The identity of the queen will be kept a secret until the coronation which will take place in the auditorium at 8:00 o'clock. The stunts will begin promptly after coronation.

Class Stunts
Virginia Furey, '39, is general supervisor of all class stunts for Campus day. Stunt directors are: Peter Hart, '39; Louis Francello, '40; Catherine O'Bryan, '41, and Frank Evans, '42.

Newest Educational Practices Increase Number of Pamphlets

In accordance with the modern trends in education, the new publications issued by the Office of Education, United States Department of the Interior, cover a wide range of educational interest.

Two of the recently-published bulletins are advance chapters of the "Biennial Survey of Education in the United States." They are entitled "Higher Education, 1930-36," and "Statistics of City School Systems, 1935-36," and cost fifteen and ten cents respectively.

A co-operative university research project, sponsored by the Office of Education with emergency funds, brought forth two bulletins, "College Student Mortality," a fifteen-cent bulletin, tells how many students stop going to college and why, and "Education and the Civil Service in New York City," also reports the findings by many colleges and universities in this project.

hygiene for the Office of Education. This study should prove of interest to school superintendents and school board members, since it includes information garnered from nine states.

How colleges and universities face, or fail to face the problems of student accidents, illnesses, and fatigue is recorded in a pamphlet, "Sanitation in Institutions of Higher Education," which costs ten cents.

Dr. David Segel, specialist in tests and measurements in the Office of Education, has recently had published two bulletins, "Nature and Use of the Cumulative Record," one of these new publications, says: "Greatest aid to a pupil can be given only when his rate and trend of development in various intellectual, social, and physical traits is known." Included in this publication are descriptions of the types of cumulative records found in different school systems, and outlines of the purposes for which such records may be employed.

Appointment Bureau Lists New Positions

The Appointment bureau announces that the following students have recently received positions: Marion Ball, '38, substitute, commerce, Berne-Knox central school, Berne; Mrs. Hattie Deane, graduate student 1938-39, substitute, elementary school position, Schodack Landing; and Jacob Schaeffer, graduate student, '38, history, Cooperstown.

Paul G. Bulger, secretary of the bureau, urges that all seniors and grads who have not already registered with the bureau do so at once. The Appointment bureau also urges and requests that special care be shown in the choice of agency pictures.

Sororities Plan To Change Date Of Rush Period

President Brubacher Gives Permission to Council for Earlier Date

A change has been made in the time of formal sorority rushing. Mary Agnes Metzger, '39, president of Intersorority council, announced that it will be conducted the weekend preceding Christmas vacation, beginning with December 9, instead of the weekend following final examinations as has been the usual procedure.

A suggestion for such a change was brought before Intersorority council. Since many of the sororities favored this movement, a committee of investigation was appointed consisting of Kay O'Brien, Alpha Rho; Christine Ades, Gamma Kappa Phi; Mary Agnes Metzger, Chi Sigma Theta; Jane Schwerzmann, Psi Gamma; and Charlotte Fox, Pi Alpha Tau, all seniors.

Keep Regular Events
This committee decided that the weekend following Thanksgiving would be an appropriate time. Due to the fact that rushing would be on Friday, Saturday and Sunday instead of on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, a new plan of rushing affairs was formulated. The program is to consist of a buffet supper on Friday evening, a formal dinner on Saturday night and a tea Sunday afternoon. The formal dinner is still the most important function of all.

The faculty approved the plan as submitted by the committee of investigation, but at President Brubacher's suggestion the date was changed to the weekend preceding Christmas vacation.

Despite the change in time, the sorority silent period rush rules and rushing procedure remain the same as before.

Epsilon Eta Phi formally announces its dissolution as a sorority.

D. and A. Council To Present Actor

Dramatic and Art council will present Wilfrid Walter, one of England's greatest actors, on Monday at 8:15 o'clock in Page hall auditorium.

Dr. Walter is to appear in a stage and will make-up on the stage. This performance is one of the first of the English thespians on this his third tour of the United States and Canada. His two previous appearances in this country were very enthusiastically received. He is best known for his brilliant characterization of Hamlet in the L. H. Howard production "Hamlet."

Walter is well known here and in England as a versatile actor. His numerous roles have earned him much richly deserved praise. In these short sketches he often draws on material that he has written himself.

Wilfrid Walter was well received when he appeared before the student body at Teachers' association last week.

Tickets for his appearance can be exchanged in the rotunda of Draper hall.

Members of the council who will assist for this production are: Virginia Bolton, Virginia Furey, seniors; June Wilson, Ruby Stewart, juniors; Mary Miller and Vivian Livingston, sophomores.

Freshman try-outs who will assist are: Elizabeth Simmons, Kathryn Richards, June Hamshuter, Kathryn Peterson, Kathryn Wilson, and Ruth Neisen.

Chris Ades, Seventeenth Queen, Wields Power on Campus Night

Well, the suspense is over. After three preliminary weeks of hectic guessing and conjecturing, and yes, betting — stake it from one who knows. I've been around the Actresses offices. Saturday night saw the crowning of Chris Ades as Campus Queen for 1938-39, the seventeenth to reign in the history of State college.

