federal Government will be represented.

A partial listing of those scheduled to participate includes Internal Revenue Service, U. S. Secret Service, Social Security Administration, Federal Housing Administration, U. S. Bureau of Mines, U. S. Civil Service Commission, NYS Civil Service, Department of Defense (Watervliet Arsenal), Schenectady County Civil Service, Immigration and Naturalization Service, Armed Forces, National Parks Service, Department of Labor, Federal Highway Administration, Veterans Administration, and NYS Department of Mental Hygiene.

Many of the 14 area colleges in the area are making arrangements for little buses and car pools to transport students to the campus.

SPRING LIBRARY WORKSHOPS SLATED AT U.A.

Four spring workshops have been scheduled by the School of Library and Information Science, The University at Albany. Participation, which is limited, will range from 30 to 60, depending on the subject.

"Public and School Library Networks" will be offered Friday, Mar. 12, under the direction of Vincent J. Aceto, of the SLIS faculty. The workshop, designed for school and public librarians, will explore possible models for cooperation based on an extensive literature search and define the requirements for an effective school and public library information network.

Under the direction of Lillian K. Orsini, also of the SLIS faculty, "Making and Using Puppets with Children", is set for Friday, Mar. 19. The value of puppetry in reaching various types of library audiences will be discussed at the workshop, also intended for school and public librarians. Included will be programming, demonstrations, and techniques.

Slated for Friday, Apr. 2, and Friday, May 7, is "Measurement of Library Services", with Ann Prentice, of SLIS, as director. The sessions will be devoted to studies of "How Well Are We Really Doing What We Do?". Participants will consider their own library problems and develop a measure to apply to one or more of them and, at the second session, after using the measure they will share the results and their implications.

"Legal Reference" will be the subject of the Friday, Apr. 30, workshop, with Joe Morehead, of SLIS, serving as coordinator. The director will be Mary Farrigon, a practicing attorney and formerly law librarian and instructor in law. Surveyed will be the various legal reference tools currently used in public and academic libraries.

Additional information about the workshops is available from Lucille Whalen, coordinator of continuing education, SLIS, The University at Albany, Albany 12222.

UNIVERSITY AT ALBANY PRESIDENT FIELDS NAMES TASK FORCE ON PRIORITIES AND RESOURCES

Emmett B. Fields, president of The University at Albany, has named a Presidential Task Force on Priorities and Resources, necessitated by the cuts requested in the Executive Budget for the fiscal year 1976-1977.

John M. Spalek, professor of German and department chairman, will chair the new body. Other members are Jack E. Gelfand, economics; John A. Hartigan, assistant vice president and controller; Arthur A. Hitchcock, counseling and personnel service; William K. Holstein, dean, School of Business; Kathleen E. Kendall, rhetoric and communication; Henry Kuivila, chemistry; Ricardo Nirenberg, mathematics; Vincent O'Leary, criminal justice; Frank G. Pogue, African and Afro-American Studies; John H. Rosenbach, educational psychology and statistics; Phillip L. Sirotkin, vice president for academic affairs, ex officio; Richard G. Wilkinson, anthropology; Ira L. Birnbaum and Audrey Nieson, undergraduate students; and David T. Rowell, graduate student.

In his charge to the task force, Dr. Fields said, "The necessities before the Task Force embrace the most important issues facing us in these times, and I do not think it too much to say that your work is crucial to the University. It is crucial that the reductions be determined in such way as to preserve the principal strengths of the campus and limit impairments of its ability to meet its educational obligations. It is crucial also, I believe, to emerge with a University Center which is wholesomely