Page hall auditorium was rapidly filling long before the 8:00 o'clock mark set for the beginning of festivities. Finally, amid craning necks, subdued whispers, and gradually muted murmurs, the royal procession made its way slowly and impressively down the aisles and onto the stage. Queen Chris, crowned in the traditional white and carrying a coronet of roses led the way. Close behind her came the attending court, Betty Hayford and Regina Murphy, seniors; Jane Wilson and Betty Goren, juniors; Anne Kattray and Madelon Stewart, sophomores; Dolores Havelok and June Haulshalter, freshmen, and train bearers, Vesper, who added to the color of the event.

This was Virginia Hall and Helen Henze, seniors; Mary Arnet and Dorothy Pfenhard, juniors; and Jeanne Jensen and Muriel Rappaport, freshmen.

On the stage, Chris bent her head to receive the crown from last year's queen Lucille Zak. This duty, queen of the new queen, rendered over the program for the rest of the evening.

Speeches, any introduction must be given by the new queen. She gave a brief and polite, but still royal address in honoring to carry the honor bestowed upon her Saturday night.

That honor was a crowning in more ways than one for Chris, for it meant that she was the new queen of the State College for Teachers, Albany, N. Y., for the coming year. And this year, besides being Campus Queen, Chris is vice-president of the class of 1939, a member of Myskanna and one of the most popular and well known persons of her class.

So it's three cheers and long live the queen! Another long-anticipated event in the college year has passed as another grand evening to chalk up for future reminiscence.

Attendance and participation is compulsory for all freshmen. The rest of the morning's program will be a business meeting with John Edge, '39, president of the student association, presiding.

Jolly Young Freshmen To Sing "Alma Mater"

"Sing, sing, sing" will be the cry which the upper classes will yell at the freshmen in this morning's assembly. The reason for this cry is that the class of 1942 will rise from their seats, clear their throats and, under scrutiny of the observing sophomores and upperclassmen, sing the "Alma Mater."

After this, in keeping with State's traditions, the freshmen, egged on by taunts and jeers of upperclassmen, will form a "chain gang" procession and march around the assembly singing their theme song, "Life is very different, so very different here."

Attendance and participation is compulsory for all freshmen. The rest of the morning's program will be a business meeting with John Edge, '39, president of the student association, presiding.

This program is being planned under the direction of Joseph Laska, '42.

The speaker of the evening will be the Rev. John Finn of science faculty chaplain of the Union college Newman club.

At the last meeting, the committee for Newman's annual harvest dance was appointed by president Lawrence Stratner, '39. This dance is planned for next Friday in the Commons. The committee for the dance is as follows: Della Dolan, '39, chairman, Peter Hart, '39, Larry Balon and Audrey Connor, juniors, and Paul Gratton, '41.

Lehman for election to the office of governor, according to the results tabulated in the State college straw vote conducted by the Forum of Politics, Senator Robert F. Wagner, the Democratic candidate for United States senator, followed close on the heels of Dewey, polling 301 votes to the attorney's 318.

The contest for lieutenant governor ended in a 9 vote margin for Republican Candidate, Frederic Ballentine, who garnered 227 votes to Democrat Poletti's 218.

The offices of attorney general, representative at large, and United States senator, for the unexpired term created by the death of former Senator Roy S. We're Sleepy

"There is nothing that man enjoys more than leisure, and this does not mean that one simply does nothing during that time."—Chaucer

At this point in the school year we begin to tire just a trifle and this always causes us to remember the awful dilapidated feeling that we possess during the long grind between the end of Christmas vacation and the beginning of the Easter one.

For a long time we have felt that this arduous and lengthy period of study and school activity is the cause of much of the illness and nervous tension that exists among the students during that stretch.

If the above condition does exist and we believe it does—then it should be rectified. We think that the best solution would be to change the date of our spring recess to March 3 through March 13.

Under this system the semester is split into more equal sections, and by so doing, we do not lessen the school days but we have two vacations to relax in instead of the usual one because we would still have the weekend at Easter time.

We suggest to the administration that they appoint a faculty committee to investigate the possibilities of such a change in schedule. We'd like to see if some method could not be devised whereby this long strain could be lessened when next semester starts getting bumpy.

A Penny for Your Thoughts?

Commentstater
(THE COMMENTSTATER is given the widest latitude as author of this column, though his viewpoints do not necessarily always reflect those of the State College News.)

Words fail us. Yes, we admit that this situation occurs but seldom. However, this week we raise our voices in righteous indignation over the events of last Saturday night. Never in our histrionic lives have we been so bored by a set of stunts—the senior stunt excluded.

Let's take them apart piece by piece. They were not obscene; they were not unusual; they were not even funny. They were merely incredibly dull—again, the senior stunt excluded. To our minds this was a new type of stunt, carefully worked out, with a little freshness and vitality. The others—well, confidentially, see Mischa Auer! No, it is not the fact that we are seniors that makes us favor the Study in Persian Psychology. It is simply that we are sick and tired of local color shows with elementary background and unity.

The frosh were notable in one or two respects: Bernie Perlman, in our minds, is something close to genius, and it is our sincere regret that he was given such a lousy introduction to the State college stage. The trumpet duet was also an admirable exhibition of technique—it brings to our mind the lack of and the need for a college orchestra. The general theme—a radio program—was as trite as a Vox Pop hour, but the aforementioned were worthy high spots.

The sophomore stunt was a shade better, but too reminiscent of last year's stunts to interest us. We liked Dower and Smith in the background, and we still think Cohen, Miller, and Meltz have their moments, but again we repeat that they wasted their time repeating themselves.

We would prefer to say nothing of the junior stunt, Baird's pipe was all that kept us from going to sleep after the first few seconds. Even the dormant quartet didn't know the words to the Martins and the Coys! Shame!

And that's not all! That's not even half of it! We thought the remark about Peaches From Heaven was very apropos, but we doubt the last word. It was the rudest exhibition we have ever seen, and we are suggesting to Student Council that they dispense with stunts at the next affair and institute a little penny-pitching contest—that would more nearly approximate the level of intelligence of the audience. Granted that adverse criticisms were not amiss, there was no need for the vehement booming and penny-throwing. We would like to challenge any of the aspiring South—or North-Paws to a contest to see if they could produce anything as fine as the violin work of Bernie Perlman, and we're putting our money on the frosh boy.

We've lectured on politeness until we are as tired of it as you are. Perhaps this fact will bring it nearer home: there were a great many outsiders at Campus day. The word gets around and you must remember that outsiders do the hiring and firing of teachers. We are not the only teacher-training institution in the state, and we leave it up to you to figure out who gets it in the neck. It certainly isn't the outsiders!

A word to the future. Directors—you have excellent material. Get your casts together earlier and rehearse them a little more carefully. And please spare us the talent shows. Casts show a little more enthusiasm and co-operation, and audience—be polite or stay home. An empty seat can't throw insults to the actors.

Book of the Week: French Intrigues

by Charles Ettinger, 29
All This And Heaven Too, by Rachel Field, The Macmillan Co., 1938, 694 pages.

It is unfortunate that such a sentimental title should have been applied to Rachel Field's newest novel, "Time Out of Mind" was not quite so bad. It had not that certain tone which would cause more than readers to read it surreptitiously, if at all, and cover the title guiltily with the hand upon the approach of a fellow male.

However, in spite of the name and a prosaic opening chapter, picturing a wife, vaguely familiar Chantal crossing, "All This And Heaven Too" far exceeds the promises of its title, if not of its publisher. As Henriette Desportes, governess, becomes involved in the unhappy affairs of the household of the Duc de Praslin, incurs the dislike and jealousy of the passionate Duchess, the confidence and sympathy of the harassed Duc, and the love of the Praslin children, the narrative begins to grip. But when, overnight, she becomes the notorious "Mademoiselle T," and is instrumental in the overthrow of the government of Louis-Philippe, it becomes really absorbing, not only through the technique of the author, but because of the realization that these were actual historical events.

Personal Viewpoints

(EGO is given the widest latitude as author of this column, though his viewpoints do not necessarily always reflect those of the State College News.)

Open Letters
Dear mother,
I am so sorry about last Saturday night. When I asked you to come down, I didn't think you would be forced to receive the impression that you did of my fellow students.

I wish that there was some way of proving that that sort of juvenile rowdiness is the exception rather than the rule here at State. But I can't. You'll just have to come down again some time, and maybe then you'll see the better side of our students. Until then, try not to let yourself form any concrete impressions of the kids with whom I go to school.

Your loving offspring, EGO.

Dear senior class,
Congratulations on a good and novel skit. But aside from the skit for the moment, where, oh where is that good old '39 vim and vigor that pushed you through three successful years?

My goodness! Here's Senior Hop with only a handful of couples, compared to your earlier triumphs. Just because you're seniors this year is no reason people have to go to your dance. You've got to work just as hard this time as you did for Soiree and Prom—and more so, considering. Getting a hall and an orchestra isn't a dance—you have to keep talking it up... working up some enthusiasm, especially with the underclassmen. Spend some time telling people what a swell orchestra Ray Keating is; what a fine time they can have.

This may seem to be preaching when the damage is done, but our advice will fit the juniors and the sophs just as well. And the seniors have another dance at the end of the year, too. And that reminds us of another thing—you can't do much with a meeting of eight people. Get in there and get to work—and with your class.

Enough of this senior sluggishness!

Yours for more class spirit, EGO.

P.S. And don't let any senior lament to me that he or she is "practicing teaching this semester." That's no reason you have to die. Good teachers get around a little bit too!

State's Stage

Triumphs
Talent
Technicalities

PLAYGOER

Congratulations and bushels of orchids to Ruth Donnelly and Ruby Stewart for two of the best Tuesday night plays that it has been our good fortune to see in some time. The first play was a magnificent display of the art of handling a large cast fluidly; the second play was a gem of fine acting.

Miss Donnelly was beset from the beginning with an unwieldy play, but Tuesday's showing left nothing to be desired. Mr. Hart was the self-assured host to perfection. Miss Emery, Miss Arndt, and Mr. Wells, let yourself form any concrete impressions of the kids with whom I go to school.

Miss Stewart's play will be all the more memorable because of Mr. Doran's Cockney 'orace. His characterization was sustained from the time he walked onto the stage till he stepped through the rear door, without one bit of faltering. His business was well worked out, and we liked that hat-under-the-arm gesture which went so unnoticed, simply because you took it for granted in such a character.

Incidentally, the costumes for Miss Stewart's play were all exceptionally well-done. The other surprise was the finished performance of another newcomer to State's stage—Miss Preat. While she missed one or two opportunities to push her performance to the heights, her acting still stayed in the realm of the superlative. She has an abundance of stage presence and plenty of ability.

The laundry girls, paced by Miss Koonz, had their moments, but we are still wondering whether the "mondieing" mistress was French or Italian. Miss Packer's padding was natural and effective; and we cut-in Miss Meschert to watch her tendency to play herself.

Sets for both plays might have been classed as mediocre had the acting not been so good, but, as it was, they were a thoroughly adequate background for the actors. Lighting was not too intricate particularly, and the only technical flaw we find still lies in the long wait between the plays.

House committees: check up and see about some of that between the plays entertainment of last year's classes. It might solve the problem.

Appointment Bureau

Paul Butler, secretary of the Appointment Bureau, will leave for a tour of the state's high schools Monday and will return at Thanksgiving. This will be a trip to show the high schools of the state the work of the Appointment Bureau and to get acquainted with the schools which the bureau does not contact.

The office will be open during Butler's absence and persons wishing to sign up for committee work may do so. The deadline for the one-dollar contribution is November 23.

The following have received positions, according to the bureau: George Montgomery, '38, psychologist at Industry; Anne Gleason, '38, commerce, Mildred Elley school, Albany; Louis Biagi, '38, research assistant, Albany Medical; Mildred Kormeyer, '38, history, Boonville.

The bureau recommends the following books: Techniques of Teacher Self-Placement, by William A. MacDonnell; Selection and Appointment of Teachers, by W. S. Deffenbacher and W. H. Zeigel, Jr.; Are American Teachers Free? by H. K. Biele; Institutional Teacher Placement, by J. G. Unstead; Guidance Considered Essential for Teachers, by C. A. Fisher. All these may be obtained at the reserve desk of the library.

EGO is given the widest latitude as author of this column, though his viewpoints do not necessarily always reflect those of the State College News.

Dear mother, I am so sorry about last Saturday night. When I asked you to come down, I didn't think you would be forced to receive the impression that you did of my fellow students.

I wish that there was some way of proving that that sort of juvenile rowdiness is the exception rather than the rule here at State. But I can't. You'll just have to come down again some time, and maybe then you'll see the better side of our students.

Congratulations and bushels of orchids to Ruth Donnelly and Ruby Stewart for two of the best Tuesday night plays that it has been our good fortune to see in some time.

My goodness! Here's Senior Hop with only a handful of couples, compared to your earlier triumphs. Just because you're seniors this year is no reason people have to go to your dance.

This may seem to be preaching when the dance is done, but our advice will fit the dances and the songs in a well. And the seniors have made a name for themselves at the end of the year.

Don't let me forget to mention that you had a very good time at the dance. It was a real success for you.

PLAYGOER

Congratulations and bushels of orchids to Ruth Donnelly and Ruby Stewart for two of the best Tuesday night plays that it has been our good fortune to see in some time.

Miss Stewart's play will be all the more memorable because of Mr. Doran's Cockney, grace. His characterization was sustained from the time he walked onto the stage till he stepped through the rear door.

The other surprise was the fine performance of another newcomer to State's stage, Miss Pearl. While she did not give us two opportunities to praise her performance to the hilt, her acting, all based in the realm of the superlatives, plus the abundance of these presences and plenty of ability.

The band's all, played by Miss Stewart and her troupe, but we are still wondering whether the music was really as good as it was. It was a fine effort to which we hope to play next year.

SCOTTIE

Known variously in early Scottish history as Skye terrier, Highland, Cairn, and Scots terrier, although that dog bore no resemblance to Skyes and Cairns of today. Nicknamed the "die-hard" for stout heart and unquenchable love for sport. Extremely independent.

HE'S GIVING HIS NERVES A REST...

AND SO IS HE

LIKE humans, dogs have a complicated set of nerves. But dogs are kinder to their nerves than we. They rest when they need rest... while we plunge ahead with hurry and worry—straining our nerves to keep up with the fast pace. We can't turn back to the natural paces of life like an animal, but we can protect, soothe, and calm our nerves. Smoking a Camel can be your pleasant method for breaking nerve tension. Camels are mild, with the flavor of a matchless blend of costlier tobaccos. Smokers find Camel's mild tobaccos delightfully soothing—soothing—to the nerves.

SUCCESSFUL PEOPLE ADVISE

"Let up—light up a Camel"

DID YOU KNOW:

— that tobacco plants are "topped" when they put out their seed-head? That this improves the quality of leaf tobacco? That most cigarette tobacco is harvested by "priming"—removing each leaf by hand? Camel buyers know where choice grades of tobacco are—those that cure nicely—the mild, ripe, fragrant tobaccos. Camels are a matchless blend of finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic.

Century of Co-eds

A Picture Story of Style Changes

From the year 1830 (left) to 1930 (right) the dress and appearance of women have changed so markedly that the 1930 college student would believe himself in a foreign land if he were to encounter a woman of students dressed in the styles of more than a decade ago. This graphically portrays the decade by decade evolution of the modern college girl's wardrobe. The digest here presents a concise record of a century of co-eds as found in the files of Oberlin College, first U. S. educational institution.

Basketball Squad to Face Strong Teams This Season

New Court Schedule Lists Manhattan, Hamilton, Niagara, McGill

With the final release of the official schedules for the season of both varsity and frosh teams, the second turn of the wheel towards State's major sport interest of the year has been completed. The first turn found the freshmen out for practice two weeks ago and the varsity volunteers out for the first time Monday.

The varsity basketball schedule, released this week, marks the advent of State college into big time competition with the inclusion of such teams as Manhattan university, Hamilton college and Niagara university which outweigh it in manpower, reknown, and athletic facilities.

Confident in the abilities of the veteran squad which will return this year with the loss of only one manager, Jim Spence, succeeded in completing relations with some schools which have not appeared on State's schedule for some time. Probably the strongest of the new teams will be Manhattan university of New York. The aggregation usually put forth by this institution, which has an enrollment of 1,300 men, is consistently powerful and rates among the best of the state.

Second to Manhattan in the line of prestige and manpower is Niagara university. The Purple Eagles appeared for the first time on State's court three years ago. The second newcomer to the Purple and Gold roster will be Hamilton college located in Cortland, New York.

Fresh Practice
Last Monday, the team which reported to practice in the gymnasium at 10:30. After a short rest, practice started at 11:00. The team was divided into two groups, one of which was to practice on the gymnasium floor and the other on the playground.

The coaches in a double attempt to move up from last year's record. Those who appeared in last year's game were: Coach B. H. Foster, Fred Wilson, Herrett Doughty, Francis E. Smith, and Bill McCoy. The freshmen who were expected to play were: Bill McCoy, and Fred Wilson.

Fresh Schedule
The freshmen squad has been given a hard fight to keep in shape. The varsity and freshman teams of the basketball squad will meet at the gymnasium on Monday night, Oct. 24, at 8:00 o'clock. The team will practice on the gymnasium floor and on the playground.

W. A. A. Weekend to Close Active Autumn Season

W. A. A. is planning a "Final Fall Fling" for next Saturday, November 12, at Camp Johnston. The fling will include a banquet, a dance, and a variety of entertainment. The fling will be a grand affair and is expected to be one of the best in the State's history. The fling will be held at Camp Johnston, located near Chatham, New York.

Brass Knuckles

The defeat which Sam Coppolino throned from Bill Howe places Sam as the undisputed champion Sneadling of our own little golfing set. The game, in which Bill was defeated two up, marked the termination of golf on the intramural scale for the fall season.

All games of the touch football schedule will be finished by the end of next week. Misplayed or unplayed games to date will be included in next week's program, which will be listed on the bulletin board Monday.

Not far in the van of the two leaders stand the Albanians with no defeats and two ties. The strength of this aggregation is evident from the fact that their goal line is as yet unsullied.

The classic of the week will take place either Monday or Tuesday when the KDR strong arm squad finally pitches into the College house 18 in the game which has all the earmarks of being the deciding battle of the season.

Basketball Squad to Face Strong Teams This Season

New Court Schedule Lists Manhattan, Hamilton, Niagara, McGill

With the final release of the official schedules for the season of both varsity and frosh teams, the second turn of the wheel towards State's major sport interest of the year has been completed. The first turn found the freshmen out for practice two weeks ago and the varsity volunteers out for the first time last Monday.

Varsity Schedule
The varsity basketball schedule, released this week, marks the advent of State college into big time competition with the inclusion of such teams as Manhattan university, Hamilton college and Niagara university which outweigh it in manpower, reknown, and athletic facilities.

Confident in the abilities of the veteran squad which will return this year with the loss of only one man, manager Jim Spence succeeded in completing relations with some schools which have not appeared on State's schedule for some time.

Probably the strongest of the new teams will be Manhattan university of New York. The aggregation usually put forth by this institution, which has an enrollment of 1,300 men, is consistently powerful and rates among the best of the state.

Second to Manhattan in the line of prestige and manpower is Niagara university. The Purple Eagles appeared for the first time on State's court three years ago. The second newcomer to the Purple and Gold roster will be Hamilton college located in Clinton, New York.

First Practice
Last Monday, the team which is to face the heavy opposition re-ported for practice in the Page hall gym. After another week of conditioning under the able eyes of Coach Hatfield and Duke Hershkowitz, the squad will be eyed down to about its final size, and intensive work will begin.

The turnout last Monday included nine veterans from last year's campaign and six who will attempt to move up from last year's freshman squad. Those who appeared at first practice were: Anyot, Hershkowitz, Hurd, Lawton, Lehman, Schmitz, Torrens, Waldo, Barrett, Kamelwitz, Frank, Kluge, Simmons, Tuttle, Duffy, Klerin, Haller, McCreary, Okala, Quinn and Saddlemyre. Of these men, nine have had previous experience.

Fresh Schedule
The fresh squad has been given a head of two weeks' practice over the varsity and is gradually rounding into shape under the coaching of Duke Hershkowitz. The team shows great promise in its practice workouts by virtue of the presence of a number of experienced players.

Because of the new state law which prohibits any high school team from meeting college freshmen, the class of '32 is also meeting a revamped schedule. As a result of the new law, all teams scheduled are on the college-varsity or frosh-level.

New Scoreboard
A note of interest to base ball spectators is the fact that the Athletic association has purchased a new electric scoreboard for use in the next season. The scoreboard, in addition to showing the score will mark the period of play, time left to play in the period, and has an attendance from which will mark the end of playing time.

State Harriers Face Cobleskill In Second Meet

Purple and Gold Will Open at Home with Alfred on Local Course

In compliance with a last minute addition to the schedule, the State cross country squad will travel to Cobleskill tomorrow to meet the agricultural college team there in a run at 2:00 o'clock.

An interesting feature of tomorrow's contest will be Frank Rickman's participation on the side of the Aggies. Rickman, it will be recalled, as a member of the class of '40 here at State, saw varsity service in cross country for two full seasons. He turned in a sparkling performance in last year's meet here against Bard, placing first to lead the purple and gold harriers to victory.

Before his transfer to Cobleskill was made known this fall, he was expected to be one of the key men in State's 1938 competition.

State will be seeking its first victory of the current season in the encounter at Cobleskill tomorrow. In a closely run contest at Delhi last Saturday, the local boys were squeezed out of victory by the narrow margin of 23-32. Cobleskill, incidentally, was recently trimmed by the Delhi squad by one point in a hotly disputed finish.

In last week's trot, Captain Tony Wilezyński turned in the best performance for State, finishing the 2.65 mile course in third place with a time of 17:14. Carey, who led the Aggies to victory in their clash with State last year, again crossed the finish in first place.

A perusal of the complete summary on the bulletin board will attest to the outstanding function of the State team as a unit in this meet. There was a notable "bunching together" of the boys in the finish, apparent especially with regard to Szawloski, Manley, Russ, and Neuh, all of whom finished within nine seconds. The finishing times of the first and last State runners were separated by less than a minute.

The Delhi squad in comparison presented a more unbalanced appearance as a team. It was three of the best runners who clinched the meet, while several lagged far behind.

Home fans will be accorded the opportunity of watching the boys perform a week from tomorrow when the Alfred meet is scheduled to be run over the Washington-Lincoln park course.

Freshman Commission To Conduct Discussion

Next Thursday's meeting of Freshman commission, scheduled for 3:30 o'clock in the lounge of Richardson hall, will feature a panel discussion on "The Pros and Cons of Sororities and Fraternities."

Mr. Martha Eggleston, instructor in history, is to be chairman for the session. The sororities and fraternities will be ably aided by Mary Ann, Betty, and Green in Tabernacle, and will be supported by Lawrence, Matthew, and Janet Smith.

Camp Johnston, located near Chatham, where W.A.A. will conduct a weekend.

W. A. A. is planning a "Final Fall Fling" for next Saturday, November 12 at Camp Johnston. The bargain weekend will take the place of the regular fall banquet usually scheduled for the last week of the fall season. Buses will leave the rear of Draper hall at 10:30 o'clock and will return at 5:30 o'clock. The cost per person for the day will be fifty cents, and for the whole weekend—November 11, 12 and 13—it will be seventy-five cents. However, overnight accommodations are limited to twenty people so weekenders must sign up early.

The activities of the day will consist of a hunt-and-hare chase, various hikes, possibly baseball, and swimming for the hardy. The purpose of the "Fling," besides marking the close of the fall season, will be to acquaint freshmen with Camp Johnston. All council members are urged to attend so that freshmen will have an opportunity to meet the persons most closely connected with the activities of the association. Plans for the winter season, as now formulated will be discussed, and the workings of the organization as a whole will be explained. The winner of the tennis tournament will be presented with the tennis cup.

General chairman of the day is Virginia Elson, 40. Assisting her are Hattie Conklin, 41, publicity; Fay Scheer, 40, recreation and program; Mary Miller, 41, food; Betty Bunce, 40, guests.

Brass Knuckles

C.F.F.

The defeat which Sam Coppolino thrashed from Bill Howe places Sam as the undisputed champion Sneadling of our own little golfing set.

The game, in which Bill was defeated two up, marked the termination of golf on the intramural scale for the fall season.

All games of the touch football schedule will be finished by the end of next week. Misplayed or unplayed games to date will be included in next week's program, which will be listed on the bulletin board Monday.

At this writing, KDR and College house are at the top of the heap with no defeats and but a single blemish on their records, each team having tied one game.

Not far in the van of the two leaders stand the Albanians with no defeats and two ties. The strength of this aggregation is evident from the fact that their goal line is as yet unscathed.

The classic of the week will take place either Monday or Tuesday when the KDR strong arm squad finally pitches into the College house six in the game which has all the earmarks of being the deciding battle of the season.

In any event, we're picking KDR TO WIN but by a very small margin.

Realistic Presentation of Play Results in Pandemonium at State

Did you bite? Last Sunday night Orson Welles' decidedly realistic dramatization of H. G. Wells' "War of the World" caused the biggest sensation since Minerva's staff was shattered! Thousands of radio listeners, missing the introduction to the play, were seized by a wave of mass hysteria upon the announcement of an impending attack on New Jersey and vicinity by men from Mars and their "death rays."

Panic-stricken citizens all over the state attempting to avoid what they believed to be a gas raid, ran from their homes armed with wet towels and handkerchiefs; hysterical housewives fled to city parks for safety; hospital inmates jumped from their sick beds. In New Jersey, hundreds of terrorized victims of the radio fantasy began to head for the Orange mountains where they believed they would be safe from shock waves.

But what was State college doing? How did such a situation affect us, future pedagogues who pride ourselves on our "intelligence"? Did we scoff at such an improbable situation and analyze its impossibility. No, we did not!

Telephone wires between group houses began to buzz incessantly. Two freshmen girls began to wail and pack for home. The house mother at the dorm, suddenly besieged with emergency calls, flitted from room to room distributing "nerve medicine" to quiet the supposedly sensible State women. One boy was hysterically ordered via telephone to leave a certain house in Watervliet and "come home immediately" to mother and the family—who were in the process of making a get-away towards parts unknown! Women screamed; strong men cried. Worst of all, two necessarily anonymous State lovebirds even contemplated immediate matrimony—thinking to take this supreme step before this world should come to an end!!

All of which merely goes to show you just what fools we mortals really are—and that there's no fool like a geek for even if he does go to State.—Don't it awful?

Christian Association Plans Peace Service

Student Christian association is sponsoring a peace worship service on Armistice Day Eve, Thursday, at 8:00 o'clock in the Unitarian Chapel.

For this service Ruth Sinovoy, '39, is directing a verse-speaking choir and there will be a singing choir under the direction of Mary Miller, '41.

Freshmen Receive Defeat in Pushball

The soph-fresh rivalry officially began last Saturday afternoon with the annual Campus day pushball contest which was captured, by an 8-3 tally, by an experienced sophomore team.

Entering the contest a traditional 10-1 favorite, the sophomores found themselves on the short end of a 3-0 score as the first half finished.

As the second half began, the bewildered sophomores became even more bewildered as a fierce freshman onslaught forced them to assume the defensive role.

Finally, however, the class of 1941 snapped out of its lethargy and pushed deep into enemy territory. This drive eventually culminated in a score that sent the sophs ahead 5-3. Their other points came as a result of a fast-clicking offensive which moved the ball into fresh territory in less than five seconds.

College House Players To Revive 'Licker' Saga

Since the demise of the ill-fated Troubadors, State college has been definitely in need of an annual show put on by the male population. This year, College house, group house for men, is following a successful example of the University of Pennsylvania's Mask and Wig club, and is presenting its first Mask and Wig production, the famous nineteenth century melodrama, "Ten Nights in a Barroom."

This famous play with its portrayal of the evils of intemperance will be presented in Page hall auditorium on Wednesday and Thursday nights, December 7 and December 8. Mr. William G. Hardy, instructor in English, is serving as advisor to the production.

Symphony Group Discusses Plans

Newly Organized Orchestra Will Forego Rehearsals Until December

A discussion of all matters pertaining to the latest attempt to form a student symphony orchestra was conducted yesterday afternoon in room 100. This meeting was featured by discussions of what music the orchestra should play, who should be the director, and when rehearsals should be conducted. It was decided that no rehearsals would be scheduled until after the Thanksgiving recess in order to give students an opportunity to secure their instruments.

It was originally planned that Dr. T. Frederick H. Candlyn, assistant professor of music, would direct the orchestra, but when approached on this subject he announced, with regret, that he did not have the time to accept this responsibility. However, he asserted that he would be only too glad to give the orchestra all the co-operation that he could.

At the organization meeting of those interested in forming this group, forty students expressed their willingness to play in the symphony orchestra.

The orchestra is composed of the following instruments: nineteen violins, four clarinets, three cellos, two string basses, two flutes, two violas, two French horns, two trumpets, and one trombone, tympani, drum, and bassoon.

Although leaders of this movement stated that they were very pleased with this excellent student turnout, they reiterated that it was their desire to increase this number. These leaders intend to seek sponsorship of either Music Council or the Student Council.

FIRST LADY

First Lady Includes State in Crowded Itinerary for Second Time

WILL ADDRESS DEANS

Students to Begin Holiday Granted by President at Twelve Today

For the second time in the history of State college, the student body will be honored with an address by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, First Lady of the land. Mrs. Roosevelt will be introduced to the student body in this morning's assembly by Dr. Abram R. Brubacher, president of the college.

The administration is not sure what Mrs. Roosevelt will speak about but it is certain that the subject will be appropriate and to the point. The student body is fortunate that Mrs. Roosevelt has been able to include State college in her already crowded itinerary.

Her topic at her last appearance at State college was "The Educated Woman."

N. Y. A. Address

Mrs. Roosevelt addressed the first annual conference of state and local N.Y.A. advisory committees of New York state, in Chancellor's hall last night at 8:45 o'clock. Her topic was "Youth and Progress Ahead." Mr. Charles W. Taussig, chairman of the N.Y.A. national advisory committee also addressed the group. His topic was "Three Years of Progress for Youth." Admission to the conference was by tickets only.

After addressing the student body in this morning's assembly, Mrs. Roosevelt will leave for Schenectady where she will address a conference of deans at Union college this afternoon.

Mrs. Roosevelt has appeared in many colleges this fall and has been hailed everywhere as one of the most learned and gracious women of our day.

She has been introduced as "one who keeps her mind young, and who breaks with tradition when necessary."

Afternoon Holiday

Dr. Brubacher has announced that the assembly adjourns after Mrs. Roosevelt's address. The student body will have the remainder of the day as a holiday to celebrate Armistice day.

Miss high school will not be in session today in honor of Armistice day and will not be in session Monday or Tuesday because of the supervisors' convention at Syracuse.

Organizations Plan New Fall Programs

Canterbury club asks everyone to "come and get stuck up" at its taffy pull which will be Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock in St. Andrew's church.

Classical club is planning a meeting Thursday, from 7:30 to 10:30 o'clock, in the Lounge of Richardson hall. The guest of the evening will be Dr. Edith Wallace, assistant professor of Latin. The program is to include entertainment, and refreshments will be served.

There will be a meeting of the Physics club Monday afternoon in room 150 of Husted hall for the purpose of reorganizing.

The next meeting of the French club will take place Wednesday evening, November 30, at 7:30 o'clock in the Lounge of Richardson hall, according to an announcement made by Marie Peetz, '39, president. The program will feature a guest speaker, Miss Ruth Dyson, who is a member of the French faculty of the College of St. Rose. Miss Dyson has studied in France and is well-known throughout this area.

N. S. F. A. Aids Colleges to Solve Student Government Problems

Every spring the students of State college elect a representative to the National Student Federation of America. Few of them realize the influence which this organization exerts upon their lives as undergraduates. However, they do understand the functions of the Federation and what it stands for.

The National Student Federation of America is an organization of the student councils of American colleges and universities. It elects annually to help the member states in solving self-government problems. It is concerned with all activities in which students are interested. Since problems of curricula, the betterment of student welfare all concern the students of American colleges, they also concern the N.S.F.A.

Each year a convention of Federation members is held at Christmas time. At this meeting student problems are thoroughly discussed and, where possible, a stand is taken. National officers and executive council are chosen at the conference.

President Announces Senior Honor Society

Dr. A. R. Brubacher, president of the college, has announced the members of the highest four per cent of the senior class who will make up Sigma Lambda, senior scholastic society, for the coming year. This society, which consists of the highest ten per cent of the senior class, will induct the remaining six per cent in the spring.

Mykania to Head Annual Drive For Red Cross Fund Next Week

Each year from Armistice day till Thanksgiving, hundreds of colleges and universities in the United States participate in the annual Red Cross roll call. Next week the students of State college will be given an opportunity to participate in this year's drive. The roll call will be under the direction of Mykania, senior campus leadership society.

Directly and indirectly, students receive many benefits through Red Cross activities. Sports enthusiasts, especially those who follow sports which take them away from the centers of population, such as skiing, mountaineering, hiking and camping, have found first aid invaluable in making their pleasure safer. All students at some time or another, find first aid helpful in their everyday life.

Red Cross plays an important part in life saving and general water safety. The national headquarters and chapters located near institutions which have swimming facilities provide instructions in saving drowning persons, and in reviving those who are apparently drowned. This instruction not only aids students materially in the enjoyment of water sports, but many have been able to qualify for jobs as life guards at summer camps, and in saving lives as a result of their Red Cross training. Some receive appointments as camp counselors and swimming instructors as a result of this training.

Many Red Cross chapters co-operate with colleges in providing courses in home economics and dietetics. Red Cross instructors give courses in sanitation and home care for the sick. The knowledge gained by students in this field may be of great importance in their later work as teachers and in other walks of life.

In times of great national disasters, such as the Ohio-Mississippi flood of 1937, other volunteers are greatly aided by Red Cross workers from many colleges and universities. The Red Cross reserve lists of nutritionists and nurses aid materially in serving with our country's forces of defense in times of national emergencies.

The many activities and services engaged in by the Red Cross are made possible by its continued existence as a forceful body, interested in the promotion of human welfare. It accomplishes its aims by direct relief in disasters, or by indirect methods, such as instruction in the means by which everyday existence may be made safer and happier. In the past the assistance of American college students, both in terms of service and financial aid has been of great value.

This year the National Red Cross headquarters again issues the call to American college students to render assistance to this great organization which, since 1861, has been a friend to the friendless, has fed the starving, brought a home to the homeless, and has brought aid and comfort to countless millions of people.

In the past State college students have contributed generously to the Red Cross Roll Call. We hope that again this year they will show their confidence and faith in this valuable organization. Enroll with the Red Cross next week, and know that you are aiding a worthy cause!
